The collision occurred at 4 o'clock in the morning of July 4. A heavy fog prevailed and the crash came almost without warning. Most of the passengers were in the staterooms. So quickly did the vessel founder that a number of these did not even have time to reach the deck and died in their staterooms.

The woman saved was Mrs. A. D. Lacasse, of Plainville, N. J. She was picked up by her husband and placed on a life raft. She clung to the raft until picked up. Another woman was with her, but was washed off the raft by the seas and drowned.

Capt. De L'Once stood on the bridge of his ship as she went down. He refused to leave the vessel and perished.

The captain of the Cromartyshire said: "When my ship was 60 miles off South Sable Island she was on the port tack heading west by northwest under reduced canvas, going four or five knots an hour. The foghorn was kept continuously blowing.

"Shortly after 4 a. m. I heard a steamer's whistle on our weather bow, which seemed to be nearing us very fast. I blew our horn and was answered by the steamer's whistle.

"Suddenly a steamer loomed up through the fog on our port bow and crashed into us, going at terrible speed.

"Our foremast and main topgallant mast were carried away. I immediately ordered the boats out and went to examine the damage. I found that our bow had been completely cut off and the plates twisted into every conceivable shape. Some of the men saved from the French ship say that our ship struck them amidships, making a terrific rent in her side. The steamer careened over and went down sideways.

"There was scarcely an instant left to escape from the fearful vortex, which sucked down the trembling people who managed to gain the deck. Nearly all the passengers were in their night robes. With wild, despairing shrieks and screams they clutched vainly at the life belts to save themselves from the awful deep.

The scene enacted on board La Bourgogne just after the collision was terrible to witness. Men fought for positions in the boats like raving maniacs; men were forced back and trampled upon by the human beasts, who invoked the first law of nature and made self-preservation their first object. On board were a large number of Italians and other foreigners, who cared little for human life. These fiends stopped at nothing. In one boat was a party of 40 women, but so great was the panic that not a hand was raised to assist in her launching. The occupants so near safety were drowned like rats, when the ship, with an awful hissing sound, went down with hundreds of lives. So desperate was the situation that a passenger drew his knife and made a thrust at one who, like himself was endeavoring to reach the boats. Immediately the action was imitated in every direction. Knives were flourished with deadly effect. Women and children were driven back to an inevitable death at the points of weapons, the owners of which were experts in their use.

The following is the number of persons on board: Crew, 220; passengers, first cabin, 85; second cabin, 125; steerage, 295; total, 725; saved, 200; lost, 525.

Sable Island, off the Nova Scotian coast, where the wreck occurred is a veritable ship's graveyard. Many wrecks and collisions have occurred near its fog-bound shores. La Bourgogne was commanded by Capt. De L'Once, an experienced navigator.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pollock, of this city, were on La Bourgogne. Mr. Pollock is the senior member of the firm of Pollock & Mauro, and is a man of large means. They had planned to remain abroad three months.

DENVER, Col., July 7.—Bourgogne carried one passenger from Denver, a woman—Miss Marie Picoc.

NEW YORK, July 7.—In answer to a query addressed to Halifax, Wednesday, the following private dispatch was received: "Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pollock not among saved. No cabin saved." The above telegram evidently meant that no first cabin passengers were saved.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 7.—Two of the La Bourgogne's passengers were Bertha and Maria Flueckiger, of Allegheny City (second class passengers).

HOBSON'S STORY.

Does Not Consider the Sinking of the Merrimac a Very Great Feat—Kindly Treated by the Spaniards.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A dispatch to the Herald from off Santiago de Cuba says:

Your correspondent saw Mr. Hobson after he had made his report to Adm. Sampson and he consented to give the Herald a fuller interview about his experiences.

He spoke in glowing terms of the courage and bravery of his crew.

"We have been 35 days in a Spanish prison," said Mr. Hobson, "and the more I think about it the more marvelous it seems that we are alive.

"It was about 3 o'clock in the morning when the Merrimac entered the narrow channel and steamed in under the guns of Morro castle. The stillness of death prevailed. It was so dark that we could scarcely see the headland. We had planned to drop our starboard anchor at a certain point to the right of the channel, reverse our engines and then swing the Merrimac around, sinking her directly across the channel.

"This plan was adhered to, but circumstances rendered its execution impossible. When the Merrimac poked her nose into the channel our troubles commenced. The deadly silence was broken by the wash of a small boat approaching us from the shore. I made her out the picket boat.

"She ran close up under the stern of the Merrimac and fired several shots from which seemed to be three-pounder guns. The Merrimac's rudder was carried away by this fire. That is why the collier was not sunk across the channel.

"We did not discover the loss of the rudder until Murphy cast anchor. We then found that the Merrimac would not answer to the helm, and were compelled to make the best of the situation.

"The run up the channel was very exciting. The picket boat had given the alarm and in a moment the guns of the Vizcaya, the Almirante Oquendo and of the shore batteries were turned upon us.

"Submarine mines and torpedoes also were exploded all about us, adding to the excitement. The mines did no damage, although we could hear rumbling and could feel the ship tremble.

"We were running without lights and only the darkness saved us from utter destruction. When the ship was in the desired position and we found that the rudder was gone, I called the men on deck. While they were launching the Catamaran, I touched off the explosives.

"At the same moment two torpedoes, fired by the Reina Mercedes, struck the Merrimac amidships. I can not say whether our own explosives or the Spanish torpedoes did the work, but the Merrimac was lifted out of the water and almost rent asunder.

"As she settled down we scrambled overboard and cut away the catamaran. A great cheer went up from the forts and war ships as the hull of the collier foundered, the Spaniards thinking the Merrimac was an American war ship.

"We attempted to get out of the harbor on the Catamaran, but a strong tide was running and daylight found us still struggling in the water. Then for the first time the Spaniards saw us and a boat from the Reina Mercedes picked us up. It then was shortly after 5 o'clock in the morning and we had been in the water more than an hour. We were taken aboard the Reina Mercedes, and later were sent to Morro Castle.

"In Morro we were confined in cells in the inner side of the fortress, and were there the first day the fleet bombarded Morro. I could only hear the whistling of the shells and the noise they made when they struck, but I judged from the conversation of the guards that the shells did considerable damage."

AMERICAN NAVY.

The English Weekly Papers Compare it With the Navies of Germany and France.

LONDON, July 9.—The weekly papers of England pay high tributes to the American navy.

The Speaker says: "The Santiago fight proves that so far as the fleet is concerned the United States need not fear comparison with any country in the world."

The Spectator draws, as a conclusion from the battle, the conviction that the American fleet could face even the French fleet without great risk of disaster, and it says: "So far as the German and American navies go, there would be no comparison. A struggle between them would be very short and very complete, and it would surprise Emperor William, who thinks himself invincible, but his self-confidence can not alter history."

Will Send Troops to Honolulu.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—As a result of the cabinet meeting Friday it was decided to dispatch a regiment of troops to Honolulu immediately, and the commandant at the Presidio, Cal., has been communicated with to learn what forces are available.

Steamer on Fire Off Island Beach.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 9.—A steamer is on fire off Island Beach about two miles from the shore. The life saving crew have gone to her assistance.

DONS OPEN FIRE.

Their Light Guns, However, Were Soon Silenced by the Americans.

Everything on the Firing Line Is Now Ready for the Commencement of Hostilities in Case the Spanish General Does Not Surrender Monday.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Shortly after midnight the war department gave out the following dispatch from Gen. Shafter:

PLAYA DEL ESTE, July 10.
To Adjutant General, Washington:

Enemy opened fire a few minutes past 4 with light guns which were soon silenced by ours. Very little musketry firing and the enemy kept entirely in their entrenchments. Three men slightly wounded. Will have considerable forces Monday, enough to completely block all the roads on the northwest. I am quite well.

SHAFTER.

The news of the bombardment came at the close of a busy Sunday in the war department. Previous to the receipt of this dispatch the secretary of war had heard twice from Gen. Shafter. In the early morning came a telegram saying that he had ridden over the American lines and was gratified at their condition. A second dispatch reported that the lines were impregnable, thus removing any fear of a successful sortie by the Spanish troops should a maneuver of this kind be attempted. Both telegrams, which emphasized the fact that Gen. Shafter's physical condition had greatly improved, were promptly shown to the president and occasioned him considerable gratification. When questioned as to whether he believed that there had been a bombardment of the city, Gen. Corbin replied: "You know as much about it as I do. I have kept nothing back. I should say, however, that the firing Sunday was but the preliminary to the more serious business of Monday." This being the case the attempt to take the city will probably be made Monday.

BEFORE SANTIAGO, July 9, via Port Antonio and Kingston, Jamaica, July 11.—Everything on the firing line is now ready for the commencement of hostilities in case the Spanish generals do not surrender. The dynamite gun which has been in position for several days, is now in better working order than at the time of the battle of San Juan, and it is predicted that its charges consisting of 20 pounds of gun cotton and gelatine will work havoc in the Spanish trenches when it opens fire.

Twelve mortars in one battery are mounted and ready to use and they are relied upon to do effective work in shelling the city. Three batteries of artillery are now posted on El Paso ridge, 2,400 yards from the town, and the Capron and Grimes batteries are 1,500 yards to the north of the road in the rear of Gen. Lawton's division. In firing, the field guns will be compelled to shell the town over the heads of our own men, but the artillery officers say it can be done safely and without injury to our soldiers. The dynamite gun has been so placed that it will be able to enfilade several of the Spanish lines.

On the other hand, during the truce, which so far as regards the continuing of preparations for defense or attack has been no truce whatever, the Spaniards have not been idle. They have been mounting guns and some of these are of much heavier caliber than any the American army can bring into play. Some of their guns are of antiquated pattern and not capable of much damage, but others are different and capable of excellent work. One seven-inch gun, which had so perfect a range during the battle of San Juan, of many ridges occupied by the American troops has been located with especial care by the American gunners and it will be the recipient of much attention when hostilities reopen.

Gen. Bates' division, which holds the extreme left of the line, moved forward Sunday to a new position, 400 yards in advance of its former line. It was, since the battle of San Juan, planted along the edge of a precipitous ravine, the walls of which are about 80 feet high. This ravine is about 700 yards long and about 400 yards wide.

Gen. Bates has now moved the 20th infantry to the side of the ravine nearest Santiago and placed the 3d infantry, which with the 20th forms his brigade, at right angles to the line of the 20th. The extreme left of his line, which is the extreme left of the American army, is about opposite the upper end of Santiago harbor and from four to six miles from the coast line.

When hostilities are opened by the bombardment great things are expected from the navy.

Gen. Otis Will Hasten His Departure.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Maj. Gen. Otis will hasten his departure for Manila, in accordance with instructions from Washington. He may go on either the Peru or City of Puebla, which are to sail not later than the middle of next week, without waiting for the other vessels now being prepared for use as transports. On reaching Manila Gen. Otis will probably assume command of all the troops in the field, leaving Gen. Merritt free to take charge of his duties as governor general.

HAWAII ANNEXED.

The Resolutions Passed the Senate by a Voted of 42 to 21—The Vote Was Reached Quite Unexpectedly.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The annexation of Hawaii is now accomplished so far as the legislative branch of the government is concerned.

Quite unexpectedly the resolutions providing for the annexation of the islands were brought to a vote in the senate late Wednesday afternoon, and they were passed by the decisive vote of 42 to 21.

Early in Wednesday's session of the senate conferences of the leaders on both sides of the chamber were held and a tacit agreement was reached that a vote should be taken Thursday or Friday at the latest. The opponents of annexation practically had concluded their arguments, and as they had no desire to keep the senate in session by purely dilitory tactics, they announced their willingness that a vote should be taken as soon as Mr. White, Mr. Pettigrew and Mr. Allen had finished their speeches.

Neither Mr. White nor Mr. Pettigrew spoke at great length, but Mr. Allen thought that when he began that his speech might occupy the remainder of the day and part of Thursday. However, he concluded to eliminate a part of the matter he had prepared, and at 4:15 he completed his speech.

It was evident instantly that a vote was at hand. The word was passed swiftly through the corridors and committee rooms and in a few minutes every senator at the capitol was in his seat. The galleries filled rapidly and members of the house of representatives learning that a vote was to be taken, came hurriedly to the senate side of the great marble pile to witness proceedings that will be historic.

The test vote came upon an amendment offered by Mr. White, of California. It was offered with no expectation that it would be adopted but merely to place the ideas and opinions of the opponents of annexation on record. It was rejected by a vote of 40 to 20, indicating that the annexationists were strongly in the majority.

Amendment after amendment was offered but the advocates of the resolutions stood solidly together, gaining rather than losing strength on the successive votes.

Finally at 5:30 p. m., the resolutions themselves, in precisely the form in which they were received from the house of representatives, were reported to the senate and the roll-call began. Intense interest was manifested by every spectator. Not a sound was to be heard in the chamber except the call of the clerk and the responses of the senators. When the vice president announced the vote by which the resolutions were passed a tremendous wave of applause swept through the galleries, which the vice president made no effort to check. Those who had advocated the resolutions expressed their pleasure by shaking hands with one another, and on all sides evident relief was shown that the end had come. For a few minutes so much good natured confusion existed that the dignity of the senate was threatened, but Vice President Hobart quietly reminded senators that the session was not yet at an end.

The detailed vote was as follows:

Yeas—Allison, Baker, Burrows, Cannon, Carter, Clark, Cullom, Davis, Deboe, Elkins, Fairbanks, Foraker, Frye, Gallinger, Gorman, Hale, Hanna, Hansbrough, Hawley, Hoar, Kyle, Lodge, McBride, McLaurin, Money, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Pettus, Platt (Ct.), Pritchard, Proctor, Sewell, Shoup, Sullivan, Teller, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore, Wilson, Wolcott—42.

Nays—Allen, Bacon, Bate, Berry, Caffery, Chilton, Clay, Daniel, Faulkner, Jones (Ark.), Lindsay, McEnery, Mallory, Mitchell, Morrill, Pasco, Pettigrew, Roach, Turley, Turpie, White—21.

There are 12 pairs announced as follows, the names of those who would have voted in the affirmative being given first in each instance:

Rawlins with Butler; Chandler with Vest; Murphy with Cockrell; Quay with Gray; Stewart with Mills; Smith with Gear; Aldrich with Jones (Ark.); McMillan with Kenney; Mantle with Martin; Platt with Spooner; Turner with Thurston; Mason with Tillman.

Senators Harris and Heitfeld were absent unpaired, but the announcement was made by their respective colleagues if present they would vote for the resolutions.

New Orleans People on the Bourgogne.

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—The only New Orleans people known so far to have been aboard La Bourgogne are Mrs. Jules Aldige, sr., her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Robert Borde, and the latter's little girl. Mrs. Aldige and her daughter are well-known in New Orleans society.

Trouble Brewing in Spain.

LONDON, July 7.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: Trouble is brewing. The excitement here is great. I myself saw Senor Silvela hooted a little while ago. He took refuge in the Hotel Roma, from where he drove home in a cab.

Peace Rumor.

LONDON, July 7.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sent a dispatch to his paper Wednesday morning, saying: "I am informed that peace will be demanded to-day."

AMID THE WRECKS.

Vessels Which Composed Adm. Cervera's Fleet Litter Coast of Cuba.

Buzzards Are Feeding Off the Corpses and Others Hovering Over the Unrecognizable Mass of Twisted, Melted Iron, Exploded Shells and Firearms.

OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 7, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 11.—The vessels which composed Adm. Cervera's squadron, converted into wrecked charnel houses, are littering the Cuban coast, and the scenes of desolation, ruin, horror and death baffle description.

At the entrance of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba lies the Reina Mercedes, sunk at midnight on July 3. Westward, five miles from the harbor, is a torpedo boat destroyer, stuck fast in the rocks, close in shore and battered by the surf. Rocks jutting out of the water in front of where she lies hide her hull from view. Her davits and the top of her conning tower alone mark her resting place.

Visible from the sea, a few miles farther, in an inlet embraced by two mighty arms of black rocks that extend half a mile into the sea, are the remains of the twin cruisers Infanta Maria Teresa and Almirante Oquendo, formerly the pride of the Spanish navy.

On beyond lies the Vizcaya a mass of ruins, and 12 miles away from Santiago de Cuba the Cristobol Colon lies helpless on her sides, with her smokestacks under water.

The Infanta Maria Teresa and the Almirante Oquendo stand upright, stuck fast on the rocky shoals. All that is left of them is their outer hulls, the heavy armor defying total annihilation. Inside of them the work of destruction is complete. Their boilers, engines, bunkers and magazines have been blown into unrecognizable masses of twisted, melted iron. Exploded shells, burned rifles and revolvers, pieces of yellow brass work and gold and silver coin, melted by the intense heat, are strewn all over the remains of the once proud armored cruisers, whose protective decks only stand in places.

But the most ghastly, horrible sights in those steel coffins are the mangled, scarred and charred bodies of hundreds of brave sailors, sacrificed for their country. Buzzards are feeding off the dead and others are hovering over the wrecks.

On the beach other flocks of vultures sit in silence waiting for the sea to give up its dead. Every tide adds to the tale of horror, washing up such objects as, for instance, a sleeve enclosing a wasted arm, other portions of human bodies gnawed by hungry sharks and countless relics of the battle.

Attention has been given to the burial of the dead of the enemy, and over 100 bodies taken from the ships or washed ashore have been interred upon the beach by Lt. Adm. Sampson's orders.

Those which now remain are either almost totally consumed by fire, charred beyond belief or in the depths of the sea. These form the food of the buzzards who keep constant vigil about the wrecks.

CAPT. CHARLES KING.
(Now a Brigadier General Under Gen. Merritt.)

Bad Marksmen or Poor Powder.

LONDON, July 11.—The Times in an article Monday reviewing the war, enters into a minute criticism of the naval battle of Santiago de Cuba and arrives at the conclusion that "Either the gunnery of the Spaniards afloat, as on shore, must be hopelessly incompetent, or their ammunition must be nearly worthless."

Fatal Street Car Collision.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—An electric car on the Congress Heights road filled with passengers crashed into a horse car of the Anacosta line Sunday night. And unknown man was killed and between 25 and 30 people injured, several of them fatally. Both cars were demolished and the horses of the Anacosta car killed.

Big Railroad Combine.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Journal prints a story that Cornelius Vanderbilt, J. Pierpont Morgan and others are forming a big syndicate to bring about the consolidation of the Big Four, C., H. & D. and Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville railroads. It is further stated that the Lake Erie & Western, Wheeling & Lake Erie, Hocking Valley, Sandusky & Hocking and Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling, the big bituminous coal roads of Ohio, are to be brought under the same general management.

MORE PEACE TALK.

A Report in Circulation That the United States Was Sounded in the Interests of Peace—Condition at Santiago.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—There was a continuation of peace talk Friday and other evidences in this line than those of Thursday are coming to the surface. Such, for instance, was the confirmation by the state department of the report that the Cadiz fleet was returning to Spain, since it is scarcely conceivable that the Spanish government would doom this last remnant of their fleet to destruction at the hands of Watson's squadron, which in all probability could head it off before it reached Cadiz, its home port. Therefore, the assumption is that the Spanish government calculates that at least an armistice precedent to peace will be obtained before the ships reach Spain. An unusually definite report was in circulation that the United States had been sounded in the interest of peace by the British ambassador, but when it was brought to Sir Julian Pauncefote's attention he authorized an explicit denial and said he had not communicated with the government in any way regarding the termination of the war.

Conditions at Satiago also are regarded as favorable just now according to Gen. Shafter's dispatch received during the forenoon. Nothing more came from him during the day, but the impression prevails that the Spanish are in a desperate plight within the lines of the city, and Gen. Shafter's action in allowing Linares to communicate freely with Madrid is an implication that there is at least a reasonable hope that the Spanish general contemplates a surrender.

However that may be every preparation is making for a great engagement, the final one at Santiago it is hoped, which may begin even as early as Saturday if Shafter's reinforcements are on hand. The department has not heard so far of the arrival of these soldiers but believes they have reached Shafter. The greatest difficulty that has been encountered is in the landing of troops and supplies. This being the harrieane season, and the wind setting straight on the southern coast, the masters of the the transports have become alarmed and taken their ships many miles out to sea neecssitating long journeys by the ships' boats, which make their landings through the surf with the greatest difficulty and danger. So slow and tedious has been the service under these conditions that Secretary Alger has order Gen. Shafter to seize the transports, one and all, and place them as near the coast as he chooses without regard to the fears of their masters. Ten days ago lighters were started down from Mobile to Tampa, but so far Gen. Shafter has received only one. These lighters have been a nightmare to the department ever since. The captains tie up in creeks at the slightest sign of bad weather, while the charter rate of $100 a day runs on. Orders have been sent forward to terminate this state of things even if it is necessary to lose a few lighters in the effort to reach Shafter.

The government has not yet determined how to dispose of Adm. Cervera. A feeling of the highest admiration prevails here at the gallantry displayed by the old warrior and the noble spirit exhibited by him under misfortune. The disposition is to treat him with as great hospitality as conditions will permit. It has been proposed that he be released on parole, not to engage in hostilities against the United States until the end of the war, but it has not yet been decided whether to do this or to confine the admiral technically within the limits of the naval academy reservation at Annapolis. All the other captured Spanish naval officers will be confined there save the surgeons, who will be allowed to remain with the enlisted men at the prison station at Seavy's island, Portsmouth harbor, N. H. The St. Louis is due there Friday night or Saturday with the first lot of prisoners, while the Harvard is just about to start from off Santiago with the remainder.

The report of the appearance of a Spanish privateer off the coast of British Columbia, which appears to have created such a commotion on the northwestern coast, came from one of the government agents in that section of the world. Moreover, the same person said that two vessels were taking on coal at a British Columbian port, which, it was presumed, was intended for the Spanish fleet should it have made its way into the Pacific ocean through the Suez canal.

The failure of congress to act on the naval advancement special acts may after all be beneficial as enabling the president to arrange with more deliberation and justice a scale of rewards for meritorious officers.

Honors for Lawton and Wood.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Among the nominations sent to the senate Friday was that of Brig. Gen. Lawton to be major general, and Col. Leonard Wood to be a brigadier general. Gen. Lawton is now in command of a division before Santiago and Col. Wood commands the 1st regiment of volunteer cavalry, "Roosevelt's rough riders."

Jack Doyle Sold to the New Yorks.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Jack Doyle was sold to the New Yorks Friday for a $2,000 consideration.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, July 13, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

STATE NEWS.

John Hughes, 103, of Floyd county, is dead.

Georgetown's tax rate is ninety cents on the $100.

A colored military company has been formed at Winchester.

Steps have been taken to prevent the shipping of diseased cattle through Louisville.

Gov. Bradley offered $200 reward for the capture of Richard Votaw, the Mercer county murderer.

Sixty inmates of the Louisville Workhouse want to join the army. They may be released to do so.

The vigilance committee at Somerset, has begun war on blind tigers and to rebuke the lawless element.

About 2,500 people attended the tenth annual reunion of the old settlers of Mason, Lewis and Fleming counties at Ruggles Camp Grounds, Monday.

In Floyd county, John Barret was remarried to his divorced wife, after a separation of thirty years. The bridegroom is 65 years old and the bride 50.

A bloody cutting affray occurred in the Stamping Ground neighborhood, near Georgetown, in which Jack Terrel cut Erastus Morrison, inflicting fatal wounds.

Mrs. Nela Henderson, of Crofton, was shot in the stomach and fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of Scott Snorton, a colored boy.

Gov. Bradley pardoned William Montgomery, of Green county, serving four years for forgery. He was sent up in March. He is fifteen years of age and the jury requested his pardon.

Grant Green, cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, died last week, after an illness of several days of a complication of diseases. Mr. Green was one of Kentucky's best known citizens.

The Danville City Council and the National Banks of that place have compromised their difference concerning taxes. Ten thousand five hundred dollars has been accepted in lieu of about $15,000 claimed.

Lieutenant Desha Breckinridge, of General Breckinridge's staff, will ride, when he shall arrive in Cuba, the celebrated thoroughbred stallion Strathmeath. The horse was given to him just before his departure by Colonel Milton Young.

J. L. Bailey, a hotel-keeper, mysteriously disappeared from Hopkinsville, last May. Monday his wife heard from him. He sent a telegram from Santiago saying his leg had been shot off in battle and that he would come home when able to travel.

Dr. George Savage, of Winchester, who for years represented the American Bible Society, is collecting data all over the State preparatory to the preparation of a history of the Kentucky Bible Society. The society was organized in September, 1809, and was located at Winchester.

A petition was filed in the Fleming County Court asking for another election on the license question on the ground that the election recently held was null and void because it was not held in compliance with the Goebel Election Law, but the motion was overruled and an appeal will probably be taken.

Eph. Lillard, of Jessamine county, was elected Warden of the Frankfort penitentiary by the Board of Prison Commissioners. Jervis Stone, of Spencer county, was elected as Clerk. Henry Smith, was made Warden of the Eddyville penitentiary. The Board decided that no member of the Legislature was eligible to the position.

William Mullins, living on Elkhorn creek, in Pike county, was but recently married to a young woman. John Stamper, a teacher, aged 23, became smitten with Mullins' wife. Friday Mullins returned from the store and, it is claimed, found Stamper and his wife in a compromising position. He forthwith drew his 38-caliber revolver and opened fire, three balls taking effect in Stamper's body, and the victim fell from the arms of Mrs. Mullins to the doorsteps, where he died an hour later. Before his death he stated that he had brought about his own death; that he did not blame Mullins in the least, and asked that he not be prosecuted. Mullins has not been arrested and the reports are that, according to Stamper's request, he will not be arrested.

FISCAL COURT.

Much Business of Importance to the County Transacted.

Proposed Woolper Bridge Given a Boost.

Campaign Against Court-House Cupola Renewed With Vigor.

Some Final Appropriations For Work On County Line Made.

W. E. Vest Presents the County With A Nice Plat of the Boone and Kenton Line.

SOME MINOR CLAIMS ALLOWED.

July 5.—J. F. Blyth made quarterly report of cost of maintaining County Infirmary, which was $381, 13. The report was approved, and said Blyth was allowed $400 towards defraying expenses of that institution.

J. T. Craven allowed $7 60 on account of taxes erroneously assessed against him.

T. J. Adams allowed $38 60, jail account.

C. C. Roberts allowed $12 50, taxes for which he was erroneously held.

Edwards Bros., allowed $6 for pauper coffin and $1 for two sacks of cement.

Jeff Stephens allowed $5 50 amount he paid Geo. Harrison for acting as guard in conveying Mrs. Odor to the asylum, and the further sum of $1 50 in full for all work done on county line.

C. C. Roberts allowed $1 50, cost of rebinding statutes.

J. H. Watson's claim amounting to $29 20 was rejected, except as to $3 for conveying one Webster, a pauper, to the poor house.

Ordered by the court that the motion of John M. Turner for county assistance for support of himself and wife, be and the same is rejected.

Ordered that the bill of $17 57 presented by Elmer Beall for desk constructed in the Sheriff's office be and the same is now allowed.

Sam'l Hannaford & Son's bill of $17 83 for expenses in coming to Burlington to examine court house, was allowed.

J. M. Lassing and C. C. Roberts reported verably as to their acts in procuring the services of an architect to examine cupola on court house. The report was approved, and the committee was retained with instructions to procure a copy of the plans and specifications, including draft of court house, and submit same to Sam'l Hannaford & Son, architects, for the purpose of having said architects furnish this court with plans and drawings for the removal of the cupalo on court house, together with the estimated cost thereof. Committee to report to next term of the court.

J. S. Clutterbuck allowed 53 cents for lime and screws for jail.

W. E. Vest allowed $14 50 in full of all services rendered on county line.

W. E. Vest presented in open court a book, plat and chart of the dividing line between the counties of Boone and Kenton, and same was accepted by the court with thanks to said Vest, and was placed in charge of the County Clerk.

The committee appointed to view the location and necessity and cost of a bridge across Woolper creek, where the Petersburg and Bellevue road crosses said creek, filed a written report, which was accepted, and the committee was discharged. Said report is as follows:

"We, the undersigned committee, appointed by the court to view and report upon the necessity and probable cost of building a bridge across Woolper creek, where the Petersburg and Bellevue road crosses said creek, do respectfully report that two of our committee, to-wit: J. H. Walton and B. H. Ryle, met upon said bridge site and viewed said location, and our other committeeman Clinton Gaines, being familiar with said site and location, it is the majority opinion of this committee that a bridge at said point would afford a great convenience, but we do not consider same an absolute necessity, and that the probable cost of a good and substantial bridge at that point will be about $3,000. All of which is respectfully reported, this July 5th, 1898.

J. H. Walton,
Clinton Gaines.

To the above report Esq. B. H. Ryle cannot concur with the majority, and is of the opinion that a bridge at that point on said road is a necessity for the public travel, and agrees with the balance of the committee as to the probable cost thereof."

B. H. Ryle.

D. Rouse allowed $1 15 for goods furnished county.

On motion of Esq. M. B. Green, it is ordered that the Fiscal Court of Boone County appropriate the sum of $2,500 towards building a bridge on the Petersburg & Bellevue road where it crosses Woolper creek, upon the subscription by responsible, private parties of a sum sufficient to build a suitable bridge at said point, and this court shall be the judge of what is a suitable bridge. Upon the above motion the court voted as follows: Yeas, M. B. Green, B. H. Ryle, J. H. Walton. Nays, Clinton Gaines, J. C. Byland.

M. B. Green, J. H. Walton and J. C. Byland each allowed $9 for three days; Clinton Gaines $6 for two days and J. S. Noell $3 for one day's attendance upon Fiscal Court.

B. W. Adams allowed $9 for three days clerking for Fiscal Court.

Frankfort, Ky., March 6, 1898.

Mr. G. W. McManama, my dear old friend and schoolmate, I do assure you I was very much grieved when I heard of the death of your dear mother—one I loved and esteemed for her most excellent qualities and christian virtues. You have lost one of your best friends; the church, which she was a devoted member, one of its best members, and her place in society will be missed and the church will be hard to fill. I often revert to my childhood days when I went from school with her, what a pleasant time I always had, and your kind mother always seemed so glad to see me, and did all she could to make my visit a pleasant one. How you will miss her when you return from your work at noon and at night; the first thing that will catch your eyes will be the vacant chair in the familiar place where she so long sat. But, my friend, we have one great comfort left us—the time will not be long ere we can go where she is. Yes, she will be at the river to welcome us to the happy shore where parting will be no more forever. I pray that our last end may be like hers. I am satisfied she heard the welcome plaudid of "Well done thy good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of the Lord, an inheritance incorruptible and that will fade not away." May God comfort your sister, Mrs. Spooner, is the sincere prayer of your friend. Give my love to all my friends, especially to your Uncle Ben Allen. Hoping to hear from you soon, believe me to be your true friend,

James Russell Hawkins,

The subject of this notice was Mrs. Caroline Johnson McManama, consort of Mr. M. S. S. McManama, who preceded her 51 years since. Her parents were Hezakiah and Eleanor Hunt Johnson, from Maryland. Mrs. McManama was born in Mason county, Ky., her parents came to Boone county when she was quite young, being raised on a farm near Big Bone Springs, now the property of Mirvin Hance. Her father and mother's family consisted of eleven children. She was born November 28, 1814; was a consistent member of the Baptist church at Big Bone over 55 years; departed this life Feb. 8th, 1898, a son and daughter surviving her—G. W. McManama and Mrs. Dr. Spencer; one son-in-law, W. H. Baker, two grandchildren. Mrs. Slater and Mrs. Stephens, and several great-grandchildren to mourn her death.

CROP AND STOCK.

John D. Harris, of Madison county, had in 600 acres of wheat.

The first car load of new wheat, graded as No. 2 red, sold at Louisville at 69 cents.

A car load of 900-pound heifers were sold in Montgomery county at $3.90 per hundred, last week.

Nearly 1,500,000 bushels of grain were exported from Philadelphia, last week, bound for European ports. Since January 1, 18,000,000 bushels of grain had been shipped.

In Bourbon county 38 head of extra yearling mare mules were sold at $77.50 per head. They were 14 hands high, good colors, and will be put on the the Pepper farm, near Midway.

Henry and Sam Muir sold last Saturday, 8,000 bushels of old wheat to Cogar & Co., of Danville, at 70c, having refused $1.15 per bushel for the same crop two weeks ago, thus losing in the transaction about $3,600, not counting insurance.—Bluegrass Clipper.

Near Sharpsburg the large tobacco warehouse of L. S. Rogers was destroyed by fire together with about 250,000 lbs. of tobacco, on which there was an insurance for $22,000. It is said lightning struck the barn and caused the fire. A dwelling near by was also burned.

It looks a little strange for Kentucky to be asked to furnish young cattle to stock the western ranges, yet such is the case as the following from the Mt. Sterling Advocate will show: On Saturday C. R. Prewitt received a letter from Nebraska asking at what price he could furnish 700 yearling cattle and when same could be delivered.

Richard Spalding has discovered a novel method of curing lockjaw in horses, says the Lebanon Enterprise. During harvest last week he had two horses taken with the complaint from the effect of overheat. He took a piece of board about one inch thick, five inches wide and 2 feet long, placed it squarely on top of the head (not the forehead) and struck it with an ordinary chopping ax with sufficient force to knock the horse down, and in each case as soon as the horse got up the trouble was removed, and the animals have since been doing well.

The American Stock Farm, of Lexington, says: "Lexington dealers have sold to the army officers about six hundred head of cavalry and artillery horses—besides a large number of army mules. Kentucky has furnished a vast amount of horse stock, as it is estimated that Lieut. Blunt has expended at least $140,000 in this direction for Uncle Sam in Kentucky alone, to say nothing of what Capt. Aleshire, Capt. Swigert and others have paid for horse and mules. It is a safe estimate to place the amount paid for horses by the Government in Kentucky at least a third of a million dollars."

A short time ago Mr. John Talbott, who resides on the Louisville pike, near town, missed a valuable calf about eight weeks old. A thorough search was made for it, but no trace of it could be discovered, and it was concluded that some enterprising thief had carried it away, and the matter passed out of mind. One day last week a member of Mr. Talbott's family, while out gathering blackberries, had occasion to go near an old neglected well. Casually glancing down this old well, he discovered the calf about five feet down, securely wedged between the walls. The animal was found to be alive, and it was extricated from its painful position and hauled to the house on a sled. It was given careful attention, and is now as well as ever. Imprisoned as it was and being a week without food, the recovery of the calf may be regarded as remarkable.—Bardstown Record.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

The continued small offerings and light receipts have commenced to demonstrate to the manufacturers and dealers that the crop was not over estimated and the tobacco market will be a very light one until the new crop is ready for market. The early shipments were a much larger portion af the crop than usual, and from present estimates the tobacco now left in the country is the smallest for a great many years. There was a better demand for some good tobaccos, and the competition advanced prices on these goods, also colory trash and lugs were fully 1 to 2 cents higher, while there was the usual demand for red fillers, and though there was some fluctuation in the market, the largest portion of the offerings was accepted. We think the market, as a whole, was stronger, and the prospects are very favorable for a continuance. Reports from the country show a large crop set and favorable weather so far for its growth, which no doubt will have its influence on the old stock on hand. One strong point in favor of the present tobacco on hand is that its keeping quality is excellent and a very satisfactory tobacco to the manufacturers, and there should be no hesitancy in puschasing for future use by the manufacturers for this reason.

Hawaii is now a part of Uncle Sam's domain. The old man is manifesting a great desire to increase his possessions, of late, and that he may do so he has turned his back on the Monroe doctrine, and will go for every thing in sight that he conceludes he has any use for.

FROM OWEN COUNTY.

[News]

Miss Maud Vest will teach the Poplar Grove school. It is her first school, but she holds a first class certificate and should make a splendid school marm.

Col. Lew McCann is anxious to go to war and wants to raise a company of Owen county men to be ready for the next call of the President. He is an old soldier, was under old Jo Wheeler in the late unpleasantness.

There was a terrible shooting affray on the steamer Montgomery returning with an excursion party from Carrollton on night of July 4th, near Lane's Landing. A large number were aboard, among whom were a number of toughs who live near Drennon Springs, Henry county. Chas. Mahony, a young man who comes from good fighting stock and a man by the name of Welch, a desperate character, had some words, but did not come to blows. Some little while after, Welch, it is said, took out his pop, which he carried to protect himself when going to or returning from Sunday school, leveled and shot at Mahony, striking him in the heart killing him instantly. After shooting him dead he ran to him, gathered him in his arms, and in an affectionate manner put several more balls in him. He also made one wild shot, striking a young man by the name of Jones in the arm, inflicting a severe wound. Welch, it is said, left the boat at Lanes and has not been heard of since.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Walton Deposit Bank at close of business on the 30th day of June, 1898:

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$73,860 46
Loans to directors (officers not included)	1,150 00
Loans to officers	650 00
Overdrafts, unsecured	14 17
Due from Nat. banks	14,701 91
Due from State Banks and Bankers	1,156 09
Banking house and lot	2,800 00
Specie	2,312 65
Currency	1,731 00
Furniture and Fixtures	1,420 58
Current Expenses	435 76
	$99,539 11

LIABILITIES:

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$50,000 00
Surplus Fund	1,250 00
Undivided Profits	1,428 58
Due Depositors	46,860 53
Due National Banks
Due State Banks & Bankers
	$99,539 11

State of Kentucky, County of Boone, ss.

R. C. Green, cashier of the Walton Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Walton Ky., in said county, being duly sworn, says the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of said bank, at the close of business on the 30th day of June, 1898, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 30th day of June, 1898, as the day on which such report shall be made.

R. C. Green, Cashier.
G. W. Ramsler, Director
J. T. Johnson, Director.
D. M. Bagby, Director.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. C. Green, the 2d day of July, 1898.

T. F. Curley, N. P. B. C.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Of the Boone County Deposit Bank at the close of business on the 30th day of June, 1898.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$44,626 70
Overdrafts unsecured	15 59
Due from National Banks	49,752 64
Due from State Banks and Bankers	8,575 68
Banking House & lot	1,221 16
Mortgages	14,426 33
U. S. Bonds	23,350 00
Specie $4,757 83
Currency 3,980 00	6,737 83
Furniture and Fixtures	2,078 84
	$149,782 77

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock paid in, in cash	$30,000 00
Surplus Fund	20,000 00
Undivided Profits	1,472 12
Due Depositors	92,604 95
Unpaid Dividends	5,705 70
	$149,782 77

State of Ky, County of Boone } ss.

Jo C. Revill, cashier of Boone Co. Deposit Bank, a Bank located and doing business in the town of Burlington, in said county, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said Bank, at the close of business on the 30th day of June, 1898, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said Bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of Dec., 1897, as the day on which report shall be made.

Jo C. Revill, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by Jo C. Revill, the 2d day of July, 1898. N. E. Riddell, N. P. B. C.

Commission expires Jan. 23, 1900.

M. T. Garnett, Director.
F. Riddell, "
Jo C. Revill, "

NOTICE.

I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.

JOHN WALSH,
Normansville, Ky.

EVERETT HELMS

—PROPRIETOR,—

The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,

Petersburg, Ky.

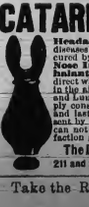
Will be pleased to

CUBA

Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.

Bath Der'pt.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.

Tonsorial.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.



YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Att'y's fee before patent.

Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers, WASHINGTON, D.C.

CATARRH COLD IN HEAD, HAY FEVER, ASTHMA, COUGH

Headache, Weak Lungs, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs are cured by Dr. H. C. Klick's Pocket Nose Inhaler and Germicide Inhalant. This is the only natural and direct way to kill the disease-germs in the air passages of the Nose, Throat and Lungs. Made of hard rubber, simply constructed, always ready for use, and lasts a lifetime. Complete outfit sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. If you can not get it of your druggist, satisfaction guaranteed. Agents wanted.

The Dr. H. C. Klick Medical Co.,
211 and 213 E. 9th St., Cincinnati, O.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

SHERIFF'S SALE FOR TAXES.

By virtue of Taxes due for the years 1893-4-5-6-7, I will on

MONDAY, AUGUST 1st, 1898,

sell for cash in hand at the Court-house door in the town of Burlington, Ky., to the highest bidder, the following property or so much thereof as will satisfy taxes and cost thereon:

WALTON.

Ludwig Hahble nr t l '94, 5, 6, 7.	7 17
Mrs Robt L Weaver nr tl 94,5,6 7	7 17

CONSTANCE.

Johnson Robinson nr tl 93,4,5,6,7	5 27
Jone Deer t l 93, 4	6 80
Wm N Waters nr 94, 5, 6, 7	4 65
Susan Fox 11a, 95, 6, 7	7 64
Erastus Winters 1a, 95, 6, 7	12 55
Rich'd Fox 4t, t l 96, 7	4 88
J W Hood 12a, 96, 7	12 28

FLORENCE.

Edwin Gotloway tl 94, 5, 6, 7	24 97
Jno C Kreutzer tl, 95, 6, 7	34 44
Fred Kuttell, 95, 6, 7	9 55
Jno Gorman & Co, 4a, 96, 7	7 78
Mary McWilliams 24a, 96, 7	23 78
Wm R Tanner 34a, 93, 5, 6, 7	23 88

BULLITTSVILLE.

Jas H Tanner, town lot	15 48

BELLEVUE.

Julia Lafever, t l, '93,4,5,6	4 40
Doc Merchant hrs, 12a, 94, 5, 6, 7.	4 02
J C Kelly, t l, '95, 6, 7	15 77
Elizabeth Lacy, t l, '95, 6	8 21
Lewis Lafever, t lot, '95, 7	8 37
Peggy Ann Ryle, 8a, '95,6,7	4 39

PETERSBURG.

H & L Barnard, n r, 14a, '94	3 28
Petersburg Bldg Ass'n, t l, '94	4 35
Wm Boman, 9a, '95, 7	9 15
Bertha Christe, t l, '95, 6, 7	4 01
John Hurd, town lot, '95,6	11 97
Fannie Lyons, town lot, '95, 6, 7	11 99
A L Loder, t l, '93,4,5,6,7	14 46
Henry Scheurman, t l, '95,6	8 58
Mike Tafferty, t l '95,6,7	11 50
Wm J Alloway, t l, '93, 6	7 87
Robt Snelling, n r, t l, '96,7	6 30
Ithemer Yerkes, t l, '96,7	9 80

CARLTON.

Delilah Holmes, 4 acres, '93,4	3 32
John Roland, 80 acres, '96,7	27 02
A J Holmes, 4 acres, '93,5,6,7	12 66

HAMILTON.

Jesse Gregory, town lot, '93,4	5 60
Chas A McLaughlin, 58a, '96,7	25 70

COLORED LIST.—PETERSBURG.

Maria Parker's hrs, t l, '94,6,7	4 06
Melvina Parker, t l '93,5,6,7	4 08
America Walton, t l '95,6,7	3 75

I will continue to advertise from month to month until all taxes due me are collected.

C. C. ROBERTS,
Ex-Sheriff Boone County.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.

Quarterly Report of the Erlanger Deposit Bank of Erlanger, Ky., at the close of business June 30th, 1898:

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts, less loans to Directors	$60,030 86
Loans to Directors (officers not included)	2,700 00
Loans to Officers	00 00
Overdrafts, unsecured	51 61
Due from Nat. Banks	25,451 69
Due from State Banks, &c.
Banking House and Lot	3,780 70
Mortgages	20,970 00
Specie 888 72
Currency 3,530 00
Exchanges for clearing 6 12	4,424 84
Furniture and Fixtures	1,785 15
	$128,194 75

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in	$50,000 00
Surplus Fund	3,600 00
Individual Deposits	74,433 05
Undivided Profits	161 70
Due National Banks
	$128,194 75

Gross earnings for six months ending June 30, 1898	$3,104 44
Undivided Profits Dec. 30, '97	1,333 39
	$4,437 83

Disposed of as follows:

Current Exp, and Taxes paid	2,076 13
Dividend No. 9, 4 per cent	2,000 00
Carried to Surplus	200 00
Undivided Profits remaining	161 70
	$4,437 83

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton:

S. L. Webb, cashier, of Erlanger Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Erlanger, Ky., in said county, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing report is in all respects a true statement of the condition of the said bank, at the close of business on the 30th day of June, 1898, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 30th day of June, 1898, as the day on which such report shall be made. S. L. Webb, Cashier.

Sworn to before me by S. L. Webb, this 2d day of July, 1898.

T. J. Childress, J. P. K. Co.

J. T. Craven,
W. H. Baker, } Directors.
W. A. Price,

TAKE

DELHI FERRY

To The City.

Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.

A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.

NO DELAY.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

Alfred Cason, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1898. NO. 39.

A LITTLE honesty and politeness are demanded in the navy as well as elsewhere.

SAMPSON does not take advantages of opportunities, or he would have given Schley the credit due him.

THE action of the Spaniards at Santiago is another occurence that sustains their reputation for being untrustworthy.

BY the terms of the surrender of Santiago Uncle Sam obtains a foot hold in the easteen part of Cuba. A foot held is better than no hold at all.

COL. BERRY arrived home from Washington, one day last week, and straight way he began looking to the condition of his political fences in the district.

G. G. GILBERT was nominated for Congress in McCreary's district. The contest narrowed down to McCreary and Gilbert, and Gilbert won out easily.

IT is not probable that Hon. Reuben Conner's successor will be elected until the regular election as there is no probability of the Legislature being called in extra session.

BLANCO will be afraid to let the Havana army hear of the fate of the Spanish troops who were captured at Santiago, fearing that it may take a notion to be sent home by the Americans.

BLANCO says that he will oppose all negotiations for peace. It will not take long for him to change his notion in that particular when the army and navy is ready to turn their attention to him.

SOME of the Spaniards have been captured by the Americans, and no attempt on their lives was made after surrender. According to what they had been told they did not anticipate such mild treatment.

THE Oregon has proved to be the wonder of the United States navy. She has speed as well as fighting qualities, and is so perfectly constructed long voyages have no terrors for her. Russia has been so impressed with her performances that she will have two battle-ships built exactly like her.

THE Spaniards in Havana were having a grand time celebrating Cervera's escape from Santiago, when the news was received that he was a prisoner and his fleet destroyed. The sudden collapse in the festivities was so great that Capt. General Blanco was crazed and tried to commit suicide.

DR. WHITSITT, President of the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, has tendered his resignation to take effect next May. The Doctor has been advocating doctrine that is not in accord with the teachings of the Kentucky Baptist, who have been demanding his resignation or dismissal for some time.

SINCE Schley's very successful argument with the Spanish fleet at Santiago, Germany is treating Uncle Sam with somewhat more respect. Previous to the capture of Cervera and the destruction of his fleet, Germany was acting ugly, but she now recognizes that this country's navy is a terror, and when it undertakes a job it does it well.

LOOKING over the Williamstown Courier one is impressed with the number of financial institutions Grant county is sustaining in away that makes them a profitable investment to their stock holders. Besides one of the best Building Associations in the State, Grant county sustains seven banks that carry individual deposits to the amount of $400,861, while their loans and discounts are very large. The Grant county people use a great deal of money in their business, and the county affords a good field for banks.

HON. REUBEN CONNER DEAD.

Hon. Reuben Conner died at his home at Richwood at 10:35 p. m., on the 14th inst. Mr. Conner was born in this county February 4th, 1825, consequently he was in his 74th year. He was a son of John and Elizabeth (Anderson) Conner, being the second of seven children. John Conner was a farmer to which vocation Reuben was raised, having only time to receive a common school education. At about the age of 50 years Mr. Conner began taking active interest in politics, being elected Justice of the Peace several times. In 1879 he was elected to represent the county in the Legislature and elected again in 1885. In 1887 he was elected State Senator from the district composed of the counties of Boone, Gallatin and Owen, and in 1897 he was returned again by the county to the Lower House of the General Assembly. Mr. Conner enjoyed the perfect confidence of the people of the county, and served them faithfully in every public capacity to which they assigned him.

Mr. Conner and Miss Mary Carpenter, daughter of Jonathan and Polly (Grubbs) Carpenter, were married in 1852, and to them were born five children, three sons and two daughters, all now living, viz: John W., W. W., and Meredith Conner, and Mrs. C.B. Rice and Mrs. Green Fields. His first wife departed this life in 1876. On December 29, 1879. Mr. Conner and Miss Jennie Fleming, daughter of Thomas and Dinah (Kennedy) Fleming, of Butler county, Ohio, were married.

Mr. Conner was a successful farmer, and owned one of the pleasantest homes on the pike between Walton and Covington, and the latch string hung outside at all times. Mr. Conner had an extensive acquaintance throughout the State, and his sterling integrity acquired for him the admiration of all his associates in both public and private life.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Davis at the Richwood Presbyterian church, last Saturday at 11 o'clock. The burial was in the cemetery at that place.

THE American army besieging Santiago, is in a dilapidated condition. The weather and health conditions have been against the troops from this country to such an extent that they will require a considerable period in which to recuperate before it can do itself justice and figure again as an army.

THE county is having considerable trouble getting the present legislative term filled. Dr. Grubbs died after his nomination, and Mr. Conner was nominated and elected in his stead, and his death, which occurred last Thursday night, creates a vacancy in the office. The county had a similar experience to this many years ago. Dr. Jonas Crisler was elected as Representative, but he died before the Legislature convened. Spencer Fish was then elected, but he died before the session closed, and L. W. Lassing was elected and filled the vacancy.

At the meeting of the Republican Congressional Committee of this district, on the 14th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The time is at this date, July 14, 1898, unannounced candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress for the Sixth Ky., District, therefore, be it Resolved, That all candidates for the Republican nomination be, and are hereby, requested to notify the Chairman of this committee in writing on or before the 20th day of August, 1898, in order that a nominating convention may be called.

Resolved further, That if not more than one person has notified this committee of his candidacy on or before the 20th day of August 1898, then, in such event, the committee will either call a convention or make a nomination.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY is quoted as saying, "I predict that this country will, for a long time, to come, be compelled to keep a standing army in Cuba for obvious reasons. We are to become responsible to the world for order in Cuba and argue as you may, we can not escape that responsibility." The President is eminently correct.

GEN. JOHN S. WILLIAMS (Cerro Gordo) died at his home near Mt. Sterling, last Sunday, in the 81st year of his age. He served as a captain and later as a colonel in the Mexican war, and was a Confederate Brigadier General. He served in the Kentucky Legislature, and afterwards as United States Senator.

AT the Danville convention, R. F. Peak, of Oldham, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, spoke against the annexation of more territory to the United States, while his opponent for the nomination, Jas. Andrew Scott, of Frankfort, took the opposite view in his speech.

THE entire destruction of the fleet, and the capture of the Spanish army at Santiago is a great disaster to Spain, and it is believed by many of the leading men in this country that she will sue for peace at an early day.

THERE is less interest manifested in the approaching Congressional election in this district than has been for many years. Neither party seems to be taking much interest in the matter.

CLARENCE VINEGAR, a colored wife murderer, was hung at Georgetown, Monday morning. His case had been to the Court of Appeals twice.

AT Tampa, Florida, there are 400 cases of typhoid fever among the troops, and 600 of the American troops at Santiago have yellow fever.

THE per capita for the public schools this year will be $2 30, although Supt. Voshell has received no official notice of the fact yet.

Pith of the Press.

Sampson wasn't there. Schley was.—Chicago Journal.

Leiter, Sr., has only the one son, and is probably glad of it.—Cleveland Leader.

Remember that credit to Schley means no discredit to others.—Baltimore American.

The public respectfully insists in putting Commodore Schley in the Dewey class.—Baltimore Herald.

Commodore Schley possesses in an eminent degree the qualities needed to command.—N. Y. Herald.

Admiral Cervera perhaps realizes by this time that all Yankees are not pigs.—Lewistown (Main) Journal.

It is said that Cervera will be taken to Boston, which is no way to treat even a prisoner of war.—Denver Times.

Admiral Dewey is to be congratulated upon the fact that there was no Sampson at hand to write his report.—Washington Post.

Up to this time the American people have no official knowledge that Commodore Schley was at Santiago.—Baltimore News.

Blanco need not think that we will be content with a mule diet when we open up on Havana.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Cervera swatted the ball in great shape and made a gallant run, but the Yankee fielders were too quick for him and he died at first.—Denver Post.

Of the generations yet unborn in Hawaii it is safe to say that not a single member will bear the name of Thomas Brackett Reed.—Pittsburg Post.

When the gentleman from Hawaii rises on the floor of Congress and is recognized by Speaker Reed that reaches time to take the picture.—Cleveland News.

Hobson is astonished to find that the Ar Rowan people consider him a hero. What does he think the American people are made of?—Philadelphia Ledger.

Commodore Schley's inability to hit Santiago is not deficiency in marksmanship, but failure to get the limestone cliffs out of the way.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Thomas B. Reed cannot expect the vote of Hawaii when he runs for President, but he may still be able to capture that of the Philippines.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It seems that Aguinaldo, has proclaimed himself President of the Philippine Republic, but General Merritt will not mind a little thing like that.—Baltimore Herald.

If America is to be coddled into an alliance with England the promoters must realize the necessity of keeping ex-Ambassador Bayard in the background.—Detroit Tribune.

A truce is an excellent thing when you can bring up 3,500 men and six batteries during its continuance. General Shafter seems to know his business.—N. Y. World.

Any man who knows how to dispose of bottled goods as Commodore Schley disposed of Admiral Cervera's fleet surely knows what to do with a glass of beer.—N. Y. Times.

Governor Leedy, of Kansas, announces that he is uncompromisingly opposed to the Monroe doctrine. It is a good thing that Monroe never heard of this.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Ex-President Cleveland now has a chance to perform an act of chivalry by signing a petition for the appointment of ex-Queen Lil to be Postmistress of Honolulu.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

When the news of the destruction of Cervera's fleet reached the New England coast the sigh of relief that went up from Cape Cod was heard distinctly at Bar Harbor.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Whatever disposition has been shown to deprive Acting Admiral Sampson of all share in the credit for demolishing Cervera's squadron has been provoked by his own action.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Aguinaldo, the Philippine leader, is described as of considerable capacity, but corrupt, unprincipled and untrustworthy. Can it be that "Aguinaldo" is Mark Hanna's stage name?—Chicago Dispatch.

Whether it was Sampson or Schley or neither makes no great difference. Either could do the trick, and so could Evans, Phillip, Clark or Wainwright. That's the beauty of the American navy.—St. Louis Republic.

Cervera's telegram to Blanco is a suggestive document—it has a snappish sound. The defeated Admiral evidently is willing to let the world know that his orders to move out of Santiago Harbor came from Blanco.—Anaconda Mont. Standard.

Peace that will suit us can be won only by unfaltering pressure in war. No faltering in the fight? No blundering into the trap of armistice! Let the United States go on to its manifest destiny, unchecked by narrowness, timidity, or rustiicity of mind in the counsels of its leaders!—N. Y. Sun.

But whatever their orders may be we may be sure that the German warships will hereafter keep out of range of Dewey's guns when that gentleman is engaged in debate with the Spaniards. He has shown that while he ignores swagger bluster he will tolerate no interference—active or passive—and that any of His Consecrated Majesty's ships which snuggles up to the Spaniards is very likely to get hit when the shooting begins.—Chicago Chronicle.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—S. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Rogll.
Deputy Sheriff—B. H. Allphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. B. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:

District No 1.—Clinton Raines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—B. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Arlor, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Noell, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Bland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Guffy.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Lesher.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Du-reile, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, J. H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS.

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

B. F. BUCHANAN.
— DRUGGIST, —
Rising Sun, - Indiana.

Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.

Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.

East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m. 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown... 7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown... 10:40 a. m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort..... 11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m

O. D. BERCAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

H. S. STEVENSON.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
DENTIST.
Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.
OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.

E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington,
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.
EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

W. N. HIND & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves
And all Kinds of
Household Goods,
213 W. Fifth St. 1 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1254.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY,
Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention given t Collections entrusted to him. mch22-93.

W. E. VEST,
County Surveyor,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL
LASSING & RIDDELL,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.
VEST & RICE,
Real Estate Agents.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 3,000
Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
Walton, Kentucky.
Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.
Will be in office at Union every Monday.
Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,
SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
HARD AND SOFT
:COAL,:
Erlanger, - - Ky.
Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.
J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

COMMODORE SCHLEY is commanded by an acting rear admiral, whose actual rank is only that of a captain. Doubtless, the main reason why Sampson was preferred as commander of our Atlantic fleet is because he is an expert in matters of ordnance, gunnery and high explosives. On these subjects he is probably the best informed of any officer in the navy.

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO vessels in all are known to have been wrecked on Sable island. These were ships, brigs, barks, schooners and brigantines. There has doubtless been a number of other vessels that have been wrecked on the island of which there is no record. In former years vessels would "disappear," but how, when or where did not trouble the world in general.

EVERY one surely must admire Capt. Phillips, of the Texas. After the battle was ended he called all hands to the quarter deck, and, with bared head, thanked God for the almost bloodless victory. "I want to make public acknowledgment," he said, "that I believe in God the Father Almighty. I want all you officers and men to lift your hats and from your hearts offer silent thanks to the Almighty."

NAVAL constructors have been busy deriving deductions from the sea fight off Santiago. The representatives of the German and Russian governments will undoubtedly find after the experiences of the Terror at San Juan de Porto Rico and the ease with which the little Gloucester sent the Pluton and Furor to destruction that the modern torpedo boat destroyer, the new weapon of the English navy, is a vastly overrated type of naval construction.

IN the destruction of the Spanish torpedo destroyers, Pluton and Furor, their force was obviously superior to that of the Gloucester, the yacht converted into a destroyer of the torpedo boat destroyer and Lieut. Commander Wainwright and his plucky crew won the maximum reward of $200 per capita for those on board the now destroyed destroyers. The complement of the Furor and Pluton was about 125 men, which will give the Gloucester credit for winning $25,000.

THERE was great rejoicing in Spain when Cervera got into the harbor of Santiago and there was great rejoicing in Spain when it was reported that Cervera had escaped from the harbor of Santiago. Likewise there was much satisfaction in Spain when Camara passed through the Suez canal, and, of course, there will be much satisfaction when Camara passes back through the Suez canal. And yet there are some souls who believe that Spain is not getting her money's worth out of this war.

IT does not make good news any better, but the fact that a single dispatch from Santiago the other day cost $21,000 will convey to newspaper readers an impression of the unprecedented liberality of the arrangements which supply the earliest and best accounts of every striking event in the war. The New York Herald and its associates the other day paid the sum of $21,000 for use of the cables long enough to secure transmission of the battle description sent by their corps of correspondents.

MEN who make a business of war are watching the performances of the Vesuvius with great interest. Although she is called a dynamite cruiser, she really throws shells filled with wet gun cotton, which is 35 per cent. moisture and can be handled without danger, but it is necessary to use a small quantity of dry gun cotton for a detonator. The dry gun cotton is extremely dangerous, and if a Spanish shell were to strike even a small part of that on the Vesuvius the ship would be blown into atoms.

A SUGGESTION worthy of attention here as well as in the west has been made to the relief societies of Missouri by a volunteer from that state. In a letter written from Camp Alger he says: "It might be well if the patriotic people would make a donation to our hospital in the way of reading matter. Any book or other publication sent to the regiment hospital will be placed there for the use of the patients. What time a soldier spends in a hospital his life is in greater danger than on a battle field, to my mind.'

MRS. MCKINLEY, wife of the president, has presented a beautiful regimental flag to the First United States volunteer cavalry, which is commanded by Col. Leonard A. Wood. The organization is better known as Roosevelt's rough riders, after the lieutenant colonel, formerly the popular assistant secretary of the navy. Col. Wood is a doctor and was the family physician of the president before entering the service. The color troop which will have the flag in charge is that of Capt. W. H. H. Llewellyn, troop G, of New Mexico.

ACTING ADM. SAMPSON is doing the work of an officer who is paid $6,000 a year, but does not even get Schley's pay, $5,000. Instead he gets $500 less, $4,500 being the pay of a captain. This is only one of the several queer facts about the navy. In the army, a colonel who, in the face of an enemy, is assigned to the command of a brigade, whether on his brevet rank or not, draws the pay of a brigadier. But there is no such provision for the navy. It costs a good deal more to be a rear admiral—acting or actual, either—than to be a captain, or even a commodore

DEWEY'S VICTORY.

A Valuable Strategic Base in Subic Bay Seized After Bombardment.

The Plans of Germany to Interfere Was Defeated, and on Approach of the American Vessels the German Ships Slipped Out of the Bay.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The navy department has received from Adm. Dewey the following dispatch:

Aguinaldo informs me his troops have taken all of Subic bay except Isla Grande, which he was prevented from taking by German man-of-war Irene. On July 7 the Raleigh and Concord went there; they took the island and about 1,500 men, with arms and ammunition. No resistance. The Irene retired from the bay on their arrival.

I shall send the Boston to Cape Engano about July 15, to second army detachment. It is not practicable to send to Guam. No transport vessels available. "DEWEY."

MANILA, July 14.—via HONG KONG, July 13.—The American navy under Adm. Dewey has won another important victory in the capture of Grand Island, in Subig bay, Island of Luzon, and also the chief harbor of the Philippines.

Chief Aguinaldo on July 6 informed Dewey that the insurgents had full possession of Subig bay, with the exception of the large island controlling the entrance. A strong Spanish garrison occupied the island and he said he was unable to take it.

Adm. Dewey early on the next day, July 7, dispatched the cruiser Raleigh and the gunboat Concord with emphatic orders to take the island and capture the garrison. As soon as the cruisers arrived they shelled the principal points on the island, utterly destroying the earthworks and other fortifications and laying the torpedo station in ruins. Capt. Coghlan then sent ont a launch with a message to the garrison demanding surrender. There was no response and the Raleigh finally sent a six-inch shell through the commanders's house. The white flag was instantly run up on the ruins of the earthworks.

Capt. Coghlan sent Lieut. Rodman, of the Raleigh, and Ensign Knepper, of the Concord, with a landing party, to demand absolute surrender.

This victory gives the Americans control of Subic bay, a Spanish strategic point, and frustrates the Spanish plans to prolong their dominion in the Philippines. The Spanish were endeavoring to protect it with submarine mines, and to make it ready for occupancy by the Spanish fleet supposed to be on its way from Spain. Adm. Dewey's possession of Subic bay defeats Germany's supposed plans to interfere in the Philippines. The plan was designed and executed with great dash and bravery, and its success has surprised the Germans and other foreigners here.

When the Raleigh and Concord entered Subig bay the German war ships left very suddenly. Although the attitude of the Germans is still irritable, Adm. Dewey is managing them with great diplomacy. He does not expect any trouble with them.

The blockade will, hereafter, be more rigid. Only the supply ships of the American and foreign nations are allowed to enter.

Destructive Fire in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 14.—Fire destroyed seven business houses in Murfreesboro Wednesday, causing losses estimated at more than one hundred thousand dollars. The losses are pretty well covered by insurance.

Kentucky Boy Killed.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., July 14.—James Isom, son of Zach Isom, of this county, who joined the regular army 18 months ago, was killed at Santiago. Isom has left for Cuba to get his son's remains.

YELLOW FEVER.

Downfall of Santiago Must Be Accomplished at Once in Order That it May Not Decimate Our Troops.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Fourteen suspicious fever cases have broken out among the employes of the quartermaster's department near Santiago. The men have been isolated and confidence is expressed in the ability of the doctors to stamp out the disease.

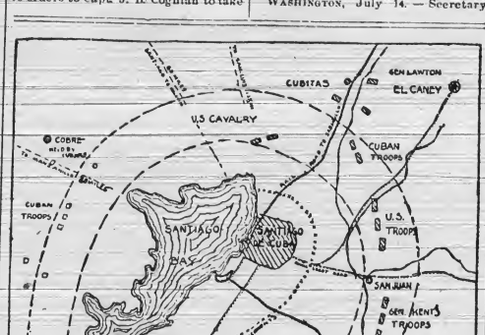
The report received at the war department that yellow fever has broken out among our troops impresses the administration with the importance of concluding the campaign at Santiago as speedily as possible. While but very few cases have developed, according to the report, the presence of this disease, even in a single case, is extremely dangerous to the army situated as it is. The purpose of the war council at the white house Wednesday morning was not only to discuss the steps to be taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and to improve the condition of the army, but also a proposition to facilitate the operations against Santiago. The menace of yellow fever is an admonishment that a prolonged campaign would place our army to the danger of trouble. It is proposed, therefore, to press ahead at once and at most any cost to capture the city and put an end to operations in that quarter. The Spanish commander is thoroughly familiar, of course, with the health condition, and it is believed to be his purpose by delays on pretense of considering the question of surrender to stave off the fall of the town with the hope that the yellow fever may become epidemic and deplete our ranks.

WASHINGTON, July 14. — Secretary Alger and Secretary Wilson remained at the white house Wednesday night until nearly 12 o'clock waiting for dispatches from the front, but none were received. Earlier in the evening Secretary Bliss also was at the white house. The situation as affected by the outbreak of yellow fever was discussed at some length.

The president is greatly concerned, as is the secretary of war, but assurances have been received that the medical corps is fully able to cope with the disease.

There was a rumor afloat Wednesday night that Gen. Duffield was one of the victims of yellow fever but no official information on this subject was obtainable.

No Real Help From Germany.



LONDON, July 14.—The Times, commenting editorially upon the situation Thursday morning, says it thinks the outbreak of disease among the American troops and the news of the Irene incident may decide Spain to continue the war, but it dissuades her from "such rashness, which will only have the result in more onerous terms of peace later, as it is quite illusory for Spain to hope for real help from Germany."

Spain Must Choose.

PARIS, July 14.—The Temps, Wednesday afternoon, referring to the peace rumors, says: "Spain has to choose between an arrangement with hard conditions attached and absolute bankruptcy. Moreover, it depends upon her to avert by opportune action grave international complications, by which she will earn the gratitude of the civilized world."

Gas Well Explodes.

WINDFALL, Ind., July 14.—Frank Bishop, James Sanders and John Webber, of this place, were drilling a gas well Wednesday. They had completed the drilling and were putting the tubing in the well, when an explosion occurred from below, where no fire could have been. It is supposed that the casing and tubing coming in contact caused a spark that fired the gas, resulting in the explosion. Bishop was seriously burned and the others slightly burned. The derrick and machinery were totally destroyed.

THE HORSESHOE AT SANTIAGO'S DOOR.

Richard Harding Davis reports that the American lines around Santiago are now in the shape of a horseshoe, five miles in length.

ON TO PORTO RICO.

There Will Be Plenty of Transports Available for the Expedition.

But Little Resistance is Expected—It is Thought That the Surrender of Santiago Will Have a Depressing Effect at San Juan.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The government is now turning its attention to the occupation of Porto Rico. There will be plenty of transports available for the expedition, as the government has devised other means of removing the Spaniards captured at Santiago to Spain than by carrying them on these transports. That the navy is ready to do its share at short notice goes without saying. Porto Rico is not expected to offer a very formidable resistance. It is believed that the moral effect of Thursday's surrender at Santiago will be to discourage the defenders of San Juan. There is, however, always the prospect that peace may ensue before hostilities have progressed against Spain's eastermost West India island. Rumors were afloat Thursday afternoon to the effect that the Spanish government at last had made overtures in that direction, but their basis probably was the current belief that one more reverse to the Spanish arms would be sufficient to compel the Spanish government to sue for peace, and this reverse was furnished by the surrender of Toral's army. The navy department has not been affected by these rumors to the extent of relaxing any of its precautions or abandoning any of its plans, for Secretary Long stated unequivocally Thursday that Commodore Watson's eastern squadron would certainly go to Spain as soon as it could sail.

The territory surrendered to us by Gen. Toral makes about 5,000 square miles. The Spanish soldiers to be sent to Spain is estimated at 10,000 men.

Maj. Hopkins, the military aide to Secretary Alger Thursday afternoon had spread before him a huge map of Cuba showing the surrendered zone turned over to the American troops. The line begins at Asseradores, about 15 miles west of Santiago harbor and then runs due north about 25 miles to Palmo Soriana. Had the line continued due north it would have passed west of Holquin thus taking the Spanish garrison at that point. Evidently Gen. Toral wished to avoid the inclusion of Holquin, so the line turns abruptly to the northeast of Palmo and runs to the coast town of Boca del Sagua on the coast. The extreme length of this surrendered tract is about 110 miles and the extreme width about 50 miles, tapering to a less width, making in all about 5,000 square miles.

The navy department had not heard up to the close of office hours to what extent the American fleet was participating in the Spanish surrender. With Santiago in our hands the way will be clear for Adm. Sampson's fleet to enter the harbor and proceed up to the wharves, as soon as the torpedoes and mines at the harbor entrance are removed. The fortifications of Morro Castle, Socapa, Cayo Smith and others are included in the surrendered zone. The possession of these fine fortresses, particularly Morro castle, will afford valuable garrison points for a large number of men. The terms under which these strongholds are surrendered is not yet known in detail.

Great attention will now be given to the care of our sick and fever stricken soldiers on the island. In the opinion of the army surgeons the sick can be best treated by removal to the high ground back of the southern coast, where the heat is less severe, and where recovery could proceed without the fear of communicating disease to the army. Secretary Alger is anxious to bring the entire army back as soon as it can be done with safety to the men themselves and without jeopardy to the other troops in Florida and to the general public. The active preparations made to deal with the emergency are such that it is felt the question of disease can be coped with successfully, now that the military situation has been simplified in the matter of transports, the department is fully prepared for the next move. The acquisition recently of a number of trans-Atlantic liners capable of carrying several times as many men as the smaller transports, has put it on an excellent footing, and it was announced Thursday that no more ships were being bought for the Atlantic coast. Many of the transports which carried soldiers to Cuba are now being used for other purposes, chief among which is that of bringing the sick and wounded to the United States. The ships available by the department are distributed about as follows: Twenty-five at Santiago, twelve at Tampa, three at Charleston, four at New York, four at Key West and others en route to and from other points.

The Irene Incident.

LONDON, July 15.—The Daily Mail's Hong Kong correspondent cables that it is now known here that Adm. Dewey requested the correspondents at Manila not to give the full story of the Irene incident for fear of arousing a feeling in America which might lead to complications with Germany.

Death of Irvine S. Bullock.

LONDON, July 15.—Mr. Irvine Steven Bullock died Thursday at Liverpool. He was a lieutenant on the Alabama during the war of secession.

THE PEACE TERMS.

Spain Herself, and Not a Third Power, Must Open Up the Negotiations—War Preparations Will Continue.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The president is determined not to wait for Spain to begin to sue for peace, but will go ahead with his preparations for the expeditions to Porto Rico and Spain. If Spain is sincere in asking for peace, there will be nothing lost by these preparations. The president is anxiously awaiting the report of the commissioners arranging the surrender and what methods are proposed for the sending home of the Spanish troops before he decides how it shall be done. While there was a general talk of peace here Friday and a feeling that the action of Spain in agreeing to the surrender of Santiago indicates her appreciation of the hopelessness of continuing the struggle, this optimistic view is not shared by the president and several members of his cabinet. They have had too much experience with the Spanish character in the past year to feel warranted in expressing belief that the termination of the war is in sight.

The position of the administration in regard to peace is clear enough and the situation at present is divided as follows:

First—No direct representations in the direction of peace have been received by this government.

Second—No proposition will emanate from the United States, it having been determined that the initiative shall be taken by Spain.

Third—No proposals or suggestions will be received except from Spain direct, the intervention of a third power not being acceptable.

Fourth—The United States will take possession of Porto Rico, whether that island has been actually seized by American forces or not at the time peace is proposed. The retention of the Spanish colonies already captured is another condition.

Every effort will now be made to improve the sanitary condition of our troops at Santiago, and as many as possible will be ordered back to the United States, and but a few of them will be sent to Porto Rico. There is now only one contingency that can prevent the forcible invasion of Porto Rico, and that is an armistice, with a view to peace negotiations. In the event that Spain should sue for peace, now that Santiago has fallen, the United States would insist upon occupying the island, but it would be in a peaceful manner.

MADRID, July 16.—The pacific tendency is increasing. The general public take a favorable view of the suggestion that the powers should attempt the re-establishment of peace, but it is said, contrary to the reports current, France has not taken the initiative.

MADRID, July 16.—The minister for war, Gen. Correa, is quoted as saying in an interview, that he thought peace might be arranged on the following terms:

The United States and Spain to agree to let the Cubans decide by a plebiscite whether they desire independence or autonomy under the suzerainty of Spain.

The two governments to agree to abide by the result of the plebiscite.

In the event of the Cubans voting for independence, the United States to allow Spain nine months in which to withdraw her army, gradually and dignifiedly from Cuba.

LONDON, July 16.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says:

"The government has definitely decided to open peace negotiations without delay, proposing as a basis, the renunciation of all rights over Cuba and the immediate discussion of any other reasonable proposals' the United States may make."

The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says:

The Carlist agitation is assuming proportions in many of the northern provinces which may serve as a fresh argument for action on the part of the government. The civil and military authorities acting under instructions of the ministers of the interior and of war, are closely watching the movements of Carlist emissaries, who are frequently flitting about the old haunts of Carlism, coming to Madrid, going to Brussels, Bayonne and Bau to report the results of their propaganda and preparations.

Shooting Spanish Spies.

ST. LOUIS, July 16.—John Sheehan, of 16th U. S. infantry, now at Santiago, writes in a letter to his parents in this city dated June 28: "We have caught about 18 spies and shot them. The other day six Spanish deserters came over to us and surrendered. They are held as prisoners. Just got word that the 9th cavalry has caught 19 Spanish signal corps men with an outline of our camp on paper."

The Transportation of Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—There were frequent consultations among the war department officials Friday in regard to the transportation to Spain of the 25,000 prisoners surrendered to Gen. Shafter in Santiago province. Col. Hecker, in charge of the question of transportation, said late Friday that no final decision had been reached. The general opinion, however, is that advertisements will be published here and abroad inviting proposals for the transportation of the men to Spanish soil.

STRAINING A FRIENDSHIP.

A Story Which Snapped the Bonds That United Two Sweet Young Things.

They were standing at the counter, and I couldn't help but hear.

"Talk about hard luck," said the girl with the hot chocolate. "I know a woman who had an awful thing happen to her over in New York."

"Oh, do tell me about it," gurgled the girl with the ice cream soda.

"Well," went on the chocolate girl, "she's not wealthy at all, you know, and she doesn't keep a nurse. So, one day, when she had to go down town shopping, she took her baby and left it at one of these day nursery creche places. They gave her a check for it, and she went off shopping. She didn't come back to the creche till late in the afternoon, and when she went to take out the check it was gone."

"Good gracious!" said the girl with the ice cream soda, looking shocked. "What did she do?"

"Well," went on the chocolate girl, "they told her she couldn't take the baby without a check, and she'd have to wait till the other babies were taken away, and then she could have what was left. So she waited for hours and hours, till all the babies were gone but one, and when she went to get that—well, the only baby left was a colored baby."

"Oh, how perfectly awful!" exclaimed the girl with the ice cream soda, in accents of horror. "What did she do? Wasn't she perfectly frantic? My goodness, how horrible! Didn't she ever get her baby back again? I should think she'd have been perfectly crazy. What did she do?"

"Oh, said the chocolate girl, coolly, "she took the colored baby. It was hers. She was colored, you know."

And in the silence which followed I could hear the snapping of the bonds of a tender and lifelong friendship.—Washington Post.

The Climate of Cuba.

Because of frequent rains in Cuba malarial fevers are a common ailment there, just as they are in many sections of the United States. Ailments of this kind, no matter in what part of the globe they occur, are quickly cured with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Besides being a specific for malarial troubles, these Bitters also make pure blood, strong nerves and muscles, and firm, healthy flesh. They have no equal for dyspepsia and constipation.

No Cause for Alarm.

Softleigh—Death loves a shining mark, it is said.

Miss Cutting—Oh, well, don't be uneasy; you're not so brilliant.—Chicago Evening News.

An Open Letter to Mothers.

We are asserting in the courts our right to the exclusive use of the word "Castoria," and "Pitcher's Castoria," as our Trade Mark. I, Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "Pitcher's Castoria," the same that has borne and does now bear the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on every wrapper. This is the original "Pitcher's Castoria" which has been used in the homes of the mothers of America for over thirty years. Look carefully at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought, and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the Wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company, of which Chas. H. Fletcher is president.

SAMUEL PITCHER, M. D.

March 8, 1897.

Safe.

Mrs. O'Flannigan—Ain't yez afraid yer bye Dinny will git kilt in the war?

Mrs. O'Flaherty—Not a bit of it. Sure, he's on wan of thim protected cruisers.—N. Y. Journal.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease.

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. At this season your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen and sweating feet, blisters and callous spots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores for 25c. Trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Futures.

"Some young men," remarked the observer of men and things, "have such dazzling futures that they can't see where they are stepping."—Detroit Journal.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

When a pretty girl has good, hard sense it indicates that she has an uncommonly sensible mother.—Atchison Globe.

After six years' suffering. I was cured by Piso's Cure.—Mary Thomson, 294 Ohio Ave., Allegheny, Pa., March 19, '94.

Nothing pleases us more than to get two inveterate bores to boring each other.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is taken internally. Price 75c.

"Money talks." If there is any chance coming to you, that's back talk.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

You Will Stand the Heat

Much more easily and comfortably by putting and keeping your body in trim condition by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes good blood, promotes proper circulation and keeps every organic operation free from friction.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine.

Hood's Pills are gentle, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

Sour Stomach

"After I was induced to try CASCARETS, I will never be without them in the house. My liver was in a very bad shape, and my head ached and I had stomach trouble. Now, since taking Cascarets, I feel fine. My wife has also used them with beneficial results for sour stomach."—Joe. KREULING, 1421 Congress St., St. Louis, Mo.

CANDY CATHARTIC

Cascarets

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

REGULATE THE LIVER

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken, or Gripe. 10c. 25c. 50c.

... CURE CONSTIPATION. ...

Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Montreal, New York. 318

NO-TO-BAC Sold and guaranteed by all druggists to CURE Tobacco Habit.

SANTIAGO IS OURS!

Old Glory Floats From the Palace of the Governor.

The City and Eastern Portion of the Province Surrendered.

Spanish Troops Stack Their Arms Between the Opposing Lines.

The American Flag Unfurled Over Morro Castle and the Other Fortifications—The Harbor Being Cleared of Obstructions—Number of Prisoners Surrendered About 25,000—They Will Be Transported to Spain.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The following messages were sent Saturday by President McKinley and Secretary R. A. Alger:

"To. Gen. Shafter, commanding front near Santiago, Playa:

"The president of the United States sends to you and your brave army the profound thanks of the American people for the brilliant achievements at Santiago, resulting in the surrender of the city and all of the Spanish troops and territory under Gen. Toral. Your splendid command has endured not only the hardships and sacrifices incident to campaign and battle, but in stress of heat and weather has triumphed over obstacles which would have overcome men less brave and determined. One and all have displayed the most conspicuous gallantry and earned the gratitude of the nation. The hearts of the people turn with tender sympathy to the sick and wounded. May the Father of Mercies protect and comfort.

(Signed) WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

To Maj. Gen. Shafter, Front, near Santiago, Playa:

I can not express in words my gratitude to you and your heroic men. Your work has been well done. God bless you all. (Signed)

R. A. ALGER,
Secretary of war.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A special dispatch from Santiago published here Saturday afternoon, gives the following as the terms of surrender of the Spanish forces under Gen. Toral:

The 20,000 refugees at Caney and Siboney are to be turned back into the city. An American infantry patrol is to be posted in the roads surrounding the city. Our hospital corps is to give attention to any possible sick and wounded among the Spanish soldiers in Santiago. All the Spanish troops in the province, except Gen. Luques 10,000 at Holguin, are to come to the city to surrender. The guns and defenses of the city are to be turned over to the Americans in good condition. The Americans are to have full use of the Juragua railway which belongs to the Spanish government. All Spaniards are to be conveyed home by American transports with the least possible delay, and they are permitted to take portable church property with them.

The Spanish are to surrender their arms.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The war department has posted the following:

PLAYA DEL ESTE, near Santiago, July 18.—The following letter has just been received:

"Santiago de Cuba, July 16.—To His Excellency, Commander-in-Chief American Forces—Excellent Sir:—I am now authorized by my government to capitulate. I have the honor to so apprise you and requesting that you designate hour and place where my representative shall appear to compare with those of your excellency to effect the articles of capitulation on the basis of what has been agreed upon to this date in due time. I wish to manifest my desire to know the resolutions of the United States government respecting the return of the army, so as to note on the capitulations. Also the great courtesy of your great graces and return for the great generosity and impulse for the Spanish soldiers and allow them to return to the Peninsula with the honors the American army do them the honor to acknowledge as dutifully descended.

[Signed] JOSE TORAL, General,
Commanding 4th Army Corps.

"To Gen. Shafter, Commanding American forces."

IN FRONT OF SANTIAGO, July 18, via Guantanamo Bay.—Old Glory is now floating over the fortifications of Santiago.

At 9 o'clock Sunday morning the Spanish troops under command of Gen. Toral left their trenches and marched into the American lines, where one by one the regiments laid down their arms. At the same time the Spanish flag was hauled down and the stars and stripes hoisted in its place.

The work of loading the Spanish prisoners on transports preparatory to sending them back to Spain will be commenced as soon as ships are provided.

The authorities at Washington have been urged to use haste in this matter. It has been suggested to use Spanish transports for the work, fear being expressed that the use of American vessels would result in rendering them dangerous for use in moving American troops on account of the exposure of the Spaniards to yellow fever.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Gen. Greely, chief signal officer, at 11:02 a. m. received the first word of the formal surrender of Santiago to the American forces. His advices came from the signal officer at Santiago and said that the Spanish troops left the trenches and marched out Sunday moraing, laying down their arms. The Spanish flag was hauled down.

The war department posted the following bulletin at 5:15 p. m. Sunday:

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 18.—Adjutant General United States Army:—I have the honor to announce that the American flag has been this instant, 12 o'clock noon, hoisted over the house of the civil government in the city of Santiago. An immense concourse of people present. A squad of cavalry and a regiment of infantry presenting arms and band playing national airs. Light battery fired salute 21 guns. Perfect order is being maintained by municipal government. Distress is very great, but little sickness in town. Scarcely any yellow fever.

A small gunboat and about 200 seamen left by Cervera have surrendered to me. Obstructions are being removed from mouth of harbor. Upon coming into the city I discovered a perfect entanglement of defenses. Fighting as the Spaniards did the first day it would have cost five thousand lives to have taken it. Battalions of Spanish troops have been depositing arms since daylight in armory, over which I have guard. Gen. Toral formally surrendered the plaza and all stores at 9 a.m. (Signed)

W. R. SHAFTER, Major General.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 18.—Amid impressive ceremonies the Spanish troops laid down their arms between the lines of the Spanish and American forces at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Gen. Shafter and the American division and brigade commanders and their staffs were escorted by a troop of cavalry and Gen. Toral and his staff by 100 picked men.

Trumpeters on both sides saluted with flourishes.

Gen. Shafter returned to Gen. Toral the latter's sword after it had been handed to the American commander.

Our troops, lined up at the trenches, were eye witnesses of the ceremony. Gen. Shafter and his escort, accompanied by Gen. Toral, rode through the city, taking formal possession.

The city had been sacked before they arrived by the Spaniards.

Across the plaza was drawn up the 9th infantry, headed by the 6th cavalry band. In the street facing the palace stood a picked troop of the 2d cavalry, with drawn sabers, under command of Capt. Brett. Massed on the stone flagging between the band and the line of horsemen were the brigade commanders of Gen. Shafter's division with their staffs.

On the red-tiled roof of the palace stood Capt. McKittrick, Lieut. Miley and Lieut. Wheeler, immediately above them, upon the flagstaff, the illuminated Spanish arms and the legend, "Vive Alfonso XIII." All about, pressing against the veranda rails, crowding the windows and doors and lining the walls, were the people of the town, principally women and noncombatants. The chimes of the old cathedral rang out the hour of 12 the infantry and cavalry presented arms. Every American uncovered, and Capt. McKittrick hoisted the stars and stripes. As the brilliant folds unfurled in a gentle breeze against a fleckless sky, the cavalry band broke into the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," making the American pulse leap and the American heart thrill with joy.

At the same instant the sound of the distant firing of Capt. Capron's battery, firing a salute of 21 guns, drifted in. When the music ceased from all directions around our line came floating across the plaza the strains of the regimental bands and the muffled, hoarse cheers of our troops. The infantry came to "order arms" a moment later, after the flag was up, and the band played "Rally Round the Flag, Boys." Instantly Gen. McKibbon called for three cheers for Gen. Shafter, which were given with great enthusiasm, the band playing Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever." The ceremony over, Gen. Shafter and his staff returned to the American lines, leaving the city in the possession of the municipal authorities, subject to the control of Gen. McKibbon.

Gen. Toral, the white-haired commander of the Spanish forces, is utterly heart-broken. He spoke bitterly of the fate which compelled him to sue for peace, but had no word to say against the gallant men who had conquered his army. He declared that he had little chance to win. "I would not desire to see my worst enemy play with the cards I held," he said to one of the commissioners. "Every one of my generals was killed or wounded. I had not a single colonel left and was surrounded by a powerful enemy. We have counted 67 ships off this port.

"And, besides," he concluded, wearily waving his hands towards the city, "I have secret troubles there."

Speaking of the battle of June 24 in which the "rough riders" and a part of Gen. Young's command participated, Gen. Toral said that less than 2,000 Spanish troops were engaged, his loss being 265. He would not say how many Spaniards were killed at El Caney and before Santiago. "Heavy! heavy!" he said, dejectedly.

In response to an inquiry, he said that transportation would be required for between 22,000 and 25,000 men, there being that much of a force in the capitulated district. He informed the officers that Santiago harbor had been again mined since Adm. Cervera left.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—At 11:05 o'clock Sunday night Adjt. Gen. Corbin made public the following dispatch from Gen. Shafter:

HEADQUARTERS U. S. ARMY,
SANTIAGO, July 17.
To Adjutant General, U. S. A. Washington:

My ordnance officers report about 7,000 rifles turned in Sunday and 600,000 cartridges. At the mouth of the harbor there are quite a number of fine modern guns about six inch; also two batteries of mountain guns, together with a saluting battery of 15 old bronze guns. Disarming and turning in will go on Monday. List of prisoners not yet taken.

SHAFTER,
Major General Commading.

GEN. DON JOSE TORAL Y VELASQUEZ.

THERE IS A HITCH.

Toral Asks That His Men Be Allowed to Keep Their Arms—McKinley Says Unconditional Surrender.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—After an extended conference with the president Friday night at which three other members of the cabinet were present, Secretary Alger said:

"The situation is just this: These Spaniards at Santiago are prepared to surrender, but they want to carry their arms. We have determined to grant no such concession nor any concession except the generosity of this government to transport them to Spain."

Secretary Alger was asked if it was not the expectation that when it was known that no other terms would be granted the surrender would take place, and replied that such was the case. In any event no other concession would be afforded by this government.

It was nearly 1 o'clock when the conference at the white house adjourned. Mr. Cortelyou, secretary Alger there were preceded by Secretaries Bliss and Wilson and Charlie Foster. Assistant Adjt. General Ebstein was present during the last hour of the conference.

Gen. Shafter will be immediately instructed to carry out the determination of the president, with whom the matter has been thoroughly discussed. Secretary Alger did not say how much time would be allowed the enemy to reach a conclusion, but it is known that the administration will make it very short and submit to no further parley with Gen. Toral. The next move is surrender upon the terms which the United States government propose or immediate attack upon the Spanish forces by the army and navy.

At 1:15 o'clock Saturday morning, when Adjt. Gen. Corbin left the war department for his home, he was yet without definite information from Gen. Shafter concerning the surrender of Santiago.

In accordance with the decision reached at the conference with the president, he sent instructions to Gen. Shafter that nothing but an unconditional surrender by Gen. Toral would be satisfactory to this government.

In view of Shafter's last dispatch no fear is felt that the negotiations for the surrender of the forces in Santiago city will not be prosecuted to a successful conclusion. Gen. Toral, it is known, at first insisted that his men should be permitted to carry their arms with them to Spain. This concession Gen. Shafter declined to grant. Toral has modified his demand regarding the arms and has presented a petition that the arms taken from his men be returned to Spain with the troops. As indicated in Secretary Alger's statement above given the petition has been denied by this government.

The unusual delay, which has puzzled the war officials, is accounted for by the difficulty which Gen. Toral is having in surrendering that part of the force under his command which is not in the city of Santiago. Gen. Shafter estimates that there from 12,000 to 15,000 men in Santiago and nearly as many more in the province outside the city. It is believed that the delay in the negotiations is made necessary in order to secure the surrender of the outlying garrisons, some of which may question Toral's authority to surrender them without definite instructions to that effect from Madrid.

There was entire willingness on the part of Gen. Toral to turn over the arms to Gen. Shafter at the time of the surrender, but with this was to be the understanding that the arms were to be returned to the Spanish troops when Spanish soil was reached. This was a condition which had not been anticipated. The authorities here did not regard it as serious, or as likely to overcome a final settlement, as it was attributed to the Spanish sensitiveness against the humiliation involved in laying down their arms. At the same time it was a point on which neither side appeared to be ready to yield.

One of the dispatches from the front, after specifying that this difference had arisen, added that it was believed a settlement would be reached before Friday closed. Gen. Shafter himself summed up the situation by saying: "It can not be possible that there will be failure in completing arrangements." No question whatever has been raised as to the surrender itself. Not only has Gen. Toral agreed to it, but this agreement has been ratified by Gen. Blanco at Havana and by the Spanish authorities at Madrid.

A cabinet official expresses doubt as to the sincerity of Gen. Toral, and suggested that his negotiations for peace were solely for the purpose of delay to enable him to strengthen his position by reinforcements from other points in the Santiago district.

Fear We May Get a Footing in Porto Rico.

MADRID, July 16.—One of the chief reasons which has driven the government toward peace is a fear that the Americans may get a footing in Porto Rico, thus establishing a stronger claim to include that island in their demands for territory.

Wounded Soldiers Arrive at Old Point.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 16.—The hospital ship Olivette arrived at Old Point from Santiago at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with wounded aboard.

COUNCIL OF WAR.

Proposed Invasion of Porto Rico and the Dispatch of Watson's Squadron to Spain Considered.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A council of war was begun at the white house at 10:15 o'clock Saturday morning. There were present Secretaries Alger and Long and the members of the war board, consisting of Rr. Adm. Sicard, Capt. Crownlshield and Capt. Mahan.

It is snpposed that the proposed invasion of Porto Rico and the dispatch of Watson's squadron to the coast of Spain were under consideration.

COMMODORE WATSON.

Secretary Alger, after the conference, said that the government was entirely satisfied with the conditions in and around Santiago, and there was no longer doubt of the surrender of Toral and his army was final and complete.

"They have unconditionally accepted our terms," added the secretary, "and the next thing is to provide ships to send the prisoners back to Spain. We will advertise at once for ships to be used as transports. The Spaniards will retain their side arms. That is always customary, and it is the only concession made to Toral."

DISTINGUISHED PERSONS.

Adm. Cervera and the Other Officers of His Fleet Attend Divine Worship in St. Mary's Catholic Church.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 18.—Maryland's ancient capital was crowded Sunday with curiosity seekers who came from Baltimore, Washington and elsewhere by rail and by water in the hope of getting a peep at Adm. Cervera and the men who fought and lost in the great naval fight off Santiago. Those who reached here early in the morniag were rewarded for their trouble, as nearly all the prisoners, including the admiral, attended divine service at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, where they offered up thanks for their deliverance from the fate that overtook so many of their less fortunate comrades who fell before the relentless fire of the American guns on July 3.

At the close of the services the officers returned to the naval academy and spent the balance of the day in strolling about the grounds or lounging on the broad piazzas which surround most of the buildings in which the prisoners are quartered. They are rapidly becoming accustomed to their surroundings and seem cheerful and contented. Ample provision has been made for their comfort, their food is plentiful and of the best quality, and clothes will be provided for such as will accept.

Capt. Eulate, of the Vizcaya, is the only one of the officers who has thus far refused to sign the parole pledge. His reasons for it are that Adm. Cervera was only required to give a verbal promise, and that his (Eulate's) rank entitles him to the same privilege. The authorities here have no doubt that the matter will be amicably arranged and that the scruples of the gallant officer may be overcome.

BIDS WANTED.

Sealed Proposals for the Transportation of Spanish Prisoners to Spain Invited by the War Department.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Sealed proposals are invited for the transportation of the Spanish prisoners of war who surrendered to the United States forces from Santiago de Cuba to Cadiz, or such other port of Spain as may hereafter be designated. Their number is estimated as 1,000 commissioned officers and 24,000 enlisted men. Cabin accommodations are to be supplied for the officers and third-class or steerage accommodations having suitable galley accommodations, conforming to the United States' requirements as to space and ventilation for the enlisted men. The United States government will deliver the prisoners on board at Santiago. Proposals to state the per capita price for transporting officers and for transporting enlisted men and for their subsistence, and delivering them on shore at the Spanish port.

No Yellow Fever in the United States.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Surgeon General Wyman, of the Marine hospital service, says there is not a single case of yellow fever in this country so far as he knows, and no preparations are making to receive yellow fever patients. It is his understanding that Secretary Alger soon will order the two companies of soldiers now at Tortugas, off the Florida coast, to some other point, and this place then will revert to the Marine hospital service, in whose custody it was before the war broke out.

SANTIAGO'S FALL.

The Exact Terms of the Surrender as Agreed Upon by Commissioners on the Day of Capitulation.

BEFORE SANTIAGO, July 16.—Following are the terms of surrender as agreed upon at the conference Thursday:

Spain abandons the city of Santiago and all of the Province of Santiago east of Acerraderos on the south and Sagua on the north.

All Spanish troops are to be taken to Spain by the United State government. These troops number 20,000 men, half of whom are in the city of Santiago.

The United States takes all of the enemy's forts and guns, the Spanish officers being allowed to keep their side arms.

American troops will not enter the city until after the Spaniards have embarked.

Guards from the American force will be stationed around the city.

Members of the Red Cross will enter the city at once and the refugees will return to their homes Saturday morning.

While the Spanish troops are preparing to embark American and Cuban sentinels are to keep out stragglers and marauders and the Spanish are to police the city.

UNDER WAY.

The Fourth Manila Expedition Under Command of Maj. Gen. Otis Sails From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—The fourth Manila expedition is under way. Shortly after 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Maj. Gen. Otis, from his flagship, the City of Pue bla, signaled the transport Peru to get under way. The signals were understood by the watchers on shore and by those who had surrounded the two vessels in small boats and were received with great cheering. As the two vessels got under way the cheering increased in volume and to the accompaniment of hundreds of steam whistles and the firing of bombs and cannon, the two vessels proceeded slowly down the bay past the water front and out to sea.

The soldiers on the transports crowded into the rigging and answered the cheering of the civilians with hearty good will and responded to the dipping flags of the merchant vessels by waving their hats and handkerchiefs. As the two vessels and the small fleet accompanying it passed the forts the big guns from the batteries sent forth their thunder in salute, to which the transports responded with their steam sirens.

Not Afraid of Germany.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—"Having whipped Spain, we are ready to whip Germany if she desires a fight. After the arrival of the Monterey, Dewey will enforce his orders in Manila bay by cannon, if necessary." This is the decision the administration has reached concerning the situation in the Philippines, according to high official authority. The administration has grown tired of the many annoyances and insults to which Adm. Dewey has been subjected. It hopes by the end of the week that the admiral will be in a position to take the aggressive.

Tennessee Boys Experts at Drill.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—The Tennessee volunteer regiment gave an exhibition drill at Mechanics' pavilion Thursday night, which was witnessed by over 5,000 people. Military experts unite in praising the splendid showing and efficient work of the men from the south, under Col. Smith, all of their evolutions being performed with the precision of regulars.

Yellow Fever Cases at Siboney.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Surgeon General Steraberg has received the following in regard to yellow fever, dated Siboney, Friday:

"Only 23 cases; three deaths reported in last 24 hours. General type of disease mild. Camp site moved whenever practicable. Have taken vigorous sanitary precautions to check spread of disease. GREENLEAF."

Gen. Toral Free to Act.

MADRID, July 16.—Premier Sagasta declares that neither government in Cuba has intervened in the negotiations for the surrender of Santiago de Cuba. He adds that the surrender came within the province of Gen. Toral and under his responsibility and the general simply announced that the garrison had capitulated.

Walking Match.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 16.—Dan Gilman, who claims to be the champion speed and endurance pedestrian of the south, and Harry J. Stephens, who claims the same title for the west, will meet in a 24-hour heel-and-toe walk on July 16 and 17. It will close at 4 a. m. July 18. A purse of $150 has been hung up for the contest, which will be held at Lion garden, in this city.

The Pope in Good Health.

ROME, July 16.—In consequence of the persistent and sinister rumors in circulation Dr. Lapponi, the physician of the pope, has issued an emphatic denial of the report that the pontiff is suffering from a paralytic attack. On the contrary, the doctor asserts, his holiness is in good health.

Fear an Attack.

MARSEILLES, July 16.—A number of Barcelona steamers have taken refuge here fearing an American attack on Barcelona.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, July 20, 1898.

Advertising Rates:

One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Hathaway.

July 18—A nice rain fell last Friday night.

Miss Connie Stephens was the guest of Miss Essie Boggess last Wednesday.

Mrs. C. S. Smith was the guest of Mrs. Etta Clements one day the past week.

Mrs. Etta Clements and Mrs. Carrie Rice were the pleasant guests of Mrs. L. M. Stephens last Weduesday.

Miss Mira Craig, of East Bend, was visiting her relations and friends of this place the past week.

Mr. John W. Kelly and family, of Columbus, Indiana, have arrived here for a pleasant visit among his relatives and friends.

The recent dry weather caused stock water in several places to become scarce. We hope we may have plenty of rain from now on.

While mowing hay, one day last week, B. H. Stepheus' machiue struck an obstruction throwing him off and resulting in giving him a few bruises.

North Bend.

July 17.—Loran Kirtley, of Kansas City, is visiting his aunt, Mrs W. O. Kirtley.

Mr. John Duncan called on some of the people in this region, Friday.

C. W. and J. L. Riley were in the neighborhood several days last week.

Mr. Eugene Coleman arrived in this neighborhood, Friday, from St. Louis.

Everyone in this neighborhood is rejoicing because threshing is done for this year.

Ned Buell, of the Custom House, Cincinnati, was visiting G. C. Riley, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Bessie Cropper was welcomed home Monday after a delightful visit in Central Kentucky.

Mr. Fred Youmans, of Covington, has been with the threshing machine and pitched wheat with a will.

Mrs. John Garr and Mrs. Syd Blantenbecker spent the day at Mrs. Hubert Cropper's, one day last week.

Miss Annabel Riley surprised the natives here by stepping in from Dayton, Thursday, for a few days visit.

Miss Bessie Kirtley, of Covington, and Miss Bernice Duncan were at W. P. Cropper's several days last week.

Rev. J. M. Kirtley was visiting his brother and daughter, last Wednesday. Miss Hattie Kirtley returned home with him after a long visit.

If Madam Gossip is not prevaricating there will be two weddings in this quiet neighborhood before suow again wraps a white vail over the country.

Bellevue.

July 18.—Mrs. Hattie Davis, of Louisville, is visiting friends here.

Wheat is bringing from 70 to 71 cents per bushel at the landing.

The wheat here is yielding between 15 and 20 bushels per acre.

M. J. Corbin and D. E. Lawell were in Cincinnati, last Wednesday.

Wheat threshing is the order of the day, and a fair yield is the result.

The Medicine Comedy Company is receiving a liberal patrouage here.

Miss Hattie Moody is spending a few weeks with her father and sisters.

Misses Mame and Grace Rogers are visiting in the Bullittsville neighborhood.

Mrs. Mike Clore is thought to be some better at this writing, but still very poorly.

Mrs. J. J. Huey and children were calling on friends in Burlington, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Corbin harvested the best crop of oats that was in the bottoms, last week.

Miss Annie Schwarts attended the teachers' examinaiion at Union, last Friday aud Saturday.

J. H. Lawell has put up a croquet set in his yard. He believes in enjoying himself and have others do likewise.

Miss Lizzie Bush returned to her home in Missouri, last week, after a visit of several months with relatives at this place.

The entire community was grieved when they learned that our friend, Hon. Reuben Conner, had passed from this world of troubles and affliction into that peaceful abode on high.

Misses Nannie Connelly and Katie Ryle, after a two weeks' visit among relatives and friends, returned to their home in Gallatin county, last Thursday. Miss Ora Ryle accompanied them to spend a few weeks.

Petersburg.

Dr. Grant's office is receiving a coat of paint.

The Salvation Army is due here on the 28th.

Bernard Gordon is down with malarial fever.

Several persons contemplate starting saloons here.

Dr. Weindel will locate at Patriot, Indiana, I hear.

Home grown roasting ears appeared on our market about ten days ago.

Miss Nellie Tafferty, of Louisville, is home on a visit to friends and relatives.

The Medicine Comedy Company did a big business here. It sold every drop of its medicines.

Mr. Myers, of this city, is working for the James & Myers Buggy Company, Lawrenceburg.

The cattle at the distillery were shipped on the 11th, and the distillery was shut down on the 13th.

The dog poisoner is making his semiannual rounds. He got half a dozen dogs a few nights ago.

Harry Bahn has not recovered from the injuries he received in a game of ball at Aurora on decoration day. He uses his crutches yet.

Hear that Mr. Miller, of Lawrenceburg, will start a branch livery stable at this place. We hope he will, and believe it will pay. The town is short on rigs, and very often the demand can not be met.

"Candy" Holmes, of Aurora, a reformed horsethief, burglar, pickpocket, drunkard and gambler, and ex-convict, as he puts it, was on our streets, one night last week, preaching the word of God. I hope he will have an influence for good over men who are following the paths of sin he has deserted.

There came near being a big fire at the distillery on the 9th inst. The soot in the large, iron smoke-stack took fire, and the wind being from the north, blew large chunks of the burning substance into a pile of old lumber. When the threatened conflagration was discovered, about fifty healthy blazes were in progress, some of them being 10 feet high. The bucket brigade responded to the alarm promptly, and soon extinguished what would soon have developed into a disastrous fire.

Limaburg.

Jerry Tanner will build a new kitchen.

Thomas Aylor sold his lambs to F. A. Utz at $4 30 per head.

Hay was put up in good order before the rain. Tobacco looks badly.

Julius Rouse was gladdened on the 13th by the advent of a 10 pound boy.

Last Sunday morning 14 inches of rain fell here. Corn was blown down badly.

John Peno and family, of Constance, are gathering blackberries on W. A. Crigler's farm near here.

Mrs Jackson Barnett, of Antwerp, Ohio, is visiting her brothers, J. W. and S. J. Rouse of this place.

Union.

July 17.—T. A. Huey, of Covington, came out on business, last week.

J. L. Frazier was quite sick one night last week.

Low Taggart has tobacco that will top at 12 leaves.

Harry Cromnel has purchased a new buggy and harness.

Dr. Isaac Wilsou, of Illinois, is the guest of relatives here.

Mrs. Sallie Anderson was visiting in Covington, last week.

Mrs. J. W. Conner's health is in a precarious condition at present.

Mrs. Harry Pettit, of Meutor, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. L. Cleek.

Mrs. J. W. Williams returned from a pleasant visit with relatives in Ohio.

Born, to John Newman and wife, Sunday evening, a 10 pouud boy.

Miss Nannie Burkett was the guest of Mrs. Collins, at Crittenden, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams, of Cincinnati, are guests of J. W. Williams and family.

Marshal Hedges came near having his leg broken by being kicked by a horse recently.

Mrs. Dr. Adams and Miss Herudon, of Walton, were callug on Mrs. L. H. Voshell, Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Corbin has a patriotic American hen that refused to set on eggs laid by Spanish hens.

A large number of people from here attended the funeral of Hon. Reubeu Couner at Richwood, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs Columbus Bristow and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bristow, of Buffalo, were visiting their parents, Sunday.

Columbus Wilson, Esq., of Richwood, in his 80th year, has been stacking wheat this hot weather and is active as a young man of 35.

Robt. McGarvey, one of our most expert hay haulers in this section, had his hip broken while hauling hay for Prof. Voshell, last week. Mr. McGarvey lifts 500 pounds of hay with ease.

The question under consideration by most Kentucky school teachers just now is, "Has Kentucky teachers to the 'manor born' sufficient to teach its schools or must foreign talent have the preference and they take what is left?"

The trustees, patrons, and pupils aud all interested in the Grange Hall school are requested to meet at the school house, Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, to consider arrangements for an entertainment to purchase a dictionary for the school.

In spinning the circle, last week, we had a pleasant ride and chat with our friend, Uncle Frank Smith, who had been to see Willie Tanner who is dangerously sick. He called our mind to the fact that John Surface was lamenting the loss of nice fruit trees.—Ben Surface through harvesting and enjoying a quiet rest.—Ben Floyd preparing to remedy his reidence.—Busby & Kirkpatrick setting $25 worth of tires.—Jno. Crisler raising some more apples with war pictures in them for the "Blade."—Late Aylor having a few fruit trees.—Ben rheumatism, and Mike Holsworth cutting his horses leg off with a self-binder.

Your correspondent was invited to call on the editor of "Mound Field Farm" while in Hebron not long since. One day as the shades of evening were tumbling down from the west, and a catbird sat on the fence near the garden gate, the editor was sitting under a tree, near the well, in his easy chair, sleeping as sound as a bass-drum with a copy of the Union Blade" in one hand and a treatise on scientific farming in the other. His pipe had fallen on the ground near him and a bumble-bee was tickling his ear with a head of Quick's Celebrated Persian Wheat. We remarked that 100 in the shade was warmer than 50, and he snored louder and longer; but never offered to wake up. We decided to look over the place, and seeing our old friend, Jake Lodge, passing, called him in and toured the celebrated "M. F. Farm," which exists in reality and not in imagination, as we supposed. The products of the farm are very peculiar. In one field a rare and expensive variety of rock hammers are growing; in another, we found the choicest variety of brass-bound 2-footrules, try-squares and regular steel-squares in full bloom and ready to harvest; on one lot he had planted a new kind of rock facing hammers and plumb bobs, with dinner horn attachments. Mr. Lodge made a unisonand tread on one of the plumb babs and the results were unexpected and never likely to occur again if the court knows itself. The horn began to toot, first low and soft like, then increased in volume like a steam piano; the facing-hammers faced about and the try-squares tried to get square with the two-foot rules, and finally got bound up by the brass-bound rules, so that with the jingling of hammers and tooting of horns, the editor became aware of his not being dead, and woke up, and the first thing he did was to kill the dog that barked at the chimney that Billy built;" then got his machine gun that kills both calves and cats alike at home and abroad. At this critical moment, ex-Sheriff Dave Beall and Ernest Bros., and Mr. Kidney, the carriage painter, came rushing over to see what was up, and we quickly melted into absence, and the place that knew us but recently knew us no more; "no, not in 14 days."

Walton.

July 18.—Miss Carrie Watson is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Nannie Vest, at Dry Ridge.

Mrs. S. F. Harris is visiting her niece at Hamilton, Ind.

Miss Mabel Edwards and brother, Ralph, are on a visit to Folsom, Grant county. They have their bikes with them.

Steve Ingram is equal to any emergency. He visits a young lady in Covington and makes semi-occasional visits to 2 young ladies here. During the protracted meeting the Covington lady came up on the early train. Steve hired Dieve' hobbiest rig, stowed all three of the charmers within and proceeded to drive to all the grandly picturesque scenes about the old town.

Mr. Joseph Shaw, of Ft. Thomas, the well known manager of the Prague & Matson Co., in accordance with a long established custom of seeing tobacco in the different stages of its growth, was around here for two or three days last week, noting particularly the appearance of the crop. It has improved every day since his appearance in this place, and sickly and languishing boys other than tobacco have been [illegible], the invigorating effects of the [illegible] that have fallen since he came on the stage.

A few weeks ago four young men were making night hideous, yelling and using all sorts of indecent language. They also broke the window in the Ransler warehouse opposite Church street. An investigation was set on foot and it is now almost certain who the parties are. It is in the range of probability that the grand jury may take a hand in looking over the matter, as there was malicious destruction of property involved in their midnight break against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth.

In the passing away of the Hon Reuben Conner our citizeus mourn the loss of as faithful, honest and capable citizen as the county has ever produced. There is the deepest sympathy with the bereaved family which mourns a loving husband, a kind and indulgent father, while the public mourn a faithful friend and an honest and efficient leader.

Saturday evening there was a fatal shooting affair at the saloon of S. S. Mullins in Bracht, a station four miles south of here. Carl Fisk and Mullins had a misunderstanding in regard to 35 cents, when A. R. Mullins, jr., arrived on the scene and taking time to learn the nature of the quarrel he knocked young Fisk over with a club, who commenced firing while lying on the floor, shooting young Mullins in the head and left leg. Mullins left Fisk's brother and knocked him down also. The Fisk boys were arrested at Pinar, on Sunday morning, while on the way to Bracht to see what they had done aud give themselves up.

Verona.

July 18.—Everybody was gladdened by a fine shower last Sunday. It was very much needed.

Russell Hume reports the weather at Chickamauga as hot and rainy.

The crop of tobacco is not a very good stand and is small at present.

Miss Della Roberts has purchased a wheel and is learning to manage it.

A. K. Johnson and wife, of Walton, were the guests of A. C. Roberts and wife, last Sunday.

Mr. Jesse Franks came out from Covington Sunday morning and spent the day with R. O. Powers.

Rev. Crompton, of Georgetown, preached at New Bethel, last Sunday. He is a splendid speaker.

The Christian Endeavor has changed its meeting from Sunday evening to Wednesday night at 7 p. m.

Mrs. J. E. Franks and two daughters, Misses Madge any Maggie, of Covington, were the guests of Mrs. A. C. Roberts and other relations the past week.

Mound Field Farm.
(North Hebron.)

July 18.—Mrs. Carrie Maybrey, of Harrison, Ohio, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Batterson.

Peaches aud cream are on the bill of fare now.

Another good rain will make the second crop of greens.

Bart Aylor can mow, rake and shock more hay in a day than any other man we know of.

Sam Ackemyer was through here Saturday evening selling 17 ounces of beef for a pound.

James M. Utz, with a force of hands, harvested his hay crop oppposite this place, last week.

Mike Clore has purchased a patent double swing in which he recliues after a day's hard work.

Mr. Albert Bradford and wife, of Columbus, Oblo, are visiting his parents, Robt. Bradford and wife.

Henry Quick has an electric hay fork that he uses to pitch hay. It is a caution what loads he can elevate with it.

This vicinity was blessed with one of those old fashioned, root-soaking rains, last Sunday, which was appreciated by all.

Mrs. Ezra Rouse was at the cemetery here, last week, having head and foot marks placed at her husband's and brother's graves.

The followiug persons are authorized to receive and receipt for assessments now due the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Boone county: E. H. Blankenbecker, Florence; John Stephens, Bullittsville; J. W. Conner, Union; Legrand Gaines, Uzzinger; W. M. Rogers, Walton; E. F. Fry, Verona; D. Bedinger & Son, Richwood; Elsworth Carroll, Beaver; J. D. Moore, Big Bone; J. W. Kite, Waterloo; Harry Adams, Hamilton; Wilson & Riddell, Rabbit Hash; J. J. Huey, Bellevue; Chester Davis, Hebron; Gaines Wingate, Petersburg; J. S. Clutterbuck, Burlington. OSCAR GAINES, Secty.

Mrs. Mary Horton, wife of Joe Horton, died at her home in Pattousburg, Missouri, on the 1st inst. Mrs. Horton was the daughter of W. H. Stamper, of McVille, and moved to Missouri several years ago.

NOTICE.—There will be a meeting of the directors of the Burlington Mercantile Company at the law office of S. Gaines, Saturday, July 23, 1898.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Pres.

A man named Mullins was killed in a saloon fight at Bracht, Kenton county, last Saturday. Several persons were in the melee, aud quite a number were wounded. The fellow who did the shooting escaped.

A bridge meeting will be held at Bellevue at 1 o'clock, p. m., next Saturday, which all those interested in the proposed new bridge across Middle creek, near McVille, are luvited to attend.

Dr. W. H. Harris, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Hebron, the first Friday and Saturday; Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

The blackberry picker goeth forth early in the morning. He soon groweth hot and swetteth freely, and about noou he returneth home with a bucket full, of small, knotty berries. Verily the life of the berry picker is short but full of hot work.

One evening last week Stanley Clutterbuck discovered a number 10 wire nail sticking in a hind foot of one of his horses. It had entered the heel near the cork, and ranging upward, came out under the hock. The horse was not lame, and did uot mind having it pulled out.

The Fiscal Court was in session yesterday. E. L. Grant was present aud exhibited to the Court a petitiou containing private subscriptions exceeding in amount $500 towards building the Woolper bridge, and said he had considerable more promised Eruest is a hustler. All the Justices were present.

A certain progressive farmer in this part of the county commenced cutting oats, one day last week, with a binder which was without twine, and cut over a considerable area before he discovered the bundles were not tied. One of his neighbors says he shocked a great many of the bundles before he made the discovery.

Steven Maurer was lodged in jail here, last Weduesday charged with petit larceny, committed by taking coal from the bar belonging to the Chambers place at North Bend. Maurer was captured by Add Riddell, who was acting under orders of constable James T. Grant. Maurer was leaving the bar in a skiff, when Riddell ordered him to come back, which he failed to do as quickly as Riddell thought he ought, when he (Riddell) says he fired his gun in the direction of Maurer to scare him, not intending to hit him, and told him again to return, which he did. Three of the shots took effect in Maurer's left side, and Dr. Smith thiuks one, at least, went into the hollow. Maurer was pretty badly hurt, and was balled out of jail, last Thursday, by his brother, Joseph, of Bellevue, his bond being $100. Maurer says he and Riddell were not over thirty yards apart when the shootiug was done. Riddell says two other men were not far away and he expected them to assist him.

A very interesting game of base ball was played here last Saturday afternoon by the Burlington and Home City, Ohio, clubs, which were pretty well matched at all points. Brady and Hogan, aud Tanner and Wood were the batteries, and the work of each team was splendid. Score:

Burlington.....2 0 0 0 1 1 0 2 *—6
Home City.....0 0 1 0 3 0 0 1 0—5
Hits—Burlington, 4; Home City, 4.

The following is the line-up for the game of ball to be played here next Saturday afternoon:

Burlington.	Position	Petersburg
Hogan	catcher	Theetge,
Clutterbuck,	pitcher	Hoffmau,
Hawes	first base	Kelm,
Maxwell,	second base	Pope,
Slayback,	short stop	Vesenm'r
Brady,	third base	Arnold,
McKim,	left field	Crisler,
Kirk,	center field	McMur'y
Roberts,	right field	Smith.

The Sunday School Union of Boone County, will hold its Annual Convention in Burlington, Thursday, July 21, 1898.

PROGRAM.

Wednesday night, July 20, Sermon by Rev. H. Max Lentz.

Thursday Morning, July 21.

9—9:30 Devotional exercises—B. C. Surface.

9:30—10 How to Promote the Objects of the S. S. Union of Kentucky—E. F. McClasson.

10—10:30 Importauce of Memorizing Scripture in S. S.—Rev. W. K. Dennis.

Proper Observance of the Lord's Day—Rev. W. H. Davis.

Appointment of Committees.

Adjournment for Dinner.

AFTERNOON.

1:30—2 How to Develop Church Love in S. S.—Rev. T. L. Utz.

2—2:30 How to Develop Mission Spirit in S. S.—Rev. G. W. Watkins.

2:30—3 Benefits lost to Church by not attending S. S.—J. C. Revill.

Symposium of what we have learned in this Convention.

Election of Officers.

Adjournment

D. E. CASTLEMAN, Pres.

Mrs. L. N. Hughes, Sec'y.

B. A. Floyd, Chorister.

NOTICE.—Having sold the saw and grist mill that was operated by my father on Gunpowder creek, I desire to close up the business at once, and those owing his estate on account of grinding or sawing or anyother accouut are requested to come forward and settle said accounts without further notice. If anyone has claims against his estate they will present them to me at once.

W. C. WEAVER. Adm'r.

For Sale.

5,000 bushels of Corn at 40 cents per bushel. MICHAEL CLORE,
Bellevue, Ky.

Notice.

My wife, Edna Thetgee, has deserted me, I will not be responsible for any debts she may make in my name.

IRVAN THETGEE.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS
—THE OLD—
RELIABLE GROCER,
UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molases, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

SPRING BEAUTIES!

Is the only description that can be applied to the elegant and complete new stock of goods which I have just received for the making of

Gentlemen's
---Suits and Overcoats.---

Notwithstanding the high quality and cost of these goods, I am prepared to furnish them

Cut and Made to Order.

Strictly first-class, and at the lowest possible prices consistent with good material and workmanship.

Inspection is Invited,

Before you decided on your Spring Clothing, for even if you do not buy it will be a pleasure for me to show you these goods. I am also prepared with a

Nice New Stock

Of all the Latest Fashionable Shapes and Patterns, to .....sell you.....

FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING

Suits and Overcoats, in Boys', Youths & Men's Sizes.

A large lot of Men's and Boys

Ready Made Suits

Being sold at 50 cents on the dollar of the cost of the material.

H. F. BLASE,

535 Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.

GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention,

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.

Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY
WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.

Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN,
SCIENTIFIC
and CLASSICAL.

Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.

Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,

Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.

J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS of ROOFING,
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.

Your Work is Solicited.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
A. E. Gorman's Adm'r., Pltf.
vs.
R. A. Demoisey, &c., Defts.

Notice is hereby given that I will begin my sittings in the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., June 15, 1898, to hear proof of claims in the above styled cause and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 23d day of July, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
John Weindel's Adm'r., Pltf.
vs.
John Weindle, &c., Defts.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he will begin his sittings on the 20th day of June, 1898, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., to hear proof of claims in the above styled cause and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 27th day of July, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C B. C. C.

Local News.

Taxes are being paid very slowly.

The busy season with the farmers will soon be over.

There is a good crop of threshing machines this season.

A. C. Collins will teach at Union this fall and winter.

Perry L. Aylor, of Hebron, has a good jersey bull for sale.

The rain was a good thing for the meadows recently mowed.

The Sunday School Convention will be in session here to-morrow.

J. J. Berkshire and sons threshed 346 bushels of wheat from 14 acres of land.

The rain Sunday morning, was of the advantage to the oats that were in the shock.

Bills are out announcing the annual Keeley picnic for the afternoon of the 30th inst.

The keene cracks of thunder, Sunday morning, made several get a quick move on them.

N. S. Walton, of the Utzinger neighborhood, has four acres of tobacco ready for topping.

Wheat in the north part of the county is turning out about two thirds of what was expected.

The town ought to be pretty well oiled every Monday morning, as it is canvassed by two supply wagons.

There were 19 applicants for teachers' certificates at the examination held in Union last Friday and Saturday.

It looks very much like Boone will be short on all the following crops this year: Corn, hay, oats and tobacco.

The stamp law has little or no effect on the deposits, says F. Riddell, president of the Boone County Deposit Bank.

Elder W. L. Carueil will preach in Burlington at the usual hour next Saturday night. All are invited to attend.

W. J. Rice's boys were in town Monday morning selling out a load of potatoes that was washed upSunday morning.

The Burlington and Petersburg ball teams are "hoss and hoss," and each will be auxious to win next Saturday's game.

The blackberries will be much better than they were before the rain. The hot sun had about cooked them on the bushes.

The annual picnic of the Keeleyites will be held at the Harvest Home Grounds, on the 30th inst. Dancing will begin at 12 m.

Master Fred Bentler has a young coon, which he calls Dewey. The attachment between it and its young master is mutual.

The German citizens of Cincinnati say they are for America, right or wrong. That kind of patriotism can be counted on every time.

The iron roof on the Boone House leaked like a selve, Sunday morning, and there is talk of having the beifrey taken off to remedy the trouble. Nit.

James Clore came from Bellevue, Monday about noon, with two large loads of coal. It was difficult to say which was the hotter, Jim or his team.

Louis Terrill's peach orchards on the Boone county hills present a fine appearance to citizens of Lawrenceburg and river travelers.—Lawrenceburg Press.

Threshing machines are receiving hurry-up orders now. Those who have not threshed are getting in a hurry. Much wheat is yet in the shock awaiting machines.

A shower of rain about night, last Friday, revived vegetation considerably, but the excessive heat of the day following prevented as much benefit as otherwise would have resulted.

The light hay crop was harvested and saved in good condition, while some crops of oats were pretty well soaked by Sunday's heavy down-pour, and, consequently, injured some.

The Sunday school at this place has received an invitation from the Hebron Sunday school to attend and participate in its annual celebration at the Harvest Home grounds on Saturday, August 13

Sandford Tuthill will probably succeed Archie Shaw as chairman of the Republican county central committee —as the latter gentleman will soon assume the duties as postmaster in this city.—Lawrenceburg Register.

The large barn of P. G. Lostutter, near Carrollton, was destroyed by fire, together with six fine horses and other property, one night last week. Several of the horses were being driven on the Lostutter track. The buildiug was valued at $2,000.

On the 15th of June a letter was mailed to one of the soldier boys at Chickamauga, where it remained in the post-office at Lytle, until July 15th, when it was returned. It was thought strange that no answer came, but the reason is not apparent.

The person who wrote up the killing at Bracht, last Saturday, for the Enquirer, was off in his geography. Bracht is in Kenton and not in Boone county. Boone has enough of such occurreuces to account for without having those of her neighbors charged to her.

The large increase in many of the premiums to be given at the fair this fall is appreciated by the public, and the liberality of the Association will be rewarded by a tremendous attendance. The directors will leave nothing undone that will contribute to the success of the fair.

The examining trial of James W. Aylor for the killing of Bert Roberts, at Big Bone Springs, on the 4th inst., was held by Esq. M. B. Green, here last Thursday. County Judge Roberts declined to sit in the case because of his relationship to the young man who was killed, and Esq. Clinton Gaines, the nearest Justice of the Peace, also declined to sit. The Commonwealth was represented by County Attorney Lassing, and the defendant, by D. E. Castleman.

About fifteen witnesses were sworn on each side, and the entire day was devoted to the investigation.

Having heard the evidence and the arguments of the attorneys, the court fixed Aylor's bond at $500, which he gave and was released from custody of the Sheriff to whom he surrendered that morning.

The evidence as it appears from the minutes of the clerk of the examiuing trial is as follows:

Geo. Baker—The first I saw was a rock flying in the air; saw Aylor throw up his hand; don't think it possible for the club to have struck him. Aylor shot twice at Roberts; they were 15 feet apart. Roberts was standing still at first shot; Aylor may have advanced one step; Roberts did not advance. Witness was 25 steps away. Heard no words; did not kuow who threw the club. Never said that Roberts was shot in back of the head.

Lafe Horton—Saw the trouble. Aylor said, "Bert, dldn't you say you would behave?" Roberts said, "You son of a b—h, I will kill you," and he and Aylor each put their hand behind them, but neither drew auything. Roberts was backing and picked up a club and flung it around at Aylor, who drew his pistol and fired twice, the first shot missing. They were 10 or 12 feet apart. Did not see Bert advauce on Jim. Bert told Aylor if he followed him he would kill him. Bert said he was going out and he could not arrest him. He was going from Aylor, who followed him 60 or 70 yards. I could see plainly. The first shot inlsed Robarts—the second him belo w the eye and was fata.

Nothing new was brought out on cross-examination except that the club was as large as wituesse's two thumbs, and that Bert was pretty full.

Ben Miller—Saw Aylor go to stop the Roberts and Ryan trouble. Bert walked around the crowd and pulled his knife. Jim told him to put it up. Jim put his hand behind him and followed Bert, who was backing, and said Jim was not going to arrest him. Jim never said that he was. Bert backed 7 or 8 steps; Jim was closer Bert said, "don't come any further or I will kill you. Bert picked up and threw club, and Jim drew pistol and shot. Bert stepped back and second shot was fired. They were 20 feet apart when club was thrown. Roberts did not advance at any time towards Jim. After Aylor shot Bert he walked up and looked at him. I conid not hear what he said. He then went to the pike.

Cross-examined—Jim went after Ryan then after Bert. Bert drew his knife and swore he was not afraid of auy man. Aylor stepped up to him and asked him if he remembered what he had told him awhile ago; he must not raise any racket; didn't see him put his hand behind him. Heard Bert say once, "you g—d d—n s—u b—h, you can't arrest me." Roberts was backing more towards the gate than towards the dance hall; he had his knife in his hand when he threw club. When Aylor fired first shot he took one or two steps forward and fired the second.

Re-direct—Jim said I will arrest you if I want to. Jim had a drink and Bert was staggering drunk.

Re-cross—Jim told him a dozen times to put up his knife, and keep quiet—Jim never did say "I am going to arrest you."

Geo. Black—Saw Jim go down to barn where the trouble was; heard Bert say, "g—d d—n you, don't you put your hands on me. Bert ran his hand in his hip pocket. Saw the club thrown; it did not hit Jim. They were 10 or 15 feet apart when first shot was fired and Jim rushed towards Bert; about same distance apart when last shot was fired. I was 20 or 25 feet from them. Saw no pistol when Roberts was laid out. Never heard him use the words g—d d—n s—h. Bert did not advance only when he threw the club.

Cross-examined—Bert threw his right hand behind him when he threw the club. He had a knife. The club was 3½ feet long. It missed Jim.

Geo. Miller—Corroborates other witnesses as to Roberts walking backwards and the distance Aylor followed him; also as to distance they were apart. Helped lay Roberts out, and found barlow knife, but no pistol. Witness said club was 3 feet long and nearly as big as his wrist.

Ab Slater's evidence was mostly corroborative of the other witnesses, except he saw Bert put his hand in his pocket twice. He never advanced on Aylor and said, "Stand back, you g—d d—n s—h, I will kill you." Saw shooting as other witnesses saw it. It was done rapidly.

Geo. Smith, Jno. Anderson and Wm. Slayback corroborated the other witnesses on important points.

Ben Stewart—Was thirty feet away, heard Bert say, "Jim, you don't want to arrest me," and Jim said, "No, by g—d I aint going to arrest you." Roberts picked up a club and kinder pitched it at Jim. Saw the two shots fired. When second shot was fired Jim rested his right elbow in his left hand and took deliberate aim. Did not hear Bert swear.

J. M. Baker heard the talking but did not understand what was said. Described throwing of club and the shooting about as all but last witness saw it.

Here the Commonwealth rested.

The defendant was put on the stand and testified as follows:

Squire McLaughlin and Wood Miller had both asked me to be there that day; Miller told me if they got into any trouble he wanted me to arrest them. I got the pistol at noon. Wood Miller told me they were having trouble, and I went to the stable where they were. Bert had knife out and said, "no g—d d—n s—h can put their hands on me." He said he would put up his knife. We were going to the picnic floor, and we met some parties and Bert went with them. I went on. After a bit I heard someone say fight—saw Ryan and Bert; I shoved them apart—I said take them out. Bert said, "no g—d d—n s—h can put his hands on me. I said I will arrest you; he said "staud back," and said if I laid my hands on him he would kill me. When he backed into slnk he said if I followed him any further he would kill me. He picked up club and threw it; it struck me across the breast and flew over my shoulder. I drew pistol and shot as quick as I could; he was 10 or 12 feet away when he threw the club; he made a step when he threw; he was not staggering drunk; told him I would arrest him. He called me g—d d—n s—n b—h several times and said that I nor no other man could put their hands on him; I was 10 feet away at first shot; did not call any one to assist me to arrest Bert. Saw Bert's trouble with Vince Ross at the Lick; was with him once when he was drunk.

Lafe Presser—Saw Roberts backing and threateuing to kill Aylor; the club was thown with vengeance; did not hear Aylor say anything; Aylor was not present when difficulty on dancing platform occurred; Roberts kept slashing his knife. This witness agrees with the others on distances.

Ed Williams—Saw two fusses that day; first at platform; saw Roberts taken off. The last difficulty took place at the barn; heard Roberts cursiug and saying Jim could not arrest him. Don't think club hit Aylor; when Bert picked up club he said, "you d—n s—n b—h you cauuot arrest me," and threw. Jim advanced one step to shoot and one after he fired one shot. Roberts looked like he was very drunk; second fuss began ½ or ¾ of an hour after Roberts was taken from platform.

M. C. Carroll—Roberts stumbled against club, picked it up, and threw it and it hit Aylor; it was thrown hard. I was 100 feet away. Witness agreed with others as to distances.

John Conuelly—Did not think club struck Aylor; the trouble was half an hour after that at platform. Saw Roberts backing and heard cursing and threatening to kill Aylor. Corroborated other witnesses as to shootiug, &c.

Henry Sheets—Saw and heard about same as defendant's other witnesses. Says the club was 4 feet long, hard and solid. Heard Aylor tell Roberts to get out; did not hear the word arrest at any time.

W. R. Miller—Had control of the grounds; asked Aylor to be present to keep order. First I heard was Jim say, "Bert, I must arrest you." Bert said, "No you wont, nor no other d—n man can. Bert had his knife in his hand. I told them I had an officer on the ground. My son did not complain about Bert disturbing anything. Jim did not use any bad language at any time. Jim said several times, "hold on I want to talk to you," and Bert said, "don't you lay your hands on me or I will kill you." Jim dodged the club and shot.

Lute Baker—Was 40 or 50 feet from shooting; shots were fired in quick succession; don't know whether he rested his arm on his other hand or not.

Sandy Finnell saw and heard about same as other witnesses. Thinks club hit Jim across the breast and passed over him.

James Allen—Saw mark across Jim's breast about 6 or 7 o'clock that evening; he said how he got it; it started on right side and ran to left shoulder.

James W. Aylor recalled—The mark was made by the stick when it struck me, and stayed there three or four days.

Commonwealtn admitted that Aylor is a Constable.

Aylor testified that to satisfy Roberts he pretended to drink out of his bottle once that day.

County Court.

The following business has been transacted by the County Court since its last regular term:

Armiuta Conrad's claim of $43 70 against the assigned estate of W. H. Smith was allowed and the assignee ordered to pay same.

Mary Ryan qualified as executrix of the will of her husband, Michael Ryan.

John Peno moved court to appoint him guardian for Pearl M. Reeves, to which appointment there were objections. The court heard and sustained the objections and refused to make said appointment, and Peno excepted to the ruiug of the court. Geo. W. Reeves moved the court to appoint him guardian of Pearl M. Reeves, and there were objections and the court took time.

J. G. Conlin presented commission from the Governor, appointing him notary public, and qualified and executed bond as notary public for Boone county.

A washing rain fell here Sunday morning, doing considerable damage to the hand. There was wind enough with it to lay the corn flat on the ground. The thunder was very heavy, and the indications are that lightuiug struck the rod on Mrs. Julia Clore's residence. It is a Chambers rod. In the yard at Tom Strader's, colored, who lives on Richard Utz's farm, lightning struck a tree from a limb of which there was suspended a trace chain swing which was cut into 50 pieces. Near O. W. Gaines' a stack of hay was struck and burut.

The Masouic Lodge at Union is doiug considerable work. Last Saturday Ben Norman was given the E. A. and J. S. Houston the M. M. degree. After the work was concluded Saturday night the inner man was regaled by a bountiful lunch that had been prepared by the good wives of the members. Erlanger, Bellevue and Burlington lodges were represeuted.

About 20 members of the Odd-Fellows' lodge at McVille, visited the Florence lodge, Saturday night, where there team conferred the second degree on two candidates. After the work was done refreshments were served, and that night's meeting, taken as a whole, was interesting as any in the long history of Venus lodge.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Tommie Hogan was home, last Saturday.

J. J. Huey, of Bellevue was in town Sunday.

Atty. Ome Rogers was calling in Burlington, Sunday evening.

Mr. Oscar Gaines was the first to put peaches on the market.

Charlie Finch writes back that he is still in love with army life.

Arthur Rouse is attending the Fraternity Convention in Cincinnati.

John Calvert, of Kansas, was the guest of Henry Phipps and family, last week.

Judge Ben Crisler, of Petersburg, and his father, H. P. Crisler, were in town Monday.

Perry L. Aylor, of the Hebron neighborhood, was among the visitors to town Monday.

A Mr. Ellis, of Indianapolis, Ind., has been registered at the Boone House for several days.

Rev. Lentz will preach at the Baptist church this (Wednesday) evening at the usual hour.

Ezekiel Rice was in town, Friday. He has been suffering greatly with a felon on his finger.

Miss Martha Lassing, of the Union neighborhood, has been a guest at her brothers several days.

C. W. Riddell, of Williamstown, was visiting his sister, Mrs. T. W. Finch, last Saturday and Sunday.

L. P. Rice and wife, of the Utzinger neighborhood, were visiting in Belleveu, last Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Hoover left, Monday afternoon, for Richmond, Va., to visit Mrs. Hoover's father, who is very ill.

Mrs L. H. Dills, who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith and Mr. and Mrs H. W. Blythe, last week, returned home Sunday.

Mr. Warren C. Graves, of Scott co., was in town, last Friday. Mr. Graves is one of the most successful business men in the Blue Grass section.

Miss Ella Duncan has just completed a neatly type written transcript of about 250 pages for the Court of Appeals in the case Vinnege vs. O'Kane.

O. W. Gaines, of Bullittsville, was in town Monday, riding a young horse, and it was suggested that he was practicing preparatory to enlisting as a rough rider.

B. F. McGlasson, of the Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, was in town Saturday morning and reported a good rain in that neighborhood on the afternoon of the day before.

Miss Ella Duncan has purchased a nice and very convenient desk for her type writer, and put in her office. When not using her machine the desk can be used for writing purposes.

Mr. Frank Bowles, of Harrison, Ohlo, was the guest of Marce Riddell, Monday night. He was starting on a horseback tour of the Blue Grass section of this State, and was riding Keeley, the premium saddle horse that use to belong to Marce.

Prof. Fred Newmans, of Cincinnati, in company with C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville, made us a pleasant visit, last Friday morning. The Professor is taking his annual vacation, and is spending his time with his friends in the Bullittsville neighborhood.

Rankin Revill and his friend, Mr. K. C. Kurr, a Commercial-Tribune reporter, spent last Sunday with J. C. Revill and family. The Kentucky Post, in declaring that Judge Tarvin had broken all records in disposing of business, says, "the dispatch of business in the Circuit Court is partly due the service rendered by Court Clerk Revill."

R. K. McManama, of Big Bone, was in town one day last week. He was telling some of the boys about his visit to the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, Ohio, and to convey to them some idea of the immense quantity of provisions required for the institution he said, at a single meal, 1,100 bushels of raspberries were consumed, while he was there. The boys concluded from this that the raspberry crop was not a failure in Ohio, and that there are over 70,000 soldiers at the home.

According to last reports no killing occurred on the Big Bone bar, last Friday.

A spreading adder was killed under the door step at the hotel, last Thursday. Several of those ugly reptiles have been killed here in town in the last few years.

Mrs. William Brown, of South Fork, attempted suicide, last Saturday, by taking carbolic acid. She is still alive, but not expected to recover. Cause not given.

It is told on W. C. Goodridge, who had three stack yards, that he became so excited over the fine yield at two of the yards that he forgot the third and let the machine leave without threshing it.

The fiscal court was in session only a few hours yesterday.

The Teachers' Institute will be held at Walton, commencing August 8th.

FALL OF HAVANA MAY SOON OCCUR.

The Prices of W. M. RACHAL & CO., Fell Long Ago.

Granulated Sugar (limited) 18 Pounds.....$1 00
Enterprise Coffee per pound..... 10
White Lead, Paints, Oil and Varnishes at the
LOWEST CASH PRICES.

Ladies Fine Shoes, per pair.....$ 75c
Men's Grain Plow Shoes..... 1 50
Men's Good Working Shirts..... 25c
We will sell you WIRE SCREEN, BINDER TWINE, ETC. at LOWEST CASH PRICES.

UNION, - - - - - - - - KENTUCKY.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

DEALER IN

DRY GOODS

Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,

At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,

The Deering Harvesters,

Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,

BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,

UNDER-

-EMBAL-

TAKER

-MER,

Corner Pike & Russell Streets,

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S·PILE·CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says: "After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voiuntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES·PILES

Take Your County Paper.

—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

THE DUTY OF VOTERS

John P. Altgeld to the Democrats of State and Nation.

Financial and Industrial Freedom Depend Upon the Energy of Democratic Workers—No Time to Waste.

At the Illinois democratic state convention held in Springfield, July 12, ex-Gov. John P. Altgeld spoke as follows:

"Why have we gathered here? What is the meaning of this large assembly? Is it merely a gathering for spoils, or is there a lofty purpose behind it? Does the fact that this is a convention of the democracy of Illinois—that you are delegates representing half a million free men—that you have left your affairs and traveled to this city to attend to the business of that great party.

"But what does that party stand for? What has it done that entitles it to be called great? What is its mission? Has it any purpose now that is worthy of an honorable ambition? Has it undertaken to do any great thing for humanity and for the public? If so, what qualifications does it possess for that work?

"Government is a serious business, which directly affects the happiness or misery of a people.

"All forward movements require a struggle. Every forward step by the human race has been made red with human blood.

All Men Created Equal.

"Two centuries ago the world made its great struggle for freedom of religion and freedom of thought; a century ago it made its struggle for political freedom and for freedom of speech, and proclaimed the great principle that all men are created equal, and that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed as expressed by the majority.

"We have moved a century forward and the world is again ripe for a mighty onward stride.

"It is now demanding financial and industrial freedom with all its might. Such a change which these conditions must bring. A crisis is again nearing; and in a crisis neutral men, policy men, trimmers, traders and tricksters become conspicuous.

"The American people have been paying at the national debt which the war created for 33 years, and yet such have been the industrial and financial policies of the republican party that to-day it will take nearly twice as much of American products, nearly twice as much of American labor, to pay what is left of that debt as would have been necessary to pay it all at the conclusion of the war.

"This is only a sample of all of the acts of that party. Although we were a mighty producing as well as debtor nation, and were therefore interested in keeping up the price of property, and in keeping steady the exchange value of money, the republican party, controlled by foreign influence, legislated in the interests of the few and struck down the value of American property and American products by nearly one-half, thus practically doubling the amount of labor and sweat that was required to pay a dollar of debt.

Mortgages Property of Others.

"It is the great mortgaging party of the century. It mortgages the property made by the toil of others; it mortgages the inheritance of the American people, and not content with this it has reached out and mortgaged the generations yet to come—generations whose fathers are yet unborn, generations whose bread will be shortened to pay mortgages created by this political party. And the vast sums of money thus raised at the expense of the coming toilers of the earth have been spent in riotous living and in the enrichment of manipulators and corruptionists.

"The civil war brought not only an eclipse for the democratic party, but it brought a change of character. From being the powerful champion of the human race it was reduced to the humiliating condition of being a convenience for men who knew not Jefferson, who cared not for humanity, and who knew government of personal enrichment. Owing to its error, therefore, and after the war great concentration of capital, and there were first formed great corporations, but subsequently the combined and formed trusts and wiped out competition.

"The corporations soon discovered that by controlling the government and the politics vast fortunes could be rapidly drawn from the pockets of the American people.

"And there came forth in the east shrewd manipulators, who controlled both of the great political parties and prostituted both to their base purposes.

Party Robbed of Its Mission.

"These men got control of the democratic party and made it a spoilsman's convenience. Our party was robbed of its mission; it was robbed of a voice in human affairs; it straddled everything and concentrated on nothing.

"In 1896 there was a new battle cry, and the scattered and discouraged democracy rallied and held the greatest assembly of freemen that ever met on this continent. The party cast off the parasites.

"It took the dunderheads which had long ridden it and fed it only on false pretenses. It flung new banners to the breezes. Then it went forth and fought the most gigantic battle ever fought.

"Its great leader lifted the issue on to high intellectual and moral planes, and made a campaign that was without parallel in history, and the party which only a few months before was considered dead polled 1,000,000 more votes for president than ever before were cast for a democratic candidate.

"When that convention adjourned we suddenly discovered that all the corporations of this country had combined against the people, and, what was remarkable, all of those men who had established reputations as corruptionists and debauchers of public sentiment were considered as great high priests of national honor.

"Wherever 20 scoundrels were gathered 20 shouted for McKinley, and the twentieth declared he could not stand 16 to 1.

"All of the money that could be raised on two continents was used for the purpose of debauching the American people.

Fight with Democracy.

"Yet as the campaign progressed so great was the enthusiasm, so powerful the demonstration of the intelligent Americans in our favor, that it was apparent that a majority of them were with us.

"Especially was this the case in the strictly American communities. It was in communities having a large purchasable vote and a large ignorant foreign vote that the republicans made their gains.

"When the election returns came they were against us. The reports from the polls show that the republican party had been supported, first, by the negroes; secondly, by the very ignorant foreign vote, which could be controlled by bosses; third, that all of the purchased votes were given to that ticket, for there was no fund on the other side; fourthly, that all the fraudulent voting had been done in favor of that party; fifthly, that every laboring man that could possibly be coerced or frightened by his employer had voted that ticket; sixth, that the entire hanging-on class, which had forever clung to the skirts of wealth, had voted for that party.

"But even if it appeared that 30,000 more votes properly distributed would have changed the result.

"When the facts came more completely to light, then it appeared that gigantic frauds and crimes against the ballot had been committed.

"For example, Mr. Cleveland had carried Kentucky in 1892 by 40,000 majority. In 1896 our candidate for the presidency received nearly 50,000 more votes than Mr. Cleveland received, yet the state counted for McKinley. Mr. Cleveland carried Indiana by 7,000. Our candidate in 1896 received 43,000 more votes than did Cleveland, yet the state was counted for McKinley.

Ohio's Remarkable Vote.

"In Ohio there were apparently 90,000 more votes returned than they had male inhabitants over 21 years of age. A year later, in 1897, in the senatorial contest in that state the campaign was one of the most intense ever held, and there had been one year's increase of population, yet there were 150,000 fewer votes polled than had been returned in 1896 in that state. And the same conditions were found to exist in some of the other states, which made it conclusive that had there been honest counting the results would have been different.

"In this city of Springfield, prior to the election, there was such a large registration as to lead to the conviction that fraud was contemplated, yet in the second precinct of the First ward there were on election day 182 men sworn in whose names had not even been registered. These men were nearly all negroes. Nobody knew anything about them. Their votes were challenged, but the republican election officials simply laughed at the challengers and accepted the votes of these strangers.

"As many other precincts polled voted in the city I do not know. When the election was over they disappeared. Six months after the election there was a census made of the population of the city, and it was found that they lacked 1,800 of having as many legal voters as there had been votes returned at the previous election.

Many Evidences Confirmed.

"From nearly all sections of the state came reports showing that every conceivable method of fraud had been practiced at the polls. In Chicago alone there were upward of 70,000 votes returned which were never legally cast. No honest man can examine the reports of that election without being convinced that our candidate for the presidency was elected, and that by a large majority.

"A practice has grown up in Chicago and in counties where republicans control the selection of grand juries and the prosecuting machinery of bribing election officials in certain precincts and promising protection against prosecution, and thus getting false counts by which certain candidates are given from 20 to 100 votes that were not legally cast.

"Also in over 3,000 precincts in the state, and when this method is added to the other methods of fraud it is in the power of criminals who are supplied with sufficient money to defeat the people at the polls.

"I am making no complaint. We have accepted the result, and I refer to it only to these things only for the purpose of showing you where the danger lies in the future. I am satisfied Mark Hanna can never again raise the amount of corruption funds that he did two years ago.

Trusts to Be Reckoned With.

"I am satisfied they can never again so extensively and so thoroughly debauch the people and secure false reports as they did then. But the great trusts are still fattening off the country by governmental aid will try to carry elections in the future by the same methods which they carried the election of 1896, and we must be prepared to meet them or the election will be a farce.

"In 1892 I had the honor of conducting a campaign in this state and I told our people not to try to make a single convert, but to devote every energy to getting the existing sentiment crystallized into the box where it could be counted.

"And I want to say to you, do not waste any time in efforts to make converts to our side. More than 85 per cent of the people are opposed to the gold standard now. Direct all your energies and all your efforts to get that sentiment which now exists crystallized into the ballot box; direct all your energies toward securing a fair election and an honest count.

"If you can accomplish this, if you can prevent fraud and secure for every man an opportunity to vote his convictions we will carry this state by a large majority.

"But, my friends, this is no small task. Money will be used in no small way to defeat the right. You must not rely solely upon your committees. It is too large a task for them to do alone. Besides, they are frequently tampered with.

Each Democrat Has a Duty.

"Every democrat must feel that it is his duty to find out who the legal voters are in his neighborhood and make the necessary preparations to prevent scoundrels who attempts to commit crime at the polls, whether he be an election official or whether he be a wretch who casts his vote for a sum of money.

"A manila rope long enough to stretch from Cairo to Chicago, with firm hands enough on it to hang every dishonest election official and every fraudulent voter, will carry this state.

"The country is becoming weary of the hypocrisy which surrounds the McKinley administration, weary of the cant which has made the term 'Christian gentleman' a by-word and a reproach among honorable men. The country is getting sick of that pretense which would have us believe that the Almighty was a partner with Mark Hanna in debauching the legislature of Ohio.

"Those men who were coerced into voting the republican ticket in 1896 on the promise of prosperity have discovered that they were betrayed. Only those men who endure the substance of others are prospering. The great toiling masses of the country are in distress. Their press, newspapers and public speakers are afraid to longer insist that you are prospering; they insist that the republican party has made good its promises.

"Well, now, friends, we will have no argument over that question. We will take them at their word; let us assume that they are right, and that they expected to deliver, and all that they can deliver on that question is simply: 'Are you satisfied with the goods?'

"And I will say to all who are satisfied with the existing conditions: 'Go, vote the republican ticket.'

"On the other hand it is the duty of all those who feel that the prosperity which was promised to the great laboring and producing people of this country has not come to vote the democratic ticket, because we have seen all that the republicans can deliver, we have seen all that can be expected from that party.

Accident Aids Republicans.

"In fact, it has had the benefit of accidents. The failure of crops upon three continents, which raised the price of wheat, the loss of over 60,000,000 head of sheep in Australia and other countries, which raised the price of wool, are not signs of returning prosperity to the farmers and wool raisers.

"They have no connection with the republican platforms or politics in any way.

"Now, my fellow citizens, we are engaged in a war, a war almost as holy as that which we fought for our own independence. This is a war for humanity. The democratic party, true to its mission of espousing the cause of the oppressed, forced the present administration to take this step.

"It is our war, a democratic war, and it will add not only to the glory of our country, but to the mighty achievements of the democratic party.

"By taking this step the party will add luster to the close of this century, as it did to the beginning. The fact that it may be prostituted by the present administration for selfish and corrupt purposes cannot be helped. Even if it should succeed, by means of this war, in escaping the immediate and angry condemnation of our people, it does not matter.

"To serve mankind is the highest mission known. Our army and our navy have shown a heroism that makes every loyal heart swell with pride, and we send them our congratulations."

At this point Mr. Altgeld took up state affairs, upon which he dwelt at some length in part saying:

Dollar No Longer the God.

"The only god we have had for a number of years has been the dollar. There was a glamour and a glitter about this which caught the young. Our people are just beginning to realize that fortunes corruptly made not only do not done and disappear, but that they rot down the men and the families that have them; that God's moral law is immutable and as directly effective as are his physical laws; that fortunes tainted with injustice in the end will destroy the men who have them, and not only this, but will destroy their families. A moral leprosy will rot them down. Our people are beginning to more clearly realize that tainted dollars soil the fingers and give a poison to the blood which first intoxicates and makes a demonstration in the way of extravagance and high living, but which soon produces a relapse, and then shoves the victim into a premature and dishonorable grave.

"But while we may have the deepest sympathy for young men who may thus destroy their usefulness, we must not jeopardize unduly the honor of the mighty democratic party in order to do a personal favor to one of these gentlemen.

"I am told that there are a few districts in the state in which these gentlemen, with the aid of a few local bosses, local machines and local leaders, can force themselves upon the ticket in minority districts, and thus defy the great party of the state and secure an election, as they imagine, because there is no opposition.

"Gentlemen, the interests of the half million democrats of this state are greater than those of any individual, and while it is our duty—that is—that I cannot govern, that democrats shall support their ticket when it is put up according to democratic methods, it is also a fundamental principle of democracy that a majority shall have a voice in selecting candidates, and wherever they are deprived of a fair opportunity to express that choice, there the nomination is not a democratic nomination.

Cannot Elect Criminals.

"And it is another fundamental principle of democracy that no party can compel a man to support a criminal for office.

"I do not for one moment dispute the fact that if the democrats of any legislative district want to elect a boodler to the legislature it is their privilege to do it, but they must not be compelled to do it. Democrats will submit to having a representative who is not their choice. The law has provided in every case that where the voters of a party are not satisfied with the nomination that has been made they can put up another candidate by petition, and I want every democrat in this state to hear me when I say that in no case shall a boodler, a man who is regarded by the public as a boodler forces himself upon the ticket, through machinery or trickery, there the democrats must be given an opportunity to say at the polls whether they want him or whether they do not want him.

"And in every case where I object it is the duty of men who want to perpetuate free institutions, who want to save the foundations of liberty, who want government to be something more than a machine to rob the people, it is the duty, I say of all such men to see to it that this boodlerism is brought to an end.

"Two years ago in forming our lines we threw off the parasites and the deadheads, and the more we threw off of this element the more vigorous and powerful we became. We have a little poison in our blood yet.

"The poison of boodleism, which will give us rheumatic knees and neuralgic elbows if we do not cast it out.

"This poison, when you examine it, is a good standard poison. The whole horde of boodlers at present advocate the gold standard or secretly favor it, for the same source from which the spoils come. The men fighting for the cause of silver get stronger every day, and not a drop of this gold standard poison is cast out.

Plenty of Senatorial Timber.

"Men who have come to me and said 'Governor, you would better not say so much about these boodlers lest you injure your chances of going to the United States senate.' Well, now, in the first place, it is hard to injure chances that do not exist. In the second place, to not be uneasy about the senatorship. There are plenty of able men to choose from when the time comes.

"We have democrats in Chicago, we have democrats all over the state from Cairo to Wisconsin, any one of whom would honor the party and honor the state in the United States senate.

"Every democrat should have not a democrat in this great state who would be willing to go to Washington with a certificate in his pocket that would send him to the penitentiary.

"Give the republicans a monopoly of that business. Boodleism in a crime, conniving at it and thus making its success possible is conniving at crime, and any man who is a man a party to that crime, and fits him for a prison rather than for a toga.

"But I want to say more: I would rather have it chiseled upon my tombstone that I helped to break up boodleism in Illinois, than to have it said: 'He served 50 years in the United States senate.' Let me add another word here: Often-times the best and most valuable man in a community, a man of many years been a manly, like money-getting, and it has lowered character.

"It has weakened manhood, it has created an army of neutral men, of trimmers, of straddlers and of tricksters, an army of men who are incapable of doing anything great for themselves or for any who have become a curse to this republic.

"Nothing in the end makes a man look more contemptible or will more certainly win him the scorn of mankind than to hold high office and be too weak or too corrupt to meet the highest demands of his country.

"You need not go far to look for examples. You will admit that while there are some men of honor and ability in the senate, it is not an especial honor to sit in a body in which Mark Hanna can buy a seat, and it is not an especial honor to sit in a body that has a host of members who refuse to step ladders to get into any chair that was made for either an honest man or for a statesman.

"We are entering upon a new era; we are entering upon it only as we have entered upon all other great epochs in history, but upon a new time, the human race is about to make another march forward.

"The great principles we fought for two years ago are already triumphant, and they will be a mighty struggle, but do not forget that the cause of humanity has always triumphed in the end. But we must be in earnest.

"At every step in the great career of the democratic party through the first half of this century it was in earnest, it had a grand, definite purpose, and I want to tell you now that the men who are to lead the great hosts of democracy for the next decade must be in earnest.

"They must have the souls of heroes and the spirit of martyrs. And that army which the Almighty has chosen to fight his battles and to conduct the great reason of to-day from the Platte river to the white house must be in earnest and it must have no rheumatic joints, it must have no boodle poison in its blood."

We are almost constrained to say farewell to the freckle. The girls declare it must go. The pretty little dots left by the kisses of the sun have been hunted from pillar to post through many a long campaign, often successfully, but the time and the most obstinate of them seems to be perilously near. The girls are going to think them off. It is the latest discovery of occultism, and it will be brought into service in summer resorts, we are told. Those afflicted will form "circles" and sit around and think, and by dint of taking thought they expect to improve complexions.

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON.

Mistakes for Mortals to Wish to Live Their Lives Over Again.

They Might Do Worse Instead of Better—Satan Would Know the Path They Traveled Before, and Could Adroitly Lay Pitfalls.

The text of Dr. Talmage Sunday was: Job ii., 4: "All that a man hath will he give for his life." That is untrue. The Lord did not say it, but Satan said it to the Lord when the evil one wanted Job still more afflicted. The record is: "So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord and smote Job with sore boils." And Satan has been the author of all eruptive disease since then, and he hopes by poisoning the blood to poison the soul. But the result of the diabolical experiment which left Job victor proved the falsity of the Satanic remark: "All that a man hath will he give for his life." Many a captain who has stood on the bridge of the steamer till his passengers got off and he drowned; many an engineer who has kept his hand on the throttle valve or his foot on the brake, until the most of the train was saved, while he went down to death through the open drawbridge; many a fireman who plunged into a blazing house to get a sleeping child out, the fireman scarifying his life in the attempt, and the thousands of martyrs who have submitted to fiery stake and knife of massacre and headman's ax and guillotine rather than surrender principle, proving that in many a case my text was not true when it says: "All that a man hath will he give for his life."

But Satan's falsehood was built on a truth. Life is very precious, and if we would not give up all, there are many things we would surrender rather than surrender it. We see how paradoxical is from the fact that we do everything to prolong it. Hence all sanitary regulations, all study of hygiene, all fear of draughts, all waterproofs, all doctors, all medicines, all struggling in crisis or accident. An admiral of the British navy was court martialed for turning his ship around in time of danger and so damaging the ship. It was proved against him. But when his time came to be heard he said:

"Gentlemen, I did turn the ship around, and admit that it was damaged, but do you want to know why I turned it? There was a man overboard, and I wanted to save him. and I did save him, and I consider the life of one sailor worth all the vessels of the British navy." No wonder he was vindicated. Life is indeed very precious. Yea, there are those who deem life so precious they would like to repeat it; they would like to try it over again. They would like to go back from 70 to 60, from 60 to 50, from 50 to 40, from 40 to 30, and from 30 to 20. I propose for very practical and useful purposes, as will appear before I get through, to discuss the question I have asked of others, and others have again and again asked of us. Would you like to live your life over again?

The fact that no intelligent and right-feeling man is satisfied with his past life. However successful your life may have been, you are not satisfied with it. What is success? Ask that question of a hundred different men and they will give a hundred different answers. One man will say, "Success is a million dollars;" another will say, "Success is world-wide publicity;" another will say, "Success is gaining that which you started for." But as for me, in a new country I give my own definition and say, "Success is fulfilling the particular mission upon which you were sent, whether to write a constitution or invent a new style of wheelbarrow or take care of a sick child." Do what God calls you to do, and you are a success, whether you leave a million dollars at death or are buried at public expense, whether it takes 15 pages of an encyclopedia to tell the wonderful things you have done or your name is never printed but once, and that in the death column. But whatever your success has been, you are not satisfied with your life.

We have all made so many mistakes, stumbled into so many blunders, said so many things that ought not to have been said, and done so many things that ought not to have been done, that we can suggest at least 95 per cent. of improvement. Now, would it not be grand if the good Lord would say to you: "You can go back and try it over again. I will, by a word, turn your hair to black, or brown, or golden, and smooth all the wrinkles out of your temple or cheek, and take the bend out of your shoulders, and extirpate the pains from the joint, and the rheumatic twinge from the knee, and you shall be 21 years of age, and just what you were when you reached that point before." If the proposition were made I think many thousands would accept it.

That feeling caused the ancient search for what was called the Fountain of Youth, the waters of which, taken, would turn the hair of the octogenarian into the curly locks of a boy, and however old a person who drank at that fountain he would be young again. The island was said to belong to the group of Bahamas, but lay far out in the ocean. The great Spanish explorer, Juan Ponce de Leon, fellow voyager of Columbus, I have no doubt, felt that if he could discover that fountain of youth he would do as much as his friend had done in discovering America. So he put out in 1512 from Porto Rico and cruised about among the Bahamas in search of that fountain. I am glad he did not find it. There is no such fountain. But if there were, and its waters were boiled up and sent abroad at a thousand dollars a bottle, the demand would be greater than the supply; and many who has come through a life of usefulness, and perhaps sin, to old age would be shaking up the potent liquid, and if he were directed to take only a teaspoonful after each meal, would be so anxious to make sure work he would take a tablespoonful, and if directed to take tablespoonful, would take a glassful.

But some of you would have to go back further than to 21 years of age to make a fair start, for there are many who manage to get all wrong before that period. Yea, in order to get a fair start, some would have to go back to the father and mother and get them corrected; yea, to the grandfather and grandmother, and have their life corrected, for some of you are suffering from bad hereditary influences which started a hundred years ago. Well, if your grand father lived his life over again, and your father lived his life over again, and you lived your life over again, what a cluttered-up place this world would be—a place filled with miserable attempts at repairs. I begin to think that it is better for each generation to have only one chance, and then for them to pass off and give another generation a chance. Besides that, if we were permitted to live over again it would be a stale and stupid experience. The zest and spontaneity and enthusiasm of life come from the fact that we have never been along this road before, and everything is new, and we are alert for what may appear at the next turn of the road. Suppose you, a man of mid-life or old age, were, with your present feelings and large attainments, put back into the thirties, or the twenties, or in the teens, what a nuisance you would be to others, and what an unhappiness to yourself! Your contemporaries would not want you, and you would not want them. All things that in your previous journey of life stirred your healthful ambition or gave you pleasurable surprise, or led you into happy interrogation, would only call forth from you a disgusted "Oh, pshaw!" You would be blase at 30, and a misanthrope at 40, and unendurable at 50. The most inane and stupid thing imaginable would be a second journey of life. It is amusing to hear people say: "I would like to live my life over again, if I could take my present experience and knowledge of things back with me and begin under those improved auspices." Why, what an uninteresting boy you would be with your present attainments in a child's mind. No one would want such a boy around the house—a philosopher at 3, a scientist at 15 an archaeologist at 10 and a domestic nuisance all the time. An oak crowded into an acorn. A Rocky mountain eagle thrust back into the egg shell from which it was hatched.

Besides that, if you took life over again you would have to take its deep sadnesses over again. Would you want to try again the griefs and the heartbreaks and the bereavements through which you have gone? What a mercy that we shall never be called to suffer them again! We may have others bad enough, but these—oh—no—never again. Would you want to go through the process of losing your father again, of your mother again, or your companion in life again, or your child again? If you were permitted to stop at the sixtieth milestone, or the fiftieth mile-stone, or the fortieth mile-stone, and retrace your steps so that twentieth, your experience would be something like mine, one November day in Italy, while walking through a great city with a friend and two guides, and there were in all the city only four persons, and they were those of our own group. We went up and down the streets; we entered the houses, the museums, the temples, the theaters. We examined the wonderful pictures on the walls and the most exquisite mosaic on the floors. The streets were the deep-worn ruts of wagons, but not a wagon in the city. On the front steps of mansions the word "Welcome" in Latin, but no human being to greet us. The only bodies of any of the citizens that we saw were petrified and in the museum at the gates. Of the 35,000 people who once lived in those homes and worshiped in those temples and clapped in those theaters, not one left. For 1,800 years that city of Pompeii had been buried before modern exploration scooped out of it the lava of Vesuvius. Well he who should be permitted to return on the pathway of his earthly life and live it over again would find as lonely and sad a pilgrimage. It would be an exploration of the dead rast. The old schoolhouse, the old church, the old home, the old playground, either gone or occupied by others, and for you more depressing than was our Pompeiian visit that November day.

Besides that, would you want to risk the temptations of life over again? From the fact that you are here I conclude that, though in many respects your life may have been unfortunate and unconsecrated, you have got on so far tolerably well, if nothing more than tolerable. As for myself, though my life has been far from being as consecrated to God as I would like to have had it, I would not want to try it over again, lest next time I would do worse.

Why, just look at the temptations we have all passed through, and just look at the multitudes who have gone completely under! Just call over the roll of your schoolmates and college mates, the clerks who were with you in the same store or bank, or the operatives in the same factory, with just as good prospects as you, who have come to complete mishap. Some young man that told you that he was going to be a millionaire and own the fastest trotters on the turnpike, and retire by the time he was 35 years of age, you do not hear from him for many years, and know nothing about him until some day he comes into your store and asks for five cents to get a mug of beer.

You, the good mother of a household, and all your children rising up to call you blessed, can remember when you were quite jealous of the belle of the village, who was so transcendently fair and popular. But while you have these two honorable and queenly names of wife and mother she became a poor waif of the street, and went into the blackness of darkness forever. Live life over again? Why, if many of those who are respectable were permitted to experiment the next journey would be demolition. You get through, as Job says, by the skin of your teeth. Next time you might not get through at all. Satan would say: "I know him now better than I did before, and have for 50 years been studying his weaknesses, and I will weave a stronger web of circumstances to catch him next time." And Satan would concentrate his forces on this one man, and the last state of that man would be worse than the first. My friends, our faces are in the right direction. Better go forward than backward, even if we had the choice. The greatest disaster I can think of would be for you to return to boyhood in 1898. Oh, if life were a smooth Luzerne or Cayuga lake I would like to get into a yacht and sail over it, not once, but twice—yea, a hundred times. But life is an ocean sea, and some of the ships go on the icebergs of cold indifference, and some take fire of evil passions, and some lose their bearings and run into the Goodwin sands, and some are never heard of. Surely on such a treacherous sea as that one voyage is enough.

Besides all this, do you know, if you could have your wish and live life over again, it would not put you so much farther from reunion with your friends in Heaven? If you are in the noon of life, or the evening of life, you are not very far from the golden gate at which you are to meet your transported and emparadised loved ones. You are now, let us say, 20 years, or 10 years, or one year off from celestial conjunction. Now, suppose you went back in your earthly life 30 years, or 40 years, or 50 years, what an awful postponement of the time of reunion! It would be as though you were going to San Francisco to a great banquet, and you got to Oakland, four or five miles this side of it, and then came back to Baltimore to get a better start; as though you were going to England to be crowned, and having come in sight of the mountains of Wales, put back to Sandy Hook in order to make a better voyage. Would you like for many years to adjourn the songs of Heaven, to adjourn the thrones of Heaven, to adjourn the companionship of Heaven, to adjourn the rest of Heaven, to adjourn the presence of Christ in Heaven? No; the wheel of time turns in the right direction, and it is well it turns so fast. Three hundred and sixty-five revolutions in a year and forward, rather than 365 revolutions in a year and backward.

But hear yet hear yet while I tell you how you may practically live your life over again and be all the better for it. You may put into the remaining years of your life all you have learned of wisdom in your past life. You may make the coming ten years worth the preceding forty or fifty years. When a man says he would like to live his life over again because he would do so much better, and you pass right on living as he has always lived, did you ever see he stultifies himself? He proves that if he could go back he would do almost the same as he has done.

If a man eat green apples some Wednesday in cholera time and is thrown into fearful cramps, and says on Thursday: "I wish I had been more prudent in my diet; oh, if I could live Wednesday over again!" and then on Friday eats apples just as green, he proves that it would have been no advantage for him to live Wednesday over again. And if we, deploring our past life, and with the idea of improvement, long for an opportunity to try it over again, yet go on making the same mistakes and committing the same sins, we only demonstrate that the repetition of our existence would afford no improvement. It was green apples before, and it would be green apples ever again.

As soon as a ship captain strikes a rock in the lake or sea he reports it, and a buoy is swung over that reef, and mariners beneforth stand off from that rock. And all our mistakes in the past ought to be buoys, warning us to keep in the right channel. There is no excuse for us if we split on the same rock where we split before. Going along the sidewalk at night where excavations are being made, we frequently see a lantern on a framework and we turn aside, for that lantern says keep out of this hole. And all along the pathway of life lanterns are set as warnings, and by the time we come to mid-life we ought to know where it is safe to walk and where it is unsafe.

The man who gave one-half of his early existence to the world and of the remaining two-quarters one to Christian work and the other to rest, would not, I suppose, get a very brilliant reception in Heaven. If there are any dried leaves in Heaven they would be appropriate for his garland; or if there is any thorne with broken steps, it would be appropriate for his coronation, or any harp with relaxed string, it would be appropriate for his fingering. My brother, you give nine-tenths of your life to sin and Satan and then get converted, and then rest awhile in satified laziness, and go up to get your Heavenly reward, and I warrant it will not take the cashier of the royal banking house a great while to count out to you all your dues. He will not ask you whether you will have any bills of large denomination or small. I would like to put one sentence of my sermon into italics, and have it underscored, and three exclamation points at the end of the sentence, and that sentence is this: As we can not live our lives over again, the nearest we can come to atone for the past is by redoubled holiness and industry in the future. If this rail train of life has been detained and switched off and is face behind the time table, the engineer for the rest of the way must put on more pressure of steam and go a mile a minute in order to arrive at the right time and place, under the approval of conductor and directors.

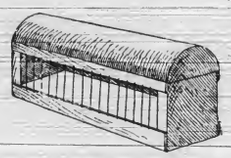
Any Spaniard over the age of 19 is liable to be called into military service for three years. By the payment of 1,500 pesetas ($300) he can escape military duty.

FARM & GARDEN.

SOFT POULTRY FOOD.

A Simple Device Which Keeps It Clean No Matter How Greedy the Chicks May Be.

When soft poultry food is thrown on the ground or even on a board, it is quickly trampled and befouled so that it is unfit to eat. Especially is this true in a wet, muddy time. To be sure, it may be placed in a shallow pan or trough, but even this does not help the matter any. What is needed, rather, is a covered pan or trough constructed that it will permit the poultry to obtain the food and at the same time keep them out of it with their feet.



For small chicks make a double trough of tin, such as is shown in Fig.

TROUGH MADE OF TIN.

1. Have it from two feet up to any length desired, and six inches wide, each half being three inches wide and 1½ inches deep, with square ends soldered on. Tin gives the best satisfaction, as it can be easily washed and kept clean.

Make a box such as is shown in Fig. 2, and set the trough inside of it. Have this box, inside, of a length and width to correspond with the size of the trough, and let it be at least a foot high at the eaves. It will take some work, of course, to construct the oval roof, but by rounding the end boards, or "peaks," and taking a thin but tough piece of board of the requisite size and steaming it, and then nailing it on securely, no serious difficulties will be experienced. Have this part hinged and fastened with a hook, as is shown.

BOX FOR THE TROUGH.

Each side should be open and fitted with wire bars placed two inches apart, each end of these wires being bent at right angles, driven through the strips of wood and clinched. To insert the food, simply raise the upper portion or roof part, the semi-rotundity of which prevents the fowls from roosting on it. Thus the poultry cannot get at the food with their feet to pollute it, and, at the same time, it is safe from any stray animals that may come along, such as cats and dogs, for which it is not intended.—Fred O. Sibley, in Ohio Farmer.

LOCATION FOR BEES.

An Orchard with Low-Spreading Trees Is Claimed to Be the Ideal Place for an Apiary.

I have decided that the ideal place for an apiary is in an orchard, where there are low-spreading trees. If the queen's wings are clipped, there will be comparatively little climbing after swarms. Some prefer shade-boards; but after having tried both, for the comfort of the apiarist and that of the bees, I decidedly prefer the shade of low-spreading trees. Grapevines do tolerably well, but they do not protect the apiarist; and at the time of the year when the shade is most needed, they are sending out shoots and branches that interfere with the handling of the hive; and grapevines do require an excessive amount of trimming just at the time bees need the most attention. The colonies at our out-yard are placed in groups of three on the north side of the low-spreading bass woods. It is a great comfort as well as a pleasure to work among these bees compared with what it is in the home yard of the grapevines. Vernon Burt has his apiary in an apple orchard, and the grass is neatly kept down by sheep that are allowed to run among the hives at will. The lawn-mower does not begin to compare with them. — Colman's Rural World.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

Don't cultivate the corn too late. You will cut the roots.

We would advise feeding calves from tin or galvanized pails.

If the calf will not drink—and some will not—starve it to it.

Cut the grass when the bloom is on and you will preserve the aroma.

When the rains cease be sure to cultivate and make the surface fine.

The preservation of a good aroma in hay makes it all the more palatable to the animal.

Clover hay is a hundred per cent. better than timothy for all purposes in feeding stock.

It looks now as if wheat would be a good price for the next crop. Don't sell early if you can help it.

A tread power, run by a big dog or calf, will do the churning on most farms, and save lots of labor.

The only way to buy binder twine is to club together and demand a reduction in price. The sellers of binder twine are getting rich off the farmers. —Western Plowman.

LIVE IN THE COUNTRY.

On the Farm Is Where Freedom, Health and Perfect Happiness Await Your Coming.

The person who does not love life in the country has lost the best part of his nature by being cast out of the garden of Eden at an early period of his life, to be artificially reared on the sights, sounds and smells of the streets, alleys and sewers of some city. He knows nothing of real home life—cities have very little—as a rule, only number so and so, such a street; he has very little sense of home joys and affections; the pure air and water of the country; its holy quietudes; its gentle appeals to all the senses; its solitudes, where tumult and mob never intrude; its delightful woods, its sports and pleasures; its loves and friendships, undefiled by the dust and grime of the crowded tenements and thronged thoroughfares; its sacred privacies and seclusions; its leisure, its freedom and independence from the intrusions and demands of hurrying urban life and its sacred exemptions from the gross contacts and associations of the bustling and shouldering streets—all these, and more akin to them, make the rural existence a perpetual delight, undefiled by the conditions that attend the constant pressure of mixed and crowded population.

The farm is not a bonanza, but it feeds the world. To one accustomed, its labors are easy and healthy; its incidents interesting, its rests, changes and relaxations, with exchanges of visits, always full of recreation; its crops engage continual care and attention, with daily vicissitudes of weather that never destroy hope and even cheer with promise of fruition, and at last, with garnered crops, it affords you plenty, with a roaring fire under your own roof—happy in being monarch of all you survey, despite the struggles for bread in the cities and the never-ending exertions and woes inseparable from style and its silly rivalries.

Go back to the country, young man! Go home to the farm. Seize the plow and become an independent and happy man, though you may miss wealth, fashion and luxury.—Norfolk Pilot.

TYING THE FLEECE.

Put No More String Around It Than Is Absolutely Necessary to Hold It in Form.

The best and simplest method of tying wool, says Wool Markets and Sheep, is done by placing the fleece on a table with the flesh side down, and with the hands, work the wool in as compact form as possible, then fold in the two sides, then the tail end, then the neck wool. Beginning at the tail end of the fleece roll toward the neck, and the fleece will somewhat resemble a spool of thread in shape. About five or six feet of wool twine, owing to the size of the fleece, should have been previously prepared by doubling it and laying it on one end of the table. Lay the fleece down on the string, with the two strings about six inches apart, and then pull the string around the circular way of the fleece. Part the strings, running one one way and the other in the opposite direction, having the strings cross each other at the other end of the fleece, turning the fleece one-fourth round and running a string around it endwise at right angles to the last one. By this method as neat appearing fleece will be secured as can be tied by any wool box. Wool will be regarded with suspicion by buyers and commission men if tied up in too compact form. It has the appearance of being too heavy in proportion to the size of the fleece. Put on no more string around the fleece than is actually necessary to hold it in form.

DRAINAGE MADE EASY.

An Accurate and Practical Level, Working on the Same Principle as a Plumb Line.

One of the greatest drawbacks to successful farming operations on thousands of farms is the absence of a thorough system of tile drainage, consequently the early preparation of ground, and the planting of crops, is not only grently retarded, but the season for growth being also comparatively less, makes them more susceptible to early autumn frosts before maturity. Drain lowest depressions first, and continue the work as circumstances permit and never attempt to do a perfect job without the constant use of the level whenever any doubt exists as to the required grade of the ditch. The accompanying illustration shows a very simple, accurate and practical level, working on the principle of a plumb-line. It is 16½ feet long, so that by raising either end one inch and marking the variation in the plumb one can easily tell when the grade is one inch to the rod. This level can be slid along in the bottom of the ditch, thus keeping a uniform grade of any desired fall.—American Agriculturist.

PLUMB LINE DRAINAGE LEVEL.

Dark and Light Eggs.

In the New York city markets the white eggs seem to be preferred, but in Boston and Philadelphia consumers have a preference for dark eggs. The color of the shell does not indicate the quality of the egg. In sending eggs to market it will always be an advantage to sort them as uniform in size and color as possible. Endeavor to please the customer and better prices will be obtained.—American Gardening.

LANDED A HUGE TUNA.

Boston Woman, Singlehanded, Conquers a Fish Weighing 110 Pounds Off California Coast.

Among fishermen in the neighborhood of Pasadena, Cal., Mrs. Walter Raymond, of Boston, is freely accorded the championship of her sex, the result of an extraordinary piscatorial feat recently performed. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond had been making an extended sojourn on the Pacific coast, and each had gained renown with the line and hook, but all previous performances of this character were put in eclipse by the feat under notice. They had accompanied a fishing party from Pasadena to Santa Catalina, and while allaring the famous tuna of those waters to the books Mrs. Raymond was seen to give a sudden lurch forward and eagerly take a firmer grip upon her line. Her husband sprang to her assistance, but she waved him off, saying: "This fight is mine." The line straightened out, the bow of the boat suddenly swung around, and the little craft started off at a sizzling pace down the harbor, but Mrs. Raymond hung on with all her might. Gradually the speed slackened and she began to haul in. When the fish was finally brought alongside it was found to be a mammoth tuna, and when placed upon the scales showed a weight of 110 pounds. This is the first time in the history of Santa Catalina that a fish of this size was ever landed by a lady, and it necessarily followed that thereafter Mrs. Raymond was looked upon as a veritable heroine.

PRETTY WIGWAGGER.

Girl in a Pink Shirt Waist Causes a Sensation on the United States Troopship Panther.

Shortly after the troopship Panther anchored off Tompkinsville the other day a girl in a pink shirt waist appeared on the end of the wharf with a signal flag and proceeded to wigwag at the ship. Many strange sights of war have the Panther's men seen since they left New York for Cuba, but girls in pink shirt waists who stand on docks and wigwag code signals to Uncle Sam's fighting ships are not included in their list of experiences. After the officers had decided that they were awake and in possession of their senses they discovered that the girl was signaling that there was an official message for the ship. A boat was sent in, and the message, which was from Washington, was brought out.

Later on one of the officers who went ashore found the wigwagger in the telegraph office busily ticking off a message.

"What is your ship's call?" she asked.

"A. P., I believe," said the officer.

"No; that's the St. Paul," replied the girl.

"O, yes; I had forgotten. It's A. T. How do you happen to understand wigwagging?"

"O, I've taken it up for convenience since the war began," said the girl, and went back to her ticking.

CARRIES GOLD TO SOLDIERS.

Newport with Gen. Merritt Aboard Has Also a Large Sum of Money for Use at Manila.

The San Francisco Call says: The steamer Newport, which has sailed with Gen. Merritt for the Philippines, will bring joy to the hearts of our troops in Manila, as it carries a large sum of money for the payment of the soldiers and the purchase of needed supplies. It is said that the steamer carries from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 in gold. It will be remembered that Gen. Merritt, in addition to the money necessary for the use of the troops in the near future, asked the president for $100,000, to be used by him as an emergency fund at his discretion, and suggested how this money could be appropriated for such purpose. This $100,000 is probably included in the coin shipment on the Newport.

Turbine Power for Boats.

Two small vessels equipped with Parsons' turbine engines, with a guaranteed speed of 35 knots, have been ordered by the British admiralty.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, July 18.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle, common	$ 3 00	@	$ 3 75
Select butchers	4 00	@	4 40
CALVES—Fair to good light	6 00	@	6 50
HOGS—Common	3 15	@	3 65
Mixed packers	3 75	@	3 85
Light shippers	3 60	@	3 90
SHEEP—Fair to good	3 15	@	3 75
LAMBS—Spring	6 00	@	6 35
FLOUR—Winter family	3 30	@	3 40
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@	78
No. 3 red		@	73
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	34½
Oats—No. 2		@	25¾
Rye—No. 2		@	41
HAY—Prime to choice	9 00	@	9 50
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@	10 62½
Lard—Prime steam		@	5 35
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@	12
Prime to choice creamery		@	18
APPLES—New southern	3 50	@	4 00
POTATOES—New, per bbl	2 50	@	2 75

CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	4 10	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	75
No. 3 Chicago spring	72	@	82
CORN—No. 2		@	33¼
OATS—No. 2		@	24
PORK—Mess	9 85	@	9 90
LARD—Steam	5 00	@	5 02½

NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	4 10	@	4 25
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	80
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	39
RYE		@	40
OATS—Mixed		@	27
PORK—New mess	10 00	@	10 50
LARD—Western		@	6 00

BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	5 60	@	6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	81	@	81¼
Southern—Wheat	75	@	82¾
Corn—Mixed	30½	@	37
Oats—No. 2 white	30	@	31
Rye—No. 2 western		@	43
CATTLE—Fair quality	4 40	@	4 70
HOGS—Western	4 40	@	4 50

INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	73¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	33¼
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	23

LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	70
Corn—Mixed		@	34½
Oats—Mixed		@	27
PORK—Mess		@	10 50
LARD—Steam		@	5 50

THE DIGNIFIED WOMAN.

She Was a Little Severe on the Curious Woman, But She Was Provoked.

She is a dignified woman, and sometimes she is overpowering. The unwary do not perceive this quickly, however. The dignified woman has been spending some time in one of the hospitals of this city. She went there for rest and quiet. Since she has recovered her health she tells some amusing stories of her experiences. Here is one:

The dignified woman was walking down the hall one day when she was accosted by the curious woman. The curious woman had been wondering about the dignified woman, and she said:

"I beg your pardon, madam, but I would like to know what you have been operated on for?"

"What?" exclaimed the dignified woman. "Well, explained the curious woman, "my friend in the next room and I have been wondering about you. You walk about the hall with such a light and springy step that we wonder about what kind of an operation you have undergone."

The curious woman held her ground. She was determined to know what was the matter with the dignified woman.

The dignified woman replied:

"I have not been operated upon yet."

"Oh!" said the curious woman, sympathetically.

"No, I am not familiar with operations," said the dignified woman.

The curious woman interrupted: "They are very successful here. Don't be worried."

"I am wondering about an operation on the brain," said the dignified woman, in a very dignified and distant manner. "I wonder if they could operate upon the brain in such a way as to enable people to attend to their own affairs."

The curious woman snorted and walked away in high dudgeon.

The dignified woman was severe, it is true, but she was provoked to it.—St. Louis Republic.

STONE IN HER STOMACH.

From the Gazette, Blandinsville, Ill.

The wife of the Rev. A. R. Adams, pastor of the Bedford Christian Church at Blandinsville, Ill., was for years compelled to live a life of torture from disease. Her case baffled the physicians, but to-day she is alive and well, and tells the story of her recovery as follows:

"About six years ago," said Mrs. Adams, "I weighed about 140 pounds, but my health began to fail and I lost flesh. My food did not agree with me and felt like a stone in my stomach. I began to bloat all over until I thought I had dropsy.

"I had pains and soreness in my left side which extended clear across my back and also into the region of my heart. During these spells a hard ridge would appear in the left side of my stomach and around the left side.

"These attacks left me sore and exhausted. All last summer I was so nervous that the children laughing and playing nearly drove me wild. I suffered also from female troubles and doctored with ten different physicians without receiving any help.

"My Husband Read."

"My husband having read in the newspaper of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, induced me to try them. I began taking them last November, but experienced no relief until I had taken six boxes. I am now taking the eleventh box and have been greatly benefited.

"I was also troubled with nervous prostration and numbness of my right arm and hand so that at times I could hardly endure the pain, but that has all passed away. I now have a good appetite and am able to do my own work. Have done more this summer than in the past four years put together. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cured me and I think it my duty to let other sufferers know it."

Hundreds of equally remarkable cases have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Rather Antique.

Gunn—I've just succeeded in perfecting an invention that will revolutionize modern warfare and make my fortune.

Dunn—Indeed! What is the nature of your discovery?

"A powder that's absolutely noiseless."

"Pshaw! That's old; women have been using it for centuries."—Chicago Evening News.

Colored Philosophy.

"You kin git yo' daily bread by prayin'," says Uncle Mose, "but de nightly chicken has to be hustled fo'."—Indianapolis Journal.

SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. NEW YORK, N.Y.

The hair

is like a plant. What makes the plant fade and wither? Usually lack of necessary nourishment. The reason why Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray or faded hair to its normal color, stops hair from falling, and makes it grow, is because it supplies the nourishment the hair needs.

"When a girl at school, in Reading, Ohio, I had a severe attack of brain fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair immediately began to grow, and I now have as heavy and fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being changed, however, from blonde to dark brown."—Mrs. J. H. HORSNYDER, 152 Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

PAINT Your Own WALLS and CEILINGS
MURALO WATER COLOR PAINTS
For DECORATING WALLS and CEILINGS PURCHASE A MURALO PACKAGE OF from your grocer or paint dealer and do your own decorating. This material is a HARD FINISH to be applied with a brush and becomes as hard as Vermont. Mixed in twenty-four tints and works equally as well with cold or hot water. If Send for SAMPLE COLOR CARDS and If you cannot purchase this material from your local dealers let us know and we will put you in the way of obtaining it. THE MURALO COMPANY, NEW BRIGHTON, S. I., NEW YORK.

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try this brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four

GAME PLAQUES

exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Muville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant,
English Quail, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5 cent packages of Elastic Starch (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of these beautiful Game Plaques free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

COLORADO, UTAH AND THE PACIFIC COAST
REACHED IN ELEGANT SERVICE, VIA THE MISSOURI PACIFIC R'Y.

Reduced Rates during the Season. See nearest Agent, or write the General Passenger Agent at St. Louis, for further information.

C. G. WARNER, Vice-President. W. B. DODDRIDGE, General Manager. H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen'l Pass'r and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis.

"THE CLEANER 'TIS, THE COSIER 'TIS."
WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT SAPOLIO

SHOOT WINCHESTER LOADED SHOT GUN SHELLS

USED BY ALL THE CHAMPION SHOTS.
FREE. SEND NAME ON A POSTAL CARD, FOR 152 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
100 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Heals on all poisons. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 25c; large, 50c. Book free. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

The Best BOOK on the WAR BEAUTIFULLY illustrated (size 9x12 inches), bound and sumptuously illustrated (size 9x12 inches), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 5c.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

READERS OF THIS PAPER DESIRING TO BUY ANYTHING ADVERTISED IN ITS COLUMNS SHOULD INSIST UPON HAVING WHAT THEY ASK FOR, REFUSING ALL SUBSTITUTES OR IMITATIONS.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, July 20, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

STATE NEWS.

Geo. Sebastian, painter, died suddenly on the roof of a house at Paint Lick.

Application has been made for a receiver for the Louisville Medical College.

Ben Schmidtz cheered for Spain in Newport. A crowd of boys gathered and gave him a ducking in a water trough.

There is a mad-dog scare on Boyd's creek, three miles east of Glasgow. Several dogs have been bitten by a cur showing signs of rabbies.

As yet the State has taken no steps toward securing a gift for the battle-ship Kentucky. The matter appears to have been forgotten.

At Hopkinsville, George Jackson, 14, white, beat a colored boy over the head with a club, causing fatal injuries. Jackson was arrested.

Patriots at Haverhill, Ohio, loaded a cannon with a big bowlder and fired it across the river. It narrowly missed the residence portion of Greenup.

Albert Booth, of Hopkins county, lost his entire wheat crop because his hired man dropped a spark from a pipe while smoking in the shade of the wheat stacks.

The prize pet saddle mare, "Rowena," property of Miss Alice, daughter of Colonel J. B. Castleman, of Clifton, near Harrodsburg, is dead. She was valued at $1,200.

Tom Morrissy, familiarly known as "Boatman," who used to work in P. W. Green's saloon here, was one of Shafter's soldiers who was killed at Santiago. He joined the army several years ago.—Stanford Interior Journal.

The brand of local option liquor used at Clinton must be a little worse than usual. The Democrat is moved to remark: "Snakes are so abundant as to be a nuisance in town. A prominent business man is said to have found one coiled up in a drawer of his desk a few mornings ago."

The Glasgow News tells of an alleged case of whitecapping in Warren county: "Henry White, Frank White, Will White and Lee Smith, all well-to-do farmers of the Woodburn neighborhood, have been arrested for 'kukluxing' or 'whitecapping' upon a warrant sworn out by King Gordon, a tenant on the farm of Henry White. Gordon claims that the parties mentioned came to his home one night last week, drove his family away and then beat him unmercifully."

An operation was performed on Officer John Mercer late yesterday afternoon by which a piece of wood two inches long, an inch wide and a quarter of an inch thick was taken from him. He fell on a picket fence almost a year ago and sustained injuries from which it was thought he would die. A piece of the picket was taken out at the time, and it is believed the remainder was recovered yesterday. He is up and says he feels better than at any time since the accident.—Owensboro Inquirer.

General News.

At the battle of Waterloo 51,300 men were killed.

Of the 95,616 men who perished in the Crimea, war 80,000 were Turks and Russians.

According to the records of the civil war it cost 363,000 lives. Of this number 95,689 were slain in battle. The vast army which succumbed to disease was no less than 184,331, while the remaining 20,000 or so died of wounds received.

An eccentric character of Jersey City whose will was recently probated directed in the document that $100 should be expended for his burial, $50 for a headstone, $50 for a band, $50 for a casket, $16 for beer and $15 for tobacco and pipes for the mourners, $40 for carriages and $4 for opening the grave.

There is now pending in the Louisiana Legislature a bill to provide separate street cars for whites and blacks in the cities of the State, and to forbid persons of either race to ride in the cars set apart for the other. The law makers are now worried to know how to arrange it that white children in the care of negro nurses shall have street car accommodations.

The sudden drowning of a good swimmer is not due to cramps, as generally supposed. There is no reason, says a high medical authority, why cramp in a leg should prevent an ordinary swimmer supporting himself in the water by his hands or on his back, or cause him to throw up his hands and sink once for all like a stone. The explanation is that the drum of ear is perforated and the pressure of water causes vertigo and unconsciousness.

Kentucky Crop Report.

For the July report replies were received from 143 correspondents, representing 95 counties.

WHEAT—Development of the wheat crop during the month of June shows the following results in the great wheat growing States of the Mississippi Valley: In Ohio and Michigan the crop is fair, both in yield and quality. In Illinois, Missouri and Kansas the crop has suffered greatly during June from rust and chinch bug, and the quality will be poor, owing to damage from these sources. The quality is greatly impaired by the presence of an unusually large number of smut heads. Where threshing has begun the yield is very disappointing. In Iowa, Wisconsin and Nebraska winter wheat varies from very fine in some sections to poor in others. In these States spring wheat is threatened with rust, owing to the extremely rank growth of the plant.

In Kentucky the exceptionally fine showing of June 1st has not been maintained and the crop is fully from one-fourth to one-third short of what was anticipated. The most frequently mentioned cause of damage is rust, which seems to have been general. The crop ripened prematurely and the filling is very imperfect, rarely more than two grains to the mesh being found. The berry is lacking in plumpness, which, together with the presence of considerable smut, will materially interfere with quality.

In the western section of the State the crop has been damaged by rain since harvest. The estimated average yield per acre for the State is 13 bushels. In 1897 the estimated yield July 1st was 12 bushels and 6⅔ bushels for a corresponding date of 1896.

For the western section the yield is 13 bushels; for the central and eastern it is 16 and 11 bushels respectively.

CORN—Favorable weather conditions have prevailed during June and the corn crop is now in excellent condition. The average for the State is 96, an improvement of four points during the month. On July 1st, 1897, the condition was 87.

In the western section a few counties, including Union, Webster, Caldwell and Trigg, report the crop suffering for want of cultivation, which has been interfered with by excessive rainfall. In the central section the drouth has been relieved in those counties along the northern border and the crop is fast regaining lost ground from this source.

Taking the State by sections the conditions are: For the Western 93; Central, 96, and Eastern, 100; each being an improvement during June.

OATS—The condition of the oat crop is 85 for the State as against 91 on June 1st. On July 1st, 1897, the condition was 80. The crop has improved in the central and about held its own in the eastern section, but in the western section it has fallen off from 96 on June 1st to 71 on July 1st.

TOBACCO—The acreage of tobacco compared with 1897 is 123 per cent. or 237,038 acres for the State. The eastern section reports the greatest increase, viz: 36 per cent. In the western section the acreage is increased 23 per cent., while in the central section the increase is but 9 per cent. The condition of the crop shows an average of 92 for the entire State. July 1st, 1897, the condition was 68, and on same date of 1896 the condition was 92.

In the western section the crop is, to some extent, foul. Grasshoppers and worms are reported preying on the plants and the utmost vigilance will be required to maintain present condition of 93.

In the central section the crop is very spotted and the stand is poor. The first setting is growing nicely, but the replant seems to be getting a poor start, which gives the crop a ragged appearance. Here the condition compared with an average is but 84.

In those counties of the eastern section where a crop is grown the condition appears excellent with a greatly increased acreage.

MEADOWS AND PASTURES—The acreage of clover meadows cut as compared with 1897 is 97. The yield, both as to quantity and quality is good. Of timothy meadows the acreage as compared with 1897 is 94. The yield is light and the quality of much of it is poor, owing to the presence of weeds. Pastures are most excellent, the condition being 90.

Live stock is in satisfactory condition. The demand for stock ewes has greatly increased, and farmers are turning their attention largely to sheep breeding.

LUCAS MOORE,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

FROM GRANT COUNTY.

[Courier.]

Clarence Hensley, a member of the 2nd Kentucky, volunteer infantry came home on a furlough last Saturday and remained several days.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Williamstown last week J. H. Humlong, who for several years has been assistant cashier of that Bank, was elected Cashier of the institution.

Watermelons—the big, fat juicy kind from the "Sunny South"—are on the Williamstown market. Blackberries and red plums are also with us, and we can live like kings while they last—all but the editors.

Some reckless, mean specimen of humanity purchased a lot of carpet tacks one day last week, and didn't do a thing but scatter them broadcast along the main thoroughfare in the north end, the result of which was a dozen or more punctured tires and a great many very mad cyclers.

At least one Grant county boy was in the battle at Santiago. Robert Northcutt, son of Jeff Northcutt, of Sherman, joined the Sixth U. S. Infantry at the first call for volunteers, and that regiment was in the thickest of the fight and lost a number of her brave men, however Bob was evidently uninjured as his name does not appear in the list of killed or wounded.

There are three Grant county boys at Chickamauga who are wanted by the authorities of Grant county: but since they are giving good service to Uncle Sam in his fight with the Spaniards, little if any effort will be made to bring them home until after the war is over. The prodigal sons who are missing are W. T. Stepheus, known as 'Talf," who is wanted for murder, having killed a man several years ago at Holbrook, by the name of Jump and disappeared, and had not been heard of until discovered as a soldier of the volunteer army. Noah Readnour, who killed Carl Hightower some two years ago, and who is under indictment for murder, is also wearing a soldier's uniform at Chickamauga. Young Sanders, who recently killed Dave T. Franks at Crittenden, is a soldier boy and in serving Uncle Sam hopes to wipe out his violation of the law.

FROM OWEN COUNTY.

[Herald,]

Yesterday Mrs. Josie Wilson, whose husband has gone to war, was adjudged insane in the circuit court and sent to the Lakeland Asylum. Her brother, Green Howard, was adjudged insane in Grant county the day before, and both went from here in charge of officers together.

In addition to the three divorces granted at this term of court, formerly reported, W. M. Jones has been divorced from Carrie Jones, and T. J. Tackett from Kate Tackett. The divorce business is growing in this county to an alarming extent. What is the matter? It is proper to state in this connection that Judge Greene is a strong believer in the sanctity of the marriage relation and never grants a divorce except for the best of reasons.

In his charge to the recent grand jury Judge Greene was especially severe upon gamblers, those who make their living by fleecing the unsuspecting and unsophisticated youth of our land. He said that some thirty years ago he came to Owenton a green country young man, or rather boy. It was not long until he was invited to join the city young bloods in their sports and festivities. Four of them were having a social game of cards one evening, when it was proposed that they should play for the apples. The Judge said he quietly pulled out his pocket book and took from it enough money to buy what apples were needed for the crowd, at the same time informing his companions that he would not gamble under any circumstances whatever, but was perfectly willing to pay for the apples or any little delicacy that might be needed. And from that good hour to this nobody has ever again asked the Judge to take part in any game of chance.

[News]

The crops are needing rain badly.

Newt Simpson sold in Cincinnati last week 160 lambs at $6 25 per hundred.

There are entirely too many hounds in Owenton for the peace and quiet of those who desire to do a little sleeping. On Monday night the seige guns at Santiago could scarcely have kept more noise.

Young Jones, the man who was shot in the arm by Welch at the time Mahoney was killed near Drennon is reported to be in a serious condition. Blood poison has set in and the physicians say he can not recover.

The man Welch who killed Mahoney, was arrested at Drennon last Thursday, and put in jail at New Castle. It is said that he had been threatening to do some more work in the same line.

It is reported that the young man Welch, who killed Mahoney at Lanes Landing on the Fourth, went to the funeral of his victim with a brace of pistols about him. Such a demonstration of the desperado, even were he justifiable in killing his victim, deserves capital punishment. It shows that he is a murderer at heart, that he defies the law and insults the living and the dead. He needs the rope for that one act if for nothing more.

FROM CARROLL COUNTY.

[News]

Notwithstanding the extremely dry weather the tobacco that was set early is growing in most sections of the county, but the late setting is in extremely bad condition.

M. E. Small tells us that never in the many years he has been in the carpenter business has he seen a brighter prospect for work. He predicts more new buildings for Carrollton than for years.

Carrollton Roller Mills received over 3,000 bushels of wheat the past week, ending with Monday night, some days receiving 600 or 700 bushels. They are paying 68 and 69 cents now, though at first they paid 70 cents. They have engagements and sacks out for over 2,000 bushels more, aud expect to be heavy purchasers.

Sam Hall, who completed a five year sentence in the penitentiary last fall, being sent up from here for burglary, is again in trouble. Most of the time since his release he has been living at Sparta. Several months ago the store of H. Winn there was broken into, and on Wednesday night the stores of Dr. Grant, Samuels Bros. and the depot were broken into. The safe at the latter place was drilled into, but the parties were evidently frightened off before it was blown open. On Friday evening Sam Hall was arrested at Warsaw while endeavoring to sell a gold watch for $1 50, which proved to have been one taken from Dr. Grant when his store was burglarized. He was placed in jail, where he will be held to answer at circuit court.

CAN THE U. S. SWALLOW THESE!

Girls smoke.
Inhabitants, 40,000.
Forest of mahogany.
No wild animals except dogs.
Everybody takes a nap at noon.
Here is the highest land in Cuba.
Lottery tickets on sale everywhere.
Most of the houses are one story buildings.
Santiago is the Spanish form for Saint James.
The belles plaster their faces with powdered egg shells.
The harbor of Nipe embraces 65 square miles of deep water.
Copper mines have been worked since the seventeeth century.
Tobacco Island was so called by Columbus from its fancied resemblance to the tobacco or inhaling tube of the aborigines. Our word tobacco is thence derived.

THE PHILIPPINES.

No brooms.
No hats worn.
Girls marry at 15.
No knives nor forks.
They sleep at midday.
Horses are a curiosity.
More women than men.
Rice is the chief product.
Cattle as small as goats.
Manilla enjoys electricity.
Natives bathe thrice daily.
Dewey had a rabbit's foot.
We buy half Manilla's hemp.
The grasshopper is a delicacy.
Laborers earn ten cents a day.
Cocoanut oil is an illuminant.
Manilla was founded in 1572.
Buffaloes are used for plowing.
Orchids command $1,000,000 a piece.
Manilla has 200,000 inhabitants.
Annual cigar output, 140,000,000.
Weyler was Governor for four years.

PORTO RICO.

Little yellow fever.
One Protestant congregation.
No railroad lines of importance.
Spaniards control the commerce.
Would make a great summer resort.
Porto means, port: Rico, noble etc.
Tobacco equal to best Cuban leaf.
Belles smoke cigars and chew betels.
Cigar factories employ 21,000 women.
Cigarmakers earn $2 to $10 a month.
A yard of cloth is the robe of the poor.
Macadamized streets; tin-roofed houses.
In 1892, $11,000,000 worth of coffee was exported.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

In an enemy spots are soon seen.
The finest shoe often hurts the foot.
Hoist your sail when the wind is fair
They that live longest must die at last.
Health is not valued till sickness comes.
Three may keep counsel, if two be away.
If you cannot bite, never show your teeth.
Ignorance is less hateful than conceitedness.
When a man grows angry his reason rides out.—Good Housekeeping.

Order of Reference.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Elizabeth W. Rogers' adm'r. Pltf.
vs
Elizabeth W. Rogers' heirs, devisees, &c., Dfts.

This cause is now referred to J. W. Duncan, Master Commissioner of the Boone Circuit Court, under sections 430 and 431, Civil Code of Practice, with the following instructions, to-wit:

1. He will audit and settle the accounts of the administrator.
2. He will ascertain and report the amount of indebtedness found against decedents estate and how secured if at all.
3. He will report what real estate the decedent owned at the time of her death, where situated, how encumbered if at all, and its probable value.
4. He will give due notice of the time and place of his sittings and report all of his acts hereunder at the next term of said court.

Witness my hand as clerk of said court, this July 13th, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, Clerk B. C. C.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he will begin his sittings on the 26th day of July, 1898, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., to hear proof in the above styled cause, and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 1st day of August, 1898. All persons having claims against said estate will present them to me properly proven according to law.

J. W. DUNCAN, Master Com.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Abel Beemon's adm'r., Pltf.
vs } Equity.
Rachael Beemon, &c., Defts.

By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1898, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday, the 1st day of August, 1898, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being County Court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 and 18 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being in Boone county, Ky. Beginning at a stone on the Burlington and Big Bone road, a corner with Thomas Aylor; thence with his line n 79¼ e 23.83 chains to a stone, a corner with Rachael Beemon's dower; thence with a line thereof, s 4¾ w 18.87 chains to a stone, a corner of W. B. Adams; thence with his line n 65 w 10.80 chains to a stone, n 84 w 11.25 chains to a stone in said road; thence n 69 w 1.56 chains, n 11 w 53 links, n 4¼ e 7.57 chains to the beginning. Containing 29 acre, 2 roods and 15 poles.

There is excepted out of this lot a passway 16 feet in width; beginning at a stone, a corner of Mrs. Rachael Beemon's dower in a line of Thomas Aylor; thence with his line s 79¼ w 23.83 chs. to the Burlington and Big Bone road; said passway being for the use and benefit of Rachael Beemon's dower.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price of said land the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale, $884 03.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. B. C. C. C.

THE NEW WAY.

WOMEN used to think "female diseases" could only be treated after "local examinations" by physicians. Dread of such treatment kept thousands of modest women silent about their suffering. The introduction of Wine of Cardui has now demonstrated that nine-tenths of all the cases of menstrual disorders do not require a physician's attention at all. The simple, pure taken in the privacy of a woman's own home insures quick relief and speedy cure. Women need not hesitate now. Wine of Cardui requires no humiliating examinations for its adoption. It cures any disease that comes under the head of "female troubles"—disordered menses, falling of the womb, "whites," change of life. It makes women beautiful by making them well. It keeps them young by keeping them healthy. $1.00 at the drug store.

Mc ELREE'S Wine of Cardui

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

W. I. ADDISON, M.D., Cary, Miss., says: "I use Wine of Cardui extensively in my practice and find it a most excellent preparation for female troubles."

SHERIFF'S SALE FOR TAXES.

By virtue of Taxes due for the years 1893-4-5-6-7, I will on

MONDAY, AUGGUST 1st, 1898,

sell for cash in hand at the Court-house door in the town of Burlington, Ky., to the highest bidder, the following property or so much thereof as will satisfy taxes and cost thereon:

WALTON.

Ludwig Habble nr t l '94, 5, 6, 7,	7 17
Mrs Robt L Weaver nr tl 94,5,6 7	7 17

CONSTANCE.

Johnson Robinson nr tl 93,4,5,6,7	5 27
Jone Deer t l 93, 4	5 80
Wm N Waters nr 94, 5, 6, 7	4 65
Susan Fox 11a, 95, 6, 7	7 84
Erastus Winters 1a, 93, 6, 7	12 55
Rich'd Fox est, t l 96, 7	4 88
J W Hood 12a, 96, 7	12 28

FLORENCE.

Edward Golway tl 94, 5, 6, 7	24 97
[illegible] Buckner tl, 95, 6, 7	34 44
[illegible] Sull tl, 95, 6, 7	9 55
Jno Gorman & Co, 4a, 96, 7	7 78
Mary McWilliams 24a, 96, 7	23 78
Wm R Tanner 34a, 93, 5, 6, 7	23 38

BULLITTSVILLE.

Jas H Tanner, town lot	15 48

BELLEVUE.

Julia Lafever, t l, '93, 4, 5, 6	4 40
Doc Merchant hrs, 12a, 94, 5, 6, 7	4 62
J C Kelly, t l, '95, 6, 7	15 77
Elizabeth Lacy, t l, '95, 6	3 21
Lewis Lafever, t lot, '95, 7	8 37
Peggy Ann Ryle, 8a, '95, 6, 7	4 39

PETERSBURG.

H & L Barnard, n r, 14a, '94	3 28
Petersburg Bldg Ass'n, t l, '94	4 35
Wm Bonar, 9a, '95, 7	9 13
Bertha Christe, t l, '95, 6, 7	4 01
[illegible] town lot, '95, 6	11 97
Fannie Lyons, town lot, '95, 6, 7	11 99
A L Loder, t l, '93, 4, 5, 6, 7	14 46
Henry Scheurman, t l, '95, 6	8 58
Mike Tafferty, t l, '95, 6, 7	11 50
Wm J Alloway, t l, '93, 6	7 87
Robt Snelling, n r, t l, '96, 7	6 80
Ithemer Yerkes, t l, '96, 7	9 80

CARLTON.

Delilah Holmes, 4 acres, '93, 4	3 32
John Roland, 80 acres, '96, 7	27 02
A J Holmes, 4 acres, '93, 5, 6, 7	12 66

HAMILTON.

Jesse Gregory, town lot, '93, 4	5 60
Chas A McLaughlin, 58a, '96, 7	25 70

COLORED LIST.—PETERSBURG.

Maria Parker's hrs, t l, '94, 6, 7	4 06
Melvina Parker, t l '93, 5, 6, 7	4 08
America Walton, t l '95, 6, 7	3 75

I will continue to advertise from month to month until all taxes due me are collected.

C. C. ROBERTS,
Ex-Sheriff Boone County.

NOTICE.

I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first-class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.

JOHN WALSH,
Normansville, Ky.

EVERETT HELMS

—PROPRIETOR,—

The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,

Petersburg, Ky.

Will be pleased to

CUBA

Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.

BATH DEPT.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.

TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE DELHI FERRY

To The City.

Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.

A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.

NO DELAY.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Att'y's fee before patent.

Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed proposals for the building of a school house will be received by the trustees of District No. 31, (Pt. Pleasant). Size of building, 24 x30. Bids will be opened at the school house Saturday, July 30th, at 3 p. m. Plans and specifications can be seen at J. H. Walton's. The trustees reserve the right to reject any or all bids

J. H. WALTON, Chairman.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1898. NO. 40.

In some respects Sampson is this country's Weyler.

"In peace prepare for war," said George Washington, and so say we all now.

Man for man the American is not outclassed as a fighter by any foreigner.

Sampson's tendency is that which sometimes causes a fellow to be called "a slick duck."

Since the surrender of Santiago the war has developed some features of a love-feast.

Hon. E. E. Settle, of Owenton, has been declared the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Ashland district. Having gained the nomination once, he is having easy sailing.

The Georgetown News issued an extra edition giving a minute account of the execution of the negro, Vinegar, who murdered his wife. It displayed great enterprise on the part of Mr. Gaines, proprietor of the News.

The war has given politics a back seat in this country, and the congressional campaigns this fall will be void of their usual spirit. When this country's interest comes in conflict with that of a neighbor, home matters become only secondary.

It is utterly impossible for the newspaper correspondents in Cuba to agree in regard to the simplest incident. Their reports of the Scovel—Schafter setto differ as to which was the aggressor, and as to what caused the trouble between the General and the correspondent.

The spirit of American patriotism was never more ardent than it is now, and that those were true prophets who declared that at the first threat of foreign war all internal disputes should be forgotten and North and South, East and West would be united as one man.

There are a great many in this country who will believe nothing else than that the American army was fought to a standstill at Santiago, and that the number of killed and wounded was much larger than that announced publicly. Nevertheless Gen. Shafter made a big capture.

Porto Rico is designated as the next Spanish strong-hold to receive attention from the American army and navy. Havana is likely to remain unmolested until the war is to receive the finishing touches, unless Spain hastens the suspension of hostilities by obeying Uncle Sam's mandate and gets out of Cuba.

Spanish ship owners have been awarded the contract for transporting the prisoners captured at Santiago back to Spain. They are to get $20 for each private and $55 for each officer transported. The idea of sending these prisoners back home is a good one and will save this country the very large sum it would have cost to detain them here.

At Chickamauga Gen. Scarcity-of-Water is causing the troops more trouble than anything else, and one day last week, after having been without water for nine hours, the privates charged Col. Gaither's tent and captured his water cooler and contents. The Colonel realized the condition of his boys and caused them no trouble on account of the breach of discipline.

It never was the intention of this country to go to Spain to fight. This was proven by one of the provisions in the surrender of Santiago, viz: That the Spanish troops be transported to Spain as soon as possible after they laid down their arms. If such a thing had been seriously considered the aforesaid provision would never have been considered by this country.

The injuries done to the Maine were entirely unlike those produced by an internal explosion such as destroyed the Vizcaya, which was torn to pieces by the explosion of one of her own torpedoes.

Admiral Cervera has about concluded that this is a much safer country than Spain for him to spend the remainder of his days in. The consideration with which he has been treated since his capture, and the fear of being court martialed if he returns home, are causing him to seriously consider the renunciation of his allegiance to Spain, and being naturalized as a citizen of the United States.

Admiral Sampson displayed a good deal of check as well as greed when he demanded of Gen. Shafter the vessels that surrendered to him (Shafter) along with Santiago. He wanted to put a prize crew on each of them and secure another large slice of prize money, but Shafter informed him that he could not get them, and foiled the Admiral's attempt to thrust his hand into Uncle Sam's pocket for something to which he has no right. Another failure for Sampson.

Garcia who was in command of the Cuban troops at Santiago is indignant at Gen. Shafter, commander of the Americans at that place. If Garcia's letter to the American General is a correct statement of facts he has grounds for complaint, but he will not advance the cause of Cuba by tendering his resignation as commander of Cuban troops, and retiring to the woods to pout until it is accepted by President Gomez. The principal cause of Garcia's anger is because he was not consulted in regard to any of the arrangements for the surrender of Toral, but he ought to remember that Gen. Shatter was a very busy man at that time, and might not have been as considerate of the Cuban General's importance as he should have been.

The crop circular for July, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture places the acreage of corn in the entire country at three per cent. less than last year. The falling off in the leading corn producing States is as follows: In Illinois, 502,000 acres; 303,000 in Iowa; 661,000 in Missouri; 772,000 in Kansas; 482,000 in Nebraska, while many of the other States in the corn belt show a considerable decrease as compared with last year's area. In the south the increase ranges from 1 to 8 per cent. The condition is 7.6 points higher than it was at the corresponding date last year. Iowa alone reports a condition of 100 per cent.

The condition of winter wheat was 4.5 points higher than it was at the corresponding period last year, and 4.3 points higher than the July average for the past ten years. The average condition of spring and winter wheat combined is 4.5 points higher than at the corresponding period last year. On the first of July there was 3.36 per cent. of 1897 crop still in the hands of the farmer.

As compared with last year the acreage of potatoes is increased 1.3 per cent. and the average condition is 95.5, being 7.7 points higher than at the corresponding period last year, and 2.2 points above the ten years' average. The improved condition, as compared with last year, is very general, nearly the entire principal potato growing section being included.

The outlook for an apple crop is very poor the country over.

Estimates of the world's wheat crop begin to indicate a crop almost or quite equal to that of 1894, but these estimates are too early to be considered entirely reliable. The area of wheat was increased in most countries. In Russia cereals suffered much from drought in the east, and from excessive rains in the south.

A large number of sick and wounded soldiers have been received at Ft. Thomas, where they are receiving the very best attention.

"The Congressional campaign," says the Covington Record, "will soon be in full bloom in this district. Col. [illegible] S. Berry is a sure winner."

Cincinnati is making arrangements for a tremendous crowd at the G. A. R. encampment in September. Not less than 500,000 visitors are expected.

The United States is feeding five times as many Spanish in Cuba as reconcentrados for the satisfaction of whose ravenous appetites the war was declared.

The Gibson House Company, operating the Gibson House, one of the most popular hotels in Cincinnati, made an assignment Monday. The assets are given at $175,000; liabilities, $60,000.

The Spaniards had devoured all but about 150 of the horses they had at Santiago when the city was first besieged by the Americans. Rations were getting distressingly short with the Dons.

Several American newspaper correspondents in Cuba have been given their passports by General Shafter, whose notions as to how military affairs should be conducted does not coincide with theirs, in other words these correspondents had become entircly too fresh for a climate so warm as that of Cuba.

And Admiral Sampson is reported to have been engaged in the silencing business some more. The trouble about the Admiral's silencings is they are not attended with the success that has followed those of Dewey and Schley. Sampson has never been known to silence a fort that did not fire at his ships as they retired from the scene of action. He is a great failure as a "silencer."

It will no doubt be a matter of surprise to many to learn that a wide spread famine has existed in the agricultural regions of Russia since last autumn, affecting 40,000,000 of people. Attention from the fact has been diverted in this country, by the war now in progress. According to the continental press the distress consequent upon the lack of food is increasing, and disease is adding to the peril of the inhabitants.

The Spanish Journals have been reporting the several disastrous defeats since the Americans took a hand in the war as victories for Spain, and thousands of people in that country believe that the American troops and navy have been about destroyed, but when the twenty thousand prisoners taken at Santiago, are returned and scattered over Spain, begin to tell the people the facts in the case and they learn how they have been deceived, it may create a disturbance that will give a very large element that has already proven itself troublesome a broader license in that direction and it will require more attention than heretofore to keep the dissatisfied populace under control.

Last Saturday's Louisville Dispatch contained the following from Burlington in regard to the coming Democratic nomination for Congress in this district:

"Boone county will have eleven delegates in the Sixth Kentucky District Democratic Congressional Convention, which will nominate a successor to Hon. A. S. Berry, this fall, and it is conceded that the tall silver poplar of the Licking will get the entire delegation.

"Hon. N. S. Walton, of Utzinger, is regarded an elegant piece of Congressional timber, and has been strongly urged by many friends to become a candidate, but he seems to have turned a deaf ear to their entreaties.

"Hon. Harry Baker, of Florence, also has a host of friends who have exhausted every possible means of securing him as a candidate."

Pith of the Press.

Dewey still takes the cake.—Boston Globe.

The next thing to be done is to Watsonize Spain.—Toledo Blade.

Admiral Sampson knows what it feels like to be "left on third."—Denver News.

Blanco's voice is still for war. It will be stiller if he gets war.—Chicago Time Herald.

Anyway, Uncle Sam is opening up some fine new fields for the missionaries.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

If Admiral Camara brings his fleet over to this side of the water Cowght to have it convoyed.—N. [illegible]rald.

Upton it comes to boiling down and guns and the whole story in Shafter with Toral as well as he fights.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Dewey's advice to Diedrichs should be made a command at Berlin: "Keep out of the line of fire."—Chicago Times Herald.

Sagasta seems to have become tired of the bitter end towards which he was going to push the war.—New York Press.

Gomez has not congratulated Shafter yet, but he will, no doubt, so soon as a line of communication is open.—Kansas City Times.

"To the men behind the guns! Let the officers cheer the crew!" Schley said that and it was worthy of him.—New York World.

General Toral might put it this way: "We have met the enemy, and he has kindly promised to give us back to you."—Cleveland Leader.

If Admiral Camara will put cow bells on his warships he will confer a personal favor on our friend Commodore Watson.—Pittsburg News.

Toral was starved out, and it is very probable that the same agency will compel Blanco to give up Havana in due time.—Philadelphia Ledger.

General Miles has made millions of friends by the generous and well-deserved tribute which he paid to General Shafter.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Gen. Wheeler has been in evidence all through the Santiago campaign. The old man grows younger as the war goes on.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Germans over at Manilla will not have to guess what Dewey means; he will continue to make his meaning quite plain.—San Francisco Examiner.

When the Spanish soldiers first saw General Shafter they were, no doubt, impressed with the belief that our Yankee prize pigs were well fed.—Denver News.

Captain Eulate of the Vizcaya says the Brooklyn did it. And the target ought to be able to guess pretty well as to who hits the bull's eye.—Chicago Times Herald.

Commodore Watson may turn out to be another Dewey, against whom submarine mines and harbor emplacements would be opposed in vain.—Chicago Times Herald.

Somebody suggests that during his stay here Cervera be treated well and often. There shouldn't be any more corking the bottle where he's concerned.—Philadelphia Times.

The submarine mines were ordered removed from the Maine seacoast in time to permit Hon. Tom Reed to take his annual bath in peace.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The gentlemen who were accused of having indorsed Hon. W. D. Bynum for a Federal office are falling over each other in their eagerness to establish alibis.—Washington Post.

In his supervision of the campaign against Santiago, the Commander-in Chief of the army and navy, President McKinley has acted with vigor and directness.—N. Y. World.

Just after the naval battle off Santiago General Blanco is said to have wired the Spanish Navy Department: "Our sailors are getting along swimmingly."—Minneapolis Journal.

Admiral Cervera says he knows from experience that the Oregon is an eighteen knot ship, though she is down on the naval register for fifteen knots.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The victory of Commodore Schley should call the attention of Congress to the present act permitting such appointments, and the law should be repealed.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The insurgents in the Philippines are crowding General Augusti very closely, and Admiral Dewey may possibly have trouble in restraining them if that be his intention.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

In subscribing for $10,000 worth of war bonds Mr. Cleveland furnishes ample evidence that he is not suffering from the hard times, and that he knows a good bone when he sees it.—Chicago Journal.

Commodore Schley remains silent. He evidently understands that his achievement will be remembered without any undue efforts on his part in calling attention to it.—Cleveland Leader.

No suspicion can attach to Commodore Schley of a disposition to snatch honors that belong to others. The whole country will join with him in giving credit to the men behind the guns.—Washington Times.

Perhaps, after all, Admiral Cervera would better renounce his allegiance to Spain and become an American citizen. It does not now look as if his welcome home would be very cordial.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Shafter has not a single mark in the error column thus far. The game at Santiago was closed by a three-base hit which brought in the American troops and retired the Spaniards without a run.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The ominous and prolonged silence of the Honorable Bill Chandler justifies the hope that he is at last loading some thirteen-inch shells for that long-promised bombardment of the Honorable Marcus A. Hanna.—Chicago Chronicle.

The use of barbed wire defenses by the Weyler soldiery in modern Cuban warfare is mildness itself compared to the methods adopted by the Sixteenth Century Spaniards in the West Indies. They set out poisoned stakes.—Philadelphia Press.

"This garrison dies, but never surrenders," was the decree which General Linares sent forth from Santiago. Nevertheless, the most of it preferred surrender to death, but General Linares speaks for the typical bombastic Spaniard.—Indianapolis Journal.

When Watson visits the coast of Spain it will be poor policy for Camara to come out and fight unless he wishes to join Cervera at Annapolis. What is left of the Spanish navy would not last an hour under Watson's guns.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Devious Definitions.

Hack-writer—A sort of literary huckster.

Forgettery—Better than memory at times.

Kiss—A wireless telegraph message to the heart.

Chatterbox—The one occupied by a theater party.

Kaleidoscope—Another name for a woman's mind.

Agreeable—A person who always agrees with you.

Hog—An animal that gets right down to the root of things.

Blunders—In others synonymous with our own mistakes.

Success—The one road on the map that leads to popularity.

Divorce—The only difference between matrimony and alimony.

Debt—A trap that man baits, sets and then deliberately walks into.

Quinine—A bitter enemy of the ague and one that's hard to shake.

Usurer—The only man who takes too much interest in his business.

Dentist—A man who looks down in the mouth when he has work.

Chivalry—That good old age when people actually married for love.

Argument — Something that it takes a lot of to get lies well established.

Classical—The kind of music one is supposed to like because it comes high.

Society—A Punch and Judy show in which the figures are dollars instead of sense.

Advice—Something that people relish only when it confirms their own opinion.—Chicago News.

It did not take the Porto Rico expedition long to put to sea after the President's hurry up message was sent.

FROM GALLATIN COUNTY.

Independent

The Gallatin County Teachers' Institute will be held in Warsaw, beginning Aug. 8th, 1898.

D. D. Clements, of Mt. Zion, Grant County, purchased about 600 head of lambs in the county recently and was here Thursday to receive them. The average price paid was about $4 50 per hundred.

Last Friday night Sam Hall, who was confined in jail for the burglarizing of the depot office at Sparta and several stores there on and about the 28th of June, made his escape from the jail about 7 o'clock. Mr. Speaks, the jailer, says: "About 7 o'clock I was called up stairs to bring some drinking water. When I went into the corridor with the water, I left the outside door unlocked but closed. I immediately missed Hall and discovered he had escaped. My wife was sitting in the room near th[illegible] did not see him pass by, and he must have dropped over the banisters instead of going down stairs." Mr. Speaks was terribly worked up over Hall's escape. No tidings have since been heard of the fugitive. It is supposed he hid in the shadow of the wall and when the jailer left the door he immediately slipped out.

Thursday a very unfortunate affair occurred at the Court House during the progress of the Hamilton-McDanell case. Ves Carver, who lives in the county, near Sparta, was a witness in the case for the Hamilton side, and Hon R. B. Brown, was one of the consel for McDanells,' and during the course of the trial Mr. Brown had occasion to complain of Mr. Carver coming into the court room when the other witnesses were testifying, and had also been ordered out by Judge Greene several times. When the case closed and Mr. Brown began his pleadings. Mr. Carver came in and made a remark reflecting on Mr. Brown's character, and started toward Brown, who seized a glass goblet, used for drinking and hurled it at Carver, striking him in the face, cutting several severe gashes and breaking the goblet in little pieces. Carver had his wounds dressed by Dr. John T. Robinson.

The following is from the Saguache (Colorado) Crescent of June 23 and while the account does not say so, we have been informed that Frey was sentenced to the penitentiary for the period of ten years:

"Last Thursday morning the case of The People vs John R. Frey, charged with the murder of Prior M. Cloud, commenced in the District Court.

"Frey set up the plea of self defense and claimed that Cloud assaulted him before he struck the fatal blow.

"The testimony was all in early Friday afternoon and the argument closed about 5 o'clock. At 7:15 the jury came to an agreement and the judge and attorneys sent for. The jury handed in their verdict which found Frey guilty of murder in the second degree—all that the state asked for.

"The verdict of the jury meets with general approval here. Some would have been satisfied had it been simply manslaughter, but all agreed that Frey should be punished. We understand that the jury only balloted three times and that the first ballot stood 9 for murder in the second degree and three for manslaughter.

"Prior M. Cloud was killed on the morning of November 2nd, 1897. He and Frey were neighbors. Frey had taken up Cloud's horses, claiming that they had destroyed some peas belonging to him which he had grown on Cloud's land. He struck Cloud over the head with a club and the post mortem showed that his skull was cracked from jaw to jaw. He never regained consciousness after receiving the blow and died a few days afterwards."

[Prior M. Cloud, who was killed, was a brother of W. T. Cloud, of the Limaburg neighborhood, this county.—Ed.]

There is much criticism in Washington of the hobnobbing of American officers with Spanish officers of the surrendered army at Santiago. The general opinion is that if our officers properly remembered the Maine they would confine their association with Spaniards to military courtesy.

Michigan has a $250,000 peppermint crop this season. The ice crop, last winter was enormous, but there has been no statement as to that other crop. If necessary Kentucky can supply it.

Good game of ball in Burlington next Monday.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. : : KENTUCKY.

NEW ORLEANS has a blind bootblack; but then hardly any bootblack is able to see that your boots are not in need of a shine.

BEN JORDAN, the prize fighter, who recently whipped George Dixon, America's champion featherweight, is the son of a London clergyman and has been disowned by his family because of his taking up with pugilism.

THE contract for printing United States postage stamps next year includes 2,726,769,525 two-cent stamps, and 1,344,526,630 one-cent stamps. The smallest number of any one variety will be 4,420 $50 stamps. These are used for postage upon newspapers mailed in bulk.

Now that Hawaii has been annexed, the Queen Dowager Kapiolani is suing her two nephews for property in Honolulu, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, which she had previously deeded to them, while another report is to the effect that the ex-queen is going back to the islands to live.

AFTER all our laughing at Spanish war news the most truthful item from any origin since the conflict began is the Madrid dispatch published about the time of our first landing in Cuba which said: "Adm. Cervera, it is rumored in political circles, will immediately undertake a step the probable result of which will be favorable to peace."

THERE is much satisfaction in the reports of the rapid healing of wounds in the ship hospitals of the Cuban fleet. Under the modern system of anti-septic dressing there is no formation of pus and no fever, so that the wounds heal very rapidly and a much better record is made than during the civil war. Of course, there is a great reduction of suffering as well as an increased saving of life.

IT is said that the last direct descendant of Amerigo Vespucci, who is living in Florence, Italy, is the Countess America Talon. Her husband, Viscount Talon, was a Frenchman, who fought in the Crimea, and was mortally wounded at Solferino. They were once rich, but the widow has little left to live upon except a small pension accorded her by Spain in memory of her great ancestor.

NAVAL Cadet Hiroaki Tamura, who is at Annapolis through the courtesy of this government, is a very much disappointed young man because the Japanese legation at Washington will not permit him to aid Uncle Sam in whipping the Spaniards. Tamura is in this country under the supervision of his own government and to let him enter the United States service would be a violation of the neutrality laws on the part of Japan.

CANOVAS DEL CASTILLO'S widow has received a magnificent present from admirers of her husband in the Philippines. It is a large map in relief of the Philippines, made of beaten gold, the towns marked by rubies, the names written in sapphires and the dedication in diamonds. The map is set in a frame of gold and jewels, with a gold bust of Canovas on top, and this is inclosed in a box of precious wood artistically carved. The gift it valued at $30,000.

PROF. CHARLES E. MUNROE, a noted chemist and dean of the Columbia university, has been experimenting with Jovite, a new explosive, and predicts it will take the place of gun cotton on the Vesuvius. Jovite is the invention of a Swiss named Blomen and is a mixture of certain coal-tar products and a metallic nitrate. It can not be exploded by concussion, but it has an energy equal to dynamite. Shells filled with jovite have been fired through 14 inches of nickel steel armor without bursting until after coming out at the far side.

A RESIDENT of West Gouldsboro, Me., has in his possession a curious stone, the size of which is constantly increasing. It was found 30 years ago on the shore of a cove by the brother of the present owner, who carried it home because of its remarkable resemblance to a large egg. Afterward it was noticed that the stone had increased in size, and in ten years it had doubled its weight. Originally the rock tipped the scales at about ten pounds, and now, at the end of 30 years, it weighs 68 pounds. Large sums have been offered for the curiosity.

ADM. CAMARA is English on his mother's side, for his father, who was a marine captain, married a Miss Livermore, in Liverpool. He, like his comrade, Adm. Cervera, graduated from the naval academy at San Fernando, which he entered in the very year that the latter was leaving (1851). He saw service in the Morocco expedition, and did not gain his captaincy until 1871. In private life Adm. Camara is somewhat of a moody recluse. He is an ancient monarchist, and was one of those who advocated the giving of the crown of Spain to Alfonso XII.

LAST winter Commodore Schley remarked to a company of gentlemen in New York, that if the time should come when we should have any difficulty with a foreign nation, involving naval operation, there would probably be some surprises in store in connection with the performances of our gunners. He stated that the practice of gunners in the United States navy, firing at targets, etc., was, he believed, more thorough and better than in any other navy in existence, and that the marksmanship of the gunners in the American navy was superior to that of any other.

MAY BE A CHANGE.

Commodore Schley Liable to Succeed Adm. Sampson in Command of Fleet.

Sampson's Display of "Caution" Stands Out in Striking Contrast to Schley's Daring and Intrepidity—Navy Department Waiting for News.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Gen. Miles is still at Guantanamo, but there will be no fruther delay in this expedition. Gen. Brooke's army at Chickamauga is now on the move towards the places of embarkment, if the orders of the war department have been carried out. Preparations for convoying the fleet have been made, and things ought to go along smoothly now. The department is anxiously awaiting news from Manila, and it is the belief of the officials of the administration that Adm. Dewey has already taken the city.

There is considerable gossip about the president's order to Adm. Sampson commanding him to co-operate at once with Gen. Miles. It is open gossip in Washington that Adm. Sampson's action may have serious consequences for these officers. President McKinley is extremely irritated and a change of commanders of the fleet would not be surprising. Adm. Sampson has been a bureau officer at Washington all his life, his record on the quarter deck since the war began has not been remarkable for either brilliant initiative or daring. He has at all times displayed a degree of "caution" that stands out in striking contrast to Commodore Schley's daring and intrepidity, and it would not be surprising if, as the result of recent events, Adm. Sampson were recalled to Washington for the more congenial ease and deliberation of a desk and Commodore Schley were ordered to fly the pennant of the admiral commanding the fleet.

Sharp Trick of the Spaniards.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Shipping men here say that the Spanish Trans-Atlantic Co., in securing the contract with the government to carry Santiago prisoners back to Spain, played a sharp trick and hoodwinked officials at Washington. It is said that many of their ships have been tied up in Mexican waters and other ports since the war. Now they will be able to get back to Spain and will likely become auxiliary cruisers.

Gen. Grant's New Command.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Brig. Gen. Fred D. Grant has been assigned by the secretary of war to the command of the 3rd brigade of Gen. Wilson's division of the 1st army corps. Two brigades of this division are already assigned for duty with the Porto Rico invasion, Gen. Ernest's having left Charleston and Gen. Hains leaving Chickamauga Friday for Newport News.

Horrible Find.

BOSTON, July 23.—The dead bodies of six infants, each wrapped in paper, were found in a vacant lot in the sixth Roxbury district Friday. Medical examiner Draper, after an autopsy, said the youngest child was one mouth old and the eldest three months. Some were strangled while others were allowed to die of neglect.

Tornado in North Dakota.

MINOT, N. D., July 23.—A tornado struck Minot Thursday night, demolishing 17 buildings and injuring a number of people. No one was killed. The county hospital was destroyed and several of the inmates badly injured. Six loaded cars on the Soo tracks were blown 100 feet from the rails and demolished.

Bryan's Regiment at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 23.—The 3d regiment of Nebraska volunteers, in command of Col. William Jennings Bryan, arrived here Friday on six special transports over the Plant System railway. Bryan's regiment will be encamped at Panama park, five miles from the city.

Coal for Dewey's Fleet.

MANILA, July 18, via Hong Kong, July 23.—The British steamers Cyrus and Nyanza have arrived here with coal for the American fleet.

ON BATTLEFIELDS.

Col. Strong's Latest Equipments for Telegraphing and Telephoning Equal to Any Emergency.

WASHINGTON, July 23. — The very latest developments in field telegraphy and telephony was represented in a handsomely equipped double-horse wagon that was driven into the courtyard of the war department Friday for the inspection of the military officers there. The wagon is one of 20 designed by Col. Strong, assisted by Maj. Dunwoodie, of the signal corps, to construct flying telegraph lines over battlefields to maintain army headquarters in communication with the heads of divisions and with the central authorities at Washington. This wagon has four folding tables which, when thrown up, form desks upon which are placed a set of telegraph and telephone instruments. Batteries are carried beneath the seats while the coils of wire are so arranged as to be strung out as fast as the wagon can be driven. The wagon is intended to be followed by a heavier vehicle containing lances, spare coils of wire and even sections of submarine cables, so that no obstacle to telegraphic communication will be afforded by a considerable stream of water. The wagons will be sent to the front as rapidly as possible.

SPANISH PRISON

Government of Spain Request That They Be Landed at Vigo, Coruna, on Atlantic and Santander.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Madrid government officially has recognized the proposed return by the United States of the Santiago prisoners to Spain. This recognition came Friday in the form of a letter to Gen. Shafter from Gen. Toral, commander of the Spanish troops at Santiago. The fact of the receipt of the letter was communicated to the war department Friday night in the following dispatch from Gen. Shafter:

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 22.

H. C. Corbin, Adjutant General, Washington—I am just in receipt of a letter from Gen. Toral saying the Spanish secretary of war desires the troops landed at Vigo, Coruna, on the Atlantic, and at Santander, in the Bay of Biscay.

(Signed) SHAFTER,
Major General, Commanding.

The request of the Spanish government will be complied with unless something unforeseen should prevent.

ST. MICHAEL'S CATHEDRAL, SANTIAGO, BLOWN UP IN BOMBARDMENT.

The Spaniards were using this church for storing ammunition, and when a shell from Sampson's fleet struck it the whole church was blown to pieces.

TO BE REBUKED.

Gen. Shafter Will Receive Instructions to Repair the Breach Between Him and Gen. Garcia.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—It is no violation of confidence to say that Gen. Shafter's course, in respect to Gen. Garcia, does not at all meet the approval of the administration. The matter was fully discussed at the cabinet meeting Friday, and it is understood that at least two of the president's advisers expressed themselves forcibly as well as freely. As a result Gen. Shafter will be instructed to adopt toward the Cuban insurgents a conciliatory policy, and to show to Gen. Garcia all the consideration due to his rank and services.

That no serious breach between the Cuban insurgents and the American forces will take place is earnestly hoped. But it is a question of grave uncertainty here how far Gen. Garcia will carry his resentment for the indignities to which he declares in his letter Gen. Shafter has subjected him.

The Cruiser Philadelphia.

MARE ISLAND, Cal., July 23.—The secondary battery for the cruiser Philadelphia has arrived from the east and the mechanics are rushing the work of getting the rapid-fire six-pounder and other guns in place. The ship will probably go to San Francisco Friday. She has received a quantity of coal, though her bunkers are not entirely filled. It is said that Capt. Wadleigh has received orders to proceed without a full supply of coal, as he has enough on board to reach Honolulu, where his bunkers can be filled.

ALLY NO LONGER.

Gen. Garcia Withdraws With Command From the American Army.

Wanted City of Santiago Turned Over to the Cubans—War Department Issues Orders That No Attention be Paid to Cubans as Allies.

SANTIAGO, July 20, VIA PLAYA DEL ESTE, July 22.—Gen. Garcia has written a letter to Gen. Shafter, in which he declares that he is disgusted at his treatment at the hands of the Americans, and will consequently withdraw his own forces to the hills, being no longer willing to submit to the indignities to which he has been subjected.

Among the things over which Gen. Garcia complains is the failure of the American commanders officially notify him of the surrender of the Spanish forces under Gen. Toral. He is also incensed at the fact that he was not invited to be present at the ceremony attending the formal capitulation of Santiago.

Another of the grievances is the action of Gen. Shafter in retaining the Spanish civil authorities in the administration of their functions in Santiago.

For these reasons he declares that he will no longer co-operate with the forces under Gen. Shafter's command, but will act independently, as he did before the American troops landed in Cuba. Gen. Shafter wired a formal answer to the Cuban leader's letter.

Gen. Shafter's plans contemplate the marching of his army north into the mountains, with a view of preserving the health of the troops, and a campaign against Holguin, which is occupied by 10,000 Spanish troops under command of Gen. Luque, may be the result of this movement.

Santiago is gradually resuming its normal aspect. Signs of business activity are visible everywhere in the opening of shops, stores, etc., and merchants, who fled from the city when its bombardment was threatened, are actively engaged in putting in order their places of business, which were wrecked or pillaged by the Spaniards after their fight at El Caney and Siboney.

The public market was open to-day. The city is quiet.

The Spanish officers and soldiers are as docile now as they were warlike a few days ago. They have not attempted to make trouble in any respect, and voluntarily assist the Americans in any way required.

Lieut. Delehanty, commander of the Suwanee, is acting as captain of the port, and is removing torpedoes and other obstructions in the harbor, their location being indicated by a Spanish officer of engineers. The mines are found to be almost useless. They are covered with marine growth and barnacles, and in some of them the explosives are saturated with water. One was found with half of its charge of gun cotton burned and the rest unexploded. The plungers on the contact mines were obstructed, rendering them useless also.

Lieut. Delehanty, in examining the wreck of the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes, found a tactical signal code, the code of the Spanish Trans-Atlantic steamship line and Spanish naval charts of the West Indies, corrected in ink.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—On Gen. Shafter's recommendations, all orders heretofore issued by Gen. Miles before he left Washington providing for the distribution of arms among the Cubans or leading supplies to Gomez or other insurgents, have been countermanded and no attention whatever will hereafter be paid to the Cubans as military allies. On the contrary, at the least sign of insubordination of the Cubans near him, Gen. Shafter has been ordered to disarm them. His reports allege them to be utterly worthless, to be skulkers and looters, and he expresses the utmost disgust for them.

WILL REMAIN IN AMERICA.

Adm. Cervera Expresses a Determination Not to Return to Spain at the End of the War With His Country.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 22.—A well-defined rumor, which can not, however, be traced to an authoritative source, was on everybody's lips here Thursday to the effect that Adm. Cervera had expressed a determination not to return to his native country at the close of hostilities between the United States and Spain. It is said that the admiral has decided to take up his residence in Boston, whither he will repair with his son, Lieut. Cervera, who is also a prisoner here, as soon as peace is declared. The Spanish officers who arrived Wednesday night on the Harvard were escorted through the city Thursday by members of the first contingent of prisoners and seem well satisfied with their quarters.

Instantly Killed.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 22.—Henry Spencer, aged 45, a bachelor much addicted to drink, leaped from the fourth story of the Carty building, corner of Main and Mill streets, in which he roomed, and was instantly killed. Two weeks ago Spencer made the threat which he executed Thursday night while intoxicated. His body was horribly mutilated. Spencer was a brother of Geo. E. Spencer, a former prominent shoe merchant, and Will E. Spencer, an insurance age

HOW SOUSA GOT HIS START.

Some Ancient Theatrical History as Related by Milton Nobles and Jack Haverly.

One day recently John E. Warner and Milton Nobles were conversing in front of the Dramatists' club, when they were joined by Jack Haverly. Warner and Haverly had met recently, but Nobles and the hustling manager had not met in many years. They eyed each other inquiringly. Then Warner said: "Of course you know Nobles, Jack?"

"Nobles?" said Haverly, in a puzzled sort of way, as he sized up the trim figure, waxed mustache and perennial youthful features of the comedian. "Not the Nobles who played 'The Phoenix' with me at the old Adelphi in Chicago in '77."

"Are you the original Jack Haverly?" asked Nobles, solemnly.

"The original and only," said Jack.

"Well, well," said Nobles, "I've often heard my father speak of you," and he grasped Haverly's hand cordially. There was an awkward pause, during which Warner chewed his mustache. Haverly looked dazed, and Nobles smiled amiably.

"Your father!" stammered Haverly. "Why, Nobles was a single man in '77; I know, because we compared notes; and I read of his marriage about ten years later, when I was out in the mines, and sent my congratulations. Still," he continued, after another awkward pause, "Nobles always was a versatile fellow."

By this time it began to dawn on the genial Jack that the "father" gag was a joke, and he joined in the laugh.

"By jingo!" said Haverly, "that was over 20 years ago. What have you done with the old 'Phoenix?'"

"Playing it yet, occasionally. Four repertoire companies made a living with it [illegible] son, and it has kept any number of professional pirates from becoming sneak thieves or paupers during the past 20 years. It pulled me out of a hole once, and now that I think of it, Warner, you booked that engagement with me at the Adelphi."

"Yes; it was the end of Nobles' first road season. I was his manager, and John P. Sousa, a youngster of 21, was his leader."

"That's right. I took him from Washington, where he was playing a violin in the orchestra. And the first music he ever wrote was the dramatic music of 'The Phoenix' as I use it to-day. His first march he dedicated to me, naming it the Nobles march. I still have the original score, in good condition. It's a rattling good march, too."—Dramatic Mirror.

War to the Death.

The slaughter was frightful.

The dead and dying were strewn about by thousands.

The wreck of matter and the wreck of material bore testimony to the awful work that had been done!

But the end was not yet, for Mrs. O'Houlihan, with her insect destroyer in hand, continued to pass to and fro among the detached pieces of furniture, slaying without mercy and spraying with a fierceness that betrayed long suffering and a grim determination to end it, even if the cost should mount up to a quarter.—Cleveland Leader.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

Soldiers are not the only ones who find drilling an awful bore. Think of the workman who put in the blasts.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a Constitutional Cure. Price 75c.

When a loafer finds a man busy he always inquires in the genial way common to loafers: "Busy?"—Atchison Globe.

The Light That Failed.

Yawper now keeps a grocery, but he loves to tell how near he came to being a great actor. "I'm a natural elocutionist," he tells, "and for that reason I found it pretty easy to get a good part in a fair theatrical organization. I went through all rehearsals like a star and the manager predicted all kinds of success for me. Among my lines there was a patriotic address, and there I came out particularly strong. I was delivering it on the first night and could just feel that I was making the cold chills run up and down the spines of my audience and covering them with goose flesh. Suddenly my memory became a blank. As I stood mute trying to gather the lines some little cues yelled 'louder.' I ran from the stage and never went back."—Detroit Free Press.

Sure Enough!

Mrs. Hoon—Why isn't this war prosecuted more rapidly?

Hoon—Why, you see, my dear, we can't lick the Spaniards any faster than we can catch them!—Puck.

For War Times.

Photographer to captain in his new uniform—Look fierce, please.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

You Can Get Tired

By working hard, and then you can get rested again. But if you are tired all the time it means that your blood is poor. You need to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great cure for that tired feeling because it is the great enricher and vitalizer of the blood. You will find appetite, nerve, mental and digestive strength in

Hood's Sarsaparilla

America's Greatest Medicine.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, indigestion. 25c.

152

Page Illustrated Catalogue, describing all of the famous

WINCHESTER GUNS AND WINCHESTER AMMUNITION

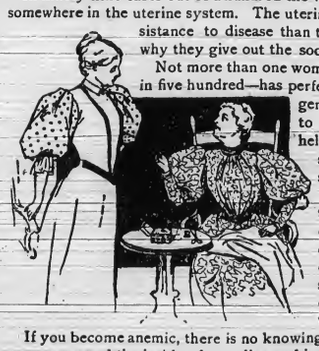
sent free to any address. Send your name on a postal card to

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.,
160 Winchester Ave., New Haven, Ct.

READERS OF THIS PAPER DESIRING TO BUY ANYTHING ADVERTISED IN ITS COLUMNS SHOULD INSIST UPON HAVING WHAT THEY ASK FOR, REFUSING ALL SUBSTITUTES OR IMITATIONS.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small 25c; large 50c. Book free. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.



WEAK SPOTS.

Everybody Comes Into This World With a Predisposition to Disease.

A Talk With Mrs. Pinkham About the Cause of Anemia.

Everybody comes into this world with a predisposition to disease of some particular tissue; in other words, everybody has a weak spot.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the weak spot in women is somewhere in the uterine system. The uterine organs have less resistance to disease than the vital organs; that's why they give out the soonest.

Not more than one woman in a hundred—nay, in five hundred—has perfectly healthy organs of generation. This points to the stern necessity of helping one's self just as soon as the life powers seem to be on the wane.

Excessive menstruation is a sign of physical weakness and want of tone in the uterine organs. It saps the strength away and produces anemia (blood turns to water).

If you become anemic, there is no knowing what will happen. If your gums and the inside of your lips and inside your eyelids look pale in color, you are in a dangerous way and must stop that drain on your powers. Why not build up on a generous, uplifting tonic, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Mrs. EDWIN EHRIG, 413 Church St., Bethlehem, Pa., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you that I am better than I have been for four years. I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills, and can say that I am perfectly cured. Doctors did not help me any. I should have been in my grave by this time if it had not been for your medicine. It was a godsend to me. I was troubled with excessive menstruation, which caused womb trouble, and I was obliged to remain in bed for six weeks. Mrs. Pinkham's medicine was recommended to me, and after using it a short time, was troubled no more with flooding. I also had severe pain in my kidneys. This, also, I have no more. I shall always recommend the Compound, for it has cured me, and it will cure others. I would like to have you publish this letter." (In such cases the dry form of Compound should be used.)

SANTIAGO CUBANS

They Resent Gen. Shafter's Attitude in Ignoring Gen. Garcia in the War.

THE LATTER'S ACTIONS APPROVED.

Many of the Cubans Favor the Scheme of a Protectorate With Eventual Annexation.

They Protest Against the Continuation of Spanish Officials in Office Appointed by Madrid, as a Matter of Principle—A Meeting Held.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 23, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 25.—The Cubans here resent Gen. Shafter's attitude in ignoring Gen. Garcia and refusing to allow the Cuban troops to enter Santiago or to consult Gen. Garcia on the terms of the surrender of the city.

Gen. Garcia's action in withdrawing his troops into the interior, his letter to Gen Shafter and his resignation of his command, forwarded to Gen. Gomez, are approved and applauded by all classes of natives. Gen. Garcia refused to accept a subordinate place, insisting that he was an ally. Gen. Shafter's answer saying that this was a war between the United States and Spain irrespective of Cuba's individual interest, and President McKinley's instructions with reference to the administration of the surrendered district, published here yesterday are interpreted as a tacit avowal of American intention to annex the island and not to grant independence.

This is opposed by the Cubans. Senor Joaquin Castillo, president of the San Carlos Cuban club, and a brother of Gen. Castillo, urges an official protest to President McKinley without delay saying "silence now would indicate our consent to the American attitude which is a plain breach of faith that the Cubans can not possibly tolerate."

A meeting was held Sunday afternoon at the San Carlos club to discuss the matter and it is probable that a protest was drawn up which will be submitted.

It is understood that many who were present at the meeting favored the scheme of a protectorate by the United States with eventual annexation after five or six years, but the protest is on a matter of principle, the main objection being the continuation in office of Spanish officials appointed by Madrid on the ground that Spaniards, as a conquered people, should not be vested with authority over Cubans, the allies and coadjutors of the United States and the representatives of a free and independent people. Such is understood to have been the tenor of the meeting.

SURRENDERED.

Spanish Troops to the Number of 3,903 and 350 Volunteers in San Luis and Palma Estriano Give Up Their Arms.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The war department at midnight posted the following:

SANTIAGO, via Linyti, July 24.—Adjutant General of the Army, Washington:

Lieut. Miley has returned from San Luis and Palma Estriano, where he went four days ago to receive surrender of Spanish troops. The number surrendered was larger than Gen. Toral reported—3,005 Spanish troops and 350 volunteer guerrillas—gave up their arms and gave parole and have gone to work; 3,000 stands of arms were turned in loaded on ox carts and started to the railroad; Spanish troops accompanying him to San Luis and all apparently greatly delighted at prospects of returning home. They were on the verge of starvation and I have to send them rations to-morrow. If the numbers keep up as they have there will be about 24,000 to ship away—nearly 12,000 here, 3,000 from San Luis, 6,000 from Guantanamo, and over 2,000 at Sagua and Baracoa. (Signed)

SHAFTER,
Major General Commanding.

German Steamer Fired Upon.

ST. THOMAS, July 25.—The German steamer Croatia, which arrived here Sunday, reports that she was fired upon three times Saturday night, about eight miles from San Juan de Porto Rico, by a ship said to form part of the American invading squadron. The Croatia was boarded by an officer understood to be from the United States cruiser New York. She was allowed to proceed to St. Thomas. The Croatia had no intention of entering San Juan.

Will Attack Havana in the Fall.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The armies of Gens. Shafter and Brooke, with Gen. Miles in command, will move upon Havana in the fall. Shafter's army will soon be moved to the United States, where they will rest until operations begin on Havana.

Car Barn Burned.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 23.—At an early hour Sunday morning the car barn of the Consolidated Traction Co., at Frankstown and Penn avenues, was completely gutted by fire, entailing a loss of about $175,000, well covered by insurance.

L.LES' ARMY.

It is Thought It Reached the Place of Rendezvous on Porto Rican Coast Sunday Night.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—It is said at the war department late Sunday that no news can be expected from any official source as to Gen. Miles' movements until Monday at the earliest. It is calculated that he arrived Sunday evening or Sunday night at the point on the coast of Porto Rico selected as the rendezvous for all the vessels of the expedition. Whether or not he will undertake to make a landing in advance of the arrival of the whole expedition will depend entirely upon conditions as he finds them. Should there be no Spanish force, or at least, an unconsiderable one, on the coast, the troops will be landed to relieve them from the disastrous effects of being confined closely on ship board under a tropical sun. The general has with him sufficient artillery to hold any position he may choose to occupy, supplemented as this artillery will be by the guns of his naval convoy. Meanwhile the department is making every effort to hurry along the remainder of the expedition. Some troops are now on their way from Tampa and Charleston and should reach Porto Rico by the middle of the week. Naval officials are assisting actively in getting the troops off and were engaged Sunday in sending the necessary orders to that and to the commanders of the naval auxiliary vessels which have been placed at the service of the war department. In the course of a day or two the troops brought from Chickamauga by Gen. Brooke will sail from Hampton Roads, where they have been arriving all day and are ready for the transports. There is a probability that Gen. Miles may be delayed for several days in his landing operations for lack of lighters, but several of these are now on their way and others will be hurried forward as rapidly as possible. However it may be as to his speedy landing on Porto Rico soil, it will be well along toward the end of this week before the active land campaign will be begun in Porto Rico.

CUBAN PETITION.

Santiagoans Thank the People of America For Freedom From Spanish Yoke, But Want Their Own Government.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 25.—The following is the text of the documents:

To President McKinley: "The undersigned, Cubans by birth, land owners and residents of Santiago de Cuba, representing with their families the non-combatant population that suffered for many years Spanish rule in this section of the island, wish to express their warmest thanks to the people of the United States for delivering them from the insufferable yoke of Spanish rule.

"They wish also to express their absolute confidence in the good faith and humanitarian purposes of the United States and in the pledge that the territory of Cuba is not to be conquered by the American troops for purposes of annexation. We believe and would urge that our own people are capable of fulfilling the international obligation to establish a government for the island. Cuba in the future may possibly become, in the course of a few years, part of the territory of the United States, thus increasing the comfort and happiness of this people, but now all desire a government of our own, as compensation for the sufferings and heroism of our army, and the definite establishment of the Cuban republic, with Cuban authorities, in accordance with the resolution of the United States congress.

"We hope that the present state of affairs at Santiago, where Spaniards are still the administrators of our interests, property and fate will be brief; that the city may soon be turned over to the Cubans and that our army may enter, the flag of Cuba waving triumphantly beside the American flag, as Cuban soldiers fought side by side with the Americans against the common enemy."

No Yellow Fever in Tampa.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Owing to persistent reports that there was yellow fever at Tampa, notwithstanding denials by the Florida state officials, Dr. Brunner, the yellow fever specialist, who represented the marine hospital service at Havana until the outbreak of the war, was directed to make an investigation. He reports that after a close inspection of Tampa it can be stated that there is not a case of yellow fever there.

Sunday's Games.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—The baseball game between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh resulted as follows: Cincinnati 6, Pittsburgh 5. The game at Chicago was Chicago 3, Cleveland 9. The Louisville game was Louisville 3, St. Louis 1.

Miss Schley Arrives in Madrid.

MADRID, July 25.—Miss Jessie Schley, delegate from the Peace society of Paris, has arrived at Madrid with the intention, it is asserted, of interviewing members of the cabinet with a "humanitarian object."

No More Racing at Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, July 25.—The Cicero town board, at a special meeting Saturday evening, decided that there shall be no more racing at Hawthorne.

AT MANZANILLO.

Commander Todd's Report to Adm. Sampson of the Naval Engagement.

Three Spanish Transports, El Gloria, Jose Garcia and La Puricima Conception Destroyed or Burned.—Three Gunboats Destroyed.

PLAYA DEL ESTE, Guantanamo Bay, July 22.—The following is the official account of the latest naval victory—that at Manzanillo—modestly told by Commander Todd, of the United States gunboat Wilmington, in his report to Adm. Sampson:

"At 7 o'clock on the morning of July 18 the vessels of blockade duty in this vicinity, the Wilmington, Helena, Scorpion, Osceola, Hornet, Wampatuck and Osceola approached the harbor of Manzanillo from the westward. At half past two o'clock the Wilmington and Helena entered the northern channel toward the city, the Scorpion and Osceola the mid channel, and the Hist, Hornet and Wampatuck the south channel, the movements of the vessels being so timed as to bring them within effective range of the shipping at about the same moment.

At 7:30 fire was opened on the shipping, and after a deliberate fire, lasting about two and a half hours, three Spanish transports, El Gloria, Jose Garcia and La Puricima Conception, were burned and destroyed. The pontoon, which was the harbor guard and store ship probably for ammunition, was burned and blown up. Three gunboats were destroyed. One other was driven ashore and sunk and a third was driven ashore and is believed to have been disabled.

The firing was maintained at a range which is believed to be beyond the range of the shore artillery. It was continued until after a gradual closing in the shore batteries opened fire at a comparative short range when the ships were recalled, the object of the expedition having been accomplished, and the ideas of the commander-in-chief carried out, as I understood them, that is, to destroy the enemy's shipping but not to engage the field batteries or forts.

No casualties occurred on board any of our vessels. Great care was taken in directing the fire that as little damage as possible should be done to the city itself, and so far as could be observed, little if any was done.

All of our vessels were handled with sound discretion and excellent judgment by the several commanding officers.

The Spanish loss is believed to have been in the neighborhood of a hundred killed. The gunboats destroyed or driven ashore were the Delgado, Guantanamo, Ostralia, Continola and Guardian.

ADMIRAL CAMARA.
(Commander of the Only Remaining Spanish Squadron.)

MAILS OPEN.

Postmaster General Issues an Order, With General Instructions, as to Postage to Santiago.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Postmaster General Smith Thursday issued orders as to mail for Santiago, Cuba.

The postage rates applicable to articles originating in or destined for the United States in the mails in question are fixed as follows, viz:

First-class matter, five cents per half ounce.

Postal cards, single, two cents, double, four cents.

Second and third class matter, one cent for each two ounces.

Fourth class matter, one cent for each ounce.

Registration fee, eight cents.

Only United States postage stamps will be valid for the prepayment of postage. Prepayment shall not be required, but if postage is not prepaid in full, double that amount of the deficient postage at the above rates shall be collected on delivery to addresses in the United States or Cuba.

The mails for Santiago must be addressed to the United States postal agent at Santiago, and his delivery of any article may be withheld if deemed necessary by the proper military or naval authorities.

Grosvenor Going to Europe.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Gen. Grosvenor is expected in Washington on Saturday to settle up some congressional matters before sailing for Europe. He will go to New York on Saturday and will sail for Europe for several weeks' vacation early next week.

Fatal Fall From Train.

RICHMOND, Ind., July 22.—John H. Parish, a Pennsylvania railroad freight conductor, fell from his train Thursday morning and was instantly killed.

LIEUT. HOBSON.

The Merrimac Hero Arrives in Washington and Has a Consultation With Secretary Long.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Lieut. Hobson, who took the Merrimac into the channel at Santiago, arrived here Friday on the United States cruiser St. Paul, and it is believed proceeded at once to Washington by the way of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is possible that Hobson is the bearer of Adm. Sampson's report of the naval engagement off Santiago. When Hobson left a ferry-boat at the foot of Whitehall street it took but a few minutes to learn his identity, and a crowd soon gathered to cheer him.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Lieut. Hobson, the Merrimac hero, arrived at the navy department Friday afternoon. Secretary Long came out of his private office and grasping Hobson with both hands, said with sincerity, "Lieutenant, I am glad—very glad to see you," then he drew him into his office, where the lieutenant was introduced to Assistant Secretary Allen and was greeted by Capt. Crowninshield, Capt. Bradford and Pension Commissioner Evans, who happened to drop in. He spent half an hour in conference with the secretary and then returned to the club to rest.

It is said Hobson's mission is to acquaint the secretary of the navy regarding the work of raising the sunken Spanish vessels at Santiago. The lieutenant called upon the president and was warmly greeted.

CALIFORNIA TROOPS.

They Will Form the Advance of the Attack in Force at Manila—They Have Advanced to Janbo.

NEW YORK, July 23.—A special to the Journal dated Cavite, July 19, via Hong Kong, July 22, says:

The entire regiment of 1st California volunteers advanced Tuesday to Janbo, only two miles from the Spanish lines surrounding Manila. The California troops have been thrown out by Gen. Anderson to form the advance of the attack in force. South Manila is to be captured first. The Colorado and Utah batteries are being landed at Parangue directly from the ships. The 10th Pennsylvania volunteers, with the rest of the artillery, will land at Malabon, just north of Manila.

Brig. Gen. Francis V. Green, formerly colonel of the 71st regiment of New York, is in command of the advance, Gen. Anderson remaining in Cavite.

The Nipe Expedition.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The following message has been received at the war department:

"PLAYA, July 22, 1898.

"Expedition to Nipe has been entirely successful, although the mines had not been removed for want of time. The Spanish cruiser Jorge Juan, defending the place, was destroyed without loss on our part. The Annapolis and Wasp afterward proceeded from Nipe to assist in the landing of the commanding general of the army on arrival at Porto Rico.

"SAMPSON."

Military Garrison at Honolulu.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Arrangements are being perfected at the war department for the establishment of a military garrison at Honolulu, Hawaii. Orders were issued Friday for a battalion of the 2d regiment of volunteer engineers to proceed to Honolulu in company with the 1st regiment of New York volunteer infantry, which is to constitute the first garrison of United States troops stationed on this newly annexed territory of the United States.

French Wine for Sick and Wounded Soldiers.

NEW YORK, July 23.—A firm of wine makers at Rheims, France, has offered the United States government 1,200 bottles of champagne for the sick and wounded soldiers. The surgeon general of the army referred the offer to the secretary of the treasury who has issued orders that the wine be admitted free of duty. Part of the wine will be sent to Santiago and the rest to other points.

Aguinaldo Declared Dictator.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The following cablegram has just been received at the war department:

HONG KONG, July 23.—Secretary of the Navy:—The following is for the secretary of war to the adjutant general: Aguinaldo declares dictatorship and martial law over all the islands. The people expect independence. Recommend China ponies.

More Peace Talk.

LONDON, July 23.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Senor Sagasta told a representative of El Imparcial Friday that the government had already entered upon the preliminary stage of peace negotiations. Gen. Polavieja has arrived and will have an audience with the queen regent to-morrow."

The Powers Against Us.

LONDON, July 23.—The Berlin correspondent of Daily News says: "The powers with the exception of Great Britain, have agreed not to allow an American annexation of the Philippines or an Anglo-American protectorate over the islands."

Miner Killed.

SHAWNEE, O., July 23.—John Grimes was killed instantly Friday morning by a fall of slate in Mine No. 12, six miles east of here. He was aged 63 and was single.

MILES ON THE WAY.

Massachusetts, Dixie, Gloucester, Cincinnati and Others as Convoys.

The President's Orders Were Susceptible of No Misconception, and Were Imperative to a Degree Seldom Employed Except in Extreme Emergency.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Gen. Miles, leading the military expedition against Porto Rico, started at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon from Saboney, Cuba, for the point on the island of Porto Rico where it is the intention that the troops shall land. It is expected that Gen. Miles will wait at some appointed spot on the route for the expeditions from Tampa, Newport News and New York to fall into his column. These expeditions are already under way, some of them with two or three days start of Gen. Miles, so that the delay should not be very great. After all the difficulty about the naval convoy, and the first conclusion of the naval authorities that none was necessary, the strength of that now furnished is surprising. There is a battle ship of the first class, the Massachusetts, an effective protected cruiser, the Cincinnati, a speedy and well armed gunboat, the Annapolis, and three vessels of the auxiliary navy which have already proved by their performance in Cuban waters that they are fully equal to the ordinary gunboat in offensive power. These are the Gloucester, which distinguished herself in the destruction of Cervera's squadron, the Wasp, which has attained an enviable notoriety as a disturber of Spanish blockhouses and the Leyden, which for a time was the sole representative of the United States power in Havana harbor. Secretary Alger believes that Gen. Miles on the Yale will arrive at his destination Sunday morning with 3,000 men under his immediate command. A day later will come 4,000 men on transports and the day following that 3,500 more. Whether the landing will be deferred until the arrival of this entire force or whether Gen. Miles will take the initiative and hoist the flag himself on Porto Rican soil is left to the discretion of that officer.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—At 2:45 p. m. Thursday Secretary Alger received a dispatch from Gen. Miles saying that he will sail for Porto Rico at 3 p. m. The warships accompanying him are the Massachusetts, Dixie, Gloucester, Cincinnati, Annapolis, Linden and Wasp.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—President McKinley is thoroughly aroused over the delay which has occurred in the starting of Gen. Miles and the expedition under his command for Porto Rico.

For several days Gen. Miles and his troops have been aboard their transports at Playa del Este awaiting the naval convoy which is to be furnished by Adm. Sampson. The troops have been sweltering in the crowded ships under the broiling heat of a tropical sun, while Gen. Miles has been chafing under what he believes to be inexcusable delay and is bombarding the war department with dispatches urging in the strongest terms that the navy hurry in its preparations for the expedition. Instructions of the most positive nature have been cabled to Adm. Sampson to supply the necessary convoys for Gen. Miles transports but notwithstanding these instructions Adm. Sampson has proceeded with his preparations for the expedition with a deliberation that is exasperating officials here.

The president, who has been giving the Porto Rican expedition his personal attention—as he has given, indeed, all phases of the war—finally became deeply concerned lest the part of the Porto Rican expedition that has already sailed from this country should arrive at the point of rendezvous in advance of Gen. Miles and the navy. It is feared that if Gen. Wilson's command, which sailed Wednesday from Charleston, should arrive in advance of Gen. Miles and the naval convoys, serious danger and possibly disaster might result, as Gen. Wilson's ships are absolutely without protection. The distance from Charleston to Porto Rico is a trifle over 1,300 miles, while from Playa del Este to Porto Rico is about 700 miles. The comparative distances which Gen. Wilson and Gen. Miles have to travel to reach the point of rendezvous are rendered the more nearly equal, however, by reason of the fact that the former has more than a full day's start.

Wake Island Seized.

HONG KONG, July 22.—The second expedition from San Francisco, commanded by Brig. Gen. F. V. Green, has arrived at Manila. On the way from Honolulu troops were landed at Wake island, midway between the Hawaiian islands and the Philippines, and the American flag was raised. Wake island was one of the Spanish possessions.

Second Expedition Arrives at Manila.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Secretary Long announced at 1 o'clock Thursday that he had received a dispatch from Adm. Dewey announcing the arrival of another detachment of troops at Manila, constituting the second expedition from San Francisco.

No Yellow Fever in the 8th Ohio.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A private dispatch received here from the headquarters of Shafter's army says there are no cases of yellow fever in the 8th Ohio volunteer regiment.

WAR OPERATIONS.

The President's Future Plans as Given by a Close Friend of the Administration.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—A significant statement was made Friday by a gentleman in a position to speak with knowledge and authority as to the plans of the administration with reference to future war operations. In substance the statement was as follows:

"Commodore Watson, in proceeding to the Spanish peninsula as soon as the Porto Rican expedition is gotten under way, is not to bombard the cities on the Spanish coast. No such idea of bombardment of the coast is entertained. While there may be other incidental purposes, the main mission of Watson is to take care of Adm. Camara's fleet. The movement of this fleet and the fears and apprehensions caused by reports concerning it are to be stopped for all time. The ships under Camara will be located by Watson and finally met and engaged.

"Despite popular expectation that Porto Rico operations will be followed immediately by action against Havana, it can be said that Havana will not be attacked while yellow fever conditions exist. This is certain.

"It would be the height of national folly to engage our troops in and about that fever pest hole. Consequently it will be left until the climate lends its aid in the autumn. Shafter will hold his own in the eastern strip now surrendered, may gradually push his way over some other districts, and if there should be any particular need of immediate aggressive action at any point, will move against it, but Havana will be left until yellow fever dangers are past.

"Meantime in the next two months there will be enough to keep this government busy. We will have to cope with the most serious problem yet, of providing for the government and the future of the lands involved in this war. The hauling down of the Spanish flag and the hoisting of that of the United States means more than on its face it indicates to the popular mind. No more important matter is to engage the attention of the government than the details to be arranged for the disposition, control or temporary possession pending final transfer of possession of these additions to our domain. There are questions of the most intricate and far-reaching character to be decided. Porto Rico, whose fall is likely to be recorded within a week or ten days, will have to have a military government. Porto Rico, of course, is to be kept permanently by this government but there must be a military government first and many preliminary details will have to be worked out.

There must be a rehabilitation of existing systems of government where we have carried our arms, and while local schemes and conditions will form the basis of the general system for the control of the land there must be numerous changes, abolishing such laws as may be oppressive. Laws will have to be very thoroughly gone over and the tariff system revised in some way, but in general and as far as possible the system of government which now exists is to be followed. All this means work of the most serious character, and in the absence of existing laws to govern such matters the president has to go ahead on his own responsibility. Next winter, however, when congress convenes, the necessity for laws covering such matters will be recognized by recommendations to congress to that end be submitted by the president, and it is very probable the shaping of the destinies of Porto Rico and similarly circumstanced accessions will be left to a commission or commissions to be appointed to draft the laws for adoption by congress. The government is likely to be busy from now on considering all these matters of governmental detail.

"It is a certainty as far as now can be foreseen that Guam, the island in the Ladrone group that was captured by this government, will be permanently retained as a coaling and supply station. For these purposes it is valuable from its location between the Sandwich and the Philippine islands, but on the point whether the rest of them will be kept I am not sure. They may be and they may not be. The disposition of the Philippines is unsettled and depends upon circumstances. As to the attitude of Garcia and the insurgents in Cuba, there is no change in our intention. This government has not been misled in its estimate of those forces.

With the oppressive hand Spain has put on them so long, contending against the conditions imposed by injustice and oppression, there should have been little expectation of greater abilities than are now shown by them.

Next Meeting at Charleston, S. C.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 23.—The convention of United Confederate veterans Friday decided to hold the next annual encampment at Charleston, S. C. Only one ballot was taken, resulting 1,070 to 891. The convention then adjourned sine die.

Recruits for a Mississippi Regiment.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Volunteers to the number of 120, recruited in this city, have left for Jackson, Miss. They will join the 3d Mississippi volunteers in camp at that place.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, July 27, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL. - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Richwood.

Miss Alice McGlasson, of Covington, is visiting Mrs. Conner.

Chas. Whitson, of Florence, is building wire feuce for Mr. Geo. Lipp.

It is said that Mr. Batty Long has the finest corn crop in the county.

Miss Maria Korn will teach at Richwood church this fall and winter.

Miss Fannie Cleek, of this place, got the highest average at the June examination for common school graduates.

Erlanger.

Good Faith Lodge No. 98, conferred the Fellow Craft degree on three candidates last Saturday evening.

Mr. Matt Heuerkamp invited a bus load of friends down to the Lagoon Saturday, where all enjoyed the fireworks.

Mrs. Louis Morilli gave a reception honor of Miss Josephine Hollmeyr. Among those present were Misses Clara Morilli, Katie Hoke, Mr. Fred Hagen, Geo. Schroder, Joe Weiss, Al. Konnerding, Mr. and Mrs. A. Morilli, Mr. and Mrs. John Roach, Limaburg.

July 25.—Mrs. John Hoffman and Miss Ota Hoffman are visiting her father, A. F. Crigler.

Wheat in this neighborhood is all threshed, and yielded from 15 to 20 bushels to the acre.

Legrand Utz had 9 acres of red Russian wheat that yielded 180 bushels. The best in the neighborhood.

Eddie Helm and wife, of Ludlow, had a 3-months old child to die at Mrs. Mary Clutterbuck's, last Saturday afternoon, and the remains were buried at Hebron on Sunday.

Hebron Sunday School will have a celebration at the Harvest Home grounds, August 13th. All Sunday-schools, and everybody are invited. Good speaking and music. It is the 45th anniversary of the Sunday School.

The little son of Chas. Garnett, that was so badly burnt by the explosion of a can of powder with which he and a little companion were playing, is getting along slowly. It is thought he will lose one eye. Dr. Rouse had to remove a piece of the skull bone, it being fractured.

Walter Tanner, son of E. K. Tanner, died last Saturday, and was buried at Hopeful, Sunday. His relatives have the sympathy of all who knew him. The funeral was preached by Rev. Lents, after which the members of Golden Grange, of which he was a member took charge of the burial services. A very large crowd was in attendance.

Petersburg.

July 21.—Richard Carter, of Lawreuceburg, says he believes a bowling alley would pay here.

Mrs. Chas. Alloway, of Nicholasville, is visiting here.

Ernest Winget, of Silver Creek, Ky., is here on a visit.

Miss Mollie Merrimon, of California, Ky., is visiting here.

Mrs. Maud Rosebaum, of Akron, O., is visiting at this place.

Miss Nellie Tafferty will return to Louisville, Saturday night.

John Early is painting the residence of Dr. Hays at Bullittsville.

John Botts has applied for a patent on a new gate he has invented.

County Attorney John Lassing was in town on business, Wednesday.

There is talk of buying a fire engine for the town. We surely need one.

E. T. Kratz is having a beautiful portico erected in front of his residence.

Rev. Buchanan, of Bedford, filled his regular appointment at the Christian church, Sunday.

Capt. Mort Christy dropped a $75 gold watch in the river, last week. It has not been recovered.

The wife of James Moreland, of Bellevue, died last night at 8 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks.

Leona, the infant daughter of Philip Klopp, of this city, died last night at 8:30, of cholera infantum.

S. C. Buchanan & Co., will soon occupy the D. A. Slott building, as a drug store. It is being papered and painted.

John Jones is town marshal during the illness of Marshal Harry Bahn. He has had six deputies sworn in during the past three weeks.

W. K. Fenton is said to be one of the finest young pilots on the Ohio river. While Wallace Grant has the reputation of being as clever, accommodating and obligiug clerk. Pete is coming to the front in prominent young men.

Hathaway.

July 25.—An item was received too late for last week.

J. S. Mason and his force started his threshing machine last week.

Mrs. Carrie Setters was visiting her father and mother, last week.

Mrs. Avie Adams was the guest of Mrs. Emily Presser, last Thursday.

Mrs. Laura Adams, of Grant county, is visiting her friends and relatives here.

Miss Mary White was visiting in the Verona neighborhood, Saturday and Sunday.

O. W. Adams, of Cincinnati, is the guest of his brother, B. D. Adams, of this place.

Mrs. David Clements, Emma Marshall, Etta Clements, and Easie Boggess were guests of Mrs. Sarah White, last Wednesday.

The following Rising Sunners, John Pate, Rod Davis, a Mr. Baker, George Keeney and two sons, and Joshua, the cook, pitched their tent on W. S. White's land, near a good spring, for a brief period of camp life. They first cast their lines in Gunpowder for a capture of a the finny tribe, but without success. The next day they shouldered their carpince and took to the woods in search of small game, but the number killed has not been learned. After a day or two's sojourn Rod Davis had all the chiggers he wanted, and he broke camp, pulled up stakes and left for home.

Last Thursday there was a fishfry at the home of W. E. Kirtley, East Bend. A large crowd from the surrounding neighborhood was on hand at an early hour. W. E. Kirtley, Everett Franks and C. B. Mason were masters of ceremony, while Will Aylor was cook, etc. About 70 pounds of fish were fried, which, together with bread and coffee, were devoured with a relish. After dinner the crowd retired to the parlor to enjoy the afternoon, and instrumental and vocal music was the order. About 4 p. m. the people departed for home, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Kirtley for the genuine hospitality they had enjoyed.

Walton.

Miss Mabel Edwards has returned from a pleasant visit to Grant county.

Mrs. Richd. Jones and daughter, Lulu, made the trip to Bracken county in a buggy.

Misses Hattie Edwards and Blanche Stepheus are visiting Mrs. Ernest Wilson in Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers are meeting much encouragement for the coming term of the Academy.

County Clerk of Pottawattomie county, O. T, formerly of this place, was married to Miss Beria Gilbert.

John Fink has received a letter from Joe Christine, inclosing a photograph of himself in uniform, fully armed and equipped. It is a striking likeness and is the picture of a soldier.

Miss Effie J. Lermond, who graduated with distinguished honor at the Walton Academy, will teach the public school at the Jones school house near the residence of Elijah Northcutt in Keuton county.

Miss Lena Hedges, Miss Madge Holder, Mr. Wm. Holder, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holder, were the dinner guests of Mrs. W. N. Northcutt on Sunday. It was bountiful, and the writer feels like a chunk from partakingtoo freely.

Mrs. Geo. Ross, Mrs. Geo. Keion, Mrs. John Murders and her bright little daughter, Allie, are the guests of Mrs. Kipp. They were at Mrs. John Rauslers on Saturday. Allie who is (for her age 10) a highly trained elocutionist, gave some patriotic, humorous and pathetic recitations that were highly applauded.

A merry crowd of fun lovers visited Burlington on Saturday afternoon and took in a choice supper before returning home. Arranged in couples they started as follows:—Walter Rouse and Miss Lora Diers; Jacob Cleek and Miss Edna Ransler; John Crowe and Miss Mary Rouse; John Kipp and Miss Sallie Herndon; Walter Herndon and Miss Edith Ellis; John Sleet and Miss Lucy Fields. Croquet, crokinole and other amusements were indulged in to the fullest extent.

Rabbit Hash.

July 23.—Mr. Winscott, of Patriot, Ind., is visiting in the Bend.

Miss Maud Ryle made a visit to Hamilton, last Thursday.

Rev. McAtee and R. O. Ryle attended meeting here Sunday afternoon.

E. L. Clements, of the Bristol Hotel, Cincinnati, spent Tuesday with his family at this place.

Rev. Utz preached a very interesting sermon to the young ladies at the hall, last Thursday afternoon.

We sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Wes Christina in the loss of their little child at Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Maud Craig Carlysle and children, of Covington, are visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Three of our young ladies attended the examination at Union, last week, and brought home good certificates.

The old school house, long known as the Maple Hill school house, was burned to the ground, last Sunday night.

As many ladies as we have in this place, it is strange that Cal and Bob will quarrel over which will take a certain one home.

After a week's visit here with relatives. Mrs. Clara McKay and daughter, Miss Helen, returned, Tuesday, to their home at Willow Grove, West Va.

Miss Bettie Dolph will teach the McVille school this fall and winter.

Mrs. Jane Wilson was taken very sick, last Thursday night, but is some better at present.

John P. Ryle stuck a thorn in his foot several days ago, and it is giving him considerable trouble.

Quite a number of friends and relatives celebrated Mrs. Richard Stephens' birthday by a surprise dinner, last Saturday.

Mr. Kelley had a bee tree which he had been watching for two years, and a few days ago he went to look after it and found that some one had robbed it.

L. L. Stephens has opened a lauding near the government light here, for the benefit of shippers, especially those shipping on the Workum. A good road and pens for stock.

Mrs. Brasher, a daughter of Cave Kirtley, who was raised in East Bend, but has lived for several years in Mo., and other western States, has been here for three or four weeks investigating the title to 100 acres of land willed to Cave Kirtley by his father and sold by Cave Kirtley to Omer Kirtley, and willed by Omer Kirtley to Reuben Hager's wife. It is understood here that J. M. Lassing has been employed to investigate.

Bellevue.

July 23—Mrs. Wells, of Texas, is the guest of Michael Clore.

Melons will be on the market this week.

Robert and Michael Clore shipped 150 hogs on the evening of the 21st.

Mr. Davis, of Louisville, is visiting friends and relatives in and near Petersburg.

The German Medicine Co., left here for Union, where they hold forth two weeks.

Mrs. Thos. Wingate and Mrs. Theodore Cook were guests of friends at Patriot, last Thursday.

The recent rains have made quite a change in the crops for the better. All crops were more or less damaged by the drought.

Miss Julia Smith has just returned from the city, where she has been under the treatment of Dr. Thrasher, who moved a tumor from one side of her nose. She is feeling much better.

During the last week there has been shipped from our landing nearly 4,000 bushels of wheat, to the Lawrenceburg Milling Co., the shippment last Thursday night, of 1100 sacks, being the largest known to have been sent from here.

After religious services, conducted by Elder Early, the remains of Mrs. James Moreland were buried in the cemetery on the afternoon of the 21st inst. She was sick but a short time. She had been a member of the church since 1884, and was 53 years of age.

The ordination of John W. McAtee to the gospel ministry, took place last Saturday at the Baptist Church. There were several hundred people present. The churches at Big Bone, Burlington, East Bend, Bullittsburg and Erlanger were represented. Ministers present: Revs. Davis, of Aurora; J. A. Kirtley and S. M. Adams, besides the resident pastor, T. L. Utz.

Mr. Stephen Maurer is getting along very well. The Enquirer in giving an account of the sad affair in which the above gentleman was a party, gives his name as John Bowers, and says he was taking coal from a pile of coal belonging to a wealthy farmer, and while fleeing was shot in the breast, etc. That is about as near the truth as the average daily paper gets. For the sake of truth, and in justice to Mr. Maurer, we send you some facts. Mr. Maurer has made this place his home, several times for months, and his conduct has been that of an honest, sober, upright gentleman, ever attending to his own business and disturbing no one or that which did not belong to him.

Gunpowder.

July 25.—A gentle shower laid the dust Sunday afternoon.

Don't ask Aaron Rouse how he lost his hat.

Bunt Surface is hauling walnut lumber to Erlanger.

P. A. Weaver and family were visiting at O. B. Utz's, Sunday.

J. H. Aylor has sold his beef cattle to Eli Rouse & Sou for a good price.

R. R. Houston is again on the creek hauling rock for the U. & F. pike.

B. C. Tanuer and wife, who were on the sick list, last week, are improving.

The Saw Mill Co. are buying, hauling and sawlug walnut logs for a Company in Ohio.

Misses Katie and Nettie Stuntebeck, of Covington, were calliug on friends in this neighborhood, last week.

Will Kirk is the earliest bird in this burg. The person that does not find him in the shop has to go before or after the sun.

Misses Una Utz and Louella Rouse entertained quite a number of their young friends at the homes of their parents, last Wednesday and Friday evenings, in honor of the Misses Stuntebeck.

The German Medicine Co., will be at Union for two weeks commencing July 25th. Admission free.

The showers for several weeks past have been entirely local, and the localities mostly in need of rain have been favored with but little.

There is no stir about the court house that indicates the very near approach of the August term of the Circuit Court, which will be of about the same importance as the mid summer terms of the past.

Complications arose among the blackberry pickers out on the Hughes farm, Monday, but owing to good diplomatic work on the part of some, the trouble was adjusted, but the fellow who was claiming to have secured jurisdiction over the berry patch by reason of renting it, was proven to be an impostor and given the g. b. by Capt. General Jack Sandford.

FISCAL COURT.

Special term July 19.—The committee heretofore appointed to get copy of the plans and specifications of Court House from McDonald Bros., of Louisville, reported that they had corresponded with said McDonald Bros. and they had notified them that the said plans and specifications had been destroyed by fire and could not be had; whereupon it is ordered that said committee be continued with instructions to have Hanaford & Sons, architects, to prepare a draft of the proposed alterations in Court House cupola, and present same, together with the estimated cost of said alterations to the court at its next meeting.

T. J. Adams, jailer, allowed $47 70.

The large barn on Armsbery Dixon's homestead on the Lexington pike near Richwood, and just across the pike from the residence, was destroyed by fire between 3 and 5 p. m., last Saturday. There was a large quantity of hay, farming implements and harness burnt, and had it not been for the metal roof on the residence it would have burnt, as the wind was blowing from the barn toward the house. The loss is about $1,500, and we understand that the barn and contents were insured for $900 in the Boone County Company. Our Richwood correspondent says, "It took all the available help to save the house and fencing on the farm. Trees in the woods 300 yards away took fire, and it looked as though the entire neighborhood would be burnt." It is not known how the fire originated.

Between 40 and 45 ladies participated in a bay-ride, last Thursday afternoon. They mobilized in front of the court house, where all that possible could, mounted a jolt wagon with a hay bed, while the remainder called other conveyances to their service. Mrs. J. M. Lassing was mistaken driver of the wagon, and the expedition started for its objective point, Gunpowder creek, to enjoy an afternoon fishing, but upon arriving at the creek it was ascertained that one of the party had a fishing line in her possession, and she was courtmartialed and fined the chewing gum for the crowd, and the line was confiscated.. A lunch that had been prepared for the occasion was one of the leading features of the afternoon. Several gentlemen suggested that they be permitted to accompany them, but were soon given to understand that their presence would not be tolerated. Each member of the expedition seems to have been bound to secrecy as regards occurrences on the creek, it is useless to attempt to give any account of the interesting exercises, but it is safe to say that it was one of the gayest crowds that ever assembled on (or in) Gunpowder creek.

This week the Sheriff publishes his proclamation concerning the collection of taxes. Read it and profit by it.

Several of our correspondents have not shown up this week. It is presumed they are saving their blackberry crop.

If any recommendations for election commissioners in this county have been made to the appointing power, the RECORDER has not heard of them.

A large number of young people were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Castleman, last Monday evening, where music and parlor games were enjoyed.

The large barn belonging to R. Lee Huey, not far from Big Bone church, was burnt Monday night about eleven o'clock. In the building was a large lot of hay, a buggy and harness, one horse and many other articles. The horse was the fine stallion, Clore, the property of Bond Bros., of Carroll county. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Mr. Huey had the building insured in the Boone County Company.

Mrs. B. K. Sleet died at her home in Cincinnati, last Friday morning after a long period of great and patient suffering from cancer of the breast, for which several surgical operations had been performed. Mrs. Sleet was about 47 years of age, and was a daughter of the late General John Wallace of this county. She was married to Ben K. Sleet in Burlington, then the home of her parents, on the 6th day of December, 1877. To them were boru two daughters, the younger of which survives her mother. Mrs. Sleet was a lady highly esteemed by all who knew her, and she had many friends in this county who were grieved by the announcement of her death, and extend to the husband and daughter their sympathy. The funeral took place last Sunday.

IN MEMORIAM

Of Mrs. Mary Frances Dixou, who died April 27th, 1898.

Three months have passed away since that fatal day when we committed our loved one's form to its native clay, and yet it seems that the dear old form should be in its accustomed place, but God has willed it otherwise, and our duty is to meekly submit, for the tired soul was ready to depart, through the many days of suffering the pale lips would murmur, "I'm going Home," and through the long nights of agony when her suffering seemed almost beyond endurance she would only say, "I shall soon be at rest," and when the hour came she meekly folded her hands and glided silently down the dark, broad stream whose waters roll on and on, but never to return, but we would not have it otherwise for those waters land the righteous on that grand celestial shore, where sin, sorrow and sufferiug are no more. We realize that our loved one has only gone before and that our loss was her gain; we should also realize that our sorrow was a blessing in disguise for it will make life more dreary and death more welcome, it will attract our thoughts from earthly thiugs to things more holy and noble, namely, mother, home and heaven.

The aged husband and loving children can join in that beautiful song, "There's Some one at that Beautiful Gate, Waiting and Watching for Me." On earth that dear form they shall see no more, but the memory of that mother's loving face will be a guidiug star and will help to withstand many a trial and temptation in this life and sooth their dying hour,

For when His hand deals other strokes, She'll stand by Heaven's gate, I know. And wait, to welcome in "Our Folks."

MAY.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

NOTICE.—Having sold the saw and grist mill that was operated by my father on Gunpowder creek, I desire to close up the business at once, and those owing his estate on account of grinding or sawing or anyother account are requested to come forward and settle said accounts without further notice. Hany one has claims against his estate they will present them to me at once.

W. C. WEAVER, Adm'r.

For Sale.

5,000 bushels of Corn at 40 cents per bushel.

MICHAEL CLORE,
Bellevue, Ky.

Notice.

My wife, Edna Thetgee, has deserted me, I will not be responsible for any debts she may make in my name.

IRVAN THETGEE.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS

—THE OLD—

RELIABLE GROCER,

UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs.	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal.	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal.	.10
Lard, per lb.	.08	Side Meat, per lb.	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal.	.40	Hams, per lb.	.11
Sorghum Molases, per gal.	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl.	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl.	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus.	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

SPRING BEAUTIES!

Is the only description that can be applied to the elegant and complete new stock of goods which I have just received for the making of

Gentlemen's ---Suits and Overcoats.---

Notwithstanding the high quality and cost of these goods, I am prepared to furnish them

Cut and Made to Order.

Strictly first-class; and at the lowest possible prices consistent with good material and workmanship.

Inspection is Invited,

Before you decided on your Spring Clothing, for even if you do not buy it will be a pleasure for me to show you these goods. I am also prepared with a

Nice New Stock

Of all the Latest Fashionable Shapes and Patterns, to .....sell you.....

FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING

Suits and Overcoats, in Boys', Youths & Men's Sizes.

A large lot of Men's and Boys

Ready Made Suits

Being sold at 50 cents on the dollar of the cost of the material.

H. F. BLASE,

535 Madison Avenue,

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

GO TO

C. T. DAVIS & CO., HEBRON AND CONSTANCE, General Merchants,

A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.

GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention,

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.

Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

The 5th Term of WALTO ACADEMY

WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.

Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.

Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.

Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,

Manufacturers and Dealers in

GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,

70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.

J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS OF ROOFING,

Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consisteut with good work.

Your Work is Solicited.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
A. E. Gorman's Adm'r., Plff.
vs.
R. A. Demoisey, &c., Defts.

Notice is hereby given that I will begin my sittings in the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., June 16, 1898, to hear proof of claims in the above styled cause and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 23d day of July, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
John Weindel's Adm'r., Plff.
vs.
John Weindle, &c., Defts.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he will begin his sittings on the 20th day of June, 1898, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., to hear proof of claims in the above styled cause and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 27th day of July, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Local News.

Next Monday is county court day.

The blackberry pickers are about out of job.

J. C. White, of Hathaway, has a good milch cow for sale

When you lick a revenue stamp you are helping to lick Spain.

For sale—50 good stock ewes.
SCOTT CHAMBERS, Utzinger, Ky.

The Sheriff is plastering the county with notices to taxpayers.

Richard Glackin, of the Richwood neighborhood, put up 100 tons of hay this season.

The Erlanger Baptist Church will ordain Deacons at its regular meeting next Sunday.

Don't forget the Keeley picnic at the Harvest Home Grounds, next Saturday afternoon.

The German Medicine Co., is at Union, where it will show two weeks. Don't fail to see this show.

The blackberry crop was very much benefitted by the last rains, and the pickers brought in some very nice berries the past week.

Rev. Fosher will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday morning, and in the afternoon he will deliver a lecture on Pythianism.

The threshing machines of Bentler and Gaines & Stephens, annoyed their owners, last week, with breakdowns that delayed their work considerably.

The annual Keeley picnic will be given at the Harvest Home grounds next Saturday afternoon. A very pleasant time is anticipated for all who attend.

Belfield and Joseph Graddy divided their 166 acre farm in the Bullittsville neighborhood, last week. Belfield gets the improvements and 72 acres, Joe, the remainder.

The ladies of the M. E. Church South will give a Supper at the Baptist church in Florence, Saturday evening, August 6th, 1898. Admission, 25 cents. Everybody is invited to attend.

Several days ago Uncle Yancy Clore, by some means, got a fall in his room, and hurt his crippled limb, since which time he has been in a precarious condition, his extreme age militating very much against him.

Mrs. Virginia B. Willis, mother of Assessor Thos. G. Willis, died at her home in Lexington, one day last week. The remains were brought to this county, Monday, for interment in the cemetery at Bullittsburg church.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

Friday was a lively day about the temple of justice. A spirited legal controversy was in progress nearly all day in the County Judge's sanctum, and in the afternoon a learned theological discussion held a considerable crowd in the shade in front of the building.

Harry Hamlin, who has been confined in the jail here since last April term of the Circuit Court, wrote Gov. Bradley, last week, requesting the Governor to grant him a pardon, pledging himself to enlist in the army immediately upon the reception of the pardon.

The German Medicine Co., which is touring this county, has made a hit at every town visited. It pitched its tents at Union, Monday morning, and for the next two weeks will supply that town and surrounding country with fun and good remedies for bad health.

B. F. McGlasson, president of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association, reports an unprecedented demand for catalogues containing the premium list for the next fair. This is conclusive proof that the people have become thoroughly interested in the next exhibition, and that being the case a large attendance and a splendid show are guaranteed.

It looks very much like Erlanger is soon to be closely connected with Cincinnati and Covington, and for the small sum of ten cents her citizens will be transported from home to Fountain Square, Cincinnati. Capt. Baker is earnestly at work trying to land the proposed electric railway, and with the able assistance of several other Erlanger people, there is a great probability of success.

A pedestrian, who gave his name as Haziett and claimed to live in Owenton, Owen county, struck the town Monday afternoon. He had "gone broke" while on a lark in Cincinnati. He was well dressed and exhibited what purported to be an Owenton bank pass-book, which showed an alleged deposit of over $1,200. He went on to Bellevue to take a boat that evening for Warsaw, where he claimed to have numerous acquaintances.

Judge Roberts held a special term of his court, last Friday, to hear the motion made by Geo. W. Reeves to be appointed guardian of his grand-daughter, Pearl, to which motion the infant's other grandfather, John Peno, was objecting. Nearly the entire day was consumed in the trial, at the conclusion of which the court entered an order overruling Peno's objection, and sustaining the motion and appointing Reeves as guardian. An appeal was taken to the circuit court.

A very loose game of base ball was played here last Saturday by the Burlington and Petersburg teams, the score being 15 to 12 in favor of the home team. It took four umpires to pilot the game through, Edson Riddell and Jack Sandford acting in that capacity until the former was badly hurt by a lick on the right cheek bone by a foul tip, breaking the bone. Burt Parsons then took the job and was protested until he retired, when James Houston was called in and finished the game.

UNION S. S. CONVENTION.

The Proceedings Characterized by Numerous and Interesting Speeches.

New Officers Elected and Other Routine Business Transacted.

Will Meet With the Pt. Pleasant Church Next Year.

The attendance at the Sunday School Convention here, last Thursday, was estimated at 300 to 500, and was composed of Sunday School and Church workers from all parts of the county.

The exercises began promptly at 9:30 a. m., Mr. B. A. Floyd, of the Hopeful Sundny School, leading the choir. Chapter 12, Ecclesiastics was read by Rev. Watkins, at the conclusion of which he offered prayer. Song No. 1—Coronation, was then sung.

The first subject, "How to Promote the Objects of the Sunday School Union of Kentucky," was assigned to B. F. McGlasson, of Pt. Pleasant, whose remarks were well arranged and comprehended many truths, well expressed. He was followed by Revs. Lentz and Watkins with interesting talks.

Song No. 40 was sung, when the report of the Secretary for the past year was submitted to the convention.

No. 26 was sung, and was followed by the subject, "Importance of Memorizing Scriptures in the Sunday School," which, in the absence of Rev. W. K Dennis, was thrown open for discussion, and was handled in a most interesting manner by Rev. Lentz and Messrs. J. B. Crigler and J. C. Revill.

To Rev. W. H. Davis was assigned the subject, "The Proper Observance of the Lord's Day," and his talk was especially interesting throughout.

No. 49 was then sung, after which the following nominating committee was appointed: W. H. Davis, chairman; B. F. McGlasson and John Surface.

Mr. McGlasson invited the Convention to meet with the Pt. Pleasant Church next year, and the invitation was accepted.

No. 42 was sung and the convention adjourned for dinner.

Immediately after adjournment a large number of ladies were hurrying to and fro arranging the dinner that had been prepared for the occasion, while the men stood about the church yard discussing the war, the weather and the crops, but never losing sight of the excellent dinner as it took its place upon the tables. In a short time dinner was announced ready and everybody invited to partake. It is only necessary to add that the multitude was fed sumptuously, and enough provisions remained to feed another crowd equally as large.

Promptly at 2 p. m., the convention was again called to order by the president, D. E. Castleman, and after a song, and prayer by J. O. Roberts, an anthem was sung.

"How to Develop Church Love in Sunday School," was the first subject on the program afternoon. It was assigned to Rev. T. L. Utz, who was not present. Rev. Everett Bedinger introduced the subject, which he handled in a manner that was very interesting to the audience. He is a forcible and pointed speaker.

Rev. Watkins handled the subject, "How to Develop Mission Work in the Sunday School," with zeal and ability, and his speech elicited much favorable comment among the audience.

Song No. 55 preceded the reading of J. C. Revill's excellent essay on "Benefits lost to Church Members by not Attending Sunday School." He evidently put many of the church members to thinking, and it is likely that more of them will, henceforth, be found at Sunday-school.

After song No. 24, a collection for expenses was taken, followed by the singing of the beautiful song, "Sunshine in My Soul To-day."

"Symposium of what we have learned in this Convention," was programmed for Dr. S. M. Adams, who was not present, and Rev. Lentz opened the subject in a neat resume. He was followed by Rev. Davis in the humorous effort of the day, which was immensely enjoyed by the crowd.

After another song, officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Elder G. W. Watkins, president; Miss Ora Russell, secretary; B. A. Floyd, chorister.

Last year the County Convention pledged itself to contribute $25 to the State Union, and but little more than half that amount having been collected from the several schools, the secretary was directed to correspond with those schools in the county that have not contributed in regard to the matter, and in the event they do not make up the deficit, then the schools that have already contributed will be requested to complete the amount pledged.

On motion of Rev. Davis the people of Burlington were extended a vote of thanks for the manner in which they entertained the convention.

President Castleman made a closing address, in which he enumerated the benefits he thought had accrued from the convention.

Song 84 was then sung and Rev. Bedinger closed the most pleasant and profitable day's exercises with prayer.

The following are the dates for holding the Kentucky fairs this year so far as reported:

Lawrenceburg, August 16—4 days.
Fern Creek, August 16—4 days.
Lebanon, August 16—4 days.
Broadhead, August 17—3 days.
Shepherdsville, August 23—4 days.
Shelbyville, August 23—4 days.
Germantown, August 23—4 days.
Springfield, August 25—4 days.
Madisonville, August 24—4 days.
Bardstown, August 30—5 days.
Lagrange, August 29—3 days.
Florence, August 31—4 days.
Barboursville, August 31—3 days.
Elizabethtown, Sept. 6—4 days,
Glasgow, September 14—4 days.
Louisville, September 26—6 days,
Owensboro, October 4—6 days.
Paducah, October 11—4 days.

FALL OF HAVANA MAY SOON OCCUR.

The Prices of W. M. RACHAL & CO., Fell Long Ago.

Granulated Sugar (limited) 18 Pounds.....$1 00
Enterprise Coffee per pound..... 10
White Lead, Paints, Oil and Varnishes at the
LOWEST CASH PRICES.

Ladies Fine Shoes, per pair.....$ 75c
Men's Grain Plow Shoes..... 1 50
Men's Good Working Shirts..... 25c
We will sell you WIRE SCREEN, BINDER TWINE, ETC. at LOWEST CASH PRICES.

UNION, - - - - - - - - KENTUCKY.

A CARD.

For two or three days I have been considerably worried by my friends asking me to give my version of the disgraceful proceedings in Mt. Pleasant Grange, last Saturday afternoon. I have concluded, in justice to myself, to write this card setting forth the ungarnished facts and leaving those interested to judge for themselves to the unwilling and very unexpected part I was forced to play in the dramatic performance.

On the first Saturday in June Mt. Pleasant Grange entertained several members of Golden Grange in the Christian Church at Bullittsville. A committee, consisting of Oscar Gaines, H. H. Hays, Elbert Riley and Mrs. Fannie Riley, had been appointed to arrange a program for an open session of the grange in the afternoon. The program as announced by the chairman was as follows:

Music, by Bullittsville Orchestra
Welcome Address,—Dr. H. H. Hays.
Music, by Bullittsville Orchestra.
Reading of Declaration of Purposes—Oscar Gaines.
Music, by Bullittsville Orchestra.
Select Reading—Miss Bernice Duncan.
Music, by Bullittsville Orchestra.
Declamation—Master Duncan Riley.

You will observe by referring to the committee and the program that no one in the grange was assigned any duty except the members of the committee—Miss Duncan, Master Duncan Riley not being members You will also see by careful study of the program that music by the Bullittsville Orchestra seemed to be the leading feature of the entertainment in the minds of the committee. Three of them being members of this Orchestra—Mr. E. L. Riley is leader, assisted by Mrs. Fannie Riley and Dr. H. H. Hays.

The next morning I attended the Bullittsburg Church. In discussing the the entertainment of the evening previous, I was asked as to what part I played in it I replied, jestingly, that the committee on program assigned themselves to all the important duties and left me nothing to do. This is the false statemeut I am charged with. On the evening of the 7th of July I received through the mail the following notice:

Bullittsville, Ky., July 4, 1898.

Mr. G C. Graddy:—Sir: Charges have been preferred against you for knowingly speaking falsly of the members of our Grange in the presence of a number of people at Bullittsburg church. Your trial will take place at our next regular meeting, the third Saturday in July and you are requested to be present.

Mrs. F. E. Riley, Sect'y.

Notice the fact that no specific charge is made in this notice. It was only a general charge and I do not know to-day what I was charged with having said. The constitution of the National Grange grants any member a right to a fair and impartial trial on any charges preferred.

Last Saturday afternoon I obeyed the summons and reached the Grange at 3:40, sun time. While I was hitching my horse the Grange adjourned and I met about half of the small number outside of the door. I walked in the hall and reported to the Master that I was ready for the trial. He informed me that I had been excluded from the Grange. I asked him how he could exclude me without first preferring charges then giving me a fair trial. He said charges had been preferred. I handed the notice I had received and told him to see whether I had or not. He and Oscar Gaines read it and handed it back to me. I asked them if any specific charges were preferred in that notice. Just then Mrs. Riley entered the hall and said charges had been preferred against me. I replied that there were no specific charges preferred in that notice. Mr. Riley thinking that I had called his wife a liar assaulted me and we gave the Grange quite a dramatic entertainment for a few seconds.

Any one who knows me, knows that I am incapable of insulting any lady. If I have a weak point in my make-up it is my adoration and respect for woman. After the disgraceful scene had ended I handed Mrs. Riley her notice to see if there were any specific charges in it. She examined it and returned it to me saying she did not know that the charge had been put in notice. There were only eight members of the grange present, J. E. Duncau and wife, E. L. Riley and wife, Temp Gaines and wife, Oscar Gaines and John Stepheus.

I wish to add two or three denials to some very ridiculous stories that are afloat. I did not go to the Grange for the purpose of provoking a difficulty. I went to prevent the members of the Grange from hurling a "boomerang" at me. I had no pistol on my person, I do not own one, and have not had one in my hand in five years. I have no ambition to be a bully, my highest aim in life is to always be a gentleman.

G. C. GRADDY.

July 20th, 1898.

Through Mr. G. H. Hackstadt, of Bromley, Mr. Ben D. Hunt, the General Manager of the Ludlow Lagoon, authorizes the RECORDER to invite all the churches and Sunday Schools in the county, to visit the Lagoon. The day appointed for the visit is Thursday, August 25th. Each school or church that accepts the invitation should notify Mr. John D. Hunt at least three days before hand. All will be admitted to the Park free, and the children will be given a free ride on either the Scenic Railway or around the lake on the electric launches as they may select. It will be a great treat to the children.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Thanks to Mr. J. C. Byland, of Walton, for favors extended.

Dr. William Corey, of Covington, was in town last Saturday.

Mrs. C. C. Roberts' sisters were her guests last Saturday and Sunday.

Fillmore Wingate, a Petersburg live-stock dealer, was in town Monday.

J. M. Lassing made a business trip to Covington and Cincinnati, yesterday.

Miss Julia and Master Presley Adams, of Walton, are visiting there uncle, B. W. Adams and wife.

Attys. D. E. Castleman and N. E. Riddell attended Circuit Court at Warsaw, one day last week.

H. F. Russell, of the Point Pleasant neighborhood, was among those from a distance in town, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Allphin went to the Mudlick neighborhood on a visit, the latter part of last week.

Elder Carnell, Old Baptist, preached an able sermon at the Methodist church at this place, last Saturday night.

Misses Fannie Willis and Edna Duncau, of Bullittsville, were guests of Mrs. J. M. Lassing, several days last week.

Mr. Grady, who will teach the public school here this fall and winter, was around meeting the patrons Monday.

Rev. T. W. Barker has many friends in this county who will be pained to hear that his health is in a precarious condition.

Jeff Edings, the popular mail carrier, now drives a comfortable and neat surrey for the accommodation of the traveling public.

A Mr. Grady, of Ludlow, and Miss Katie Smith, will teach the public school in the Burlington district this fall and winter.

Supt. Voshell was in town, last Saturday, closing up his annual reports and forwarding them to Superintendent of Public Instructions.

Daniel Dobbins, of Richwood, was in town Mouday, and reported a good rain in his neighborhood and south of there the day before.

Miss Mary Thompson arrived home one day last week, after a visit of several weeks with A. W. Smith and family of the Verona neighborhood.

Hear that Geo. W. Sleet, of Beaver, expects to move to Fayette county in the near future. This county will lose one of her best citizens in that event.

O. J. Ryle was summoned to Hathaway yesterday to look after his farming interests in that locality. Some say he will start a berry cannery there.

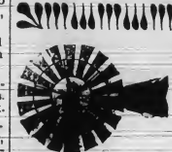
Mr. W. H. Barlow, of Gunpowder, called in early Monday morning, and contributed his annual share of the oil that makes the operation of a county paper a pleasure to the editor.

Misses Jessie Swetnam, of Erlanger, and Mary Terrill, of Covington, returned home, Monday, after spending several days with Miss Clara Tupman at the home of her aunt at this place.

E. E. Foster left for his home at Jacksouville, Fla., yesterday afternoon, very much improved in health by his few weeks sojourn in Burlington. He was looking much more like himself when he took his departure.

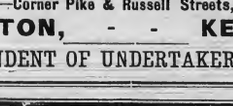
Prof. and Mrs. S. H. Myers, of Walton, made the RECORDER a pleasant call, last Friday. They were in Burlington in the interest of the Walton Academy, the flourishing educational institution which they have built up in Walton.

The very favorable appearance of O. J. Ryle's growing coffee has created in him a desire to become the proprietor of a coffee plantation, and he may go to Porto Rico as soon as it becomes a possession of this country and engage in coffee culture.



Farmer Robt. Clore, of Clore's Ridge, was in town Monday. He says his corn and tobacco looks well. He planted tobacco without a season. Wheat in his neighborhood yielded from 25 to 35 bushels per acre, Lucien Clore's crop making the largest yield.

J. E. Smith, assessor for the Boone County Insurance Co., was at Mr. Chas. Griffith's, in the Verona neighborhood, last Friday, to assess the damage to Mr. Griffith's residence, which was struck by lightning, last Sunday week. The lightning struck the comb and ran down each side. The damage was assessed at $35.



When we go to Petersburg every man we meet says "Do you know Dr. Peck?" When we say "Yes, very well" he says, I went to school to him. He was a good teacher." We never could get the Doctor to teach in this county, but we keep him on the examining board, and he furnishes a mighty good teacher from the family.—Trimble Banner.

Gene Demoisey, who is a member of the Second Kentucky now located at Chickamauga writes that it seems likely he will not proceed any further since the Spaniards have been so soundly threshed, and that he may be discharged, in which event he will go further south. He says all that he has to do is to eat and drill. Some of the boys have deserted, and if they are caught they will get six months in a military prison. He regrets that he did not remain in the First Ohio, which is now at the front.

When in Burlington Call on
J. S. CLUTTERBUCK,
DEALER IN
DRY GOODS
Notions, Boots and Shoes,
CORN AND MILL FEED,
At Prices to Suit the times.
Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.
J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,
The Deering Harvesters,
Rollers and Balls,
That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,
Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.
Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.
T. J. HUGHES,
BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,
UNDER-TAKER

EMBALMER,
—Corner Pike & Russell Streets,—
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE
WHY SUFFER AGONY?
When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.
No Knife! No Interruption of Business!
The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.
MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says:
"After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."
Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.
DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.
CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.
—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

OUR NEW POSSESSION

Facts About the Hawaiian Islands, Over Which Our Flag Will Soon Float.

On July 7th President McKinley signed the resolutions annexing the Hawaiian islands to the United States. By the same act the resolutions passed into law.

The troubled career of Hawaii as an independent power is therefore practically at an end. So far as Christendom is concerned, it began in 1555, with the discovery of the islands by the Spaniard, Juan Gaetano; it ends, in 1898, with their absorption into the territory of the American commonwealth.

The islands, however, were lost for two centuries after their first discovery. For the islands set down by Gaetano on his charts were ten degrees too far east. It is assumed that these were the Hawaiian islands, but not until 1778 did their consecutive connection with the west begin. In that year Capt. Cook landed on Kauai and was looked upon by the natives as an incarnation of the god Lono. They considered his crew as supernatural beings. Cook returned the next year, but became involved in disputes with the natives, and was killed February 14, 1779.

PRESIDENT DOLE.

From the beginning almost the Hawaiians have sought protection from Europeans, in which, of course, are included the Americans. In 1791 the king, Kamehameha, and his chiefs voluntarily placed themselves under the protection of England, and the British flag was hoisted in Hawaii. This Kamehameha had secured supreme power through sanguinary civil war, lasting nine years. He was a nephew of King Kalaniopou, whose son he dispossessed and finally got assassinated. A civil war in the Leewards islands gave Kamehameha a chance to interfere. He did so; reduced Oahu to subjection to himself, and for the rest of his days had peace. His domains included all the Hawaiian islands except Kauai and Niihau, the extreme western ones. But his work was not yet done. In March, 1810, the last king of Kauai was persuaded to pay tribute to Kamehameha and hold his island during the remainder of his life as a fief of the king of Hawaii. In 1815 the Russians attempted to annex Kauai, but the firmness of Kamehameha frustrated their designs. When he died, in 1819, he had consolidated the Hawaiian islands into one strong kingdom.

His eldest son, Liholiho, succeeded him and took the name of Kamehameha II. The reign of this prince was distinguished by the introduction of Christianity into the islands. But the conversion of the Hawaiians occurred in perhaps the most curious fashion in which a change was ever effected. Vancouver had visited the islands several times during the last part of the eighteenth century, and is still remembered as "a wise and generous benefactor of those islands." The words are taken from an Hawaiian document. He taught the Hawaiians many things, and among others a dislike for their crude systems of idolatry. The king went so far as to ask him to send out missionaries from England, but Vancouver, in 1794, sailed away for the last time, and no missionaries came. However, his teachings were working a reformation in Hawaii, and under Kamehameha II. it came to a head. In 1819 there was a general breaking of idols and burning of temples throughout Hawaii. A cousin of the king, indeed, rallied the conservatives, and civil war broke out, but in the battle of Kuamoo, December 20, 1819, the was defeated and slain.

The peculiarity of this reformation is that it was purely negative. No missionaries had yet arrived. The islanders were not establishing Christianity. They had simply sickened of their old religion and had cast it out. They had created a religious vacuum; they were a people without a faith, and their minds stood empty for the entrance of a new creed.

It came to them April 4, 1820, by the arrival of the pioneer party of American missionaries. "The missionaries were well received," says Chambers, "and the work of instruction was at once begun. In less than 40 years they had taught the whole Hawaiian people to read and write, to cipher and sew." "They soon reduced the language to writing," says an official report of the Hawaiian republic, "and commenced printing their first book in January, 1822. They found the Hawaiians an amiable and highly receptive race, eager for knowledge and easily influenced for good or evil."

King Kamehameha II. with the queen and six chiefs, embarked, November 27, 1823, for a voyage to England. The king and queen never returned. They died of measles in London after having been shown royal honors. Their deaths occurred in July, 1824, and H. M. S. "Blonde," commanded by Lord Byron, cousin of the poet, sailed for Honolulu with their remains.

Long before the dead king was returned to his people a formidable insurrection was crushed at the battle of Hanapepe in August, 1824. It had broken out in Kauai, and was led by the son of that last king of Kauai who had submitted to Kamehameha I. There was hard fighting, but when Lord Byron reached Honolulu, in May, 1825, the kingdom was again at peace. A brother of the late king was proclaimed as Kamehameha III., with the Queen Kaahumanu, wife of Kamehameha I., as regent.

In 1826 the first treaty was contracted between Hawaii and the United States. In 1827 the first written code of laws was promulgated. In 1832 the regent died, and in 1833 Kamhehameha III. came of age.

The next seven years form a most important period in the history of Hawaii. Foreigners seem always to have been the disturbing element in the islands. "The principal opposition to reform," says a state document, referring to the affairs in 1820, "was made by foreigners. The regency of Kaahumanu was disturbed by "a depraved class of foreigners" who resisted the police enactments. But foreigners wrought good as well as evil, and the missionaries of 1820 were followed by Roman Catholic fathers in 1827, and by silkmakers and cotton planters in 1835. The Catholic priests, however, had been deported through the influence of native chiefs, in 1832, and on their attempt to return, in 1837, trouble was precipitated, leading to persecution of native converts. English and French warships interfered in protection of the Catholics and an edict of toleration was promulgated June 17, 1839. As the priests involved were Frenchmen, France demanded an indemnity and a treaty guaranteeing full religious liberty. France secured the indemnity, the treaty and also a commercial convention. This troubled period of struggle over civil rights ended with the proclamation of a constitution, October 8, 1840.

A TYPICAL HAWAIIAN FOREST SCENE.

The Kamehameha dynasty continued to occupy the throne for 22 years longer. But its career was one of constant trouble, either diplomatic or internal. In its foreign relations this dynasty was in hot water, either with France or England, much of the time. Scheming consuls found no difficulty in fomenting discord. France put her nose in during 1842, but on that occasion Hawaiian diplomacy was equal to the situation. In 1843, however, the British consul, Mr. Charlton, proved more successful as an intriguer. He secured the presence of a British ship, commanded by Lord Paulet. The story of the Charlton episode is told in the following words by a document of the Hawaiian republic: "H. B. M. frigate Carysford, commanded by George Paulet, was ordered to Honolulu, arriving there February 10, 1843. On the arrival of the king from Lahaina, Lord Paulet sent him six demands, threatening war if they were not acceded to by four p. m. of the next day. These demands chiefly related to a fraudulent land claim of Charlton's, and to decisions of the courts in certain civil suits between foreigners. Before the hour set for hostilities had arrived the king acceded to the demands under protest, and appealed to the British government for damages. But a fresh series of demands having been made and claims for damages having been trumped up amounting to $80,000, the king decided, by Dr. Judd's advice, to forestall the intended seizure of the islands by a provisional cession, pending an appeal to the justice of the home government." The latter disavowed the actions of Lord Paulet. The British flag, which had displaced the Hawaiian, was hauled down by Admiral Thomas, July 31, 1843, and the native flag replaced "with impressive ceremonies." "His course," says the Hawaiian public document already quoted, "was fully approved by the home government, and certainly tended to exalt the reputation of his country for justice and magnanimity in dealing with inferior races." November 28, 1843, England and France ratified the independence of the islands and entered into a joint agreement "never to take possession, either directly or under title of a protectorate or under any other form, of any part of the territory of which they are composed."

But poor Hawaii was still to be the football of the nations. In 1848 the French again meddled. Their consul protested against the high duty on brandy and "the alleged partiality shown to the English language." These bickerings continued for some time. In August, 1849, a French warship entered Honolulu harbor; she was joined next day by another; ten days later Admiral de Tromelin sent a list of ten demands to the king, and gave him only three days in which to comply. The demands were refused. Thereupon de Tromelin landed an armed force, destroyed a port, confiscated the king's yacht, took aboard the French consul and sailed away. After more than a year of fruitless negotiation another French consul arrived at Honolulu, and at once took up the meddling role of his predecessor. One result of his intrigue was important. Finding that he could not balk France by himself, Kamehameha III. issued a proclamation placing Hawaii under the protection of the United States. The legislature ratified the proclamation. Although the United States declined to accept Hawaii, this bold move had the desired effect, for France dropped her demands.

From this time the political history of Hawaii is closely associated with that of the United States. During 1853 and 1854 there was "active agitation in Honolulu in favor of annexation to the United States." At least, so says a publication of the Hawaiian republic, which also states: "The king favored it as a refuge from impending dangers. The missionaries generally opposed it, fearing that its effects would be injurious to the native race." A draft of a treaty was completed in June, 1854, after much negotiation between the American minister and the Hawaiian minister of foreign affairs. Against this treaty both the French and British ministers protested. The heir apparent to the throne also opposed it, and while the treaty was still pending the king suddenly died.

His nephew, the enemy of the treaty, became King Kamehameha IV. He was a young man, but did not apparently possess much energy. His reign was an uneventful interlude in the stormy story of recent Hawaiian history. He was to the situation. In 1843, however, the British consul, Mr. Charlton, proved more successful as an intriguer. He secured the presence of a British ship, commanded by Lord Paulet. The story of the Charlton episode is told in the following words by a document of the Hawaiian republic: "H. B. M. frigate Carysford, commanded by George Paulet, was ordered to Honolulu, arriving there February 10, 1843. On the arrival of the king from Lahaina, Lord Paulet sent him six demands, threatening war if they were not acceded to by four p. m. of the next day. These demands chiefly related to a fraudulent land claim of Charlton's, and to decisions of the courts in certain civil suits between foreigners. Before the hour set for hostilities had arrived the king acceded to the demands under protest, and appealed to the British government for damages. But a fresh series of demands having been made and claims for damages having been trumped up amounting to $80,000, the king decided, by Dr. Judd's advice, to forestall the intended seizure of the islands by a provisional cession, pending an appeal to the justice of the home government." The latter disavowed the actions of Lord Paulet. The British flag, which had displaced the Hawaiian, was hauled down by Admiral Thomas, July 31, 1843, and the native flag replaced "with impressive ceremonies." "His course," says the Hawaiian public document already quoted, "was fully approved by the home government, and certainly tended to exalt the reputation of his country for justice and magnanimity in dealing with inferior races." November 28, 1843, England and France ratified the independence of the islands and entered into a joint agreement "never to take possession, either directly or under title of a protectorate or under any other form, of any part of the territory of which they are composed."

But poor Hawaii was still to be the football of the nations. In 1848 the French again meddled. Their consul protested against the high duty on brandy and "the alleged partiality shown to the English language." These bickerings continued for some time. In August, 1849, a French warship entered Honolulu harbor; she was joined next day by another; ten days later Admiral de Tromelin sent a list of ten demands to the king, and gave him only three days in which to comply. The demands were refused. Thereupon de Tromelin landed an armed force, destroyed a port, confiscated the king's yacht, took aboard the French consul and sailed away. After more than a year of fruitless negotiation another French consul arrived at Honolulu, and at once took up the meddling role of his predecessor. One result of his intrigue was important. Finding that he could not balk France by himself, Kamehameha III. issued a proclamation placing Hawaii under the protection of the United States. The legislature ratified the proclamation. Although the United States declined to accept Hawaii, this bold move had the desired effect, for France dropped her demands.

From this time the political history of Hawaii is closely associated with that of the United States. During 1853 and 1854 there was "active agitation in Honolulu in favor of annexation to the United States." At least, so says a publication of the Hawaiian republic, which also states: "The king favored it as a refuge from impending dangers. The missionaries generally opposed it, fearing that its effects would be injurious to the native race." A draft of a treaty was completed in June, 1854, after much negotiation between the plons of enlightenment fighting despotism. It mentions, indeed, that "the suspicion and race prejudice that already existed" was intensified in 1873 through the proposal to cede Pearl harbor to the United States in consideration of a treaty of commercial reciprocity. Another matter, which "helped to widen the breach" racially, was the execution of the law for the segregation of lepers, one result of which was a mutiny of the household troops, "which had the sympathy of the populace." The treaty of commercial reciprocity that was negotiated in the second year of the reign of King Kalakaua "went into operation in September, 1876, in spite of bitter opposition in both countries." In a later publication, the last volume of "Appleton's Annual Cyclopaedia," it is stated that "the Americans (in Hawaii) feared that the continued settlement of Japanese in the Hawaiian islands would result in the transfer of political power to them and the adoption of such laws as would make Hawaii a Japanese colony." This matter of Japanese complications will be an interesting matter to return to in a moment. Its immediate point is simply that it seems to let in some further glimmer of light on the obscure tangle of Hawaiian politics. This football of nations seems to have generated a conflict of races within as well as without. The exact truth about the internal affairs of Hawaii cannot yet be told, but the politicians of the Pacific are apparently no nearer to the angels than are those of our own land. However beneficent the revolution which they have brought about may prove to be, it does not follow that their methods were immaculate.

To return to the more definite history of Hawaii, King Kalakaua had been seated on the throne only by the aid of American marines, who were called in to suppress the rioting of his opponents. Once having got the throne however, he set out, as we are assured by the republicans, "to change the system of government into a personal despotism in which he should have unchecked control of the government treasury." The republican indictment of him reads much as does the orthodox whig indictment of Charles I. He dismissed two ministers without assigning any reason immediately after they "had been triumphantly sustained by a vote of the legislature." The appointment of one of his premiers, who had the picturesque name of Celso Caesar Moreno, "called forth the protest of the representatives of three great powers, and such an uprising of the people that he had to give way." We are told that adroit politicians taught him how to "violate the spirit and intent of the constitution, while keeping within the letter of the law," and also that "legislatures were packed with subservient officeholders, while every artifice was used to debauch the native electorate and foment race prejudice." The national debt grew to five times itself in seven years. The king accepted bribes.

All this brought about the revolution of 1887. There resulted a new constitution and great curtailment of the royal power. A royalist uprising in 1889, led by one R. W. Wilcox, was put down and soon afterward the king died.

The republican indictment of Liliuokalani is similar to the charges against Kalakaua. "The history of her short reign shows that it was her unaltered purpose to restore autocratic government." She had prepared a coup d'etat for January 14, 1893, but her ministers wavered at the last moment, and according to the republican account, "there was a general uprising of the conservative part of the community similar to that of 1887," and the republic was proclaimed.

The history of Hawaii under the republic is well known. A treaty of annexation to the United States was negotiated as soon as possible, but was abandoned on the accession to power of President Cleveland. The steady agitation in favor of annexation which has been going on ever since is too familiar to need review.

In February, 1897, commissioners were sent to Washington to draft a treaty of annexation. By this treaty the islands become the territory of Hawaii; all rights of sovereignty are ceded to the United States and the latter assumes the Hawaiian debt to the extent of $4,000,000. There is an anti-annexation party in the islands that still desires an independent government, but the Hawaiian legislature has unanimously ratified the treaty.

The territory of Hawaii, though its total area is only 6,740 square miles and its population but 109,020, has great natural wealth. No state on earth has a more mixed population. less than one-third being native Hawaiians, nearly one-fourth Japanese, one-fifth Chinese, one-sixth Portuguese, one-twentieth Americans, the rest British, Germans, Norwegians, French and South Sea Islanders. The Americans have long been the dominant element.

Japan is the only nation with whom Hawaii involves us in complications. A treaty made with Japan in 1871 gave that nation special rights of settlement in Hawaii. In 1895, for the reasons already given, those rights began to be curtailed. The Japanese government protested to the republic of Hawaii, and latterly to the United States. It desires to retain under the new dispensation all the rights secured to it by the treaty of 1871, but it has at last consented to submit the matter to arbitration. There now appears to be no reason to doubt that Hawaii will peaceably become a territory of the United States.

Death and Birth Rate.

It is computed that the death rate of the world is 67 and the birth rate 70 a minute, and this seemingly light percentage of gain is sufficient to give a net increase in population each year of almost 1,200,000 souls.

AGRICULTURAL HINTS

SOWING THE SEED.

How to Make the Good Roads Agitation Yield Permanent and Satisfactory Results.

A dozen years ago, when the good roads agitation was started, and the early workers began to sow the seed that they hoped would bring forth fruit a hundredfold, they had the experience that always falls to the lot of the sower—some seed fell upon good ground; some fell where there was little depth of earth; some fell among thorns, and others by the wayside.

It was not expected that all seed could be sown on good land, nor that all which should be sown would spring up to bear fruit. In such an undertaking it was more than ever necessary to follow the example which nature sets, and sow with wanton bounty, in order that here and there some might take root. In nature's economy, provision to guard against loss and prevent failure is made with a lavish hand, and thousands of blossoms and seeds are blown hither and thither to every one that rests in good soil and germinates.

ROAD AT COOLBAUGH, PA.

(People Come from a Long Distance to Use It.)

It was thus with the doctrine of better roads. When that gospel began to be preached it fell upon a few willing ears; some received it with joy and profited by it. Many more who heard it were heedless and indifferent; they listened, were interested for the moment, and then forgot it all. Then there were many more who would not hear, or who, hearing, would not understand. Lastly, there were those who rebelled at the doctrine, who antagonized it, who controverted it, and who sought in every way to refute it.

Nevertheless, the gospel of good roads continued to be preached with unremitting zeal until everyone had heard or had the opportunity to hear it. Into many sections of the country it penetrated slowly, and the receptivity of mind of those who heard it varied widely. The majority aroused themselves but slowly to a realization of its truths. It was "line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little and there a little"—the same truth repeated and reiterated in a thousand ways.

At first a consideration of the objects and advantages of permanent highways is relied upon to arouse interest and show what can be gained by instituting a course of improvements. This part of the subject may be handled in a thousand ways, and be repeated o'er and o'er. It is a preliminary and all-important step. When interest is aroused, an investigation of the conditions that actually obtain reveals much that is surprising, and the character of improvements that should be made then suggests itself. Then follows a comparison of methods of construction and systems of care and repair, together with the cost of the same and, finally, an examination of the "ways and means," or the most just and equitable manner of apportioning the expense.

The work is all new to our country, and experience elsewhere can only serve as a partial guide to a large extent we must work out the problem for ourselves. This requires time and patience and no little experiment. It needs courage and determination, and, as the work moves on step by step, it must continue that persistent agitation of every phase of the subject by which alone its importance can be brought home to everyone.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

HINTS FOR DAIRYMEN.

Cleanliness in packing and delivering bespeaks neatness and taste and helps to sell it.

The breaking of heifers to milk should be done by a very careful and level-headed person.

A cow that is heated or worried will not milk well and her milk will not make good butter.

A healthy cow in a good condition generally makes better colored butter than one in a poor condition.

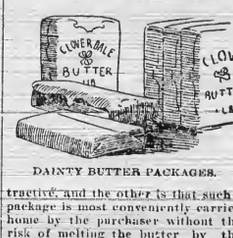
Sunlight, fresh air and hot water are the cardinal factors in cleanliness. One of the standard doctrines of modern dairy practice is that disinfectants can never take the place of simple, old-fashioned cleanliness.

Do not be frightened if your cows are large eaters, for it is a pretty sure indication that they have something of value to give you in return. All that you can induce the cow to eat and digest, above that needed for support, will go directly to profit. — Rural World.

REST FOR MILK COWS.

A Matter of Great Importance Which Is Ignored Far Too Often by Many Dairymen.

It is, we think, a fault of some of the best breeds of milkers that they cannot be easily dried off, even when they approach the time for dropping their calf. An interval of at least a month, and six weeks is still better, should be left to the cow, in which she should have an entire rest. Milk is not good for food for varying periods before parturition, depending much on the age and condition of the cow and the kind of food she receives and digests. A cow hin in flesh may require eight or even ten weeks' rest before beginning milking again. While we believe that young heifers after their first calf should be kept in milk until within a month or six weeks before the next calf is due, it is either to get them into the habit of long milking than because the small amount they give will be worth the extra feed and labor required to secure it.



Unless to supply milk for household use in winter there is little advantage in milking the cows that calved in the spring longer than January of the following year. From eight to twelve weeks with comparatively little grain feed will leave the cow in better condition for next year than will crowding her stomach with grain, so as to force milk production until near the time her next calf is due to be dropped. This last will possibly increase the milk flow when the cow springs her bag for the coming calf, and thus cause garget, which is an evil that the best milkers are likely to suffer from.

Until near the time of parturition the cow should be fed enough grain to make her gain in flesh. But for two weeks before she calves this grain feed should be withheld, lest it stimulate the milk flow too much. After the calf is a week old, and the danger of inflammation has past, the grain feeding may be resumed, taking care not to feed grain in such quantities as to fatten the cow rather than increase her milk flow.—American Cultivator.

BUTTER IN BOXES.

Putting Up Dairy Products in Attractive Packages Is a Very Profitable Investment.

An attractive package often sells even inferior goods, while an attractive package and superior goods make a combination that is simply irresistible! Successful shippers of many kinds of farm products have found out the truth of this and are profiting by it. Of two articles of equal merit the public will always buy the more attractive goods. There are two reasons for putting up butter in the form shown in the cut. One is that in this shape it is exceedingly attractive, and the other is that such a package is most conveniently carried home by the purchaser without the risk of melting the butter by the warmth of the band in holding the package.

DAINTY BUTTER PACKAGES.

The prints are made in the flat, four-square form, and are wrapped in parchment paper. Each pound print is then slipped into the paper box, the flap closed and the butter is ready for the customer. On the outside of the box, in dainty, colored lettering, should be the name of the dairy farm producing the goods, with the head of a mild-eyed Jersey or Guernsey cow, or a bit of clover, to suggestively announce the package. A reputation for the butter one makes can thus be established. Such boxes cost about half a cent each, all printed, when bought by the thousand.—Orange Judd Farmer.

GRASS IN ORCHARDS.

There Are Some Circumstances in Which Its Presence Will Usually Prove Beneficial.

Only by experience and study can a man know how to apply the general rules of farming. There is no one rule that will apply in all cases. It is generally true that keeping an orchard free of grass and well cultivated is a means of increasing its fruitfulness. Yet even this rule will not work well in all cases. A great deal will depend on the soil and the fertility in it, on the trees and their habits of growth, and so on. To set out a young orchard and begin to cultivate it and fertilize heavily would often be the ruin of it. During the first years of the life of an orchard it is often desirable to have the trees grow very slowly. In some soils this end is easily attained by leaving the soil in its natural state, even with no grass cover, the fertility of the soil being perhaps low. But in a rich soil other means must be used to prevent the trees from feeding too grossly. A cover of grass will help to do this. Not only will the roots take up part of the fertility in the ground but also part of the moisture. What is left will prove enough to give the trees all the growth they should have. Of course even this will depend on the year being an ordinary one. While grass is a good thing to keep out of most orchards, it will thus be found to be beneficial under some circumstances. — Farmer's Review.

Better results will be secured if no runners are allowed on the strawberry plants the first year.

THE GOSPEL'S PROGRESS.

Sectarianism Should Have No Place in Religion.

The Ammunition of All Christian Denominations Should Be Directed Against the Common Enemy and Not at One Another—Dr. Talmage's Sermon.

The text of Dr. Talmage Sunday was Judges xii., 6: "Then said they unto him, Say now shibboleth, and he said sibboleth: for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passages of Jordan."

Do you notice the difference of pronunciation between shibboleth and sibboleth? A very small and unimportant difference, you say. And yet that difference was the difference between life and death for a great many people. The Lord's people, Gilead and Ephraim, got into a great fight. Ephraim was worsted, and on the retreat came to the fords of the river Jordan to cross. Order was given that all Ephraimites coming there be slain. But how could it be found out who were Ephraimites? They were detected by their pronunciation: Shibboleth was a word that stood for river. The Ephraimites had a brogue of their own, and when they tried to say "shibboleth" it always left out the sound of the "h." When it was asked that they say shibboleth they said sibboleth, and were slain. "Then they said unto him, Say now shibboleth, and he said sibboleth; for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passages of the Jordan." A very small difference, you say, between Gilead and Ephraim, and yet how much intolerance about that small difference! The Lord's tribes in our time—by which I mean the different denominations of Christians—sometimes magnify a very small difference, and the only difference between scores of denominations to-day is the difference between shibboleth and sibboleth. The church of God is divided into a great number of denominations. Time would fail me to tell of the Calvinists, and the Arminians, and the Sabbatarians, and the Baxterians, and the Dunkers, and the Shakers, and the Quakers, and the Methodists, and the Baptists, and the Episcopalians, and the Lutherans, and the Congregationalists and the Presbyterians, and the Spiritualists, and a score of other denominations of religinists, some of them founded by very good men, some of them founded by very egotistic men, some of them founded by very bad men. But as I demand for myself liberty of conscience, I must give that same liberty to every other man, remembering that he no more differs from me than I differ from him. I advocate the largest liberty in all religious belief and form of worship. In art, in politics, in morals and in religion let there be no gag-law, no moving of the previous question, no persecution, no intolerance.

You know that the air and the water keep pure by constant circulation, and I think there is a tendency in religious discussion to purification and moral health. Between the fourth and the sixteenth centuries the church proposed to make people think aright by prohibiting discussion, and by strong censorship of the press, and rack, and gibbet, and hot lead down the throat tried to make people orthodox; but it was discovered that you can not change a man's belief by twisting off his head, nor make a man see differently by putting an awl through his eyes. There is something in a man's conscience which will hurl off the mountain that you threw upon it, and, unsinged of the fire, out of the flame will make red wings on which the martyr will mount to glory.

In that time of which I speak, between the fourth and 16th centuries, people went from the house of God into the most appalling iniquity, and right along by consecrated altars there were tides of drunkenness and licentiousness such as the world had never heard of, and the very sewers of perdition broke loose and flooded the church. After a while the printing press was freed, and it broke the shackles of the human mind. Then there came a large number of bad books, and where there was one man hostile to the Christian religion there were 20 men ready to advocate it; so I have not any nervousness in regard to this battle going on between Truth and Error. The truth will conquer just as certainly as that God is stronger than the devil. Let Error run if you only let Truth run along with it. Urged on by skeptics shout and transcendentalist's spur, let it run. God's angels of wrath are in hot pursuit, and quicker than the eagle's beak clutches out of a hawk's heart God's vengeance will tear it to pieces.

I propose to speak to you of sectarianism—its origin, its evils and its cures. There are those who would make us think that this monster, with horns and hoof, is religion. I shall chase it to its hiding place and drag it out of the caverns of darkness and rip off its hide. But I want to make a distinction between bigotry and the lawful fondness of peculiar religious belief and forms of worship. I have no admiration for a nothingarian.

In a world of such tremendous vicissitude and temptation, and with a soul that must after a while stand before a throne of insufferable brightness, in a day when the rocking of the mountains and the flaming of the Heavens and the upheaval of the seas shall be among the least of all excitements to give account for every thought, word, action, preference and dislike—that man is mad who has no religious preference. But our early education, our physical temperament, our mental constitution will very much decide.

A style of psalmody that may please me may displease you. Some would like to have a minister in gown and bands and surplice, and others prefer to have a minister in plain citizens' apparel. Some are most impressed when a little child is presented at the altar and sprinkled of the waters of a holy benediction "In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost," and others are more impressed when the penitent comes up out of the river, his garments dripping with the waters of a baptism which signifies the washing away of sin. Let either have his own way. One man likes no noise in prayer, not a word, not a whisper. Another man, just as good, prefers by gesticulation and exclamation to express his devotional aspirations. One is just as good as the other. "Every man fully persuaded in his own mind."

George Whitefield was going over a Quaker rather roughly for some of his religious sentiments, and the Quaker said: "George, I am as thou art; I am for bringing all men to the hope of the Gospel; therefore, if thou will not quarrel with me about my broad brim I will not quarrel with thee about thy black gown. George, give me thy hand."

In tracing out the religion of sectarianism or bigotry I find that a great deal of it comes from wrong education in the home circle. There are parents who do not think it wrong to caricature and jeer at the peculiar forms of religion in the world, and denounce other sects and other denominations. It is very often the case that that kind of education acts just the opposite to what was expected, and the children grow up, and, after a while, go and see for themselves; and, looking into these churches, and finding the people are good there, and they love God and keep His commandments, by natural reaction they go and join those very churches. I could mention the names of prominent ministers of the Gospel who spent their whole lives bombarding other denominations and who lived to see their children preach the Gospel in those very denominations. But it is often the case that bigotry starts in a household, and that the subject of it never recovers. There are tens of thousands of bigots ten years old.

I think sectarianism and bigotry also rise from too great prominence of any one denomination in a community. All the other denominations are wrong and his denomination is right because his denomination is the most wealthy, or the most popular, or the most influential, and it is "our" church, and "our" religious organization, and "our" choir, and "our" minister, and the man tosses his head, and wants other denominations to know their places. It is a great deal better in any community when the great denominations of Christians are about equal in power, marching side by side for the world's conquest. More outside prosperity, more worldly power, is not evidence that the church is acceptable to God. Better a barn with Christ in the manger than a cathedral with magnificent harmonies rolling through the long-drawn aisle, and an angel from Heaven in the pulpit if there be no Christ in the chancel and no Christ in the robes.

Bigotry is often the child of ignorance. You seldom find a man with large intellect who is a bigot. It is the man who thinks he knows a great deal but does not. That man is almost always a bigot. The whole tendency of education and civilization is to bring a man out of that kind of state of mind and heart. There was in the far east a great obelisk and one side of the obelisk was white, another side of the obelisk was green, another side of the obelisk was blue, and travelers went and looked at that obelisk, but they did not walk around it. One man looked at one side, another at another side, and they came home each one locking at only one side; and they happened to meet, the story says, and they got into a rank quarrel about the color of that obelisk. One man said it was white, another man said it was green, another man said it was blue, and when they were in the very heat of the controversy a more intelligent traveler came and said, "Gentlemen, I have seen that obelisk and you are all right and you are all wrong. Why didn't you all walk around the obelisk?"

Look out for the man who sees only one side of a religious truth. Look out for the man who never walks around about these great theories of God and eternity and the dead. He will be a bigot inevitably—the man who only sees one side. There is no man more to be pitied than he who has in his head just one idea—no more, no less. More light, less sectarianism. There is nothing that will so soon kill bigotry as sunshine—God's sunshine.

So I have set before you what I consider to be the cause of bigotry. I have set before you the origin of this great evil. What are some of the baleful effects? First of all, it cripples investigation. You are wrong, and I am right, and that ends it. No taste for exploration, no spirit of investigation. From the glorious realm of God's truth, over which an archangel might fly from eternity to eternity and not reach the limit, the man shuts himself out and dies, a blind mole under the earth-shock. It stops all investigation.

While each denomination of Christians is to present all the truths of the Bible, it seems to me that God has given to each denomination an especial mission to give particular emphasis to some one doctrine; and so the Calvinistic churches must present the sovereignty of God, and the Armenian churches must present man's free agency, and the Episcopal churches must present the importance of order and solemn ceremony, and the Baptist churches must present the necessity of ordinances, and the Congregational church must present the responsibility of the individual member, and the Methodist church must show what holy enthusiasm, hearty congregational singing can accomplish. While each denomination of Christians must set forth all the doctrines of the Bible, I feel it is especially incumbent upon each denomination to put particular emphasis on some one doctrine.

Another great damage done by the sectarianism and bigotry of the church is that it disgusts people with the Christian religion. Now, my friends, the Church of God was never intended for a war barrack. People are afraid of a riot. You go down the street and you see an excitement and missles flying through the air, and you hear the shock of firearms. Do you the peaceful and industrious citizen go through that street. Oh, no! you will say, "I'll go around the block." Now, men come and look upon the narrow path to Heaven, and sometimes see the ecclesiastical brickbats flying every whither, and they say, "Well, I guess I'll take the broad road; there is so much sharpshooting on the narrow road, I guess I'll try the broad road!"

Francis I. so hated the Lutherans that he said that if he thought there was one drop of Lutheran blood in his veins he would puncture them and let that drop out. Just as long as there is so much hostility between denomination and denomination, or between one professed Christian and another, or between one church and another, so long men will be disgusted with the Christian religion, and say, "If that is religion I want none of it."

Again, bigotry and sectarianism do great damage in the fact that they hinder the triumph of the Gospel. Oh, how much wasted ammunition! How many men of splendid intellect have given their whole life to controversial disputes when, if they had given their life to something practical, they might have been gloriously useful! Suppose, while I speak, there were a common enemy coming up the bay, and all the forts around the harbor begun firing into each other—you would cry out: "National suicide! Why don't those forts blaze away in one direction and that against the common enemy?"

And yet I sometimes see in the church of the Lord Jesus Christ a strange thing going on: church against church, minister against minister, denomination against denomination, firing away into their own fort, or the fort which ought to be on the same side, instead of concentrating their energy and giving one mighty and everlasting volley against the navies of darkness riding up through the bay.

I go out sometimes in the summer, and I find two beehives, and these two hives are in a quarrel. I come near enough not to be stung, but I come just near enough to hear the controversy, and one beehive says, "That field of clover is the sweetest," and another beehive says, "That field of clover is the sweetest." I come in between them and say, "Stop this quarrel; if you like that field of clover best, go there; if you like this field of clover best, go there; but let me tell you that that hive which gets the most honey is the best hive!" So I come out between the churches of the Lord Jesus Christ. One denomination of Christians say, "That field of Christian doctrine is best," and another says, "This field of Christian doctrine is the best." Well, I say, "go where you get the most honey." That is the best church which gets the most honey of Christian grace for the heart, and the most honey of Christian usefulness for the life.

Besides that, if you want to build up any denomination, you will never build it up by trying to pull anything down. How much has intolerance accomplished, for instance, against the Methodist church? For long years her ministry were forbidden the pulpits of Great Britain. Why was it that so many of them preached in the fields? Simply because they could not get in the churches. And the name of the church was given in derision and as a sarcasm. The critics of the church said: "They have no order, they have no method in their worship;" and the critics, therefore, in irony called them "Methodists."

I am told that in Astor library, New York, kept as curiosities, there are 707 books and pamphlets against Methodism. Did intolerance stop that church? No; it is either first or second amid the denominations of Christendom, her missionary stations in all parts of the world, her men not only important in religious trusts, but important also in secular trusts. Church marching on and the more intolerance against it the faster it marched.

What did intolerance accomplish against the Baptist church? If laughing scorn and tirade could have destroyed that church it would not have to-day a disciple left. The Baptists were hurled out of Boston in olden times. Those who sympathized with them were imprisoned and when a petition was offered asking leniency in their behalf, all the men who signed it were indicted. Has intolerance stopped the Baptist church? The last statistics in regard to it showed 44,000 churches, and 4,000,000 communicants. Intolerance never puts down anything.

In England a law was made against the Jew. England thrust back the Jew and thrust down the Jew and declared that no Jew should hold official position. What came of it? Were the Jews destroyed? Was their religion overthrown? No. Who became prime minister of England? Who was next to the throne? Who was higher than the throne, because he was counselor and adviser? Disraeli, a Jew. What were we celebrating in all our churches as well as synagogues only a few years ago? The one hundreth birthday of Montsfiore, the great Jewish philanthropist. Intolerance never yet put down anything.

A good Mexican cook relieves the mistress of the house of worry and responsibility in a manner that is almost unknown in the United States. The cook is given so much a day, and with this amount she will purchase each morning all the provisions for the day, including even the staples that are usually bought in large quantities in other countries. On a dollar a day a cook will provide a very good table for a family of three or four, and get enough beans and tortillas and chile to set the servants' table with besides.

A Philippine Heroine.

One of the Philippine insurgent leaders is a beautiful woman whose life seems to be charmed. She has often rushed bravely into the very teeth of death from guns and cannon, but has never been wounded. Frequently we see people in this country who live so long that their lives seem charmed also, but the only charm about it is that they keep up their strength and vitalize their blood with that celebrated remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

A Liberal Supply Needed.

"There's one thing, dear George," she wrote, "that you mustn't forget. Stand on tiptoe when those great guns go off, and stuff your ears full of cotton. Don't forget the cotton when you pass through the south. Get two bales while you are about it."

And dear George rubbed his ears and wondered what she meant.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease,

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. At this season your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen and sweating feet, blisters and callous spots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores for 25c. Trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Market Fluctuations.

"She told me her heart and hand were priceless."

"What did you say?"

"I told her I would go off somewhere and wait until she sent me word that they were marked down."—Indianapolis Journal.

Wheat 40 Cents a Bushel.

How to grow wheat with big profit at 40 cents and samples of Salzer's Red Cross (80 Bushels per acre) Winter Wheat, Rye, Oats, Clovers, etc., with Farm Seed Catalogue for 10 cents postage. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis. K

A Positive Proof.

Teacher—Now can any of you give any proofs of your own that the world is not flat?

Little Tommy—Please, sir, if it was you could see the north pole with a telescope.—Puck.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

No wonder so many bank clerks go away, because they all have such cheque-raced careers.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

We have not been without Piso's Cure for Consumption for 20 years.—Lizzie Ferrel, Camp St., Harrisburg, Pa., May 4, '96.

One reason why "it pays to be honest" is because there is less competition along that line.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

"Your account is a good round sum," said the grocer; "don't you think you could square the circle?"—L. A. W. Bulletin.

THE MARKETS.

	CINCINNATI, July 22
LIVESTOCK—Cattle, common	$ 2 75	@	$ 3 75
Select butchers	4 00	@	4 40
CALVES—Fair to good light	5 75	@	6 25
HOGS—Common	3 20	@	3 75
Mixed packers	3 70	@	3 80
Light shippers	3 65	@	3 90
SHEEP—Choice	3 25	@	3 85
LAMBS	5	@	6 00
FLOUR—Winter family	3 15	@	3 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@	71½
No. 3 red		@	72
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	33½
Oats—No. 2		@	27
Rye—No. 2		@	41
HAY—Prime to choice	9 00	@	9 50
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@	10 50
Lard—Prime steam		@	5 37½
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@	12
Prime to choice creamery		@	16½
APPLES—New, per bbl	2 00	@	2 50
POTATOES—New, per bbl	1 65	@	1 75
	CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	4 10	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	80½
No. 3 Chicago spring	70	@	80
CORN—No. 2	33¾	@	34⅝
OATS—No. 2		@	24
PORK—Mess	9 75	@	9 80
LARD—Steam	5 52½	@	5 60
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	4 10	@	4 15
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	84
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	38¼
RYE		@	49
OATS—Mixed		@	27½
PORK—New mess	10 00	@	10 50
LARD—Western		@	5 87½
	BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	5 60	@	6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	81	@	81¾
Southern—Wheat	78	@	81½
Corn—Mixed	37	@	37½
Oats—No. 2 white	32	@	33
Rye—No. 2 western		@	45
CATTLE—First quality	4 40	@	4 70
HOGS—Western	4 40	@	4 50
	INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	73½
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	31½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	25
	LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	70	@	70
Corn—Mixed		@	36
Oats—Mixed		@	27½
PORK—Mess		@	10 50
LARD—Steam		@	5 37½

PERIODS OF PAIN.

Menstruation, the balance wheel of woman's life, is also the bane of existence to many because it means a time of great suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical pain, it does not seem to have been nature's plan that women otherwise healthy should suffer so severely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It relieves the condition that produces so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors. Here is proof:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—How can I thank you enough for what you have done for me? When I wrote to you I was suffering untold pain at time of menstruation; was nervous, had headache all the time, no appetite, that tired feeling, and did not care for anything. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of Blood Purifier, two boxes of Liver Pills, and to-day I am a well person. I would like to have those who suffer know that I am one of the many who have been cured of female complaints by your wonderful medicine and advice. —Miss JENNIE R. MILES, Leon, Wis.

If you are suffering in this way, write as Miss Miles did to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for the advice which she offers free of charge to all women.

SKILL OF DOCTORS TESTED.

Fifteen Years of Suffering.

"I thought I should surely die."

When the stomach begins to fail in its duties, other organs speedily become affected in sympathy, and life is simply a burden almost unbearable. Indigestion and dyspepsia are so common that only the sufferer from these diseases knows the possibilities of misery that inhere in them. A typical example of the sufferings of the victim of indigestion is furnished in the case of John C. Pritchard. He went on for fifteen years, from bad to worse. In spite of doctors he grew constantly weaker, and thought he would die. He got well, however, and thus relates his experience:

"For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from indigestion in its worst forms. I tested the skill of many doctors, but grew worse and worse, until I became so weak I could not walk fifty yards without having to sit down and rest. My stomach, liver, and heart became affected, and I thought I would surely die. I tried Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills and they helped me right away. I continued their use and am now entirely well. I don't know of anything that will so quickly relieve and cure the terrible sufferings of dyspepsia as Dr. Ayer's Pills."—JOHN C. PRITCHARD, Brodie, Warren Co., N. C.

This case is not extraordinary, either in the severity of the disease or the prompt and perfect cure performed by Dr. Ayer's Pills. Similar results occur in every case where Dr. Ayer's Pills are used. "They helped me right away" is the common expression of those who have used them. Here is another testimony to the truth of this statement:

"I formerly suffered from indigestion and weakness of the stomach, but since I began the use of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills, I have the appetite of the farmer's boy. I am 46 years of age, and recommend all who wish to be free from dyspepsia to take one of Dr. Ayer's Pills after dinner, till their digestive organs are in good order."—WM. STRINKE, Grant, Neb.

Dr. Ayer's Pills offer the surest and swiftest relief from constipation and all its attendant ills. They cure dizziness, nausea, heartburn, palpitation, bad breath, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, biliousness, and scores of other affections that are, after all, only the signs of a more deep rooted disease. You can find more information about Dr. Ayer's Pills, and the diseases they have cured, in Ayer's Curebook, a story of cures told by the cured. This book of 100 pages is sent free on request by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Queered Himself.

"Oh, mamma, I fear the duke is not high born, after all."

"Why, Maud?"

"We were talking of the mooted Anglo-American alliance and he said something about our 'common blood.'"—Indianapolis Journal.

War Photographer—"Business with me is developing. How is it with you?" Ammunition Manufacturer—"It's booming, I thank you!"—Town Topics.

SUMMER RESORTS on LONG ISLAND

By the Ocean on the south shore, or the wooded Sound on the north shore. Send 2 cts. in stamps for "LONG ISLAND," an illustrated descriptive book of "SUMMER HOMES," a book describing hotels and boarding houses on LONG ISLAND, and &c. for "UNIQUE LONG ISLAND," an illustrated book by H. M. SMITH, Traffic Manager, L. I. R. R., Long Island City, New York.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Bears the Signature Of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try this brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four

GAME PLAQUES

exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Muville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

American Wild Ducks, English Quail, American Pheasant, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH

has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5 cent packages of Elastic Starch (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of these beautiful Game Plaques free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

THE OMAHA EXPOSITION

IS REACHED DIRECT BY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY

If you are going to attend (and it will be what you can ill afford to miss), you will find this the best line to take.

WE OFFER SUPERIOR EQUIPMENT, PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPING CARS, RECLINING CHAIR CARS (SEATS FREE) AND THE ONLY LINE DIRECT TO THE GROUNDS.

SEE Agent for further particulars.

C. G. WARNER, Vice-President. W. B. DODDRIDGE, General Manager. H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen'l Pass'r and Ticket Agent.

"DON'T HIDE YOUR LIGHT UNDER A BUSHEL," THAT'S JUST WHY WE TALK ABOUT

SAPOLIO

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

The Best BOOK on the WAR Beautifully bound and magnificently illustrated (price $2), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland free.

A. N. K.—E 1719

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, July 27, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work,

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOG E BILLS,

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by ma land it will be attended promptly.

CROP AND STOCK.

In Jessamine county twenty 1,100 pound cattle sold at $4,35.

The Woodford Sun reports the sale of seventeen 1,650 pound cattle at $4,60.

The Advocate says the tobacco crop of Robertson bids fair to be the best for years.

W. H. Kerr, of North Middletown, has sold 110 horses the past ten days, 94 to the Government.

A Mason county farmer threshed eight hundred and thirty-six bushels of wheat raised on twenty-one acres.

Wm. S. Fant, of Flemingsburg, bought several crops of new wheat at 60 cents, delivered at his mill and elevator there.

A Lexington paper says the wheat crop in Fayette county is like some young men there. The heads of the wheat are large enough but there is nothing in them.

Feed that will make a pound of beef will make a pound of butter. And while the one will sell for from two to eight cents per pound, the latter will bring from fifteen to twenty cents.

The purchase of cavalry horses, which is about over in the Blue Grass, has been a great thing for farmers and dealers, and about $400,000 has been paid out in Lexington and nearby towns.

R. M. Squires, of Chilesburg, threshed seventy acres of wheat that made 1,900 bushels. A portion of it was corn land. Thirty acres made thirty-three bushels per acre. It was the Terry Giltz wheat imported last year from Northern Ohio by him. He will save his entire crop for seed.

Hood Worthington has harvested, threshed, and delivered a very large crop of wheat, over 4,000 bushels. He had 130 acres in cultivation, 40 acres of which followed corn and yielded 25 bushels per acre, 90 acres after clover yielded a part, 40 bushels, the rest 35 bushels. He sold in Danville at 75 cents and has delivered.--Harrodsburg Democrat.

A petition is being circulated among the manufacturers of tobacco in Ohio asking the legislature of that state to pass a law against the spraying of leaf tobacco with Paris green to kill worms. They say the practice is dangerous to life and destroys the quality of the product. They ask the aid of all to crush what they say will be a dangerous experiment.

The grasshoppers are coming again this year. The agricultural department at Washington has given warning to the territory to be affected by the ravenous insect and its ravenous officials are making preparations to thoroughly study the life and habits of this strange destroyer of vegetable life so that future visitations may be rendered less and less destructive.

Clark and Jessamine counties, from all reports, have the most forward tobacco of any counties in the Burley belt. Whole fields in these counties have been topped, and some of it will be cut earlier than has been known in that section for years. Other counties in the Blue Grass report the crop as irregular in growth, but some good fields. Henry has suffered for want of rain more than any county in the Burley belt.

Several farmers will buy hogsheads to store their wheat in this summer. Such persons should be very careful in adopting this plan, as wheat put in any kind of a barrel is almost sure to spoil by becoming musty. While the wheat put in hogsheads may seem to be good on top yet down toward the middle and bottom it will be spoiled. Better buy sacks or put your wheat in a pile on the floor.—Flemingsburg Gazette.

STATE NEWS.

Wingo has voted to levy a tax to maintain a graded school.

There are 360 post-offices in the counties composing the Ninth district.

At Louisville J. C. Allen, aged 11 months, swallowed an open safety-pin.

The Advocate says that the Danville banks paid back taxes in full to the city to the amount of $8,000.

Dr. H. B. Fisk, a widely known physician of Falmouth, d i e d at the age of forty-four years after a lingering illness.

Small pox has been creating considerable excitement in Laurel, Clay and Jackson counties. It is said now to be under control.

Hon. Evan Settle has been declared the Democratic nominee for Congress in his district under the rules adopted by the district committee.

There is some misunderstanding as to war tax stamp requirements, but it has been decided that reports of all trust and bank companies must be stamped.

In Madison county Lee Pigg and Otis Malcote got into a dispute about the payment of 50 cents, and the latter drew his knife and stabbed the former to death.

Henry Spencer, aged forty-five years, a bachelor much addicted to drink, leaped from the fourth story of the Carty building in Lexington, and was instantly killed.

The sale of the 200 dozen "rejected" chairs at the penitentiary netted the State $900. This was almost double the amount at which they were placed on the list.

Republican State officials filed a petition at Frankfort for a rehearing in the Prison Commission case. The Democratic officers were to have taken charge Aug. 1.

Gov. Bradley and State Custodian Ed Porter Thompson have held several conferences looking to making much-needed improvement about the State Capitol buildings and grounds.

The Louisville School Board is arranging a novel aid to the temperance and anti-tobacco cause. It is proposed to introduce into the schools a course of study which will show the effect of narcotics and alcholic stimulants on the human system. By thus showing the children the evil it is thought they will refrain from cultivating the habits.

To the splendid generalship of General Jo Wheeler as much as to any other cause is due the repeated successes of the American forces around Santiago. To see this white-haired veteran of the War of the Rebellion, astride his horse, leading the regiments under his command, made up almost entirely of Northern men, is a sight to stir the heart of every American who remembers that there was once a Mason and Dixon line in the United States.

The camp here is ringing with praise of Wheeler, and at the same time a good story of his words during a desperate charge last week is going the rounds. As he was leading the Seventy-first New York, the Roosevelt Rough Riders and a strong force of regulars up a high hill at San Juan, storming a large body of Spaniards, who were strongly intrenched, the attacking line began to waver under a fierce fire from Gatling guns and strong field pieces.

Wheeler saw his men waver, and began shouting at the top of his voice, while the guns were roaring and the small arms rattling.

"Steady, boys: Come on now, the Yankees are giving way, look! There they go! The Yankees are leaving their guns," and suddenly catching himself he cried out even more vigorously:

"Damn it! I mean the Spaniards are running. Go for 'em boys!"

Despite the hail of Mauser and Springfield bullets, the rain of sharpnel and Gatling fire, the soldiers laughed at their old General's absent-minded memory of other days. But they did "go for 'em." Instantly the wavering line took on new confidence, the gaps closed, and in 20 minutes San Juan was ours.

General Wheeler, for a man of his years, has shown wonderful powers in the field. No young officer in his command can stand longer or harder fighting than he, and certainly none is braver or more fearless.

General Shafter has been indisposed for days at a time since going to the front, and much of the responsibility of command, as well as the brunt of continuous fighting have been borne by "Fighting Joe" Wheeler.

Miss Wheeler, the General's daughter, is expected to arrive here in a few days, to work as a nurse in the field hospital. One of his sons is in the navy and another in the field with him.—Exchange.

FROM OWEN COUNTY.

[Herald,]

Fine rains all over the county the past week and corn and tobacco are growing nicely.

There are 5,431 white pupils and 540 colored pupils of school age in Owen county.

The Odd Fellows are still talking about building, but have not yet decided upon the style of house they will erect.

It is reported that one of the crack farmers of Dallasburg raised 50 bushels of wheat to the acre.

[News]

The General Merchandise store of Gardner Thomas, at Cleveland, was consumed by fire Monday. Loss about $3,500. Insurance $2,000.

Rev. Martin Aylor of the Primative Baptist church, will preach at the Methodist church this place, the first Saturday evening and Sunday in August. All are cordially invited to attend.

Emmett Orr has been selected by Gov. Bradley as one of the fifty members of the staff to accompany the Governor to Chickamauga Park at the unveiling of the Kentucky monument during the month of September, erected to the memory of the illustrious Kentuckians who fell on either side in that memorable battle.

Elisha Cobb and Pack Munson had a difficulty last week over the shooting of some cattle. Cobb had several cattle shot, three of which died and several more were wounded. He accused Munson of doing the shooting and went to his house, pulled a knife and made Munson let him measure his foot: Munson had Cobb arrested and the jury fined Cobb one cent and cost.

At a picnic at Collin's Mill on Eagle creek last Saturday, a number of lads about eighteen were amusing themselves scuffling, swapping pistols etc., and in the rounds young Frank Steger got a bullet in him from a "pistol that wasn't loaded." The bullet struck him in the breast and ran around one of his ribs, and was taken out near the spinal column.

POSTAL CARDS have been sent out notifying persons supposed to want a copy of the laws passed by the last Legislature, that if they would send $1, a bound copy of the acts would be forwarded. It is strange that these new laws, in book from, should be put on the market before the public officers, who need them every day and are entitled to them, are supplied. They are necessarily very small volumes and ought to have been in the public offices before now.

GENERAL TORAL'S reception at home will be very different from that of a conquering hero. It is intimated that the General would not remonstrate against being detained in this country.

ABOUT Santiago four crops a year can be produced. That would be a most excellent location for Michigan's potato Governor.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Abel Beemon's adm'r., Plff.
vs } Equity.
Rachael Beemon, &c., Defts.

By virtue of a Judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1898, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder at Public Sale on Monday, the 1st day of August, 1898, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being County Court day, upon a credit of 6, 12 and 18 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being in Boone county, Ky. Beginning at a stone on the Burlington and Big Bone road, a corner with Thomas Aylor; thence with his line n 79½ e 23.83 chains to a stone, a corner with Rachael Beemon's dower; thence with a line thereof, s 4½ w 18.87 chains to a stone, a corner of W. B. Adams; thence with his line n 65 w 10.80 chains to a stone, n 84 w 11.25 chains to a stone in said road; thence n 69 w 1.56 chains, n 11 w 53 links, n 4½ e 7.57 chains to the beginning. Containing 29 acre, 2 roods and 15 poles.

There is excepted out of this lot a passway 16 feet in width; beginning at a stone, a corner of Mrs. Rachael Beemon's dower in a line of Thomas Aylor; thence with his line s 79½ w 23.83 chs. to the Burlington and Big Bone road; said passway being for the use and benefit of Rachael Beemon's dower.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price of said land the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Amount to be raised by sale, $684 03.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. B. C. C. C.

NOTICE.

I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first-class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.

JOHN WALSH,
Normansville, Ky.

SHERIFF'S SALE FOR TAXES.

By virtue of Taxes due for the years 1893-4-5-6-7, I will on

MONDAY, AUGGUST 1st, 1898,

sell for cash in hand at the Court-house door in the town of Burlington, Ky., to the highest bidder, the following property or so much thereof as will satisfy taxes and cost thereon:

WALTON.

Ludwig Habble nr t l '94, 5, 6, 7,	7	17
Mrs Robt L Weaver nr tl 94,5,6 7	7	17

CONSTANCE.

Johnson Robinson nr tl 93,4,5,6,7	5	27
Jone Deer t l 93, 4	6	80
Wm N Waters nr 94, 5, 6, 7	4	65
Susan Fox 11a, 95, 6, 7	7	64
Erastus Winters 1a, 95, 6, 7	12	55
Rich'd Fox est, t l 96, 7	4	88
J W Hood 12a, 96, 7	12	28

FLORENCE.

Edward Golway tl 94, 5, 6, 7	24	97
Jno C Buckner tl, 95, 6, 7	34	44
Fred Kull tl, 95, 6, 7	9	55
Jno Gorman & Co, 4a, 96, 7	7	78
Mary McWilliams 24a, 96, 7	23	78

BULLITTSVILLE.

Jas H Tanner, town lot	15	48

BELLEVUE.

Julia Lafever, t l, '93,4,5,6	4	40
Doc Merchant hrs, 12a, 94. 5, 6, 7.	4	62
J C Kelly, t l, '95, 6, 7	15	77
Elizabeth Lacy, t l, '95, 6	3	21
Lewis Lafever, t lot, '95, 7	8	37
Peggy Ann Ryle, 8a. '95,6,7	4	39

PETERSBURG.

H & L Barnard, n r, 14a, '94	3	28
Petersburg Bldg Ass'n, t l, '94.	4	36
Wm Boman, 9a, '95, 7	9	16
Bertha Christe, t l, '95, 6,7	4	01
John Hurd, town lot, '95,6	11	97
Fannie Lyons, town lot, '95, 6, 7	11	99
A L Loder, t l, '93,4,5,6,7	14	46
Henry Scheurman, t l, '95,6	8	68
Mike Tafferty, t l, '95,6,7	11	50
Wm J Alloway, t l, '93, 6	7	87
Robt Snelling, u r, t l, '96,7	6	30
Ithemer Yerkes, t l, '96,7	9	80

CARLTON.

Delilah Holmes, 4 acres, '93,4	3	32
John Roland, 80 acres, '96,7	27	02
A J Holmes, 4 acres, '93,5,6,7	12	06

HAMILTON.

Jesse Gregory, town lot, '93,4	5	60
Chas A McLaughlin, 58a, '96,7	25	70

COLORED LIST.—PETERSBURG.

Marla Parker's hrs, t l, '94,6,7	4	06
Melvina Parker, t l '93,5,6,7	4	08
America Walton, t l '95,6,7	3	75

I will continue to advertise from month to month until all taxes due me are collected.

C. C. ROBERTS,
Ex-Sheriff Boone County.

EVERETT HELMS
—PROPRIETOR,—
The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,
Petersburg, Ky.
Will be pleased to
CUBA
Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.
BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.
TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE
DELHI FERRY
To The City.
Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.
A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.
NO DELAY.

Order of Reference.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Elizabeth W. Rogers' adm'r. Plff.
vs
Elizabeth W. Rogers' heirs, devisees, &c., Dfts.

This cause is now referred to J. W. Duncan, Master Commissioner of the Boone Circuit Court, under sections 430 and 431, Civil Code of Practice, with the following instructions, to-wit:

1. He will audit and settle the accounts of the administrator.

2. He will ascertain and report the amount of indebtedness found against decedants estate and how secured if at all.

3. He will report what real estate the decedent owned at the time of her death, where situated, how encumbered if at all, and its probable value.

4. He will give due notice of the time and place of his sittings and report all of his acts hereunder at the next term of said court.

Witness my hand as clerk of said court, this July 13th, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, Clerk B. C. C.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he will begin his sittings on the 26th day of July, 1898, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., to hear proof in the above styled cause, and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 1st day of August, 1898. All persons having claims against said estate will present them to me properly proven according to law.

J. W. DUNCAN, Master Com.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed proposals for the building of a school house will be received by the trustees of District No. 31, (Pt. Pleasant). Size of building, 24 x30. Bids will be opened at the school house Saturday, July 30th, at 3 p. m. Plans and specifications can be seen at J. H. Walton's. The trustees reserve the right to reject any or all bids

J. H. WALTON, Chairman.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—R. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Rimer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Allphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—I. H. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:

District No 1.—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.

District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.

District No. 3.—H. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Aylor, Constable.

District No. 4.—John S. Noell, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.

District No. 5.—J. C. Byland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.

District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Gully.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M Lester.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Durelle, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, J. H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
DENTIST.
Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.
☞OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.
Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.
East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m, 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown..7:30 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m
C. D. BERCAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN.
—DRUGGIST,—
Rising Sun, - Indiana.
Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.
E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington,
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.
EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

YOU CAN PATENT
anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY,
Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention given to Collections entrusted to him. mch22-93.

W. E. VEST,
County Surveyor,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. R. RIDDELL.
LASSING & RIDDELL,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.
VEST & RICE,
Real Estate Agents.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
☞All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 3,000
Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
Walton, Kentucky.
Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.
☞Will be in office at Union every Monday.
Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,
SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,
And all Kinds of
Household Goods,
213 W. Fifth St. Cincinnati, O.
4 Doors W. of Elm, Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
HARD AND SOFT
:COAL,:
Erlanger, - - Ky.
Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.
J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1898. NO. 41.

It is probable that J. Linn Gooch, of Covington, will be a candidate for Congress in this district. He is a new entry in Sixth District politics, and about the time he thinks he is becoming pretty well acquainted with the people in the "outlying districts," he will discover that the other fellow has captured the nomination, and the only reward he has received for his efforts will be an extension of his list of acquaintances. There are only three men in the district who can give the Tall Poplar of the Licking any trouble. These gentlemen live in the rural regions of the Sixth, and they are not bankering after Congressional honors at present if they are correctly reported, and it looks like Col. Berry will have another walkover.

What is to be done with Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines when the United States has whipped the Spaniards, and these islands become the property of this country? As to Porto Rico and the Philippines it very much depends; but here are the words of President McKinley immediately before the fighting began:

"That the United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination, when that is accomplished, to leave the government and control of the island to its people."

Garcia is still in the dumps, and says he wishes that the American soldiers had never put their feet on Cuban soil. The old man has not been treated with the consideration due him as leader of the Cubans, but President McKinley's declaration of this country's intention as to Cuba, stands unrevoked, and in the wind up he will receive his full share of honor if he continues faithful.

Candidates for Speaker of the next House of Representatives are now in the field, and it is more than a year before the members are elected. Bennet Henderson, of Caldwell, and Morgan Chinn, of Mercer, are engaged in a canvass for the position. They have plenty of time in which to go and help to whip Spain and then come back and make their canvass.

It is proposed to raise by subscriptions throughout the State, ten thousand dollars for a service of silver to be given by the people of Kentucky to the battleship Kentucky. Harry Weissinger, of Louisville, is chairman of the committee to whom the task has been assigned. The Kentucky will be ready for service January 1st.

A call upon Capt. W. H. Baker to become a candidate for Congress will appear in the Boone and Kenton Banner, which will make its bow to the public at Erlanger this week. The Captain knows what Boone will do for him if he becomes a candidate.

Joe Wheeler is a candidate for reelection to Congress, and will go through without opposition. He cannot be beaten while at the front, and none of the politicians in his district have the temerity to oppose him.

It has cost Spain about twenty-five warships to kill off five or six of this country's boys in the navy. That is prosecuting a war at a tremendous cost.

Gen. Shafter does not corroborate the statement that the Cubans acted cowardly in the Santiago campaign. He says to the contrary.

Mayor Rhinock, of Covington, is said to have a Congressional bee in his hat, and some say he will enter the race when the time comes.

It is said that so far as is known, one John Allen, of Mississippi, is the only private that lived through the war between the States.

A good way to kill the Cubans off is to give them plenty to eat.

A WORD OF WARNING.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

I see from the Recorder that the Fiscal Court has appropriated $2,500 to build a bridge across Woolper creek near its mouth. This is quite a large sum of money to expend in a single enterprise, and being something of a new departure—in fact quite an innovation on the usual order of things in this county—calls for the careful, conservative consideration of the taxpayers, or, rather their representatives, the members of the Fiscal Court, before it is carried into execution.

It seems that sometime ago a numerously signed petition was presented to the Fiscal Court, requesting an appropriation to build the bridge, and that the court, acting with its usual good judgment, appointed a committee of three of its members to view the place where the bridge was wanted, and to report on its necessity, and that committee, after a time, reported that while not an absolute necessity, a bridge at the place indicated, would be a great convenience to the people in that locality. This report was read at a meeting when only five members of the court were present, and immediately upon the filing of the report and discharge of the committee, a motion was made and carried by a vote of three to two to appropriate $2,500 to build the bridge.

It seems that it would have been in keeping with the accustomed conservativeness of the court to have deferred action on the report until a full meeting of the court could be had, and this would have most certainly been but fair to the taxpayers who have the burden of all appropriations to bear. But, assuming that the step was deliberately taken by the court and that with a full meeting the appropriation would have been made, we are brought to consider the full import of the court's action. It means that whenever a bridge over any county road would be a great convenience to the people in that locality that this court will make an appropriation to build it. It can't mean any less than this. If it does then it means that the court will build bridges for a favored few at the expense of the many, and we are certain it don't mean that, for such a course would be a travesty on justice. If this is the course to be pursued, we will have many bridges to build in the course of the next few years, and it will cost the taxpayers of the county at least $75,000 to build them. This would not be so bad if it stopped there, but these bridges will have to be kept in repair, and this will cost at least 5 per cent. of the original cost annually, amounting to in the neighborhood of $4,000 annually, which the people will have to go down in their pockets to pay. Our present road tax is 10 cents on the $100, and this will about double it. It will take 25 cents on the $100 for the next six years to build the bridges and 10 cents to keep up repairs, &c., so that for the next six years at least, we will have to pay 45 cents on the $100 road tax, and after that at least 20 cents on the $100 road tax annually for all time to come.

The burden of taxation is one which never grows lighter, but its constant tendency is to become heavier. I will venture that of the many who signed that petition very few, if any thought of the effect it would have if their request should be granted. If one will look at the long list of property advertised by the ex-sheriff for taxes, it does seem as though our taxes are already high enough. With times hard, business depressed, farmers in debt, and no prospects of immediate relief we ought to go slow in making appropriations not absolutely necessary is the opinion of a good many of my friends and neighbors, and I should like to hear from other parts of the county.

A Petersburg Taxpayer.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A dum-waiter is better than a stupid man.

A very little tombstone may tell a very big story.

The obese woman in a museum always draws a fat salary.

We can't all be heroes, but we can be men—women excepted.

The popularity of some people is due to the things they don't say.

Some men are always getting up schemes for getting other men down.

The amateur cornettor incontinually blowing about his instrument.

It's easier to play on a hand organ than on some people's sympathy.

Locksmiths are not necessarily humorists because love laughs at them.

Nature ought to be ashamed of herself if some realistic art casts true reflections.

But few people impair the eyesight from looking on the bright side of things.

It now costs a man two cents every time he attempts to seek the growth of his bank balance.

Some husbands do a great deal of silent thinking and some wives do a great deal of thoughtless talking.

But few women would enjoy going anywhere if it wasn't for the pleasure it affords them to talk about it after they return home.—Chicago News.

CROP AND STOCK.

R. W. Squires, of Chilesburg, threshed 1,900 bushels of wheat from 70 acres.

Cogar & Co., of Midway, have bought about 35,000 bushels of wheat at 65 to 70 cents.

John Conrad, of Dry Ridge, Grant county, sold his last year's crop of tobacco, 38,000 pounds at 11 cents.

Dan and Joe Drennon, of Montgomery county, had a thirty acre field to average thirty-five bushels of wheat to the acre.

In Mason county one day last week 137 steam threshers were operating in a circuit of four or five miles in the Washington neighborhood.

At Mt. Sterling last court day there were 3,500 sheep on the market and trade very active. Only about 900 cattle, best steers selling at 4½ to 5 cents.

Andrew county, Missouri, has had the wettest season for thirty years. Corn will not be over half a crop. Wheat of poor quality. Hay a heavy crop and pastures good.

At Burgin, Mercer county, Josiah Smith last week sold 2,000 bushels of No. 2 wheat at 72 cents a bushels. J. A. Noe sold 2,000 bushels at 73 cents, for July delivery.

Charles Harlow, who lives near Canmer, Hart county, lost all his wheat by fire. He was threshing the wheat at the time, when a spark from the engine blew into the stack.

Probably the best crop of wheat in the county was that of Dan and Joe Drennon, in the Grassy Lick precinct. Their field of thirty acres averaged thirty-five bushels to the acre.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel Democrat.

Reports from Topeka, Kan., state that the terrific heat throughout Kansas Sunday week was disastrous to the growing corn. The earth is dry, and in thousands of fields the blades of corn rolled up under the scorching sun.

Dealers in wheat have come to the conclusion that the Indiana wheat crop will fall 5,000,000 bushels below the estimated yield. A few days ago it was estimated at 40,000,000 bushels, but now it is estimated at 35,000,000.

Saturday, Chas. Ware, of the Gertrude neighborhood, delivered to A. M. Louderback the boss crop of tobacco—9,470 pounds—for which he received the neat little sum of $1,278.44, or $13.50 per hundred. Mr. Ware did almost the entire work in this crop, his hire costing him not more than $25. Mr. John T. Downard delivered his crop to same purchaser at the same price.—Bracken Chronicle.

Mr. R. E. Thacker has eighteen ewes, which raised twenty-eight lambs. These were weighed last Saturday, and averaged a little less than 92 pounds. He sold at 5 cents and the lot brought him $128. Mr. Sam H. Hawkins had just twenty-six ewes on his place. He raised 41 lambs. Twelve of these were weighed the first day of June and tipped the beam at 1,200 pounds. Twenty nine went off the 12th day of July, and weighed 2,640 pounds. The entire lot averaged 94 pounds, and brought $176. The income from this flock of twenty-six sheep was $196, or a little over $7 50 to the ewe.—Anderson News.

A close observer has been telling the Madisonville Hustler that the crop and weather conditions are now almost the same that they were in 1855. The year before was one of the dryest that had ever been known in this country. Almost no crop of any kind was raised, but the year following was the finest year for all kinds that he ever remembered. The gentleman said that the wind, the rains and every other condition were just exactly as they were 43 years ago. He predicts the finest crops of all kinds for this season that we have had for more than a quarter of a century.

WAR NOTES.

Gen. King says Merritt will need 50,000 soldiers in the Phillipines.

Troops landed near Ponce, on the south side of Porto Rico, July 25.

According to Adjt. Gen. Corbin's report the volunteers lack 4,500 men while the regulars require 11,600 to fill all regiments.

The Porto Rican campaign will be pushed with energy. The troops under orders have been instructed to move with all possible haste.

A special from Shanghai says four Russian men-of-war have left Port Arthur, but it is supposed their destination is the Philippine Islands.

Gen. Shafter authorizes a denial of the report that the Cubans under Gen. Garcia met and attacked a body of Spanish troops on their way to surrender.

Cubans of Cienfugos have sent an urgent appeal to Admiral Sampson to hasten his operations, take possession of the town and rescue from starvation about 5,000 old men, women and children. Their situation is described as horrible, and they declare that "if the great people of the United States do not some quick to our help we are lost."

Brig. Gen Wood, the Military Governor of Santiago, is rapidly bringing affairs into order. He has ordered that no duty be collected on goods brought in by merchants for local consumption, and has directed that bakers shall not charge more than twenty cents (Spanish money) or ten cents United States money for a loaf of bread. Many stores refuse to accept Spanish money even at 50 per cent discount.

Pith of the Press.

Captain Eulate says he was much struck with the battery fire of the Brooklyn.—Detroit Free Press.

Notwithstanding Sylvester Scovel's exploit there is a vast amount of unslapped Shafter.—Washington Post.

Every time Joe Leiter looks at bearded wheat he will be reminded of his own close shave.—Pittsburg Post.

In the long run the best way to make money backing horses is to drive a cart on a dump.—Philadelphia Times.

Next to Grover Cleveland Morro Castle is the most interesting old ruin in Uncle Sam's possessions.—Denver Post.

It is a wise child who can answer the question: Give the boundaries of the United States for the year 1899.—St. Louis-Globe Democrat.

The Spanish people have begun to realize that a wounded honor is sometimes less annoying than an empty stomach.—Washington Star.

General Dave Hill is making arrangements to send up a few war balloons to see what is going on in the Democratic forces.—Chicago News.

Emperor William is not unfriendly or impertinent. He is just a bit curious to know what we are going to do with them.—Detroit Free Press.

Blanco is to be attended to in the fall. Thus he may find himself in the soup simultaneously with that other shell victim, the oyster.—Philadelphia Times.

It is thought that the Prince of Wales will be able to resume his gambling and other sporting activities again in the course of a few days.—Rochester Times.

There are excellent reasons for believing that Manager McKinley has decided to play the Cuban Junta on the bench for the balance of the season.—Washington Post.

Commodore Schley will begin to suspect that the way for a naval officer to become particularly famous is to have his name left out of an official report.—Washington Post.

Commodore Schley certainly is magnanimous. He says: "The victory belongs to every officer and man of the fleet." That includes Sampson, of course.—Chicago Times-Herald.

President McKinley has worked night and day ever since the destruction of the Maine and he is in better health and spirits now than he was before the war was declared. Victory is tonic.—N. Y. Journal.

At last accounts the commerce destroyer, Nelson Dingley, was wallowing in the trough of a heavy sea, with a cyclone blowing and a formidable deficit rapidly coming up on the starboard quarter.—Chicago Chronicle.

Had Cervera escaped we believe Commodore Schley would have been given a very prominent place in the report. Cervera did not escape, and Schley has an enviable place in the hearts of the American people. As we have said before Sampson wasn't there; Schley was.—Chicago Journal.

The disinterested readiness of the Spaniards in Santiago to shake hands with the Americans possibly reminds Mr. Fitzsimmons of the surprise he experienced on finding how many new friends he had when he stepped out of the ring at Carson carrying Corbett's solar plexus with him.—N. Y. Journal.

POLITICAL.

The Louisville Republican organization has gone to pieces. Evans and Todd both want to go to Congress, hence the trouble.

The Republicans of the Ninth Congressional district, renominated Hon. Sam'l J. Pugh for Congress.

The Populists of the Fourth district, met in convention at Elizabethtown and nominated Dr. R. H. McMullen for Congress.

Capt. T. J. Hardin, of Owen county, has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress to oppose Congressman Evan E. Settle, the Democratic nominee. Capt. Hardin made the race for Congress several years ago on the Republican ticket.

Within the last few days the friends of ex-Governor John Young Brown have been feeling the public pulse in order to have an idea of his chances for the next Gubernatorial nomination next year. In this vicinity the ex-Governor will have to be furnished with an Xray.—Frankfort Argus.

The Pugh contingent were so wrapt up in their idol at their late convention at the county seat they failed through malice or neglect to indorse the administration of Gov. Bradley, the only Republican Governor Kentucky has had since the civil war, and this in the face of the fact that a State employe was managing the Pugh affairs at the convention.—Bracken Chronicle.

Col. A. S. Berry, the able Congressman from this district, arrived home the fore part of the week. While spending his summer vacation in his native city, the Colonel will look to his fences for the nomination this fall. From all appearances he will have little or no opposition. He has made the best Congressman this district ever had and should be returned as often as he chooses to go back.—Ky. Journal.

The following gentlemen have been nominated by the Democrats as their candidates for Congress in the several districts up to this time:

1st district—C. K. Wheeler, renominated; 2d district—W. D. Allen; 3d district—Jno. S. Rhea, renominated; 4th district—D. H. Smith, renominated; 7th district—E. E. Settle, renominated; 8ht district—George G. Gilbert, renominated; 10th district—Thos. Y. Fitzpatrick, renominated. This leaves the 5th, 6th, 9th and 11th without nominees.

The Paducah Register revives the old cry, "the Purchase never gets nothin' nohow." The Register says: "As usual the First district is not in it when it comes to distributing the political patronage or jobs. Out of the thirty or forty positions filled by the Prison Board for Frankfort and Eddyville not a single man living west of the rivers was appointed to a place. A relative of Henry George, chairman of the commissioners, was offered a place without his being an applicant, but it is not thought he will accept it."

The case of Jake Rowe, Commonwealth's Attorney, in the Owensboro judicial district is uniquc. The Owensboro Inquirer says: "It is a dull court that Jake Rowe can not get himself indicted for drunkenness and inattention to duty. The Hancock county grand jury gave him another dose, last week, but it will do no good. He will not be punished, he can not be removed from office, and he will do the same thing over again. Jake acknowledges that he is a disgrace to the district, but wants to know what is going to be done about it. He claims to be making the best Commonwealth's Attorney that ever held office, and says that he is a vast improvement over himself when he was sober, if that time ever was."

FROM OWEN COUNTY.

[Herald.]

There were no stock buyers here court day.

According to the katydid there will be frost on the 25th of September.

Mr Taylor Farrar, eighty-eight years old, blind, deaf and almost helpless, cut his throat with a pocket knife on Tuesday afternoon, inflicting a wound that will certainly prove fatal, the windpipe being severed.

Hon. T. J. Jenkins said he had one field of wheat that made 21 bushels and another not far distant that made only 10 bushels to the acre. The difference may possibly be accounted for by the fact that one had a southern exposure and the other had not.

Joseph, the little two and a half year old child of Thomas P. Hill, near Pleasant Home, was badly burned last Thursday afternoon and died Friday morning. His mother had been washing out in the yard and when through pulled the chunks of wood from the fire. The little fellow, however, while the mother was not looking got too near the fire and his dress was soon ablaze.

Noah May, who had a horse stolen some time since, found the animal in Bracken county and returned home last Thursday evening. The parties who had him said they traded for him at Williamstown. B. Gilbert, who was thought to have taken the animal, has not been arrested. There are others also who are in the same business in this county, and efforts are being made to put a stop to it. Attilla Devore had a saddle stolen the same night May lost his horse.

Since the hard fighting at Santiago considerable interest has been felt in this county as to the fate of our boys who were in the engagement. Winfred Munson was wounded, as previously announced. Silas T. Wilson, jr, son of "Doc" Wilson and grandson of Silas Wilson, who was a Sergeant in Company F, Twelfth Infantry, was killed. It has been reported that Geo. Smith, of Company B, Fourth Infantry, was wounded, but his name does not appear in any list we have seen, nor had his family received any such word. Morgan Simpson was not hurt. It has been reported that a man named Shiles was killed, as also one by the name of Sacra, both from this county, but we have been unable to verify these reports.

[News]

Col. Headley Ford says the prospects for crops in Owen are very poor.

There has been no rain fall on Elk Ridge since May to amount to anything.

Ned Stringfellow, a farmer living near Slippery Rock, lost his barn last week by fire, supposed to be an incendiary.

Jas. Brown, of New Liberty, says crops are as poor as can be, and unless there is a change they will be a complete failure in this vicinity.

Mr. Erastus Bainbridge, who has been looking over the county investigating the crop prospects, says, that the outlook is very poor, in fact, taking it altogether things look very blue, with the exception of crops around Owenton, Epp, and portions of Monterey.

The magnificent rain Monday seems to have been pretty general throughout the county. It is the first sure enough rain that has fallen in Owen since May. It means the making of the early corn crop and bringing out to a great extent the tobacco which in many parts of the county was very poor.

Col. Headly Brown is a Philipean enthusiast. He is making arrangements to leave for Manilla as soon as the war ends. He is busily investigating the customs, language etc., of the natives and will prepare himself to do business as soon as he lands. He finds that there are about 200 different languages spoken there that the Chinese are the best people on the islands, notwithstanding they comprise only a small percent of the population.

Yelow Jack is killing more American soldiers than Spanish guns are.

Alabama gave a Democratic majority of only seventy-five thousand for Governor, last Monday. They might as well have made the election unanimous.

Peace negotiations are on but hostilities are not suspended. The Spaniards know they are whipped, but it may take some time to get the terms of peace adjusted, but in the meantime Uncle Sam will continue to do up the Dons every time the opportunity presents itself.

THE MOB OF PHARISEES.

Christ Rebuked Them When They Brought to Him Magdalen.

The Only Sentence He Ever Wrote was Written in Dust, and With His Finger, But it Saved a Human Life—Talmage's Sermon.

The text of Dr. Talmage Sunday was John viii., 6: "Jesus stooped down and with his finger wrote on the ground."

You must take your shoes off and put on the especial slippers provided at the door if you would enter the Mohammedan mosque, which stands now where once stood Herod's temple, the scene of my text. Solomon's temple had stood there, but Nebuchadnezzar had thundered it down. Zerubbabel's temple had stood there, but that had been prostrated. Now we take our places in a temple that Herod built, because he was fond of great architecture, and he wanted the preceding temples to seem insignificant. Put eight or ten modern cathedrals together and they would not equal that structure. It covered 19 acres. There were marble pillars, supporting roofs of cedar, and silver tables, on which stood golden cups, and there were carvings exquisite, and inscriptions resplendent, glittering balustrades and ornamental gateways. The building of this temple kept 10,000 workmen busy 46 years.

In that stupendous pile of pomp and magnificence sat Christ, and a listening throng stood about Him when a wild disturbance took place. A group of men are pulling and pushing along a woman who has committed a crime against society. When they have brought her in front of Christ, they ask that He sentence her to death by stoning. They are a critical, merciless, disingenuous crowd. They want to get Christ into controversy and public reprehension. If He say, "Let her die," they will charge Him with cruelty. If He let her go they will charge Him with being in complicity with wickedness. Whichever way He does, they would howl at Him.

Then occurs a scene which has not been sufficiently regarded. He leaves the lounge or bench on which He is sitting, and goes down on one knee, or both knees, and with the forefinger of His right hand He begins to write in the dust of the floor, word after word. But they were not to be diverted or hindered. They kept on demanding that He settle this case of transgression, until He looked up and told them they might themselves begin the woman's assassination, if the complainant who had never done anything wrong himself would open the fire. "Go ahead, but be sure the man who flings the first missile is immaculate." Then He resumed writing with his finger in the dust of the floor, word for word. Instead of looking over His shoulder to see what He had written, the scoundrels skulked away. Finally, the whole place is clear of pursuers, antagonists and plaintiffs, and when Christ had finished this strange chirography in the dust He looks up and finds the women all alone.

The prisoner is the only one of the courtroom left, the judges, the police, the prosecuting attorney having cleared out. Christ is victor, and He says to the woman: "Where are the prosecutors in this case? Are they all gone? Then I discharge you; go and sin no more." I have wondered what Christ wrote on the ground. For do you realize that is the only time that He ever wrote at all? I know that Eusebius says that Christ once wrote a letter to Abgarus, the king of Edessa, but there is no good evidence of such a correspondence. The wisest being the world ever saw, and the one who had more to say than any one who ever lived, never writing a book or a chapter or a paragraph or a word on parchment. Nothing but the literature of the dust, and one sweep of a brush or one breath of a wind obliterated it forever.

Among all the rolls of the volumes of the first library founded at Thebes there was not one scroll of Christ. Among the 700,000 books of the Alexandrian library, which, by the infamous decree of Caliph Omar, were used as fuel to heat the 4,000 baths of the city, not one sentence had Christ penned. Among all the multitude of volumes now standing in the libraries of Edinburgh, the British museum, or Berlin, or Vienna, or the learned repositories of all nations, not one word written directly by the finger of Christ. All that He ever wrote He wrote in dust—uncertain, shifting dust.

My text says He stooped down and wrote on the ground. Standing straight up a man might write on the ground with a staff, but if with his fingers he would write in the dust he must bend clear over. Aye, he must get at least on one knee or he can not write on the ground. Be not surprised that He stooped down. His whole life was a stooping down. Stooping down from castle to barn. Stooping down from celestial homage to monocratic jeer. From residence above the stars to where a star had to fail to designate His landing place. From Heaven's front door to the world's back gate. From writing in round and silvered letters of constellation and galaxy on the blue scroll of Heaven to writing on the ground in the dust which the feet of the crowd had left in Herod's temple. If in January you have ever stepped out of a prince's conservatory that had Mexican cactus and magnolias in full bloom into the outside air, ten degrees below zero, you may get some idea of Christ's change of atmosphere from celestial to terrestial. How many heavens there are I know not, but there are at least three, for Paul was "caught up into the third Heaven."

Christ came down from the highest Heaven to the second Heaven, and down from second Heaven to first Heaven, down swifter than meteors ever fell, down amidst stellar splendors that Himself eclipsed, down through clouds, through atmospheres, through appalling space, down to where there was no lower depth from being waited on at the banquet of the skies, to the broiling of fish for His own breakfast on the banks of the lake. From emblazoned chariots of eternity to the saddle of a mule's back. From the homage cherubic, seraphic, archangelic, to the paying of 63½ cents of tax to Cæsar. From the deathless country to a tomb built to hide human dissolution. The uplifted wave of Galilee was high, but He had to come down before, with His feet, He could touch it, and the whirlwind that rose above the billow was higher yet, but He had to come down before with His lip He could kiss it into quiet. Bethlehem a stooping down. Nazareth a stooping down. Death between two burglars a stooping down. Yes, it was in consonance with humiliations that went before and self-abnegation that came after, when on that memorable day in Herod's temple He stooped down and wrote on the ground.

Whether the words He was writing were in Greek or Latin or Hebrew I can not say, for He knew all those languages. But he is still stooping down, and with his finger writing on the ground; in the winter in letters of crystals, in the spring in letters of flowers, in summer in golden letters of harvest, in autumn in letters of fire on fallen leaves. How it would sweeten up and enrich and embalazon this world could we see Christ's caligraphy all over it. This world was not flung out into space thousands of years ago and then left to look out for itself. It is still under the divine care. Christ never for half a second takes His hand off of it, or it would soon be a shipwrecked world, a defunct world, an obsolete world, an abandoned world, a dead world. "Let there be light," was said at the beginning. And Christ stands under the wintry skies and says, let there be snowflakes to enrich the earth; and under the clouds of spring and says, come ye blossoms and make redolent the orchards, and in September dips the branches in the vat of beautiful colors and swings them into the hazy air. No whim of mine is this. "Without Him was not anything made that was made." Christ writing on the ground.

If you could see his hand in all the passing seasons, how it would illume the world! All verdure and foliage would be allegoric, and again we would hear Him say, as of old: "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow;" and we would not hear the whistle of a quail or the cawing of a raven, or the roundelay of a brown thresher, without saying, "Behold the fowls of the air, they gather not in barns, yet your Heavenly Father feedeth them;" and a Dominie hen of the barnyard could not cluck for her brood, but we would hear Christ saying, as of old, "How often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings," and through the redolent hedges we would hear Christ saying, "I am the rose of Sharon;" we could not dip the seasoning from the salt cellar without thinking of the divine suggestion, "Ye are the salt of the earth, but if the salt hath lost its savor it is fit for nothing but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men."

Let us wake from our stupidity and take the whole world as a parable. Then, if with gun and pack of hounds we start off before dawn, and see the morning coming down off the hills to meet us, we would cry out with the evangelist: "The day spring from on high hath visited us;" or caught in a snowstorm, while adjusting our fur eyebrows and beard and apparel all covered with the whirling flakes, we would cry out with David: "Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow." In a picture gallery of Europe there is on the ceiling an exquisite fresco, but the people having to look straight up, it wearied and dizzied them and bent their necks almost beyond endurance; so a great looking glass was put near the floor, and now visitors only need to look quietly down into the mirror and they see the fresco at their feet. And so much of the high Heaven of God's truth is reflected in this world as in a mirror, and things that are above are copied by things around us.

What right have we to throw away one of God's Bibles—aye, the first Bible He ever gave the race? We talk about the Old Testament, and the New Testament, but the oldest Testament contains the lessons of the natural world. Some people like the New Testament so well they discard the Old Testament. Shall we like the New Testament and the Old Testament so well as to depreciate the oldest, namely, that which was written before Moses was put afloat on the boat of leaves which was caulked with asphaltum, or reject the Genesis that was written centuries before Adam lost a rib and gained a wife? No, no! When Deity stoops down and writes on the ground let us read it.

I would have no less appreciation of the Bible on paper that comes out of the paper mill, but I would urge appreciation of the Bible in the grass, the Bible in the sand hill, the Bible in the geranium, the Bible in the asphodel, the Bible in the dust. Some one asked an ancient king whether he had seen the eclipse of the sun. "No," said he. "I have so much to study on earth I have no time to look at Heaven." And if our faculties were all awake in the study of God we would not have time to go much further than the first grass blade. I have no fear that natural religion will ever contradict what we call revealed religion. I have no sympathy with the followers of Aristotle, who, after the telescope was invented, would not look through it, lest it contradict some of the theories of their great master. I shall be glad to put against one lid of the Bible the microscope and against the other lid of the Bible the telescope.

But when Christ stooped down and wrote on the ground what did He write? The Pharisees did not stop to examine. The cowards, whipped of their own conscience, fled pell mell. Nothing will flay a man like an aroused conscience. Dr. Stevens, in his "History of Methodism," says that when Rev. Benjamin Abbott, of olden times, was preaching he exclaimed: "For aught I know there may be a murderer in this house," and a man rose from the assemblage and started for the door and bawled aloud: confessing to a murder he had committed 15 years before. And no wonder these Pharisees, reminded of their sins, took to their heels.

But what did Christ write on the ground? The Bible does not state. Yet as Christ never wrote anything except that once you can not blame us for wanting to know what He really did write. But I am certain He wrote nothing trivial or nothing unimportant. And you will allow me to say that I think I know what He wrote on the ground. I judge from the circumstances. He might have written other things, but kneeling there in the temple, surrounded by a pack of hypocrites who were a self-appointed constabulary, and having in his presence a persecuted woman, who evidently was very penitent for her sins, I am sure He wrote two words, both of them graphic and tremendous and reverberating. And the one word was "hypocrisy" and the other word was "forgiveness."

From the way [illegible] of the Pharisees and scribes vacated the premises and got out into the fresh air, as Christ, with just one critical sentence unmasked them, I [illegible] w they were first-class hypocrites. It was then as it is now. The more faults and inconsistencies people have of their own, the more severe and censorious are they about the faults of others. Here they are—20 stout men arresting and arraigning the weak woman! Magnificent business to be engaged in! They wanted the fun of seeing her faint away under a heavy judicial sentence from Christ, and then after she had been taken outside of the city and fastened at the foot of the precipice, the Scribes and Pharisees wanted the satisfaction of each coming and dropping a big stone on her head, for that was the style of capital punishment that they asked for. Some people have taken the responsibility of saying that Christ never laughed. But I think as He saw those men drop everything, chagrined, mortified, exposed, and go out quicker than they came in, He must have laughed. At any rate, it makes me laugh to read of it. All of these libertines, dramatizing indignation against impurity! Blind bats lecturing on optics! A flock of crows on their way up from a carcass denouncing carrion!

Yes, I think that one word written on the ground that day by the finger of Christ was the awful word hypocrisy. What pretensions to sanctity are the rort of those hypocritical Pharisees? When the fox begins to pray, look out for your chickens. One of the cruel magnates of olden times was going to excommunicate one of the martyrs, and he began in the usual form—"In the name of God, Amen." "Stop!" says the martyr; "don't say 'in the name of God!' Yet how many outrages are practiced under the garb of religion and sanctity! When in synods and conferences ministers of the Gospel are about to say something unbrotherly and unkind about a member, they almost always begin by being ostentatiously pious, the venom of their assault corresponding to the heavenly flavor of the preludes. About to devour a reputation they say grace before meal.

But I am sure there was another word in that dust. From her entire manner I am sure that arraigned woman was repentant. She made no apology, and Christ in no wise belittled her sin. But her supplicatory behavior and her tears moved Him, and when He stooped down to write on the ground he wrote that mighty, that imperial word, forgiveness.

When on Sinai God wrote the law, He wrote it with finger of lightning on tables of stone, each word cut as by a chisel into the hard granite surface. But when He writes the offenses of this woman He writes it in the dust so that it can be easily rubbed out, and when she repents of it, oh, He was a merciful Christ! I was reading of a legend that is told in the far east about Him. He was walking through the streets of a city and He saw a crowd around a dead dog. And one man said: "What a loathsome object is that dog!" "Yes," said another, "his ears are mauled and bleeding." "Yes," said another, "the odor of his carcass is dreadful." Then Christ, standing there, said: "But pearls can not equal the whiteness of his teeth." Then the people, moved by the idea that any one could find anything pleasant concerning the dead dog, said: "Why, this must be Jesus of Nazareth." Approved and convicted, they went away.

Surely this legend of Christ is good enough to be true. Kindness in all His words and ways and habits. Forgiveness! Word of Heliers, and some of them thrones, and some of them palm branches. Better have Christ write close to our names that one word, though He write it in dust, than to have our name cut into monumental granite with the letters that the storms of a thousand years can not obliterate. Bishop Babington had a book of only three leaves. The first leaf was black, the second leaf red, the third leaf white. The black leaf suggested sin; the red leaf atonement; the white leaf purification. That is the whole story. God will abundantly pardon.

THE United States, as a participator in the trade, ranked second only to Spain, the value of the goods exchanged averaging $8,845,253 a year, or 12.91 per cent. of the total. After Spain and the United States, Cuba was the most important factor, the portion of trade credited to that island amounting to 11.44 per cent., and having an average yearly value of $4,695,220. Spain, the United States and Cuba together enjoyed nearly two-thirds of the total commerce carried on by Porto Rico during 1893-1895. About one-fourth of the trade was controlled by three European countries

SPAIN'S CHURCH TREASURES.

The Immense Riches of the Cathedrals May Help in War with This Country.

The report that Spain will appropriate church property for war expenses brings to mind some interesting facts.

Less than two years ago Pope Leo XIII. sent to the queen regent of Spain a magnificent gift in the shape of a rosary, the beads of alternate rubies, diamonds and emeralds strung on a chain of the finest gold. The gift was priceless.

From this one may form an idea of the immense amount of treasure [illegible] Spain in "holy objects." Seores of mitres encrusted with jewels, [illegible] and robes embroidered in gold [illegible] silver and ornamented with precious stones, used by the highest ecclesiastical dignitaries only on grand state occasions; picture frames of solid gold and silver, rochets and albs of priceless lace are among some of the riches of the great churches.

The old cathedral of Burgos is stored with valuable paintings and ornaments of gold and silver. At Valladolid, where Columbus died, there is a fine classical cathedral rich in uncounted treasure. A Spanish shrine is described as having two life-sized statues in silver of our Savior and the holy mother, with a crucifix of solid and heavy gold a yard in height.

Paintings by Valesquez, Murillo and Juan Juarez, called the Raphael of Spain, are found in many of the cathedrals, that of Seville being particularly fortunate in works of Murillo. Toledo, with its grand cathedral and richly embellished chapels, contains a mine of wealth in ornaments and decorations.

When the financial problem became a serious matter in Mexico, recourse was had by the government to the great treasures of the churches of that country, but this is not the only instance where it has been found necessary to draw upon such stores, and reconcile the interfering claims of church and state.

Napoleon Bonaparte laid his hand on the ancient patrimony of St. Peter, and the benignant pontiff, Pius VII., when compelled to pay a part of the 200,000,000 francs imposed by Napoleon, had many of the golden and silver treasures of the vatican melted down to meet the demands of the emperor, besides surrendering priceless gems of art.

Inestimable as are the riches of the vatican, they are not supposed to exceed those of the church in Spain.

Although the peninsula was rich in "holy objects" from the date of the discovery of America, it was under Philip II. that the vast accumulation now possessed by the cathedrals and shrines was begun. This king succeeded to an inheritance more vast than mortal man had possessed since Charlemagne had been laid in his tomb. Spain, Austria, the Netherlands, the golden Americas, acknowledged him as lord and sovereign master. In 1564, during Philip's reign, the rich Manila islands first came under the grasp of Spain, and were renamed the Philippines, in honor of the king. It was Philip II. who fastened the vast system of monastic houses upon Spain. He endowed them richly and made magnificent votive offerings.

When Philip confided the government of Flanders to his half sister, Margaret of Parma, and went back to Spain, the country of his birth and predilection, he took with him a great amount of treasure, among which was a precious collection of Flemish and Italian statues and pictures, which he had inherited from his father, Charles V.

When the royal fleet arrived on the coast of Biscay it encountered a terrific storm, and several of the ships were lost. The king was in the greatest danger. In this supreme moment he made a vow that if life were spared him he would consecrate his power to the glorification of the church and the extirpation of heresy. How rigidly he kept his word history tells us.—Washington Post.

SUNSTROKE INFECTIOUS.

A Prominent English Physician Says "Sirinsis" is a Disease, and Catching.

If progressive science is to be absolutely relied upon, people afflicted with sunstroke this summer must be quarantined.

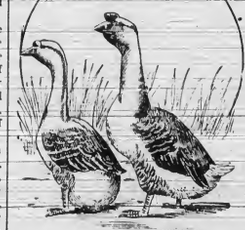
Dr. L. Sambon, who is considered an authority on such matters, says that sunstroke is infectious and is produced by a specific germ.

Dr. Sambon's theory is that sunstroke, as a germ disease, requires great heat for its development, but is not directly caused by heat. He maintains that sunstroke is unknown in many of the hottest parts of the world; nor in the temperate areas is it prevalent in the warmest years or in the hottest season of the year.

Dr. Sambon concludes, from carefully verified facts, that the geographical distribution, the endemicity, the occurrence of epidemics, the character of the symptoms, the very definite lesions, the liability to relapse, and other points in the natural history of the disease, are strong arguments for regarding sirisasis as belonging to the same category as yellow fever, dengue and certain other tropical affections universally acknowledged to depend on specific germs—germs for whose growth and transmission to man, and from man to man, high atmospheric temperature is necessary, but which, though occurring in, are certainly not created by high atmospheric temperature.—British Medical and Surgical Journal.

A Dangerous Plaything.

A nine-months-old infant died from nicotine poisoning in Scotland recently. It was given a pipe as a plaything.



AGRICULTURAL HINTS.

GEESE FOR MARKET.

A Branch of the Poultry Business Which Possesses a Number of Special Advantages.

If there is abundant pasturage little other food is required, as a goose depends largely upon grass for sustenance during the summer months. During winter there should be some inclosure or protection provided, and the geese should be fed twice a day. Shredded hay or silage is suitable, giving corn at least once a day or so.

If geese are fed too much grain it will indisee laying too early in the season and the eggs will probably not be fertile. Geese seek mates in February. Among the many varieties we think the Embden, African and Toulouse are most profitable. A good cross is obtained by mating an African gander with Embden geese. The cross secures better layers and the color of the flesh is improved. The "green goose," as the goose is styled when about four months old, is in demand in the markets if fattened nicely. Sometimes young geese are sent to market at two months old, if of good size and well fattened. To fatten they should be placed out of sight and hearing of their mates, or they will be restless and will consequently not take on fat so easily. Plenty of grass and water must be given daily, in addition to grain or scalded meal. Cooked turnips may be fed also, as they relish this vegetable.

GRAY AFRICAN GEESE.

Young goslings should not be allowed to get chilled, but must be cared for much the same as ducklings until strong enough to follow the mother goose. While the goose must have plenty of drinking water and a bath now and then is beneficial, it is not essential that ponds should be prepared for them, nor that they should dabble in water at all times. If running water is a natural feature of the farm and the geese have access to it at all times, then it will be necessary to pen the goslings and the mothers for a few weeks until the down is well out on the goslings. There is no prettier sight, at least among the feathered tribe, than a family of goslings, which are seemingly golden balls of fluffy down, sailing serenely by the side of their mother. Corn meal, slightly salted, should be fed to goslings; also table scraps are much liked.

One pound of feathers is nearly the average obtained from six geese when picked for their feathers. When killed three geese will furnish one pound of feathers.

The African or Toulouse will lay from 20 to 25 eggs. The first laying should be set under hens and the goose allowed to sit on the last laying or clutch, as it is called. As a rule each goose should average 20 goslings in a year, and as the average weight will be about ten pounds each when well fattened for market, it will be seen that with a good breed to start with, good care, etc., raising geese for market will prove as paying as other branches of poultry raising. Those who intend shipping should send to dealers in poultry for modes of preparing for market, since modes differ in different sections.—A. C. McPherson, in Farm and Home.

ALL AROUND THE FARM.

The best crop raised on the farm are the boys and girls. When they mature grandly they are worth millions a pound.

It is idle for a slovenly farmer to attempt to tell how a farm should be conducted. His neighbors know him and his style of farming.

It was noticeable that during the continuous heavy rains in June, the only bad results to corn on tiled land was the growth of weeds.

It was recently said to us by a farmer that corn of one variety would mature at the same time, even if planted ten days apart. Can that be true?

Grow plenty of what you like for the table. A farmer friend of ours says that when he was a boy he could never get as many radishes as he wanted. Now he grows them to a point of waste.—Western Plowman.

This is Worth Considering.

Experiments recently made at the Michigan Experimental station show that about four times as much feed is obtained from a meadow allowed to mature hay as from a field pastured. In soiling, the difference would probably not be so great, owing to the fact that the grass, or peas, or alfalfa, or whatever is grown for the purpose, is cut before it fully matures, but even then from two to three times the number of animals can be supported by soiling as on pasture.—Prairie Farmer.

THE HORSE'S FOOT.

If It Is Not Kept in an Excellent Condition the Animal Will Soon Be Practically Useless.

In a horse a strong foot has the fibers of the hoof very distinct, so much so that they resemble in appearance those of coarsly split timber. But a hoof of this kind, if not kept moist and pliable, soon becomes almost as hard as iron and is liable to render the foot lame and tender, without revealing the cause of the lameness. When it is hurt and locally inflamed, troublesome eruptions around the coronet are liable to appear.

A "thin hoof" is one which has a thin wall. It may be perfectly shaped in every way, but is peculiarly liable to get out of order either from attaching the shoe, traveling on hard ground or during excessive drought in summer or of moisture in winter. In nearly all cases the bottom of a thin hoof is ragged, and when the shoe is removed the whole verge is seen to be thin.

A narrow-heeled foot is, in some cases, reasonably good, but in others is inclined to various bad conditions, and when tampered with, as is so often done by blacksmiths in shoeing, is almost certain to become hoofbound.

A hoof of disproportionately large size is in most cases accompanied by a slenderness and comparative weakness of limb and is a good indication of inability for brisk or vigorous action. A horse with a high-heeled foot is subject to unsteadiness of action and is liable to stumble and to sprains in the coffin or pastern joints, while a low-heeled hoof renders the animal a bad traveler.

A flat foot, shaped like an oyster, usually has many rings or wrinkles, and usually requires a hollow-shaped shoe. In many cases for want of a sufficiently strong wall, much difficulty is occasioned in shoeing in securing proper fastening for the shoe, and often renders the animal unfit for fast work or work on hard, stony roads.

When a hoof is smooth and tough, of a medium size, neither too hard and brittle nor too soft, without wrinkles, with the heel firm and in no way rotten or spongy, with the frog horny and dry, with the sole somewhat hollow, like the inside of a dish, let the color be what it may—such a foot will nearly always turn out good, although good judges object to too many white feet, preferring dark or black hoofs.—St. Louis Republic.

KEEP FENCES TIGHT.

A Good Part of the Injury to Stock from Barbs Is Due Almost Altogether to Neglect.

One of the most common causes of breachy animals on the farm is poor fences, and we may go further and say that a good part of the injury to stock from barbed wire fences, is due to a poor condition of the fence. The wires get loose and sag down, and stock get tangled up in them and injure themselves much worse than they would if the fences were kept up properly. Low tumble down fences are a constant temptation to stock to break over, and once they get started it will be much more difficult to restrain. The safest plan in all cases is to keep the fences in a good condition, especially those around the pastures. If the stock are to be changed constantly from one pasture or field to another, provide good gates, as laying the fences part way down and compelling the animals to jump over what is left up, is giving them the first lessons in jumping or becoming breachy. If an animal seems inclined to be breachy, get rid of it as soon as possible, as one mischievous or breachy animal on the farm will soon teach the greater part of the others to be like them. With wire fences properly built, care being taken to have strong corner posts well braced, it is not much work to keep them in good condition. But no matter what kind of fences there may be on the farm it is good plan to go over them every few weeks and see that they are kept in good repair.—Prairie Farmer.

HANDY CONTRIVANCE.

A Simple Device Which Prevents Hogs from Going Where They May Not Be Wanted.

We reproduce from Wisconsin Farmer a device which allows cattle to go from field to field but prevents hogs from doing so. A roller from an old binder, or a round piece of timber made into a roller, is put in the gap just high enough to let cattle and horses step over. When a hog tries to go over he falls back.

A HANDY GAP.

Clover Causes Slobbering.

There is in all clovers more or less of a principle that tends to cause slobbering in horses. It is now believed that this principle is more largely found in the seeds than in other parts of the plants. It is not probable that there will be any difficulty in using the hay if the crimson clover is cut before the seed is fully formed. Since crimson clover seeds abundantly at the first blossoming, it is more likely to give trouble than the ordinary red clover, which seeds very little or not at all at the first blooming.—Troy (N. Y.) Times.

AN EXCEPTION.

His Wife Kept a Boarding House and He Thought She Didn't Need Him.

He did not look as if he were composed of the stuff of which heroes are made, but there must have been some of the divine afflatus of courage in his system or he would not have been before the recruiting officer seeking to gain admission into the ranks of those who were offering themselves as a sacrifice upon the altar of their beloved country.

"What is your name?" inquired the officer in charge.

"John Smith."

"Your age, Mr. Smith?"

"Forty-three, next October."

"Where were you born?"

"In Indiana."

"Do you reside here?"

"Yes, sir; have for the last ten years."

"Are you married or single?"

"Married."

"Ah, is that so?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, you can't enlist!"

"Why not?"

"Because you are married."

"What's that got to do with it?"

"Can't take married men into the service."

"Why not? Hasn't a married man got courage enough? Can't he be as good a patriot as a bachelor?"

"I suppose so, but we can't take married men. They have to stay at home and support their wives and families."

The applicant's face gleamed like a sunrise.

"Oh, that's all right," he laughed, easily. "You needn't worry on that account; my wife keeps a boarding house, and has ever since the second year we were married."—Washington Star.

YOUNG AT SIXTY.

Serene comfort and happiness in advanced years are realized by comparatively few women.

Their hard lives, their liability to serious troubles on account of their peculiar organism and their profound ignorance concerning themselves, all combine to shorten the period of usefulness and fill their later years with suffering.

Mrs. Pinkham has done much to make women strong. She has given advice to many that has shown them how to guard against disease and retain vigorous health in old age. From every corner of the earth there is constantly coming the most convincing statements from women, showing the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming female ills. Here is a letter from Mrs. J. C. Orms, of 220 Horner St., Johnstown, Pa., which is earnest and straight to the point:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women that I think your remedies are wonderful. I had trouble with my head, dizzy spells and hot flashes. Feet and hands were cold, was very nervous, could not sleep well, had kidney trouble, pain in ovaries and congestion of the womb. Since taking your remedies I am better every way. My head trouble is all gone, have no pain in ovaries, and am cured of womb trouble. I can eat and sleep well and am gaining in flesh. I consider your medicine the best to be had for female troubles."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

SIMILAR SYMPTOMS.

Which Made It Difficult to Decide Whether It Was an Attack of Love or Pleurisy.

"Doctor," sighed the young man, "I'm afraid there's something serious the matter with me."

"Let me see your tongue," said the physician.

The young man obeyed.

"What are the symptoms?"

"Why, whenever I breathe I feel a little twinging, itching sensation around my heart."

"Ah," mused the doctor. "Felt it long?"

"About four days."

"Where've you been?"

"Up to Mackinac."

"Met lots of nice young people?"

"Yes, a good many."

"Feel any pains in the small of your back?"

"No, sir."

"Meet any girl up in Mackinac that struck you as about all right?"

"Three or four, doctor," replied the young man, with a smile.

"Don't have cold feet at night, do you?"

"Haven't noticed 'em."

"No particular girl up there, then. You're sure of that?"

"Why, of course I'm sure," replied the young man, with a trifling blush, "but, doctor, will you tell me what my friends at Mackinac have got to do with it?"

"Nothing much," replied the physician, tapping his lips with his eyeglasses. "Just trying to see whether it's a case of love or pleurisy. They're pretty much alike, you know."—Detroit Free Press.

HE SAVED THE FLAG.

Just Trotted Out His Old Shotgun and Told the Suspect to Make Himself Scarce.

"Course I couldn't swear that he was a Spanish spy," admitted the man who came in from a cross roads settlement in Redford, but he looked like one, be gosh, and we hain't the people out there to take chances on them kind of critters. His coloring was all dark, except his teeth, and they fairly glistened. He didn't act like he had any lawful business in the neighborhood and I sort o' suspected him right along."

"But what did he do?"

"I'll tell you what he done," said the big representative of Redford's yeomanry, as he straightened up. "Some of us fellers put up a flag down by the grocery, h'isting a pole just like we used to when politics got hot. 'Tother evenin' I see that feller hangin' 'round the corners with a crosscut saw. Don't take me long to put two and two together, so I just got my shotgun, advanced on him direct and told him he had 20 minutes fur to git over the hill 'bout a mile away. He had time to spare, but I'm satisfied as I live he was a Spanish spy and out there fur to saw that pole down. When any of them chaps stirs up ole Redford they's courtin' all kinds o' troubles," and the man that saved the flag moved on so as to get a new audience.—Detroit Free Press.

All Kinds of Stamps.

There are stamps and stamps, and the banks are wrathfully aware that there are. The record of one Boston bank for stamps received on checks is this:

Internal revenue stamps of the '60s.
Regular postage stamps.
Omaha postage stamps.
Proprietary stamps.
Documentary stamps of 1898.
Postage-due stamps.

The receipt of two one-cent "postage due" on a check broke the record. How anybody outside of the post office department could have had them in possession to put on is now the mystery.—Boston Transcript.

Journalistic Amenities.

"Our wart of a contemporary," the current issue of the Jazeville Gazette says, "claims, as far as the war is concerned, to have the earliest intelligence. That is the kind of intelligence they always had at that office. It is more than early; it is primitive."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

What Will Become of China?

None can foresee the outcome of the quarrel between foreign powers over the division of China. It is interesting to watch the going to pieces of this ancient but unprogressive race. Many people in America are also going to pieces because of dyspepsia, constipation, blood, liver and stomach diseases. We are living too fast, but strength, vigor and good health can be retained if we keep off and cure the above diseases with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Apropos.

Van Syck—I've tried every known remedy for consumption.

Von Slick—You must have quite a medicine chest.—Judge.

Real Warm Weather Rest and Comfort.

There is a powder to be shaken into the shoes called Allen's Foot-Ease, invented by Allen S. Olmstead, Le Roy, N. Y., which druggists and shoe dealers say is the best thing they have ever sold for swollen, burning, sore and tender or tiring feet. Some dealers claim that it makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It cures and will cure corns and bunions and relieves perspiration, hot or smarting feet. At all Foot-Ease costs only a quarter, and the inventor will send a sample free to any address.

The principal river of Egypt is the Nile. Its smaller tributaries are the juveniles.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Wheat 40 Cents a Bushel.

How to grow wheat with big profit at 40 cents and samples of Salzer's Red Cross (80 Bushels per acre) Winter Wheat, Rye, Oats, Clovers, etc., with Farm Seed Catalogue for 4 cents postage. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis.

It is much easier to acquire a fault than it is to inspire a virtue.—Chicago Daily News.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI.			Aug. 1.
LIVESTOCK—Cattle, common	$ 2 00	@	$ 3 75
Select butchers	4 00	@	4 40
CALVES—Fair to good light	5 75	@	6 25
HOGS—Common	3 15	@	3 65
Mixed packers	3 70	@	3 85
Light shippers	3 70	@	3 90
SHEEP—Choice	3 15	@	3 75
LAMBS	4 75	@	5 60
FLOUR—Winter family	3 00	@	3 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@	68
No. 3 red		@	66
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	36
Oats—No. 2		@	24½
Rye—No. 2		@	43
HAY—Prime to choice	9 50	@	9 75
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@	10 00
Lard—Prime steam		@	5 12½
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@	11
Prime to choice creamery		@	19½
APPLES—Choice to Fancy	2 50	@	3 00
POTATOES—New, per bbl	1 50	@	1 65
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	4 10	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	66½
No. 3 Chicago spring	68	@	70
CORN—No. 2	33½	@	33½
OATS—No. 2	25	@	25½
PORK—Mess	9 20	@	9 35
LARD—Steam	5 35	@	5 42½
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patents	4 10	@	4 25
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	74
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	39½
RYE		@	59
OATS—Mixed		@	27½
PORK—Mess	10 00	@	10 50
LARD—Western		@	5 37½
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	5 60	@	6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	70½	@	71
Southern Wheat	73	@	72½
Corn—Mixed	37½	@	38
Oats—No. 2 white	32	@	34
Rye—No. 2 western		@	45
CATTLE—First quality	4 40	@	4 70
HOGS—Western	4 40	@	4 50
INDIANAPOLIS
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	73
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	32½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	24½
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 75	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	72	@	74
Corn—Mixed		@	36
Oats—Mixed		@	27½
PORK—Mess		@	10 50
LARD—Steam		@	5 37½

I can recommend Piso's Cure for Consumption to sufferers from Asthma.—E. D. Townsend, Ft. Howard, Wis., May 4, '95.

Every time a man looks in a mirror he imagines he can see a hero.—Chicago Daily News.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is taken Internally. Price 75c.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original article. The genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. NEW YORK, N. Y.

BAD BLOOD

"CASCARETS do all claimed for them and are a truly wonderful medicine. I have often wished for a medicine pleasant to take and at last have found it in Cascarets. Since taking them my blood has been purified and my complexion has improved wonderfully and I feel much better in every way. MRS. SALLIE E. SALLANS, Luttrell, Tenn.

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
TRADE MARK REGISTERED
REGULATE THE LIVER

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken, or Gripe. 10c. 25c. 50c.
... CURE CONSTIPATION. ...
Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Montreal, New York. 319

NO-TO-BAC Sold and guaranteed by all druggists to CURE Tobacco habit.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try this brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four

GAME PLAQUES

exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Muville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant,
English Quail, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH

has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION

packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER

to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5 cent packages of Elastic Starch (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of these beautiful Game Plaques free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

"A FAIR FACE CANNOT ATONE FOR AN UNTIDY HOUSE." USE

SAPOLIO

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 25c; large, 50c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

The Best BOOK on the WAR BEAUTIFULLY bound and sumptuously illustrated (price $2), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 5c.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

SHOOT
WINCHESTER LOADED SHOT GUN SHELLS

USED BY ALL THE CHAMPION SHOTS.

FREE. SEND NAME ON A POSTAL CARD. FOR 152 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
100 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

REMEMBER

if you are dissatisfied with the size of piece or with the quality of the chewing tobacco you are using—

get Battle Ax PLUG

HIGH QUALITY LOW PRICE

and you'll get your money's worth. The 10-cent piece of Battle Ax is larger than the 10-cent piece of any other brand of the same high quality, and is the largest piece of really good chewing tobacco that is sold for 10 cents.

Remember the name when you buy again

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Aug. 3, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL. - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Richwood.

Mr. Cumberland Wilson spent part of last week in Covington.

Miss Jeanette Chambers will teach the public school at Kensington.

Joseph Williams, of Cincinnati, was the guest of H. A. Hicks, one day last week.

Miss Virginia Southgate has accepted a position to teach in Albert Lea College, Minn.

Limaburg.

A. F. Crigler is very poorly.

T. B. Aylor is building a cellar.

Corn is doing nicely since the rains.

Everett Dixon is breakiug land for wheat.

Peach cobblers are among the table delicacies now.

Clint Weaver has his new residence well under way.

Claud Rouse entertained quite a number of his friends Saturday night.

A water spout made a stand of about an hour in this neighborhood, Saturday night.

Hathaway.

Aug. 1st—Born. to J. C. White and wife, Monday July 25th, a girl.

Mrs. Emily Presser was quite sick several days last week.

John T. McElroy, of Gallatin county, is visiting relatives here.

Ira Adams, of Grant county, was in our burg one day last week.

Several of the patrons of the grange hall school met there one day last week to make arrangements for an entertainment some time next month.

Mrs. Ida Kelley, Mrs. Mary Kelly and Mrs. Jas. Rebree, spent last Tuesday with Mrs. John Kelly, who is visiting her mother and father, of this place.

There was a fish fry at Big Bone church, last Friday. A large crowd from the surrounding neighborhood and several from a distance attended and enjoyed the day most pleasantly.

Erlanger.

T. D. Finnell, our genial station agent, is recovering from a long spell of sickness.

The Baptist Church was crowded Sunday on account of the ordaining of two deacons, 'Squire Webb and J. O. Huey.

The baseball game between the Masons and K. of P's. resulted Masons, 33, K. of P's. 25. Ferd Sprigmeir umpired to the satisfaction of all.

Horace Greenwell, who has been on a business trip through Michigan, arrived home Sunday morning.

N. J. Chapin, of Covington, escorted five ladies and five gentlemen, all on bicycles, on a flying trip to Erlanger, last Friday evening.

Bellevue.

Aug. 1.—Those refreshing showers that have come are thankfully received, we hope by one and all.

Miss Minnie Deck is making her home in Newport, for a short time.

Rev. T. L. Utz and family attended the ordination of deacons at Erlanger, last Sunday.

D. M. Snyder's fruit, vegetable and melon wagon is on the go from morning until night.

Miss Martha Schwartz, of Hamilton, Ohio, is visiting her mother, brother and sister near here.

Al Rogers and wife, of the Burlington neighborhood, were visiting his parents, last Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Corbin† was confined to her bed a couple of days, last week, but is much better again.

Dump is undecided as yet which place to go, to Klondyke to try gold or to Cuba to declare peace.

Several from here attended the Keeley picnic at the Harvest Home grounds, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Hattie Davis, of Louisville, is visiting friends and relatives in the Petersburg neighborhood, this week.

John Palmer, of Walton, and Miss Virgie Nelson, of Rabbit Hash, passed through Sunday on their way home.

Several from this neighborhood took in the excursion to Vevay on the Levi J. Workum, last Tuesday. All report a pleasant trip.

Miss Lizzie Acra and her sister, Jennie Roberts, of Ghent, returned home, last week, after a short visit among relatives here.

Your pencil shover, wife, and Mrs. Belle Gloyed and daughter, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Acra on Middle creek, last Sunday.

Miss Carrie Moody arrived home, last Wednesday, from Rising Sun, where she was confined to her room a few days with rheumatism.

Walton.

Mrs. Ben Lee Johnson, of Zion, is on a visit to her father.

Mrs. Richd. Jones and MissLula, her daughter, have had a very pleasant visit to relatives in Bracken.

Dr. Harvey J. Roberts, of Paris, was visiting his mother last week.

Miss Effie J. Lermond attended the Kenton County Teachers' Institute at Independence on Monday.

Through the kindness of Miss Lizzie Kipp it is learned that the Boone county Teachers' Institute will be held here commencing on Monday, August 8th. The following will entertain the teachers at 75 cents a day: Mrs. Kate Bentz, Mrs. Emma Lermond, Mrs. Eva Kennedy, Mrs. Jas. Adams, Miss Sallie Herndon, Mrs. Jacob Kipp, Mrs. King, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Coffman, and Mrs. S. M. Adams.

Those farmers who are troubled with a growth of honey locust or the obnoxious bushes are hereby notified that on Monday and Tuesday, the 15th and 16th days of August, the sign of the zodiac will be Leo (the heart) in the dark of the moon, and it has not occurred for several years. Large thorn trees belted or deadened on either of those days will show a withered and blackened foliage in twelve hours, and there will be no sprouts from the roots. If any are doubtful let them ask B. F. McGlasson, President of the Fair Association. Himself and the writer tried it on his farm near Point Pleasant church and had the pleasure of seeing every tree that was treated showing nothing but black, withered leaves the next day.

Gunpowder.

Fine showers have fallen and have revived the crops, the grass and the people.

Lute Aylor is having fine sport catching fish, having caught some that weigh 3 lbs out of his pond.

Miller & Moore are in this neighborhood with their threshing machine, and you bet they are hustling men.

Sunday was the blue ribbon day for travel. People from all directions were on the road going I dont know where.

There's a prospect in this neck of the woods for an abundant crop of pickels and plenty of work picking and marketing them.

J. M. Barlow is preparing to keep cool in the future. He is building a commodious ice house. Mr. Sedam is the architect.

The health of the community is as good as could be expected, except uncle Will Tanner, who is laid up with a sprained ancle.

Steve Robins is repairing the property that he purchased from the estate of Mrs. Delph. He is remodleing some of the buildings.

Levi Tanner is lonesome, having planted a crop of tobacco for two hands (himself and Cregg), but Cregg Collins thought he could do better, so Levi is alone with enough on his dish for two.

Chicken thieves have begun their summer's work in this community. J. H. Corbin claims to have lost 75 of his. There are some sycamore grubs along the creek yet. So look out, chicken thief, if you are caught.

North Bend.

July 31.—Mrs. Lou Morris is visiting relatives near Milldale, Ky.

The ferry boat took tan excursion to the Ludlow Lagoon, Saturday.

There has been quite a number of fish caught along the river here in the last two weeks.

Mrs. Frankie Davis and daughter, Margaret, of Milldale, are visiting her sister, Mrs. E. M. Kirtley.

Miss Pauline Kirtley, of Erlanger, was visiting Mrs. W. O. Kirtley and Rev. R. E. Kirtley, last week.

W. O. Kirtley cant find a name for his son. Cant some one offer a suggestion? Why wouldn't Fitzhugh Lee do? [Or Schley Dewey.—Ed.]

Miss Edith Goodnough, who has been boarding at G. M. Riley's, was called home suddenly, last Saturday, on account of the death of her father.

Since the steam ferry boat is here quite a number of tourists from Cincinnati have crossed on it. They were taking a tour through the country. It is quite a lovely drive from the city to North Bend then cross on the ferry and go through the country until they strike the pike and drive back to the city. A ferry boat is a great advantage indeed.

Bullittsville.

Mr. Carlton Crisler and a friend from Ludlow are visiting Winston Gaines.

Miss Margarite Kirtley and her sister, Miss Irene, are visiting their relatives in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Grant are entertaining, this week, quite a delightful party of young people from Covington.

Miss Pauline Winston, who has been making her home for several years in Carroll county, is visiting her parents at Utzinger.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Graves, are expecting, as a guest for at least a week, Miss Emily Gedge, of Covington. Mrs. Graves expects to entertain at the same time Mr. and Mrs. Mathews and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Sellers, of Covington, and two ladies from Lawrenceburg, friends of Miss Gedge.

Gasburg.

[Received too late for last week.—Ed.]

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartmann are entertaining relatives from Cincinnati.

The prospects for a bridge over Woolper is received here with much satisfaction.

Clifford Terrill, who has been visiting relatives in Mobile, Ala., joined the army there.

Threshing all done. The yield of wheat was as large as expected and is of an excellent quality.

James B. Tolin, who moved to Covington several months ago, has moved back and is living in the Hoffman house near the Petersburg cemetery.

Water melons will begin going to market in a few days. They will be abundant, and the quality ought to be extra good, as the weather has been dry which is required to give flavor and sweetness.

Abial Dean, of this vicinity, is the only survivor of the Mexican war in the county. He is 81 years old; is hale and hearty and has his fourth wife. [Henry Mallory, who lives near Burlington, was in that war.—Ed.]

Perhaps not more than one half as much tobacco was set in this vicinity that preparations were made for. The early planted is doing very well, but the late is in a bad way, and with the most favorable weather from now on can not make a good crop.

Aug. 1st—A fine rain fell here Saturday night.

Melons and peaches are going to market at fair prices.

A very large crowd of excursionists visited Split Rock, Sunday.

Slim Terrill and son, George, of the Bullittsburg country, visited relatives here Sunday.

This community was greatly startled, last Monday afternoon, by the announcement that Arthur Davis, one of our citizens, had committed suicide. Mr. Davis' mind has been unbalanced for some time, and he had shown symptoms, lately, of being vicious; but it was not apprehended that he would end his own life. He procured a buggy line and went about a hundred yards from the house and hung himself to a small tree by tying the line in the fork of it, which he could reach from the ground. His neck was broken, which cannot be accounted for as he did not climb the tree.

Verona.

We are having lots of rain, and crops are growing rapidly.

J. M. Powers has had his house given a fresh coat of paint.

Mrs. Kate McCormac has been sick with fever for several days.

Well, the war is about over, and now we wonder what will be next on docket.

Big preparations are being made for a large crop of wheat this fall, in this vicinity.

Miss Rose Adams, of Big Bone, was the pleasant guest of friends here a few days since.

N. B. Hamilton, who accidently shot his little finger off, is gettiug along nicely.

Mrs. Boone Roberts was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robson, at Coviugton, the past week.

On account of the rain not many persons attended the dedication at Glencoe, last Sunday.

Revs. Swindler and Adams will begin a series of meetings at New Bethel, on the night of Aug. 1st.

John Robson, of Covington, has moved into our midst, occupying the Chas. Robertson property.

The horse belonging to Rev. Bedinger, who teaches at the Methodist church, here, strayed off and has not yet been heard from.

Constance.

There was a mad dog scare here last Saturday night.

H. C. McNeal is out again after a severe spell of rheumatism.

Chas. Kotmyer is protectiug his river front by building stone walls.

The Wm. Preston, Capt. Pickelheimer's boat sprung a leak and sunk.

The Constance base ball club played a picked nine Suuday, and was beaten 4 to 3.

The ferry boat brings large crowds of sightseers to this side of the river every Sunday.

Charles Pencero's residence was burnt to the ground as the result of a leaking gasoline stove.

A large number of people from Bullittsville and hebron attended the baptizing here Sunday.

A butcher, who resided at Fair Mount, Ohio, was drowned at Anderson Ferry, the other day.

Rev. Watkins baptized 14 persons in the river here, Sunday afternoon. They were additions to the Pt. Pleasant Christian church.

Work on the new pike up Dry creek is under way. It will connect with the dirt road in this county, and thence to Covington via Chas. Cleveland's.

The Constance Mission Sunday school will give an outing at Charles Scott's woods, August 20th. Everybody is invited to come and bring well filled baskets. Icecream and lemonade free. Nothing allowed sold on the ground.

Mound Field Farm.
(North Hebron.)

Andy Smith, of Covington, is painting Doc Mannin's house and barn.

Home grown watermelons are on tap at both stores in Hebron.

Charles Ragenbogen is still furnishing his customers with the Early Harvest blackberries.

The smoke from four threshing machine eugines could be seen in this vicinity, one day last week.

Miss Luara Emmons, Lancaster, O., a relative of Mrs. Amanda Rouse, is visiting in this neighborhood.

Doc Mannin thinks he will have to go to Texas in order to get cattle to feed his crop of artichokes to this fall.

Instead of gathering blackberries last week as you assumed, we were busy thinning and laying by that crop of plumb bobs.

Elzy Harper has a curiosity in the way of a pig. It has four natural feet and legs, but uses only its two fore legs for locomotion.

It was really affecting to witness the crestfallen bidders at the letting of the school house at Pt. Pleasant, last Saturday, when it was announced that Reter & Schnider, had secured the contract.

Our village blacksmith, John Ernst, is playiug the role of a veterinary surgeon, and has four crippled horses to attend. Three of them ran nails into their feet, and one was hurt on a wire fence. He will soon have them cured.

We are told that it rains on the just and the unjust. Now, there is a narrow scope of country, something like half a mile wide, just west of Hebron, that it fails to rain on to do any good. The question is, what kind of people are we?

Notwithstanding the favorable prospect for a honey crop, early in the season, bees have made but little surplus, and unless we have more rain to bring out the fall bloom of honey producing plants, the honey crop will be a failure here this year.

Last Saturday evening Capt. Sim Terrill, of the Utzinger bus line, passed down with his vehicle loaded from the hurricane roof to the quarterdeck with lads and lassies from the city, en-route to some of the numerous summer resorts near Utzinger.

Met Oscar Gaines, Esq., the other day. He was soliciting subscriptions with which to build three new bridges on Dog Trot Avenue. He stated that a certain amount would be raised by subscription, and that the county will defray the balance of the expense. This will satisfy a long felt want, and will be appreciated by those owning property abutting on said improvement.

Tom Hafer has had two of his new varieties of wheat threshed, and he is well pleased with the result. The variety known as the Giant Square Head averaged 28 bushels from one, while the Reuby averaged 16 bushels from one. He claims he had not half a stand of the Reuby, owing to the dry weather last fall. He has another variety he calls the Premium Wheat that he has not threshed. He claims that either of the above varieties will do as well if not better than any wheat we have in this section, as far as standing the winter, quality and yield are concerned.

PERSONAL MENTION.

John S. Gaunt attended court here Monday.

Prof. Collins was mingling with his friends in town Monday.

C. C. Hughes and wife were shopping in Cincinnati, last Friday.

J. M. Lassing and W. E. Vest made a business trip to East Bend, Friday.

Miss Elizabeth Adams is visiting her brother in Dearborn county, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rawlins, of Jacksonville, Ill., are guests of Mrs. Brady.

Miss Essie Parish, of Fincastle, Ohio, is a guest of her uncle, Dr. J. G. Furnish.

Clayton Rogers, who is camping in Glorida, is hear, has fever of a mild type.

D. Bateman and wife were visiting in the Big Bone neighborhood, last Friday and Sat.

F. Pogaltou, of Utziuger, made a business trip to the hub, one afternoon last week.

J. O. Huey and S. L. Webb were ordained deacons of the Erlanger Baptist church, Sunday.

G. W. Roberts, of Verona, was the guest of his brother, Judge C. C. Roberts, Monday night.

James Perkins, jr., of Rising Sun, Indiana, was the guest of A. B. Rouse, Monday and Tuesday.

Owen Stepheus, of Ashland, Kans., is visiting his father and mother in Bullittsville neighborhood

J. M. Conner made a tour of a considerable portion of the county, last Saturday, looking at cattle.

Mr. J. W. Duncan returned from Scott county, last Friday, where he attended the funeral of his brother, John, aged 73.

Mrs. B. W. Adams entertained her Sunday School class, one afternoon last week. A spleudid supper was enjoyed by the guests.

Miss Lillian Nelson, of Mt. Adams, Ohio, is visiting Miss Lottie Hail. Miss Ollie Kirkpatrick, of Mt. Adams, Ohio, is visiting her mother.

Rev. Hoover arrived home Saturday from Richmond, Va. Mrs. Hoover remained at the bedside of her father, who was improving slowly.

Mrs. Charlotte Reed, who was in very poor health all spring and the greater part of the summer, has improved very much in the last few weeks.

John W. Gaines, of Utzinger, has gone to Kansas to look after another fine crop of wheat. That State claims to have the finest crop it ever raised.

Dr. Sam Adanis will preach at the residence of Mr. Frank Borders on Gunpowder, on the second Saturday night in this month. All are invited.

Reuben Akin and Whit Jarrell, of the Petersburg neighborhood, were in town one day last week. They brought to town the first musk-melons of the season.

Miss Juliette Bohmy and Mrs. A. L. Williams, of Indianapolis, who had been visiting Mrs. Kirkpatrick, have retured to their homes in Indianapolis, Iniana.

James Wood, of near Owenton, Owen county, was in town Monday. He came to Boone to select some fine southdown lambs for which he had contracted with John Cropper, of the Bullittsburg neighborhood.

W. D. Cropper and W. C. Watts, two of the most popular gallants of the northern part of the county, attended church here Sunday. Judging from their bouyant spirits they are receiving considerable encouragement.

Miss Nannie Arnold, the talented granddaughter of J. M. Riddell, has been employed as a teacher in the Hamilton Female college at Lexington and will begin her work about the middle of September. Hamilton College is to be congratulated in securing the services of so excellent a lady.—Williamstown Courier.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. Rusells, Constance, Ky.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Unlon, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you. He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.

ESTABLISHED 1857.
R. T. CLEMENTS
—THE OLD—
RELIABLE - GROCER,
UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs.	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal.	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal.	.10
Lard, per lb.	.08	Side Meat, per lb.	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal.	.40	Hams, per lb.	.11
Sorghum Molases, per gal.	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl.	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl.	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus.	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

SPRING BEAUTIES!

Is the only description that can be applied to the elegant and complete new stock of goods which I have just received for the making of

Gentlemen's
---Suits and Overcoats.---

Notwithstanding the high quality and cost of these goods, I am prepared to furnish them

Cut and Made to Order.

Strictly first-class, and at the lowest possible prices consistent with good material and workmanship.

Inspection is Invited,

Before you decided on your Spring Clothing, for even if you do not buy it will be a pleasure for me to show you these goods. I am also prepared with a

Nice New Stock

Of all the Latest Fashionable Shapes and Patterns, to .....sell you.....

FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING

Suits and Overcoats, in Boys', Youths & Men's Sizes.

A large lot of Men's and Boys

Ready Made Suits

Being sold at 50 cents on the dollar of the cost of the material.

H. F. BLASE,
535 Madison Avenue,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.
GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention,

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.
Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY

WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.

Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.

Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.
Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
—(o)—
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.

J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

FRANK HOSSMAN.
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Also handles all
KINDS of ROOFING.
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
A. E. Gorman's Adm'r., Pltf.
vs.
R. A. Demoisey, &c., Defts.

Notice is hereby given that I will begin my sittings in the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., June 16, 1898, to hear proof of claims in the above styled cause and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 23d day of July, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
John Weindel's Adm'r., Pltf.
vs.
John Weindle, &c., Defts.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he will begin his sittings on the 20th day of June, 1898, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., to hear proof of claims in the above styled cause and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 27th day of July, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

Local News.

There was not a very large crowd in town Monday.

Prof. A. L. Peterman will deliver a lecture at Walton next Tuesday night.

R. Lee Huey's garden was totally destroyed by the fire that burnt his barn.

The Teachers' Institute begins at Walton next Monday and continues five days.

Concord Baptist Association will meet with the Owenton Baptist church August 27.

Heavy rains passed both north and south of Burlington on several days last week.

Kirtley Rice will repair your clock or watch at reasonable rates. Give him your work.

The Wilmington baseball club that was advertised to play here Monday, did not show up.

With the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, the sun never sets on the possessions of Uncle Sam.

Wesley Tungate cut one of his feet badly with an axe, last Thursday. Dr. Furnish dressed the wound.

Several of the blackberry brigade engaged in an exciting game of ball on the street Saturday morning.

Several of the young people were entertained at supper by Misses Birdie and Nellie Martin, last Friday.

The docket for the next term of the circuit court closed Friday with 14 ordinary, and 17 equity appearances.

Mrs. B. W. Adams ran across a spreading adder in a press at her home, one day last week. It made its escape.

Each of the local attorneys has received a copy of the new bankrupt law, and is ready to do business in that line.

Miss Essie McIntosh, who lives out on Mr. W. T. Smith's farm has been very low with typhoid fever for several days.

There was a mobilizing of threshing machines in the Gaines neighborhood, last week. Five or six were in hearing distance of each other.

There will be a big fish fry, Saturday evening, August 6, 1898, at A. S. Cate's Sample Room, Lexington pike, at the Geo. Stamler old stand.

In this issue will be noticed Dr. A. B. Walton's card. He has moved from 133 Garfield Place to 22 West 7th street—the Lancaster building.

The resin plant at Ludlow was visited by another conflagration, one day last week. It was not as destructive as that of a few weeks since.

Teachers should bear in mind that the Institute commences in Walton, and continues five days. The law requires them to attend every day.

Perry Gaines, of Carroll county, took to market Monday a drove of very handsome cattle, which he had been pasturing near here for some time.

Why is it that a "dry moon" furnishes an abundance of rain in some sections, while it remains distressingly dry in others; and a "wet moon," vice versa?

Gov. Bradley refused to grant Harry Hamlin the pardon for which he petitioned. Hamlin is confident that he will be released from jail next week by the Circuit Court.

Mrs. Mansfield Wigglesworth, who claimed to be 100 years old, died at the county infirmary a few days ago. The very ancient appearance of the old lady bore out her claim.

Two horses are drawing a load. One of them keeps his end of the double tree, say three inches, in advance of the other. Which horse if either, is drawing the greater part of the load?

The Harvest Home Association desires your presence at the annual exhibition on the 20th inst. The most popular young lady on the ground that day will be awarded a painting valued at $10.

Mrs. Martha Chambers, wife of the late Benjamin Chambers, died last Thursday night at the home of her son, Theodore, in Walton. She was a sister of Mrs. Charlott Reed, of this place.

When it was raining last Saturday morning and everything indicated a bad day, James Clore contemplated declaring the Keeley picnic off and advertising a double header for the next Saturday.

D. M. Snyder, of Bellevue, struck the town last Saturday with the first load of watermelons of the season. The small boys did not have to be instructed as to what they were nor how to dispose of them.

The rains the past week have been very beneficial to the corn and tobacco crops. Some neighborhoods in the county were visited with good rains, while the others were only moderate, but did much good.

The Boone county boys at Chickamauga are beginning to conclude they will not get to the front in time to take part in battle. The peace negotiations now on they believe will interfere with their military career.

Four divorce suits have been filed in the Circuit Court since last term, viz: Alice Norman vs. Wm. B. Norman; Susan N. Norman vs. Edward Norman; Cornelia J. Gordon vs. W. R. Gordon; Fannie D. Glackin vs. J. W. Glackin.

Any person in Boone county desiring to contribute towards assisting to purchase a silver service for the battleship, Kentucky, can send the amount to the RECORDER and it will forwarded it to the chairman of the committee at Louisville.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

The probability of this country acquiring Porto Rico has revived the negro colonization proposition, and some of the wealthy friends of the colored race in the north have turned their attention from negro and mixed schools to that of colonization.

The ladies of the Florence M. E. Church will give a supper in the yard at the Baptist church in Florence, on Saturday evening the 6th inst. Admission 25 cents. A splendid harpist has been engaged to make instrumental music for the occasion.

John Zellers, colored, native of Burlington and a member of the regular army, was wounded in the shoulder at Santiago. His relatives here have received one or two letters from him, the last being from New York, where he had arrived for treatment in the hospital.

One of the Williamstown party, who camped at Big Bone recently, for several days, in his write up of the outing for the Courier, of the springs, &c., says: "The keeper is a ruin and the old hotel is a ruin, and the beautiful valley in which the Springs are located, surrounded on all sides by frowning cliffs, is also a ruin."

In this issue appears the advertisement of the Lawrenceburg Fair. Unusual attractions are billed for the approaching exhibition, while a long list of premiums will be awarded again on stock, agricultural productions, &c. The Lawrenceburg Fair has always been popular with Boone county people and it will be none the less this year.

The Keeley picnic was not attended by a very large crowd last Saturday, but those present had a delightful afternoon, and tripped the light fantastic until the sun had disappeared beneath the horizon. James Clore and Jerry Blythe, who were the principal managers, are contemplating giving a free picnic some time next month. Free dance, free dinner, free refreshments.

Sheriff Beall and his deputy, J. B. Aliphin, Jr., were moving over the county at a lively gait, last week, serving processes the time for which work closed Friday. This week they are looking after the grand and petit jurors for the circuit court which begins next Monday, and when Judge Greene opens court next Monday they will have their work preparatory for the term all disposed of.

Each Sunday school that accepts the invitation to visit the Lagoon, as given through this column last week, is requested to notify Michael Clore at Hebron, how many of its children and grown persons will go, and he will secure the tickets and forward them to the superintendents. This matter should be attended to next Sunday, and Mr. Clore notified immediately thereafter. Every school in the county is invited.

Rev. Fosher preached an able sermon at the Universalist church, Sunday morning to a good congregation. At the conclusion of the services an excellent dinner that had been prepared for the occasion was spread, to which ample justice was done. The afternoon discourse on Pythianism, was a genuine treat to the members of the order, and was heard by a large number of Knights. Immortality was his subject at the evening services.

A few days ago two of Burlington's brigade of blackberry swipers invaded the same patch, neither being aware of the others presence. In a short time they heard each other in the bushes, when they began crawling under the bushes and briars to conceal themselves and avoid being bounced, each thinking the other the owner of the patch. They meandered over the patch on their knees until they had about filled their buckets, when they met, and discovered their mistake, and although they had a good laugh a very cheap feeling was experienced, and their knees showed a scarcity of epidermis.

The Treasury Department at Washington has sent out a circular containing its rulings under the new stamp law, and from which we copy the following:

Checks drawn by officers of State, county, and municipalities for the discharge of the obligations of State, counties, and municipalities require no stamps.

No stamp is required on ordinary receipts.

A 2-cent stamp is required on an order for cash drawn on a merchant by one of his customers.

Certificates of deposit drawing interest, if left a certain time, are taxable the same as promissory notes.

Receipts given in lieu of checks are checks and not receipts, and are subject to tax.

Bonds required in legal proceedings are exempt. Bonds given by persons appointed by the court conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of their office or position, such as receivers, assignees, executors, administrators and guardians, are not exempt.

The ordinary notary's jurat is not required to be stamped.

A mortgage, no matter what the date, should not be admitted to registration when presented on or after July 1, 1898, unless there is attached and canceled the proper revenue stamp.

In case where the amount is nominal, the actual value of the property conveyed should govern the amount of the stamp required.

A 10-cent stamp is sufficient upon a proxy for use in voting at an election of officers of an incorporated company without regard to the number of signatures.

In regard to the cancellation of internal revenue adhesive stamps, which the law requires to be by writing or stamping the initials of the person using the same, and the date upon which the stamp shall be attached or used, it is held that the initials and year alone will be sufficient. This cancellation may be by writing or imprinting with a hand stamp.

Old stamps issued under repealed acts cannot be used in lieu of stamps required by the present law.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard, - - - 3½ Cts
Ladies Hose, - - - - - 5 "
Cottonade Pants, - - - 50 "
Working Shirts, - - - - 25 "
We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

The Boone County HARVEST HOME ASSOCIATION

Will give its annual exhibition at their grounds near Limaburg, on the North Bend Road,

Saturday, Aug. 20, 1898.

PREMIUM LIST.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTIONS.
THIS YEAR'S GROWTH.

Best tobacco, six stalks.....$1 00
" rye, one peck..... 1 00
" oats, one peck..... 1 00
" twelve ears white corn..... 1 00
" twelve ears sweet corn..... 1 00
" twelve ears of yellow corn..... 1 00
Best wheat, one peck, twelve quart milk bucket, valued at $1, by F. Schwendemann, Delhi, O.
Best display of grain, $2, by C. T. Davis & Co., Hebron, Ky.

VEGETABLES.

Best peck Irish potatoes, early...$1 00
" peck Irish potatoes, late..... 1 00
" peck sweet potatoes..... 1 00
" peck tomatoes..... 1 00
Pumpkins, best three..... 1 00
Squashes, best three..... 1 00
Cashaws, best three..... 1 00
Watermelons, best three..... 1 00
Nutmegs, best three..... 1 00
Turnips, best peck..... 1 00
Onions, best peck..... 1 00
Green beans, best peck..... 1 00
Soup beans, best half gallon..... 1 00
Cabbage, best three heads..... 1 00
Celery, best six bunches..... 1 00
Carrots, best six..... 1 00
Radishes, best six for table use..... 1 00
Cucumbers, best six..... 1 00
Beets, best six..... 1 00
Best collection of Irish potatoes, $2
toilet set by L. A. Haber, Druggist, Delhi, O.
Best display of vegetables, $5 Child's Suit by H. F. Blase, Clothier, 534 Madison ave., Covington.

FRUITS.

Best display apples.....$1 00
Best display peaches..... 1 00
Best display plums..... 1 00
Best display pears..... 1 00
Best display quinces..... 1 00
Best display grapes..... 1 00
Best display fruit, $2 Rocker by Jos Deiterman, 527 Madison ave., Covington.

PANTRY AND DAIRY.

Sour pickles, best display..... $2 00
Sweet pickles, best display..... 2 00
Corn bread, light, best loaf..... 1 00
Bread, hop yeast, best loaf..... 1 00
Best pound cake, without icing..... 1 00
Best jelly cake without icing..... 1 00
Best layer cake, without icing..... 1 00
Butter, best two pounds..... 1 00
Peaches, best single can..... 50
Pears, best single can..... 50
Tomatoes, best single can..... 50
Sorghum molasses, best quart..... 50
Maple molasses, best quart..... 50
Apple vinegar, best quart..... 50
Best lady cake without icing, $2 Bed Spread by W. R. Scheifer, Ludlow Bazar, Ludlow, Ky.
Best display fruit butter, $2 Easel by Jos. Deiterman, 527 Madison ave., Covington.
Best display preserves, $3 box Lenox Soap by James Spillman, 19 & 21 Pike street Covington.
Best display jellies, $2 50 by J. S. Clutterbuck, Burlington.
Best loaf bread, hop yeast, $6 barrel Jackson's Best Patent Flour by R. Hamilton Grocery Co., 39 Pike street, Covington.
Best loaf bread, salt rising, $2 50 in gold by A. R. Gottschalk, Home City, postoffice, Delhi, O.
Best fruit cake, $3 Copper Boiler by W. A Menninger & Co., 712 Madison ave., Covington.

POULTRY.

Cochins, best pair.....$ .50
Leghorns, best pair..... .50
Wyandotts, best pair..... .50
Langshans, best pair..... .50
Minorcas, best pair..... .50
Hamburgs, best pair..... .50
Brahmas, best pair..... .50
Game, best pair..... .50
Bantams, best pair..... .50
Geese, best pair..... .50
Ducks, best pair..... .50
Best pair Plymouth Rock, $3 Silk Umbrella by Coppins, 538 Madison ave., Covington.
Best pair Turkeys, $1.50 Riding Bridle by H. H. Thoman, 56 Pike street, Covington.
Best display Poultry, $2 Cockerel by A. M. Acra, breeder of fine Poultry, Burlington, Ky.

FLOWERS.

Fuchas, best display.....$1 00
Cactus, best display..... 1 00
Best hanging basket..... 1 00
Best hand bouquet..... .50
Best button-hole bouquet..... .50
Best display geraniums, $2 Bread box by Grote Bros, 40 & 42 Pike street, Covington.
Best display in pots, $1 by Ernest Bros., Hebron, Ky.
Best display cut flowers, two non-rustable buckets by Hesselman & Wahle, 9 Pike street, Covington.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS AND PAINTINGS.

Wax flowers, best specimen.....$1 00
Feather flowers, best specimen..... 1 00
Paper flowers, best specimen..... 1 00
Hair flowers, best specimen..... 1 00
Tapestry painting, best specimen..... 1 00
Crayon drawing, best specimen..... 1 00
Pencil drawing, best specimen..... 1 00
Oil painting, best specimen..... 1 00

EMBROIDERY & NEEDLE WORK.

Embroidery, best linen.....$1 00
Embroidery, best silk..... 1 00
Embroidery, best cotton..... 1 00
Best Kensington work..... 1 00
" Arasene work..... 1 00
" Crochet work..... 1 00
" Lace work..... 1 00
Art needle work, best specimen..... 1 00
Knit lace, best specimen..... 1 00
Drawn thread, best specimen..... 1 00
Rag carpet, best ten yards..... 1 00
Fancy knitting, best spec'n in silk 1 00
Best hand made shirt..... 1 00
Hand sewing, best new work..... 1 00
Woolen knitting, best plain..... 50
Best spec'n pl knitting in cotton... 50
Woolen knitting, best fancy..... 50
Best knit counterpane..... 1 00
" Calico patchwork quilt..... 1 00
" Worsted patchwork quilt pl. 1 00
" Silk patchwork quilt plain... 2 00
" Fancy worsted fan quilt..... 2 00
Best silk patchwork quilt, crazy, $4 pair Gold Glasses by F. Peiper, 616 Madison ave., Covington.
Best worsted patchwork quilt, crazy, $8 Crystal Washing Machine by J. M. Walker, 340 & 342 Main St., Cincinnati.
The most popular lady attending the Harvest Home, will be presented with a $10 Oil Painting given by Jos. Deiterman, 527 Madisou ave., Covington.

HOGS.

Best sow with 6 or more suckling pigs.....$5 00
Best pair pigs under 6 mos. of age. 5 00
Best boar and sow, over six mos. and under one year..... 5 00

SHEEP.

Best aged buck, long wool.....$3 00
" aged buck, medium wool..... 3 00
" aged ewe, long wool..... 3 00
" aged ewe, medium wool..... 3 00
Best pair lambs, one year's subscription to daily Kentucky Post, Covington, W. M. Day, Manager.

CATTLE.

Best dairy bull, under 2 years.....$5 00
Best bull, beef-breed, under 2 yrs. 5 00
Best dairy heifer, under 2 years..... 3 00
Best heifer, beef-breed, under 2 yrs 3 00
Best milch cow..... 5 00
Best Jersey bull, uuder 1 year..... 5 00
Best Jersey herd, bull and four cows or more owned by one person, $10.

HORSES.

Best suckling draft colt, regardless of sex.....$5 00
Second best, $2 Riding Bridle by Chas. Mahlmann, 32 Pike St., Covington.
Best suckling harness colt, regardless of sex..... 5 00
Second best, $2.50 Driving Whip by Mayer & Handorf, 75 Pike street, Covington.
Best suckling colt, general purpose regardless of sex, Leather Couch by Jos. Deitman, Covington.....10 00
Second best, by John Allison, Undertaker and Embalmer, Covington..... 3 00

Dancing All Day, Free.
General Admission, 25 Cents.
Children under 10 years, free.

RUPTURE CURED—See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

The excessive heat will not loosen its grip.

There will be reed and brass music both at the Harvest Home.

Edwin M. Gaines, of Burlington, has 150 good stock ewes for sale.

Judge Roberts was distributing copies of the new election law, yesterday.

The privileges for the next fair at Florence will be let at the fair ground, on the afternoon of the 13th inst.

There will be a called meeting of the members of Viola Lodge No. 278, I. O. O. F. Friday evening, August 5, 1898.
J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, N. G.

Most of the farmers who have threshed their wheat, are well pleased with the yield. Occasionally one was disappointed by his crop falling short of his estimate.

The Beaver, Walton and Verona districts were visited by the hardest rain, last Saturday, that was ever known in that section. The damage to crops, fencing and land was terrible. Some farms were nearly ruined, so badly was the land washed.

County Court.

Will of Arthur Blyth probated and H. W. Blyth, executor named in the will qualified.

The widow waiving her right J. W. Conner was appointed administrator of Reuben Conner. Andrew Collins, sr., Oscar Glacken and Daniel Bedinger were appointed appraisers.

The result of the local option election in the town of Petersburg, was spread upon the order book.

To Whom It May Concern.

Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.
W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK,
DEALER IN
DRY GOODS
Notions, Boots and Shoes,
CORN AND MILL FEED,
At Prices to Suit the times.
Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.
J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,
The Deering Harvesters,
Rollers and Balls,
That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,
Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.
Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.
T. J. HUGHES,
BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,
UNDER-TAKER  EMBAL-MER,
Corner Pike & Russell Streets,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE
WHY SUFFER AGONY?
When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.
No Knife! No Interruption of Business!
The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.
MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says:
"After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."
Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.
DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.
CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.
Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. : : KENTUCKY.

AUGUST—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28	29	30	31	....	....	....

WHAT is known in the Hood River valley, Oregon, as the Big ditch cost $28,000 and this year's crop of strawberries, blackberries and other fruit in the valley will bring enough money to pay for it. It was constructed for the benefit of the fruit growers, who are enabled thereby to get their products to market in great bulk.

CERVERA is entitled to remain on parole for one year, during which time he receives the pay and allowance of an American admiral. It is thought that he may like to spend a part of this time in Washington, and that he will not care to return to Spain until the political excitement subsides, as he would almost inevitably lose his life.

IT is claimed for the Washington artillery of New Orleans, La., which was organized in 1846, that it is the oldest artillery organization in the United States. It was the first in the south to tender its services to the government in the war with Mexico and on the day after acceptance it was ready. It now is composed of five batteries, with a total membership of about 350 men.

UNDER the head of breadstuffs, wheat flour is our leading export to Porto Rico. During the five years 1893–1897 the number of barrels shipped per annum averaged 148,487, having a value of $570,619. In 1888–1892 the quantity exported was somewhat less, averaging 141,324 barrels a year; but the average annual value, owing to higher prices, exceeded that of 1893–1897, being returned at $688,293.

THE present value of the British fleet in money is about £52,000,000 ($260,000,000). According to recently issued papers the proportion of ships of large dimensions to the total number built is not nearly so great as is often asserted. All but two of these are battleships, the exceptions being the Powerful and Terrible, cruisers. Of between 12,000 and 13,000 tons there are 11 ships, seven battle ships and four cruisers; between 10,000, and 12,000 tons there are ten ships, two being battle ships.

ONE lesson of the Santiago engagement seems to be that the battleship must not carry torpedoes. Another is that, particularly in a sea engagement, torpedo boats and their normal destroyers count for little, and that the rapid-fire batteries of the ships are of supreme importance. To these may be added the crowning lesson that we want no slow battleships. Every one henceforth built should be as swift as any in its class in any navy in the world, and as swift as the highest art of ship building can make them.

THE imports into Porto Rico have generally been somewhat in excess of the exports from the islands, but in 1896, for the first time in more than a decade, the value of the merchandise shipped to foreign markets was slightly greater than that of the imported wares. The exports for 1896 had a value of $18,341,430 and were decidedly the largest on record, while the imports for the same year, valued at $18,282,690, appear to have been surpassed only in 1894, when the foreign goods received at Porto Rican ports amounted in value to $19,086,336.

IN 1888 we imported from Porto Rico $60,793 worth of fruits and nuts. This importation was not only the largest of the past decade, but also exceeded every previous record except that for the year 1871, which amounted to $76,311. The decline that occurred in the years following 1888 was a marked one, the annual value of the imports for 1893–1897 averaging only $18,241, as compared with $42,803 for 1888–1892. Oranges are the principal variety of fruit imported. The average yearly value of the imports fell from $9,360 in 1888–1892 to $3,040 in 1894–1897.

DURING the calendar year 1896 the foreign trade of Porto Rico, according to the official returns compiled by the colonial administration of the island, attained a total value of $36,624,120, exceeding all previous records. Compared with the value of 1887, the opening year of the decade, which amounted to $21,237,601, these figures show a gain of more than $15,000,000 during the ten years. In the five-year period, 1892–1896, the total imports and exports had an average annual value of $33,870,535, as against $24,961,217 in the preceding five-year period, 1887–1891.

IN our export trade with Porto Rico the item of meat products is hardly less important than that of breadstuffs. During the last five years, in fact, the average annual value of the meat exports, returned at $663,570, was slightly larger than that of the exported breadstuffs, although in the preceding five years, 1888–1892, this was not the case. While the exportation of breadstuffs fell off during the decade, that of meat products increased, the average annual value for 1888–1892, as compared with the larger figures just quoted for 1893–1897, amounting to only $504,678.

HEAVY HAIL STORM.

Much Damage Wrought to Property in Chicago—Rain in Torrents Fell For An Hour.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Thousands of window panes were broken during a heavy hail storm in this city Thursday. Rain which fell in torrents for an hour after the hailstones had done their work, did great damage to the interiors of apartment buildings and school houses. Most of the damage to windows and skylights occurred on the north and west sides where the north windows of nearly every prominent building were broken.

Horses pelted by the rain ran away in every direction but no person was seriously injured.

The shrubbery in Lincoln and Washington parks was cut up and the greenhouses were badly damaged. Buildings in the down town district had some glass broken in the upper stories.

In the suburbs trolley wires were down in many places and the streets were made impassable by backwater from the sewers. Many horses were killed by contact with live trolley and electric light wires.

The temperature, which has been hovering around 90 for several days, dropped to 68 after the storm.

GEN. JAMES H. WILSON.
(He May Be Appointed Military Governor of All Cuba.)

OUR PEACE TERMS.

Spain's Reply Must Be Prompt and Decisive—Greatest International Deal Since 1870.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Officials of the administration are preparing with energy for what will be the greatest international deal since Germany and France made terms in 1870. They are adopting safeguards against Spanish trickery and fortifying themselves to resist European interference. They are also carefully formulating the demands to be made upon Spain. A programme prepared by the state department and devised by the president is to be submitted to the cabinet Friday. Unless present plans shall be changed, Ambassador Cambon will be given the answer to the Spanish note on Friday afternoon or Saturday. The proposals may cause delay. There is a strong sentiment in administration circles in favor of disregarding diplomatic red tape and making a blunt proposition that Spain will be required to accept or reject without delay.

CRISTOBAL COLON.

All the Pontoons in the Country to Be Purchased for the Purpose of Lifting the Spanish Cruiser.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Lieut. Hobson called at the navy department Thursday to see Assistant Secretary Allen in connection with the prosecution of the work of raising the Spanish cruiser Cristobal Colon. Mr. Allen immediately called a meeting of the naval board composed of himself, Capt. Bradford and Constructor Gillmore to go over the propositions that Mr. Hobson brought with him from the wrecker at New York and more than an hour was spent in this way. Mr. Hobson's recommendation in brief is the purchase of all the pontoons to be had in this country, some six in number, and an expenditure of $200,000 for air bags to assist in lifting the ship.

Fighting Reported.

MADRID, July 29.—An official dispatch from Porto Rico says: "On Tuesday the Americans advanced in the direction of Yauco; fighting most of the way. Seven hundred Spanish regulars and volunteers encountered them and an engagement ensued, which lasted the whole night and only ceased with dawn on the following day. The Americans were obliged to withdraw to the coast."

To Move Shafter's Army.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary Alger has given orders for the removal of all of Gen. Shafter's army as soon as the men, in the discretion of the commanding officer, may be safely brought back to a camp on Montauk Point, L. I.

Acceptable to Spain.

MADRID, July 29.—The newspapers here consider the peace terms attributed to President McKinley acceptable to Spain. The papers, however, protest against the continuance of hostilities by the United States after Spain had sued for peace.

Another Powder Mill Blown Up.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 29.—The powder mill of E. T. Johnson, at Troy, was blown uo Thursday, and the owner, who was also the paying teller in the Pomeroy & Mitchell bank, was killed.

FIRST ARMY CORPS.

Second Brigade, Under Gen. Haines, Sailed for Porto Rico Thursday.

The Transports That Got Off Are the City of Washington, Massachusetts, Seneca, Roumanian and Cruiser St. Louis—Gen. Brooke is on the St. Louis.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 29.—With the exception of the 4th Ohio regiment the 2d brigade of the 1st army corps, in command of Brig. Gen. Haines, sailed for Porto Rico Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Gen. Haines and his staff and the 4th Ohio regiment are on the auxiliary cruiser St. Paul, and it is not likely that this ship will leave Old Point before daybreak Friday, as there is yet a large quantity of supplies to be loaded. The transports that got off are the City of Washington, Massachusetts, Seneca and Roumanian and the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis. The expedition was divided as follows:

Massachusetts, ambulance, signal corps, headquarters corps, troops A and C, New York cavalry, and the city troop of Philadelphia, including 803 men, 33 officers, 434 horses, 420 mules, 8 ides the wagons.

St. Louis, 3d Illinois regiment, Col. Bennett and staff.

Roumanian, four batteries of light artillery, A of Missouri, A of Illinois, B of Pennsylvania, and the 27th Indiana battery. On this transport there are 19 officers, 700 men, 310 horses and 73 mules.

City of Washington, a detachment of the 4th Pennsylvania regiment of 23 officers and 612 men.

Seneca, a detachment of the 4th Pennsylvania, consisting of 24 officers and 611 men.

Gen. Brooke, commanding the 1st army corps, and his staff, took passage on the St. Louis.

Batteries A and C, of Pennsylvania, and two troops of cavalry from the same state, did not go with this expedition, but expect to sail with Gen. Fred Grant's brigade next week.

The 1st Kentucky regiment, vanguard of the 3d brigade, 1st division, 1st army corps, in command of Gen. Fred Grant, which is to make up the second Porto Rican expedition, arrived here from Chickamauga Thursday and is now in camp.

Gen. Grant arrived on the last train traveling in a private car with his staff.

The 3d battalion of the 16th Pennsylvania arrived late Thursday evening and will be followed by the 2d Kentucky and the 16th Indiana.

Manila Surrenders to Adm. Dewey.

LONDON, July 29.—A Madrid telegram to the New York Herald says the government has received a telegram announcing the surrender of Manila to Adm. Dewey.

M. JULES CAMBON.

YELLOW FEVER.

Total Number of Sick at Santiago, 4,1221 Total Number Yellow Fever, 3,1951 New Cases of Fever, 822.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The war department Thursday night posted the following:

Adjutant General of the Army:

Condition for the 27th: Total sick, 4,122; total fever, 3,193; new cases fever, 822; cases fever returned to duty, 542.

Deaths—Private J. H. Farrell, Company H, 9th Massachusetts volunteers at Siboney, yellow fever.

Corp. Thomas Rolson, Company D, 24th Infantry, Siboney, yellow fever.

Private William H. Byers, Company D, 17th infantry, cereberal appoplexy.

(Signed) SHAFTER, Major General.

Seaman Buried.

PLAYA DEL ESTE, Guantanamo Bay, July 29.—The body of Carl J. Anderson, seaman of the United States cruiser Brooklyn, was buried ashore here Thursday morning. Anderson was killed by the accidental discharge of a Spanish one-pound shell, smuggled from one of the destroyed Spanish cruisers against the orders of Capt. Cook.

Listless Indifference in Spain.

LONDON, July 29.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "However unpalatable the terms of peace may be, they will not provoke the slightest disturbance in Spain, where listless indifference is predominant."

Stopped by an American Cruiser.

LONDON, July 29.—The Daily Mail understands that the British transport Jolunga, carrying grenadiers to Gibraltar, was stopped in the Bay of Biscay by an American cruiser.

CONSIDERING PEACE TERMS.

Every Foot of American Soil Must Be Free From Spanish Rule When the Treaty Has Been Signed.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The cabinet discussed the president's answer to Spain's peace proposal and reached the following decisions.

The absolute surrender of Porto Rico to the United States.

Recognition of the independence of Cuba.

Cession of one of the Ladrone islands to the United States as a coaling station and the cession to the United States of at least a coaling station in the Philippines.

The question undecided is, what disposition shall be made of the Philippine islands as a whole. It can be stated that there is practically no difference of opinion in the cabinet on the question of the retention of the Philippine islands as a whole, all the members being opposed to our acquisition of these islands. There has been no decision, however, as yet on the extent to which the government will go in its decision respecting the future of these islands, but it is probable that the answer of the president will express the willingness of this government to leave the matter of the future government of the Philippines entirely in the hands of a joint commission to be appointed by this government and the government of Spain. The probability is that the United States will insist upon a guarantee of certain reforms in government in the Philippine islands.

Our answer will make no mention of the money indemnity. Neither will there be any armistice at all. The answer will be in the nature of an ultimatum, and if Spain does not accept it she will fare worse in the future. The note from Spain, it is said, was a very adriot and equivocal document, from reading which one would think the only question involved was Cuba. Apparently Spain might not really have intended getting a direct answer from us, but only to open diplomatic correspondence. This government will not have any such correspondence but will make a straight forward statement of its present peace terms for Spain's acceptance or rejection, naming conditions that, under the circumstances, are reasonable and even generous.

Public men who talked with the president and members of the cabinet Friday positively assert the administration has confidence in the sincerity and motive of the Spanish note; that the administration takes the view that this note is the beginning of the end, and that the administration is practically certain the answer of this government and the general terms it will propose will be accepted by Spain.

Adm. Dewey may be called to Washington later on to consult with the administration as to the general situation in the Philippines, the reforms that are needed in the present form of government of the islands and the location that should be reserved for our coaling station there.

The cabinet also decided that Spanish sovereignty in the entire Carribean and West Indian waters must be utterly removed. This means that not only Porto Rico and Cuba be relinquished, but that the Spanish flag must be taken down on every one of the numerous small islands in this hemisphere. This is in accordance with a sentiment that has been growing for some weeks.

Two other propositions were also disposed of. The indebtedness assumed by Spain and charged against both the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico will not be assumed by this government, and moreover commercial treaties now existing between these island and other portions of Spanish domain will be invalidated by the transfer of authority, the cabinet having decided not to recognize them.

The cabinet met again at 3:30 p. m. Friday and at 5:30 adjourned until Saturday morning at 10:30. It was stated after adjournment that no decision had yet been reached as to what answer should be sent to Spain's proposal for peace."

Lightning Plays Havoc.

RED OAK, Neb., July 30.—Lightning killed three persons near Red Oak, Neb. Three farm houses were destroyed and 23 head of cattle belonging to Wm. Shapcott were killed. The Swedish Lutheran church at Wallin was struck by lightning and burned. W. R. Barstow lost his barn and 50 tons of hay by lightning. Nine horses in a pasture were killed. Serious damage to the corn crop was done by the wind.

To Join Camara's Squadron.

GIBRALTAR, July 30.—The Spanish cruiser Lepanto, now at Cartagena, has been ordered to join Camara's squadron, which has been at Cadiz sines Wednesday. The cruiser Alfonso XIII. is quite unfit for sea. She requires extensive alterations.

Must Not Surrender the Philippines.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 30.—The Portland chamber of commerce Friday adopted resolutions regarding the Philippines declaring "that we believe that any course than the retention of these islands would be construed as a surrender to the menace of foreign powers; that we unhesitatingly demand the retention of these islands; that the commerce of the Orient may be shared in by our people without dictation from any European power whatsoever."

THREE AMERICANS WOUNDED

Ponce, the Largest City in Porto Rico, Surrenders to Gen. Miles' Command.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The war department has received the following dispatch from Gen. Miles:

PORT PONCE, Porto Rico, via St. Thomas, July 30.—Secretary of War, Washington: On the 26th Garretson had a spirited engagement on skirmish line. Our casualties, four wounded, all doing well. Spanish loss, 3 killed, 13 wounded. Yauco occupied yesterday. Henry's division there today. Last evening Commader Davis of the Dixie, moved into this port, followed by Capt. Higginson with his fleet early this morning. Gen. Wilson with Ernst brigade now rapidly disembarking.

Spanish troops are retreating from southern part Porto Rico. Ponce and Port have population 50,000, now under American flag. The populace received troops and saluted the flag with wild enthusiasm. Navy has several prizes, also 70 lighters. Railway stock partly destroyed now restored. Telegraph communication also being restored. Cable instruments destroyed. Have sent to Jamaica for others. This is a prosperous and beautiful country. The army will soon be in mountain region; weather delightful, troops in best of health and spirits; anticipate no insurmountable obstacles in future. Results thus far have been accomplished without the loss of a single life.

NELSON A. MILES,
Major General.

PORT PONCE, Porto Rico, July 29.
Secretary of War, Washington:

In the affair of the 26th, Capt. Edward J. Gibson, Co. A, was wounded in left hip, Capt. J. H. Prior, Co. L, slightly wounded in hand, Private James Drummond, Co. K, two wounds in neck, and Private Benj. F. Bosbick, Co. L, slight wound in right arm. All of 6th Massachusetts. All doing well. The Spanish retreat from this place was precipitous, they leaving rifles and ammunition in barracks, and 40 or 50 sick in hospitals. The people are enjoying a holiday in honor of our arrival.

MILES.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., July 30.—Capt. Davis, of the Vixen, received the capitulation of Ponce at 12:30 o'clock on Thursday morning, in his cabin, before the army arrived. The Wasp and Gloucester were with the Vixen.

The official and commercial representatives of the place begged him not to bombard, and he received the Spanish colors from them. Lieut. Laines took the alcaldes mace and sat in the chair of justice and liberated the political prisoners.

In the fight at Guanica Tuesday the Americans were ambushed by the Spaniards. The Massachusetts and Illinois regiments, under Gen. Garretson, charged them fearlessly and routed them after a spirited engagement.

After taking Ponce, Gen. Miles issued the following proclamation:

"In the prosecution of the war against the kingdom of Spain by the people of the United States in their cause of liberty, justice and humanity, the military forces have come to occupy the island of Porto Rico. They come bearing their banners of freedom inspired by a noble purpose to seek the enemies of our government and of yours, and to destroy or capture all in armed resistance.

"They bring you the fostering arms of a free people, whose greatest power is justice and humanity to all living within their folds. Hence, they release you from your former political relations, and it is hoped you will cheerfully accept the government of the United States.

"The chief object of the American military forces will be to overthrow the armed authority of Spain and give the people of your beautiful island the largest measure of liberty consistent with this military occupation.

"They have not come to make war on the people of the country, who, for centuries, have been oppressed, but, on the contrary, they bring protection not only to yourselves, but to your property, promote your prosperity and bestow the immunities and blessings of our enlightenment and loyal institutions and government.

"This is not a war of devastation and dissolution, but one to give all within the control of the military and naval forces the advantages and blessings of enlightened civilization.

"NELSON A. MILES."

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Gen. Greeley has received information from Col. Allen of his corps, that arrangements have been made to re-open the telegraph office at Ponce, which was closed Monday by the Spaniards. Col. Allen left St. Thomas Friday night with operators and instruments and it is expected that by Saturday night Gen. Miles will be in telegraphic communication with the war department.

Won't Give Up Porto Rico.

LONDON, July 30.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says the Spanish government will combat to the last against a cession of Porto Rico to the United States. It would much rather sacrifice one of the Philippine islands, contending that Porto Rico has always been loyal and outside the scope of the war.

Gen. Merritt Arrives in Manila.

MANILA BAY, July 26, via Hong Kong, July 30.—Gen. Wesley Merritt and the transports and troops under his command arrived at Manila on the morning of July 25. All were well. Gen. Merritt will at once assume command.

Spanish Volunteers Revolt.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., July 23.—News has been received that Spanish volunteers at Ponce, Porto Rico, have revolted and refuse to oppose the advance of the Americans.

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

The Natives and British Subjects Do Not Want the Islands Given Back to Spanish Rule.

LONDON, July 30.—Natives of the Philippine islands and British subjects who have interests there are alarmed by the reports that the peace terms include the return of those islands to Spain. As a result they have held a meeting here, and after consultation with the Philippinas in France and Belgium, have cabled to President McKinley and to Senator Davis, chairman of the foreign relations committee. The message to President McKinley is as follows:

"The Philippinas resident in Europe pray you not to abandon the Philippine islands for the sake of peace with Spain. Our loyalty and trust in the honor of America entitle us to your considerate and kind support. To hand over our country to Spain is contrary to the humanitarian sentiments of your noble nation and the wish of all classes. Civilization, trade and order all will be lost if Spanish authority is re-established in any form."

The message to Senator Davis says:

"A cast iron agreement, binding Spain to form a government satisfactory to the inhabitants is preposterous. To reinin her sovereignty means deception, oppression and bigotry. We placed our rights in your hands and pray you to induce the president and senate not to abandon in the hour of peace a people who, trusting in American honor, fight for their common interests."

CAUSED BY LAMP EXPLOSION.

A Fire in a Cheap Lodging House in San Francisco, Cal.—Five Lives Lost and Five Persons Badly Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A fire broke out shortly after midnight in a three-story frame building at 113 Oregon street caused the loss of five lives and badly burned five persons, one of whom is not expected to survive.

The building was a cheap lodging-house and most of the inmates were longshoremen and people who work along the river front. Being of wood the structure burned like tinder and the victimes were nearly all suffocated. The property loss is not over $2,000. The explosion of an overturned lamp caused the fire.

A DROUGHT IN CALIFORNIA.

One Hundred Thousand Sheep in the Sierra Foot Hills Must Die of Starvation and Thirst.

FRESNO, Cal., July 30.—The dry season has caused great loss to the stockmen on the Sierra foot hills. It is estimated that 175,000 sheep were driven into the forest reservations after the withdrawal of the United States cavalry some time ago. Recently a force of deputy marshals forced the stock owners to remove their cattle and sheep from the reserved land. Some of the herders assert that as there is no grass and little water to be found elsewhere at least 100,000 sheep must perish of starvation and thirst.

Must Not Abandon Aguinaldo.

LONDON, July 30.—The Daily Mail says: "We can not believe that President McKinley will abandon Aguinaldo and the insurgents. It would be the deepest dishonor, besides sowing the seeds of universal war. A joint commission could not arrive at an enduring compromise." In the Daily Mail's opinion an indemnity of from £6,000,000 to £7,000,000 ($30,000,000 to $35,000,000) will be demanded for the loss of the Maine."

Wants the Philippines Retained.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The Merchants' association, at a special meeting, has adopted a resolution petitioning the president to hold and retain the Philippines. Similar action will probably be taken within the next day or two by the chamber of commerce and other local business organizations.

Favors the Annexation of the Philippines.

LONDON, July 30.—The Daily Chronicle is for the annexation of the Philippines and thinks "it will not be an easy task to bring Gen. Merritt and his army back with nothing to show but a coaling station. We are impatient with American modesty in believing the task of governing the Philippines too much for the United States."

A Novelty by No Means Agreeable.

LONDON, July 30.—The Morning Post says:

"The spectacle of a government, after succession of victories, spending days in discussing a reply to a request for terms of peace is a novelty by no means agreeable. The art of seeing how the wind blows is of very little use for directing a ship in a storm."

All Want Peace.

PARIS, July 30.—A dispatch from Madrid says that Gens. Martinez Campos and Azcarraga are in favor of the immediate conclusion of peace. The dispatch further says that Gen. Weyler will not oppose any negotiations in favor of peace.

Chicago Papers Advance Prices.

CHICAGO, July 30.—All the morning papers of this city printed Friday announcement that on and after August 1 the price will be two cents a copy. The increased cost of white paper and the enhanced general expenses due to the war are the reasons for the advance.

First Ohio at Fernandina.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The arrival of the 1st Ohio volunteer regiment at Fernandina from Tampa has been reported to the war department.

WAR CONTINUES

No Suspension Except on Assurance of Spain's Acceptance of Terms.

Preparations at Montauk Point for the Reception of Gen. Shafter's Army Hastened—The Troops Notified of Their Good Fortune.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The progress made in the negotiations for peace has given rise in some quarters to an expectation that hostilities are to be suspended very soon. This will depend entirely upon the attitude of the Spanish government and the nature of its answer to our demands. It has been made clear to the French ambassador that hostilities will not be suspended except upon the acceptance of a full acceptance of our demands, and that he has undoubtedly informed the Spanish cabinet that it depends upon Spain when the war shall cease. Meanwhile as an earnest that our government has not interrupted the execution of its campaigns an order was issued from the war department Sunday for the dispatch of an entire army division to reinforce Gens. Miles and Brooke in Porto Rico. This will be known as the provisional division and will be commanded by Maj. Gen. Wade, at present in command at Camp Thomas, Chickamauga. He is to turn over that command to Maj. Gen. Breckinridge, inspector general of the army, and to report to Secretary Alger in Washington for instructions before departing for Porto Rico, bringing with him his adjutant general and his aides. The provisional division will consist of 15 full regiments and Gen. Wade will select them, not from the troops under his old command alone, but with particular reference to an equitable representation in the Porto Rican campaign of all of the states of the union. Secretary Alger feels that his department has been subjected to some unjust criticism upon the selection of troops for active service and pronounces as without foundation the allegation that politics have dictated these assignments. In the case of the 5th Illinois volunteer regiment, which was withdrawn from the Porto Rican expedition in favor of the Indiana regiment just as the troops were about to board the cars, it has been already explained by authority that the change was made in recognition of the justness of the complaint that Illinois already had two regiments in active service at the front while Indiana had not one. Even in that case, however, Secretary Alger did not make the selection of the regiment to be held back; he simply instructed the general commanding the expedition to select one Illinois regiment for detention without designating it.

Secretary Alger is hastening the preparations at Montauk Point for the reception of the Fifth army corps now at Santiago. Surgeon General Sternberg has just dispatched Col. Forwood of his bureau to the site of the camp with instructions to erect at once a hospital capable of accommodating no less than 500 soldiers.

Gen. Shafter has been authorized by a cablegram from Secretary Alger to notify his soldiers of the good fortune in store for them in order that the men may be cheered up to wait with patience for their removal. This can not be effected immediately, owing to the condition of the men themselves.

A Prize Brought Into Key West.

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 1.—The Spanish two-masted schooner Gibara, loaded with firewood and charcoal, which was captured by the Nashville on July 27, while trying to get into the port of Gibara, on the north Cuban coast, was brought in here Saturday morning by a prize crew.

Baby Drank Acid.

WELLSTON, O., Aug. 1.—The sixteen-months-old daughter of John Aberts, of this city, drank a quantity of carbolic acid and died.

GEN. MERRITT IS IN MANILA.

He Arrived on the 25th and Was Greeted With Cheers From the Ships of Adm. Dewey's Fleet.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The following dispatch has been received at the war department:

HONG KONG, Aug. 1.—To Adjutant General of the United States:

CAVITE, July 25.—Arrived to-day about 12. Health of command good. Remainder of fleet four days in rear. All troops assigned me will probably be needed. MERRITT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The navy department received this dispatch Saturday morning:

CAVITE, July 20.—To Secretary of Navy, Washington: Merritt arrived yesterday on the Newport. The remainder of the expedition is expected within the next few days. DEWEY.

MANILA, July 26, via Hong Kong, Aug. 1.—Gen. Merritt, commander-in-chief of the American troops in the Philippines, arrived yesterday morning on the transport Newport several days ahead of the time expected. He was greeted with cheers from all the ships of Adm. Dewey's fleet. The admiral went aboard the Newport and welcomed Gen. Merritt soon after the ship came to anchor.

Gen. Merritt returned the call and on leaving the flagship Olympia received a gun salute that could be heard easily within the Spanish lines at Manilla.

All were well on the Newport and the voyage was smooth and agreeable. The Newport made excellent time—16½ days from Honolulu and 23½ days from San Francisco. She convoys Gen. Merritt's staff, the Astor mountain batteries, Companies H and K of the 3d United States artillery and a detachment of the signal corps.

Gen. Merritt said he was pleased with the quick trip.

"We made the time from San Francisco," he added, "faster than I thought we should do when we sailed. We were unaware then that Camara's fleet had been recalled, hence we determined to push ahead at full speed and reach Manila first. The other transports left near Honolulu should arrive here in three days more. Everything favored us. Everybody was in good form. My first impressions here are pleasing. I shall lose no time in informing myself on the situation and pressing operations forward. The news of the capture of Santiago and the sinking of Cervera's squadron encouraged us to take Manila."

PHILIPPINE INSURGENTS BURNING VILLAGES NEAR MANILA.

Aguinaldo's band of insurgents are, from recent Hong-Kong dispatches, burning villages in their triumphant progress on their way to Manila. The insurgents are becoming unruly and Dewey has been forced to request Aguinaldo not to be too severe with the Spaniards. Dewey and Aguinaldo are fast friends, although the American admiral cannot countenance the barbaric methods used by his native ally. And more than that, the United States is anxious to take the Philippines in a state of agriculture.

DAMAGED BY A WINDSTORM.

Part of Knobnoster, Mo., Destroyed—Loss About $100,000—Two Men Were Badly Injured.

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 1.—A cyclone destroyed the business portion of Knobnoster, Mo., Friday night. Fields' opera house and Winkler's grocery store were entirely demolished.

The Missouri Pacific depot, two flouring mills, an elevator, greenhouse, the Commercial hotel, St. George hotel, Workman's hardware store, E. S. Hart's seed store and a number of other buildings were wrecked and their contents badly damaged.

The Negro settlement was totally destroyed. Two men were badly injured, but no fatalities have been reported. A number of the best residences in the town were unroofed and several demolished. The loss will be over $100,000.

Typhoid Fever at Camp Alger.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The health of the soldiers at Camp Alger, Va., is so seriously threatened by the fever that the men are almost in a panic. Sixteen deaths from typhoid in six days is the record, and the fever is still spreading rapidly.

Killed by a Train.

CELINA, O., Aug. 1.—John Smith, living a few miles west of Ft. Recovery, was hit by the eastbound passenger train No. 9 on the L. E. & W. and instantly killed Sunday evening.

REPLY TO SPAIN.

The Document Submitted to M. Cambon, French Ambassador, Saturday.

The Government of the Philippines Left Open for the Present, to Be Determined by a Commission to Be Appointed by the Two Countries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The cabinet convened in a special session Saturday to approve formally the answer of the United States to the Spanish note asking peace. Practically all was in readiness for a final vote, the language of the diplomatic note to be communicated to Spain, having been practically settled upon Friday.

It is understood that the question left open as to the Philippines has been settled by leaving the government of the islands to the decision of a joint commission under certain broad conditions to be required of Spain, these conditions being protective of American life.

Still, the general principle underlying the arrangement is understood to be the development of the sober second thought of the American people as to the disposition of the Philippines, unclouded by the clash of war and unaffected by the momentary lust for territorial acquisition. Of course it is understood, with regard to other questions than the Philippines, the situation is as stated Friday:

Absolute cession to the United States of Porto Rico and all the islands in the West Indies save Cuba.

Relinquishment by Spain of sovereignty in Cuba. The United States will exercise control there until a stable government can be established.

Acquisition of coal station in the Ladrone islands and perhaps the Carolines.

No assumption of Spain's Cuban or Porto Rican debts by the United States.

No war indemnity from Spain.

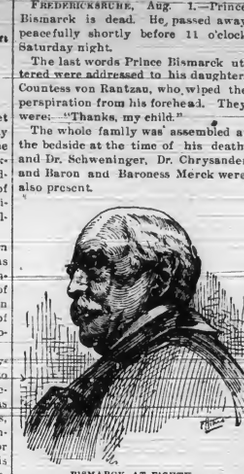
The answer of the United States was submitted to M. Cambon, the French ambassador, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—There were intimations at the state department Saturday that Spain will accept the terms as laid down by the president and that the next move on the part of the Madrid government will be such a notification and a request for the cessation of hostilities. Of course this will be granted if the request for the stopping of the war is coupled with a positive acceptance of our terms.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The persons best informed as to the probabilities declare that the answer of the Spanish government to the terms of peace outlined by the government of the United States is not expected before Tuesday. This opinion is based upon a knowledge of the time when the United States communication was received in Madrid, which was not until an early hour Sunday morning, the time required to decipher it, the necessity for an extended consideration of the matter by the Spanish cabinet and also the necessity for carefully framing the rejoinder. It is not meant by this statement to question in any manner the full plenipotentiary powers of M. Cambon, the French ambassador, in dealing with the subject. On the contrary they are in latitude wider than those usually conferred in such cases. But his position is somewhat similar to that of the president himself, who is obliged to secure the sanction of the United States senate to any treaty of peace that he may prepare, for the ambassador must submit to the Madrid cabinet for its approval any agreement that he may enter into. But in the drafting of such an agreement he is fully authorized to proceed in his discretion and to guard against any possibility of repudiation of his action he has been given the minutest definition of the concessions that will be made by the Spanish government on every point that by any possibility could be expected to arise in the course of the negotiations. It was not known to our government that M. Cambon had such powers when he appeared Saturday afternoon at the white house to receive the American answer, but when once the president was satisfied that he was competent to deal in an authorized manner with our government, the production of his credentials was hailed with satisfaction, as tending to hasten the reaching of an agreement without loss of time and in the most direct manner, for technically the United States is now treating with Spain without the intervention of any third power. It may be said also that M. Cambon is proceeding with straightforwardness towards his object, and that there is no fear of devious diplomacy being introduced into the negotiations.

Perpetual Light Man Arrested.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Aug. 1.—S. B. Nicklin, the alleged inventor of a perpetual light, was arrested by United States Deputy Marshal McRae, of Terre Haute, on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails in selling territory for the sale of his lights. Mr. Nicklin waived preliminary hearing and was released on $500 bond. He maintains that he will yet make his claims good and that he will erect a big factory here. It is alleged that he has secured several thousand dollars by sale of rights.



PRINCE BISMARCK IS DEAD.

The Iron Chancellor of Germany Succumbs to the Grim Destroyer—His Death Was Peaceful.

FREDERICKSRUHE, Aug. 1.—Prince Bismarck is dead. He passed away peacefully shortly before 11 o'clock Saturday night.

The last words Prince Bismarck uttered were addressed to his daughter, Countess von Rantzau, who wiped the perspiration from his forehead. They were: "Thanks, my child."

The whole family was assembled at the bedside at the time of his death, and Dr. Schweninger, Dr. Chrysander and Baron and Baroness Merck were also present.

BISMARCK AT EIGHTY.
[From his latest Berlin photograph.]

BERGEN, Norway, Aug. 1.—The news of the alarming change in the condition of Prince Bismarck reached Emperor William late Saturday evening. When the emperor was informed of the prince's death early Sunday morning he was deeply affected and ordered his yacht to return immediately. The Hohenzollern, with the emperor on board, will reach Kiel Monday evening. The flag on the yacht is flying at half mast.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—A special dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Fridrichsruhe says:

"The death chamber is on the ground floor of the castle. The prince died on an Oilcan bedstead specially for him from wood from Sachonwald. The end was preceded by a severe death struggle and terrible pain. As he lies his head is slightly fallen forward on his breast and the hands are folded on the counterpane. At the foot of the bed stand two watchers.

The city looks hardly different from its wont, except that flags are at half-mast. The first to go to that position Sunday morning was the flag over the chancellerie, which was lowered by the personal order of Prince Von Hohenlohe, the imperial chancellor. Then followed the flags at the foreign office and the various public buildings.

United States Ambassador White at noon Sunday sent the following dispatch to Count Herbert Von Bismarck at Frederichsruhe:

"On behalf of the whole American people, whether official or unofficial, of whatever birth or descent, I tender congratulations upon the mighty career now ended and assurances of the most sincere sympathy for yourself and your mourning family."

The Emperor Francis Joseph has telegraphed condolence to the family and to Emperor William.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The space the morning papers Sunday devote to Prince Bismarck alone is ample testimony that the man of the century has disappeared.

"He was greater than Napoleon," says the Daily Graphic, "for his work endures. He was the greatest personality of his century, the pivot on which everything of importance in the history of Europe has turned."

The obituary in the Times occupies 13 columns.

By direction of the president the following dispatch was sent Sunday night to Hon. Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31, 1898.
WHITE, Ambassador, Berlin:

The president charges you to express in their proper official quarter to the bereaved German nation and to the family of the deceased statesman the sorrow which the government and people of the United States feel at the passing away of the great chancellor whose memory is ever associated with the greatness of the German empire.

(Signed) ADEE, Acting Secretary.

Number of Sick at Santiago.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The following was received from Gen. Shafter Saturday morning:

SANTIAGO, July 29, via BERMUDA, July 30.—To Adjutant General, Washington: Sanitary condition for the 28th: Total sick, 4,274; total fever, 3,406; new cases of fever, 696; cases of fever restored to duty, 300. Died: Private Mitchell McGoldrick, First Infantry, asthma, following malarial fever.

SHAFTER.

Five Persons Drowned.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Five persons attending the picnic of the Chicago Cloak Makers' union at Columbia Park Sunday were drowned in the Desplaines river. Thirteen of the merrymakers were rowing about the river in three boats. In the center of the stream the boats collided and the whole party was soon struggling in the water. Rescuers hurried from the shore, a quarter of a mile distant, but before they could reach the boats five persons had gone down for the last time.

TRUE DEMOCRATS.

The democratic party, when war seemed near at hand,
Advised a speedy conflict with the foe;
Patriotic speeches were made throughout the land
By democrats who volunteered to go
When history is written and the tale of war is told,
And the heroes brave are counted name for name,
As many friends of silver as advocates of gold
You'll find have earned the shoulder straps of fame.

From the brave and fearless Dewey, and the gallant Winfield Schley
To the humblest private fighting in the ranks
Surrounding Santiago or in Manila bay,
The democrats were foremost with the Yanks.
No partisan can deprive them of the glories
they have won,
On their military record we'll stand pat.
As sure as the eastern horizon welcomes the morning sun,
Our next president will be a democrat.

Bivouacing Cuba and the far off Philippines,
Beneath the starry flag of Uncle Sam,
Two armies wrapt in slumber are dreaming peaceful dreams,
Sheltered by the mango and the palm.
When the enemy surrenders, which it soon will have to do,
Within our hearts we'll have some grassy plats,
And welcome home the gallant boys who bravely wore the blue,
And camp them there as silver democrats.

G. B. HUGHES.

BONDS AND THE PEOPLE.

Scheme of the Plutocrats to Hoodwink the People by the Popular Loan.

Naturally enough, there was a feeling of opposition to the popular loan on the part of the trusts and syndicates, but as a rule the expression of disapproval was smothered. It has remained for the New York Times to "give away" the sentiments of the plutocrats under a mistaken idea that the bond issue as a popular loan has proved a failure. The Times says: "It was the theory of the demagogues—and certain very ignorant and baneful newspapers in this city eagerly helped them in their labor—that the workingmen who put up a few hundred dollars would be quick to draw his money out of the savings banks, where he was getting four per cent. interest, in order to invest it at three per cent. in government bonds. The truth is—and the attempt was repeatedly made to get it into the thick heads of the demagogues—that the American wage-earner is and has always been an investor in government bonds. His investments are managed for him without charge by the trustees of his savings bank, and the government bonds have always been a favorite form of investment for him." But the bank trustees did not "manage" the workingman's business for him in the recent issue of bonds. In fact, the workingman showed himself quite capable of managing his own business. As a simple matter of statistics, the result of the bond issue stands as follows:

Total amount of bonds loan.....	$ 200,000,000
Total amount subscribed.....	1,200,000,000
Total amount of money deposited	600,000,000
Highest individual allotment.....	10,000
Lowest individual allotments.....	20
Less than $5,000 subscriptions accepted.....	50,000,000
Less than $500 subscriptions accepted.....	10,000,000

Whenever any means is suggested which has in it any consideration for the rights of the people the plutocrats can be counted on to raise the cry of "demagogism." But in the matter of the war bond issue the people seemed to have secured the best of the bargain.

TAXING INCOMES.

A Just and Reasonable Measure to Swell the Income of the Nation.

That the democratic platform adopted at the state convention of Illinois is worthy of hearty approval on the part of the people needs no argument. Following the silver plank comes a declaration that will appeal to the sense of justice in every heart not hardened by selfish interest. This plank reads as follows: "We demand the adoption of a fair and equitable tax on incomes and an amendment to the constitution of the United States, if necessary, to accomplish this purpose." This is just and reasonable on its face. As the law now stands the burden of taxation is placed on the shoulders of those least able to pay it. The man who has an income of $10,000 a year may be able to avoid taxation entirely, but the man who earns a dollar a day must pay heavy taxation and has no chance to evade such payment. By the vote of one man on the supreme bench it has been declared that an income tax is unconstitutional. Although this is simply the opinion of one man, it is binding so long as it is not reversed, and perhaps the simplest way to reverse it is to secure a constitutional amendment. In the long run justice will be secured, and the democratic party of Illinois is pledged by their platform to aid in its securement, not only in this one case, but in other cases, which will be referred to later on.

——The senate refused to confirm Wimberly for collector of customs at New Orleans because of Wimberly's very bad character. So after the senate has adjourned the president appoints Wimberly ad interim. This is Wimberly's reward for having turned Reed votes over to McKinley in the national convention. It is about as disreputable a proceeding as ever occurred in national politics.—N. Y. World.

——The protectionists who stick for exclusive patronage of home industry overlook the award of the contract to take the captive soldiers home, to foreign ship owners. A Spanish harbor would scarcely be a pleasant place for our American transports, so the job was not begrudged.—Utica Observer.

THE GOLD STANDARD.

It Stands for a Theory That is Fallacious and Without Foundation.

When we speak of value we speak of a subject around which the goldites have cast a halo of superstition, which, in the language of Senator John P. Jones, has contributed more to martyrdom of men than war, pestilence and famine. The gold standard advocates claim that money must have intrinsic value; that gold only has intrinsic value; therefore, gold alone is fit for money. This doctrine has been thought false by a reputable economist. It has been refuted by science and denied by experience. Value in economics is purely a relation, and the idea of value being intrinsic, or independent of anything intrinsic, is an unthinkable absurdity. The value of anything is what we exchange for it. The value of a dollar is so many bushels of wheat or so many barrels of pork, or so many bales of cotton, or so many days of labor, etc. Conversely, the value of a suit of clothes is the number of dollars for which it can be had, the value of a day's labor is so many dollars. Each measures the other. One is the standard of the other. Thus, the value of a dollar depends upon its power to command labor or the products of labor. A dollar that commands two days' labor is twice as valuable as a dollar that commands one day's labor. This is self-evident, and the truth is virtually denied in every argument that is made for the gold standard. This value is absolutely independent of the intrinsic elements which, combined, constitute the substance of the dollar.

It is not the substance but the function given to the substance which makes the dollar valuable. It is because the function imparted to it gives it power to perform certain work that a dollar has value. That is, the value of a dollar depends upon the work which it has to perform. Remembering that the demand for money is equal to the demand for everything else, it is obvious that the amount of work which each dollar will have to do will depend upon the amount of dollers that are secured by law to do this work. To state it in another way, the value of money is determined by the law of supply and demand. Now the word "standard" itself suggests the idea of stability and invariableness. Absolute stability is necessarily an impossibility. The degree of stability depends upon the ratio of stability between the demand for the dollars and the supply of dollars. The most perfect monetary system is that in which the supply of money just equals the demand, for such a system gives stability. If the supply does not keep pace with the demand the result will be an appreciating dollar, the evils of which we will mention when we see how gold performed the function of a standard of deferred payments. When under bimetallism both gold and silver flowed freely into the channels of trade and supplied the demand so that there was a stability in the value of the dollar, a fair level of prices was maintained. Since that time, while the demand for money has been increasing, the supply has been decreasing, because the work formerly done by both the metals has been placed upon one alone, and that one has been entirely inadequate. The annual production of gold is approximately $260,000,000, of this the demand for use in the arts absorbs $120,000,000, leaving for monetary use about $80,000,000. For this insignificant sum all the nations are clamoring. The universal scramble for gold is illustrated by the fact that the annual coinage of gold is greater than the total annual production. This simply means that it is taken as a commodity in the form of coins from one nation to another, where it is coined into the coins of that nation. That such a standard could be stable will not be maintained by anyone that is at all familiar with economic science.

OPINIONS AND POINTERS.

——Mark Hanna's strategic board is not directing war matters. The operations of Mark's board are usually confined to Ohio and Wall street.—St. Louis Republic.

——The last republican executive who fooled with force bill dynamite was Benjamin Harrison. He was not reelected. Not to any considerable extent.—Albany Argus.

——At last accounts the commerce destroyer Nelson Dingley was wallowing in the trough of a heavy sea, with a cyclone blowing and a formidable deficit rapidly coming up on the starboard quarter.—Chicago Chronicle.

——Above all things, individual democrats, whether in congress or out of it, cannot afford to become even the blind assistants of those who, under cover of the war and new issues, are striving to make the single gold standard a permanent fixture in our financial system.—Atlanta Constitution.

——The national sentiment was for war, the national sentiment is for a short and decisive war, and the national sentiment will be for a speedy peace when Spain yields, as yield she must, and that soon. Taxation for conquest and annexation, with the splendors and burdens of imperialism, will not be popular with the masses of the American people.—Louisville Dispatch.

——The fact that American factories and American workmen are idle on the average one-third of each year is an important one. It means, in the first place, uneconomical production, for manufacturers and employes must live from the product made. Constant operation, then, would admit of a material reduction in prices, without loss to either the workers or their employers. The remedy is to be sought in an extension of trade into foreign markets.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Aug., 3, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work,

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS,

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

STATE NEWS.

Typhoid fevsr is epidemic in Barren county.

Judge R. W. Williams, of Christian county is dead. Age, 80.

A Bowling Green chicken thief stole 400 chickens from one person.

Covington real estate men report their business slower than for months.

A rattler five feet and a half long, carrying 18 rattles and a button, was killed near Hanson.

The toll gate raiders are heard from occasionally. Their most recent work was in Shelby county.

Tom Moorssay, of Stanford, and James Isom, of Mercer county, were killed in the battle before Santiago.

Editor Charles Moore, of the Blue Grass Blade, has moved his newspaper office from Cincinnati back to Lexington.

John H. Persons, 14, Jean Davidson, 12, eloped at Cody, and their marriage was witnessed by 300 people at Hindman.

Mary Crady, of Hardin county, aged 39 years, attempted suicide by taking Paris green. There was a man in the case.

The Adams County Defender says it is dollars, and not brains, that secures teachers' certificates in Adams county now-a-days.

A threshing machine boiler exploded in Mason county in the absence of all the hands except one man, who was badly scalded.

On Grapevine Creek, Breathitt county, triplets were recently born to the wives of Ike Combs and Henry Reynolds, both living in the same house.

Wm. Garrison, of Madison county was sent to the jail for cutting his father over the head with a hoe because the old man proposed to marry again.

Three Bath county boys, Mort Mannin, L. Evans and Joseph Kline, were wounded in battle at Santiago; were members of 6th Regular Infantry.

Nathan Carrio, of Boyd county, was sent to the asylum last week. It is thought his insanity was caused by a shell bursting over his head during the rebellion.

Albert Rorth, of Hopkins county, lost his entire wheat crop because his hired man dropped a spark from a pipe while smoking in the shade of the wheat stacks.

Near the Knott county line Fred Jones shot and mortally wounded his cousin, Boyd Jones. They were drinking at a "blind tiger." The murderer made his escape.

Great preparations are being made at Harrodsburg for the State reunion of Mexican veterans, September 20. Col. Ben Lee Hardin will deliver the welcome address.

Hon. M. C. Alford will leave for Wrangle, Alaska, in the near future, where he and other Kentuckians are engaged in laying out a site for a new city that is growing rapidly.

Gov. Bradley has invited 50 prominent Kentuckians to accompany him as members of his staff on the occasion of the dedication of the Kentucky monument at Chickamanga.

It is reported from Irvine that Joe McDowell, defaulting cashier of the defunct Estill County Deposit Bank, has been located, and that he will be brought back for trial if the $560 reward for his capture can now be raised.

John Fuller, of Fleming county, hearing a commotion at night among a flock of goslings, went out to ascertain the cause and found a snake measuring 11 feet 2 inches and weighing 41 pounds, which he shot and killed.

Thefe was a general jail delivery at Edmonton. The jailer was going into the jail to lock the prisoness in their cells for the night. He had scarcely entered the door when he was seized, overpowered and four or five prisoners escaped.

William Kidd, of Jackson county, took his one year-old child to the woods and shot it to death, and returned to his home and sent a bullet through his own brain, in the presence of his wife, who had accused him of being too intimate with another woman.

Elbert Jackson, a young man living near Georgetown met with a bad accident at the depot at Donerail. He fell from a box car and the train ran over him, crushing his left arm in a frightful manner from the hand to the shoulder. It was necessary to amputate the arm at the shoulder.

Col. J. G. Craddock, writing in the Paris Kentuckian-Citizen, says: "The 1812 war and Mexican war rosters, although printed by the State at a cost of $2,500, and sent to every county clerk, have disappeared from most of the offices. Will not our exchanges call attention to this and state it's a heavy fine on clerks to allow them to disappear."

The Northern Bank of Kentucky, located at Lexington, will go into liquidation. It was chartered in 1836, with a capital stock of $1,500,000. There were 17,029 shares, and at the meeting, last week, 11,441 shares were represented. On the motion to go into liquidation there were only five votes in opposition. The action was due to increased taxation.

William T. Campbell, postmaster at Jensenton, Washington county, was arrested, last week, by United States Marshal Short, of Richmond, on a charge of violating pension laws. Campbell, it is alleged, by fraudulent vouchers and affidavits, continued to draw a pension issued to Mrs. Lydia Lanham for nearly a year after her death. Campbell has been a merchant at Jensenton for twenty-six years.

Before the house of Col. J. W. Buck, near this place, floats a flag which is of great interest, not alone for its size (12 by 21 feet) but for its history. This banner was presented to Hon. C. W. Buck at Lima, Peru, by the officers of the old flagship Hartford, on which was Commodore Dewey at the battle of Mobile Bay, with Commodore Farragut. The Hartford was stationed at Callao just after the battle around Lima in 1886.—Midway Clipper.

Mrs. Mela Roberts, of Stevenson, received a letter which she now prizes as a jewel. It was from her nephew, a soldier boy at Chickamauga. The letter was written in a spirit of sadness throughout and closed with a stanza of an old Confederate war song, which Mrs. Roberts used to sing when a girl, Mrs. Roberts was dumb, having lost her speech eight years ago while afflicted with typhoid fever, and had not spoken a word since. She began humming the words of the stanza, and before she knew it she was singing the song with a clear, distinct voice. When she realized that her speech had been restored she shouted on out and rushed into the field, where her husband was at work. There they knelt and gave thanks to God for the blessing they jointly shared.

Aphorisms.

The infinitely little have a pride infinitely great.—Voltaire.

When passion is on the throne reason is out of doors.—M. Henry.

Rashness is the faithful but unhappy parent of misfortune.—Fuller.

He that swells in prosperity will be sure to shrink in adversity.—Cotton.

Poverty is the test of civility and the touchstone of friendship.—Hazlett.

By the strects of "by and by," one arrives at the house of never.—Cervantes.

Enjoy present pleasures in such a way as not to injure future ones.—Seneca.

Quarrels would never last long if the fault was only on one side.—Rochefoucauld.

Punctuallity is the stern virtue of men of business, and the graceful courtesy of princes.—Bulwer.

The injury of prodigality leads to this, that he that will not economize will have to agonize.—Confucius.

Hearts may be attracted by assumed qualities, but the affections are only to be fixed by those which are real.—De Moy.

There is always room for a man of force, and he makes room for many. Society is a troop of thinkers, and the best heads among them take the best places.—Emerson.

In all the affairs of life, social as well as political, courtesies of a small and trivial character are the ones which strikes deepest to the grateful and appreciative heart.—Henry Clay.

FROM GRANT COUNTY.

[Courier.]

Senator R. H. Elliston is putting an Acetyline gas light plant in his store building.

The new hotel building of William H. Moore on Main Street is rapidly nearing completion, and when completed it will be quite an ornament to that end of town.

All of the Williamstown campers have returned from Big Bone, and while many of them do not weigh over 100 pounds more than they did before leaving here, they report the sojourn the finest thing that ever happened—especially is this true of Fred Vallandingham.

Robert Northcutt, of this county, son of J. P. Northcutt, who enlisted in the Sixth United States Cavalry about the time hostilities broke out between the United States and Spain and who was reported badly wounded if not killed in the battle of Santiago, is alive and well.

Leon Latimer, a prominent farmer of the East Williamstown district, died very suddenly at his home in the country last week. He had been sick with typhoid fever for some days, but his death was not expected, and was largely produced by his own exposure after being sick. Only the day before he died, while in a delirium, he got out of his bed and walked out to his tobacco patch. He came back to the house, immediately became worse and died the next day.

Kentucky, Ohio and INDIANA

Will unite with other surrounding States to make the

LAWRENCEBURG FAIR

To be held

August 23 to 27, 1898,

The grandest success ever obtained in that line. Special attractions every day.

CHARIOT RACES

And other daring feats of Horsemanship will be performed by

COOK'S HIPPODROME PEOPLE.

LARGEST PREMIUMS ever thought of are offered for some articles of Domestic Manufacture.

The Most Exciting Races ever given on this track will be this year, from all indications.

If you miss this

FAIR

you will have something to regret for many days to come.

W. H. O'BRIEN, President.
H. L. NOWLIN, Sect'y.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,

DENTIST,

133 Garfield Place,

CINCINNATI,

Has removed his office to

The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th, Bet. Vine and Race.

☞Home City, MONDAYS.

For Mothers!

THE discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genitalorgans, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

EVERETT HELMS

—PROPRIETOR,—

The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,

Petersburg, Ky.

Will be pleased to

CUBA

Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.

BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.

TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts

TAKE DELHI FERRY To The City.

Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1. A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.

NO DELAY.

Order of Reference.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Elizabeth W. Rogers' adm'r. Pltf.
vs
Elizabeth W. Rogers' heirs, devisees, &c., Dfts.

This cause is now referred to J. W. Duncan, Master Commissioner of the Boone Circuit Court, under sections 430 and 431, Civil Code of Practice, with the following instructions, to-wit:

1. He will audit and settle the accounts of the administrator.

2. He will ascertain and report the amount of indebtedness found against decedents estate and how secured if at all.

3. He will report what real estate the decedent owned at the time of her death, where situated, how encumbered if at all, and its probable value.

4. He will give due notice of the time and place of his sittings and report all of his acts hereunder at the next term of said court.

Witness my hand as clerk of said court, this July 13th, 1898.

J. W. DUNCAN, Clerk B. C. C.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he will begin his sittings on the 26th day of July, 1898, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington, Ky., to hear proof in the above styled cause, and will adjourn from day to day (Sunday excepted) to the 1st day of August, 1898. All persons having claims against said estate will present them to me properly proven according to law.

J. W. DUNCAN, Master Com.

RUPTURE

You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have in our long experience in Fitting Trusses, reduced it to a science. Many Ruptures are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance: one of your family is very ill. You go to your physician, and say: so and so is ill, and what would you recommend? The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.

OHIO TRUSS CO.,

20 and 22 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NOTICE.

I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first-class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.

JOHN WALSH,
Normansville, Ky.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—B. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Adkin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. B. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:

District No. 1.—Clinton Haines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—B. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Aylor, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Nesbit, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Ryland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Gaily.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Lester.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Du-reller, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Bennett, J. H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Adams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Tipdin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

DENTIST.

Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.

☞OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.

Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.

East Bound.

Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m, 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m

West Bound.

Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m

C. D. BECKAM, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN,

—DRUGGIST,—

Rising Sun, - - Indiana.

Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire INSURANCE COMPANY, OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.

E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS sent FREE. No Atty's fee before patent. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO., Patent Lawyers, WASHINGTON, D.C.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY,

Practies in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention given Collections entrusted to him. mch22-93.

W. E. VEST,

County Surveyor,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying on short notice. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL

LASSING & RIDDELL,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.

VEST & RICE,

Real Estate Agents.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.

☞All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000

—)o(—

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.

(INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY

CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 5,000

Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,

DENTIST,

Walton, Kentucky.

Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.

☞Will be in office at Union every Monday.

Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,

SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,

And all Kinds of

Household Goods,

213 W. Fifth St.
4 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

HARD AND SOFT

COAL,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.

J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1898. NO. 42.

THE following Democrats in the revenue service have been given the grand bounce by Collector Comingore, who says, "a list of gentlemen who have lost their jobs, and will, no doubt, be awfully thankful to their Democratic friends in Frankfort, and there are more to follow in their footsteps before many moons:"

Storekeeper-Gaugers—Andrew Ellis, J. R. Ellis, W. A. Long, J. W. Talliaferro, Henry Priesthoff.

Gaugers—Fred Fisher, M. T. Murray, W. A. Hume. J. F. Hogan, B. Nortman.

Storekeepers—T. J. Kelley, H. Rackers, J. E. Wallace, J. C. Wicklife, H. T. Hengehold, J. H. Arlinghaus, B. T. Robertson, A. P. Sandford.

It appears that the civil service law has not made Mr. Comingore as powerless as a child, as he has been claiming to some of the faithful who have been seeking appointments at his hands.

THE Indiana Republican State convention held at Indianapolis, last week, approved the annexation of Hawaii, but handled the question of extension of territory as to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines with gloves. The convention did say, though, it favored the establish, ment of coaling stations and naval rendezvous wherever necessary. The Indianapolis convention was expected to sound a more comprehensive key-note than it did on the great question of the day.

NEVER was there an army in as perilous a condition because of sickness as is that of Gen. Shafter at Santiago, Cuba. Thousands of his troops are prostrated with fevers—yellow and typhoid—and it is claimed that the unhealthy season at Santiago has not arrived. If the army remains at its present location, and the fever increase their victims, in a few weeks there will not be enough well soldiers in the camp to do picket duty.

SPAIN'S answer to this country's terms upon which it is willing to grant peace is said to be in the President's hands. It is a lengthy document, and outside belief is it is not a full concession to the demands of Uncle Sam, and that some very ugly complications may yet arise.

AN army of 100,000 men at least will have to be maintained for some time after Spain has come to terms, and a great many think the standing army of the United States will never again be below that number.

IT is said that there are more than sixty thousand armed Carlists in Spain, who are ready to engage in civil war as soon as the signal is sounded. Poor old Spain.

IN the event that a treaty of peace between this country and Spain is agreed upon the President will call an extra session of both Houses of Congress.

IT is estimated that Sampson's resultless bombardments at different points on the coast of Cuba cost this government not less than $2,000,000.

THE law which provides for the raising of a volunteer army also provides that that army shall cease to exist as soon as the war is over.

GEN. MILES and his army were given a reception in Porto Rico very unlike that accorded Gen. Shafter and his troops in Cuba.

DAVID B. HILL has braced up sufficiently to declare that the Democrats will carry New York in the next campaign.

THE yellow fever has accomplished what the Spaniards could not—the driving of Shafter's army out of Cuba.

Old Hengland appears to be getting her navy ready for business.

AGUINALDO wants to know where he is at.

SPAIN will have to come to the terms proposed by Uncle Sam, although a few unimportant changes in the first demand may be made.

IT took a very short time in which to begin moving Gen. Shafter's army from Cuba back to the United States after it was decided to bring the troops home to recuperate. Many a poor fellow will be left behind on account of illness of fever.

THE Boone County Insurance Company has experienced quite a number of losses this year, as it insures only farm buildings. The run that fires have made on the company is demonstrating its ability to meet its losses with the greatest promptness.

AGUINALDO has concluded it is time to ascertain for what he is fighting, and asks this country to inform him whether it is for annexation, protection or independence. He asks questions that have been puzzling Uncle Sam for some time, as he has been undecided how to dispose of the Philippines.

IT became necessary for Secretary Alger to let down a few notches, Teddy Roosevelt, the dashing commander of the famous Rough Riders, and the Secretary performed the disagreeable task in a very neat manner. Teddy was imbued with the false impression that he and his command were the only real, genuine soldiers who participated in the battle at Santiago, and with that false idea beclouding his better judgment, he informed the Secretary that the proper thing to do is to send him and his troop to Porto Rico, where they would be worth about ten times as much in the campaign as the same number of other troops. The Secretary informed Teddy that there are others, and now the nerves of Teddy are not so steddy.

IT will not be many moons now until the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky will be on. The indications are that the fight will be between Senator Goebel and Gen. P. Watt Hardin, although it is predicted that ex-Governor John Young Brown will announce as a candidate when the proper time comes, in which event matters will be the more complicated. Senator Goebel appears to have the advantage over all who may desire the nomination in as much as he has an organization that reaches to every part of the State, and which to break down will require hard work and all sorts of combinations. Goebel's prospects for success are the more flattering because his career as a member of the Kentucky Legislature has enlisted as his friends men throughout the State who manipulate conventions and make nominations. The candidate who wins the nomination will have to defeat Goebel.

THE War Department at Washington is very indignant because the facts as to the terrible sanitary condition of Gen. Shafter's army have become known to the public, and have resulted in some fierce criticism of the inefficient management that precipitated the harrowing state of affairs in the American ranks at Santiago. Some of those in authority at Washington labor under the impression that they are the whole thing, and that they alone and not the American people are entitled to information touching the condition of the brave boys who not only faced the Spanish missiles of destruction, but are now being harrassed by that more terrible foe, yellow fever. The public was kept in the dark as to the real facts as long as possible, but when the distress that envelops Shafter's army at last came known, the public demand for its relief compelled immediate action to be taken, and to public opinion more than anything else are the Santiago troops indebted for the succor they are at last receiving.

WAR NOTES.

The residents of San Juan still have hopes that Spain will agree to peace.

A local paper expresses some surprise at the size of the army the Americans are sending to Porto Rico.

It is thought by some officials at Washington that the volunteer army will not be disbanded for a year.

The question of United States military control of Cuba during and after the evacuation of the Spanish forces is still a grave problem.

The American troops under Gen. Stone were given a hearty welcome to Adjuntas. The members of the Fire Department there have been armed by the Americans, and are now acting as local police force.

It is roughly estimated that at least 30,000 troops will be needed for garrison duty in Cuba, besides those that must be sent to Porto Rico, while developments may call for a large force in the Philippines.

Is Shafter to be made the scapegoat for the derelictions of somebody else? The news from Washington indicates as much, although it is very difficult to tell just which reports are true and which are not.

Cubans bring a report to Santiago that the Spanish commander at Manzanillo has written a letter offering to surrender the town to Gen. Garcia if the latter will allow the Spaniards to march out of town with their arms.

It is believed that several more notes will be exchanged before an agreement is reached, but little doubt is felt at Washington that Spain is prepared to accept whatever the United States may impose as the terms of peace.

Spain insists that her soldiers should leave both Cuba and Porto Rico with all the honors of war and that the evacuation is not to be considered in the light of a surrender. It is also argued that Spain should be allowed to take back to Spain all of her military property.

Refugees from Cuba report great suffering all over Cuba, owing to the effectiveness of the American blockade. In many places food can not be bought at any price. From ten to twenty people are found dead of starvation on the streets of Havana every day. The reconcentrados are dying by hundreds.

The whirligig of time brings some changes. The Gen. Wheeler now under command of Gen. Shafter, captured the latter in Tennessee during the civil war and landed him in Libby prison at Richmond. Now the captured and the captor fight together and with the same purpose as valiantly as they fought each other 30-odd years ago.

MR. REED does not appear anxious to give anyone credit for efficient management of the war. In his speech accepting a renomination for Congress, a few days since, he said: "The war is taking care of itself." Mr. Reed intended to embody a great deal in that short sentence, and it will be so understood by several eminent gentlemen at Washington who have been doing all in their power to take care of the war. It is intended, by the gentleman from the pine tree State, as a knock-out sentence.

STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS, JR., son of the late Stephen A. Douglas, once a candidate for the Presidency, has declared his allegiance to the Democratic party in the future. He is a citizen of Chicago, and was, until last week, a leading Republican, having spent all his political efforts for that party. He says he is thoroughly disgusted with the principles of the Republican party, local, State and national.

THE Boone-Kenton Banner, published by the Globe printing Co., made its bow at Erlanger, last Wednesday. It is a neat, well gotten up paper, and gives evidence of newspaper ability on the part of its publishers, the first number being well filled with local news.

FROM the pressure that is being brought to bear from all parts of the district, on Capt. W. H. Baker to become a candidate for Congress, it looks like he will have to yield to the people's call and enter the race.

POLITICAL.

The Republicans of the Tenth district have nominated W. J. Deitz for Congress.

G. W. Reeves, of Ballard county, has accepted the Populists nomination for Congress in the First district.

Oscar Turner wants to be the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Louisville district. There are others.

Alf Davis, chairman of the Republican county and city committee, has been charged by [illegible] members with conduct unbecoming a gentleman.—Louisville [illegible]

The Republicans of the Fourth District nominated Charles Blanford for Congress. The convention recommended the modification of the civil service law or its repeal entirely.

Mr. Wood G. Dunlap, of Lexington, has concluded to offer himself as a sacrifice on the Congressional altar. What Mr. Settle will do to him on the stump and at the polls will be more than sufficient.—Georgetown Times.

It is said that a strong pressure is being brought to bear on Hon. John W. Yerkes, to induce him to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. It is said that he is favored by both the Bradley and McKinley elements.

FROM GRANT COUNTY.

[Courier.]

Work began on the new county Infirmary Monday.

There is not a vacant residence, business building or store room in Williamstown of any kind.

The Crittenden Baptist Association will be held at the Knoxville Baptist church on next Wednesday and Thursday, August 10th & 11th.

The Teachers' Institute for Grant county will begin Monday, August 15, at the chapel of the Williamstown Graded Free School, and continue five days.

J. H. Wade who shot and killed young Peppler, at Mt. Zion, last fall was arrested and brought to Williamstown and lodged in jail last Saturday morning.

It has rained every day in Williamstown for the last ten days, and the way tobacco, corn and garden truck is growing is "a caution" to see. We have the promise of one of the finest crops of corn and tobacco ever raised in this immediate vicinity.

Clark Littell, son of the late William Littell, was thrown under a horse last Thursday morning and sustained several painful and dangerous injuries. His leg was broken, his cheek badly bruised, and he sustained several minor hurts.

Sam McClure, of near Zion Station, an aged and respected citizen of Grant county, was adjudged a lunatic in the county court last Friday. He is 65 years of age and a farmer and has a wife and children. The doctors pronounced his malady incurable.

J. W. Maddux, assisted by Mrs. Maddux as song leader, held a meeting of seventeen days duration at Antioch church, this county, preaching twice a day except Saturday. The meeting closed on Wednesday night, July 27th, with five accessions to the church. The church was otherwise strengthened and built up.

IRONICAL IF'S.

If you bet $13 and lose, it's unlucky.

If your harvest is a failure, remember you selected the seed.

If you would obtain information from a woman, pretend indifference.

If a man's too poor to lend his friends money, he will retain them longer.

If a man make a fool of himself twice in the same way his case is hopeless.

If a word to the wise is sufficient, most wives must consider their husbands fools.

If men had the gift of second sight there would be fewer cases of love at first sight.

If a man doesn't lie after returning from a fishing trip his word is as good as his bond.

If some men were to accuse themselves of being liars, lots of their acquaintances would not believe them.—Chicago News.

To L. B. Douglas and J. E. Weaver:—The top of a wagon wheel moves faster than the bottom when the wagon is on the move.

Pith of the Press.

General Miles knows better than to land at the end of a telegraph cable.—Chicago Dispatch.

Sampson seems to have fastened the laurels on Schley's brow with a belaying pin.—Pittsburg Post.

Captain Bob Evans seems to have been too busy to be pious in anything but work.—Chicago Record.

Maybe Aguinaldo really meant to say that he intends to be Assistant Dictator to Dewey.—Washington Star.

It looks much as though Dewey would have to lick Aguinaldo to keep him in his proper place.—N. Y. Press.

Out of the incident the effort to wrong Schley having failed, we still believe that good will come.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Congressman Grosvenor is spending the summer in England, an island that he is said to be in favor of annexing.—Minneapolis Journal.

If the President can now make peace as successfully as he has made war he will receive the plaudits of the world.—Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette.

Isn't it about time for Mark Hanna to take the floor and square his former account by shouting, "There will be no peace?"—Chicago Dispatch.

The difference between Aguinaldo and Jernegan's victims is that the former has a whistle of gold and the latter may whistle for it.—Boston Herald.

In referring so slightingly to Schley Sampson took the best possible course to advertise to the world that he himself was not in the fight.—Baltimore American.

After all, John Wanamaker may come to the conclusion that a juicy and luscious army contract beats Gubernatorial nominations all hollow.—Washington Post.

The case of Aguinaldo might be turned over to Bob Fitzsimmons. Bob has been quite successful in treating the enlarged pompadour head.—Washington Post.

In making peace Mr. McKinley should include a bouquet for the poor Queen Regent, who is the one noble and pathetic figure in Spain—and she is not a Spaniard.

Sagasta says he didn't tell Toral to surrender, and Blanco claims he didn't. Why doesn't Shafter speak up like a man now and admit that he did it?—Chicago Times-Herald.

It would doubtless have been better for Sampson's fame had he been more lavish in his praise of the splendid leadership of Schley in the memorable battle.—Baltimore Herald.

Major General Merritt was sent with a large force of troops to capture the Philippines and take command of them. He did not go to give them back to Spain.—N. Y. Sun.

General Garcia undoubtedly acted as a guide board in the Santiago campaign, but this should not entitle him to all the credit for the capture.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Senator Davis has been called a Jingo, but he stands for that type of American jingoism which is safe and sound, and which is inspired by hard, common sense.—Washington Post.

Spain offered a reward of $25,000 some time ago for Aguinaldo's head. From the recent actions of that young person the price seems to have had the effect of swelling it.—N. Y. Press.

A Denver tot closed her prayer with "God bless papa and mamma and Dewey and Shafter and Schley and Sampson and Teddy's Terrors, and I wouldn't be very hard on poor Admiral Cervera, if I were you."—Denver Post.

Commodore Schley has been singularly happy in his utterances, but they cannot be attributed to a mere knack of saying things. They spring from generous and noble impulses. They bespeak the man.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

NOTICE.—W. W. Botts, guardian for the children of Robert Allen, deceased, will be in Walton on the 18th and 19th inst., for the purpose of renting out their property.

Plenty of rain now.

CROP AND STOCK.

Scott county has more grass than cattle.

Uncle Sam's war mules and horses have cost him $3,000,000.

Pink eye threatens to become an epidemic at Lexington among horses.

Bath county has a magnificent crop of corn. Tobacco is also very fine there.

Judge B. F. Day, of Mt. Sterling, has bought 6,000 acres of timber land in Menifee county at $3 50 per acre.

A strange bug is destroying the cabbage in Fayette county. The bug is oblong in shape and has red spots on its back.

The Harrodsburg Democrat predicts that hay will be cheap in that county, as there is an immense crop and fewer horses and cattle to consume it.

Mrs. Fister, of Fayette county, raised 300 bushels of onions to the acre and sold them at 50 cents per bushel, realizing $450 on three acres of ground.

Mr. Roger Early sold 200 acres of unimproved land adjoining his home place on the pike from Versailles to Midway, in Woodford, to Mr. Camden, for $105 per acre.

Although the corn crop promises to be a splendid one the acreage is not an average one, and the probability is that corn will bear a good price this fall.—Georgetown Times.

The wheat yield of Southern Nebraska was seven bushels to the acre in 1894 and 14½ bushels last year. This year, at the end of the harvest, it is estimated at from 25 to 35 bushels.

It is estimated that the number of cows in the United States used for producing milk from which butter is made reaches 11,000,000, and that the average amount of butter per cow is 125 pounds for one year.

Cattle buyers have been in this section for several days offering 4¾ cents for fat cattle. They succeeded in buying none, as our stock raisers are holding for five cents a pound. From all indications they will get what they ask.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Tobacco is generally very small in most parts of Carroll county, but the elegant rains of the past week have given it new life and started it to growing. A late fall and seasonable rains will make a very fair crop, but an early frost would catch two thirds of it.—News.

Different valuations are given horse manure, as it is made from many different substances. It is estimated that a ton of manure contains about ten pounds of nitrogen, ten pounds of potash and 4 pounds of phosphoric acid, the value of which is about two dollars.

Cabbages will thrive with frequent cultivation: in fact, they may be cultivated every day with advantage. The first cultivation should be deep, so as to permit the ground to absorb water from rains, after which the stirring of the top soil for an inch or two will answer.

Horn flies do considerable damage to cattle in some sections. The superintendent of the Ontario experiment station gives the following as a remedy, not only for horn fly, but for exterminating vermin: Mix thoroughly four teaspoonfuls of carbolic acid and one gallon of fish oil. Apply once a week, rubbing the mixture on with a soft rag.

Stiles McDugal threshed out 3,100 bushels of wheat as the product of 120 acres, an average of 26⅓ bushels to the acre. James Mercer, in the same neighborhood, got 35 bushels to the acre on one field and 25 on another. He raised 2,500 bushels. Rod Warfield also threshed out an excellent crop. He sold his crop about three months ago at 85 cents. He delivered at this figure last week and realized as a profit over the market price something the rise of $200.—Elizabethtown News.

The objection to millet hay for horses is due to the fact that it is seldom cut at the right time and properly cured. There are only two or three days in the growth of millet during which it is just at the right stage to cut for the best hay. It should be cut the very day that the first heads are noticed to commence to turn yellowish from ripening. This is when about half the heads are full grown, but before any of the seed has matured. It should then lie in the swath until fully cured, but no longer.

DISCOURSE ON BRIBERY.

It is a Wicked Monster That Stalks Throughout the Land.

It Boldly Invades Legislative Halls and Even Seeks to Corrupt the Judiciary —The Crime for Which Jesus Incurred Calumny is Still Rampant.

Dr. Talmage's text Sunday was I, Timothy vi., 9: "They that will be rich fall into a temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition."

That is the Niagara Falls over which rush a multitude of souls, namely the determination to have the money anyhow, right or wrong. Tell me how a man gets his money and what he does with it, and I will tell you his character and what will be his destiny in this world and the next. I propose to speak today about the ruinous modes of getting money.

In all our city, state and national elections large sums of money are used in bribery. Politics, from being the science of good government, has often been bedraggled into the synonyn for treacheney and turpitude. A monster sin, plausible, potent, pestiferous, has gone forth to do its dreadful work in all ages. Its two hands are rotten with leprosy. It keeps its right hand hidden in a deep pocket. The left hand is clinched, and with its ichorous knuckle it taps at the door of the courtroom, the legislative hall, the congress and the parliament. The door swings open and the monster enters, and glides through the aisle of the council chamber as softly as a slipper-ed page, and then it takes its right hand from its deep pocket and offers it in salutation to judge or legislator. If that hand be taken, and the palm of the intruder cross the palm of the official, the leprosy crosses from palm to palm in a round blotch, found as a gold eagle, and the virus spreads, and the doom is fixed, and the victim perishes. Let bribery, accursed of God and man, stand up for trial.

The Bible arraigns it again and again. Samuel says of his two sons, who became judges, "They took bribes and perverted judgment." David says of some of his pursuers, "Their right hand is full of judgment." David says of some of his day, "They take a bribe and turn aside the poor in the gate." Eliphaz foreteils the crushing blows of God's indignation, declaring, "Fire shall consume the tabernacle of bribery."

It is no light temptation. The mightiest have fallen under it. Lord Bacon, lord chancellor of England, founder of our modern science, author of "Novum Organum," and a whole library of books, the leading thinker of his century, so precocious that when a little child he was asked by Queen Elizabeth, "How old are you?" he responded, "I am two years younger than your majesty's happy reign," of whose oratory Ben Jonson wrote, "The fear of every man that heard him was less he should make an end;" having an income which you would suppose would put him beyond the temptation of bribery—$26,000 a year, and Twickenham Court, a gift, and princely estates in Hertfordshire—yet under this temptation to bribery falling flat into ruin, and on his confession of taking bribes giving as an excuse that all his predecessors took them; he was fined $300,000, or what corresponds with our $300,000, and imprisoned in London tower.

The black charter in English, Irish, French and American politics is the chapter of bribery. Some of you remember the Pacific Mail subsidies. Most of you remember the awful tragedy of the Credit Mobilier. Under the temptation to bribery Benedict Arnold sold the fort in the Highlands for $31,575. For this sin Gorgey betrayed Hungary, Ahithophel forsook David and Judas kissed Christ. When I see so many of the illustrious going down under this temptation it makes me think of the red dragon spoken of in Revelation, with seven heads and ten horns and seven crowns, drawing a third part of the stars of Heaven down after him.

The lobbies of the legislatures of this country control the country. The land is drunk with bribery! "Oh," says some one, "there's no need of talking against bribery by promise or by dollars, because every man has his price." I do not believe it. Even heathenism and the Dark Ages have furnished specimens of incorruptibility. A cadi of Smyrna had a case brought before him on trial. A man gave him 500 ducats in bribery. The case came on. The briber had many witnesses. The poor man on the other side had no witnesses. At the close of the case the cadi said: "This poor man has no witnesses, he thinks; I shall prodnce in his behalf 500 witnesses against the other side." Then pulling out the bag of ducats from under the ottoman, he dashed it down at the feet of the briber, saying: "I give my decision against you." Epaminondas offered a bribe, said: "I will do this thing if it be right, and if it be wrong, all your goods can not persuade me."

The president of the American congress during the American revolution, Gen. Reed, was offered 10,000 guineas by foreign commissioners if he would betray this country. He replied: "Gentlemen, I am a very poor man, but tell your king he is not rich enough to buy me." But why go so far, when you and I if we move in honorable society, know men and women who by all the forces of earth and hell could not be bribed. They would no more be bribed than you would think of tempting an angel of light to exchange Heaven for the pit. To offer a bribe is villainy, but it is a very poor compliment to the man to whom it is offered.

I have not much faith in those people who go about bragging how much they could get if they would only sell out. Those women who complain that they are very often insulted, need to understand that there is something in their carriage to invite insult. There are men at Albany, and at Harrisburg, and at Washington, who would no more be approached by a bribe than a pirate boat with a few cutlasses would dare to attack a British man-of-war with two banks of guns on each side loaded to the touch-hole. They are incorruptible men, and they are the few men who are to save the city and save the land.

Meanwhile, my advice is, keep out of politics unless you are invulnerable to this style of temptation. Indeed, if even you are naturally strong, you need religious buttressing. Nothing but the grace of God can sustain our public men and make them what we wish. I wish that there might come an old-fashioned revival of religion, that it might break out in congress and the legislatures and bring many of the leading republicans and democrats down on an anxious seat of repentence. That day will come, or something better, for the Bible declares that kings and queens shall become nursing fathers and mothers to the church, and if the greater in authority, then certainly the less.

My charge also to parents is, remember that this evil of bribery often begins in the home circle, and in the nursery. Do not bribe your children. Teach them to do that which is right, and not because of the ten cents or the orange which you will give them. There is a great difference between rewarding virtue and making the profits thereof the impelling motive. That man was honest merely because "honesty is the best policy" is already a moral bankrupt.

My charge is to you, in all departments of life, steer clear of bribery all of you. Every man and woman at some time will be tempted to do wrong for compensation. The bribe may not be offered in money. It may be offered in social position. Let us remember that there is a day coming when the most secret transaction of private life, and of public life, will come up for public reprehension.

We can not bribe death, we can not bribe sickness, we can not bribe the grave. We can not bribe the judgments of that God who thunders against this sin. "Fie!" said Cardinal Beaufort, "fie! Can't death be bribed? Is money nothing? Must I die, and so rich? If the owning of the whole realm would save me, I could get it by policy or by purchase—by money. No, death would not be bribed then. He will not be bribed now. Men of the world often regret that they have to leave their money here when they go away from the world. You can tell from what they say in their last hours that one of their chief sorrows is that they have to leave their money. I break that delusion. I tell that bribetaker that he will take his money with him. God will wrap it up in your shroud or put it in the palm of your hand in resurrection, and there it will lie, not the cool, bright shining gold as it was on the day when you sold your vote and your moral principle, but there it will lie a hot metal, burning and consuming your hand forever. Or if there be enough of it for a chain, then it will fall over the wrist, clanking the fetters of an eternal captivity. The bribe is an everlasting possession. You take it for time, you take it for eternity. Some day in the next world, when you are longing for sympathy, you will feel on your cheek a kiss. Looking up you will find it to be Judas, who took 30 pieces of silver as a bribe, and finished the bargain by putting an infamous kiss on the pure cheek of his Divine Master.

Another wrong use of money is seen in the abuse of trust funds. Nearly every man during the course of his life, on a larger or smaller scale, has the property of others committed to his keeping. He is, so far, a safety deposit; he is an administrator and holds in his hand the interest of the family of a deceased friend. Or he is an attorney, and through his custody goes the payment from debtor to creditor, or he is a collector for a business house, which compensates him for the responsibility; or he is treasurer for a charitable institution, and he holds alms contributed for the suffering; or he is an official of the city or the state or the nation, and taxes and subsidies and supplies are in his keeping.

It is as solemn a trust as God can make it. It is concentrated and multiplied confidences. On that man depends the support of a bereft household, or the morals of dependents, or the right movement of a thousand wheels of social mechanism. A man may do what he will with his own, but he abuses trust funds, in that one act commits theft, falsehood, perjury, and becomes, in all intensity of the word, a miscreant. How many widows and orphans there are with nothing between them and starvation but a sewing machine, or held up out of the vortex of destruction simply by the thread of a needle, red with their own heart's blood, who a little while ago had, by father and husband, left them a competency! What is the matter? The administrators or the executors have sacrificed it—running risks with it that they would not have dared to encounter in their own private affairs.

How often is it that a man will carn a livelihood by the sweat of his brow, and then die, and within a few months all the estate goes into the stock-gambling rapids of Wall street! How often is it that you have known the man to whom trust funds were committed taking them out of the savings bank and from trust companies and administrators, turning old homesteads into hard cash, and then putting the entire estate into the vortex of speculation. Embezzlement is an easy word to pronounce, but it has 10,000 ramifications. There is not a city that has not suffered from the abuse of trust funds. Where is the court house, or the city hall, or the jail, or the post office, or the hospital, that in the building of it has not had a political job? Long before the new court house in New York city was completed it cost over $12,000,000. Five million six hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars for furniture! For plastering and repairs, $2,370,000. For plumbing and gas works, $1,231,817. For awnings, $23,553, the bills for three months coming to the nice little sum of $13,151,198.89. There was not an honest brick, or stone, or lath, or nail, or foot of plumbing, or inch of plastering, or inkstand, or door knob in the whole establishment.

That bad example was followed in many of the cities, which did not steal quite so much because there was not so much to steal. There ought to be a closer inspection, and there ought to be less opportunity for embezzement. Lest a man shall take a five-cent piece that does not belong to him, the conductor on the city horse car must sound his bell at every payment, and we are very cautious about small offenses, but give plenty of opportunities for sinners on a large scale to escape. For a boy who steals a loaf of bread from a corner grocer to keep his mother from starving to death, a prison; but for defrauders who abscond with a half million of dollars, a castle on the Rhine, or, waiting until the offense is forgotten; a castle on the Hudson.

Another remark needs to be made, and it is that people ought not to rush themselves, into business or into positions where the temptation is greater than their character. If there be large sums of money to be handled and the man is not sure of his own integrity, you have no right to run an unseaworthy craft in a hurricane. A man can tell by the sense of weakness or strength in the presence of a bad opportunity whether he is in a safe place. How many parents make an awful mistake when they put their boys in banking houses and stores and shops and factories and places of solemn trust without once discussing whether they can endure the temptation! You give the boy plenty of money, and have no account of it, and make the way down become very easy, and you may put upon him a pressure that he can not stand. There are men who go into position full of temptations, considering only that they are lucrative positions.

An absconder wanted to buy a piece of ground and the owner would not sell it, but the owner finally consented to let it to him until he could raise one crop, and the abbot sowed acorns, a crop of 200 years! And I tell you, young man, that the dishonesties which you plant in your heart and life will seem to be very insignificant, but they will grow up until they will overshadow you with horrible darkness, overshadow all time and all eternity. It will not be a crop for 200 years, but a crop for everlasting ages.

I address many who have trust funds. It is a compliment to you that you have been so entrusted, but I charge you, in the presence of God and the world, be careful; be as careful of the property of others as you are careful of your own. Above all, keep your own private account at the bank separate from your account as trustee of an estate or trustee of an institution. That is the point at which thousands of people make shipwreck. They get the property of others mixed up with their own property, they put it into investment, and away it all goes, and they can not return that which they borrowed. Then comes the explosion, and the money market is shaken, and the press denounces, and the church thunders expulsion.

You have no right to use the property of others except for their advantage, nor without consent, unless they are minors. If with their consent you invest their property as well as you can, and it is all lost, you are not to blame; you did the best you could; but do not come into the delusion which has ruined so many men, of thinking because a thing is in their possession, therefore it is theirs. You have a solemn trust that God has given you.

In any community there may be some who have misappropriated trust funds. Put them back, or, if you have so hopelessly involved them that you can not put them back, confess the whole thing to those whom you have wronged, and you will sleep better nights, and you will have the better chance for your soul. What a sad thing it would be if, after you are dead, your administrator should find out from the account books, or from the lack of vouchers, that you were not only bankrupt in estate, but that you lost your soul!

A blustering young man arrived at a hotel in the west, and he saw a man on the sidewalk whom he supposed to be a laborer, and in a rough way, as no man has a right to address a laborer, said to him, "Carry this trunk upstairs." The man carried the trunk upstairs and came down, and then the young man gave him a quarter of a dollar which was clipped, and instead of being worth 25 cents it was worth only 20 cents. Then the young man gave his card to the laborer and said: "You take this up to Gov. Grimes; I want to see him." "Ah," said the laborer, "I am Gov. Grimes." "Oh," said the young man, "you—I—excuse me." Then the governor said: "I was much impressed by the letter you wrote asking me for a certain office in my gift, and I had made up my mind you should have it; but a young man who will cheat a laborer out of five cents would swindle the government of the state if he got his hands on it. I don't want you. Good morning, sir."

Gov. Hogg, of Texas, who is much interested in dress reform, has just given a party which was attended by something like two hundred of the state capital's best society. Ladies were informed in the invitation that calico dresses would be correct form, and the men were expected to come in similar simple attire. Many society devotees appeared in a la Maud Muller, but the majority came in usual swell costume. The governor wore a $4.50 suit and personally superintended everything. The refreshments include 1,500 watermelons.

THE Hebrews are now in possession of about 60 square miles of Palestine, or one per cent. of the country, and have agricultural establishments at Ekson, Jaffa and in Galilee.

LEFT HIS TRUNK.

The Impecunious Boarder Had a Novel Way of Settling His Bill.

They tell a good story out here about a chap who two days ago awoke to find a note on his dresser from his landlady, saying that if the "board and room money" were not forthcoming at a very early date—day before yesterday to be exact—there would enter the young man's apartment a deputy sheriff with a nice, new writ of attachment to hold his trunk.

The youth read the note, then sat by the window and thought. Shortly he smiled a sweet seraphic smile that at the end resolved itself into a fiendish grin of delight.

He thereupon began to put on three suits of clothes, one over the other. Between the layers of vests he secreted collars and cuffs and hosiery, and in a small hand satchel he stowed away his shirts. He went downstairs and on the front porch he met his landlady. She shot him one of those old-fashioned landlady glances as cold as a winter moon and bowed stiffly.

"If anyone should call on me," said the youth, "will you please say I shall be back in an hour. I am just going down to the bathhouse."

Seeing that her tenant carried a satchel the landlady believed. It was a pretty hot day to wear three suits of clothes, but the young man did it. He went to a friend's room and to the other young man outlined his scheme. He disrobed twice and otherwise unloaded himself of his belongings, and then returned to his home. That night he managed to get his other goods and chattels out of his room and into his friend's, where the latter had provided a big dry goods box for their reception. When he had moved away all he cared to take, the ingenious youth nailed up the box and shipped it to his home out west, by fast freight.

Later that night he pulled his trunk out into the middle of his room and after hammering around it a bit, as if to test its strength, he closed the lid and locked it.

Until morning he slept as peacefully and as sweetly as a baby. About nine o'clock, when he had finished breakfast, the threatened deputy put in an appearance.

"But I can't pay the bill," said the youth.

"Then I'll have to hold your trunk," said the officer. He grabbed the strap handle at one end of the affair and pulled. "Say, you must have put everything you owned in there," he said.

"I did," replied the youth.

"Well, I'll hold it," said the man with the badge, whereupon he sat down on the uncomplaining trunk.

"Say," said the youth, "you stay here while I go out and try to raise the money. You wait and I'll bring it in to you."

He walked direct to the railway station and bought a ticket for his home in Illinois. In less than an hour he was speeding along toward Chicago.

The deputy sheriff, sitting on his trunk, dreamed of other days.

An hour slipped by.

"He's long enough," he muttered.

By and by the landlady came into the room and told the deputy sheriff her troubles. She told him all about the delinquent youth.

Another hour passed according to the alarm clock on the dresser.

It was three o'clock in the afternoon. The landlady had brought him a piece of pie and a cup of coffee at noon.

"Say," he said to himself, finally, "this thing's gone far enough!"

He tried the trunk lid. It was locked. He called for a hammer. The lid was burst open.

The deputy and the landlady peered inside.

The trunk contained nothing.

It was nailed to the floor.—Detroit Free Press.

HOT DAY DAINTIES.

These Delicacies Are Easy to Make and Will Be Found Very Palatable.

Chocolate Flappee.—Put a quart of rich milk into a double boiler, stir into it gradually a pound of grated chocolate. Boil for five minutes, stirring all the time, then pour into an earthen vessel and set on ice. Have tall, very thin glasses for serving it. Half fill them with crushed ice, lay on top the ice two lumps of the finest sugar, then fill the glass with the chocolate to within a quarter of an inch of the brim. Have ready some stiff whipped cream, slightly sweetened. Lay a heaping spoonful on top of each glass, put a candied cherry or dot of fruit jelly in middle of the cream and serve at once, accompanied with wafers.

Wafers.—Rub half a pound of unsalted butter well into one pound of the best flour. Add a very little salt and mix to a stiffish dough with sweet milk. Roll out as thin as possible, lay the sheets on a baking tin and cut in triangles. Bake in a quick oven to a delicate brown. Let cool on the tin and pack away in a paper-lined box when thoroughly cold.

Orange Puree.—Put three lumps of sugar into the bottom of as many broad, flat wine glasses as you have people to serve. Over the sugar put a heaping teaspoonful of crushed ice. For each glass cut a Sicily orange in two crosswise, take out the seeds and scoop the pulp and juice upon the ice and sugar. Last of all add a teaspoonful of cordial or liquor. Wash rose leaves or stemless violets in ice water, drop two or three in each glass and serve.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Despots.

Manhattan—Is Spain an absolute monarchy?

Brooklynite—I judge so. The king is a mere child.—Puck.

AGRICULTURAL HINTS.

MILLIONS ARE WASTED.

Expense of Worthless Repairs Would in Almost Every Instance Build Good Roads.

Some months ago the people of Sacramento county, Cal., voted to issue bonds for road construction purposes; but, owing to a possible defect in the law, the matter is in the courts for adjudication. Not long after, San Mateo county voted on the same question and decisively rejected it. It is said that this result indicates "that the people generally are not willing to bond their credit for the purpose of constructing good roads," and that if improvements are to be made in the highways, some other method of providing means for it must be found.

In an exhaustive address on the subject, Engineer J. K. Price, of the state highway commission, recently considered the matter in detail and showed what could be accomplished if the money that is annually spent in worthless repairs should be devoted to building permanent roads. In this respect, California may be taken as a sample of nearly every state, the same considerations applying to all.

Mr. Price found that every county spends from $30,000 to $50,000 in repairs each year; that for 11 years prior to 1895, the total was $17,959,717.04, or a yearly average of $1,623,701; but, as there are other expenditures not included in these figures, he considers the annual outlay to be $2,000,000, and there are no improvements in the roads to show for it.

If this outlay is continued for 40 years, the amount expended would reach $80,000,000, and this sum would pay for the construction of 16,000 miles of good macadam, costing $5,000 a mile. There are in the state about 44,000 miles of roads, and to macadamize one-quarter of them, or 11,000 miles, would satisfy the commercial needs of the state; hence, within 40 years, not only could this enormous amount of macadam be laid, but enough money be left over to make the necessary repairs. Hard roads constructed in this manner would come slowly, but they would come in time, and it might prove that when the people began to realize what they gained from them, they would find it worth while to issue bonds in order to hasten the improvements.

ROAD AT RIVERSIDE, CAL.

The practice of erecting wooden bridges, culverts and drainways, Mr. Price finds as wasteful as present methods of road repair. On the basis of the expenditures of the last eight years, the outlay for the next 40 years would be $2,847,000, and this for repairs alone, and yet with this sum he says he can "build stone, concrete or sewer-pipe drains and steel bridges where necessary on all the roads in each county named."

To illustrate this, "masonry can be constructed at a cost of from $6 to $8 per cubic yard; concrete for about the same. Sewer-pipe can be laid in place for from 60 cents to $1.75 per lineal foot, according to the bore of the pipe. A three-foot culvert with three-foot walls will contain .63 of a cubic yard per running foot; a four-foot culvert three feet high, .87 of a cubic yard; a five-foot culvert, four feet high, .92 of a cubic yard, without wings; a five-foot culvert, with five-foot side walls, 1.15 cubic yards. Then let a culvert be 24 feet long, five feet high, with a span of five feet; it will cost, at $6 per yard, $165.60, containing 27.6 cubic yards of masonry. The same span placed with lumber cannot be constructed for less than $100, and frequently costs as much as the stone structure. The wooden structure lasts from five to ten years, while the concrete or masonry lasts forever."

The erection of permanent structures will, "in the course of time, close this leak in the road funds of the state. It is a source of expense that, in a period of 20 or 30 years, may be entirely obliterated if the proper course be pursued. This would give you more money to put stone upon your roads. We had better start at the foundation and come up rather than build from the top down to the foundation. And your foundations are not complete without permanent sub-structures."—L. A. W. Bulletin.

A hornet's nest is rather an uncomfortable thing to have around, but the hornet is a hustler as an insect destroyer.

The only way to dry-pick fowls without tearing them is to pick them as soon as killed, while the bodies are yet warm.

ROQUEFORT CHEESE.

A French Delicacy Made from a Mixture of Milk from the Goat and the Sheep.

Many efforts have been made in this country to make an imitation or successful substitute for this favorite French cheese, but they have met with a small degree of success.

None of these American products was of a sort which could not be easily distinguished from the genuine, and, according to cheese experts, the American manufacturers have nearly abandoned hope of being able ever to make a cheese which will take the place of the genuine Roquefort.

Roquefort cheese is made of a mixture of goat and sheep milk. The reputation of this cheese extends back into dim antiquity, and Pliny mentioned it in his writings.

It is made chiefly from the milk of Larzad goats and sheep, and in the records in France it is stated that in the year 1866 250,000 sheep and goats out of a flock of 400,000 gave enough milk for the making of 7,150,000 pounds of cheese.

In the manufacture of Roquefort cheese the sheep and goats are milked in the evening after their return from the pastures and after they have been allowed to rest for an hour or so.

The evening's milk is heated almost to the boiling point and then set aside. In the morning it is skimmed, heated to 98 degrees and mixed with the morning's milk for coagulation. The curd is well kneaded with the hands and pressed in layers into molds with perforated bottoms. A thin layer of moldy bread is put between each layer of curd.

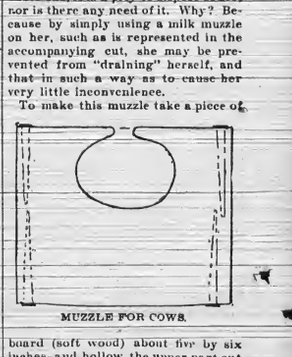
The object of this is to hasten the "ripening" of the cheese by supplying the germs of the green mold peculiar to cheese. The bread used for this purpose is made before the preceding Christmas of about equal parts of summer and winter barley, with considerable sour dough and some vinegar.

When moldy enough it is ground and sifted, moistened with water and kept from the air until wanted in the making of the cheese.

The curd remains in the molds for three or four days, after which the cheeses are wrapped in linen cloth and put to dry. They are allowed to remain in the drying rooms three or four days. Then they are taken to the market in Roquefort, where they are sold to the different makers of Roquefort cheese.

These manufacturers continue the ripening of the cheeses by placing them in the very damp caves which abound in the precipitous walls of the limestone hills surrounding the village. The caves, which are so situated that the currents of air flow from south to north, are considered to yield the best cheese. The currents of air which come from these caves are cold even in the warmest weather.

The cheeses are left in the caves sometimes more than a month, during which time salt and brine is rubbed into them, and they are picked frequently with long needles to let the salt penetrate and also to accelerate the moldering.—N. Y. Weekly.



THE SELF-SUCKING COW.

How to Make a Muzzle That Effects a Cure with Comparatively Little Inconvenience.

Of all nuisances on the farm a self-sucking cow is by far the most despicable. Consequently, the best way to serve such an animal is to dispose of her to the best advantage possible, and the sooner the better, for once this bad habit is acquired it can rarely if ever be cured.

Still, if the cow is an especially valuable one, it is a pity to dispose of her, nor is there any need of it. Why? Because by simply using a milk muzzle on her, such as is represented in the accompanying cut, she may be prevented from "training" herself, and that in such a way as to cause her very little inconvenience.

To make this muzzle take a piece of board (soft wood) about five by six inches, and hollow the upper part out as shown, leaving the opening between the two tongues about half an inch wide. Round off these tongues nicely, so that they will not hurt the cow, for these are the parts that are to be inserted into her nose; then, having driven four wire nails into the wood (indicated by the dotted lines) to prevent splitting, hook one of the tongues into the animal's nostril and work the muzzle edgewise through the space, so that the opposite tongues come into the other nostril like a nose ring. What are the results? Why, in this position the board hangs down in front of the cow's mouth, and, while it does not prevent her eating, and eating freely, the moment she attempts to "bait" where she ought not her efforts are frustrated. Thus it is that many regard this as the most practical way of muzzling a self-sucking cow.—Frederick O. Sibley, in N. Y. Tribune.

MUZZLE FOR COWS.

An exchange says that cows seldom pay for grain fed to them in summer. We don't believe that, as a rule.

Every farmer who has ice will tell you that he would not be without it in summer for a good deal.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

The suicides in Prussia in 1896 included 5,073 men and 1,434 women.

It is estimated that about 250,000,000 bricks are used monthly in the United Kingdom.

Paris has an official rat-catcher who has during the last 35 years caught about half a million of these animals.

It is one of the privileges of Chinese commanding officers that they may only be beaten by the hand of their general.

A Scottish lunatic doctor thinks that bicycle riding may be a cure for insanity. He has tried it with good results on some of his patients.

It is claimed that there is a lighthouse to every 14 miles of coast in England, to every 34 miles in Ireland, and to every 39 miles in Scotland.

The Japanese empire consists of five large islands and innumerable small ones, which extend from tropic to subarctic regions, giving a coast line of over 18,000 miles.

The Japanese are driving European matches out of China. In 1894 China imported 67,200 packets of Japanese matches; in 1895, 132,341 packets, and in 1896, 614,100 packets.

Belgium is the home of the racing pigeon. There the sport is a national pastime, and a good pigeon frequently wins for its owner large sums of money. The prizes being considerable, to which heavy pools are added.

There is no national feeling in China. The different sections of the country hate each other more cordially than they hate foreigners. Such military and naval forces as exist are provincial rather than imperial.

One of the features of the Paris exposition in 1900 is to be a series of panoramas representative of the most famous exhibiton enterprises of the world, ranging from the first French National exhibition in 1798 to the world's fair in Chicago in 1893. The views are being painted by Polltop, the veteran artist.

FIRECRACKER MAKING.

An American Consul in China Describes the Process Employed by the Chinese.

The firecracker so extensively used by Americans in celebrating Independence day is a Chinese invention, and is supposed to have been used in China in prehistoric times as universally as it is now used in the Flowery Kingdom upon nearly all ceremonious occasions. Its original use is supposed to have been to frighten away evil spirits, and in some parts of the Celestial empire it is still regarded as an effective weapon against ghosts and hobgoblins.

The average patriot has little knowledge of how there implements of patriotism are made, the amount of labor expended on them and the cost of the same, and it is only of recent date that anyone outside of China has known the exact methods employed, for the Chinese are secretive about their methods of manufacture.

An American consul in China, who has seen the native manufacturers at work, thus describes the process:

"The straw paper is first rolled by hand around an iron rod, which varies in size according to the size of the cracker to be made. To complete the rolling a rude machine is used. This consists of two uprights supporting an axis, from which is suspended by two arms a heavy piece of wood, slightly convex on the lower side. There is just room between the two swinging block and the top of the table to place the cracker. As each layer of paper is put on by hand, the cracker is placed upon the table and the suspended weight is drawn over the roll, thus tightening it until no more can be passed under the weight. For the smallest 'whip' cracker, the workman uses for compression, instead of this machine, a heavy piece of wood fitted with a handle like that of a carpenter's plane. In filling crackers 200 or 300 are tied together tightly in a bunch. Red clay is spread over the end of the bunch and forced into the end of each cracker with a punch. While the clay is being tamped in a little water is sprayed on it, which makes it pack closer. The powder is poured in at the other end of the cracker. With the aid of an awl the edge of the paper is turned in at the upper end of the cracker, and the fuse is inserted through this."

The ordinary size cracker is one and one-half inches in length and one-fourth of an inch in diameter. In China they can be purchased at a cost of 62 cents for 10,000, although the best quality commands twice this price. This is but little more than the actual cost of manufacture. The straw paper used is of the cheapest grade. The powder is also of cheap and inferior quality, which probably accounts for so many "sizzers" in every pack.

For the fuse and outside wrapper a fine quality of paper is used, but even this is inexpensive.

Most of the firecrackers are made by women and children at their homes, and rapid workers are able to earn from five to seven cents per day. An expert can earn ten cents, while a novice receives only his board for the first four years. The wages paid in this trade are about the same as those paid the common laborer.

Besides being unhealthy the work of making firecrackers is more or less dangerous, yet the hours of labor are from six a. m. to eleven p. m. seven days in the week.

The United States is, of course, the best customer China has in her firecracker trade, although England purchases a small amount. For the year ending June 30, 1897, China exported 26,705,733 pounds of crackers, valued at $1,584,151.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Population of London.

The population of London includes 30,000 Germans, 30,000 French, 15,000 Dutch, 12,000 Poles, 7,500 Italians, 5,000 Swiss.

HIS HEARING DESTROYED.

Lieut. Harrison, of the Oregon, Suffers from Concussion Caused by Firing Big Gun.

Lieut. W. H. Harrison, of Washington, one of the officers of the battleship Oregon when she made the 15,000-mile trip around the Horn, is in the naval hospital in Brooklyn with his hearing almost destroyed.

At the first bombardment of Santiago Lieut. Harrison was in charge of the after 13-inch gun turret on the Oregon. An eight-inch gun was fired directly over his head, and the concussion was so great that the drum of his left ear was broken and his right ear seriously injured. He has a long leave and has made arrangements to undergo a course of treatment with a Manhattan specialist.

"The Oregon," said Lieut. Harrison, "is the bulldog of the American navy. We fellows who were on her in the trip around the Horn had no idea that the whole country thought we might be slaughtered by the Spanish fleet. I tell you she is a wonder, and alone would have given Cervera's fleet a lot of work to do. In the race after the Spanish fleet we began at the tail end and worked up until only the Brooklyn was ahead of us. The Oregon simply went by the Spaniards, peppering every vessel with shells until she got up to the Colon, which was in the lead. In that running battle the Oregon made 16 knots, the record of her trial trip."

PAY OF SOLDIERS WITHHELD.

Gen. Shafter Says It Would Demoralize His Men at Santiago.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Evening Telegram says: "It was the intention of the government to pay the troops at Santiago next week, but, owing to the request of Gen. Shafter, the payment has been indefinitely postponed. A few days ago Secretary Alger called Gen. Shafter to the effect that officers would go on the Resolute with more than $1,000,000. The money was sent to New York, and the paymasters had received their orders to sail.

"Gen. Shafter said the men were in no actual need of money, and, in his opinion, $1,000,000 would produce a most demoralizing effect among the 20,000 men under his command.

"The money has been temporarily deposited in the subtreasury at New York."

WILL CRUISE OFF CUBA.

Mrs. Ames, a Wealthy Woman, Charters a Famous Yacht to Be Near Her Husband.

Mrs. Adelbert Ames, the wealthy wife of Brig. Gen. Ames, now at Santiago, has chartered the famous old cup defender America, which was the property of the late Benjamin F. Butler, and will use the yacht in cruising in Cuban waters.

The America has been thoroughly overhauled and will be ready to leave for the West Indies in four weeks. A desire to be near her husband and two sons, who are now with the United States forces in Cuba, prompted Mrs. Ames to undertake the cruise.

Although nearly 50 years old, the America is said to be staunch and seaworthy. She will be commanded by a capable navigator and will carry a crew of 12 men.

Kaiser Says Spain Should Lose.

The correspondent of a London paper writes the following interesting item: "Spain deserves to lose her empire because she cannot shoot straight," said Emperor William to his British naval guests a few days ago on his royal yacht, the Hohenzollern. Then he added numerous expressions of contempt for her navy and seamen.

Colored Throughout.

Illinois holds the distinction of being the first state in the union to boast of a colored regiment, officers and men. There are and have been many colored regiments, but all of them were commanded by white men. Illinois' colored regiment is composed of colored men and is officered by the same.

THE MARKETS.

	CINCINNATI, Aug. 8.
LIVESTOCK—Cattle, common	$ 3 25	@ $ 3 75
Select butchers	4 10	@ 4 40
CALVES—Fair to good light	6 25	@ 6 75
HOGS—Common	3 25	@ 3 85
Mixed packers	3 85	@ 3 95
Light shippers	3 85	@ 3 95
SHEEP—Choice	3 35	@ 3 85
LAMBS	4 01	@ 6 40
FLOUR—Winter family	2 75	@ 3 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@ 71
No. 3 red		@ 65
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 34½
Oats—No. 2		@ 23½
Rye—No. 2		@ 46
HAY—Prime to choice	8 50	@ 8 75
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@ 9 75
Lard—Prime steam		@ 5 07½
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@ 14
Prime to choice creamery		@ 20½
APPLES—Choice to Fancy	3 00	@ 4 00
POTATOES—New, per bbl	1 75	@ 2 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 65	@ 3 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 75
No. 3 Chicago spring	68	@ 75
CORN—No. 2	33½	@ 33¾
OATS—No. 2		@ 22½
PORK—Mess	8 05	@ 9 00
LARD—Steam	5 37½	@ 5 39
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 70	@ 4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@ 79
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@ 39½
RYE		@ 49
OATS—Mixed	28½	@ 28¾
PORK—New mess	10 00	@10 50
LARD—Western		@ 5 87½
INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@ 61
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 35
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@ 26
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@ 4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 66
Corn—Mixed		@ 34½
Oats—Mixed		@ 27½
PORK—Mess		@10 25
LARD—Steam		@ 5 37½

She Scored That Time.

"What's that?" said the old gentleman as he entered while the eldest daughter was saying things confidentially to her mother.

"Bess was just telling me that the young man that visited the Broketons last summer has written her, and that he sent love and kisses."

"He did, did he? The impudent puppy. Write him and squelch him at once, or you're no daughter of mine. Let him know so there is no possible chance of misunderstanding that you have the utmost resentment for such conduct, and if he ever comes here again I'll kick him out of the house."

"Well, did you attend to that matter, Bess?" asked the old gentleman at breakfast next morning.

"Yes."

"Good. What did you say?"

"I told him distinctly that if he didn't know any better than to send such things in a letter, instead of bringing them in person, I would have to forego the pleasure of his acquaintance."

For the next five minutes the family were terror-stricken under a conviction that the head of the household had burst a blood-vessel.—Stray Stories.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES.

The Tendency of the Age Is Toward Mural Decorations.

Probably at no time in the world's history has as much attention been paid to the interior decoration of homes as at present. No home, no matter how humble, is without its handiwork that helps to beautify the apartments and make the surroundings more cheerful. The taste of the American people has kept pace with the age, and almost every day brings forth something new in the way of a picture, a draping, a piece of furniture or other form of mural decoration. One of the latest of these has been given to the world by the celebrated artist, Muville, in a series of four handsome porcelain game plaques. Not for years has anything as handsome in this line been seen. The subjects represented by these plaques are American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant, American Quail and English Snipe. They are handsome paintings and are especially designed for hanging on dining room walls, though their richness and beauty entitled them to a place in the parlor of any home. These original plaques have been purchased at a cost of $50,000 by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., manufacturers of the celebrated Elastic Starch, and in order to enable their numerous customers to become possessors of these handsome works of art they have had them reproduced by a special process, in all the rich colors and beauty of the original. They are finished on heavy cardboard, pressed and embossed in the shape of a plaque and trimmed with a heavy band of gold. They measure forty inches in circumference and contain no reading matter or advertisement whatever.

Until September 1st Messrs. J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co. propose to distribute these plaques free to their customers. Every purchaser of three ten-cent packages of Elastic Starch, flat-iron brand, manufactured by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., is entitled to receive one of these handsome plaques free from their grocer. Old and new customers alike are entitled to the benefits of this offer. These plaques will not be sent through the mail, the only way to obtain them being from your grocer. Every grocer store in the country has Elastic Starch for sale. It is the oldest and best laundry starch on the market and is the most perfect cold process starch ever invented. It is the only starch made by men who thoroughly understand the laundry business, and the only starch that will not injure the finest fabric. It has been the standard for a quarter of a century and is an evidence of how good it is twenty-two million packages were sold last year. Ask your dealer to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute. Bear in mind that this offer holds good a short time only and should be taken advantage of without delay.

Too True.

"It's a peculiar thing about barbers," mused the philosopher, "that no sooner do they scrape acquaintance with a man than they immediately proceed to cut him."—N. Y. World.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease.

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. At this season your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen and sweating feet, blisters and callousspots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores for 25c. Trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The Englishman Kicked.

New Arrival—How much is the fare from New York to San Francisco?

Ticket Agent—One hundred dollars.

"You bloomin' robber! I can travel clear across England for $20!"—Puck.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Everybody likes to tell sensational news, whether it is good or bad.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

TO MRS. PINKHAM

From Mrs. Walter E. Budd, of Patchogue, New York.

Mrs. Budd, in the following letter, tells a familiar story of weakness and suffering, and thanks Mrs. Pinkham for complete relief:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I think it is my duty to write to you and tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I feel like another woman. I had such dreadful headaches through my temples and on top of my head, that I nearly went crazy; was also troubled with chills, was very weak; my left side from my shoulders to my waist pained me terribly. I could not sleep for the pain. Plasters would help for a while, but as soon as taken off, the pain would be just as bad as ever. Doctors prescribed medicine, but it gave me no relief.

"Now I feel so well and strong, have no more headaches, and no pain in side, and it is all owing to your Compound. I cannot praise it enough. It is a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to every woman I know."

Your Liver

needs coaxing, not crowding. Dr. Ayer's Pills stand without a rival as a reliable medicine for liver complaint. They cure constipation, and they cure its consequences, piles, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, nausea, coated tongue, foul breath, bad taste, palpitation, nervousness, irritability, and many other maladies that have their root in constipation. They are a specific for all diseases of the stomach and bowels, and keep the body in a condition of sound health.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years and consider them an invaluable family medicine. I know of no better remedy for liver troubles, and have always found them a prompt cure for dyspepsia."—James Quinn, 50 Middle Street, Hartford, Conn.

Take Ayer's Pills

1 C
1 00

Remember the name when you buy again

BattleAx PLUG

Use Well Drills

Our WE MAKE all kinds and sizes, for DRILLING WELLS for house, farm, City and Village Water Works, Factories, Ice Plants, Breweries, Irrigation, Coal and Mineral Prospecting, Oil and Gas, etc. LATEST and BEST. 30 YEARS EXPERIENCE. Write us WHAT YOU want.

LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

Remember the name when you buy again

BattleAx PLUG

POPULAR

Cheap Excursion.

NIAGARA FALLS

Tuesday, August 16,

Big Four Route.

$7.00 Round Trip.

From Cincinnati—Tickets good returning five days after date of sale. Elegant trains of Parlor cars, Wagner Sleepers and high back coaches.

Personally conducted by representative of Big Four, who will look after the wants of passengers. This excursion needs no introduction to the public, and the popularity of the Big Four, the natural route to Niagara Falls via Buffalo, is well known.

Full information in pamphlet form can be obtained from any Big Four ticket office.

Remember the name when you buy again

BattleAx PLUG

152

Page Illustrated Catalogue, describing all of the famous

WINCHESTER GUNS AND WINCHESTER AMMUNITION

sent free to any address. Send your name on a postal card to

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO., 180 Winchester Ave., New Haven, Ct.

Remember the name when you buy again

BattleAx PLUG

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try this brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four

GAME PLAQUES

exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Muville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant,
English Quail, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH

has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5 cent packages of Elastic Starch. (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of these beautiful Game Plaques free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

HOMES IN NEBRASKA

If you think of changing your location remember this; Nebraska's soil is rich and easily tilled. No rocks and stumps. All grains and fruits that succeed in other states in same latitude flourish there. The climate is well nigh perfect, the air being dry and free from malaria. An abundance of pure water is found. It is a great state for stock raising and feeding. There is no state in the Union where a hard-working farmer can do so well. Thousands of poor men have become rich in Nebraska. Farms can now be bought on easy terms. Prices are low. A handsome illustrated pamphlet describing Nebraska will be sent free on application to P. S. EUSTIS, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

COLORADO, UTAH AND THE PACIFIC COAST

REACHED IN ELEGANT SERVICE, VIA THE MISSOURI PACIFIC R'Y.

Reduced Rates during the Season. See nearest Agent, or write the General Passenger Agent at St. Louis, for further information.

C. G. WARNER, Vice-President. W. B. DODDRIDGE, General Manager. H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen'l Pass'r and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis.

"A FAIR FACE MAY PROVE A FOUL BARGAIN." MARRY A PLAIN GIRL IF SHE USES

SAPOLIO

READERS OF THIS PAPER DESIRING TO BUY ANYTHING ADVERTISED IN ITS COLUMNS SHOULD INSIST UPON HAVING WHAT THEY ASK FOR, REFUSING ALL SUBSTITUTES OR IMITATIONS.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

The Best BOOK on the WAR Beautifully illustrated (price $1), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland &c.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Aug. 10, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Hume Store.

The Bellevue watermelons have made their appearance here.

The protracted meeting is still in progress at the Christian church.

Gerard Kennedy and mother, of Lexington, are visiting friends here.

The late rains did considerable damage here in the way of destroying fences and crops.

Crops have come out wonderfully since the rains. Tobacco will not make more than half a crop.

Rabbit Hash.

Col. W. H. Nelson is on the sick list.

W. B. Ryle shipped his hogs to Cincinnati, last Tuesday evening.

Miss Brenda Craig will teach the Maple Hill school, commencing the 22d inst.

Miss Blanche Ryle, of Florence, is visiting her uncle and auut, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Stephens.

Rev. Mr. Fosher will lecture on secret orders at the K. of P. hall, uext Sunday evening at 3 o'clock.

Miss Edith Hager entertained several of the young folks at her home, last Saturday evening, with an ice cream supper.

The hum of the threshing machine is heard no more in the neighborhood. The yield of wheat was better than expected, but prices are lower.

Rev. Harris and Dennis have been holding a protracted meeting at the Methodist church here for two weeks. Nine additions up to the present time.

Last Friday evening Miss Mollie Ryle and son, Clifford, started to church in a cart. When near Richard Stephens' the horse seared, whirled around and turned the cart over, breaking Mrs. Ryle's arm near the wrist and bruising her considerably.

North Bend.

Aug 7.—Miss Annie Riley spent last Sunday and Monday with her parents.

Edgar Graves came down last week after watermelons.

Edgar Cropper and wife spent the day at W. P. Cropper's, Friday.

Thomas Whitaker was seen in this neighborhood, one day last week.

Mrs. Lou Morris and son have returned from a visit to relatives near Milldale.

Mr. Eugene Coleman returned to Missouri, last Monday, after a short visit here.

G. M. Riley has ripe grapes, the earliest on the market. He raised them from the seed.

Miss Lacy Kirtley, of Bullittsville, was visiting Miss Bessie Cropper a few days last week.

Mrs. Lou Green and her accomplished daughter, Miss Florence, are visiting Mrs. G. M. Riley.

Mrs. Frankie Davis and daughter, Margaret, who have been visiting Mrs. E. M. Kirtley, returned to their home at Milldale, Monday.

This little place is looming up considerably. We have five grocery wagons come around every two or three days; a steam ferry and don't think it will be long till we will have electric cars opposite here. North Bend will soon be a popular summer resort.

Bellevue.

Aug 8.—Douglas Rice is at home to remain until the first of next month.

Steve Maurer improves slowly.

Mrs. Mike Clore is much better.

Miss Mary Huey is visiting her brother, Frank and wife in Indiana.

Miss Melia Corbin and mother were visiting Mrs. Fannie Snyder, Thursday.

The applications from school teachers, last week, were numerous but none closed contracts.

James Rogers and wife spent the day, last Suuday, with their son, Ai and wife, uear Burlington.

Mrs. A. Lasley and Miss Melia Corbin were visiting Mr. Joel Corbin near Aurora, last Friday.

It seems from the sentiment of many of the voters here that the Tall Poplar will go back to Congress.

Mrs. J. S. Huey returned home, last Saturday, after several days stay with her daughter, Viola Rogers.

Mrs. Sis Conley, wife of our old friend John Conley, of Gallatin county, is visiting relatives here this week.

Archie Acra, of Scattersville, was down, one day last week, trying to convince us that wheat will kill chickens. I'll bet it never will bite.

Mrs. Josie Piatt, after a few days' stay with relatives here, returned to Louisville, accompanied by Mrs. Lucy Huey and children, last Saturday.

Mrs. Belle Gloyd and daughter, Etta, returned to their home at Dillsboro, after six months' stay with relatives and friends. She took the best wishes of her friends with her.

Mrs. Hattie Davis is again with her cousin, D. M. Snyder and family, after a couple of weeks' visit with her cousin, Orlando Snyder and family in the Petersburg neighborhood.

Union.

Miss Gertrude Frazier, of Missouri, is visiting Mrs. John Garrison.

Prof. Cassidy, of Lexington, is conducting the Institute at Walton.

Esq. Byland, of Walton, was hunting insurance in Union, one day last week.

The Misses Sutherland, of Lexington, are the guests of Wm. Sutherland and family.

Mrs. Thomas Brown and daughter, of Newport, have been the guests of Miss Lillie Corbin for two weeks.

The fine rains of late have brought the farming interests of this section out of the kinks. Corn is growing nicely and the grass is booming, water plentiful, &c.

The entertainment at the Grange Hall will take place the evening of August 20th. Admission 10 cents. Refreshments will be served also for 10, and a grand time may be expected. Come everybody and be merry.

The German Medicine Co.'s show left for Beaver Monday morning after two weeks' successful business. Excepting one or two little flurrys in the camp, all was lovely and the goose hung high. The people came out in crowds and were delighted with the performances. The old and young were there and nothing short of a storm kept them away. Of course the old went to take the children.

We heard a leading Boone county educator say the people are losing interest in the schools and that finally the schools would go down to such a deplorable condition that the people would wake up and such another shaking of dry bones would occur that would be a sight to see or words to that effect. We confess to knowing as much of school teaching and schools as a hog does of holidays, but we do know that the schools of a county are the foundation stones aroud which cluster the chances for better citizenship and ou whose solid, firm and healthy condition depends the success of all communities. Why not let the dry bone shaking take place first as last, if it has to be done?

Hathaway.

Aug. 8.—Some tobacco has been topped.

The corn is growing rapidly since the rains.

Watermelon wagous are seen on the roads now.

Mr. Robert Meyers, of Gallatin county, is visiting in this vicinity.

B. H. Stephens made a business trip to the county seat, last Monday.

Tobacco raisers say that there are not many worms on their tobacco.

Mrs. Mary Dix, went to Patriot, Indiana, one day last week, visiting.

Mrs. Florence Smith was the guest of her daughter, Mrs Carrie Rice, one day last week.

Mr. Jasper Johnson, of, Columbus, Indiana, was visiting Clay White, the past week.

Nathau Clements and wife, aud D. H. Ryle were visiting Mrs. Caroline Ryle, Sunday week.

Mrs. Carrie Setters, of the Bellevue neighborhood, was visiting her parents of this place, last Friday.

J. M. Setters, of the Bellevue neighborhood, is operating his threshing machine in this vicinity, this week.

Mrs. John Conley and her daughter, Mrs. Lena Rogers and Miss Carrie Myers, of Gallatin county, with Mr. and Mrs. David Clements, Nathan Clements and his wife, were the pleasant guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Smith, last Friday.

Walton.

Harvey Roberts and family are the guests of his mother.

Luther Terrell, of Union neighborhood, was here during the week.

Mr. Fred Shafer is entertaining his cousin, Geo. and Mrs. Ficke.

Miss Pauline Curley is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Rouse, at Mt. Zion.

Hon. W. W. Dickerson made a professional visit to our town, last Saturday.

Supt. Voshell is here, and there is every indication that the Institute will be a success.

Charles Graham died of typhoid fever on Sunday, after an illness of a few days.

Mrs. C. Y. Dyas, last week, paid a visit to her sister, Mrs. Lee Menifee at Brooksville, Ind.

Miss Julia Adams is on a trip to Beaver Lick, visiting her friends, Etheline Griffith and Eliza Ellis.

At the exhibition on Thursday, some of the gradnates of the Academy and others, will contribute to make it a graud success.

Miss Mattie O'Hara, of Dry Ridge, neice, of the famous soldier Poet, Theodore O'Hara, was a welcome visitor at the S. L. Edwards mansion last week.

Miss Nettie Walsh, sister of our Southern R. R. agent, Mr. Kirby Suow, brother-in-law, and Miss Hattie Schultz, niece, are the guests of Mrs. Thomas Walsh.

Mrs. Grant Tomlin, Misses Lizzie Kipp, Lena Hedges, Myrtle Jones and Effie Lermond attended the Kenton Teachers' Institute at Independence, last week, and were highly delighted as well as edified with the exercises.

Miss Edna Ransler and Miss Lora Diers, will render a duet. Misses Mabel and Lulu Edwards will sing. Miss Mabel Bagby will read an essay as will also Miss Ransler. Miss Lermond, who created a sensation at the Independence Institute, will probably be called on for a courtibution. The people are manifesting great interest in the affair.

There will be a rhetorical entertainment here on Thursday evening in which a noted Professor of Education will instruct and delight our citizens, and little Abbie Murders, the eleven year old Newport girl, will be a living demonstration of what it is possible for a mere child to accomplish. Be sure to attend this exhibition. You will never regret doing so.

Persons in the habit of coming to this town were struck with amazement on seeing the street thoroughly cleaned and swept in front of the Opera House. It looked at first as the council had at last determined to do everything in the way of making the place look decent and respectable. It was learned that the council had nothing to do with it, and it was even hinted that had it been consulted the praisworthy effort might have been discountenanced. It is an object lesson. All over the main portion of the little metropolis it can be repeated. If it were done the beneficial effects in the comfort and health of our citizens would be sensibly felt. All honor to Messrs Kipp, Fink, Gorman, Jones and the Brittenheim Bros., for showing the Town Council the line of their duty. These citizens knew the Boone county Teachers' Institute would be in session in the Opera House this week and they wished to show their respect for the honor conferred on our town by making it look as decent as possible so far as they were concerned.

Constance.

Rev. Geo. W. Watkins baptized seven more converts Thursday.

Rev. McDonald, of Indiana, preached at the Christian church, last Friday and Saturday nights.

Wm. Reeves, son of Clint Reeves, had his knee badly mashed while at work at Addyson pipe foundry.

Chas. Hood has moved to the city, having received an appointment as conductor on the Sedamsville electric cars.

Miss Lizzie Shannon, daughter of Pat Shannon, and James Hopkins, of Avondale, Ohio, were married at St. Edwards Church.

Mr. Chas. Bohaman, the great evangelist, who is holding camp meeting in Bromley, will preach at the Constance Mission after he closes his meeting.

John Heirs, a camper from Cincinnati, nearly cut his foot off with an ax. The wound was dressed by Dr. Murat. It required several stitches to close it.

Erlanger.

T. D. Finnell has gone to Georgetown on a visit.

Miss Josephine Holtmeyer has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Louis Morelli.

The Electric Railway Co., will hold a public meeting at the town hall, Tuesday evening, Aug. 9th.

The board of trustees have engaged T. Menifee as engineer, to establish the grades for streets and sidewalks. C. C. Talbott has resigned as town clerk.

The Junior Christian Endeavor, chaired by Mrs. J. C. Tanner, was to Dry Creek on a fishing excursion last Friday. Lunch was served near a fine spring, and Aunty Jude and Uncle Henry Brooks, both good old colored folks, made coffee for all. The children in return for the kindness received, read verses for the old grey headed darkey, and at the conclusion, sang "God be with you till we meet you again," and left him in tears. The children enjoyed the day in fishing and quite a number were caught. Among those who enjoyed the occasion were Misses Georgia Taylor, May Finnell, Mable McCullum, Bariah See, Heleu Gueruey, Katie and Lizzie Utz, A. Poss, Mattie Tanuer, Mrs. Kate Corbin and her children and L. Chambers.

Pt. Pleasant.

Aug. 8.—Mrs. Jacob Stahl has been very sick the past week.

Mrs. Lydia Scott, of Fairview, is sick at J. W. Riggs'.

Miss Nella Jacoby, of Brooksville, Indiana, is the guest of Mrs. Alice Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Scott, of Fairview, now dash around in a new buggy.

Miss Eva Riggs, of Erlanger, is the guest of relatives in this vicinity.

Miss Laura Gray, of Sheibyville, Indiana, is spending the summer with relatives in this county.

Verona.

Aug. 8.—Tobacco growing rapidly, and some is topped.

Miss Anna Lee Woods, of Lexington, will spend a month visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Mrs. James Woods and daughter, of Maysville, are visiting Frank Callahan and family.

Dr. Daniel Roberts and T. E. Roberts, of Illinois, were called here by the death of Mrs. A. E. Robson.

Mrs. Dr. A. E. Robson, daughter of Boone Roberts, who died in Covington, last Wednesday, was buried at New Bethel cemetery, last Friday morning. Funeral preached by Revs. Adams and Johnson.

J. E. Thomas, of Mead county, will be principal of the school here. Misses Lillie Rouse and Lizzie Roberts will be assistant teachers, provided the trustees can raise sufficient money to employ three teachers. The amount to be raised is $234.

Last Sunday afternoon a shooting scrape took place here on the veranda of Lafe Kennedy's house. Dud Dwyre shot his brother, Thomas, with a shot gun. Thomas turned on Dud with his pistol and fired three shots but missed his aim. Drs. Robson and Menefee were called and pronounced Thomas' wounds not fatal. The shot scattered too much.

Circuit Court.

Judge Greene arrived at 10 o'clock, Monday morning and proceeded to business at once.

The following were called and sworn as grand jurors.

W. W. Grant, J. W. Berkshire, Jno. Fulton, Geo. Gaines, Geo. E. Rouse, J. J. Allphin, Ben Terrill, H. J. Aylor, W. H. Pope, Bruce Roberts, Ben Jarrell, Jas. J. Hind.

J. W. Berkshire was appointed foreman.

John Stevenson, George Wilson and Geo. Miller were excused from serving.

The Judge then gave the jury a comprehensive charge.

The jury's attention was called, briefly, to the duties of the overseers of roads. Horse racing on the highways, selling liquors without license, and betting on elections were referred to at length; but when it came to the offense of selling, giving or furnishing liquor to a minor, the court made a strong appeal to the jurors for a rigid enforcement of the statute denouncing the offense, and drew a vivid word picture of the young, intelligent man on the dowuward beat caused by the use of whisky.

Murder, and manslaughter, falseswearing, manufacturing claims against decedents' estates, collecting illegal tolls, Sabbath breaking, disturbing religious worship, riding over other persons' lands, and numerous other offenses were referred to by the court, and the charge, taken as a whole, was clear and forcible, and one among the best charges delivered to a Boone county grand jury in many a day.

At the close of the charge the Judge admonished the jury to keep as a profound secret, its action in the jury room, for all time to come, explaining fully the necessity for such a course on the part of each juror.

Petit jurors.—

No. 1. Jas. Sullivan, J. L. Clore, W. A. Gaines, Waller Marshall, Thos. Hafer, S. L. Craven, Geo. Darby, Jno. McElroy. Thos. Rouse, Pink Rice, J. S. Lampton, J. H. Quigley.

No. 2. A. P. Giacklin, W. H. Clayton, J. L. Conner, Thos. Rice, Charles Stephens, Jas. Dobbins, J. H. Mitchell, Gaines Robinson, W. B. Green, Harry Blyth, Moses Ryle, J. E. Smith.

Upon the call of the docket Tuesday morning a very large number of both the criminal and civil cases was continued.

Jacob Haberly was tried and adjudged a lunatic, yesterday

PERSONAL MENTION.

Homer Riggs, of Erlanger, was in town, last Saturday.

Joseph Weaver, of the Union precinct, was in town Saturday.

Mrs. T. W. Finch is visiting her father and mother in Williamstown.

Miss Dodie McGarvey, of Cincinnati, is visiting her relatives at this place.

Miss Fannie Finch will teach the Frogtown school this fall and winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ryle, of Erlanger, were visiting in Burlington, one day last week.

Several Burlington ladies attended Burnet-Woods Concert, last Saturday afternoon.

Attorney Dyas, of Walton, made a brief call at the dispensary of justice, last Saturday.

W. T. Riddell and a friend, of Cincinnati, spent Snuday with Judge Riddell and family.

A. O. Hall returned home, last Friday, after a five weeks' visit with his children at Loveland, Ohio.

Miss Ollie Kirkpatrick returned to the city Monday after a weeks' visit with her mother at this place.

W. J. Ryle, of the Waterloo neighborhood, was in town last Thursday. He is not enjoylng good health.

Richard Ryle and wife, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mrs. Ryle's sister, Mrs. Sarah Carpenter, near this place.

B. W. Adams stepped on a rusty nail, one day last week. It pierced his heel but fortunately lamed him but little.

Mr. Lewis Rice, one of the prosperous citizens of the Richwood neighborhood, was in town one day last week.

Will Arnold, of the melon belt, invaded Erlanger with a load of nice home-grown melons, one day last week.

Miss Lillian Nelson, who has been visiting Miss Lottie Hall, returned to her home at Mt. Adams, O., Mouday.

Masters Gordon and Herbert McKim visited Madisou and Hanover, Indiana, friends, last week. They went through by laud on their wheels.

Cashier Raum of the Peoples' National Bauk, Lawreuceburg, Ind., was in town, last Friday, looking after some of the bauk's interest in this county.

A letter recently received from Sam'l Westhay, who lives in Arkansas, says he will visit his old home in September next. He is a brother of the late James Westhay.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Huey, of the Waterloo neighborhood, passed through town Thursday eiroute to the city with their baby, which they were taking to a doctor, seeking relief for curvature of the spine. Dr. Furuish accompanied them from here.

Mr. Hanniford, a Cincinnati architect, came out last Friday and made a drawing of the Court-house with a remodeled roof, to present to the Fiscal Court on Saturday, for its consideration in connection with contemplated repairs on the building.

Several Burlington ladies attended the supper given by the M. E. Church at Florence, last Saturday evening, and they report a fine supper and a delightful time. The illuminatiou of the Baptist church yard, where the supper was given, was grand in the extreme.

Mrs. Major Nye and daughter, and Mrs. Lochridge and little son, of Nevada, spent a couple of days in Burlington, last week. Mrs. Nye, is a daughter of the late Edward S. Armstrong, who at one time was a leading attorney at the Burlington bar, and owned and occupied the place now owned by Jas. L. Clore. Major Nye is now located at Chickamauga, connected with the commissary department. Mrs. Lochridge is a grand-daughter of Edward S. Armstrong. Her husband is First Lieutenant in the U. S. Cavalry, and is in Porto Rico. Mrs. Nye left here 35 years ago and had not been in Burlington since. Mrs. Nye is the only child of lawyer Armstrong now living, and was his youngest child.

The pole fishermen on lower Gunpowder, say there has been no good fishing since early in the spring. The fishing in the river now is better than it has been for a long time.

We Are Going to Have That Bridge.

BELLEVUE, Aug. 6th, 1898.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

Well, the first loud and stingy blast of taxpayer has come, as I kuew it would, and, if I know what I am talking about there will be several more posts on the horn of the "down trodden taxpayer" who is always squalling because he has to lessen his bank account for the benefit of public improvements. We are too niggardly in Kentucky any way; we should imitate our sister States—Ohio and Indiana. We should and probably will place a good iron bridge over every crossing of our larger creeks—what does $100,000 or $150,000 tax amount to in Boone county? Our farmers can pay that and never feel it. Any way we are going to have that bridge. We have been promised it by the Fiscal Court and you can not help yourself. Three of the Magistrates, who are not always hunting that dime, voted for the bridge, and we are going to have it, and much more besides. Aint we, brother Crouch? So smoke that in your pipe. ONE INTERESTED.

There was a shooting scrape in the Verona neighborhood, last Saturday afternoon, said to be the outgrowth of an old grudge between Dudley Dwyer and his brother, Tom, who with his father-in-law, a Mr. Kenuedy, was sitting in the house, when Dud came up within about 60 yards of the open door, and fired his shot gun at them. Most of the load lodged in the door facing, but several shot struck the two men, giving them slight wounds. Tom Dwyer and Mr. Kennedy fired pistols at Dud several times as he ran off but failed to hit him.

STRAYED—Forty of my turkeys have gone astray—38 young and two old ones—with them is one chicken—one of the turkeys is a bronze. I will give $5 for information of their whereabouts.
HARVEY AYLOR, Hebron, Ky.

Mr. J. W. Kennedy, of Union, who is a well informed tobacco man, says what tobacco there is growing in the county bids fair to be of the best quality ever produced in the county.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS
—THE OLD—
RELIABLE - GROCER,
UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds.....$1,00
Arbuckle Coffee per package.....12
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound.....60
Lard, per lb.....08
New Orleans Molasses, gal.....40
Sorghum Molases, per gal.....30
New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs.....1.00
Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal.....30
Headlight Oil, per gal.....10
Side Meat, per lb.....09
Hams, per lb.....11
Fine Family Flour, per bbl.....6.75
Fine Patent Flour, per bbl.....6.25
Fresh Corn Meal, per bus.....65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.
GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.
Undertaking Given Special Attention,
A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.
Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

TWO FOR ONE
By Special Arrangement we offer
HOME AND FARM
In combination with
THE RECORDER
For $1.75.
Being the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send
HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE
HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

Attention, Subscribers!
The RECORDER renews its proposition to do
Free Advertising
for you. If you want to buy or sell any thing you can make your wants known in the FREE COLUMN to the extent of Ten Lines One Week Without Charge.
Get the advertisement to this office not later than Monday at noon. There are very few who will not have occasion to take advantage of this offer occasionally, and the RECORDER will be glad to accomodate all who accept its offer.

NOTICE.
I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first-class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.
JOHN WALSH,
Normausville, Ky.

Removal!
DR. A. P. WALTON,
DENTIST,
133 Garfield Place,
CINCINNATI,
Has removed his office to
The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th, Bet. Vine and Race.
Home City, MONDAYS.
Subscribe for the Recorder.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS OF ROOFING,
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY
WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.
Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.
Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.
Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 18 WALTON, KY

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.
J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give—
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you.
He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.

To Whom It May Concern.
Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.
W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

Local News.

The penitentiaries are Democratic again.

People arrived in town very slowly Monday morning.

The foliage on the trees has begun indicating the approach of fall.

A nice farm in the Verona neighborhood is advertised for sale in this issue.

Tony Bentler's machine has threshed about 8,000 bushels of wheat this season.

This part of the county has been thoroughly billed for the Lawrenceburg Fair.

The luscious watermelon finds in Burlington a good market as far as it goes.

The juveniles have begun counting the days until they are called "to books" again.

The lawyers and officers of the court got a move on them early Monday morning.

Several Cincinnati anti-rooters went down, last Saturday to root for the Beaneaters.

The rain Monday, knocked out the game of ball advertised for the afternoon here.

Rev. G. A. Gray will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Everybody invited.

The Sunday School at this place has accepted the invitation to visit the Lagoon on the 25th inst.

The Hebron Sunday School Celebration will be held at the Harvest Home grounds next Saturday.

They will have both reed and brass music at the Harvest Home, and there will be no charge for dancing.

The rain, Monday kept a good many people from court. It was a gentle, soaking fall of water that did much good.

The Harvest Home privileges were rented to the highest bidders, last Saturday. Total amount realized $48 79.

A Catamount and two or three cubs were killed near the mouth of Tanner's creek below Lawrenceburg a few days ago.

The base ball talent here and hereabouts has arranged for three games at Madison, Indiana, the latter part of this month.

Master Fred Bentler celebrated his 13th birthday last Saturday evening with a party which was attended by a large number of the little folks.

The Harvest Home Association will give you a cordial welcome at its annual exhibition Saturday week. Both reed and brass music. Dancing all day free.

Pastures have been revived very much by the recent rains, while many barrels of corn will be added to each and every field in this part of the country.

Horseback riding is quite a fad with the ladies of the town, and some evenings as many as a dozen of them can be seen enjoying themselves in that manner.

The Odd-Fellows had a splendid meeting at Florence, last Saturday night. Grand Master Gaunt was present and made one of his interesting talks.

A Williamstown melon broker handles Bellevue watermelons. He came down last week with a wagon and bought 160 of James Rogers, and hauled them home.

W. J. Rice had a force of hands opening ditches along some of the roads in his jurisdiction, last week. He will haul and break considerable rock on his roads this fall.

The North Bend Association of Baptists will be held this year, with the Madison Ave., Covington, Baptist church, beginning Sept. 14 and continuing two days.

Mr. Ephraim Aylor's efforts to have an iron bridge built across Middle creek near McVille are bearing fruit. The bridge is being constructed, and will be a reminder of Mr. Aylor's public spirit for many years to come.

NOTICE—Those who subscribed to build the Middle creek bridge are requested to pay their subscription to J. J. Huey or J. W. Kite as soon as possible as the money is needed to pay for the bridge when it comes.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, deutist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

The Baptist Sunday School of the North Bend Association will be held with the Baptist Church at Florence, on Tuesday, August 23d, 1898. All are invited. Each church in the bounds of the Association is urged to have representatives present.

The Rogers Association of Universalists will meet with the church at Milan, Indiana, on Friday before the third Sunday in this month. The delegates to represent the Burlington church are H. P. Crisler, and D. M. Hewitt and daughter, Miss Lizzie.

A postal from Elder Watkins, of the 5th, says: The Point Pleasant church closed a splendid meeting, last night. Good attendance, splendid singing and 33 additions. About 40 added to this church in the past year. Will begin a meeting with the South Fork church August 15.

The greatest fair ever held in Northern Kentucky will be that held this year by the North Kentucky Agricultural Association at its delightful grounds near Florence. The ground privileges for the occasion will be rented on the grounds next Saturday at 1 o'clock p. m.

The rains that have visited the several parts of the county the last few weeks have been of great benefit to the corn and tobacco crops, and many of the farmers who had despaired of having as much as half a crop of corn are in much better spirits as regards that crop. Owing to the very poor stand, tobacco can not make half a crop.

One of the quickest trips on record from Anderson's ferry to Burlington via Hebron, a distance of nine miles was that made by W. C. Brown, Edwin Gaines and James A. Duncan, last Friday evening, with Mr. Brown's double team of bays which covered the distance in 42 minutes in a square trot, the long river hill proving no obstacle to the team.

In regard to the two horses and the double-tree problem, the following street opinions have been handed in: Oscar Gaines, J. A. Duncan and W. T. Smith say that the hindmost horse is drawing most of the load. Sid Gaines, and J. L. Clore say the front horse is pulling the most. Dr. Smith, M. T. Garnett and F. Riddell say that the two horses pull equally.

The changes to be made in the Courthouse roof and cupalo consist in carrying the present roof at the sides and ends of the deck to a comb, the present cupalo to be replaced by a smaller one. If, after these changes are made, the building looks as well as the draft indicates, its appearance will not be marred in the least, and there is no doubt but what the present defects in the roof will be removed thereby.

One night last week, James Barnes, who lives over on Garrison creek, heard a noise on his door step, and an investigation surprised him by revealing a healthy two or three months old girl baby someone had deposited on the steps for the sole purpose of abaudoning. Mr. Barnes brought the little waif to the County Infirmary where it is being kindly cared for by Superintendent Blyth and wife. It is a heartless parent that can desert its offspring, no matter what the circumstances.

The force of habit causes people to perform many acts mechanically, as was illustrated, one day last week, by a Boone county livestock trader, who stopped at the cistern in front of the court house, and had a cup of water passed up to him, when his right hand involuntarily disappeared in his pocket in search of a nickle with which to pay for the drink. Remember that the RECORDER does not say that Bluffe Adams told it that Uncle Eli Rouse is the person referred to.

Last Monday the county authorities had a large number of the road contractors before county Judge J. S. Brown to show cause why they had not kept their roads in better repair, as many were behind in their work. Nearly all were let go with a reprimand and the payment of the costs. The season has been such that many could not do the work they expected but the county authorities do not propose to take any excuse for any dereliction of the coutract to keep the roads in proper repair as agreed to in the contract.—Warsaw Independent.

Saturday, July 30th, the elegant home of John W. Hogan, was the scene of much mirth and gaiety. At noon a beautiful and bountiful birthday dinner was served in picnic style to about 50 persons, brothers and sisters, children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rouse and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogan. Everybody had a good time. The young folks were entertained with two crokonole tables and a croquet set. Those present were: Mr. William Rouse, who is 90 years old; M. S. Rouse and family, M. G. Rouse and family, O. P. Rouse and family, R. J. Rouse and family, W. T. Hogan and family. Geo. Rice and family, Eli Conrad and family, Chas. Tanner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fossett, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Tanner, Normond Rouse and family, A. W. Smith and family. Next year the birthday celebration will be at M. S. Rouse's, as it has been a custom for a long time for him and Mr. Hogan to take turn about with the celebration.

The large brick and frame residence on the J. C. Hughes homestead, near Beaver was destroyed by fire about 11 o'clock on the night of the 3d inst. C. C. Sleet and wife, Mrs. J. C. Hughes and a hired hand, who were sleeping in the house barely escaped from the building, such headway had the fire gained when it was discovered by the hired man into whose room the flames had nearly burnt their way before he was awakened by them. It is supposed that the fire originated in the wash-house in which the family ironing was done the day preceding, and this theory is sustained by the fact that the wash-house was entirely destroyed when the dwelling was discovered in flames. The residence was a substantial building, and was for many years the home of the late J. C. Hughes previous to his death, since which time it has been occupied by the widow and her daughter. It was finely furnished and the insurance $3,800 on the house and couteuts does not begin to cover the loss. It was insured in the Boone County Company.

Quite a number of persons assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Castleman, last Thursday evening, the occasion being a recital by Mrs. Castleman's music class. The visitors were highly entertained by the following

PROGRAMME:

Instrumental Duett.....Circus Galop, Miss Alma Carpenter and Mrs. Nattie Carpenter.
Trio—Canary Schottisch—Jeunie Blyth, Lottie Hall, Effie Clore.
Vocal Solo—selected — Mrs. Berkshire.
Instrumeutal Duet.....Perl Valses May Clore, Mrs. D. E. Castleman.
Instrumental Solo—My Darling Nellie Gray—Nellie Martin.
Instrumental Duet—Tripping Over the Lawn—Jennie Lee Castleman, Lottie Hall.
Vocal Solo—Sometime Somewhere—Mrs. M. Riddell.
Trio.....Alpenglockechen, Nellie Martin, Jeunie Blyth, Alma Carpenter.
Instrumental Duet.....Il Corricolo Nellie Martin, Jennie Blyth.
Vocal Solo—Please Take Me Where My Mama Is—Bessie Hall.
Instrumental Solo—Corn-Flower Waltz Lottie Hall.
Duet.....La Chasse Iufernal, Miss Carpenter, Mrs. Carpenter.
Home Sweet Home—Alma Carpenter.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard, - - 3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose, - - - - 5 "
Cottonade Pants, - - - - 50 "
Working Shirts, - - - 25 "
We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

The Boone County HARVEST HOME ASSOCIATION

Will give its annual exhibition at their grounds near Limaburg, on the North Bend Road,

Saturday, Aug. 20, 1898.

PREMIUM LIST.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTIONS.
THIS YEAR'S GROWTH.

Best tobacco, six stalks.....$1 00
" rye, one peck..... 1 00
" oats, one peck..... 1 00
" twelve ears white corn..... 1 00
" twelve ears sweet corn..... 1 00
" twelue ears of yellow corn.... 1 00
Best wheat, one peck, twelve quart milk bucket, valued at $1, by F. Schwendemann, Delhi, O.
Best display of grain, $2, by C. T. Davis & Co., Hebron, Ky.

VEGETABLES.

Best peck Irish potatoes, early...$1 00
" peck Irish potatoes, late..... 1 00
" peck sweet potatoes..... 1 00
" peck tomatoes..... 1 00
Pumpkins, best three..... 1 00
Squashes, best three..... 1 00
Cashaws, best three..... 1 00
Watermelons, best three..... 1 00
Nutmegs, best three..... 1 00
Turnips, best peck..... 1 00
Onions, best peck..... 1 00
Green beans, best peck..... 1 00
Soup beans, best half gallon..... 1 00
Cabbage, best three heads..... 1 00
Celery, best six bunches..... 1 00
Carrots, best six..... 1 00
Radishes, best six for table use..... 1 00
Cucumbers, best six..... 1 00
Beets, best six..... 1 00
Best collection of Irish potatoes, $2 tollet set by L. A. Haber, Druggist, Delhi, O.
Best display of vegetables, $5 Child's Suit by H. F. Blase, Clothier, 534 Madisou ave., Covington.

FRUITS.

Best display apples.....$1 00
Best display peaches..... 1 00
Best display plums..... 1 00
Best display pears..... 1 00
Best display quinces..... 1 00
Best display grapes..... 1 00
Best display fruit, $2 Rocker by Jos Deiterman, 527 Madison ave., Covington.

PANTRY AND DAIRY.

Sour pickles, best display.....$2 00
Sweet pickles, best display..... 2 00
Corn bread, light, best loaf..... 1 00
Bread, hop yeast, best loaf..... 1 00
Best pound cake, without icing..... 1 00
Best jelly cake without icing..... 1 00
Best layer cake, without icing..... 1 00
Butter, best two pounds..... 1 00
Peaches, best single can..... 50
Pears, best single can..... 50
Tomatoes, best single can..... 50
Sorghum molasses, best quart..... 50
Maple molasses, best quart..... 50
Apple vinegar, best quart..... 50
Best lady cake without icing $2 Bed Spread by W. R. Scheiher, Ludlow Bazar, Ludlow, Ky.
Best display fruit butter, $2 Easel by Jos. Deiterman, 527 Madison ave., Covington.
Best display preserves, $3 box Lenox Soap by James Spillman, 19 & 21 Pike street Covington.
Best display jellies, $2.50 by J. S. Clutterbuck, Burlington.
Best loaf bread, hop yeast, $6 barrel Jackson's Best Patent Flour by R. Hamilton Grocery Co., 39 Pike street, Covington.
Best loaf bread, salt rising, $2 50 in gold by A. R. Gottschalk, Home City, postoffice, Delhi, O.
Best fruit cake, $3 Copper Boiler by W. A. Meuninger & Co., 712 Madisou ave., Covington.

POULTRY.

Cochins, best pair.....$ .50
Leghorns, best pair..... .50
Wyandotts, best pair..... .50
Langehans, best pair..... .50
Miuorcas, best pair..... .50
Hamburgs, best pair..... .50
Brahmas, best pair..... .50
Game, best pair..... .50
Bantams, best pair..... .50
Geese, best pair..... .50
Ducks, best pair..... .50
Best pair Plymouth Rock, $3 Silk Umbrella by Coppius, 538 Madison ave., Covington.
Best pair Turkeys, $1.50 Riding Bridle by H. H. Thoman, 56 Pike street, Covington.
Best display Poultry, $2 Cockerel by A. M. Acra, breeder of fine Poultry, Burlington, Ky.

FLOWERS.

Fuchas, best display.....$1 00
Cactus, best display..... 1 00
Best hanging basket..... 1 00
Best hand bouquet..... .50
Best button-hoie bouquet..... .50
Best display geraniums, $2 Bread box by Grote Bros., 40 & 42 Pike street, Covington.
Best display in pots, $1 by Ernest Bros., Hebron, Ky.
Best display cut flowers, two nonrustable buckets by Hesselman & Wahle, 9 Pike street, Covington.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS AND PAINTINGS.

Wax flowers, best specimen.....$1 00
Feather flowers, best specimen..... 1 00
Paper flowers, best specimen..... 1 00
Hair flowers, best specimen..... 1 00
Tapestry painting, best specimen.. 1 00
Crayon drawiug, best specimen.... 1 00
Pencil drawiug, best specimen..... 1 00
Oil painting, best specimen..... 1 00

EMBROIDERY & NEEDLE WORK.

Embroidery, best linen.....$1 00
Embroidery, best silk..... 1 00
Embroidery, best cotton..... 1 00
Best Kensington work..... 1 00
" Arasene work..... 1 00
" Crochet work..... 1 00
" Lace work..... 1 00
Art needle work, best specimen... 1 00
Knit lace, best specimen..... 1 00
Drawn thread, best specimen..... 1 00
Rag carpet, best ten yards..... 1 00
Fancy knitting, best spec'n in silk 1 00
Best hand made shirt..... 1 00
Hand sewing, best new work..... 1 00
Woolen knitting, best plain..... 50
Best spec'n pl knitting in cotton .. 50
Woolen knitting, best fancy..... .. 50
Best knit counterpane..... 1 00
" Calico patchwork quilt..... 1 00
" Worsted patchwork quilt pl. 1 00
" Silk patchwork quilt plain... 2 00
" Fancy worsted fau quilt..... 2 00
Best silk patchwork quilt, crazy, $4 pair Gold Glasses by F. Pelper, 616 Madisou ave., Covington.
Best worsted patchwork quilt, crazy, $8 Crystal Washing Machine by J. M. Walker, 340 & 342 Main St., Ciucinnati.
The most popular lady attending the Harvest Home, will be presented with a $10 Oil Painting given by Jos. Deitermau, 527 Madisou ave., Covington.

HOGS.

Best sow with 6 or more suckling pigs.....$5 00
Best pair pigs under 6 mos. of age. 5 00
Best boar and sow, over six mos. and under one year..... 5 00

SHEEP.

Best aged buck, long wool.....$3 00
" aged buck, medium wool.... 3 00
" aged ewe, long wool..... 3 00
" aged ewe, medium wool..... 3 00
Best pair lambs, one year's subscription to daily Kentucky Post, Covington, W. M. Day, Manager.

CATTLE.

Best dairy bull, under 2 years.....$5 00
Best bull, beef-breed, under 2 yrs.. 5 00
Best dairy heifer, under 2 years..... 3 00
Best heifer, beef-breed, under 2 yrs 3 00
Best milch cow..... 5 00
Best Jersey bull, under 1 year..... 5 00
Best Jersey herd, bull and four cows or more owned by one persou, $10.

HORSES.

Best suckling draft colt, regardless of sex.....$5 00
Second best, $2 Riding Bridle by Chas. Mahlmann, 32 Pike St., Covington.
Best suckling harness colt, regardless of sex..... 5 00
Second best, $2.50 Driving Whip by Mayer & Handorf, 75 Pike street, Covington.
Best suckliug colt, general purpose regardless of sex, Leather Couch by Jos. Deitmau, Covington.....10 00
Second best, by John Allison, Undertaker aud Embalmer, Covtou..... 3 00

Dancing All Day, Free.
General Admission, 25 Cents.
Children under 10 years, free.

RUPTURE CURED—See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

DEATHS.

Died—At his home in Dickson, Tennessee, July 27, 1898, of rheumatism and asthma, Rev. W. C. Barnett, aged 74 years and 9 months.

Mr. Barnett was a resideut of this county for teu years, during which period he was pastor of the Lutheran churches in this county. He was a quiet unassuming gentleman, highly esteemed by all who knew him.

After an illness of several weeks Miss Essie McIntosh, aged about 21 years, died of typhoid fever at the home of her father, Harvey McIntosh, on W. T. Smith's near town, at 5 p. m. on the 2d inst. The bereaved father and her brother have the sympathy of the entire community.

Leonard McGlassou, at one time a citizen of Floreuce, this county, died at his home in Mason, Grant county, on the 2d inst., in his 71st year. He was a devoted Mason and Odd-Fellow.

John Greeg, aged about 60, died at Big Bone, of heart failure, last Thursday eveuing.

A Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Roberts, of Verona, desire to express their sincere gratitude to their friends and neighbors for thoughtfulness and tender care in aiding in the preparations for the reception of the remaius of their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Robson, at the home of her childhood, and on the following day in furnishing conveyances to meet her friends from Covington, and conveying them and the family of the deceased to her last resting place, and the many other ways in which they expressed sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

One evening last week several ladies were horsebackriding out on the Florence pike, when they discovered a large fire which they supposed was destroying Chas. Craveu's residence or some other building on his premises. They rode to Mr. Craven's at the top of their horses' speed, and were agreeably surprised when he informed them a burning log-heap had given them their scare.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

DEALER IN

DRY GOODS

Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,

At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,

The Deering Harvesters,

Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,

BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,

UNDER-  EMBAL-

TAKER MER,

Corner Pike & Russell Streets,

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediato relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says: "After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.

—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

AUGUST—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28	29	30	31	....	....	....

CHARLES BRASSO, now in Havana, writes to a friend in New York that the "jack flag" of the Maine is now offered for sale in Havana by a Spaniard, who wants $5,000 for it.

SEVERAL valuable pictures on their way back to France went down in La Bourgogne, the most important of them being "Crossing the Ford," by Jules Dupre, which was worth $15,000, and had been bought by M. Georges Petit, together with the "Zuiderzee," of Cazin, and two canvases by Vibert, the total loss amounting to about $20,000, which was covered by insurance.

A BORING has just been made at Rybintz, in Silesia, in which the earth's crust has been penetrated to the depth of 2,210 yards. This is the greatest depth ever attained so far. The boring was made for scientific purposes. No unusual features, however, presented themselves, except that the thermometer indicated at that depth the pretty high temperature of 159 degrees Fahrenheit.

THE reason why ships are not struck by lightning is attributed by German authorities to the general use which is now made of wire rope for rigging purposes, as well as to the fact that the hulls of ships are usually constructed of iron or steel. Thus the whole ship forms an excellent and continuous conductor by means of which the electricity is lead away into the ocean before it has time to do any serious damage.

IT is estimated that as many as 50,000,000 dozen, or 600,000,000 single clothes pins are manufactured in eastern and western factories every year. The product is superior in workmanship and finish to anything of its kind turned out anywhere in the world, and is shipped largely to all parts of Europe, where it can be sold cheaper than the rough and poorly made home article. Clothes pins are made in this country principally out of beach and maple.

THE countess of Castellane, formerly Miss Anna Gould, is so disgusted with the conventional French marriage, wherein the bride, no matter how humble, must bring a dower to her husband, that she has organized a society for promoting matrimony among the lower classes without any such obligation. She realizes the amount of prejudice and the weight of custom she will have to overcome and is credited with saying that if necessary, in meritorious cases, she will furnish the dowry herself.

DURING the last ten years the rapid growth of the live stock industry, the continually decreasing price of cotton and the more general appreciation of the advantages of diversifying crops have lead to a marked increase in the acreage of corn and a corresponding increase in the importance of this crop in all of the southern states. This increase has not been sudden or irregular, but has come naturally with the gradual and constant change in conditions, and all indications point to a still greater increase in the near future.

THE flag of Cuba, its colors and history that it tells, is in imitation of the flag of the United States. The five white and blue stripes represent the five original provinces of Cuba, just as the 13 white and red stripes of our flag represent the 13 original states. The flag is the creation of Gen. Lopez, who led the Cuban insurrection of 1851, and flung the banner of freedom over Cardenas in that year. Gen. Lopez had for his object annexation of Cuba to the United States after freedom had been won, and for that reason adopted the red, white and blue.

"IT has always been believed that violin, harp and banjo strings were made out of the viscera of the cat," explained a teacher of music, "but I have considerable doubt that there ever was a string so made. The gut of a cat is no more suitable for such use than that of a mouse, and as far as my investigation goes has never been so used. Violin strings are made of many kinds of skins, but principally put of sheep skins. The secret is in curing the skins, which has always been kept in Italy, where all the finer and better grade of strings are made."

HARDLY has a superior armor plate been invented than a new rifle is placed on deck to meet the occasion. British naval experts have produced a six-inch caliber quick-firing rifle which can render service equal to twice that of the old six-inchers. The new gun is wire-bound and weighs only seven tons, which is much less than the weight of the old guns. Projectiles were recently thrown with a velocity of 2,780 feet a second, and with a striking energy of 5,374 foot tons, which is 2,018 foot tons greater energy than that produced by the common gun.

MUCH MISCHIEF WROUGHT.

War Department Worried Over the Effect the Round-Robin Will Have on the Santiago Troops.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The war department is much worried over the situation at Santiago, not from fear of any additional danger from the fever, but from the effect upon the soldiers of the action of the officers in almost creating a panic. The officials state that they have been working for weeks to prevent just what seems to have happened, a stampede among the soldiers, and if the men get disorganized it may cause trouble.

Soldiers could not be rushed pell mell on board the transports, because, if they did the conditions of the Seneca, Concho and other transports which came back with the wounded would be repeated, and again it was not possible to remove all the soldiers at once while the Spanish prisoners were still in Cuba.

Over two weeks ago a lease was made for the camp at Montauk Point, and two weeks ago work was begun on hospitals at that place. The war department notified Gen. Shafter fully two weeks ago to get ready to move his troops and only gave orders to send them to the mountains pending their removal altogether. Orders were under way to experiment by sending parts of cavalry home on the Louisiana, as it was thought advisable not to transport the entire army until it was found that the Louisiana made a successful trip. There was no intention to keep the army at Santiago de Cuba during August, and transports were ordered to leave that place just as soon as possible after the Louisiana had made her trip. The action of the officers in sending the round robin, the officials of the war department here claim, has stampeded the soldiers and destroyed to some extent discipline and order, which is necessary in the army. However, the officials at the war department are now straining every effort to hasten the return of Gen. Shafter's troops, and they will be removed as soon as they possibly can be. It will be impossible to remove all of them as long as the Spaniards remain there, but as soon as the regiments of immunes arrive they will take the places of the regiments on duty and these will be sent home as soon as transportation can bring them.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 6.—The embarkation of Shafter's troops for the United States began Friday. Gen. Shafter's orders for the movement of this command provide for the following programme: Embarkation of 3d and 6th regular cavalry, then the 1st regular cavalry and the 1st volunteer cavalry (rough riders) will be embarked. These have been ordered to be ready to go on board ship Sunday. For the present the 9th and 10th cavalry will remain in camp. Only private horses of the officers will be taken. Other horses will be turned over to Gen. Wood, who will designate an officer to receive them. Gen. Wood will remain here as military governor. All the tents will be left standing, and all extra worn clothing and bedding, which may possibly be infected, will be destroyed.

The 1st brigade, of Gen. Lawton's division, under Gen. Chaffee, will go next. All men able to ride will be put on ponies and taken to the wharf. Others will be conveyed there in wagons. All men suffering from yellow fever or infectious diseases will be left here. Every precaution will be taken to provide for the safe and healthy arrival of the men in the north.

Volunteer regiments will next be shipped in the following order: 1st Illinois, 1st District of Columbia, 71st New York, 9th Massachusetts, 2d Massachusetts, 8th Illinois, 33d Michigan and 34th Michigan. All these regiments have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to go on board transports Saturday, or as soon after as possible. All troops will first be examined by a medical board, and any suspicious cases will be left in the hospital.

Lieut. Steele Dies of Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The following cablegram has been received at the war department from Santiago, via Hayti:

Adjutant General, U. S. A. Washington:

First Lieut James B. Steele, signal corps, U. S. volunteer, died of yellow fever at 2 a. m. this day.

LA GARDE, Surgeon.

Movement of Illinois Troops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 6.—Gov. Tanner received a telegram from the war department late Friday afternoon that the 8th Illinois infantry, colored, had been ordered to Santiago de Cuba to replace the 1st Illinois infantry, which will be removed to Long Island. It will be two or three days before the 8th will leave Springfield.

Rumored Roosevelt Will Resign.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—It is rumored here that Theodore Roosevelt has signified his intention of resigning his commission as colonel of the rough riders, as soon as he shall have gotten his command home. Confirmation of the report can not be obtained.

Second Alabama at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 6.—The 2d Alabama regiment arrived here Friday from Miami and went into camp along with the Louisiana regiment in the eastern part of the city.

MANILA TOPICS.

Gen. Aguinaldo, the Insurgent Chief, Makes Two Propositions.

He Also Suggests the Formation of Philippine Regiments With American Officers—Merritt Considers This as a Possible Key.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A dispatch to the World from Manila by way of Hong Kong says:

Aguinaldo, the insurgent chief, is becoming more friendly to the Americans.

He has made two propositions to Gen. Merritt which may solve the insurgent problem in a manner highly advantageous to the United States.

In the first place, he asks the commander-in-chief of the American land forces to permit the rebel troops to march through the streets of Manila when the city surrenders.

Gen. Merritt appears inclined to consent to this. It would gratify the vanity of the natives to let them indulge in what will seem to them a triumphal march as victors through the capital of the enemy they have been successfully combatting and besieging since the wiping out of Montojo's fleet. At the same time the native troops being thus arrayed in line and under direct orders, may be more easily controlled and prevented from excesses.

In the second place, Aguinaldo suggested the formation of Philippine regiments with American officers.

This is considered a highly important proposition, a possible key to the whole situation throughout the islands. The native troops would thus be constantly under the eyes and direct orders of our men. It is believed that they would be obedient and easily controlled under tactful commanders.

The American troops now occupy the trenches in front of Malate, a suburb of Manila, which were constructed by Aguinaldo. The rebels withdrew to let our men take their places close to the Spanish lines.

The Astor battery supported by a battalion of the 3d infantry, is now in position at the front, its guns being planted within a thousand yards of the Spanish lines.

Fathers Daugherty and McKinnon, the former being on Gen. Merritt's staff, have gone to Manila to have an interview with Archbishop Nozaleda, of the archdiocese of the Philippines and to point out to him the futility of resistance to American troops.

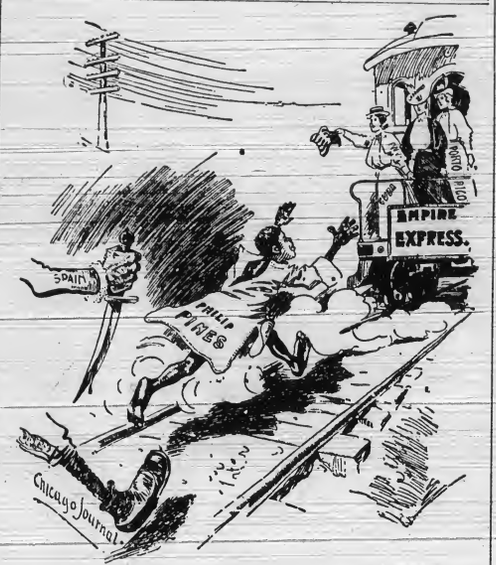
LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The prospect of America abandoning the Philippines has well brought on a panic. The insurgent leaders are greatly dissatisfied with the Americans and the British here. Mr. Wildman, the United States consul, has replied to Aguinaldo as follows: "I trust to the honor and justice of the United States and let nothing interfere with the first task of throwing off the Spanish yoke. I believe in you. Do not disappoint me."

Shooting at a Picnic.

GREENUP, Ky., Aug. 6.—At a picnic on White Oak, this county, Alf Ruggies shot Sam Ratcliff and John Wingo in the arms and legs seriously.

Anglo-Russian War Scare.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Anglo-Russian war scare is spreading beyond political circles, and the stock market is seriously depressed, consols being included in the decline. Alarmist reports of Russian preparations are coming from several quarters with intimations that Russia is deliberately forcing a crisis in the far east. Diplomacy is extraordinarily active, and the wires between London and St. Petersburg have been monopolized for the past 24 hours by government business.



SIX DARING BANK ROBBERS.

Union Bank at Richland Touched for About $6,000 by Six Robbers Who Make Their Escape.

RICHLAND, Mich., Aug. 6.—One of the most daring and successful bank robberies ever perpetrated in Michigan was carried out by six robbers Thursday night. Some of them came from east on a handcar and evidently had confederates with a horse and carriage. They secured about $6,000 in cash from the Union bank and $4,600 in notes. The horse and carriage were taken into Augusta and left there. There were three explosions, which awakened many people.

Alvin Barnes, an old man, who lived near the bank was ordered in the house with a threat that they would shoot him. George Robson and Ed. Harrett saw the robbers but did not molest them. The safe was a complete wreck, nitroglycerine being used to open it. The inside doors were blown ten feet out into the office, and pieces went through the plate glass front 20 feet distant. The chisels and other tools were left here. The handcar was disabled so it could not be used to pursue the robbers.

Officers here have just been informed that a man was seen between Augusta and Battle Creek, walking on the railroad track, carrying a large satchel and a Winchester rifle. No one who saw him dared to make a move to arrest him. Officers will leave here for Augusta at once after him.

LITTLE FILIPINO—If I Miss This Train I'm a Goner!

ROOSEVELT'S ROUND-ROBIN.

It is Feared That it Has Been Cabled to Madrid and May Delay the Peace Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Aside from the inborn desire of the Spaniard to postpone doing things the reports of the condition of the American army at Santiago by Roosevelt and others may encourage Sagasta to hold out against President McKinley's terms of peace. Efforts were made Thursday to prevent the information from reaching Madrid. Cable censors barred from the wires all reference to Roosevelt's review of the situation and the round robin of the American officers.

But there was nothing to prevent members of the diplomatic corps sending the fact to their governments in cipher. Once in the possession of the European powers, the information would quickly be transmitted to Madrid, and that has undoubtedly been done.

As an example of the concessions made by President McKinley to Spain, it is reported Friday that he has granted a request that the treaty of peace be signed in Paris.

Immune Regiments Ordered to Santiago.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Orders were issued at the war department Friday morning, sending three immune regiments from Macon, Ga., and five immune regiments from Columbus, Miss., to Savannah, Ga., from which point they will start for Santiago Sunday or Monday. The 10th immune regiment now at New Orleans has been ordered to Tampa and will be shipped as soon as possible. Two regiments of immunes are already at Santiago.

Strike Riot at Oshkosh.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Aug. 6.—A serious riot occurred Friday morning at the Morgan plant and the strikers prevented the mill from starting until 10 o'clock. Several of the strikers were injured, but none seriously. Nine women and seven men were arrested and charged with rioting. The chief of police and an officer were badly hurt Thursday night in a fight at the Wisconsin Central depot, where a mob had congregated. Women and children form a large part of the rioters.

The Oldest Volunteer.

A New York State doctor, aged 109, volunteered his services to the President recently, and expressed a desire to enter the army as a surgeon. Even at his advanced years he can read without glasses, and walk 10 to 15 miles a day. The oldest standard medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has no equal for indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, fevers and bad blood. It strengthens, purifies and vitalizes. One bottle does much good Fishing for the Cash.

Landlady—If you give me a check, Mr. Lagger, it will require a stamp and all that bother. Can't you arrange another method?

Mr. Lagger (inspired)—Let me see. Oh, yes: I'll give you a four months' note.—N. Y. Journal.

Wheat 40 Cents a Bushel.

How to grow wheat with big profit at 40 cents and samples of Salzer's Red Cross (80 bushels per acre) Winter Wheat, Rye, Oats, Clovers, etc., with Farm Seed Catalogue for 4 cents postage. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis.

When people find fault with everything they hear, they ought not to complain if they do not hear everything.—Ram's Horn.

Piso's Cure for Consumption has no equal as a Cough medicine.—F. M. Abbott, 383 Seneca St., Buffalo, N. Y., May 9, 1894.

Cut the amount of money you expect to get square in two.—Atchison Globe.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a Constitutional Cure. Price 75c.

Air-castles are for very light housekeeping.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

When Hot

Don't sweat and fret, but keep cool and take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This is good advice, as you will find if you follow it. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a first-class summer medicine, because it is so good for the stomach, so cooling to the blood, so helpful to the whole body. Make no mistake, but get only

Hood's Sarsaparilla

America's Greatest Medicine.

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills; easy to take, easy to operate

Remember the name when you buy again

BattleAx PLUG

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Bears the Signature Of Chas. H. Fletcher. In Use For Over Thirty Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THREE HAPPY WOMEN.

A Trio of Fervent Letters to the Sympathetic Friend of Her Sex.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

Each Letter Tells in a Different Way of Agonies Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my health was gradually being undermined. I suffered untold agony from painful menstruation, backache, pain on top of my head and ovarian trouble. I concluded to try Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and found that it was all any woman needs who suffers with painful monthly periods. It entirely cured me.

MRS. GEORGIE WASS,
923 Bank St., Cincinnati, O.

For years I had suffered with painful menstruation every month. At the beginning of menstruation it was impossible for me to stand up for more than five minutes, I felt so miserable. One day a little book of Mrs. Pinkham's was thrown into my house and down and read it. I then got some of Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Pills. I can heartily say that to-day new woman; my monthly suffering the past. I shall always praise Compound for what it has done

MRS. MARGARET ANDERSON,
363 Lisbon St., Lewiston, Me.

I sat right and Liver I feel like a is a thing of the Vegetable for me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of painful menstruation and backache. The pain in my back was dreadful, and the agony I suffered during menstruation nearly drove me wild.

Now this is all over, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and advice.—MRS. CARRIE V. WILLIAMS, South Mills, N. C.

The great volume of testimony proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe, sure and almost infallible remedy in cases of irregularity, suppressed, excessive or painful monthly periods.

SUMMER RESORTS ON LONG ISLAND

By the Ocean on the south shore, or the wooded Sound on the north shore. Send 6c. in stamps for "LONG ISLAND" an illustrated descriptive book. 4 cents for "SUMMER HOMES," a book describing hotels and boarding houses on Long Island, and 5c. for "UNIQUE LONG ISLAND," an illustrated book, to H. M. SMITH, Traffic Manager, L. I. R. R., Long Island City, New York.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Does not blister. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. Its mysterious power to do good. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

Remember the name when you buy again

BattleAx PLUG

A ROUND-ROBIN.

Troops Must Be Sent Home Or an Appalling Disaster Is Liable.

To Keep the Army at Santiago Will Involve the Destruction of Thousands by Yellow Fever and Other Diseases—To Be Returned.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Aug. 3.—(Delayed in transmission).—Summoned by Maj. Gen. Shafter, a meeting was held this morning at headquarters, and in the presence of every commanding and medical officer of the 5th army corps Gen. Shafter read a cable message from Secretary Alger, ordering him at the recommendation of Surgeon General Sternberg, to move the army into the interior, to San Luis, where it is said, or further. As a result of the conference Gen. Shafter will insist upon the immediate withdrawal of the army north within two weeks. As an explanation of the situation the following letter from Col. Theo. Roosevelt, commanding the 1st volunteer cavalry, to Gen. Shafter, was handed by the latter to the correspondent here of the Associated Press for publication:

Maj. Gen. Shafter:

Sir—In a meeting of the general and medical officers, called by you at the palace this morning, we are all as you know, unanimous in view of what should be done with the army. To keep us here in the opinion of every officer commanding a division or a brigade, will simply involve the destruction of thousands. There is no possible reason for not shipping practically the entire command north at once. Yellow fever cases are very few in the cavalry division where I command one of the two brigades, and not one true case of yellow fever has occurred in this division except among the men sent to the hospital at Siboney, where they have I believe, contracted it. But in this division there have been 1,500 cases of malarial fever. Not a man has died from it, but the whole command is so weakened and shattered as to be ripe for dying like rotten sheep when a real yellow fever epidemic, instead of a fake epidemic like the present, strikes us, as it is bound to, if we stay here, at the height of the sickness season, August and the beginning of September. Quarantine against malaria fever is much like quarantining against the toothache. All of us are certain, as soon as the authorities at Washington fully appreciate the conditions of the army, to be sent home. If we are kept here it will in all human possibility mean an appalling disaster, for the surgeons here estimate that over half the army, if kept here during the sickly season, will die. This is not only terrible from the standpoint of the individual lives lost, but it means ruin from the standpoint of the military efficiency of the flower of the American army, for the great bulk of the regulars are here with you. The sick list, large though it is, exceeding 4,000, affords but a faint index of the debilitation of the army. Not 10 per cent. are fit for active work. Six weeks on the North Maine cast, for instance, or elsewhere, where the yellow fever germ can not possibly propagate, would make us all as fit as fighting cocks, able as we are eager, to take a leading part in the great campaign against Havana in the fall, even if we are not allowed to try Porto Rico. We can be moved north, if moved at once, with absolute safety to the country, although, of course, it would have been infinitely better if we had been moved north or to Porto Rico two weeks ago. If there were any object in keeping us here we would face yellow fever with as much indifference as we face bullets, but there is no object in it. The four immune regiments ordered here are sufficient to garrison the city and surrounding towns, and there is absolutely nothing for us to do here and there has not been since the town surrendered. It is impossible to move into the interior. Every shifting of camp doubles the sick rate in our present weakened condition, and, anyhow, the interior is rather worse than the coast, as I have found by actual reconnoissance. Our present camps are as healthy as any camps at this end of the island can be. I write only because I can not see our men who have fought so bravely and who have endured extreme hardships and dangers so uncomplainingly, go to destruction without striving so far as lies in me to avert a doom as fearful as it is unnecessary and undeserved. Yours respectfully,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
Colonel Commanding 1st Brigade.

After Col. Roosevelt had taken the initiative, all the American general officers united in a round-robin addressed to Gen. Shafter. It reads:

"We, the undersigned officers commanding the various brigades, divisions, etc., of the army of occupation in Cuba, are of the unanimous opinion that this army should be at once taken out of Cuba and sent to some point on the northern seacoast of the United States; that it can be done without danger to the people of the United States; that yellow fever in the army at present is not epidemic; that there are only a few sporadic cases; but that the army is disabled by malarial fever to the extent that its efficiency is destroyed and that it is in a condition to be practically destroyed by an epidemic of yellow fever which is sure to come in the near future. We know from the reports of competent officers and from personal observations that the army is unable to move into the interior and that there are no facilities for such a move if attempted, and that it could not be attempted until too late. Moreover, the best medical authorities on the island say that with our present equipment we could not live in the interior during the rainy season without losses from malarial fever, which is almost as deadly as yellow fever.

This army must be moved at once or perish. As the army can be safely moved now, the persons responsible for preventing such a move will be responsible for the unnecessary loss of many thousands of lives. Our opinions are the result of careful personal observation and they are also based on the unanimous opinion of our medical officers with the army, who understand the situation absolutely.

J. FORD KENT,
Major general volunteers, commanding 1st division, 5th corps.

J. C. BATES,
Major general volunteers, commanding provisional division.

ADNA R. CHAFFEE,
Major general, commanding 3d brigade, 2d division.

SAMUEL S. SUMNER,
Brigadier general volunteers, commanding 1st brigade cavalry.

WILL LUDLOW,
Brigadier general volunteers, commanding 1st brigade, 2d division.

ADELBERT AMES,
Brigadier general volunteers, commanding 3d brigade, 1st division.

LEONARD WOOD,
Brigadier general volunteers, commanding the city of Santiago

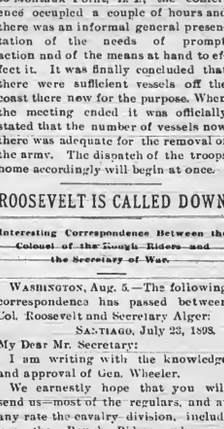
THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
Colonel, commanding 2d cavalry brigade

Maj W. M. Wood, the chief surgeon of the 1st division said: "The army must be moved north," adding with emphasis, "or it will be unable to move itself."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—After a conference with Secretaries Day and Long Thursday the president had a conference with Secretary Alger, Secretary Long and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen, at which action was taken for the prompt transportation of Gen. Shafter's army from Cuba to Montauk Point, L. I., the conference occupied a couple of hours and there was an informal general presentation of the needs of prompt action and of the means at hand to effect it. It was finally concluded that there were sufficient vessels off the coast there now for the purpose. When the meeting ended it was officially stated that the number of vessels now there was adequate for the removal of the army. The dispatch of the troops home accordingly will begin at once.

ROOSEVELT IS CALLED DOWN

Interesting Correspondence Between the Colonel of the Rough Riders and the Secretary of War.



WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The following correspondence has passed between Col. Roosevelt and Secretary Alger:

SANTIAGO, July 23, 1898.

My Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am writing with the knowledge and approval of Gen. Wheeler.

We earnestly hope that you will send us—most of the regulars, and at any rate the cavalry division, including the Rough Riders, who are as good as any regulars, and three times as good as any state troops, to Porto Rico. There are 1,800 effective men in this division; if those who were left behind were joined to them, we could land at Porto Rico, in this cavalry division, close to 4,000 men, who would be worth easily any 10,000 national guards armed with black powder Springfields or other archaic weapons. * * * *

COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Very respectfully,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The following reply was cabled to Col. Roosevelt Thursday:

Your letter of the 23d is received. The regular army, the volunteer army and the rough riders have done well, but I suggest that unless you want to spoil the effects and glory of your victory, you make no invidious comparisons. The rough riders are no better than other volunteers. They had an advantage in their arms, for which they ought to be very grateful.

R. A. ALGER,
Secretary of War.

Cleaning Santiago's Streets.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 5.—Gen. Wood, military governor, has appointed Maj. George M. Barbour as health and state commissioner. The city will be divided into 16 districts, under the supervision of non-commissioned officers responsible for the street cleaning in their respective localities. Four thousand men will be immediately put to work cleaning the thoroughfares.

Reducing Expenses in Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Secretary Long is now devoting a good part of his attention to reducing the expenses of the navy department which were so vastly increased by the war. In this he is carrying out the wishes of the president, and it is expected that a similar policy will be adopted by all of the other executive departments affected.

Fire at Steubenville, O.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 5.—The three-story brick building, formerly DeDevitt's woolen mills, owned by Mrs. Turnbull, was set on fire and completely destroyed. Loss $1,000. Jack Liggett's loss on hay, straw and harness is $1,500. No insurance. The firemen worked until Thursday morning.

Urgent Call for Nurses.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 5.—The local war emergency board of Cleveland has been ordered to send nurses to Ft. Myers, near Washington, at once. The orders were for the nurses not to wait for transportation, as is the custom, but to pay their own fare.

Horse Causes a Wreck.

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., Aug. 4.—A westbound Lake Erie and Western freight was wrecked early Thursday morning near this city by running into a horse. Two unknown men stealing a ride were seriously injured.

The United States Hospital Ship Relief sailed from New York Wednesday bound, it is said, either for Porto Rico or Cuba.

IT IS APPROVED.

The Cabinet Council Agrees to the Peace Terms of the United States.

The Spanish Government Believes That the Note Will Be Satisfactory to the Washington Government and That Hostilities Will Be Suspended.

MADRID, Aug. 8.—The cabinet council terminated after having completely approved the reply to the United States which, it is said, accepts the American conditions.

The reply was telegraphed to Senor Ceon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador to France, Saturday night, so that M. Cambon, the French ambassador at Washington, will receive it Monday.

The government is fully convinced that the note will be satisfactory to the Washington government, and that a suspension of hostilities will be its immediate consequence.

Senor Sagasta, the premier, has just concluded his conference with the queen regent. Her majesty approves the general lines of the reply of Spain to America's peace terms, which Senor Sagasta explained to her.

The reason for postponing the cabinet council until 6 o'clock Sunday evening was that the note was not yet fully drawn up. The government believes that the United States will accept Spain's answer, which will certainly reach the white house by Tuesday. As a consequence of the United States accepting the reply, hostilities will immediately afterwards be suspended.

As the reply to the American terms was only submitted to the queen regent Sunday, all the reports of her approval Saturday of the American demands are necessarily without foundation.

MADRID, Aug. 8.—According to the most reliable sources of information the Spanish note is couched in dignified language. It asserts that Spain bows to the force of circumstances, having done nothing to provoke the war, into which she has been unwillingly led in the defense of her rights and territory.

It expresses a willingness to appoint delegates to meet the American commission to discuss a regime for the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Although as yet without official confirmation of the report from Paris that the Spanish government has decided to accept the terms laid down by the United States as essential to the negotiation of a treaty of peace the officials here are proceeding under the conviction that the end has come and are giving attention to the steps to be taken next. In view of the delay in coming to this conclusion the idea was beginning to prevail that the Spanish government was about to enter a plea in abatement and that the answer would again be inconclusive. In this case the president was disposed to deal firmly with the issue; to give notice that our proposals were withdrawn, and to let it be understood that when Spain again sued for peace the conditions would be more severe than those first laid down. If the Spanish answer should embody an effort to secure any material change in the conditions it will meet with prompt rejection. Some reference has been made in the dispatches of British newspapers to a desire on the part of the Spanish government to include in the preliminary agreement a clause exempting it from liability for the Cuban debt. The formal statement of the points of the United States notes given out from the white house made no reference to this subject and it can not be known as yet whether or not the full text shows anything more. But presuming that no reference whatever is made to the Cuban debt, it is possible the subject may be regarded as one that should be treated by the peace commissioners, who are to meet later to for the treaty, which, of course, will embody many details that are left untouched in the main proposition, though cabinet officers have authorized the statement that no part of the Cuban or Porto Rican debts would be assumed by the United States. Based upon the Associated Press reports of the progress being made at Madrid toward returning the answer of Spain it was calculated by the department officials that the formal note could not be delivered to the president before Monday, and that was also the belief of the French ambassador.

Attack by Sea on San Juan Reported.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—At midnight an unofficial report was current that the bombardment of San Juan had commenced, and that a part of Gen. Miles' forces had been pushed forward toward the city on the land side. Officials at the war and navy departments say they have no dispatches concerning the news.

Cavalry and Artillery for Porto Rico.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 8.—The transport Manitoba, with Pennsylvania cavalry and artillery and United States mail for Porto Rico, has sailed. The remainder of Gen. Grant's expedition is still waiting for transports.

On the Way to Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The transport steamers Lakme and Charles G. Nelson, bearing five companies of the 1st New York volunteers and the 3d United States volunteer engineers, sailed for Honolulu Saturday.

SHAFTER'S DAILY REPORT.

The General Informs the War Department of the Health of His Command at Santiago on August 6.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Gen. Shafter's daily report to the war department of the health of his command at Santiago, as bulletined by Adjt. Gen. Corbin Sunday night, follows:

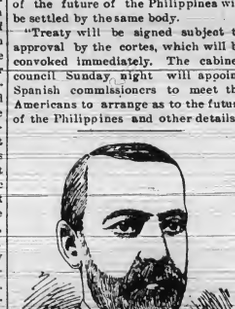
SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Aug. 7.—Adjutant General of the Army, Washington:

Sanitary report for August 6, total number sick, 5,681; total number fever cases, 2,638; total number new cases fever, 431; total number fever cases returned to duty, 477; deaths August 5, Private M. W. Desmond, Company L, 9th Massachusetts, typhoid fever; Private Dalins Tannay, Company K, 34th Michigan, marlaial fever. August 6, Private George P. McLaughlin, Company B, 9th Massachusetts, typhoid fever; Private J. A. Lewis, Company H, 25th infantry, chronic diarrhoea; Private A. J. Grills, Company H, 34th Michigan, typhoid fever; Maj. M. J. O'Connor, 9th Massachusetts, pernicious malarial fever; Corp. Albert E. Koch, Company A, 2d infantry, pernicious remittent fever; Private Burton Salisbury, Company B, 21st infantry, chronic diarrhoea; Private Anthony Massa, Company A, 7th infantry, thermic fever.

SHAFTER, Major General.

MISS JESSIE SCHLEY,
(American Girl Now in Madrid on a Mission of Peace.)

SPAIN'S REPLY TO AMERICA.



Only a Few Unessential Changes in the American Demands Are Asked for by the Haughty Dons.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphing Sunday says:

"The answer of the Spanish government declares that Spain can not discuss the American proposals but only accepts them, because they are imposed on her by force. Only a few unessential changes in the American demands were asked for and it is not expected that President McKinley will refuse them.

"A commission composed of Spaniards and Americans will decide the question of the Cuban debt, the dates and manner of evacuating Cuba and Porto Rico and the protection of Spaniards and Spanish interests in these places. The commissioners will also decide whether Spain is to be allowed to withdraw her artillery and the remainder of her arms and ammunition from the colonies, while the question of the future of the Philippines will be settled by the same body.

"Treaty will be signed subject to approval by the cortes, which will be convoked immediately. The cabinet council Sunday night will appoint Spanish commissioners to meet the Americans to arrange as to the future of the Philippines and other details."

COMMANDER C. C. TODD.
(Called by His Admirers the "Dewey of Manzanillo.")

Army Movements in Porto Rico.

PONCE, Porto Rico, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 8.—Gen. Wilson has moved the headquarters of his division from Ponce to Juana Diaz. Gen. Schwan, with the 11th regular infantry and two batteries moved Sunday through Yauco toward Mayaguez. Gen. Brooke is moving north from Guayama with 10,000 men.

Schoolboy Cuts His Teacher.

MCKEE, Ky., Aug. 8.—Robert Holcomb, a young school teacher of this county, was dangerously cut with a knife by Arch Gobbard, one of his pupils. He undertook to correct young Gobbard for violating the rules of the school, and the boy, who is only 13 years old, stabbed him twice in the abdomen and cut an ugly wound in his breast. There is not much chance for his recovery. Gobbard is in jail. Holcomb is of a good family, while Gobbard has a bad reputation.

REMOVING DIRT.

Santiago Streets and Alleys Being Put in Better Sanitary Condition.

The City Filling Up With Enterprising Americans Ready for Business—A Daily Paper Prints McKinley's Proclamation to Cubans.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 27.—The dirty condition of this city, the heaps of foul refuse that encumber the streets, the maladorous alleys any byways, the lack of sanitary arrangements and drainage of any description are all matters that will require remedying if this is to become an American city. It should be remembered that the weeks of blockade, the fear of bombardment, the scarcity of food and the general demoralization existing in a besieged town have done much to add to the conditions of filth and poor sanitation that normally prevail. For generations the people have lived regardless of the first rules of hygiene, the lower classes are ignorant of all precautionary measures, and it is not surprising when our American officers issue an order through the civil governor of Santiago stating that all houses must be at once thoroughly cleaned, inside and ont, the order is disregarded.

Orders are constantly issued to the people to report at once the death of any one in their household, and threats of fine and enforced labor as a punishment carry little weight. Extreme measures will have to be taken to bring about a proper condition of affairs in this respect, and it will take many months of example and stringent enforcement of regulations to bring the people to an observance of what is clearly best for their health.

Since July 16 until July 23 the city was without a daily paper. On July 23 the Espectador made its first appearance and printed the full Spanish text of President McKinley's proclamation to the people of Cuba. The Espectador is running a series of articles on New York city, this subject being supposedly of prime interest to its readers at this time. A three-column article on the inscriptions of the Egyptian obelisk in Central park appears in the last issue, and the publisher promises the declaration of the independence of the United States in the near future.

The Espectador enjoys the distinction of being the only Spanish paper published in this island free of Spanish censorship.

A newspaper printed in Spanish and English is promised soon, and Company F, of the 33d Michigan volunteer infantry, has brought out a paper called Company F Enterprise, which is the first American paper published in the city of Santiago de Cuba.

Already the enterprising American is present. There is around town a ragged man with a smattering of Spanish who has turned several dollars by buying up swords and machetes from Spaniards and the city pawnshops to sell them again to American relic hunters. There is the man with the capital to invest who awaits but a sure and remunerative opportunity, and there is the man who buys up bargains in American horse flesh from sick or wounded officers going home, hoping to sell the animals at a profit. The first steamer from the United States has brought many men to look over this new field for business opportunities, and there will be American sharpness and enterprise pitted against the Cuban and Spaniard.

The arrival of so many strangers in Santiago during the last two weeks has taxed the town's accommodations, which were never ample, to the utmost. The lack of anything like proper hotels and restaurants will continue to be a detriment to the city until some one with a knowledge of what Americans want steps in and opens a hotel.

There is much talk of the exorbitant prices charged by storekeepers for clothing, food and drink. Prices are three and four times as high as they should be. Shopkeepers are charging at the rate of two American dollars for what sold formerly for one silver Spanish dollar. It has been found necessary to ordain that bread shall not be sold for more than 20 cents silver a pound and the announcement that there will be established soon an American bakery, to sell bread at prices prevailing in New York, is received with delight.

Cervera and Son Return to Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 8.—Adm. Cervera and son returned to Annapolis Saturday morning on the 10 o'clock train from Baltimore, having arrived there on the Norfolk steamer. They were accompanied by a Roman Catholic priest. The admiral and son were granted only 48 hours' leave.

Porto Ricans Instructed Not to Resist to the Utmost.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says:

The government has given orders that the minister of war shall not force resistance in Porto Rico to the utmost. This is at the instigation of Premier Sagasta, who deplores any unnecessary loss of life, knowing that Porto Rico will inevitably fall into the hands of the Americans. Capt. Gen. Macias has been instructed to obtain terms like those obtained by Gen. Toral or better.

CONTROL EAST PORTO RICO.

The American Troops Have Invaded the Territor Without Serious Resistance From the Spaniards.

AT DESCALABODO RIVER, Six Miles Beyond Juan Diaz, on the Road to San Juan, Aug. 4, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 6.—The 16th Pennsylvania, of Gen. Ernest's brigade, advanced to this point to-day and has built the bridge over the river.

The 2d and 3d Wisconsin are expected to-morrow. No sign of the enemy is reported, but it is believed that the Spaniards are about 400 strong between this point and Coama.

The seizure of the bridge insures control of the road to Coama. Pickets are being pushed out and they may collide with the Spanish outposts.

OFF SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Aug. 4, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 6.—The Americans have taken peaceful possession of the eastern portion of the island. Small parties of marines have been landed, who have lighted lamps in the light house at Cape San Jnan and other light houses along the coast. They met with no resistance. Indeed, at Cape San Juan deputations of citizens came ont to meet them.

The war ships now in this vicinity are the Montgomery, the Annapolis, the Puritan and the Amphitrite. The two former are looking for the transports with troops, which left the United States and have scattered all about the island. The Annapolis ronnded up the Whitney, the Florida and the Raleigh yesterday and they are now at Cape San Jnan.

There seems to have been a serious mistakes as to the rendezvous, for no two ships got to the same place and it will take several days to locate them and get them to Ponce, where Gen. Mills is waiting.

Off San Juan the cruiser New Orleans alone maintains the blockade. The city is grim and silent, but back of her yellow walls there will be plenty of determination and fight when the Americans open fire.

Capt. Gen. Macias has issued a proclamation, in the course of which he says:

"Spain has not sued for peace, and I can drive off the American boats now as I did Sampson's attempt before."

The daughter of the captain general is helping to drill the gunners in the forts. Altogether there are 9,500 Spanish regulars in the city. The troops of the enemy, who are retreating from Ponce and the other towns on the south coast occupied by the Americans have not yet arrived.

The German steamer Polynesia, with a cargo of rum, canned meats and tobacco, tried to run the blockade this morning but was stopped by the New Orleans.

PONCE, Porto Rico, Aug 5, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 6.—Maj. Gen. Miles is proceeding entirely without regard to peace negotiations. Krag-Jorgensen's are being used. The 2d and 3d Wisconsin moved up to the 16th Pennsylvania Friday. Col. Hulings has captnred 5,000 pounds of rice. Thus far the enemy has not molested him.

Maj. Gen. Brooke's landing at Arroyo is successful.

The troops from the Roumanian, four batteries of the 27th Indiana, the 1st Missouri, the 1st Pennsylvania and the 3d Illinois are disembarking there. The Morgan troop of the 5th cavalry and the Mississippi commissaries have arrived here.

Lieut. Hunter, of the artillery, was slightly wounded by one of our pickets Thursday night. Capt. Edgar Hugart, who died of typhoid fever, has been buried with military honors. Gen. Roy Stone is repairing the road to Arrecibo, but a movement there is improbable.

Adjt. Gen. Kingsley Rousts Roosevelt.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 6.—Adjt. Gen. Kingsley was very much pertnrbed Friday morning over the reflections cast upon the national guard volnnteers by Col. Theodore Roosevelt. "Col. Roosevelt is," he said, "a very young soldier to grow so presumptuous. The reports of the battle of Santiago show that the volunteers made up from the national guard were fully as efficient and brave as the rough riders and were perhaps better led. I am willing to back the 1st Ohio cavalry, troop for troop, and man for man, against the rough riders as cavalry, mounted or dismounted, as soldiers or as men, and I do not fear the comparison."

Lee's Command Will Go to Havana.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—There is a report in official circles that orders have already been sent to Maj. Gen. Lee, at Jacksonville, to prepare his forces for an early move to Havana. It is the opinion of many of the best posted ones that Gen. Lee will, after the occupation of Cuba, be appointed military governor. It is expected that Col. Wm. J. Bryan's regiment will go to Cuba with Lee.

Very Old Bank Notes.

RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 6.—E. O. Dunham, of this city, has a large and valuable collection of relics. One of them is an old bank note of 1780, good for 25 Spanish milled dollars, and another is a bill issued by a Brookville (Ind.) bank in 1818.

Capt. Clark Ordered Home.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Capt. Charles E. Clark, commander of the Oregon, has been condemned by a medical survey at Santiago and will be sent home from Guantanamo at once.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Aug., 10, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work,

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS,

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

STATE NEWS.

Mercer county owes $147,000.

Diphtheria rages at Brandenburg.

Bourbon county meat houses are being raided.

Major T. T. Thornton died at Cynthiana last week.

Kentucky bank taxes for this year will aggregate over $100,000.

Two Martin county school trustees have been removed for drunkenness.

A man named Lemon was squeezed nearly to death in a hay press near Darby.

J. W. Glass, of Brayantsville, has discovered an ewe that is half sheep and half deer.

Harrodsburg's negro councilman was arrested and fined the other day for selling beer without license.

A mammoth tooth was unearthed at Williamstown by a man doing some grading near the depot.

A rock weighing 75 pounds fell on Alexander McLaughlin in Sebree coal mines, injuring him fatally.

Covington ministers have begun a crusade against the employment of child labor in the factories of that city.

Richard Gavin and wife, of Louisville, died from poison contracted by drinking milk that had stood in tin cans too long.

The prison commission at Frankfort will not remove the two female guards appointed by the old administration, for the present.

Mrs. John Mills, of Flemingsburg, thought she had a cancer, but it proved to be a needle that had been in her flesh for 12 years.

A disease called bloody glanders is killing horses in the vicinity of Lancaster The horse lives about three days after it is attacked.

At Panota Reuben Thomas a merchant, and John Garrot fell out about a small account, and Thomas shot Garrot through the breast with a Winchester rifle.

Two graves are kept in readiness at all times in Evergreen cemetery near Ft. Thomas, for the interment of the soldiers, two or three of whom die every day.

The discovery of a stick of dynamite in the threshing engine of George Young of Lincoln county, prevented a terrible accident. Some fiend had placed it there.

"Admit one to the hanging of George Stephanson, Thursday, August 18, 1898, Sam M. Owens, Sheriff," says the Stanford Journal, is the way the tickets to the execution just distributed by the above officer read.

Dr. A. C. Davidson has resigned as President of Georgetown College, and his resignation has been accepted. The exacting duties of the position were telling on his health. The determination of Dr. Davidson will cause general regret among his numerous friends, not only in Georgetown and Scott county, but throughout Kentucky.

CHURCH NEWS.

Rev. W. M. White has just closed a successful meeting at North Pleasureville.

Rev. F. W. Eberhardt is assisting in a protracted meeting at Farmdale, Franklin county.

Of 853 Baptist churches in heathen lands 524 are self-supporting, and of 1,235 mission schools 383 are self-supporting.

Mrs. H. M. Burrough, of New Liberty, Ky., offers to be one of ten to give $150 each to Bible women's work in Texas.

Bishop Wilson has sailed for Yokohama, Japan. He will hold several foreign conferences, and will be absent six months.

Rev. P. T. Hale has been installed in his new pastorate at Roanoke, Va. All the pastors in town joined in the services.

A Methodist preacher in Boston advertised that he would have for his subject the following, Sunday night, "To Hell with Spain."

Northern Presbyterians have added a new section to their form of government. It gives churches exclusive control of the house of worship, including musical services.

The "Christians" 100,000 in numbers declined to unite with the Disciples of Christ, 1,000,000 in number, and have failed recently to form a union with the Congregationalists.

Rev. J. N. Hall, of Fulton, Ky., representing the Baptists, will debate with Mr. Williams, of Chicago, of the Cbristadelphians, on "Resurrection," "Setting Up of the Kingdom of Heaven" and the "Annihilation of the Wicked," at Zion, Henderson county, Ky. The debate will begin to-day.

The income of the Episcopal church last year was $12,750,000, of which there went for home missions $400,000, foreign missions $283,000, parishes and diocesan expenses $12,000,000. Of 4,678 ministers, twenty-eight went as foreign missionaries.

FROM OWEN COUNTY.

[News]

Peaches on the Owenton market sell from 75c to $1 per bushel.

Isaac Wolf purchased 13 head of yearling steers from Sherman Bales Monday for $14 per head.

Rev. Clark Riley, of Gratz, has baptised during his ministry more than 4,000 converts under his own preaching.

An immense crowd attended the dedication of the new Baptist church at Glencoe last Sunday. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Keerfoot, of Louisville, and about $500 was raised which covered the church debt.

On Friday afternoon the lightning struck the house on the farm of J. B. Gibson, occupied by John Murray and family seriously shocking Miss Murray his daughter, and strange to say for several minutes after the occurrence none of the family knew that the house had been struck.

B. Gilbert was arrested by deputy Sherift S. D. Duvall, six miles back of Vevay, Ind., last Saturday and was lodged in jail here. He is charged with stealing a horse belonging to Noah May, and selling it at Williamstown, something over a month ago. B. Gilbert was tried before Judge Hill Tuesday morning on the charge of stealing Noah May's horse, and was held over to answer at the Circuit court in the sum of $500. Being unable to give bond he was sent to jail. On Monday writs were sworn out against Geo. See, Jr., and Bill Keith on the same charge. They were arrested in New Castle Monday and lodged in jail here Tuesday night.

Petersburg.

Aug. 8—Melons small and sweet.

Joe Ferris had 2,600 bushels of wheat.

John Burns, jr., is very low of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Smith, who has been very sick is improving.

Mrs. Ethel Berkshire is visiting her parents at Madison.

Chas. Fitch, who has been a cripple so long, is nearly well.

F. D. Smith has commenced breaking land for wheat.

Hubert Cox has returned from a visit to his brother at Newport.

Stoll & Klopp are the champion melon raisers in the bottoms.

Judge Roberts, of Aurora, attended police court here the other day.

Elijah Parker has commenced marketing his large crop of peaches.

The red nose fishing club fires off a cannon every time it taps a keg of beer.

Orlando Snyder is having his eyes treated by Dr. Holms of Cincinnati.

Brooks & Snelling have thre shed 20,000 bushels of grain, and are not done.

Kirtley Berkshire and wife, of Daviess county, are visiting relatives here.

Arthur Alloway, of the Youngstown, Ohio, ball team is home for a short time.

Jake Klopp has seven acres as fine tobacco as ever growed out of the ground.

Some boys found a skelcton and a bicycle on the river bank opposite here—a silent rider.

Two freight trains tried to pass on the same track opposite here the other day. Result—engines badly wrecked and a breakman's leg broken.

A Petersburg taxpayer, who hails from some other part of the county, wants to make trouble with the Fiscal Court. Is he bigger than the court?

Wm. Casey, who has been sojourning in Mexico, for a considerable period, to recover his health, has returned home, very much improved.

Limaburg.

Fine rain Monday.

Sam Cummins occupies the Jas. Craven house.

John Hicks, of Covington, was here Sunday.

Don't forget the Sunday School celebration next Saturday.

Jas. W. Utz had 7½ acres that yielded 180 bushels of wheat.

Jas. Beall and Jack Baker are building Geo. Baker's new shop.

Mrs. W. J. Utz grew tomatoes this year that weighed 2 pounds each.

Mrs. Seeman and daughter, Miss Hattie, of Covington, were guests at Everett Dixon's Sunday.

Mrs. Jerry Beemon and Mrs. Jerry Quigley each have a large variety of flowers that are very much admired by all.

WILLIAMSTOWN, KY., Aug. 3, 1898.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

Dear Sir:—The Boone County Recorder reached our office to-day, Aug. 3rd, and I noticed while reading it, the following article, "One of the Williamstown party, who camped at Big Bone recently for several days, in his write up of the outing for the Courier, of the Springs, &c., says: 'The keeper is a ruin and the old hotel is a ruin, and the beautiful valley in which the springs are located, surrounded on all sides by frowning cliffs, is also a ruin.'"

I wish, as one of the campers, to say, the article referred to was not written by any one of our party, and it would be base ingratitude for us to say such a thing. We were treated royally by all the citizens of Big Bone and they did all they could to make us enjoy our outing.

We had a fine time and never spent a more pleasant two weeks in our lives. Mr. McLaughlin is a highly educated gentleman, and a typical Southernor, polite and pleasant to all whom he meets. He and his family visited our camp often and seemed to take a great interest in the whole party, as to their welfare and pleasure. His granddaughter, Miss Maud McLaughlin, with her pleasing and refined ways made the hours at camp very pleasant, especially for several young men of our party, but in fact we all enjoyed her company.

We were furnished fruits and other eatables by the people of the Big Bone community, and Miss Bertha Miller entertained our party at her beautiful home, a quarter of a mile from the springs. Other persons visited our camp and helped us pass many pleasant moments.

I wish to extend the thanks of our party to the people of Big Bone Springs for their kindness towards us while there, and will give them notice in advance, that we will return in the near future for another outing and treat to the good water of the springs located there.

A CAMPER.

FISCAL COURT.

The called term of the fiscal court, last Saturday, concluded its business in a few minutes. Esq. M. B. Green presided in the absence of county Judge Roberts, who had gone to Verona to attend the funeral of a niece. All the justices were present except Sam Noell who arrived in town just after the court had adjourned.

The following order was made:

Came the committee heretofore appointed to have a draft made of the proposed alterations in the roof of the court house and the cupola, and report that they have employed Samuel Hannaford & Sons, and present an estimate of the cost of said alteration. Came Samuel Hannaford & Sons presented in open court a draft, front and side, of the proposed alterations in the court-house roof and cupola, together with the estimated cost of making the proposed change, which they place at from $350 to $600, and on motion it is ordered that the proposed alterations be made, and said architects are directed to prepare and present to the court the working, drawings and specifications for said proposed alterations.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

YOU CAN PATENT anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent. Write to C.A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

Kentucky, Ohio and INDIANA

Will unite with other surrounding States to make the

LAWRENCEBURG FAIR

To be held

August 23 to 27, 1898,

The grandest success ever obtained in that line. Special attractions every day.

CHARIOT RACES

And other daring feats of Horsemanship will be performed by

COOK'S HIPPODROME PEOPLE.

LARGEST PREMIUMS ever thought of are offered for some articles of Domestic Manufacture.

The Most Exciting Races ever given on this track will be this year, from all indications.

If you miss this

FAIR

you will have something to regret for many days to come.

W. H. O'BRIEN, President.
H. L. NOWLIN, Sect'y.

EVERETT HELMS
—PROPRIETOR,—
The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,
Petersburg, Ky.
Will be pleased to
CUBA
Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.
BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.
TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE
DELHI FERRY
To The City.
Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.
A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.
NO DELAY.

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, containing about 111 acres, known as the Jackson Bass farm, situated about 1½ miles from Verona, Boone county, Ky., on the Short Line (L. & N.) Railroad. 8 or 10 acres of this farm are in the state of nature and will grow enough tobacco in a few years to pay for the place. There are 10 or 15 acres in cultivation the balance (about 80 acres) is in grass. The improvements consist of a two story frame dwelling house of six rooms, two halls and two porches; tenant house of three rooms; corn crib and large barn. The place is well watered and fencing in splendid repair. This farm is admirably located for a market garden. My terms are very reasonable. For further particulars address Mrs. JAMES T. BROCK, No. 416 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky. aug 10-2m

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—B. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Allphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. R. Veal.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. H. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:

District No 1.—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—B. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Aylor, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Noell, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Bylano, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—R. D. Gaffy.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Lester.
Commissioner Ag. culture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Du-relle, J. K. Grace, T. H. Payster, B. L. D. Gaffy, J. H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; J. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON,
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
DENTIST.
Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.
OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.

Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.

East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m, 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a. m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN,
—DRUGGIST,—
Rising Sun, - Indiana.
Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.
E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.
EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

RUPTURE
You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have in our long experience in Fitting Trusses, reduced it to a science. Many ruptures are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance, some of your family is very ill. You go to your physician, and say Lou and so is ill, and what would you recommend? The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.
OHIO TRUSS CO.,
90 and 92 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.
ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY,
Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention given t Collections entrusted to his care will receive [illegible] 93.

W. E. VEST,
County Surveyor,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL
LASSING & RIDDELL,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.
VEST & RICE,
Real Estate Agents.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 3,000
Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
Walton, Kentucky.
Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.
Will be in office at Union every Monday.
Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,
SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,
And all Kinds of
Household Goods,
213 W. Fifth St.
4 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
HARD AND SOFT
COAL,
Erlanger, - - Ky.
Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.
J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1898. NO. 43.

THE war is over.

IT is all over so far as the shooting is concerned.

NOT so many deaths now, among the soldiers stationed at Ft. Thomas.

THE volunteers will not be mustered out of the service for some time.

PEOPLE differ very much as to how the Philippine islands should be disposed of.

THE Commonwealth is opposed to the renomination of Col. Berry. It is for Mr. Gooch.

CINCINNATIANS are awfully busy, just now, preparing to entertain the G. A. R. next month.

SOME of the soldier boys are very much disappointed at not having been sent to the front in time to do some fighting.

UNCLE SAM is proud of his country, proud of his army, proud of his navy—in fact he is proud of everything pertaining to his estate.

THE Democratic Congressional convention in this district will probably be called to meet some time about the last of September or the first of October.

THE whisky men in Louisville are making an effort to have all the distillers of the State agree to operate for the next five years on a reduced schedule of production.

THE Williamstown Courier is growing impatient because the calling of the Congressional district convention has been delayed so long. The Courier is straightout for Col. Berry.

IT has been decided to make Sampson a Rear Admiral for his services in the war. There are many who think the prize money he has obtained compensates him very liberally tor his services.

AUDITOR STONE estimates that the State will not collect to exceed $75,000 taxes from the banks this year, against $115,000 last year. This fall off in taxes from that source is the result of many banks having reduced their capital.

FROM the inefficiency of the surgical and commissary departments that branch of the service appears to have been badly neglected in the organization of the army. It reports are true many soldiers have died from want of surgical attention and proper food.

THE oldest newspaper in the world is the Tsing-Pac, or Peking News, founded in the year 710 A. D. Until quite recently it was supposed that the Kin-Pan, a Chinese journal published in Peking for the last 1,000 years, was the oldest newspaper in the warld.

IT appears that the Teacher's Institute held in Walton, last week, scored the grandest success ever attained by a Teachers' Institute held in this county. The good people of that town did all in their power to make the occasion one long to be remembered by the teachers present, and they certainly succeeded in every particular.

THE more the American soldiers are associated with the Cuban Insurgents the less opinion they have of them. They claim that the Insurgents' propensity for robbery is so great that they do not discriminate between friend or foe when an opportunity to steal presents itself, and the effects of dead or wounded American soldiers have been known to be appropriated by the Insurgents with as great delight as those of their dead and wounded enemies. They make no distinction when going after those things demanded by thieving dispositions, and the Insurgents are now away below par in the estimation of those who have subjected themselves to the dangers of both the battle field and fatal diseases of Cuba in their behalf.

"A Word of Warning."

To the Editor of the Recorder:

I will reply to taxpayer from Petersburg with your permission.

In the first place he criticises the action of the Fiscal Court. That is his privilege. He forgets, however, that ours is a Democratic government—a government by majorities. We believe anywhere and everywhere from the Supreme Court of the United States to the Fiscal Court of Boone county, Ky., that the majority should rule. Besides, those members of the Fiscal Court who were opposed to this measure had fair warning and ample time to be present and do then and there what they could. This was their plain duty. I have full confidence in our Fiscal Court.

In the next place he says "this action of the court means that a bridge over any county road would be a great convenience to the people in that locality this county will make ample appropriations to build it." Certainly. Why not improve our county? Any improvement that is greatly needed, by as many people as the Woolper bridge should receive ample appropriations and hearty endorsement from every public spirited man in the county. Of course that is what it means. What could it mean? Not what my friend from Petersburg seems to think. I am sure it does not mean that the county is going to build bridges for "a favored few at the expense of the many."

According to this issue I suppose the court-house at Burlington was built "for a favored few" at that place. Of course "a favored few" wanted the court-house there, and so did an unfavored few want it at Union. The court-house was built, however, for the benefit of the people of Boone county. The location was incidental. It was intended for the good of the Commonwealth.

He might as well argue that when the United States needs a war vessel it is built for the pleasure and benefit of the captain and crew who fight it. This view is too narrow and selfish for any public spirited, business man to talk about.

As for his estimate that it will take $75,000 to build bridges in the next five years, is too indefinite to consider.

He must, indeed, be an alarmist who would suppose that because we propose to build a bridge or two this year we are bound to build forty. We need not build any more bridges than we need, and we don't have to cross over them if we don't want to, anyway not until we get them.

The best way to build bridges and pikes, it seems to me, is to create a fund for that purpose by poll and property tax so reasonable and low that no one can give an intelligent excuse for being opposed to it. Then expend this money economically as it accumulates from year to year.

Talking about $75,000—putting it up as a scarecrow, and that sort of things, does not bother the people of this county. We are throwing away $7,000 every year. In seven more years we will have spent, at this rate, more than $70,000—really throwing it away on mud roads. What have we to show for the three years past? Nothing—literally nothing. Have you any reason to believe the next seven years will prove different if continued so long? Of course not.

If the people must throw away their money this or anyother way, let them build bridges. Then they will have something beneficial and substantial to show for it, and may be they will become progressive enough to build pikes so they can get to these bridges.

I think the Fiscal Court has made a move in the right direction; but I am afraid it has the bull by the tail instead of the horns. He is headed in the proper direction and will soon get there. But it would look more like business if he was under better control.

My friend, this talk about a benefit to a few at the expense of the many, when it comes to improving our county roads and keeping the public thoroughfares in good, safe condition for travel and traffic, is all wrong—it is selfishness pure and simple. It would prompt our citizen from Petersburg to be perfectly willing to have a bridge across Woolper provided he lived at or near said ford.

We must be progressive and broad-minded enough to be in favor of public improvements somewhere else besides in front of our own door step. Most of this hue and cry about high taxes is a bluff, for there is no one who wants or advocates a ruinous tax at all, much less any danger of such a thing under our form of government. While it is necessary to increase the tax rate slightly, in order to make public improvements, by increasing the total value of taxable property, it decrease the tax rate.

Some people's objections to public improvements remind me of the old time farmer's objection to a binders. It cost too much and much more than a cradle. Of course it does, but don't it pay for itself a few years? Where is the progressive, up-to-date farmer who can't see this plain enough? It would be strange in deed if those same men allowed themselves to be deceived and misled, when it comes to improvements of another nature. One ought to know better than to be frightened by extravagant talk of tax and bankruptcy engaged in by some people. We heard this kind of talk when our able Superintendent of Public schools tore down the old school houses and replaced them with new ones and first class buildings. The good people were scared. They have learned better now, and realize that in the better health of their children they have been more than paid for the investment. More than that, there are more and more people in Boone county, who believe that plenty of good churches and good school houses, pikes and bridges, and all these things that make our people and county what they are, not only pay morally, religiously and mark the progress of our civilization; but pay in dollars and cents. We are justly proud of all these improvements, and no one is hurt by the small amount of money each has invested this way.

The Indian of old was content to follow in the foot paths of his forefather or chieftain; but the Indian and his ways are fast disappearing before the onward march of a more progressive and higher civilized people. Our nation, too, has become a great, rich and highly civilized power, not by crossing the great plains in the old prairie schooners—fighting battles with the old flintlock musket, no indeed. But by spending millions of money for great trans-continental railroads and other international improvements—buying the most improved fire artillery with which to defend her rights, and the most improved modern steel-clad, electric geared, steam power battleships.

Yes, my friend—taxpayer from Petersburg—we are all taxpayers. each according to his ability, and the poor man on his little farm pay more in the long run than the rich man on his wealth. When you sift it all down to basic, economical facts, the poor man, with his muscles builds our homes, railroads, bridges, pikes, fights our battles, and supplies us with every comfort and luxury we have, and, according to the wage system that muscle is rated by supply and demand However supply generally exceeds demand. The poor man's muscle is nearly always underrated. It is not the poor man, however, who is opposed to improvements. It does him good, and brings him labor and he wants it.

Now, we want to invest our money judiciously—not throw it away or make any improvements burdensome: but we must have better roads, pikes and a few much needed bridges. We can have them and nobody be hurt or any the worse off and everybody benefitted.

We are tired of cutting hay with the scythe and gathering with the hand rake when we can have a modern mower and rake.

We are tired of plowing with the old shovel plow and planting corn with the hoe when we can save money by investing in modern plows and drills.

So it is in regard to everything else. Let us not be afraid to invest a little money in building good pikes and bridges in old Boone where they are needed, or get scared and imagine that if we are taxed a few dollars to build roads that it will ruin us. We all, no doubt have habits that are taxing us more than that—money that we profess not to miss, and it don't do us or our neighbors any good either.

Go slow, my friend from Petersburg, and let the good people of Woolper have the bridge they have needed so long. We will give you something after awhile.

Now, in conclusion, allow me to observe that I hope this is the beginning of a general, intelligent improvement of our highways. That this ray of light enables us to see the end of mud roads and dangerous fordings of creeks. Let us take courage then, all who are in favor of improving our rich and beautiful Commonwealth of Boone county.

There never was any real advance by any people to better their condition that was not bitterly opposed by a few. It is impossible for us all to see alike. It is impossible for us to pass any law for the general good that will bear on all exactly equal. We strike the balance when we obtain the greatest good to the greatest number. This is what we obtain by building pikes and bridges and other public improvements.

I trust that those who have so nobly begun the fight for internal improvements will consistently continue until we have respectable highways and thoroughfares all over the county. We may then be justly proud of our progress.

M. J. CROUCH.

CALIFORNIA LETTER.

Mason, Co.,
LOS GATOS, CAL., and Mrs. J., 1898.

California, I suppose, is what most all eastern people like to hear about, and would like to see. Well, I have seen at least a part of this glorious state if not all of it.

I was not very favorably impressed with it when I first saw it, and I am not very much yet. I was in San Francisco one month at Mr. Wm. Corbin's. I did not like Frisco very much. The wind blew too much to suit me, and the fog, well, some mornings you could hardly see any where—almost like rain, and the sand. I was ridiculed considerably for calling it "dirt," but if you started out walking, you would have your shoes filled with it before you went a half dozen steps.

Mr. Corbin's place is quite a distance from the city, at a place called Ingleside, on one side of which you could see the Pacific Ocean, while on the other, the San Francisco Bay.

I visited the Golden Gate Park, and the Cliff House, and saw the sea-lions. We passed through the Golden Gate upon entering the bay.

I made a two days' visit in Portland, Oregon, on my way to Frisco, with Miss Clemmie Tupman, of Boone county. I had a very pleasant visit. That is a pretty place. Four mountains covered with snow can be seen, one of which is Mt. Hood.

My trip down on the steamer to Frisco, I thoroughly enjoyed. I fully expected to be sea sick but fortunately was not.

I came to Los Gatos on the eleventh of July. It is a small place about sixty miles south of San Francisco at the foot of the Santa Cruz mountains.

I have made two flying visits to San Jose. This is a large western town, situated in a valley surrounded by mountains, one of which is Mt. Hamilton. The Lick Observatory is at the summit of this mountain. The "large" towns out here seem very queer to me, and very small. They have less of the modern improvements than the eastern cities.

Even if California has a lovely climate that is about all she can boast of and for me, I believe I am partial to Old Kentucky.

GRACE RUSSELL.

ROOSEVELT is very angry over the genteel rebuke Secretary Alger gave him because of his egotistical letter to the department. Alger has a sense of propriety—Roosevelt none.

BLANCO has charged Admiral Cervera with incapacity, and the Admiral is very angry because thereof. It now looks as though both Spain and the United States will have a season of investigation of charges against their officers as soon as they have time to give the matter attention.

SOME of those supposed to be well versed in State craft predict that this country's troubles because of the war with Spain will now become a reality, and to control the newly acquired territory will cost an immense amount before anything will be realized on the investment of money and the sacrifice of life already made. The Philippine islands are those from which the most trouble is apprehended, as they are so far from this country; but it is not yet settled as to what extent America is to govern in those far off islands. It may be that the commission to which the Philippine problem is to be submitted may devise a plan by which this country will be enabled to withdraw from the Phippines and leave the control of them to those who will have a better opportunity to look after their political and commercial interests.

Kentucky Crop Report.

Condition of Crops and Live Stock August 1st, 1898.

For the August report replies are received from 152 correspondents, representing 103 counties.

WHEAT—Threshing has progressed favorably throughout the wheat belt during July and the result in the various States may be epitomized as follows: Ohio has a fair yield of wheat of a good quality. Michigan, the yield and quality are both excellent. Indiana has a light yield with quality good. Illinois, with the exception of the southern section and a few counties in the northeast, the yield and quality both poor. Wisconsin, the yield and quality both satisfactory. Iowa, the yield and quality both better than was anticipated one month ago. Nebraska, the crop varies widely in the several sections of the State and will average rather below than above the medium as to yield. Kansas and Missouri, the crop failed to come up to the very poor prospects of July 1st. Much of the acreage remained uncut, and of that which was harvested a large per cent proved unmerchantable.

Spring wheat prospects have improved inasmuch as the threatened injury from rust did not occur to the extent anticipated.

In Kentucky the month of July has been favorable to threshing, with the exception of the last week of the month when frequent showers put a stop to further progress. Much less than the usual amount has been threshed to date, due to farmers having their crop in stack and preferring to hold it in that form.

The question "has yield equalled expectations" resulted in 76 replies in the affirmative and 67 in the negative. In 1897 the same question elicited 100 answers in the affirmative and 11 in the negative.

To the question on quality 64 correspondents set it down as "good" 59 as "average" and 18 report it "bad." In 1897 110 correspondents reported quality "good," 5 an "average" and no reports of bad quality were received.

On the subject of the marketing of the crop 18 correspondents say it is being sold as threshed and 124 say it is being held for higher prices.

The average price for No. 2 wheat August 1st, was 68c. In 1897 the price at the same date 66c.

CORN—The corn crop as a whole presents a very satisfactory condition. Portions of the State embracing the entire counties of Carroll, Gallatin, Trimble, Kenton, Campbell, Grant and Bracken in the central section, with portions of the counties of Muhlenberg, Meade and Breckinridge in the western and Pulaski and Laurel in the eastern section, suffered serious injury from drouth, which was not relieved until July 26-28. Much of the injury will be permanent and the crop of these counties will be short, percentage running as low as 40 in Bracken, 50 in Kenton and 53 in Campbell county.

In the western section, in addition to the injury from drouth in Breckinridge, Muhlenberg and Meade counties, a section, composed of the counties of Todd, Webster and Crittenden, have suffered from an excess of moisture. Some damage from chinch bug is also reported from this section. No very low percentage of condition is reported from the western section.

The condition for the State averages 97, which is an improvement of one point during July. On August 1st, 1897, the condition was 93 and on same date of 1896 the condition was 85.

In the three subdivisions of the State the condition average 98 for the western, 94 for the central and 100 for the eastern. The condition improved materially during the month in the western section while it appears to have fallen off slightly in the central. In the eastern section the condition remains exactly as reported July 1st.

TOBACCO has not fared well during July. The wide difference in the condition of the early and late set tobacco was accentuated during the month and it now appears that a very little of the late setting can be counted upon to make either a good yield or a good quality of the article. So pronounced are reports on these points that it may be set down as assured that the anticipated large crop will not be realized.

The increase in acreage, which was estimated at 23 per cent., compared with the acreage of 1897, would give scarcely a normal acreage, since the acreage of 1897 was abnormally small. In the central or Burley district the increase was notably small, 9 per cent. The largest increase; 36 per cent., being reported from the eastern section, where but a small proportion of the crop is grown, greatly strengthens this view of the case.

The crop shows an average condition 83 for the State, which is a falling off of 9 points during July. On August 1st, 1897, the condition was 61, and for a corresponding date of 1896 it was 87.

In the western section of the State the crop has suffered from drouth in a few counties and from excess moisture in others with the result that the condition has fallen from 93, July 1st, to 86, August 1st.

In the central section dry weather is the principal source of evil. Little or no complaint is made of worms. A few counties report a high average condition, notably Bourbon, 120, Scott, 110, Fleming, 105, but a report above a condition of 80 is an exception rather than the rule. The condition for this section averages 75. On July 1st the condition for the section was 84.

Of the counties of the eastern section very few produce a crop for other than home market. Here the condition is 87.

TIMOTHY MEADOWS—The yield of timothy is 90 per cent. of the yield for average years. The yield in the western section is 95 per cent. of an average, while in the central section the yield is 92 per cent. of an average years.

PASTURES AND LIVE STOCK—Pastures are good, with the exception of a portion of the central section, where it has been too dry; however, the condition averages 98. In the western section the condition compared with average years is 101. Live stock are thrifty as a rule. The only disease noted outside of a normal number of reports of hog cholera is "pinkeye" among cattle in Carlisle county.

LUCAS MOORE.
Commissioner of Agriculture.

Pith of the Press.

Teddy Roosevelt is a rough rider and plain speaker.—Boston Globe.

Sampson is evidently a naval mugwump.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Who wouldn't sink a Merrimac to be kissed as Hobson was?—Philadelphia North American.

Persons in a position to know say that Colonel Roosevelt writes as he fights.—Chicago News.

It seems that Aguinaldo is a bad boy who is going to be rather hard to spank.—Kansas City Journal.

President McKinley is getting ready to move the previous question on Spain.—Ohio State Journal.

After this Alger and Roosevelt had better drop letter writing and use the long-distance telephone.—Toledo Bee.

In Dewey, Schley and Shafter the United States has three first-class battle "hims" of the republic.—Chicago Times Herald.

Aguinaldo will discover that American supremacy is of a different variety from the Spanish.—Springfield, Ill., News.

THE wily Sultan of Turkey appears to have talked this government to a standstill in the game of diplomacy that has been going on for several years over the claims of American missionaries for $100,000 for property destroyed by Tuskish mobs. The claim was first made by the Cleveland administration, and from its first filing until very recently the public has been told from time to time that the government was about to compel the Sultan to settle up. Nothing official can be obtained, but from other sources it is learned that the Sultan has positively refused to pay a cent, taking the ground that his government was not responsible. Ordinarily such a refusal could have been easily met, but in this case the refusal was based on a quotation from an answer given by this government to another government that had presented a claim for property destroyed by a riotous mob. That is what brought this government to a standstill, until the next move can be thought out.

The Harvest Home people are busy arranging for the big exhibition next Saturday.

TRIALS OF THIS WORLD.

It Will Require a God's Strength to Overcome Them.

Man's Own Natural Determination to Win Often Carries Him Safely Through Troubles Times--Sermon By Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

This discourse of Dr. Talmage is full of encouragement for those who know not which way to turn because of accumulated misfortunes. Text, I. Samuel, xiv., 4: There was a sharp rock on the one side and a sharp rock on the other side.

The cruel army of the Philistines must be taken and scattered. There is just one man, accompanied by his bodyguard, to do that thing. Jonathan is the hero of the scene. I know that David cracked the skull of the giant with a few pebbles well slung, and that 300 Gideonites scattered 10,000 Amalekites by the crash of broken crockery; but here is a more wonderful conflict. Yonder are the Philistines on the rocks. Here is Jonathan with his bodyguard in the valley. On the one side is a rock called Bozez, on the other side is a rock called Seneh. These two were as famous in olden times as in modern times are Plymouth Rock and Gibraltar. They were precipitous, unscalable and sharp. Between these two rocks Jonathan must make his ascent. The day comes for the scaling of the height. Jonathan on his hands and feet begins the ascent. With strain and slip and bruise, I suppose, but still on and up, first goes Jonathan and then goes his bodyguard. Bozez on one side, Seneh on the other. After a sharp tug, and push, and eliuging, I see the head of Jonathan above the hole in the mountain, and there is a challenge and a fight, and a supernatural consternation. These two men, Jonathan and his bodyguard, drive back and drive down the Philistines over the rocks, and open a campaign which demolishes the enemies of Israel. I suppose that the overhanging and overshadowing rocks on either side did not balk or disheaxten Jonathan or his bodyguard, but only roused and filled them with enthusiasm as they went up. "There was a sharp rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side."

My friends, you have been, or are now, some of you, in this crisis of the text. If a man meets any trouble he can go through with it. He gathers all his energies, concentrates them on one point, and in the strength of God, or by his own natural determination, goes through it. But the man who has trouble to the right of him, and trouble to the left of him, is to be pitied. Did either trouble come alone, he might endure it, but two troubles, two disasters, two overshadowing misfortunes, are Bozez and Seneh. God pity him! "There is a sharp rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side."

In this crisis of the text is that man whose fortune and health fail him at the same time. Nine-tenths of all our merchants capsize in business before they come to 45 years of age. There is some collision in commercial circles, and they stop payment. It seems as if every man must put his name on the back of a note before he learns what a fool a man is who risks all his own property on the prospect that some man will tell the truth. It seems as if a man must have a large amount of unsalable goods on his own shelf before he learns how much easier it is to buy than to sell. It seems as if every man must be completely burned out before he learns the importance of always keeping fully insured. It seems as if every man must be wrecked in a financial tempest before he learns to keep things snug in case of a sudden cyclone.

When the calamity does come it is awful. The man goes home in despair, and he tells his family, "We'll have to go to the poorhouse." He takes a dolorous view of everything. It seems as if he never could rise. But a little time passes and he says: "Why, I am not so badly off after all; I have my family left."

Before the Lord turned Adam out of Paradise, He gave him Eve, so that when he lost Paradise he could stand it. Permit one who has never read but a few novels in all his life, and who has not a great deal of romance in his composition, to say that if, when a man's fortunes fail, he has a good wife—a good Christian wife—he ought not to be despondent. "Oh," you say, "it not only increases the embarrassment, since you have her also to take care of." You are an ingrate, for the woman as often supports the man as the man supports the woman. The man may bring the dollars, but the woman generally brings the courage and the faith in God.

Well, this man of whom I am speaking looks around, and he finds his family left, and he rallies, and the light comes to his eyes, and the smile to his face, and the courage to his heart. In two years he is quite over it. He makes his financial calamity the first chapter in a new era of prosperity. He met that one trouble—conquered it. He sat down for a little while under the grim shadow of the rock Bozez; yet he soon rose, and began, like Jonathan, to climb. But how often is it that physical ailment comes with financial embarrassment! When the fortune failed it broke the man's spirit. His nerves were shattered. His brain was stunned.

I can show you hundreds of men in our cities whose fortunes and health failed at the same time. They came prematurely to the staff. Their hand trembled with incipient paralysis. They never saw a well day since the hour when they called their creditors together for a compromise. If such men are impatient, and peculiar, and irritable, excuse them. They had two troubles, either one of which they could have met successfully. If when the health went the fortune had been retained, it would not have been so bad. The man could have bought the very best medical advice, and he could have had the very best attendance, and long lines of carriages would have stopped at the front door to inquire as to his welfare. But poverty on the one side and sickness on the other are Bozez and Seneh, and they interlock their shadows, and drop them upon the poor man's way. God help him! "There is a sharp rock on the one side and a sharp rock on the other side."

Now what is such a man to do? In the name of Almighty God, I will tell him what to do. Do as Jonathan did—climb; climb up into the sunlight of God's favor and consolation. I can go through the churches and show you men who lost fortune and health at the same time, and yet who sing all day and dream of Heaven all night. If you have any idea that sound digestion, and steady nerves, and clear eyesight, and good hearing, and plenty of friends, are necessary to make a man happy, you have miscalculated. I suppose that these overhanging rocks only made Jonathan scramble the harder and the faster to get up and out into the sunlight, and this combined shadow of invalidism and financial embarrassment has often sent a man up the quicker into the sunlight of God's favor and the noonday of his glorious promises.

It is a difficult thing for a man to feel his dependence upon God when he has $10,000 in the bank, and $50,000 in government securities, and a block of stores and three ships. "Well," the man says to himself, "it is silly for me to pray. 'Give me this day my daily bread,' when my pantry is full, and the canals from the west are crowded with breadstuffs destined for my storehouses." Oh, my friends, if the combined misfortune and disaster of life have made you climb up into the arms of a sympathetic and compassionate God, through all eternity you bless him that in this world "there was a sharp rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side."

Again, that man is in the crisis of the text who has home troubles and outside persecution at the same time. The world treats a man well just as long as it pays to treat him well. As long as it can manufacture success out of his bone and brain and muscle, it favors him. The world fattens the horse it wants to drive. But let a man see it his duty to cross the track of the world, then every bush is full of horns and tusks thrust at him. They will caricature him. They will call his generosity self aggrandizement and his piety sanctimoniousness. The very worst persecution will sometimes come upon him from those who profess to be Christians.

John Milton—great and good John Milton—so far forgot himself as to pray, in so many words, that his enemies might be eternally thrown down into the darkest and deepest gulf of hell, and be the undermost and most dejected, and the lowest down vassals of perdition! And Martin Luther so far forgot himself as to say, in regard to his theological opponents: "Put them in whatever sauce you please, roasted, or fried, or baked, or stewed, or boiled, or hashed, they are nothing but asses!" Ah, my friends, if John Milton or Martin Luther could come down to such scurility, what may you not expect from less elevated opponents? Now, sometimes the world takes after them, the newspapers take after them, public opinion takes after them, and the unfortunate man is lied about until all the dictionary of billingsgate is exhausted on him. You often see a man whom you know to be good and pure and honest set upon by the world and mauled by whole communities, while vicious men take on a supercilious air of condemnation of him, as though Lord Jeffreys should write an essay on gentleness, or Henry VIII. talk about purity, or King Herod take to blessing little children.

Now, a certain amount of persecution arouses a man's defiance, stirs his blood for magnificent battle and makes him 50 times more a man than he would have been without the persecution. So it was with the great reformer when he said, "I will not be put down; I will be heard." And so it was with Millard, the preacher, in the time of Louis XI. When Louis XI sent word to him that unless he stopped preaching in that style he would throw him into the river, he replied, "Tell the king that I will reach Heaven sooner by water than he will reach it by fast horses." A certain amount of persecution is a tonic and inspiration, but too much of it and too long continued becomes the rock Bozez throwing a dark shadow over a man's life. What is he to do then? Go home, you say. Good advice, that. That is just the place for a man to go when the world abuses him. Go home, blessed be God, for our quiet and sympathetic homes! But there is many a man who has the reputation of having a home when he has none. Through unthinkingness or precipitation there are many matches made that ought never to have been made. An officiating priest can not alone unite a couple. The Lord Almighty must proclaim banns. There are many homes in which there is no sympathy, and no happiness, and no good cheer.

The clamor of the battle may not have been heard outside; but God knows, notwithstanding all the playing of the "Wedding March," and all the odor of the orange blossoms, and the benediction of the officiating pastor, there has been no marriage. So sometimes men have awakened to find on one side of them the rock of persecution, and on the other side of them the rock of domestic infelicity. What shall such a one do? Do as Jonathan did—climb. Get up the heights of God's consolation, from which you may look down in triumph upon outside persecution and home trouble. While good and great John Wesley was being silenced by the magistrates, and having his name written on the board fences of London in doggerel, at that very time his wife was making him as miserable as she could—acting as though she were possessed by the devil, as I suppose she was; never doing him a kindness until the day she ran away, so that he wrote in his diary these words: "I did not forsake her; I have not dismissed her; I will not recall her." Planting one foot upon outside persecution and the other foot on home trouble, John Wesley climbed up into the heights of Christian joy, and after preaching 40,000 sermons and traveling 270,000 miles reached the heights of Heaven, though in this world he had it hard enough—"a sharp rock on the one side and a sharp rock on the other."

Again, that woman stands in the crisis of the text who has bereavement and a struggle for a livelihood at the same time. Without mentioning names, I speak from observation. Ah, it is a hard thing for a woman to make an honest living, even when her heart is not troubled, and she has a fair cheek, and the magnetism of an exquisite presence. But now the husband, or the father, is dead. The expenses of the obsequies have absorbed all that was left in the savings bank, and wan and wasted with weeping and watching, she goes forth—a grave, a hearse, a coffin before her—to contend for her existence and the existence of her children.

When I see such a battle as that open, I shudder at the ghastliness of the spectacle. Men sit with embroidered slippers and write heartless essays about starvation wages; but that question is not settled up on leaves, and blood, and there is more blood than tears. Oh, give women free access to all the realms where she can get a livelihood, from the telegraph office to the pulpit. Let men's wages be cut down before hers are cut down. Men have iron in their souls and can stand it. Make the way free to her of the broken heart. May God put into my hand the bitter cup of privation and give me nothing but a windowless hut for shelter for many years, rather than that after I am dead there should go out from my home into the pitiless world a woman's arm to fight the Gettysburg, the Austerlitz, the Waterloo of life for bread. And yet how many women there are seated between the rock of bereavement on the one side and the rock of destitution on the other! Bozez and Seneh interlocking their shadows and dropping them upon her miserable way. "There is a sharp rock on the one side and a sharp rock on the other side."

What are such to do? Somehow, let them climb into the heights of the glorious promise: "Leave thy fatherless children. I will preserve them alive, and let thy widows trust in me." Or get up into the heights of that other glorious promise: "The Lord preserveth the stranger and relieveth the widow and the fatherless". O ye sewing women on starving wages! O ye widows, turned out from the once beautiful home! O ye female teachers, kept on niggardly stipend! O ye despairing women, seeking in vain for work, wandering along the docks, and thinking to throw yourselves into the river last night! O ye women of weak nerves, and aching sides, and short breath, and broken heart, you need something more than human sympathy; you need the sympathy of God. Climb up into His arms. He knows it all, and He loves you more than father, or mother, or husband ever could or ever did; and, instead of sitting down, wringing your hands in despair, you had better begin to climb. There are heights of consolation for you, though now "there is a sharp rock on one side, and a sharp rock on the other side."

Again, that man in the crisis of the text who has a wasted life on the one side and an unilluminated eternity on the other. Though a man may all his life have cultured deliberation and self-poise, if he gets into that position, all the self-possession is gone. There are all the wrong thoughts of his existence, all the wrong deeds, all the wrong words—strata above strata, granitic, ponderous, overshadowing. That rock I call Bozez. On the other side there are all the retributions of the future, the thrones of judgment, the eternal ages, angry with his long defiance. That rock I call Seneh. Between these two rocks 10,000 times 10,000 have perished.

O man immortal, man redeemed, man blood-bought, climb up out of those shadows! Climb up by the way of the Cross. Have eternal life forgiven. Have your eternal life secured. This hour just take one look to the past, and see what it has been; and take one look to the future, and see what it threatens to be. You can afford to lose your health; you can afford to lose your property, you can afford to lose your reputation; but you can not afford to lose your soul. That, bright, gleaming, glorious, precious, eternal possession you must carry aloft in the day when the earth burns up and the heavens burst.

You see from my subject that when a man gets into the safety and peace of the Gospel he does not demean himself. There is nothing in religion that leads to meanness or unmanliness. The Gospel of Jesus Christ only asks you to climb as Jonathan did—climb toward God, climb toward Heaven, climb into the sunshine of God's favor. To become a Christian is not to go meanly down; it is to come gloriously up—up into the communion of saints; up into the peace that passeth all understanding; up into the companionship of angels. He lives upward; he dies upward.

Oh, then, accept the wholesale invitation which I make this day, to all the people! Come up from between your invalidism and financial embarrassments. Come up from between your bereavements and your destitution. Come up from between a wasted life and unilluminated eternity. Like Jonathan, climb up with all your might instead of sitting down to wring your hands in the shadow and in the darkness—"a sharp rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side."

MEDICAL authorities believe that a certain quantity of sugar is necessary to health, especially if a person is energetic. It is claimed that no substance restores muscular waste so quickly as sugar.

GEN. ERNEST TAKES COAMO.

Gen. Miles Reports to the War Department —Cols. Hulings and Biddle Are Especially to Be Commended.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The war department late Thursday gave out the following delayed telegram:

Secretary of War, Washington—The following received from Gen. Wilson: —

PONCE, Aug. 9.—Gen. Ernest's brigade capture Coamo 8:30 this morning. Sixteenth Pennsylvania, Col. Hulings commanding, led by Lieut. Col. Biddle, of my staff, having made a turning movement through the mountains, striking the Albonito road half mile beyond town, captured the entire garrison of Coamo, about 150 men. Spanish commander Illeros and Lieut. Lopez killed. Our loss reported as wounded, only one severely. Men and officers behaved excellently. Col. Hulings and Col. Biddle are especially to be commended. This is a very important capture, and well executed. Names of wounded as soon as received here. MILES.

DISPATCHES FROM MILES.

A List of the Wounded of the 16th Pennsylvania and 6th Ohio in Skirmishes Near Coamo, Porto Rico.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The war department has received two dispatches from Gen. Miles, under date of Ponce, August 10, as follows:

Secretary of War, Washington:

The following is a list of wounded in the 16th Pennsylvania in the skirmish beyond Coamo, August 9: Corp. Barnes, company E, left side; Private C. C. Frank, company C, right side; Private George Whitlock, company C, right side; Private L. Ubold, company E, right elbow; Private E. V. Jolly, company F, left arm. MILES.

Secretary of War, Washington:

Have established telegraphic communication with Gen. Brooke, who reports that in a skirmish on the 8th with the enemy about three miles north of Gauayma, Gen. Haines forced enemy to retreat.

The following men of the 4th Ohio were wounded; none killed: Capt. Edward O. Thompson, Company K, in right breast; Private Samuel J. Jones, right knee; Private Noble W. Hanlacker, Company C, in ankle; Private Harry S. Haines, Company C, in right foot; Private Wm. Jeddington, Company A, in right hip. MILES.

Spanish Forces Driven Back.

PONCE, Aug. 12, via St. Thomas, Aug. 12.—Gen. Schwan's forces, which are en route to Mayaguez, had an engagement with 1,300 Spaniards near Hormigueros Wednesday, inflicting considerable damage upon the enemy. The Spaniards were driven back and Americans pushed on toward Mayaguez. Our loss was 2 killed and 15 wounded. Among the Spanish wounded was a lieutenant, who was found on the field after the enemy retired.

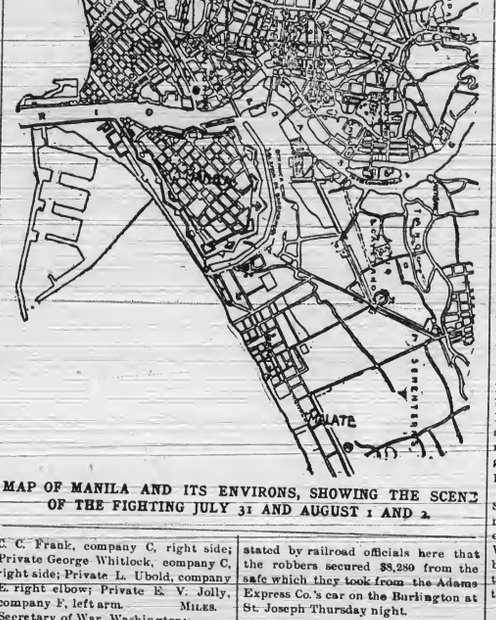
Land Restored to the Public Domain.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Three hundred and sixty-seven thousand acres of land will be restored to the public domain in Minnesota and on October 5 next entrees for homestead titles can be made. The land is in the Duluth and Crookston districts and is a part of the Red Lake Indian reservation. The area of ground involved comprises 16 townships.

The War Goes On.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—"You can deny most positively, emphatically and officially the report that orders have been sent to Gen. Miles to stop hostilities in Porto Rico." Secretary Alger made this statement Thursday afternoon when he heard that the report was abroad that hostilities had been ordered stopped. It was stated at the department that no orders would be sent to Gen. Miles to stop his campaign until peace negotiations were signed and executed.

AN EXPRESS TRAIN HELD UP



The Omaha Flyer on the Burlington Road, Robbed by Six Well Armed Bandits, Near Dug Hill, Mo.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 12.—The incoming Omaha flyer, on the Burlington road, was held up at Dug Hill, two miles north of here, at 9 o'clock Thursday night by five or six well armed men. After securing possession of the express car the robbers rolled the Adams Express Co.'s small safe out of the car door into a wagon and endeavored to haul it away. They abandoned their task however and soon dumped the safe out on the highway. The safe was recovered two hours after the hold-up and had not been opened, the train men say. Though several shots were fired, to intimidate the trainmen, none of the passengers were molested.

The robbers stopped the train by swinging a red lantern across the track. The engineer obeyed the signal amidst a fusillade from both sides of the track. One of the robbers cut the engine loose and compelled the engineer to run it down the road 200 yards. The conductor came out when the train stopped, but was ordered back into the smoker, where he remained. Express Messenger Hogue offered no resistance. The robbers were but a few minutes rolling out the small safe and quitting the scene of the robbery.

Though the railroad express men here claim that the robbers secured nothing, it is reported that considerable booty was secured.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 11.—It is

MAP OF MANILA AND ITS ENVIRONS, SHOWING THE SCENE OF THE FIGHTING JULY 31 AND AUGUST 1 AND 2.

IN A FIT OF DRUNKEN RAGE.

Policeman Hawley, of New York, Shoots His Wife, Mother and Two Children—He Then Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Policeman Henry C. Hawley, of the Tenderloin station, while in a fit of drunken rage Thursday, shot his wife, his mother, Mary Hawley, his son, four years old, and his daughter, six years old. He then shot himself in the head. He was taken to Bellevue hospital, where he died soon afterward. The others were taken to the New York hospital where it was said that they would die.

The only explanation of the crime was a statement made by Hawley's wife before losing consciousness to the effect that "drink has caused all this."

Mrs. Mary Hawley, the mother of the policeman, died Thursday night in the New York hospital.

Her body as well as those of Hawley and the two children were taken to an undertaking establishment, where they were viewed by hundreds.

Not as Disastrous as Reported.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Aug. 12.—The steamer City of Topeka, which arrived Thursday from Skaguay, Alaska, reports that the recent fire at Skaguay was not as disastrous as reported. Only a few deserted cabins in the outskirts of the town were burned. A few hundred dollars will cover the loss.

The 17th May Return to Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—An effort may be made by citizens of Columbus to have the 17th United States infantry sent back to this city when the regiment is returned from Santiago. The regiment was stationed here before being sent to the front at the outbreak of hostilities, and has many friends. If possible, the war department will be prevailed upon to send the 17th back to Columbus to regain their strength. Mayor Black and the board of trade of the city have taken the matter up.

NEWS ITEMS.

Advices received at Yokohama from Seoul say Corea intends to adopt the gold standard.

Brig. Gen. Ezra P. Ewers, United States volunteers, has been appointed governor of the city of Guantanamo.

For the week failures have been 196 in the United States, against 239 last year, and 18 in Canada, against 38 last year.

War department officials deny generally the assertions of discomfort and ill-usage of troops reported from Montauk Point.

At a meeting Thursday afternoon of the executive committee of Tammany hall, it was decided to not recognize the new state election law.

The Greek government has declined an offer from the government of Nicaragua to purchase three of the largest ironclads of the Greek fleet.

Total receipts of Klondike gold at the government assay office in Seattle, Wash., up to date aggregate two and one quarter million dollars.

The Oklahoma and Indian territory volunteer troops now rendezvousing at Ft. Reno, have received orders to move and will leave for Ft. Whipple, A. T., next Tuesday.

Late advices from Sitka, Alaska, state that large and extensive coal deposits have been discovered at Whale bay, on Baranoff islands, about 40 miles from Sitka.

The salmon fishing season on the Columbia river closed at midnight. The season's pack amounts to 315,000 cases, which is 751,000 cases below the pack of last year.

Mount Vesuvius is now in a state of eruption from a new crater. The eruption is supposed to be connected with the seismic disturbance felt at Messina and in Southern Italy.

An earthquake shock was felt at Messina, Sicily Friday, afternoon and at various points in the island and the southern part of the peninsula. No damage resulted from the disturbance.

Diego de Vivo, one of the best known impressarios in the United States, died at his home in New York City Thursday from paralysis. He was stricken on Saturday morning last and never rallied.

The naval board of construction has decided not to make new designs for the battle ship Maine, Missouri and Ohio, but to recommend to Secretary Long that the bids for those vessels be opened September 1.

News has reached New York of the death of Dr. Gardner Quincy Colton, the dentist of New York, who, after a three-months' visit to Europe, was about to return home from Rotterdam. Death followed paralysis traceable to old age and its complications. Dr. Colton was 84 years of age.

J. H. Calvert, of Seattle, Wash., who has returned from Alaska, reports a big stampede has occurred from Lake Bennett and the trails to Big Taku, about 80 miles in the interior. The rush was started by the report that gold running from two to six dollars a pan had been found.

Maj. Gen. Henry W. Lawton, United States volunteers, has been appointed military governor of the department of Santiago, and Brig. Gen. Leonard Wood, United States volunteers, has been requested to remain governor of the city of Santiago, under Gen. Lawton.

A band of armed brigands stormed the Usponic monastry near Toltrea, Romania. In the fight that ensued two monks were killed and many wounded. The others fled. The brigands then pillaged the monastry and decamped. Two have since been arrested.

Rev. A. A. Moore, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, and father of Gen. Milton Moore, of Kansas City, now at Chickamauga with the army, is dead at his home in Wellington, Mo. Rev. Moore was 87 years of age and was born in Eastern Tennessee.

All of the corps commanders of the army were notified of the suspension of hostilities. In response to the notification sent to Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, the former consul general at Havana, wired the war department: "Thanks. The 8th corps has ceased firing. Unofficial."

At 11 o'clock Friday night Adjt. Gen. Corbin received from Gen. Shafter an acknowledgement of the receipt by him of the proclamation of the president. Up to midnight no reply had been received from Gen. Miles, it having been impossible to get into communication with him.

Gen. Greely has received a dispatch from Lieut. Col. Reber, at Ponce, stating that the signal corps there have used up all their insulators and that the work of extending the telegraph service will proceed at the rate of ten or twelve miles a day. Gen. Greely says there must be about two hundred miles of telegraph now in operation in Porto Rico.

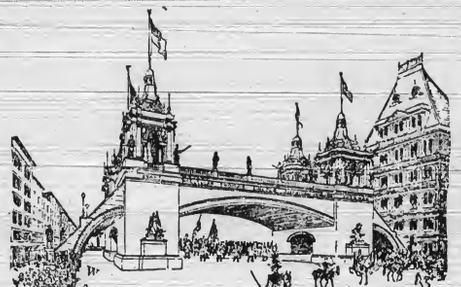
A meeting of ministers representing every denomination was held in Buffalo, N. Y., Thursday, for the purpose of taking action to prevent the proposed Corbett-McCoy prize fight from being held in Erie county.

Adjt. Gen. Corbin announced that hereafter the designation of the camp at Montauk Point will be Camp Wikoff, in honor of Col. Chas. A. Wikoff, of the 23d United States infantry, who was killed at the head of his brigade on the first of July at Santiago. This order was issued by direction of the president.

CARING FOR CROWDS.

Cincinnati Seems to Have Solved a Great Problem.

How Visitors to the Coming Grand Army Encampment Will Be Protected—Unique Police and Medical Arrangements.



[Special Cincinnati (O.) Letter.]

THE thirty-second national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic promises to be replete with interesting features. Four hundred of Cincinnati's leading citizens have been engaged since last winter planning and preparing these features.

Not the least interesting is the police preparations. Cincinnati's police force is recognized the country over as having attained an unusually high degree of proficiency. The city's reputation in that respect is not excelled by any other city in the country. For many years Col. Philip Deitsch, an old soldier, has been at the head of the police force of Cincinnati. Years of patient and earnest endeavor on his part, encouraged by the support of a nonpartisan police board have enabled him to reach present results.

As soon as it was known that the 1898 encampment was to come to Cincinnati, Chief Deitsch began planning for a year hence. He recognized the fact that the city's present force, while ample protection in ordinary times, was not sufficient to cope with the large crowds to be found at every encampment. Not in years has an encampment been held at which Cincinnati did not have at least three or four detectives to assist the department in the encampment city. These experienced men Chief Deitsch decided to make the nucleus around which to build a large and adequate force of thief-takers to work in conjunction with the police proper.

The standing force consists of 350 policemen. From these Chief Dietsch selected 50 of the oldest and most reliable men, their record for arrests and brilliant captures of men wanted in other cities being taken into consideration. For the past six months these 50 men have been in constant training for detectives. Cincinnati has an unusually complete rogues' gallery, where pictures of every noted criminal in the country and many from abroad are to be found. Cincinnati was also one of the first American cities to adopt the Bertillion system of identifying criminals; Chief Deitsch being to-day at the head of the national Bertillion system. With these two ample records of rogues' make-ups to study, the 50 picked men are to-day experienced detectives at least in that part of the art of picking out criminals, which is so essential at a large gathering. These 50 men added to the already large present force were placed under the direct charge of Chief of Detectives Larry Hazen. The force is now well organized, and at least a week before the encampment they will be stationed at all the depots, hotels and on frequented thoroughfares to intercept such members of the light-fingered gentry as may venture to Cincinnati to ply their nefarious trade. With such a well-organized force of detectives to come in contact with, it is safe to say that few of those who do yield to the temptation to visit Cincinnati the first week in September will remain in the city long after learning the exhaustive preparations made for their capture.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT AT CINCINNATI.
(Grand Triumphal Arch to Be Erected on Government Square.)

The force of patrolmen will also be greatly augmented and will include all private watchmen of the city. These men are also receiving special weekly instructions to put them in readiness for the encampment work. It is safe to say that at least 1,000 patrolmen and detectives will be on duty to guard the hundreds of thousands of visitors expected from all parts of the country.

In addition to this general police protection arrangements have been made to extend special protection to the veterans who will occupy free quarters in the school buildings of the city. Two special officers will be assigned to each building, each standing watch 12 hours. They will be under the supervision of an officer of the day for each building. The usual plan of protecting the public on the day of the big parade by stretching wires on both sides of the streets over which the veterans will march will be followed in this city. To accomplish all this requires no little expenditure of money and $10,000 has been set aside by the city authorities for arranging for these special protective features.

From this $10,000 also will be provided an elaborate system of sanitary regulations for public comfort. The board of city affairs, having in mind the health of citizens and visitors alike, will establish in all sections of the city special places of comfort for men and women.

The care of visitors will not be confined to their protection from fellow creatures. Special pains will be taken to minister to the physical wants, particularly of the veterans. There is now organized a medical staff, consisting of more than 300 reputable Cincinnati physicians, who will devote their time and talent one-fourth per week to treating sick visitors. This staff has been organized by Dr. J. C. Culbertson, editor of the Lancet and Clinic. He is an old soldier and a member of the grand army, and all the ranking members of his staff are physicians who saw active service as surgeons in the war of '61 to '65. These physicians will be uniformed and each will be provided with a special medicine bag containing remedies which are of value in cases of sudden illness.

The bags and medicine were presented to Dr. Culbertson by a prominent Philadelphia drug house, as a compliment to him. To make the work of these 300 physicians practical and effective the city will be districted and each physician will be assigned to a certain district. One physician will also be assigned to each school building where veterans are quartered, and will make a daily visit to see if his services are needed. These men will look after the general health of the old soldiers. Another division of the medical corps will be assigned to points at which large crowds are likely to gather, the desire being to have medical or surgical aid always instantly available. Accordingly some physicians will be assigned to Coney Island, the Lagoon, Chester park and other of the pleasure resorts. On the boats plying to and from Coney island still other physicians will be stationed. On Thursday night, when the fireworks display will be given at three different parts of the city simultaneously, a number of physicians will be scattered through the crowd. Their uniforms will be of such a nature as to plainly indicate their calling.

The efforts of the citizens of Cincinnati along this line will not, however, be confined to necessities. Beside the protection afforded by the police and the physicians, a committee on public comfort will go even further and provide some of the luxuries of life. Doing an encampment is at best a strenuous work. In other cities it has been no uncommon sight to see well-dressed people sitting on the curb stones to rest their weary limbs. In this city a committee of which W. C. Johnson, a grand army veteran, is chairman, will provide places of rest for men and women, separately, on nearly every square in the heart of the city. All vacant storerooms will be converted into comfortable quarters with a profusion of chairs and cots and a liberal supply of ice water. These places will be plainly marked so that anyone who becomes tired on the sidewalk can look forward or backward and find one within his view. In these retreats the old soldiers can sit down and read or write, or can take a nap on one of the cots. The places of rest for the ladies will be in the churches in the down town districts. They will be fitted up with all the equipments that tend to bring comfort to a weary woman.

The one ambition of the people of Cincinnati is to send the old soldier and his friends home as well as they came, and satisfied with their entertainment.

WILL L. FINCH.

The Annexation of Texas.

The annexation of Texas brought on the Mexican war. That brought a large addition to our territory. It was necessary to settle the question of slavery in the annexed territory, and this opened the slavery question anew. Both of the old parties were after awhile split asunder by the debate, and the question of slavery or no slavery in the territories became the leading issue in our politics. In 16 years from the annexation of Texas, this chain of causes had plunged the country into the most tremendous civil war in the history of the world. In just 20 years the war had ended in the entire abolition of slavery in the United States. Thus, the annexation of Texas brought about unforeseen results and changed the history of the continent.

The First American Bible.

The first Bible printed in America was from a Boston press, in 1752, but it bore the British imprint, as Bible printing was prohibited in this country. After the war of the revolution there was a great demand for the Scriptures, and the Bible society distributed 2,000,000 among the soldiers of the army and navy. The Bible is now printed in 97 languages.

Cast Steel Billiard Balls.

As the supply of ivory is becoming short, billiard balls of cast steel are being made in Sweden. By making them hollow the weight is made to correspond with that of ivory balls.

Wind Was, as Usual.

There was great jubilee and there would have been feasting in Madrid had provisions been cheaper.

"Shout, stranger, shout!" urged the high-born hidalgo. "An American town was completely destroyed!"

"Ah, by Camara's squadron?" inquired the stranger.

"Well, the information from American sources says it was destroyed by a cyclone. What that may be none of us know, but it surely means some form of Spanish power. At any rate, it was a great victory."—N. Y. World.

1498—1898.
Calico's Four Hundredth Anniversary.

Calico was first manufactured in India in 1498, so that its use has been constant for more than four hundred years. William Simpson & Sons, most extensive manufacturers of this country, now produce best grade of this kind of goods possible to make. Their prints are always attractive in the colors bright, clear and lasting. Dealers as well as buyers recognize this fact, and very wisely give them preference. Ladies, who have not worn them will do well to remember this, as the piece of calico which bears the ticket upon which appear the magic words "William Simpson & Sons" is not only the best that the world has produced for four hundred years, but is doubtless as good as will be made four hundred years hence.

Where Noah Kept His Bees.

Dr. James K. Hosmer, while recently visiting Boston, had occasion to visit the new public library. As he went up the steps he met Edward Everett Hale, who asked the doctor's errand.

"To consult the archives," was the reply. "By the way, Hosmer," said Dr. Hale, "do you know where Noah kept his bees?"

"No," answered Hosmer.

"In the ark hives," said the venerable preacher as he passed out of earshot.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Last Niagara Falls Excursion to be run Thursday, August 25th, via Cleveland, Akron & Columbus Railway in connection with the elegant steamer, "City of Erie," of the Cleveland & Buffalo Transit Co. The rate will be $6.00 from Columbus, $5.00 from Mount Vernon, $4.00 from Millersburg, $3.00 from Akron, and correspondingly low rates from intermediate stations. The usual favorable arrangements for side trips beyond Niagara Falls and stop-overs will prevail. For full information inquire of any C., A. & C. agent, or write to C. F. Daly, General Passenger Agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

Delicately Put.

He would not say that she painted, powdered and all that. He was too much of a gentleman for that.

"Still, I may as well confess," he said, "that she improved me as one who thinks she can improve upon the Lord's handiwork."—Chicago Post.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

He—"I know how to manage my wife." She—"Why don't you, then?" He—"She's so obstinate she won't let me."—Tit-Bits.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15.
LIVE STOCK—Cattle, common	$ 2 25	@ $ 3 75
Select butchers	4 10	@ 4 30
CALVES—Fair to good light	6 25	@ 6 75
HOGS—Common	2 25	@ 3 85
Mixed packers	3 90	@ 4 00
Light shippers	3 80	@ 4 00
SHEEP—Choice	3 40	@ 3 90
LAMBS	6 10	@ 6 50
FLOUR—Winter family	2 75	@ 3 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	65	73
No. 3 red	66	68
Corn—No. 2 mixed	33½	34
Oats—No. 2	22½	22½
Rye—No. 2	52	50
HAY—Prime to choice	65	8 75
PROVISIONS—Mes Pork	9 75
Lard—Prime steam	5 10
BUTTER—Choice dairy	12	15
Prime to choice creamery	16	20½
APPLES—Choice to Fancy	2 50	@ 3 00
POTATOES—New, per bbl	1 75	@ 2 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 65	@ 3 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	66	71½
No. 3 Chicago spring	62	70
CORN—No. 2	32½	33
OATS—No. 2	22	22
PORK—Mess	9 05	@ 9 10
LARD—Steam	5 30	@ 5 32½
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 70	@ 4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red	75	78½
CORN—No. 2 mixed	38	39
RYE	46	48
OATS—Mixed	27	28
PORK—New mess	10 00	@10 50
LARD—Western	5	@ 5 87½
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	3 60	@ 4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	78½	78½
Southern—Wheat	70	75½
Corn—Mixed	36	36
Oats—No. 2 white	30½	31½
Rye—No. 2 western	60	65
CATTLE—First quality	4 25	@ 4 60
HOGS—Western		@ 4 60
INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	68	69
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 32½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@ 23
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@ 4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	68	69
Corn—Mixed		@ 25
Oats—Mixed		@ 21
PORK—Mess		@10 00
LARD—Steam		@ 5 37½

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

A DOCTOR'S DIRECTIONS.

They save a daughter from blindness.

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for seeming extravagance in the statement if you know that the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to her the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There can't be anything better, and we do no more than claim cure. That is, why John S. Goode, of Orrick, Mo., writes in these strong terms:

"Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine in the world. My daughter had a relapse after the measles, due to taking cold. She was nearly blind, and was obliged to remain in a dark room all the time. The doctors could give her no relief; one of them directed me to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Two bottles cured her completely."

The thousands of testimonials to the value of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla repeat over and over again, in one form or another, the expression: "The doctors gave her no relief; one of them directed me to give her Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Two bottles completely cured her."

It is a common experience to try Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a last resort. It is a common experience to have Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla prescribed by a physician. It is a common experience to see a "complete cure" follow the use of a few bottles of this great blood purifying medicine.

Because, it is a specific for all forms of blood disease. If a disease has its origin in bad or impure blood, Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, acting directly on the blood, removing its impurities and giving to it vitalizing energy, will promptly eradicate the disease.

The great feature of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the radical cures that result from its use. Many medicines only suppress disease—they push the pimples down under the skin, they paint the complexion with subtle arsenical compounds, but the disease rages in the veins like a pent-up fire, and some day breaks out in a volcanic eruption that eats up the body. Ayer's Sarsaparilla goes to the root. It makes the fountain clean and the waters are clean. It makes the root good and the fruit is good. It gives Nature the elements she needs to build up the broken down constitution—not to stimulate it up with stimulants or patch it up on the surface. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook, and learn more about the cures effected by this remedy. It's sent free on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

LIVE STOCK CUTS.

We will furnish duplicates of LIVE STOCK CUTS or any OTHER CUT shown in any SPECIMEN BOOK, at or below quoted prices for same.

A. N. KELLOGG NEWSPAPER CO.,

SYRUP OF FIGS
NEVER IMITATED—EQUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by unscrupulous parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. NEW YORK, N. Y.

HEIGHT OF POLITENESS.

If Your Hostess Skins Her Nose It Is the Proper Caper to Skin Yours Also.

Three young women who boarded a North side cable car the other day were evidently dressed for a reception, and carried card cases in their fresh kid gloved hands. They attracted much attention, which was not surprising, as they were young and would have been handsome but for a similarity of facial misfortune—each one had a prominent red nose, which presented a lurid and remarkable appearance.

Fortunately for the peace of mind of the other passengers on the car, a woman—also in gala dress—knew them well enough to ask with great astonishment:

"What in the world happened to you all?"

"Oh, haven't you heard? We are going to Mrs. H.'s reception."

"So am I. But I mean what has happened to your noses?"

"Nothing; our noses are all right. But haven't you heard about Mrs. H——?"

"Not a word," said their mystified acquaintance.

"Why, she fell off her bicycle and skinned her poor nose. The cards were out already for this reception, and she felt so badly about the disfigurement that her dearest friends decided to show their sympathy by wearing the same kind of a nose in the reception."

"Oh, you sweet things! But why did you not let all her friends know? I would have been delighted to have got up my nose in the same style, but I suppose it is too late now."

They left the car together, and two women who had been listening with a lend me your ears intenseness looked at each other with untranslatable meaning as one feebly gurgled:

"Well! Well! I have heard say that imitation is the sincerest flattery, but don't that beat the record?"—Chicago Chronicle.

Would Ruin His Business.

Railroad stories are all more or less pithy, especially when told by railroad men. A certain system running in the southwest is known for its slow trains from one end of the line to the other. The trains are slow enough at last, but when washouts and overflows occur, time double up on engineer, train crew and passengers. Not long ago a flood of complaints was poured in upon the general manager of the line from all kinds of people who travel over this system. One of them came from a prominent undertaker, somewhere in an adjacent state, and this is what he wrote:

"If you do not run faster trains over your line you will ruin my business. My customers will not ship their corpses over your system for fear that they will not reach their destination before the resurrection day."—St. Louis Republic.

As to Riches.

The woman that married a poor man because she loved him is equal to a man her daughter to marry a rich man whether she loves him or not.—Roxbury Gazette.

If a married man compliments a pretty woman in the presence of his wife, his wife reproves him, and if the wife is not present, the pretty woman thinks it her duty to reprove him.—Atchison Globe.

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try this brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Moville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

GAME PLAQUES

American Wild Ducks, English Quail, American Pheasant, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH

has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5cent packages of Elastic Starch (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of these beautiful Game Plaques free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

Lazy Liver

"I have been troubled a great deal with a torpid liver, which produces constipation. I found CASCARETS to be all you claim for them, and secured such relief the first trial, that I purchased another supply and was completely cured. I shall only be too glad to recommend Cascarets wherever the opportunity is presented." J. A. SMITH.
2200 Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
TRADE MARK REGISTERED
REGULATE THE LIVER

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken, or Gripe. 10c. 25c. 50c.
... CURE CONSTIPATION. ...
Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Montreal, New York. 730

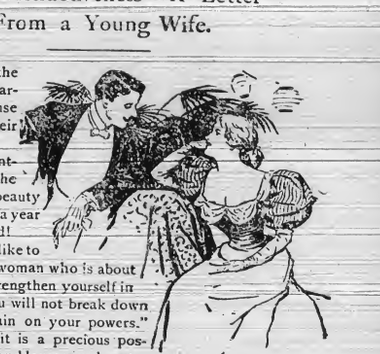
NO-TO-BAC Sold and guaranteed by all druggists to CURE Tobacco Habit.

SUMMER RESORTS
ON LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

By the Ocean on the south shore, or the Woods Sound on the north shore. Send 6c. in Stamps for "LONG ISLAND," an illustrated descriptive book. 4 routes for "SUMMER HOMES," a book describing hotels and boarding houses on Long Island, and 2c. for "UNIQUE LONG ISLAND," an illustrated booklet to B. H. SMITH, Traffic Manager, L. I. R. R. Co., Long Island City, New York.

1722

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE



Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Sore Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, 50c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

A. N. K.—F

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

ALL MEN LOVE BEAUTY.

Mrs. Pinkham Counsels Young Wives to Keep Their Attractiveness—A Letter From a Young Wife.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes.

What a disappointment then to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head!

I feel as if I would like to say to every young woman who is about to be married—"Strengthen yourself in advance, so that you will not break down under the new strain on your powers." Keep your beauty, it is a precious possession! Your husband loves your beauty, he is proud to be seen in public with you; try to keep it for his sake, and your own.

The pale cheeks, the dark shadows under the eyes, the general drooping of the young wife's form, what do they mean? They mean that her nerves are failing, that her strength is going and that something must be done to help her through the coming trials of maternity.

Build her up at once by a course of some tonic with specific powers. Such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You can get it at any druggist's.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife—of her own accord she addresses it to her "suffering sisters," and while from modesty she asks to withhold her name, she gives her initials and street number in Chambersburg, Pa., so she can easily be found personally or by letter:

To my Suffering Sisters:—Let me write this for your benefit, telling you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I am but nineteen and suffered with painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, dizziness, burning sensation back of ears and on top of my head, nervousness, pain and soreness of muscles, bearing-down pains, could not sleep well, was unable to stand without pain, and oh! how I longed to be well!

One day I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham telling her all, knowing I could do so in perfect confidence.

She wrote me a lovely letter in reply, telling me exactly what to do. After taking nine bottles of the Compound, one box of Liver Pills, and using one-half package of Sanative Wash, I can say I am cured. I am so happy, and owe my happiness to none other than Mrs. Pinkham.

Why will women suffer when help is near? Let me, as one who has had experience, urge all suffering women, especially young wives, to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice.—Mrs. R. S. R., 113 E. Catherine St., Chambersburg, Pa.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Hathaway.

Aug. 15—E. R. Smith is on the sick list.

The back water is making its way up Gunpowder, spreadiug over corn fields as it comes.

Miss Edna McElroy and Miss Connie Stephens, of this place, attended the institute at Walton all last week.

Miss Carrie Myers and Miss Fannie Smith were visiting Miss Mira Craig, of East Bend, several days last week.

Ed Sullivan has pitched a large crop of pickles this season, from which he expects to soon have a large shipment.

Mr. Elijah Ryle and his daughter, of the Beech Grove neighborhood, were visiting Jas. Stephens and wife last Sunday.

Mr. Rolley Sebree has accepted a position with his uncle in the hotel business at Chicago, and expects to leave for that place in the near future.

Mrs. Sallie Huey, of Carrolltou, and her sister, Mrs. Castleman, of Glencoe, and Mrs. R. L. Huey, of this place, were the guests of Mrs. E. E. Utz, last Thursday.

The ladies of the grange hall neighborhood will give an entertainment at the hall on the evening of the 20th at early candle linghting. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the school. All are invited to attend.

About 10 o'clock, last Wednesday night, some drunken person stopped at the home of Mrs. Presser, wanting to stay all night, which frighteued her and she raised the alarm and the fellow soon disappeared. She does not know who it was.

Erlanger.

Miss Norma Uhrig, who has been the guest of Miss Clara Morelli, for several weeks, will return to her home in Cincinnati, today (Wednesday.)

Miss Rose Chambers entertained with a lawn fete at her home on Cutter Ave., one evening last week, in honor of her guest, Miss Biedinger, of Clifton, O.

The Masons and K. of P.'s will play their second game of ball next Saturday afternoon in Elsmere, after which a banquet and dance will follow. Bros. McCormick and Guerney are the committee who will have charge of the affair, and that guarantees a good time.

A meeting of the citizens was held at the Town Hall to take some action on the proposed electric railway. Mr. Morelli was elected chairman and Mr. Adams, secretary. Mr. John Graf, of the Erlanger and Crescent Springs Electric Railway Co., then gave his views of what had been done to secure the road and announced that Erlanger was expected to buy $12,000 worth of bonds and the road would be built, as Crescent Springs and Ludlow would have their portions made up. A resolution was passed that a committee be appointed, who would solicit subscriptions from every lot owner and others who would subscribe $5 or more to a bond bearing 5 per cent. interest, and when the $12,000 was subscribed and in the bank a meeting would be called by the chairman. The committee consisting of the following gentlemen, Morelli, Victor and Riggs was selected. It is hoped that all that are interested in the road will send their names to the committee and the amount they will subscribe.

Union.

Thos. Brown, of Newport spent Sunday in Union.

Watermelons and rabbits are abundant and to spare.

Dr. Wilson has been quite sick, but able to go riding Sunday.

Rev. Sam Adams preached Saturday and Sunday at the Baptist church.

Elbert Rice, of Covington, spent several days, last week, rusticating in these parts.

The editor of the Boone-Kenton Banner will accept our thanks for specimen copies, &c.

Mrs. John D. Smith and daughter, of Georgetowu, are the guests of relatives near Union.

Henry Ross has a ewe that dropped two lambs in February and after they were sold she dropped two more, making four this season.

Wm. Kenney, of Covington, a trusted employe of the Covington and Cincinnati street railway, was visiting his parents last week.

Miss Gertrude Frazier, of Missouri, and Mr. Frank Bonny, of Louisville, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson and "Uncle Lynu."

Mr. and Mrs. John Poindexter, of Cynthiana, and Mrs. O. M. Huey and children, of Carrolton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kenudy.

The entertainment at Grange Hall on the evening of the 20th iust., will be a success if hard work counts for anything. No effort will be spared by those interested. All are invited.

H. G. Blanton, of Erlanger, has been enjoying the fresh air, bacon and beans, corn on the cob, sunshine and other Boone county delicacies with friends and relatives, here for several days.

A gang of 40 turkeys and one yellow chicken passed through here and on to Beaver where they were found Sunday, all the way from Hebron. Whether they had started to Cuba or were looking up the G. M. Co.'s show we can't say.

J. W. Taliaferro has thrown aside all ceremony and is making a regular old time farmer "outen hisself" again. From force of habit he finds out just how many fluid ouuces of "White metal" there are in a watermelon before eating it, &c.

Mr. Editor, if Bob Newman plowed the ground, your "cor." planted the sorghum, a boy of 10 hoed weeds and bushes out, S. A. House plowed it three times, and finally Babe Conner makes it up, Esq. — ach lasses ought it make to every $4 worth of cane, allowing a loss of 40 per cent. for chicken soup that night?

John Oelsner, of Florence, gave your cor. a strictly confidential peep at a letter received recently from his nephew in Germany, in which much was said about the Spanish-American war. The nephew is a school teacher of considerable note, and knows a thing or two. He says the German's have a wholesome respect for the Americans and thinks they are the greatest fighters the world ever saw, and had uo sympathy with Spain only on the grounds of their weakness and inability to fight, coupled with iguorance, vicious habits and all the adornments that follow boasters and braggarts.

Rabbit Hash.

Aug. 13.—The river is rising very fast.

James A. Wilson has been quite sick for several days.

Murray Ryle had a fine suckling colt to die a few nights ago.

Phil Cayton has been quite sick for the last two weeks and does not improve.

Richard Ryle, of Cincinnati, was visiting his brother, John P. Ryle, the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Mary Cunningham, of Louisville, and Millie J. Hawkins, of Frankfort, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Bettie Stephens.

Walton.

Aug. 13—It has been a gala week for Walton, The Boone Co. Teachers' Institute, which has been in session since Monday, had the freedom of the town, every soul living in it str— which should outdo the others in making the teachers feel at home, and that they succeeded in doing so was evident from the fact that on the first day they mingled with the citizens in a way that led one to thiuk they had lived here all their lives. The next morning they knew everbody and everbody knew them. They were delighted and so were the town folks. They were not strangers but old time friends, who had come to make a visit. The people they said took more interest in the meeting than they had ever seen anywhere else. Though the preparatious were not made for so large a crowd of straugers, all were accommodated. There were visitors from all parts of northern and central Kentucky, from Ohio and Indiana, and all were glad they came. At every session the Opera House was filled to repletion. Our ladies, especially, became interested in the subjects under consideration. It will have a grand effect, and gossip (for the time at least) will be relegated to other places. Very little attention was paid to even war news. The talk is all about schools and their teachers. Instructors Cassidy and Dunn have shown themselves very competeut and able men. Supt. Voshell is all smiles and lounged from one place to another with the broad smile becoming to a man of his appearance. They have all publicaly stated that it was the best meetiug of the kind they ever attended. "Nowhere," said Instructor Cassidy, "have I ever wituessed anything like the efusive enthusiasm that has been exhibited in Walton." Before adjourning they thanked the citizens by resolutions (unanimously adopted) for the kindly interest they had taken in their welfare and for the enthusiasm manifested duriug their stay.

The community are grateful to Messrs Cassidy, Gunn, Voshell, and the Institute, as a body, for the public appreciation of their efforts, and should it decide to meet here again, they will find that this year's reception will not be a marker to what they will do another time.

Thos. Faley on a 10c ticket drew the lumber used at the picnic and sold it for $12.

The Fiscal Court has concluded to erect a bridge over Woolper creek in the north end of the county. The people of this end are circulating a petition asking said court to build a bridge over Mud Lick creek where the Walton and Beaver Lick road crosses it. This road is a mail route and traveled more than any other county road in the county, and the people think if the county is going to build bridges, this one should be built, as more people would be accommodated than on any other county road.

The St. Patrick's church, of Verona, had a picnic last Thursday in Arnold's Grove. It was largely attended and everything went off happily and everybody had a full measure of enjoyment.

There were so many visitors here last week that no one took the trouble to report them as the paper is somewhat crowded with other matter If there are any items of interest it will be a great accommodation for the folks to let it be known.

During the meeting of the Teachers' Association, Mr. A. Sanders conveyed the teachers to and from its sessions without charges.

Mr. Albert Britteuheim charged the Institute but $1 per day for the use of the Opera House. And now Joe Reed will be wanting it at the same price when he holds his entertainments, because he contributed so much to the enjoyment of the great audience of the teachers.

Miss Lizzie Kipp is entitled to the greatest credit for that affair as she collected the performers here and there and didn't even have time for a rehearsal.

Mr. Philip Rieb was out on Sunday to visit his family, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan brought Hazel out Saturday on a visit to her father, E. J. Gorman.

Dr. Jones last week, brought home a wheel and in two days was able to circulate around town very creditably. His daughter, Mary Vernon, Saturday afternoon on Miss Lucille Hind's wheel accomplished the feat of riding successfully from Mrs. Arnold's to San Hind's residence, nearly a mile, after less than an hour's trial.

Saml. C. Orem, of Bennington, Ind., had an innocent and way-off look on his face as he drove up in front of the P. O. on the second day of the Institute, and asked if they would pleas tell him how far it was to Walton. Being told he was in the heart of the place, he remarked that three different men had told him that it was the most prosperous town in Northern Kentucky; that people were afraid to build because should they do so some neighbor would put up a far better one, and that they had been doing this to such an extent that they did not know what to do with the old homes.

Dr. Jas. H. Brown, of Crittenden, last week, shipped his brother-in-law at Carrollton, 2 bushels of New York King wheat, for the seed of which he had paid $5 per bushel. The Dr. has been offered $3 per bushel for his crop and refused it as he will sow it all himself.

Mr. Byron Northcutt and son, Earl, spent a few days here much to the latter's delight.

Misses Gertrude and Pauline Curley have returned home, the former from Lagrange and the latter from Zion.

Pt. Pleasant.

Aug. 15—J. M. Riggs and wife, and B. W. Clore and wife, spent Sunday with Charles Riggs and family, of Kenton road.

On next Tuesday night the young people of this vicinity will indulge in a hay ride.

Miss Laura Gray is spending a wee with Mrs. Burt Scott, of Fairview.

J. F. Scott and wife, of Fairview, spent a few days of last week w friends in this neighborhood.

Several from this vicinity will attend the fair at Carthage, this week.

Mrs. Lydia Scott, who has been sick for two weeks, is improving.

Beaver.

The Beaver Lick Mercantile Co., have elected one old board of directors for the old y ear, and declared a 7 per cent. dividend.

The German Medicine Co., is here, giving a very meritorious show nightly and selling an immense amount of medicine. We can neartily commend this show to the public.

Uncle Robert Conley has made quite a number of fancy caues, and presented them to his friends. He has a combined churn and washing machine that's a dandy.

The fair is the great forthcoming event. Everybody is laying his plans, and the boys are raising money, and it now looks like everybody will be there except the p. m., and he is expected to have fits the first day.

Clore's Ridge.

Aug. 12:—Since the rains tobacco is looking nicely.

Miss Annie Hey, of Bromley, is visit ing in this vicinity.

Lucien Clore purchased a nice bunch of sheep from the Neal Bros.

Master Garnett Huey is visiting Masters Elbert and Huey Clore.

Kirb Conner and brother, Wilbur, drove a lot of fine cattle to the city last Thursday.

The party given by Willie Rice and sister, Stella, was quite a success and all enjoyed themselves.

Mr. Richard Mauza and family, and Miss Edna Dalhein, of Covington, after a week's visit with J. W. Kite's family, returned home, Sunday.

It was quite a surprise to Mr. Sam Wingate when his children all went home with well filled baskets, Thursday, to celebrate his 83d birth day.

Constance.

The tin mill has shut down for general repairs.

Rev. Watkius preached at the Christian church, Saturday night.

There will be two weddings in town soou. Get your tin pans ready.

The high water has destroyed all of the corn under the river banks.

Mrs. Mail will take her Sunday-school on an outing to the Zoo, Aug. 20.

The Miss Brunstrops, of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting Mrs. H. Kounyn.

James Loder, son of I. A. Loder, of Petersburg, will be employed as clerk at Davis & Co.'s soon.

Billy Cloud's horse backed his buggy over a steep bank on the new pike and damaged Billy and the horse considerably.

There were nine additions to the camp meeting at Bromley. Among them was Miss Lillie Walby, of this county.

The Excelsior Colored Baud, of Covington, serenaded the citizens of this place, last Wednesday night. Their music was grand.

Richwood.

Died—Mrs. Judith Rice, widow of the late James M. Rice, at her residence on the Beaver pike near Richwood church.

Mrs. Rice was boru in Madisou county, Virginia, February 13th, 1814, and came with her parents to Frankfort, Kentucky, when a child. Her maiden name was Tinsley, being of that family who were so prominent in Kentucky's early history. She was married to Jas. M. Rice, December 10, 1829, since which time she has been a resident of Boone county. Her husband, who was one of Boone's most substantial and prosperous farmers, died 24 years ago. To this union were born eight children, five of whom are living: Mrs. Lucy Carpenter, Mrs. Fanny Soden, Charles B. Rice, Harriet Harvey, of Hillsboro, Texas, and John M. Rice, of Mexico, Mo. She leaves 18 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Rice was for many years a member of the Methodist Church, and her funeral services were conducted at the house by Rev. Rolland assisted by Rev. W. H. Davis, at 2 pm. the 15th iust., after which the remains were buried in the family cemetery.

Mound Field Farm.

Miss Pauline Regenbogen, we are pleased to say is rapidly regaining her health at the hospital in Cincinnati, where she was taken some 10 days ago.

Carl Bradford, son of Robert Bradford, is at home from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been with his brother, Will, in the mercantile business. Carl is off on a furlough to recuperate his health, which has not been very good of late.

Jerry Estes, wife and little daughter, Wm Fox and his wife and a Mrs. Fitzgerald, passed by the other day in a spring wagon enroute to Estill county, where they originally came from. Jerry said it would take them a week, good driving to make the trip. They expect to be gone a month.

Harvy Aylor found his turkeys that left home over ten days ago, after putting in nearly all the time hunting for them. He would hear of them in one neighborhood and when he would go there he would here of them somewhere else. He brought them home last Sunday from beyond Union. The chicken was with them—10 of the turkeys were not recovered.

The Institute.

The Institute was called to order at [illegible], August 8th, [illegible], by Superintendent Voshell at 11 a. m. After prayer, Dr. S. M. Adams delivered an able welcome address in which he opeued the gates of Walton to the teachers.

Prof. Voshell made a few pointed remarks and was followed by Prof. M. A. Cassidy in a very able and eloquent address, setting forth the object of the week's work.

The Institute adjourned to meet at at 1 o'clock p. m.

The afternoon session was commenced by enrollment of teachers, music and singing, after which Prof. H. M. Gunn, one of the instructors, read a very able paper on Psycology. Miss Lizzie Kipp read a most excellent paper on "How to train the Memory," and was followed by Prof. Gunn in discussion.

RECESS.

After music and singing, A. C. Colins spoke in favor of the "Southern School." Mr. C. C. Adams spoke in favor of several school journals

Prof. H. M. Gunn read a very excellent paper, "Mind, the basis of Institute Work." Prof. Myers followed the previous speaker in discussion of the subject of Psycology.

Teachers enrolled :

G. E. Thomas,	Loula Souther,
Hale Keeney,	Flora Youell,
Otto Grady,	Lillian Corbin,
Wm Gaines,	Lizzie Gordon,
Neander Stephens,	Mary E. Walton,
John Elliott,	Allie Weaver,
E. W. Yates,	Lucy Clayton,
W. L. Hann,	Mrs. Watkins,
D. I. Tanner,	Lillie Rouse,
Mrs. N. Stephens,	Anna Wolfe,
Bettie Dolph,	Frances Fluch,
Lizzie Kipp,	Marguarett Marble,
Mary Gaines,	Katie Smith,
Bernice Dun,	Ella Norman,
Sadie Kirtley,	Lizzie Kipp,
Lacy Kirtley,	E. T. Groner,
Mrs. F. E. Kirtley,	Walter Kelly,
Marietta Riley,	B. W. Nelson,
Jeanette Chambers,	D. M. Snyder,
Ethel Terrill,	C. R. Courchard,
Lizzie Parker,	G. S. Hann,
Edna McElroy,	Lottie Burnett,
Viola Walker,	Katie Craig,
Connie Stephens,	A. C. Collins.

TUESDAY MORNING.

The Institute met pursuant to adjournment, and after music, prayer and roll call, Prof. Gunn asked a series of important questions on the previous day's work, and a very interesting discussion followed and was continued until recess.

After recess the Institute was again favored with good music. Pro. Cassidy then began an interesting lecture on "The School." The lecture was not concluded until afternoon. It was given splendid attention.

W. J. Hon, of the Cincinnati College of Music, then rendered some very fine music.

Miss Lillie Rouse's paper on "The School," brought forth many compliments.

After recess Prof. Gunn delivered an interesting lecture on Reading. This concluded the program for the day.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The Institute reconvened at the appointed hour. After the usual opening exercises Prof. Cassidy asked a series of questions on "The School." This opened up an animated discussion in which a large number of teachers took part, entertaining and instructing the Institute until recess.

After recess Reading was thoroughly discussed by Instructor Gunn, Superintendent Voshell, and Messrs. Keeny, Thomas, Grady, Snyder and Miss Lillie Rouse.

The afternoon was devoted to the exercises of the common school graduates. The following was the program:

Prayer.....Bro. W. H. Davis.

MUSIC.

Liberty March.....Miss Lora Diers.
Salutatory.....Miss Faunle H. Cleek.
Light.....Miss Lulu Souther.

MUSIC.

Sleep Well, Thou Angel.....
Mrs. Phil Rist, of Covington.
The Ladder of Fame.....
Miss Flora Youell
Virtue of Life.....Walter Hafer.

MUSIC.

Duet—Rip-Rap.....
Miss Edna Ransler, Miss Lora Diers.
When John Comes Marching Home...
Miss Jane Davis.

MUSIC.

Stars and Stripes Forever...Lora Diers.
Valedictory.....Miss Ella Cason.

MUSIC.

Farewell to the Alm.....Mrs. Phil Rist.
Address.....Rev. H. Max Letz.

MUSIC.

When the Frogs Begin to Jump.....
Miss Lora Diers.

THURSDAY.

The teachers were on hand promptly, and as soon as the opening exercises were concluded, the Institute resumed its work with a vim born of interest. Writing was the first subject for discussion, which was made so interesting by the several teaches who took part, that Instructor Cassidy had only time in which to introduce Composition. It was briefly discussed after recess.

English Grammar was one of the leading subjects, and was handled in an able manner by such experienced instructors as Mrs. S. H. Myers, Geo. A. Yates, Miss Lillie Rouse, D. M. Snyder, T. Z. Roberts and Supt. Voshell.

Prof. Emil Grasser read an interesting paper on Psycology, and the Institute adjourned until 1:30 o'clock.

The afternoon session was made decidedly interesting by the discussions of Discipline, Mental Arithmetic and Practical Arithmetic. A large number of teachers made good talks on those subjects in the order named.

FRIDAY.

This was the last day of the session. The interest did not lag, and teachers were in their places with their usual punctuality. Geography and Kentucky History were the only subjects open for consideration, and it seemed that nearly every teacher was ready with a good talk on one or the other of these subjects.

The afternoon session was devoted to issuing certificates of attendance and receiving the reports of committees.

The Committee on Co. Association, reported the times and places of its meetings as follows :

District No. 3, at Maple Hill, fourth Saturday in September.

No. 2—At Bellevue, third Saturday in October.

No. 6—At Point Pleasant, first Saturday in November.

No. 5—At Verona, fourth Saturday in November.

No. 4—At Union, third Saturday in December.

No. 1—At Bullittsville, first Saturday in January.

Miss Fannie Finch resigned as Librarian, and Miss Katie Smith was elected in her place.

Prof. A. L. Peterman favored the Institute with a talk on Phonetics.

The committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions, and they were adopted unanimously :

"We, the Teachers of the Common Schools of Boone county, Ky., assembled in Institute at Walton, wish to express our sincere sentiments in the following resolutions :

"That we greatly appreciate the courtesy, kindness and hearty hospitality extended to us by the people of Walton and vicinity, which we feel to have been sincere and unaffected.

"That as we much enjoyed the entertainment, we thank Miss Lizzie Kipp and the young talent of Walton, for a very pleasant evening.

"That we thank the John Church Co. for the free use of a splendid piano, furnished by their representative W. J. Hood.

"That we acknowledge the efficient work of our Superintendent, and the Conductors, Prof. M. A. Cassidy and H. M. Gunn, in manking our Institute so interesting.

"That we are glad to have had the presence and instruction of the emlnent educators, Profs. Peterman and Yates."

For sale—Two sows and pigs.
T. D. Goodridge, Burlington.

For sale—One pure bred Guernsey Bull ten months old, also ten spring shoats. J. E. ROUSE, Limaburg.

For Sale—10 stock hogs, will weigh from 75 to 100 pounds each; also four sows and pigs. R. B. CARVER.

NOTICE.

I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first-class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.

JOHN WALSH,
Normansville, Ky.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,

DENTIST,

133 Garfield Place,
CINCINNATI,

Has removed his office to

The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th, Bet. Vine and Race.

Home City, MONDAYS.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS

—THE OLD—

RELIABLE - GROCER,

UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molases, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE.
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.

GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention.

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.

Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

TWO FOR ONE

By Special Arrangement we offer

HOME AND FARM

In combination with

THE RECORDER

For $1.75.

Being nearly the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send

HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE.

HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

FRANK HOSSMAN.
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS of ROOFING.
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY
WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.
Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.
Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.
Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, Ky

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
—(O)—
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.

J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give—
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you.
He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.

To Whom It May Concern.

Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that on and after this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.

W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

Local News.

RUPTURE CURED—See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

Bentler ran his machine into the barn, Friday.

Tony Sentler will resumed grinding at his mill next Friday.

Born, to Perry Beemon and wife, on the 12th inst., a fine boy.

The German Medicine Co.'s show is now at Beaver. The show never fails to draw large crowds.

As is the custom of the colored school at this place its fall and winter session began in August again this year.

C. C. Hughes killed a spreading adder out on his farm, one day last week, that measured nearly 4 feet in length.

Dr. Crouch has a very lengthy article on pikes and bridges in this impression. It was received last week, but too late for publication.

Nine marriage licenses were issued by the County Clerk, since last April, and at the last term of Circuit Court four divorces were granted.

W. J. Rice sold wheat at 69 cents and Geo. Blyth at 71 cents, last week. Mr. Rice says he will hold the remainder of his crop for a better price.

Rev. Gray preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, and Rev. David Blyth, that evening. Good congregations at both services.

A tremendously heavy rain fell on Bacon Run, last Wednesday night. It rained but a short time, or the country would have been torn all to pieces.

Lost—A silver chain bracelet with three silver hearts on it. Initials carved on the hearts. Finder will please return to Miss Sadie Kirtley, Bullittsville, Ky.

It is said that John Lassing is an expert when it comes to taking a gar out of a seln to string it, but those teeth marks on one of his thumbs are silent witnesses to the contrary.

The German Medicine Company's Comedy Co., has been at Beaver over a week, and is pleasing a large audience each night as it has done at every stand it has made in the county.

A handsome monument was erected on the Conner lots in the Odd-Fellows' cemetery, last week. It was put up by Kassabaum, of Aurora, his agent, J. T. Marshall, making the sale.

Having rented a refreshment stand for the Florence fair, I will be glad to meet all my old patrons and as many new ones as will call on me.

JAMES L. CLORE.

The Constance Christian Sunday School will have its annual outing near the mouth of Dry creek on Saturday, August 27. Good speakers will be present. Plenty amusements for the children.

The Sunday-school scholars began lining up early Saturday morning to be conveyed to the Sunday-school celebration at the Harvest Home grounds. James Clore had charge of the transport.

R. P. Cloud, of Florence, will be well prepared with stable room immediately across the pike from the entrance to the fair ground, and will give horses proper attention during the fair. Give him a call.

Stephen Maurer, who was arrested for taking coal off of the Chambers bar at North Bend, was tried by Judge Roberts, last Thursday, and fined $10. Maurer is the man who Add Riddell shot in making the arrest.

There will be meeting at the Mount Pleasant Baptist church on the fourth Saturday evening and the Sunday following in this month. Basket meeting on Sunday. Elders H. M. Currey, W. I. Carnell and J. B. Doobs, will be present.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

James L. Huey, of the Union neighborhood, passed through town, Friday, driving a Southdown buck and seventeen spring lambs, he had purchased of James E. Smith. For the buck he paid $12, and $5 each for the lambs. They are a cross of the Shropshire and Southdown, and Mr. Huey, who is a good judge of sheep, considers them as fine as can be found in this county.

As John Portwood was coming down the Jerry Beemon hill, on the Florence pike, last Saturday, on his wheel, he passed two men in a buggy, who followed closely after him, ordering him to get out of the road, which he did not do soon enough to suit them, when one drew his pistol and commenced shooting at Portwood, one of the balls striking the pike near him. Portwood sidetracked and the men passed on.

The protracted meeting at East Bend Methodist Church closed, last Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Harris, was assisted by Rev. W. K. Dennis, of Florence. The preaching was able and acceptable to the people. Eight or ten additions to the membership. Rev. J. W. Harris will be at Burlington on the fourth Sunday for the last time this year. All the members are requested to be present. The benevolent collection will be taken.

The colored Baptist church at this place is in trouble. About a year ago a colored woman preached for them several weeks, the result being several conversions who were baptized into the church. Now comes along a male preacher who tells those who were baptized by the woman that their baptism is not valid, because the woman was not an ordained minister of the gospel, and suggests that they ought to be rebaptized. Some of them say they have partaken of the Lord's Supper, and don't propose to repudiate their past immersion. Five of them were rebaptized, Sunday.

Circuit Court.

Prosecutions against the following were continued: John Horton 2 cases; Frank Staley.

Prosecutions against the following persons were continued with alias process ordered to issue therein: Frank Staley, Bert Staley, Richard McGuire, Webb Lamkin, 2, T. D. Ross, John Michael, Martha Warner, &c., Sam Ingram, &c., Mike Teeters, John Leopold.

Prosecutions against the following persons were filed away with leave to clerk to redocket: Hogan Presser, Ben Covington, John Parsons, Robt. VonGundy.

The following fines were imposed: James Story, breach of the peace, $10; John Finch, selling liquor to a minor, $50; R. C. Tilley, selling liquor unlawfully, $50.

The appeal from the judgment of the County Court refusing to appoint John Peno, and appointing Geo. W. Reeves guardian for their little grand-daughter, Pearl Reeves, was heard and the lower court reversed, and ordered to appoint John Peno as her guardian. This litigation brought a large number of witnesses from the Constance neighborhood, where the guardianship had created considerable interest. Peno and Reeves now each have one of the little girls who are twins.

Kite Story, for the killing of Colonel Carrier, and James W. Aylor, for killing Bert Roberts, were each indicted for voluntary manslaughter. Story's bail was fixed at $1,000, and Aylor's at $1,500.

Harry Hamlin, aged about 17 years, who has been in jail here since last December for shooting old man Smith at the mouth of Gunpowder, was called into court Thursday, and recoquized in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the next term, and released. There is no probability of Smith ever appearing against Hamlin, and the action of the court meets the approbation of all.

The motion of Dickerson and Dyas for a $500 attorney's fee against W. B. Norman in the suit his wife filed for a divorce did not prevail, the court allowing them only $300. Mr. and Mrs. Norman adjusted their troubles before the case was called in court and are again living happily together.

N. W. Botts was granted a divorce from his wife, Sallie A. Botts.

Thos. Vest, was granted a divorce from his wife, Bertha Vest.

Fannie B. Glackin was granted a divorce from her husband, J. W. Glackin. She was given the custody of her infant children.

Conuella Jane Gordon was granted a divorce from her husband, W. R. Gordon. She was given the custody of her children.

Henry Dixon was allowed his claims against the assigned estate of W. H. Smith.

In the case of A. M. Edwards against Fannie Edwards, an order was entered requiring the defendant to allow the plaintiff to see his children as often as once a month.

Edward Carrier vs J. M. Baker. The jury found for the defendant and he retains the horse he purchased of Col. Carrier's widow.

W. C. Hensley was given a judgment against the trustees of school district No. 14, for $196.60, and permission to take and use any and all the fence posts yet on the school house lot, which he delivered there.

In the case of Chas. Harrell against J. R. Lyons &c., the plaintiff was given a judgment for $346.25, subject to a credit of $222. The Walton bank was ordered to pay to plaintiff the $142 arising from the sale of the mortgaged land as a credit on the judgment. A. M. Edwards is ordered to pay to plaintiff the $160 arising from the sale of personal property.

To the Hon. John W. Green, Judge of the 16th Judicial District:—We your grand jury would most respectfully report that we have been in session five days, that we have examined 51 witnesses and returned nine indictments. We have examined the public buildings and find the Court-house in bad repair, but we are informed that the Fiscal Court has taken steps to make the needed improvements and repairs. The County Infimary is clean and well kept in good condition, and the wood work should be painted and walls also. The county jail is in fairly good condition. It is now empty and should be thoroughly cleaned and fumigated and painted. All of which is respectfully reported. J. W. BERKSHIRE,
Foreman.

The grand jury did considerable investigating, but results were few.

Besides the indictments against Ayler and Story, mentioned elsewhere, the following other indictments were returned: Against James Tafferty, three indictments, one for carrying pistol, one for shooting to wound another person and one for throwing eggs at a lawful assembly.

Mrs. R. P. Berkshire, trespass.

R. C. Tilley, unlawfully selling whiskey.

Add Riddell, shooting and wounding another person.

Judge Greene notified the attorneys that they may expect a three weeks' term of court in December. It will take that length of time to dispose of the business that has accumulated on the dockets.

Court adjourned directly after noon Friday.

NOTES.

The term was abbreviated as much as possible.

Judge Cram did not tarry long at this term.

Petit jurors for the term cost $144 and tried one lunatic and a $25 horse case.

The 24 petit jurors were discharged on Thursday, each drawing $6. Total, $144.

The grand jury closed out its business Friday about noon, and was paid $120.

Joel C. Clore and Ome Rogers, from the Cincinnati bar, were on hand early in the action.

Attys. Toulin and Dyas were on hand every day, looking after the litigation from the 2d bailiwick.

Col. Weeden O'Neal, of Covington, attended court on Thursday. The Colonel does not appear as robust as he did a few years ago.

Of the several attorneys that were practicing at this bar twenty-five years ago, G. G. Hughes is the only one now in active practice here.

Hon. W. W. Dickerson and his son, Richard, were here several days, last week. Mr. Dickerson's labors were confined, largely, to the divorce field.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard, - - 3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose, - - - - 5 "
Cottonade Pants, - - - 50 to 75 "
Working Shirts, - - - 25 "
We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

Samuel Adams, of Erlanger, came over on Wednesday and pushed his business through, when he returned to look after his home duties as city attorney.

F. E. Curley's recent experience as one of a Sheriff's posse over in Kenton county is amusing. Get him to tell you how the posse tried to capture a German Santiago, and how the German and his family made them retreat, jumping hollows, logs and fences.

Commonwealth's Attorney Gray has a very fine Winchester rifle with which he does some very excellent shooting, using some times smokeless powder. Mr. Gray is well informed on the question of powders and the various projectiles used in the army, and he entertained quite a crowd one evening on these subjects.

Upon his arrival B. F. Menifee was served with an order of injunction from the Kangaroo court compelling him to refrain from telling any new jokes during the term, and knowing he could not survive long under such restraint, he put his business through as rapidly as possible, and hastened back to Crittenden, beyond the jurisdiction of the Kangaroo tribunal.

The Trustee of the jury fund received from the county officers as follows:

County Clerk	$ 14 73.
Circuit Clerk	66 12.
J. E. Botts, Police Judge	50.
J. C. Ryland, Justice Peace	5 01.
County Judge	10 00.
Total	$ 96 36.

Of the above amount only $81 35 could be used to pay off the jurors, and the Sheriff was ordered by the court to supply the deficit, which he did, and the jurors for the term were paid

The Burlington ball team scored its third victory this year over the Petersburg team on the grounds of the latter, last Saturday. The score was as follows:

Innings.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Burlington	7	0	0	1	0	2	0	1	*	—11
Petersburg	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	2	3	— 7

Last week the RECORDER mentioned the fact that James Barnes, of the Garrison neighborhood, had brought to the County Infirmary a baby which was left on his door step a few nights before. Supt. Blyth concluded he would do a little detective work on the case, and in a few days he had located the child's mother, who told him that Jas. Barnes' son was the child's father. The next day Mr. Blyth started to take the child back from whence it came, and on the road he met the reputed father to whom he delivered it. The young man did not hesitate to receive the child, only asking Mr. Blyth if he could not take it on home for him. His request was not granted.

Burglars visited three houses in Florence last Saturday night. At Ed. Corbin's they were scared off before entering the house. At Lee Eddins' they took off the window blinds, tore out the fly screen and hoisted and propped up the window through which they entered. Going to Mr. Eddins' room they got his pants and carried them out on the roof of the house, where they left them and his pocket book after it had been rifled. From Mr. Eddins they got $8.50 and a pocket knife, overlooking a $5 bill in the purse from which they took the other money. At Dave Osborn's they entered the house and stole 35 cents from his son Ben, leaving Mr. Eddins' knife in exchange therefor. Mr. Osborn heard the burglars while in the house but thought his son had gotten up for something, and paid no attention to them. Had the burglars got hold of the pocket book of Jeff Eddins, who, with his family, was visiting his brother, Lee, last Saturday night, they would have made quite a nice little haul, as it contained over $30. No one heard the burglars while at Mr. Eddins'. Sunday night a burglar was trying to enter Mrs. W. Y. Crigler's residence but scared away by her brother, Mr. John White who heard him.

A large number of persons attended the renting of the privileges at the fair grounds last Saturday, and the bidding was spirited. Privileges rented as follows:

Refreshment Stand No. 1	$225 00
Refreshment Stand No. 2	200 00
Refreshment Stand No. 3	81 50
Refreshment Stand No. 4	51 00
Basket Room	122 00
Bicycle Stall	10 50
Merry-go-round	85 00
Cirgar-wheel	51 00
Watermelon stand	13 00
Barber Shop	8 50
Ball and Negro Babies	85 00
Feed Store	10 00
Total	$942 00

The eagerness to rent the above privileges indicates that there are others who believe a large crowd will attend the fair this year. The rents realized from the privileges will not meet the expenses of operating the fair, which are about $300 per day.

County Court.

J. B. Berkshire, J. S. Clutterbuck and M. L. Riddell appointed as appraisers of the estate of Arthur Blythe, deceased.

W. E. Vest allowed $3 for surveying done on Burlington and East Bend county road.

W. H. Clayton granted license to peddle merchandise in a two horse wagon.

W. E. Dixon released from paying taxes on 13 acres of land lying in Kenton and assessed in Boone.

Bradley & Gilbert allowed $15 for 100 file boxes for circuit clerk's office.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. H. Ryle and wife, of Erlanger, spent last week in Burlington.

Bluford Allen, of Hamilton, visited the RECORDER, last week.

Frank Berkshire, of Chicago, is visiting his relatives at Petersburg.

Miss Maud Robinson, of Newport, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Castleman.

G. W. Ossman and wife, of Beaver, were guests of B. W. Adams and wife, Sunday.

Walter Lassing and Joseph Huey, of Union, were guests at J. M. Lassing's, Sunday.

R. P. Rice, one of the leading business men of Florence, was in town Monday.

The last reports from Uncle Yaney Clore are that he is still in a critical condition.

Mrs. W. E. Piper, and son, Edwin, of Dayton, Ky., are visiting relatives in Burlington.

Doc Mannin, was in town Monday on business for the Hebron Building Association.

Robt. B. Reed, of Covington, was visiting his mother and sisters at this place, Monday.

Mr. E. L. Rouse, of the Gunpowder neighborhood, made this office a pleasant call one day last week.

D. E. Castleman's mother and grandmother, who had been his guests for a few days, returned home Monday.

Rev. David Blyth and wife, of West Liberty, Ohio, arrived last Thursday evening to visit their relatives here.

J. B. Helm and wife, of Birmingham, Alabama, will visit their old home and friends in this county, about Sept. 1.

Miss Jennie Lee Castleman is being entertained by her cousin, Miss Lula Castleman, at Glencoe, Gallatin county.

Elder E. Stephens, of Erlanger, preached at the Methodist Church, last Sunday afternoon, to a good congregation.

Miss Anna Beemon, who has for some time been visiting her grandfather, Mr. Sam Stephens, has returned to her home.

Mrs. James A. Riddell, of the Hebron neighborhood, entertained several of her Burlington lady friends, last Thursday.

Mr. Halstead, pension examiner was in town last week, and interviewed several of the local pensioners who desire an increase.

We are glad to learn that Dr. A. Sayre, of Florence, who has been critically ill, is improving and will soon regain his usual health.

Messrs. Eli and Ezra Rouse, of Florence, were out this way looking for fat cattle, Monday. They report good cattle as very scarce.

M. J. Corbin and wife, of Bellevue, and Mrs. Corbin's sister, Miss Lucy Botts, passed through town enroute to the city, Monday.

Congressman A. S. Berry was shaking hands with the crowd on the streets, one day last week. He was looking after his political interests in this part of the hemisphere.

Henry Gordon, of Muncie, Indiana, and Professor Crit Gordon, of Eminence, Ky., were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Gorden, near Hebron, last week.

James Walsh, of the German Medicine Co., now delighting the Beaver people with his exhibitions, was in town, one day last week. He reported business as very good.

Last Saturday Mr. J. W. Duncan and his great grandson, Warren Lassing, celebrated their birthday with a dinner at J. M. Lassing's. Mr. Duncan was 72 and Warren was 6 years old that day.

Mr. Henry Rouse, of Gunpowder, made the RECORDER a brief call, a few days ago. He reported everything in his neighborhood as growing nicely, and peace and plenty prevailing in every direction.

Lamot D. Houston, of Union, was visiting his son William, last Saturday and Sunday. He has the same sunny, happy disposition of yore, and, physically, he is a much better man than he was 40 years ago.

The following constituted a gay party of young people visiting Big Bone Springs on the 7th inst.: Misses Josie Bentler, Emma Bentler, Fannie Hogan, Mary and Catharine Furlong, Anna Beemon, and Messrs. Wm. Bentler, Kirb Tanner, John Hogan and O. S. Crisler. They had a most enjoyable time going and returning and while at the springs.

The Sunday School celebration at the Harvest Home grounds, last Saturday, was attended by a large crowd, and was a day that will be long remembered by the host of handsome, bright-eyed little girls and boys present. The addresses delivered were good, and the singing splendid. There never was a happier assemblage of people on any occasion. Old and young alike were sorry when the hour for returning home arrived.

The wife of James Porter, of Chicago, a son of O. T. Porter, of this co., died on the 3d inst. She leaves a 13 months-old child.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

●DEALER IN●●

DRY GOODS

Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,

At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,

The Deering Harvesters,

Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,

BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,

UNDER-

-EMBAL-

TAKER

-MER,

Corner Pike & Russell Streets,

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says:

"After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.

—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Hathaway.

Aug. 15—E. R. Smith is on the sick list.

The back water is making its way up Gunpowder, spreading over corn fields as it comes.

Miss Edna McElroy and Miss Connie Stephens, of this place, attended the Institute at Walton all last week.

Miss Carrie Myers and Miss Fannie Smith were visiting Miss Mira Craig, of East Bend, several days last week.

Ed Sullivan has pitched a large crop of pickles this season, from which he expects to soon have a large shipment.

Mr. Elijah Ryle and his daughter, of the Beech Grove neighborhood, were visiting Jas. Stephens and wife last Sunday.

Mr. Rolley Sebree has accepted a position with his uncle in the hotel business at Chicago, and ex- to leave for that place in the near future.

Mrs. Sallie Huey, of Carrollton, and her sister, Mrs. Castleman, of Glencoe, and Mrs. R. L. Huey, of this place, were the guests of Mrs. E. E. Utz, last Thursday.

The ladies of the grange hall neighborhood will give an entertainment at the hall on the evening of the 20th at early candle linghting. The proceeds will go to the beuefit of the school. All are invited to attend.

About 10 o'clock, last Wednesday night, some drunken person stopped at the home of Mrs. Presser, wanting to stay all night, which frightened her and she raised the alarm and the fellow soon disappeared. She does not know who it was.

Erlanger.

Miss Normo Uhrig, who has been the guest of Miss Clara Morelli, for several weeks, will return to her home in Cincinnati, today (Wednesday.)

Miss Rose Chambers entertained with a lawn fete at her home on Cutter Ave., one evening last week, in honor of her guest, Miss Biedlinger, of Clifton, O.

The Masons and K. of P.'s will play their second game of ball next Saturday afternoon in Elsmere, after which a banquet and dance will follow. Bros. McCormick and Guerney are the committee who will have charge of the affair, and that guarantees a good time.

A meeting of the citizens was held at the Town Hall to take some action on the proposed electric railway. Mr. Morelli was elected chairman and Mr. Adams, secretary. Mr. John Graf, of the Erlanger and Crescent Springs Electric Railway Co., then gave his views of what had been done to secure the road and announced that Erlanger was expected to buy $12,000 worth of bonds and the road would be built, as Crescent Springs and Ludlow would have their portions made up. A resolution was passed that a committee be appointed, who would solicit subscriptions from every lot owner and others who would subscribe $6 or more to a bond bearing 5 per cent. interest, and when the $12,000 was subscribed and in the bank a meeting would be called by the chairman. The committee consisting of the following gentlemen, Morelli, Victor and Riggs was selected. It is hoped that all that are interested in the road will send their names to the committee and the amount they will subscribe.

Union.

Thos. Brown, of Newport spent Sunday in Union.

Watermelons and rabbits are abundant and to spare.

Dr. Wilsou has been quite sick, but able to go riding Sunday.

Rev. Sam Adams preached Saturday and Sunday at the Baptist church.

Elbert Rice, of Covington, spent several days, last week, rusticating in these parts.

The editor of the Boone-Kenton Banner will accept our thanks for specimen copies, &c.

Mrs. John D. Smith and daughter, of Georgetown, are the guests of relatives near Union.

Henry Ross has a ewe that dropped two lambs in February and after they were sold she dropped two more, making four this season.

Wm. Keuney, of Covington, a trusted employe of the Covington and Cincinnati street railway, was visiting his parents, last week.

Miss Gertrude Frazier, of Missouri, and Mr. Frank Bouny, of Louisville, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson and "Uncle Lynn."

Mr. and Mrs. John Poindexter, of Cynthiana, and Mrs. O. M. Hoy and children, of Carrollton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kennedy.

The entertaiument at Grange Hall on the evening of the 20th inst., will be a success if hard work counts for anything. No effort will be spared by those interested. All are invited.

H. G. Blanton, of Erlanger, has been enjoying the fresh air, bacon and beans, corn on the cob, sunshine and other Boone county delicacies with friends and relatives, here for several days.

A gang of 40 turkeys and one yellow chicken passed through here and on to Beaver where they were found Sunday, all the way from Hebron. Wheeler they had started to Cuba or were looking up the G. M. Co.'s show we can't say.

J. W. Taliaferro has thrown aside all ceremony and is making a regular old time farmer "outen himself" again. From force of habit he finds out just how many fluid ounces of "White metal" there are in a watermelon before eating it, &c.

Mr. Editor, if Bob Newman plowed the ground, your "cor." planted the sorghum, a boy of 10 hoed weeds and bushes out, S. A. House plowed it three times, and finally Babe Conner makes it up, how much lasses ought it make to every $4 worth of cane, allowing a loss of 30 per cent. for chicken soup that night?

John Oelsner, of Florence, gave your cor. a strictly confidential peep at a letter received recently from his nephew in Germany, in which much was said about the Spanish-American war. The nephew is a school teacher of considerable note, and knows a thing or two. He says the German's have a wholesome respect for the Americans and thinks they are the greatest fighters the world ever saw, and had no sympathy with Spain only on the grounds of their weakness and inability to fight, coupled with ignorance, vicious habits and all the adornments that follow boasters and braggarts.

Rabbit Hash.

Aug. 13.—The river is rising very fast.

James A. Wilson has been quite sick for several days.

Murray Ryle had a fine suckling colt to die a few nights ago.

Phil Cayton has been quite sick for the last two weeks and does not improve.

Richard Ryle, of Cincinnati, was visiting his brother, John P. Ryle, the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Mary Cunningham, of Louisville, and Millie J. Hawkins, of Frankfort, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Bettie Stephens.

Walton.

Aug. 13—It has been a gala week for Walton. The Boone Co. Teachers' Institute, which has been in session since Monday, had the freedom of the town, every soul living in it striving which should outdo the others in making the teachers feel at home, and that they succeeded in doing so was evident from the fact that on the first day they mingled with the citizens in a way that led one to think they had lived here all their lives. The next morning they knew everbody and everbody knew them. They were delighted and so were the town folks. They were not strangers but old time friends, who had come to make a visit. The people they said took more interest in the meeting than they had ever seen anywhere else. Though the preparations were not made for so large a crowd of straugers, all were accommodated. There were visitors from all parts of northern and central Kentucky, from Ohio and Indiana, and all were glad they came. At every session the Opera House was filled to repletion. Our ladies, especially, became interested in the subjects under consideration. It will have a grand effect, and gossip (for the time at least) will be relegated to other places. Very little attention was paid to even war news. The talk is all about schools and their teachers. Instructors Cassidy and Dunn have shown themselves very competeut and able men. Supt. Voshell is all smiles and lounged from one place to anotber with the broad smile becoming to a man of his appearance. They have all publicaly stated that it was the best meeting of the kind they ever attended. "Nowhere," said Instructor Cassidy, "have I ever wituessed anything like the effusive enthusiasm that has been exhibited in Walton." Before adjourning they thanked the citizens by resolutions (unanimously adopted) for the kiudly interest they had takeu in their welfare and for the enthusiasm manifested during their stay.

The community are grateful to Messrs Cassidy, Gunn, Voshell, and the Institute, as a body, for the public appreciation of their efforts, and should it decide to meet here again, they will find that this year's reception will not be a marker to what they will do another time.

Thos. Paley on a 10c ticket drew the lumber used at the picuic and sold it for $12.

The Fiscal Court has concluded to erect a bridge over Woolper creek in the north end of the county. The people of this end are circulating a petition asking said court to build a bridge over Mud Lick where it crosses the Walton and Beaver Lick road crosses it. This road is a mail route and traveled more than auy other county road in the county, and the people think if the county is going to build bridges, this one should be built, as more people would be accommodated than on any other county road.

The St. Patrick's church, of Verona, had a picnic last Thursday in Arnold's Grove. It was largely attended and everything went off happily and everybody had a full measure of enjoyment.

There were so many visitors here last week that no one took the trouble to report them as the paper is somewhat crowded with other matter If there are any items of interest it will be a great accommodation for the folks to let it be known.

During the meeting of the Teachers' Association, Mr. A. Sanders conveyed the teachers to and from its sessions without charges.

Mr. Albert Brittenhelm charged the Institute but $1 per day for the use of the Opera House. And now Joe Reed will be wanting it at the same price when he holds his entertainments, because he contributed so much to the enjoyment of the great audience of the teachers.

Miss Lizzie Kipp is entitled to the greatest credit for that affair as she collected the performers here and there and didu't even have time for a rehearsal.

Mr. Philip Rieb was out on Sunday to visit his family, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan brought Hazel out Saturday on a visit to her father, E. J. Gorman.

Dr. Jones last week, brought home a wheel and in two days was able to circulate around town very creditably. His daughter, Mary Vernon, Saturday afternoon on Miss Lucille Hind's wheel accomplished the feat of riding successfully from Mrs. Arnold's to San Hind's residence, nearly a mile, after less than an hour's trial.

Saml. C. Orem, of Beuniugton, Ind., had an innocent and way-off look on his face as he drove up in front of the P. O. on the second day of the Institute, and asked if they would pleas tell him how far it was to Walton. Being told he was in the heart of the place, he remarked that three differeut men had told him that it was the most prosperous town in Northern Kentucky; that people were afraid to build because should they do so some neighbor would put up a far better one, and that they had been doing this to such an extent that they did not know what to do with the old homes.

Dr. Jas. H. Brown, of Crittenden, last week, shipped his brother-in-law at Carrollton, 2 bushels of New York King wheat, for the seed of which he had paid $5 per bushel. The Dr. has been offered $3 per bushel for his crop and refused it as he will sow it all himself.

Mr. Byron Northcutt and son, Earl, spent a few days here much to the latter's delight.

Misses Gertrude and Pauline Curley have returned home, the former from Lagrauge and the latter from Zion.

Pt. Pleasant.

Aug. 15—J. M. Riggs and wife, and B. W. Clore and wife, spent Sunday with Charles Riggs and family, of Kenton road.

On next Tuesday night the young people of this vicinity will indulge in a hay ride.

Miss Laura Gray is spending a week with Mrs. Burt Scott, of Fairview.

F. Scott and wife, of Fairview, spent a few days of last week with friends in this neighborhood.

Several from this vicinity will attend the fair at Carthage, this week.

Mrs. Lydia Scott, who has been sick for two weeks, is improvlug.

Beaver.

The Beaver Lick Mercantile Co., have elected the old board of directors for the ol- year, and declared a 7 per cent dividend.

The German Medicine Co., is here, giving a very meritorious show nightly and selling an immense amount of medicine. We can heartily commend this show to the public.

Uncle Robert Conley has made quite a number of fancy cakes, and presented them to his friends. He has a combined churn and washing machine that's a dandy.

The fair is the great forthcoming event. Everybody is laying his plans, and the boys are raising money, and it now looks like everybody will be there except the p. m., and he is expected to be at its the first day.

Clore's Ridge.

Aug. 12—Since the rains tobacco is looking nicely.

Miss Annie Hey, of Bromley, is visiting in this vicinity.

Lucien Clore purchased a nice bunch of sheep from the Neal Bros.

Master Garnett Huey is visiting Masters Elbert and Huey Clore.

Kirb Conner and brother, Wilbur, drove a lot of fine cattle to the city last Thursday.

The party given by Willie Rice and sister, Stella, was quite a success and all enjoyed themselves.

Mr. Richard Manza and family, and Miss Edna Daiheln, of Covington, after a week's visit with J. W. Kite's family, returned home, Sunday.

It was quite a surprise to Mr. Sam Wingate when his children all went home with well filled baskets, Thursday, to celebrate his 83d birth day.

Constance.

The tin mill has shut down for general repairs.

Rev. Watkins preached at the Christian church, Saturday night.

There will be two weddings lu town soon. Get your tin pans ready.

The high water has destroyed all of the corn under the river banks.

Mrs. Mall will take her Sunday-school on an outing to the Zoo, Aug. 20.

The Miss Brunstrops, of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting Mrs. H. Kotnyre.

James Loder, son of L. A. Loder, of Petersburg, will be employed as clerk at Davis & Co.'s soon.

Billy Cloud's horse backed his buggy over a steep bauk on the new pike and damaged Billy and the horse considerably.

There were nine additions to the camp meeting at Bromley. Among them was Miss Lillie Walby, of this county.

The Excelsior Colored Band, of Covington, serenaded the citizens of this place, last Wednesday night. Their music was grand.

Richwood.

Died—Mrs. Judith Rice, widow of the late James M. Rice, at her residence on the Beaver pike near Richwood church.

Mrs. Rice was born in Madison county, Virgina, February 15th, 1814, and came with her parents to Frankfort, Kentucky, when a child. Her maiden name was Tinsley, being of that family who were so prominent in Kentucky's early history. She was married to Jas. M. Rice, December 10, 1829, since which time she has been a resident of Boone county, Ky., her husband, who was one of Boone's most substantial and prosperous farmers, died 24 years ago. To this union were born eight children, five of whom are living: Mrs. Lucy Carpenter, Mrs. Fanny Soden, Charles B. Rice, Harriet Harvey, of Hillsboro, Texas, and Allen M. Rice, of Mexico, Mo. She leaves 18 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Rice was for many years a member of the Methodist Church, and her funeral services were conducted at the house by Rev. Rolland assisted by Rev. W. H. Davis, at 2 pm. the 15th inst., after which the remains were buried in the family cemetery.

Mound Field Farm.

Miss Pauline Regenbogen, we are pleased to say is rapidly regaining her health at the hospital in Cincinnati, where she was taken some 10 days ago.

Carl Bradford, son of Robert Bradford, is at home from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been with his brother, Will, in the mercantile business. Carl is on a furlough to recuperate his health, which has not been very good of late.

Jerry Estes, wife and little daughter, Wm Fox and his wife and a Mrs. Fitzgerald, passed by the other day in a spring wagon enroute to Estill county, where they originally came from. Jerry says it would take them a week, good driving to make the trip. They expect to be gone a month.

Harvy Aylor found his turkeys that left home over ten days ago, after putting in nearly all the time hunting for them. He would hear of them in one neighborhood and when he would go there he would here of them somewhere else. He brought them home last Sunday from beyond Union. The chicken was with them—10 of the turkeys were not recovered.

The Institute.

The Institute was called to order at Walton, August 8th, 1898, by Superintendent Voshell at 11 a. m. After prayer, Dr. S. M. Adams delivered an able welcome address in which he opened the gates of Walton to the teachers.

Prof. Voshell made a few pointed remarks and was followed by Prof. M. A. Cassidy in a very able and eloquent address, setting forth the object of the week's work.

The Institute adjourned to meet at at 1 o'clock p. m.

The afternoon session was commenced by enrollment of teachers, music and singing, after which Prof. H. M. Gunn, one of the Instructors, read a very able paper on Psycology. Miss Lizzie Kipp read a most excellent paper on "How to train the Memory," and was followed by Prof. Gunn in a discussion.

RECESS.

After music and singing, A. C. Collins spoke in favor of the "Southern School." Mr. C. C. Adams spoke in favor of several school journals

Mary H. M. Gunn read a very excellent paper, "Mind, the basis of Institute Work." Prof. Myers followed the previous speaker in discussion of the subject of Psycology.

Teachers enrolled:

G. E. Thomas,	Loula Soutlier,
Hale Keeney,	Flora Youell,
Otto Grady,	Lillian Corbin,
Wm. Gaines,	Lizzie Gordon,
Neander Stephens,	Mary E. Walton,
John Elliott,	Allie Weaver,
E. W. Yates,	Lucy Clayton,
W. L. Hann,	Mrs. Watkins,
D. I. Tanner,	Lillie Rouse,
Mrs. N. Stephens,	Anna Wolfe,
Bettie Dolph,	Frances Fluch,
Lizzie Kipp,	Marguarett Marble,
Mary Gaines,	Katie Smith,
Beruice Dun,	Ella Norman,
Sadie Kirtley,	Lizzie Kipp,
Lacy Kirtley,	E. T. Groner.
Mrs. F. E. Kirtley,	Walter Kelly,
Marietta Riley,	B. W. Nelson,
Jeanette Chambers,	D. M. Snyder,
Ethel Terrill,	C. R. Courtbard,
Lizzie Parker,	G. S. Hann,
Edna McElroy,	Lottie Burnett,
Viola Walker,	Katie Craig,
Connie Stepbens,	A. C. Collins.

TUESDAY MORNING.

The Institute met pursuant to adjournment, and after music, prayer and roll call, Prof. Gunn asked a series of important questions on the previous day's work, and a very interesting discussion followed and was continued until recess.

After recess the Institute was again favored with good music. Pro. Cassidy then began an interesting lecture on "The School." The lecture was not concluded until afternoon. It was given splendid attention throughout.

W. J. Hon, of the Cincinnati College of Music, then rendered some very fine music.

Miss Lillie Rouse's paper on "The School," brought forth many compliments.

After recess Prof. Gunn delivered an interesting lecture on Reading. This concluded the program for the day.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The Institute reconvened at the appointed hour. After the usual opening exercises Prof. Cassidy asked a series of questions on "The School." This opened up an animated discussion in which a large number of teachers took part, entertaining and instructing the Institute until recess.

After recess Reading was thoroughly discussed by Instructor Gunn, Superintendent Voshell, and Messrs. Keeny, Thomas, Grady, Snyder and Miss Lillie Rouse.

The afternoon was devoted to the exercises of the common school graduates. The following was the program:

Prayer.....Bro. W. H. Davis.

MUSIC.

Liberty March.....Miss Lora Diers
Salutatory.....Miss Faunie H. Cleek.
Light.....Miss Lulu Souther.

MUSIC.

Sleep Well, Thou Angel.....
Mrs. Phil Rist, of Covington.
The Ladder of Fame.....
Miss Flora Youell
Virtue of Life.....Walter Hafer.

MUSIC.

Duet—Rip-Rap.....
Miss Edna Ransler, Miss Lora Diers.
When John Comes Marching Home...
Miss Jane Davis.

MUSIC.

Stars and Stripes Forever...Lora Diers.
Valedictory.....Miss Ella Cason.

MUSIC.

Farewell to the Alm.....Mrs. Phil Rist.
Address.....Rev. H. Max Letz.

MUSIC.

When the Frogs Begin to Jump.....
Miss Lora Diers.

THURSDAY.

The teachers were on hand promptly, and as soon as the opening exercises were concluded, the Institute resumed its work with a vim born of interest. Writing was the first subject for discussion, which was made so interesting by the several teaches who took part, that Instructor Cassidy had only time in which to introduce Composition. It was briefly discussed after recess.

English Grammar was one of the leading subjects, and was handled in an able manner by such experienced instructors as Mrs. S. H. Myers, Geo. A. Yates, Miss Lillie Rouse, D. M. Snyder, T. Z. Roberts and Supt. Voshell.

Prof. Emil Grasser read an interesting paper on Psycology, and the Institute adjourned until 1:30 o'clock.

The afternoon session was made decidedly interesting by the discussions of Discipline, Mental Arithmetic and Practical Arithmetic. A large number of teachers made good talks on those subjects in the order named.

FRIDAY.

This was the last day of the session. The interest did not lag, and teachers were in their places with their usual punctuality. Geography and Kentucky History were the only subjects open for consideration, and it seemed that nearly every teacher was ready with a good talk on one or the other of these subjects.

The afternoon session was devoted to issuing certificates of attendance and receiving the reports of committees.

The Committee on Co. Association, reported the times and places of its meetings as follows:

District No. 3, at Maple Hill, fourth Saturday in September.

No. 2—At Bellevue, third Saturday in October.

No. 6—At Point Pleasant, first Saturday in November.

No. 5—At Verona, fourth Saturday in November.

No. 4—At Union, third Saturday in December.

No. 1—At Bullittsville, first Saturday in January.

Miss Fannie Finch resigned as Librarian, and Miss Katie Smith was elected in her place.

Prof. A. L. Peterman favored the Institute with a talk on Phonetics.

The committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions, and they were adopted unanimously:

"We, the Teachers of the Common Schools of Boone county, Ky., assembled in Institute at Walton, wish to express our sincere sentiments in the following resolutions:

"That we greatly appreciate the courtesy, kindness and hearty hospitality extended to us by the people of Walton and vicinity, which we feel to have been sincere and unaffected.

"That as we much enjoyed the entertainment, we thank Miss Lizzie Kipp and the young talent of Walton, for a very pleasant evening.

"That we thank the John Church Co. for the free use of asplendid piano, furnished by their representative W. J. Hood.

"That we acknowledge the efficient work of our Superintendent, and the Conductors, Prof. M. A. Cassidy and H. M. Gunn, in manking our Institute so interesting.

"That we are glad to have had the presence and instruction of the eminent educators, Profs. Peterman and Yates."

For sale—Two sows and pigs.
T. D. Goodridge, Burlington.

For sale—One pure bred Guernsey bull ten months old, also ten spring shoats. J. E. Rouse, Limaburg.

For Sale—10 stock hogs, will weigh from 75 to 100 pounds each; also four sows and pigs. R. B. Carver.

NOTICE.

I desire to say to the farmers of Boone county, that I have my flour-mill at Normansville in first-class order, and will buy their wheat, grind it for them or exchange flour for wheat. I guarantee satisfaction. My flour is as good as can be got anywhere. I will also take wheat on deposit if desired. Flour exchanged in proportion to the quality of the wheat.

JOHN WALSH,
Normausville, Ky.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,

DENTIST,

133 Garfield Place,
CINCINNATI,

Has removed his office to
The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th,
Bet. Vine and Race.
Home City, Mondays.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS

THE OLD—

RELIABLE - GROCER,

UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molasses, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
General Merchants,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.

GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention.

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.

Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

TWO FOR ONE

By Special Arrangement we offer

HOME AND FARM

In combination with

THE RECORDER

For $1.75.

Being nearly the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send

HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE.

HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS of ROOFING,
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

The 5th Term of
WALTON ACADEMY
WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.

Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.

Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.

Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
—(o)—
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.

J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give—
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you.
He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.

To Whom It May Concern.

Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.

W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

Local News.

BUTTUR CURE—Sc. Chas. Tras. Co. adv. in this paper.

Bentler ran his machine into the barn, Friday.

Tony Bentler will resumed grinding at his mill next Friday.

Born, to Perry Beemon and wife, on the 12th inst., a fine boy.

The German Medicine Co.'s show is now at Beaver. The show never fails to draw large crowds.

As is the custom of the colored school at this place its fall and winter session began in August again this year.

C. C. Hughes killed a spreading adder out on his farm, one day last week, that measured nearly 4 feet in length.

Dr. Crouch has a very lengthy article on pikes and bridges in this impression. It was received last week, but too late for publication.

Nine marriage licenses were issued by the County Clerk, since last April, and at the last term of Circuit Court four divorces were granted.

W. J. Rice sold wheat at 69 cents and Geo. Blyth at 71 cents, last week. Mr. Rice says he will hold the remainder of his crop for a better price.

Rev. Gray preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, and Rev. David Blyth, that evening. Good congregations at both services.

A tremendously heavy rain fell on Bacon Run, last Wednesday night. It rained but a short time, or the country would have been torn all to pieces.

Lost—A silver chain bracelet with three silver hearts on it. Initials carved on the hearts. Finder will please return to Miss Sadie Kirtley, Bullittsville, Ky.

It is said that John Lassing is an expert when it comes to taking a gar out of a seln to string it, but those teeth marks on one of his thumbs are silent witnesses to the contrary.

The German Medicine Company's Comedy Co., has been at Beaver over a week, and is pleasing a large audience each night as it has done at every stand it has made in the county.

A handsome monument was erected on the Conner lots in the Odd-Fellows' cemetery, last week. It was put up by Kassabaum, of Aurora, his agent, J. T. Marshall, making the sale.

Having rented a refreshment stand for the Florence fair, I will be glad to meet all my old patrons and as many new ones as will call on me.

JAMES L. CLORE.

The Constance Christian Sunday School will have its annual outing near the mouth of Dry creek on Saturday, August 27. Good speakers will be present. Plenty amusements for the children.

The Sunday-school scholars began lining up early Saturday morning to be conveyed to the Sunday-school celebration at the Harvest Home grounds. James Clore had charge of the transport.

R. P. Cloud, of Florence, will be well prepared with stable room immediately across the pike from the entrance to the fair ground, and will give horses proper attention during the fair. Give him a call.

Stephen Maurer, who was arrested for taking coal off of the Chambers bar at North Bend, was tried by Judge Roberts, last Thursday, and fined $10. Maurer is the man who Add Riddell shot in making the arrest.

There will be meeting at the Mount Pleasant Baptist church on the fourth Saturday evening and the Sunday following in this month. Basket meeting on Sunday. Elders H. M. Currey, W. I. Carnell and J. B. Doobs, will be present.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

James L. Huey, of the Union neighborhood, passed through town, Friday, driving a Southdown buck and seventeen spring lambs, he had purchased of James E. Smith. For the buck he paid $12, and $5 each for the lambs. They are a cross of the Shropshire and Southdown, and Mr. Huey, who is a good judge of sheep, considers them as fine as can be found in this county.

As John Portwood was coming down the Jerry Beemon hill, on the Florence pike, last Saturday, on his wheel, he passed two men in a buggy, who followed closely after him, ordering him to get out of the road, which he did not do soon enough to suit them, when one drew his pistol and commenced shooting at Portwood, one of the balls striking the pike near him. Portwood sidetracked and the men passed on.

The protracted meeting at East Bend Methodist Church closed, last Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Harris, was assisted by Rev. W. K. Dennis, of Florence. The preaching was able and acceptable to the people. Eight or ten additions to the membership. Rev. J. W. Harris will be at Burlington on the fourth Sunday for the last time this year. All the members are requested to be present. The benevolent collection will be taken.

The colored Baptist church at this place is in trouble. About a year ago a colored woman preached for them several weeks, the result being several conversions who were baptized into the church. Now comes along a male preacher who tells those who were baptized by the woman that their baptism is not valid, because the woman was not an ordained minister of the gospel, and suggests that they ought to be rebaptized. Some of them say they have partaken of the Lord's Supper, and don't propose to repudiate their past immersion. Five of them were rebaptized, Sunday.

Circuit Court.

Prosecutions against the following were continued: John Horton 2 cases; Frank Staley.

Prosecutions against the following persons were continued with alias process ordered to issue therein: Frank Staley, Bert Staley, Richard McGuire, Webb Lamkin, 2. T. D. Ross, John Michael, Martha Warner, &c., Sam Ingram, &c., Mike Teeters, John Leopold.

Prosecutions against the following persons were filed away with leave to clerk to redocket: Hogan Presser, Ben Covington, John Parsons, Robt. VonGundy.

The following fines were imposed: James Story, breach of the peace, $10; John Finch, selling liquor to a minor, $50; R. C. Tilley, selling liquor unlawfully, $50.

The appeal from the judgment of the County Court refusing to appoint John Peno. and appointing Geo. W. Reeves guardian for their little grand-daughter, Pearl Reeves, was heard and the lower court reversed, and ordered to appoint John Peno as her guardian. This litigation brought a large number of witnesses from the Constance neighborhood, where the guardianship had created considerable interest. Peno and Reeves now each have one of the little girls who are twins.

Kite Story, for the killing of Colonel Carrier, and James W. Aylor, for killing Bert Roberts, were each indicted for voluntary manslaughter. Story's bail was fixed at $1,000, and Aylor's at $1,500.

Harry Hamlin, aged about 17 years, who has been in jail here since last December for shooting old man Smith at the mouth of Gunpowder, was called into court Thursday, and recoguized in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the next term, and released. There is no probability of Smith ever appearing against Hamlin, and the action of the court meets the approbation of all.

The motion of Dickerson and Dyas for a $500 attorney's fee against W. B. Norman in the suit his wife filed for a divorce did not prevail, the court allowing them only $200. Mr. and Mrs. Norman adjusted their troubles before the case was called in court and are again living happily together.

N. W. Botts was granted a divorce from his wife, Sallie A. Botts.

Thos. Vest, was granted a divorce from his wife, Bertha Vest.

Fannie B. Glackin was granted a divorce from her husband, J. W. Glackin. She was given the custody of her infant children.

Coanelia Jane Gordon was granted a divorce from her husband, W. R. Gordon. She was given the custody of her children.

Henry Dixon was allowed his claims against the assigned estate of W. H. Smith.

In the case of A. M. Edwards against Fannie Edwards, an order was entered requiring the defendant to allow the plaintiff to see his children as often as once a month.

Edward Carrier vs J. M. Baker. The jury found for the defendant and he retains the horse he purchased of Col. Carrier's widow.

W. C. Hensley was given a judgment against the trustees of school district No. 14, for $196,60, and permission to take and use any and all the fence posts yet on the school house lot, which he delivered there.

In the case of Chas. Harrell against J. R. Lyons &c., the plaintiff was given a judgment for $346.25, subject to a credit of $222. The Walton bank was ordered to pay to plaintiff the $142 arising from the sale of the mortgaged land as a credit on the judgment. A. M. Edwards is ordered to pay to plaintiff the $160 arising from the sale of personal property.

To the Hon. John W. Green, Judge of the 15th Judicial District:—We your grand jury would most respectfully report that we have been in session five days, that we have examined 51 witnesses and returned nine indictments. We have examined the public buildings and find the Court-house in bad repair, but we are informed that the Fiscal Court has taken steps to make the needed improvements and repairs. The County Infirmary is clean and well kept in good condition, and the wood work should be painted and walls also. The county jail is in fairly good condition. It is now empty and should be thoroughly cleaned and fumigated and painted. All of which is respectfully reported. J. W. BERKSHIRE, Foreman.

The grand jury did considerable investigating, but results were few.

Besides the indictments against Aylor and Story, mentioned elsewhere, the following other indictments were returned: Against James Tafferty, three indictments, one for carrying pistol, one for shooting to wound another person and one for throwing eggs at a lawful assembly.

Mrs. R. P. Berkshire, trespass.

R. C. Tilley, unlawfully selling whiskey.

Add Riddell, shooting and wounding another person.

Judge Greene notified the attorneys that they may expect a three weeks' term of court in December. It will take that length of time to dispose of the business that has accumulated on the dockets.

Court adjourned directly after noon Friday.

NOTES.

The term was abbreviated as much as possible.

Judge Cram did not tarry long at this term.

Petit jurors for the term cost $144 and tried one lunatic and a $25 horse case.

The 24 petit jurors were discharged on Thursday, each drawing $6. Total, $144.

The grand jury closed out its business Friday about noon, and was paid $120.

Joel C. Clore and Ome Rogers, from the Cincinnati bar, were on hand early in the action.

Attys. Tomlin and Dyas were on hand every day, looking after the litigation from their ballwick.

Col. Weeden O'Neal, of Covington, attended court on Thursday. The Colonel does not appear as robust as he did a few years ago.

Of the several attorneys that were practicing at this bar twenty-five years ago, G. G. Hughes is the only one now 12 [illegible] practice here.

Hon. W. W. Dickerson and his son, Richard, were here several days, last week. Mr. Dickerson's labors were confined, largely, to the divorce field.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard,	3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose,	5 "
Cottonade Pants,	50 "
Working Shirts,	25 "

We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

Samuel Adams, of Erlanger, came over on Wednesday and pushed his business through, when he returned to look after his home duties as city attorney.

F. E. Curley's recent experience as one of a Sheriff's posse over in Kenton county is amusing. Get him to tell you how the posse tried to capture a German Santiago, and how the German and his family made them retreat, jumping hollows, logs and fences.

Commonwealth's Attorney Gray has a very fine Winchester rifle with which he does some very excellent shooting, using some times smokeless powder. Mr. Gray is well informed on the question of powders and the various projectiles used in the army, and he entertained quite a crowd tone evening on these subjects.

Upon his arrival B. F. Menifee was served with an order of injunction from the Kangaroo court compelling him to refrain from telling any new jokes during the term, and knowing he could not survive long under such restraint, he put his business through as rapidly as possible, and hastened back to Crittenden, beyond the jurisdiction of the Kangaroo tribunal.

The Trustee of the jury fund received from the county officers as follows:

County Clerk	$ 14 73.
Circuit Clerk	66 12.
J. E. Botts, Police Judge	50.
J. C. Byland, Justice Peace	5 01.
County Judge	10 00.
Total,	$ 96 36.

Of the above amount only $81 35 could be used to pay off the jurors, and the sheriff was ordered by the court to supply the deficit, which he did, and the jurors for the term were paid

The Burlington ball team scored its third victory this year over the Petersburg team on the grounds of the latter, last Saturday. The score was as follows:

Innings.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	—
Burlington	7	0	0	1	0	2	0	1	*	—11
Petersburg	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	2	3	— 7

Last week the RECORDER mentioned the fact that James Barnes, of the Garrison neighborhood, had brought to the County Infirmary a baby which was left on his door step a few nights before. Supt. Blyth concluded he would do a little detective work on the case, and in a few days he had located the child's mother, who told him that Jas. Barnes' son was the child's father. The next day Mr. Blyth started to take the child back from whence it came, and on the road he met the reputed father to whom he delivered it. The young man did not hesitate to receive the child, only asking Mr. Blyth if he could not take it on home for him. His request was not granted.

Burglars visited three houses in Florence last Saturday night. At Ed Corbin's they were scared off before entering the house. At Lee Eddins' they took off the window blinds, tore out the fly screen and holsted and propped up the window through which they entered. Going to Mr. Eddins' room they got his pants and carried them out on the roof of the house, where they left them and his pocket book after it had been rifled. From Mr. Eddins they got $8.50 and a pocket knife, overlooking a $5 bill in the purse from which they took the other money. At Dave Osborn's they entered the house and stole 35 cents from his son Ben, leaving Mr. Eddins' knife in exchange therefor. Mr. Osborn heard the burglars while in the house but thought his son had gotten up for something, and paid no attention to them. Had the burglars got hold of the pocket book of Jeff Eddins, who, with his family, was visiting his brother, Lee, last Saturday night, they would have made quite a nice little haul, as it contained over $30. No one heard the burglars while at Mr. Eddins'. Sunday night a burgiar was trying to enter Mrs. W. Y. Crigler's residence but scared away by her brother, Mr. John White who heard him.

A large number of persons attended the renting of the privileges at the fair grounds last Saturday, and the bidding was spirited. Privileges rented as follows:

Refreshment Stand No. 1,	$225 00
Refreshment Stand No. 2,	200 00
Refreshment Stand No. 3,	81 50
Refreshment Stand No. 4,	51 00
Basket Room	122 00
Bicycle Stall	10 50
Merry-go-round	85 00
Cirgar-wheel	51 00
Watermelon stand	13 00
Barber Shop	8 50
Ball and Negro Babies	85 00
Feed Store	10 00
Total,	$942 00

The eagerness to rent the above privileges indicates that there are others who believe a large crowd will attend the fair this year. The rents realized from the privileges will not meet the expenses of operating the fair, which are about $300 per day.

County Court.

J. B. Berkshire, J. S. Clutterbuck and M. L. Riddell appointed as appraisers of the estate of Arthur Blythe, deceased.

W. E. Vest allowed $5 for surveying done on Burlington and East Bend county road.

W. H. Clayton granted license to peddle merchandise in a two horse wagon.

W. E. Dixon released from paying taxes on 13 acres of land lying in Kenton and assessed in Boone.

Bradley & Gilbert allowed $15 for 100 file boxes for circuit clerk's office.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. H. Ryle and wife, of Erlanger, spent last week in Burlington.

Bluford Allen, of Hamilton, visited the RECORDER, last week.

Frank Berkshire, of Chicago, is visiting his relatives at Petersburg.

Miss Maud Robinson, of Newport, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Castleman.

G. W. Ossman and wife, of Beaver, were guests of B. W. Adams and wife, Sunday.

Walter Lassing and Joseph Huey, of Union, were guests at J. M. Lassing's, Sunday.

R. P. Rice, one of the leading business men of Florence, was in town Monday.

The last reports from Uncle Yancy Clore are that he is still in a critical condition.

Mrs. W. E. Piper, and son, Edwin, of Dayton, Ky., are visiting relatives in Burlington.

Doc Mannin, was in town Monday on business for the Hebron Building Association.

Robt. B. Reed, of Covington, was visiting his mother and sisters at this place, Monday.

Mr. E. L. Rouse, of the Gunpowder neighborhood, made this office a pleasant call one day last week.

D. E. Castleman's mother and grandmother, who had been his guests for a few days, returned home Monday.

Rev. David Blyth and wife, of West Liberty, Ohio, arrived last Thursday evening to visit their relatives here.

J. B. Helm and wife, of Birmingham, Alabama, will visit their old home and friends in this county, about Sept. 1.

Miss Jennie Lee Castleman is being entertained by her cousin, Miss Lula Castleman, at Glencoe, Gallatin county.

Elder E. Stephens, of Erlanger, preached at the Methodist Church, last Sunday afternoon, to a good congregation.

Miss Anna Beemon, who has for some time been visiting her grandfather, Mr. Sam Stephens, has returned to her home.

Mrs. James A. Riddell, of the Hebron neighborhood, entertained several of her Burlington lady friends, last Thursday.

Mr. Halstead, pension examiner was in town last week, and interviewed several of the local pensioners who desire an increase.

We are glad to learn thad Dr. A. Sayre, of Florence, who has been critically ill, is improving and will soon regain his usual health.

Messrs. Ell and Ezra Rouse, of Florence, were out this way looking for fat cattle, Monday. They report good cattle as very scarce.

M. J. Corbin and wife, of Bellevue, and Mrs. Corbin's sister, Miss Lucy Botts, passed through town enroute to the city, Monday.

Congressman A. S. Berry was shaking hands with the crowd on the streets, one day last week. He was looking after his political interests in this part of the hemisphere.

Henry Gordon, of Muncie, Indiana, and Professor Crit Gordon, of Eminence, Ky., were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Gorden, near Hebron, last week.

James Walsh, of the German Medicine Co., now delighting the Beaver people with his exhibitions, was in town, one day last week. He reported business as very good.

Last Saturday Mr. J. W. Duncan and his great grandson, Warren Lassing, celebrated their birthday with a dinner at J. M. Lassing's. Mr. Duncan was 72 and Warren was 6 years old that day.

Mr. Henry Rouse, of Gunpowder, made the RECORDER a brief call, a few days ago. He reported everything in his neighborhood as growing nicely, and peace and plenty prevailing in every direction.

Lamot D. Houston, of Union, was visiting his son William, last Saturday and Sunday. He has the same sunny, happy disposition of yore, and, physically, he is a much better man than he was 40 years ago.

The following constituted a gay party of young people visiting Big Bone Springs on the 7th inst.: Misses Josie Bentler, Emma Bentler, Fannie Hogan, Mary and Catharine Furlong, Anna Beemon, and Messrs. Wm. Bentler, Kirb Tanner, John Hogan and O. S. Crisler. They had a most enjoyable time going and returning and while at the springs.

The Sunday School celebration at the Harvest Home grounds, last Saturday, was attended by a large crowd, and was a day that will be long remembered by the host of handsome, bright-eyed little girls and boys present. The addresses delivered were good, and the singing splendid. There never was a happier assemblage of people on any occasion. Old and young alike were sorry when the hour for returning home arrived.

The wife of James Porter, of Chicago, a son of O. T. Porter, of this co., died on the 3d inst. She leaves a 13 months-old child.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

DEALER IN

DRY GOODS

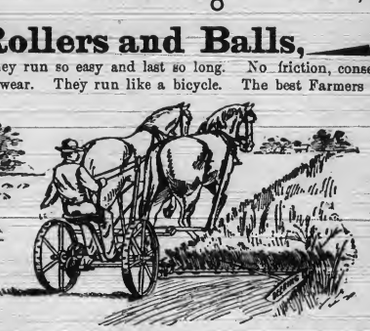
Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,

At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.



The Aeromotor Wind Mills.

The Deering Harvesters,

Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,

BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,

UNDER-  EMBALTAKER MER,

—Corner Pike & Russell Streets,—

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says:

"After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.

—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. : : KENTUCKY.

THE emperor, Francis Joseph, of Austria, in order to provide a residence nearer Vienna for his daughter, the Archduchess Valerie, and her children, has bought the Frohsdorf chateau, in lower Austria, in which the Comte de Chambord lived from 1840 till his death in 1883.

THE cost of a true Persian carpet—that used by the natives themselves—is to drop a piece of red-hot charcoal upon it, which leaves a singed round spot. If the carpet is one of the first quality the singed wool can be brushed off with the hand without the least trace of the burn being afterward discernible.

THE smallest salary I have heard of is paid to a young man in Brookline for running errands. He at first worked for nothing, but grumbled until a weekly stipend was agreed upon. He now receives 1 cent a week, and considers himself amply remunerated for going to the grocery store. But then he is only 7 years old.

ONE lesson of the war is that ships are no match for land batteries. Some $2,000,000 was wasted when the American fleet at Santiago attempted to reduce the forts. The hundreds of shots fired at Morro castle proved absolutely harmless. What might have been the result had the forts contained good guns and good gunners?

THE regular army of China is said to consist of 323,000 men. Besides this, the emperor's army, there is a national army of 630,000 men, who are paid about one dollar a month. The cavalry receive about three dollars a month, feed their own horses, and if the horses are lost or killed are required to replace them out of their pay.

MORTALITY among hospital nurses is startling. It has been ascertained that a healthy girl of 17, devoting herself to hospital nursing, dies on an average 21 years sooner than a girl of the same age moving among the general population. A hospital nurse at the age of 25 has the same expectation of life as a person at the age of 33 in the ordinary community.

COMPETENT authorities expected that the Klondike output would this season amount to $20,000,000 or $30,000,000, but the total output is estimated at only one-half this amount, or about $10,000,000 or $15,000,000. Canada charges 10 per cent. upon all gold mined on her territory. She collected up to June 1 a revenue of $639,000, which represents $6,390,000 mined. Much gold was probably smuggled away.

SOUSA, the musician, is to be made a musical director in the 6th army corps, with the rank of captain, provided he can be released from duty in time to fill his fall engagements. Meanwhile, the sailors on the Brooklyn, jealous of those on the New York, which has a monopoly of the music with Adm. Sampson's fleet, have written to Sousa asking him to name a competent musician to organize a band for their ship.

SHORT sight is more common in town than among country folk, for the simple reason that townspeople have less need for long sight, they have fewer opportunities for exercising their sight on distant objects, and their occupations do not favor its development by training or selection, but it is not, in the majority of cases, a proof of physical degeneracy, as can be seen in the case of the Germans, who are a notoriously short-sighted people.

MALMSEY, a butt of which wine was selected by George of Clarence for his final immersion, is now again used in France for bathing purposes. It takes a 100 quarts of wine for a bath, the French character of which is shown by the fact that the wine is poured back into the barrel after use and is employed over again for the next bath. After 100 baths, according to the London Daily Telegraph, the malmsey is distilled, "and the result is a delicious brandy."

PEOPLE having friends or relatives in the armies now stationed in Cuba and Porto Rico seem to be much puzzled as to how letters to them should be stamped. For the benefit of those interested the post office department has issued a circular stating that letters addressed to soldiers or sailors in Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philippines only require the domestic rates of postage. Mail matter addressed to others than government employes must pay the regular rate as fixed by the international postal union.

ONE of the pastimes of the crews of the blockading fleet in front of Havana is to fish for sharks, in which they have been eminently successful. The crew of the Amphitrite recently captured a huge shark and when dissected there was found in his stomach the sleeve of a United States sailor's jacket with seven service stripes. The sailors believe that the sleeve was worn by one of the victims of the battle ship Maine and when the vessel was blown up on the night of February 15 the arm was blown off and swallowed by the shark.

MAJ. GEN. SHAFTER is said to be a rich man, even for these days of large fortunes. He is not a multi-millionaire, but an army friend of his who pretends to know rates him at $1,000,000. The general is quoted as having made his money by successful operations in mines and in lumber. His gift for business is something unusual in the army circle, the rule being that officers do not engage actively in commercial enterprises. Rumor credits him with the purpose of retiring from active service at the end of this war and living thereafter a life of luxurious ease.

A RICH COUNTRY.

Some of the Natural Resources of the Province of Santiago de Cuba.

Maize, Yams, Sweet Potatoes and Other Vegetables Grow Everywhere With Little Cultivation—Forests of Valuable Hard Woods.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 15.—The province of Santiago de Cuba, especially that part east of a line drawn between Sagua de Tanamo, San Luis and Santiago, is to-day of vital interest to thousands in the United States.

The natural resources of the country and its fertility, its products and its industries are of paramount importance. The richness of the soil here, as elsewhere in the island, entitles it to consideration from an agricultural standpoint. The raising of cane and the manufacture of sugar are the chief sources of wealth in the province. In the immediate neighborhood of Santiago are many sugar estates.

Manzanillo, further westward on the south coast, boasts of many large "centrales," or central sugar estates, where the cane grown on neighboring field is brought and grown, so many cartloads of cane being delivered against so many pounds of manufactured sugar, the grinder, or owner, of the estate making his profit ont of the immense amount of cane brought him, of which he keeps a percentage or royalty, the "Colono," or small planter, finding it to his advantage to have his cane ground on a royalty basis instead of laying out a large sum of money for machinery, etc., unwarranted by the smallness of his holding or cane crop.

Guantanamo, Santiago and Manzanillo are the three important sugar shipping ports of eastern Cuba.

Next in importance, agriculturally, come the coffee and cocoa plantations, with which Santiago province is thickly covered. Coffee and cocoa plants are generally grown on the same "fincas", or plantation, the frail coffee plant requiring for its growth the shade offered by the tall and overhanging cocoa tree. The coffee shrub yields its crop in November, but, as it is not regular and uniform, three harvests are made annually, the first in November, the second in January and the third in March.

Maize, yams, sweet potatoes and other vegetables grow everywhere, with little care or supervision. In six months they bear. Coffee shrubs need the shade and these plants offer it. The result is that on most coffee plantations these vegetables are grown, which amply feed and sustain the planter, who after six months is on a self-sustaining basis, with a goodly coffee crop ahead as clean profit.

Tobacco is grown extensively at Palma Soriano, San Luis, Paire, Jiguany and Guiea, most of which has hitherto been shipped to Germany, the balance to the Spanish regie. Guiea produces the best leaf, although, of course, of an inferior grade as compared with Vuelta and Partidos tobacco.

The woods and forests of eastern Cuba abound in every variety of hard woods, the principal being mahogany, cedar, rosewood and "majagua," a wood known the world over as the strongest and most durable of all woods, of a greenish ashy hue and an exceedingly close grain. Most of them, in fact nine-tenths of the woodlands are virgin forests which it would take years and years to decimate and which have so far escaped the destructive hand of man owing to the lack of transportation facilities to the seacoast.

The "Yaya," or lancetshar, grows by the thousand acres, and so does the lignum vitæ, so much sought after for the manufacture of block sheaves and of heavy balls used in bowling alleys.

Palm leaf in great quantities is exported to Europe and the United States for the manufacture of hats, and "palmiche" finds a ready market abroad for the manufacture of oil.

Honey and beeswax are other very important articles of export, and modern hives on the plan of the French and Dutch hives would amply repay the investment.

Next in importance to its agricultural products, Santiago de Cuba's iron and manganese mines demand universal attention. As is well known the Santiago ore, with its low percentage of phosphorous ranks, together with the Swedish and the Spanish Demerara mineral as the "crack ore" of the world.

With a wealth of natural resources, rich in agricultural and mineral soil, Santiago de Cuba only awaits American brains, enterprise and capital to make it one of the richest, as well as one of the most beautiful, spots in the world.

The News at Hong Kong.

HONG HONG, Aug. 15.—News of the cessation of hostilities between the United States and Spain was received here Saturday. The British steamer Australian, bound for Sydney, N. S. W., was chartered to carry the news to Manila. No other vessel was available for the purpose owing to the prevalence of typhoon.

Lee Mentioned for Military Governor.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 15.—It is believed here that Gen. Fitzhugh Lee will be military governor of Cuba.

PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

The Furtherance of Trade Relations With Canada Referred to by the Queen—The Spanish-American War.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Parliament was prorogued Friday. The queen's speech of prorogation contained nothing of importance on the eastern question except the following:

"The changes which have taken place in the territorial relations of the powers with the Chinese empire have induced me to conclude agreements by which the harbor of Wei-Hai-Wei and certain positions adjacent to my colony of Hong-Kong have been leased to me by the emperor of China. I trust that these arrangements will conduce to the maintenance of his independence and the security of his empire, and will be favorable to the development of the extensive commerce which is carried on between the people of Great Britain and China."

Concerning the Spanish-American war, the speech says:

"Her majesty has witnessed with the deepest sorrow the hostilities between Spain and the United States. The present negotiations give hope of an honorable and enduring peace."

GARCIA BECOMES FRIENDLY.

A Letter From Gen. Garcia to Gen. Shafter Indicates That He is Sorry for His Action at Santiago.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A special from Santiago, Cuba, to the Herald, says: Gen. Garcia, who in anger because the city after its surrender was not turned over to the Cubans severed all relations with the United States army and withdrew his troops, indicates a desire to reconsider his action in a letter that has been received by Gen. Shafter. The letter is dated at Gibara, August 5. It is in response to a request made by Gen. Miles July 19, when he was planning his expedition to Porto Rico, that Gen. Garcia detail 50 Cubans from his army to accompany the expedition as guides and scouts. In his reply Gen. Garcia said that he understood that as Gen. Miles had already sailed he supposed it would be too late to comply with his request. He stated, however, he is willing to furnish the 50 men if they still are wanted, and inclosed an order for them.

ONLY A GROCERY STORE LEFT

Entire Portion of Wheatland, Cal., Destroyed by Fire—A Chinaman Burned to Death—Loss $185,000.

WHEATLAND, Cal., Aug. 13.—The entire business portion of this town was destroyed by fire Friday. Only one small grocery store is left standing and there are 5,000 people, including transient hop pickers, to feed. The floating population became riotous and began plundering the town. A large force of deputy sheriffs were sworn in from among the citizens to protect the property.

Friday night two attempts were made to burn other portions of the town, leading to the belief that the fire was incendiary. One Chinese was burned to death and a number of persons were overcome by the heat. The total loss was $185,000, of which $40,000 was on grain. Insurance about half.

Sagasta Favors the Sale of the Philippines.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Sagasta is said to favor the sale of the Philippines, so as to avoid the necessity of sending more troops there, as the United States, it is believed, will only take Manila and the surrounding territory. Though there is danger of European complications over such a proposition, French officials favor it, and suggest that the United States buy the islands instead of a European power, as this would prevent complications.

President McKinley Congratulated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—President McKinley was the recipient Friday night of warm congratulations from all parts of the country on the successful termination of the war. Scores of congratulatory telegrams were received at the white house and many reached the administration through Secretary of War Alger and Adjt. Gen. Corbin. Many of those received at the war department came from officers in the army now in the field.

Suit for Possession of Mormon Island.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 13.—The Terminal Railway company has begun suit in the United States court for possession of Mormon island, in San Pedro harbor, where the shipyards are now located. The claim is set up that the island was included in the Spanish grant to the Dominguez family. The Banning brothers have moved on the island as government land and have possession now.

A Family of Soldiers.

OSBORN, O., Aug. 13.—At Springboro, this county, resides Elias Vickers, aged 80. He was a soldier at the beginning of the civil war, and four of his sons, William, Joseph, Jack and C. C. Vickers, also served throughout the war, the latter being a captain. A son-in-law of the old gentleman was also in the army. Three of his grandsons, sons of William Vickers, are now with Gen. Merritt at Manila. His wife had one brother in the Mexican war, two in the war of the rebellion, and father took part in the war of 1812.

G. A. R. MEETING.

Encampment of the Veterans of the War of the Rebellion at Cincinnati.

It Will Be Held September 5 to 10 Inclusive—The Complete Programme of Entertainment as Approved by the Citizens' Committee.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 12.—The complete programme of the week of the National G. A. R. encampment, to be held in this city September 5-10, inclusive, was approved and made public by the Citizens' Executive committee, in charge of all arrangements. No feature of all the encampment preparations has been given more time and thought than that of entertainment, the desire being to send every visitor home happy and pleased with Cincinnati.

The Cincinnati entertainment promises to be out of the ordinary as encampment entertainments have gone, by reason of the fact that the committee, under the leadership of Chairman Chas. F. Logan, has had always in mind the masses, rather than the classes. In the summary of the programme which follows, it will be observed that every feature has been arranged to permit of the veteran from the ranks, and the members of his family, enjoying all of them to the full.

A unique system has been adopted by which the free entertainment provided, will be limited to veterans and their families, though all the hundreds of thousands of visitors expected may participate with but small expense. A coupon entertainment book will be given every veteran. Each department headquarters will be provided with a supply of these little books in attendance upon the encampment. In these coupon books will be admission tickets to every place of amusement and entertainment in the city. No visitor will be able to take in all of them, but the tickets will be there and he can choose each day's programme to suit his own pleasure.

The week of festivities will open at 10 o'clock Monday morning with the dedication of Camp Sherman, the military quarters for the veterans desiring free quarters. A large American flag will be raised and there will be imposing ceremonies, with plenty of music. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon another flag raising will occur at the public landing under the auspices of the National Naval Veterans' association, whose members will be quartered on a fleet of steamboats at the river front. At 8 o'clock in the evening the naval veterans and ex-prisoners of war will hold a camp fire in famous Music hall, though the entertainment, including prominent speakers, war pictures, music and miscellaneous entertainment, will be under the auspices of the local entertainment committee. These constitute the formal features of the day's bill.

From Monday until Friday night there will be continuous entertainment at the many open-air resorts surrounding Cincinnati. These will all be of a different nature. Chester Park, immediately adjoining Camp Sherman, will provide vaudeville entertainment, bicycle races and fectures of a like nature, the park having one of the most famous bicycle tracks in the country. The Lagoon, a beautiful summer resort with a large lake surrounded by Kentucky hills, just across the river from Cincinnati, will present besides its regular attractions, a daily display of Japanese aerial fire works, a daily sham battle at 8 p. m., reproducing the capture of Manila, bombardment of Santiago and other scenes, with a continuous vaudeville performance in the large amphitheater. Coney Island, 10 miles up the Ohio river, and reached by a magnificent river ride, will present its regular attractions under the Coney Island management including a continuous vaudeville performance.

The Zoological garden, whose fame is not confined to this country, will be open daily from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., with evening concerts and general entertainment in the day.

On Tuesday at 3 p.m., the naval veterans and ex-prisoners of war will parade. Wednesday the grand parade of G. A. R. veterans will move. The start will be made at 10 a.m., signalled by the firing of a national salute of 21 guns from national headquarters at the Grand hotel. The parade will be reviewed by President McKinley, and Commander-in-Chief John P. S. Gobin, now a brigadier general in the United States army of volunteers. The line of march will be entirely over level streets, and with the exception of a very small portion over asphalt. At 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon the citizens of Cincinnati will present a civic and industrial parade of large proportions, made specially attractive by a large number of historical and allegorical floats.

The camp fires on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Music hall will be in honor of the Grand Army of the Republic, and will be of a character similar to that of Monday evening. Among the speakers expected at these camp fires are President McKinley, ex-President Harrison, Senator J. H. Foraker and many other notables. Every member of the president's cabinet, all senators and representatives, and the governors of all states will be invited to attend the encampment.

The fourth evening of the week, Thursday, will be devoted to a grand display of fireworks. In order that all may witness them without discomfort, similar displays will be made at the public landing, Eden park and at Camp Sherman. These fireworks display will be as elaborate as the mind of the designer can conceive. The city will be brilliantly lighted every evening with artistic illumination.

A point of interest to all visitors will be Fort Thomas, from which the Sixth United States Infantry went to face such terrible loss at the battle of Santiago. It is still occupied by the families of the departed regiment and as a hospital for sick and wounded. It is one of the most beautiful spots about the hill crowned city, the view from the crest of the hill being unsurpassed. The Citizens' committee will erect a large tent at the Fort in which will be served refreshments free to all veterans and their families. Street cars leave the heart of the city every three minutes for this point.

This in the main constitutes the general features of the entertainment which will be offered the city's guests encampment week. To be sure there will be many other features, including receptions, minor camp fires and probably a grand reception to President McKinley. There will be special provisions for the care of lady visitors, including receptions, by notable citizens, and special features of entertainment yet to be provided for them.

Yellow Fever Cases to Be Isolated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Secretary Alger says that in case any of the troops from Santiago arriving at Montauk Point should have yellow fever they will be immediately isolated and no visitors permitted in their camp.

First Bale of New Cotton.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 12.—Montgomery received her first bale of new cotton Thursday. It was raised in Autauga county and will be sold at auction. The first bale last year came in August 4.

Lost His Life Saving Others.

A country boy visiting New York stopped a frantic runaway team that was about to dash on the sidewalk where there were hundreds of women and children. He saved their lives, but lost his own. Hundreds of lives are saved every year by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. People who are fast going to their graves with disorders of stomach, liver, bowels and blood are brought back to good health by it. All the sick should try it.

Making Out a Case.

"I am wondering," said Blanco, as he turned over his piece of army mule steak.

"What, your excellency?" asked the minion.

"If Cervera isn't guilty of treason in accepting all those square meals up there in America."—Philadelphia North American.

Wheat 40 Cents a Bushel.

How to grow wheat with big profit at 40 cents and samples of Salzer's Red Cross (80 Bushels per acre) Winter Wheat, Rye, Oats, Clovers, etc., with Farm Seed Catalogue for 4 cents postage. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis. K

Wars Within Wars.

"Another quarrel going on next door."

"What's the matter this time?"

"She wants to name the baby 'Dewey' and he wants the name for his wheel."—Indianapolis Journal.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

"So that is the famous playwright? But why is it that one reads so little about him nowadays?" "Oh, he has been famous too long."—Pliegende Blaetter.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an A No. 1 Asthma medicine.—W. R. Williams, Antioch, Ill., April 11, 1895.

Mamma—"From what animal do we get our milk?" Flossie—"From the milkman."—Judge.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is taken Internally. Price 75c.

Circuses that have come and gone are in the passed tents.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Warm Weather

Weakness is quickly overcome by the tonic and blood enriching qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine cures that tired feeling almost as quickly as the sun dispels the morning mist. It also cures pimples, boils, salt rheum, scrofula and all other troubles originating in bad, impure blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure biliousness, indigestion.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN & SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

Wife Saved from Death.

"My wife was saved from death by Dr. King's New Discovery after the doctors had given her up," writes Mrs. Jennie Hall, of Pittsburg, Pa. "She had been coughing for six months and was so weak she could not sit up in bed. Nothing helped her or gave her any relief. We had tried many doctors and much medicine in vain. She was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and found relief after the first dose. She continued its use and was entirely cured." Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed to relieve and cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Trial bottles free at Graves' Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Cured Her Baby.

"My baby was taken with a severe cough and I gave her Dr. King's New Discovery and it cured her," writes Mrs. Ida Hall, of Pittsburg, Pa. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed to relieve and cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Trial bottles free at Graves' Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Lame Back.

Pain in the back is usually caused by a lame muscle. Nothing is better than Chamberlain's Pain Balm for a lame muscle. Try it and you will be pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by Graves' Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Graves' Drug Store.

Lame Back.

Pain in the back is usually caused by a lame muscle. Nothing is better than Chamberlain's Pain Balm for a lame muscle. Try it and you will be pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by Graves' Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Graves' Drug Store.

AIDED BY MRS. PINKHAM.

MRS. W. E. PAXTON, Youngtown, North Dakota, writes about her struggle to regain health after the birth of her little girl:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of your valuable medicine.

"After the birth of my little girl, three years ago, my health was very poor. I had leucorrhœa badly, and a terrible bearing-down pain which gradually grew worse, until I could do no work. Also had headache nearly all the time, and dizzy feelings. Menstruations were very profuse, appearing every two weeks.

"I took medicine from a good doctor, but it seemed to do no good. I was becoming alarmed over my condition, when I read your advertisement in a paper. I sent at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles of the bottle I felt so much better that I send for two more. After using three bottles I felt as strong and well as any one.

"I think it is the best medicine for female weakness ever advertised, and recommend it to every lady I meet suffering from this trouble."

Maternity is a wonderful experience and many women approach it wholly unprepared. Childbirth under right conditions need not terrify women.

The advice of Mrs. Pinkham is freely offered to all expectant mothers, and her advice is beyond question the most valuable to be obtained. If Mrs. Paxton had written to Mrs. Pinkham before confinement she would have been saved much suffering. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

SHOOT
WINCHESTER LOADED
SHOT GUN SHELLS

USED BY ALL THE CHAMPION SHOTS.

FREE. SEND NAME ON A POSTAL CARD, FOR 152 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
100 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

The Best BOOK on the WAR BEAUTIFULLY illustrated (price $2), free to anybody sending 4 cents for 3 months' trial subscription to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 4c.

Remember

if you are dissatisfied with the size of piece or with the quality of the chewing tobacco you are now using—

get BattleAx PLUG

and you 'll get your money's worth. The 10-cent piece of Battle Ax is larger than the 10-cent piece of any other brand of the same high quality, and is the largest piece of really good chewing tobacco that is sold for 10 cents.

Remember the name when you buy again.

PAINT Your Own WALLS and CEILINGS
CALCIMO FRESCO TINTS
FOR DECORATING WALLS and CEILINGS PURCHASE A PACKAGE OF Calcimo

From your grocer or paint dealer and do your own kalsomining. This material is made on scientific principles by machinery and milled in twenty-four tints and is superior to any composition or Glue or Whiting that can possibly be made by hand. To be mixed with Cold Water. Send for SAMPLE COLOR CARDS and if you cannot purchase this material from your local dealers let us know and we will put you in the way of obtaining it.
THE MURALO COMPANY, NEW BRIGHTON, S. I., NEW YORK.

"THE BEST IS, AYE, THE CHEAPEST."
AVOID IMITATIONS OF SAPOLIO

QUIETLY ENDED.

Spanish-American War, Which Raged for Months, a Thing of the Past.

The War and Navy Departments Instruct the Commanders That the War is at an End—Peace Commissioners Will Be Appointed in a Few Days.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The president has issued the following proclamation:

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION:

Whereas, By a protocol concluded and signed August 12, 1898, by William R. Day, secretary of state of the United States, and his excellency, Jules Cambon, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of the republic of France at Washington, respectively representing for this purpose the government of the United States and the government of Spain, the United States and Spain have formally agreed upon the basis upon which negotiations for the establishment of peace between the two countries shall be undertaken; and,

Whereas, It is in said protocol agreed that upon its conclusion and signature hostilities between the two countries shall be suspended, and that notice to that effect shall be given as soon as possible by each government to the commanders of its military and naval forces.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do in accordance with the stipulations of the protocol, declare and proclaim on the part of the United States, a suspension of hostilities, and do hereby command that orders be immediately given through the proper channels to the commanders of the military and naval forces of the United States to abstain from all acts inconsistent with this proclamation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 12th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and ninety-eight, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and twenty-third.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

By the President.

WILLIAM R. DAY, Secretary of State.

A copy of the proclamation has been cabled to our army and navy commanders. Spain will cable her commanders like instructions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The peace protocol was signed at 4:23 p.m., Friday by the representatives of Spain and the United States.

The examination of the protocol was satisfactory and the document was handed to M. Cambon first and then to Secretary Day who affixed signatures in that order to each side of the two copies. Then the last detail in making the protocol binding was administered by Assistant Secretary Cridler, in charge of the chancery work who attached the seal of the United States. Throughout the ceremony all but the two signers remained standing. M. Cambon in signing for Spain occupied the seat which Secretary of the Navy Long, now away on a vacation, usually occupied. The president stood at the left hand corner at the head of the great cabinet table. Secretary Day, M. Thiebaut and M. Cambon in the order named on the left side of the table. The rest of the party were standing in other portions of the room. No credentials were produced during the meeting at the white house the president accepting Secretary Day's assurance that this had been settled to his satisfaction at the state department. It was 4:23 o'clock when the final signatures were attached to the protocol and with the knowledge of all the officials present. This was the first time that a protocol or treaty had been signed at the white house. As this ceremony concluded, Acting Secretary Allen, of the navy, Secretary Alger and Adjt. Gen. Corbin appeared, having been summoned to the white house by the president, and they were admitted into the cabinet room just in season to witness one of the most impressive features of the ceremony when the president requested the hand of the ambassador and through him returned thanks to the sister republic of France for the exercise of her good offices in bringing about peace. He also thanked the ambassador personally for the important part he has played in this matter and the latter replied in suitable terms. As a further mark of his disposition, President McKinley called for the proclamation which he had caused to be drawn up suspending hostilities and signed it in the presence of M. Cambon who expressed his appreciation of the action.

Without delay Acting Secretary Allen hastened to the telephone and directed that cable messages be immediately sent to all the naval commanders, Dewey in the Philippines, Sampson at Guantanamo, and the various commandants at navy yards and stations to cease hostilities immediately.

There is a dispatch boat at Hong Kong, and it is believed that it can reach Gen. Merritt in 48 hours at top speed. On the part of the army, while Secretary Alger availed of the telegraph, Adjt. Gen. Corbin braved the storm and rushed across to the war department, where he immediately issued orders, which had been prepared in advance, to all of the military commanders to cease their operations.

The state department filled its duty by notifying all diplomatic and consular agents of the action taken.

All the formalities having been disposed of the president spent a half hour chatting with those present and then at 4:38, the rain still continuing in force, the ambassador and his secretary entered their carriage and were driven to the embassy.

The pen which was used by Secretary Day in signing the protocol was given to Chief Clerk Michael of the state department, who had before him.

M. Thiebaut secured that used by the French ambassador.

Upon emerging from the white house Secretary Day received the earnest congratulations of the persons present upon the conclusion of the protocol. He stated that the peace commissioners who are to draw up the definitive treaty would not be appointed for several days, but declined to indicate who they would be.

As the order to military and naval commanders state further instructions will be sent to each general. Gen. Merritt will be directed to confer with the Spanish commandant at Manila to carry out the terms of the protocol, and to occupy Manila immediately. Gen. Miles will put himself in communication with the chief authority in Porto Rico for the purpose of having Spanish forces turn over San Juan and other points to him preparatory to evacuation. Owing to conditions in Cuba the orders to Gen Shafter to be sent hereafter will be much different than those to other generals. The navy department is also preparing orders to all commanders on lines similar to the war department order.

At 12:30 o'clock the French ambassador received a dispatch giving him full authorization to sign the protocol. The dispatch was rather long and its deciphering took some time.

An official statement for press publications setting out the provisions of the peace protocol was read and approved at the cabinet session Friday. It does not give the text of the document but details its main points and provisions. The protocol is a reiteration of the terms of the note given to Spain, with very little difference in the language of those terms, though with considerable supplementary paragraphs of an administrative nature. The most substantial difference is in regard to the evacuation of captured territory. The note handed to Ambassador Cambon calls for immediate evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico, while the protocol leaves the time of evacuation to be subsequently determined upon, the design being to have the date of withdrawal left to be fixed by joint military commission of the United States and Spain. The portion of the protocol supplementary to what is embodied in the note relates principally to the manner of execution of the provisions of the protocol.

The protocol provides for two commissions, first, the peace commission, which will meet in Paris, and second, the military commission, which will meet in Havana probably within 15 days. The military commission will be created immediately on the signing of the protocol. Its duties will be of great importance. It will settle the details of the evacuation of the Spanish armies from the West Indies and will decide all questions relative to the removal of submarine mines, the immediate relinquishment to the United States of the great fortresses at Havana, San Juan and other points and the transfer of possession of Manila City itself.

FIVE YOUTHFUL BANDITS.

The Reading of Yellow Backed Literature Leads Boys to Hold Up the Burlington Flyer at St. Joe.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 12.—The train robbers who held up the Burlington "flyer" two miles north of this city Wednesday night are under arrest and a weeping, crestfallen gang of bandits they are. The leader, James Hathaway, aged 17, is a Western Union messenger boy. His pals in high crime are: Charley Cook, Alonzo Otterburn, William Hathaway, brother of James, and Herbert Doniphan, ranging in age from 16 to 33 years. All are sons of respectable people. These intrepid road agents received the inspiration which enabled them to hold up an express train, terrorize the trainmen, overpower the express messenger and roll his strong box out of the car door into a wagon, from persistent reading of yellow-backed romance.

Adm. Cervera Mad at Blanco.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 13.—Adm. Cervera is stirred up over the reports of the telegrams sent to Madrid by Gen. Blanco before his defeat, accusing him of incapacity. He says he will have nothing to do with that kind of a man and that when he shall return to Spain a council will clear up everything and that he has no fears of its judgment.

An Eighty-Five-Year-Old Pedestrian.

WABASH, Ind., Aug. 13.—E. W. Harlen, a veteran of the civil war, aged 85, started on a walk from this city to Delphi on a wager. He was to make the distance, about sixty-five miles, in 72 hours, but arrived at Peru at noon, two hours ahead of time. He has plenty of money and walks for the exercise.

Three Killed and Six Injured.

RICHVIEW, Ill., Aug. 13.—A terrible accident occurred Thursday near McClure, Ill., on the Chicago & Texas railroad. A number of Italians were unloading steel rails and overbalanced a car load of rails, which was thrown upon them, killing three and seriously injuring six.

It is believed in Washington that Spain will recede from certain conditions it made and that an agreement will be had soon on the basic terms of peace.

TO BE REPAIRED.

Pending Establishment of Peace Our War Ships Will Be Overhauled.

They Will Be Put in the Pink of Perfection—Authorities Acting on the Principle That the Armistice Might End in Renewed Hostilities.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With peace proclaimed all the energies of the military and naval establishments Saturday were directed into peaceful channels. The sudden change from war to peace was manifest at the war and navy departments. There was no further expectancy of dramatic developments of battles or of new campaigns. The orders given Friday night for immediate cessation of hostilities brought all military and naval movements to a halt and it now remains to bring affairs back to a peace basis.

In this, however, the authorities were acting on the theory that the protocol of Friday was but the first step towards peace, and that not until a final and lasting peace was secured could there be an entire return to a peace basis.

This was particularly true as to the navy department. In that branch it was accepted that permanent peace undoubtedly would be made, but yet instead of stripping our war ships, redistributing them into squadrons on a peace basis and returning them to their old channels, the naval authorities acted on the principle that the present armistice might end in a resumption of hostilities. For that reason the four battle ships and two armored cruisers ordered north from West Indian waters are to undergo a complete overhauling, with a view to putting them in the pink of condition. For many months they have been in tropical waters; their bottoms are foul and their engines and machinery need careful overhauling. As soon as they reach New York all work at the navy yard will be subordinated to pushing the complete overhauling of the battle ships and cruisers. Meanwhile the smaller war ships in West Indian waters have been ordered to safe harbors, as the West Indian hurricane season is near at hand, while sufficient ships for police patrol are left along the Cuban and Porto Rico coasts. The big, unwieldy monitors will remain in Porto Rico, and most of the blockading fleet will center at Key West under Commodore Watson. The peace protocol will give a breathing spell and time for bringing every ship back to the highest state of perfection. The complete return to a peace basis, the establishment of peace squadrons, etc., is a matter for the future.

It is expected that the American occupation of Manila will occur immediately after the receipt by Adm. Dewey and Gen. Merritt of the orders sent them Friday night. This may not be deferred by the lack of cable facilities, as the American occupation of Manila probably will result in the opening of direct cable communication between that city and the outside world. The only difficulty thus far has been that the cable company would not recognize American control of the cable so long as our forces were not in possession of the city. The orders sent Adm. Dewey are much more specific than those sent other naval commanders, as the occupation of Manila and the holding of the bay and harbor involved more important consideration than the mere cessation of hostilities. During the early hours of Saturday the war and navy departments received no acknowledgments from the various naval and military commanders, but it was presumed that the orders suspending hostilities were being carried out in all directions.

Italy Congratulates America.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The United States government Sunday received the first congratulations from a foreign power upon the successful termination of the war with Spain. The congratulations came from Italy through the Italian ambassador, Baron Fava. He communicated to the state department Sunday, by direction of his government, an expression of the cordial satisfaction of Italy at the prompt signature of the preliminaries of peace, together with the wish of the Italian government that, after the war, conducted with such conspicuous gallantry by the United States, this country might enjoy the benefits of peace.

Courtmartialed and Shot.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 13.—A special to the Journal from Marinette, Wis., says: Word has been received here from Ponce, Porto Rico, that Private La Duke, of the 2d Wisconsin regiment, who shot and killed Private Stafford, of the regular army, during a quarrel in a saloon at Ponce, was courtmartialed August 3, found guilty and shot on the morning of August 4.

Transports With Troops Arrive at Montauk Point.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Four transports, the St. Louis, Vigilancia, Matteawan and Miami, having on board troops who were ordered home from Santiago de Cuba, have arrived off Camp Wikoff, Montauk Point, Long Island.

Horse and Buggy Stolen.

CARDINGTON, O., Aug. 13.—William Keyser drove to Waldo, and while there his horse and buggy, worth $250, were stolen.

NEW CONFEDERACY FORMING

Delegates From Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua Meet to Organize United States of Central America.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 26.—The delegates to the convention to form a constitution for the states of Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua continue their sessions here almost daily. The work, however, is progressing slowly. The delegates have discussed the first 11 of the articles in the printed form of a constitution which they have as a guide and have decided on the following principal features:

First—The organization to be a confederacy instead of a central union of the three states.

Second—The name of the confederation is to be "The United States of Central America."

Third—There is to be a federal district composed of the civil departments of Chinendega, in Nicaragua; Choluteca, in Honduras, and La Union, in Salvador, all bordering on the Gulf of Fonseca.

Fourth—The organizing capital is to be Amapala, on Tiger island, in the department of Choluteca, Honduras. The permanent capital is to be determined by the first congress, and will be located at either Amanala, Choluteca or Chinendega.

Fifth—There is to be one president, instead of a triple-headed tribune, as at first proposed.

In a recent session delegates from Salvador protested against what they termed "a spirit of antagonism to Salvador" in some speeches made by certain delegates from Nicaragua.

It is thought probable that either President Bonilla, of Honduras, or President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, will be chosen as the first president of the proposed confederacy.

CHARLES HENRY DAVIS.
(Commander of the United States Auxiliary Gunboat Dixie.)

SUMMING UP OF THE COST.

The War With Spain, Which Lasted Only 114 Days, Cost the United States the Sum of $150,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Although the war with Spain lasted only 114 days, it is estimated that it has cost the government so far $150,000,000, of which $98,000,000 has been actually paid out of the treasury. Beginning with March 1, when the first increase in expenditures in anticipation of war became apparent in the daily expenditures of the treasury, the actual disbursements on this account have been approximately as follows: March, army $600,000, navy $2,400,000, total $3,000,000; April, army $1,200,000, navy $9,800,000, total $11,000,000; May, army $12,000,000, navy $7,000,000, total $19,000,000; June, army $16,500,000, navy $6,500,000, total $23,000,000.

July, army, $29,300,000; navy, $5,500,000; total, $35,000,000; to August 13, army, $5,500,000; navy, $1,500,000; total, $7,000,000.

Total charged to war department, $65,000,000, total charged to navy department, $32,700,000; grand total, $98,000,000.

The appropriations made by congress on account of the war aggregated about $360,000,000, and cover the time to January 1, 1899.

The Peace Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Secretary Day, Senator Allison and Senator Gorman in all probabilities will be three of the commission, and either Joseph Choate or Elihu Root, of New York, will be appointed. Senator Davis, of Minnesota, will be offered a place on the commission, but it is expected that he will decline, and that a fifth man, not a United States senator, will be selected.

Contribution to the Conscience Fund.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The post office department is in receipt of a letter from an unknown correspondent at Seattle, Wash., who enclosed $26.88 in order to relieve his or her conscience. The letter stated that the writer had ten years ago robbed a country post office of $15 and this amount was returned with interest at 6 per cent.

Buried at Sea.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The United States transport Segurança, Capt. Hansen, arrived at quarantine, bringing 331 sick soldiers, having left Santiago July 31 by way of Tampa August 8. The soldiers belong to various regiments attached to Gen. Shafter's command. On August 10 Private Ellis, 33d Michigan regiment, died from paralysis and was buried at sea. The Segurança will be boarded by the health officer Saturday and thoroughly examined.

VERY QUIET DAY.

The White House and Army and Navy Assume Usual Sunday Quietude.

The Most Serious Problem Before the Peace Commission Will Be the Philippines—Administration Giving It Close Attention.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The white house, the war department and the navy department Sunday resumed their usual Sunday quietude, a condition which has not prevailed since the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor, February 15. Secretary Alger was at the department a few minutes, and also went to the white house, but did not remain long. Gen. Corbin came to his office during the day and looked over his dispatches, but did not remain constantly on duty as he has been doing. There were a few clerks about the departments, but scarcely a Sunday passes in peace times that this does not happen. The busy war-like attitude has entirely disappeared and Washington has settled down to a peace basis.

The president believes that the most serious problem which the peace commission will be called upon to deal with is the Philippines. Before the commission assembles it is hoped the affairs of Cuba and Porto Rico will be found in such process of adjustment as to leave little for the commission to consider under that head. The absolute relinquishment by Spain of all sovereignty over the islands in the West Indies will allow only the property questions to be settled between the governments, that is what Spain shall take away and what shall remain as captures of war and the protection of Spanish subjects and their property in the islands. The greater questions growing out of the war as relating to Cuba and Porto Rico will have to be dealt with by the United States alone. The fact that the Philippines will present the difficult problem in the peace negotiations has caused the administration to give it a great deal of careful attention. Several suggestions have been made as to what shall be done, one being the retention of the Bay City and harbor of Manila, just what the protocol gives temporarily. Another is that Subig bay and a sufficient amount of territory for a naval and coaling station be secured and the building up of an American city at that place begun. Still another idea, which is being considered is the retention of the Island of Luzon, the advocates of that plan believing that there would be trouble between the governments which occupied a portion of the island with a line of demarcation, such as would exist in case Manila and the bay only was retained. The Island of Luzon is the largest of the group and contains about 3,000,000 people, which are said to be the better class in the Philippines. It is believed, however, that the administration and the commission will be greatly influenced by the reports which Adm. Dewey and Gen. Merritt will make on the subject. Their reports are expected before the commission meets.

The final determination as to the government of Porto Rico and the settlement of the government of Cuba are problems for settlement, but the impression prevails that these islands will become quite rapidly Americanized, and every encouragement for them to do so will be given. Porto Rico will be under military control for the present. Cuba also will be similiarly governed, but it is probable that American reforms in the matter of government will be such that the people of Cuba will see the advantage of becoming annexed to the United States. It is thought the sanitary improvement of Havana and other cities, the management of the municipalities and liberality offered the country people will be of such a character as soon to convince the people that the changed conditions are for their good.

There has been little doubt about soon settling the transfer of Porto Rico and the reception which the American troops have received in that island is a justification for the belief. Porto Rico will be treated at once as an American possession. The first movement in this direction will be the sending of a delegation of officials from the post office department to investigate and report upon the mail facilities there now and to make such recommendations as they determine upon. Mail routes, methods of transportation and the conditions of post offices generally in the island will be examined. Military post offices will be established at once wherever troops are stationed, and at such other points as may be demanded by the interests of Americans and the people of the islands, if the present offices are not available.

Gen. Shafter's Command.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—By Wednesday or Thursday of this week it is expected by the war department officials that all of Gen. Shafter's command will have left Santiago for the United States.

Cholera Epidemic at Madras.

MADRAS, Aug. 15.—The cholera epidemic is here. Between Monday morning and Friday night there were 55 deaths from the disease, the fatalities prior to the day first mentioned having been 117.

SPAIN SQUARING HERSELF.

The Government Tells the People in a Note That the Spanish Army Has Not Been Conquered.

MADRID, Aug. 13.—The question of the acceptance of the protocol having been finally settled and its signature explicitly and definitely authorized, the government is now considering the domestic situation for the best means of allaying the excited feeling and propagating the idea that Spain's surrender is not so complete as indicated by the bold terms of the protocol. As the first step in this direction a semi-official note has been issued.

It is as follows:

The government is of opinion that the most critical period of the peace negotiations has now arrived, as it depends upon the arrangement of details as to whether the peace will be more or less advantageous. Spain wishes to preserve her sovereignty over the whole of the Philippines, to which she proposes to accord all political and administrative reforms consistent with the maintenance of her sovereignty.

"In regard to the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico, it will be asked that the army be allowed to depart honorably and that assurance be given guaranteeing that Spanish and foreign interests will not suffer. The army which has not been conquered will return to Spain with its guns, arms and munitions.

In regard to the Cuban debt, as the United States refuses to assume it, Spain will endeavor to arrange with the Cuban treasury to pay it when the island is able.

The question of a treaty of commerce will lead to considerable discussion and the matter will be submitted to a commission of diplomatists under the presidency of Senor Castillo.

The Liberal thinks the only bright feature of the peace treaty is the immediate suspension of hostilities, "so that our unhappy soldiers will no longer have to die without knowing wherefore."

Continuing, the Liberal congratulates the country upon the fact that the war is ended, though Spanish rule in America is completely terminated. "We reserve the right to criticise the protocol when freedom is restored to the press."

In conclusion the Liberal says: "Those who pretend that the events of the last three years were simply accidents which do not affect Spanish history are deceiving themselves."

A NAVAL OFFICER EXPIRES.

Rr. Adm. Kirkland, Commandant of the Mare Island Navy Yard—A Short Sketch of His Life.

VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 13.—Rr. Adm. Kirkland, commandant of the Mare Island navy yard, died Friday evening.

The funeral will take place from St. Vincent Catholic church of Vallejo on Sunday. The remains have been embalmed and will be placed temporarily in the vault at St. Vincent's cemetery. Later they will be removed to Brooklyn, N. Y., for interment beside the remains of his daughter, who is buried there.

Rr. Adm. W. A. Kirkland was appointed from North Carolina July 2, 1850; made a midshipman June 20, 1838; lieutenant, March 18, 1850; lieutenant commander, July 16, 1862; commander, March 2, 1869; captain, April 1, 1880; commodore, June 27, 1895, and rear admiral, March 1, 1895.

He would have been placed on the retired list on the 20 of last month were it not for the present war. He had been anxious to retire from active duty, as he had purchased a home at San Diego, where he had intended to make his home when placed on the retired list.

He served at sea for eight months as rear admiral; total sea service 29 years and nine months; shore or other duty 16 years and eight months. At the time of his death he was commandant of the Mare Island navy yard. He was well-known on the Pacific coast and popular among both naval officers and civilians.

Ate Poisoned Candy.

DOVER, Del., Aug. 13.—Mrs. J. Pol Deane, of this place, is dead, and her sister, Mrs. J. P. Dunning, is seriously ill, the result of poisoning from eating candy. Mrs. Dunning is the wife of J. Preston Dunning, the well known Associated Press correspondent now in Porto Rico, and both women are daughters of ex-Congressman John B. Pennington. The candy came through the mails on Wednesday. The postmark on the box was unintelligible, but it is supposed by Mrs. Dunning to have been sent by a lady friend in San Francisco named Craven.

Garcia's Men to Go Home for Thirty Days.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A Santiago special to the Evening World says: Jack York, of Pennsylvania, who has been serving with Garcia, the Cuban general, has just arrived here. He reports that Garcia has suspended operations for 30 days, and given his men permission to go home, with instructions to report to him at the end of that period.

Raising of the Stars and Stripes Over Hawaii.

HONOLULU, Aug. 4, via Victoria, B. C., Aug. 13.—The United States ship Philadelphia arrived here Thursday, six days and 20 hours from San Francisco, with Adm. Miller and staff on board, who came for the purpose of raising the American flag over the Hawaiian Islands. A conference with the Hawaiian government was held Friday afternoon. It is generally understood that the flag will not be raised until the commissioners arrive on the 17th inst.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Aug., 17, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work,

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS.

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

POLITICAL.

Hon. South Trimble, of Franklin county will be a candidate for re-election to the Legislature.

The Republicans of the Fourth district nominated Hon. Chas. M. Blanford, ex-Speaker of the House, of Representatives, for Congress.

The Democrats of the Ninth District, in convention, at Cynthiana, yesterday, chose Hon. Samuel Williams as their nominee for Congress.

In the State conventions which have spoken this year the Southern and Western States are all for Bryan and the Chicago platform of 1896. Of the Eastern States, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts endorsed the Chicago platform, while New York, Rhode Island and Maryland have confined their resolutions to state issues.

According to the Louisville Commercial, Kentucky Republicans have hit on a scheme to give them a solid delegation from the State in the next Congress. They are simply going to ignore the new election law, proceed under the old law and rely on a Republican House of Representatives to seat their candidates and throw out the Democratic Congressmen.

STATE NEWS.

Small pox at Jackson.

Madisanville will have the biggest fair in her history.

Several persons in the vicinity of Sulphur have been bitten by mad dogs.

The circuit clerk in Montgomery county filed 108 suits in one day last week.

Adair county will probably take another vote on the whisky question soon.

A negro, who claims to have been a slave of Jeff Davis, lives in Clark county.

About twenty-five meat houses in Bourbon county have been robbed during the year.

Earlington postoffice lacked about $40 of going into the Presidential class last year.

Aaron Kinslow, a Barren county farmer, nearly ninety years old, committed suicide by hanging.

Surveyors are at work to establish definitely the line between Simpson and Warren counties.

The Daviess county Baptist Association meets at Moseleyville the 16th, 17th and 18 of the month.

The General Association of Colored Baptists of Kentucky will meet in Frankfort on Saturday, August 27.

The taxable property of Carlisle county, when it left the County Board of Supervisors, amounted to $1,331,934.

A nugget of gold weighing 1,636 ounces and valued at $32,500 has been found at Kanawna in West Australia.

A large number of Kentucky Knights of Pythias will attend the national encampment at Indianapolis August 22.

Tucker Buckner, of Christian county, was kicked in the stomach by a cow while milking her, and died of his injuries.

The Franklin Baptist Association will meet with the Forks of Elkhorn Church, near Duckers, in Franklin county, on Wednesday, August 24, at 10 a. m.

Ed Walcott aged, 23, was shifting a band in a mill at Paris. His sleeve was caught and his body carried around by the band until his head was beaten into a jelly.

Col. George Washington has been asked to accept the appointment as Colonel on the staff of Gov. Bradley on the occasion of the dedication of the Kentucky Monument at Chickamauga Park, Sept. 20.

Alphonsus Egart, a fifteen-year old boy of Mooleyville, went out to look for a cow. After five hours' absence he returned with his face and head badly lacerated and covered with blood. His mind was impaired by his experience and he could not explain his absence or his injuries.

CROP AND STOCK.

Before the war Cuba contributed about one-twelfth of all the tobacco used in the world.

Two hundred export cattle were sold in Boyle county at $4 80 to $5 last week.

About a year ago Haiden Dickey furnished seven sheep and Tobe Dickey was to take care of them and divide profits. Mr. Dickey has sold $7 worth of wool and $32 worth of sheep and lambs, and has six sheep on hand.—Glasgow Times.

IN MANILLA.

Many excellent bands.
Six thousand Europeans.
Man-eaters will attack natives who ride down into the sea on horseback to bathe their animals and nip off a leg if they have half a chance. As a rule, though, the natives meet the man-eaters half way, and will dive in and rip the fish open with a knife.
All women are brunettes.
Nobody hurries or worries.
Men wear white duck suits.
The Cathedral cost $1,000,000.
Four hundred thousand Chinese.
Natives have 120 holidays a year.
The witch doctor is a demi-god among the Malays. Time is reckoned by the suns and moons, as in Cuba.

IN MEXICO.

A jury consists of nine men.
There is no capital punishment.
Free night schools in every city.
Church processions are prohibited.
The bridegroom always furnishes the bride's trousseau.
Theatrical companies that do not present the attraction they have billed are subject to fine. A fine is also placed on bull fighters who give a poor performance, or who do not begin on time.

IN SANTIAGO DE CUBA.

One theater.
Twenty lepers.
Three hospitals.
Founded in 1514.
Fifty thousand inhabitants.
Rich iron and copper mines.
One-third of the inhabitants are white.
The hours for transacting business in Santiago usually are before 8 a. m. and after 4 p. m. on account of the heat of the middle of the day.

THE LADRONES.

Few men work.
Discovered in 1521.
Pure water abounds.
A chain of volcanic islands.
Spain took possession in 1668.
Mountains range from 1,000 to 3,000 feet.
Eight thousand five hundred inhabitants.
Chief products cocoanut and bread fruits.

FROM GRANT COUNTY.

[Courier.]

The Free Turnpike Commissioners submitted their final application for a vote on the question on last Monday and deposited the necessary amount of money and the County Judge ordered an election to be held on the question on the next regular November election.

T. J. Beach, a prosperous, and highly respected farmer, who resides near Zion Station, met with a serious, and perhaps fatal accident last Friday. He was engaged in hauling logs, and was riding side ways on the log he was hauling, when it turned and he fell under the wheel of the wagon, which passed over his head, breaking his jaw bone and fracturing his skull. After being so badly injured, he drove the team to his house, and unhitched the horses without any assistance. His injuries are almost necessarily fatal.

The cost of Cervera's defeat is figured by El Nacional as follows:

The Oqueddo, $3,600,000.
The Maria Teresa, $3,600,000.
The Cristobal Colon, $4,500,000.
The Pluton, $500,000.
The Furor, $500,000.
Artillery, $3,800,000.
Total $20,000,000.

That is to say $20,000,000, of which Sampson has given a good account in three or four hours, is the comment of El Nacional.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Reuben Conner, dec'd., are requested to settle at once, and those who have claims against the same are notified to present them to me proven as by law required. J. W. CONNER, Adm'r.

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at the late residence of Reuben Conner at Richwood Station on the C. N. O. & T. P. Railway, 14 miles from Covington and 4 miles north of Walton, Boone county, Ky., on

Wednesday Sept. 7, 1898,

All of the personal property consisting in part as follows: 3 work horses, 2 2-yr-old colts, 1 suckling colt, 1 work mule, 1 yearling mule, 5 heifers, 2 yearling heifers, 2 yearling steers and one calf, 3 milch cows—2 Jerseys; 1 bull, 66 hogs and shoats, 96 sheep and lambs; also farming implements consisting of binder, mower, corn planter, 2 corn drills, 1 1-horse wheat drill, cutting box, hay rake and numerous other articles too numerous to mention; 340 bus. wheat, lot of hay in the stack, corn in the field; also five shares of stock in Erlanger Deposit Bank.

TERMS—All sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given, purchaser giving note with good security, payable in the Walton Deposit Bank. No property to be removed until terms are complied with.

J. W. CONNER, Adm'r.

Sale to begin at 9:30 a. m.

Executor's Notice.

All persons indebted to Arthur Blyth, deceased, will please come forward at once and settle, and those having claims against the estate will present them to me properly proven according to law. HARRY BLYTH, Executor.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

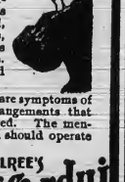
This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.



Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS, of Cenaville, Texas, says: "I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO., Patent Lawyers, WASHINGTON, D.C.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

Kentucky, Ohio and INDIANA

Will unite with other surrounding States to make the

LAWRENCEBURG FAIR

To be held

August 23 to 27, 1898,

The grandest success ever obtained in that line. Special attractions every day.

CHARIOT RACES

And other daring feats of Horsemanship will be performed by

COOK'S HIPPODROME PEOPLE.

LARGEST PREMIUMS ever thought of are offered for some articles of Domestic Manufacture.

The Most Exciting Races ever given on this track will be this year, from all indications.

If you miss this

FAIR

you will have something to regret for many days to come.

W. H. O'BRIEN, President.
H. L. NOWLIN, Sect'y.

EVERETT HELMS

—PROPRIETOR,—

The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,

Petersburg, Ky.

Will be pleased to

CUBA

Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.

BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.

TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE DELHI FERRY To The City.

Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.

A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.

NO DELAY.

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, containing about 111 acres, known as the Jackson Bass farm, situated about 1½ miles from Verona, Boone county, Ky., on the Short Line (L. & N.) Railroad. 8 or 10 acres of this farm are in the state of nature and will grow enough tobacco in a few years to pay for the place. There are 10 or 15 acres in cultivation the balance (about 80 acres) is in grass. The improvements consist of a two story frame dwelling house of six rooms, two halls and two porches; tenant house of three rooms; corn crib and large barn. The place is well watered and fencing in splendid repair. This farm is admirably located for a market garden. My terms are very reasonable. For further particulars address Mrs. JAMES T. BROCK, No. 416 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky. aug 10-2m

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—B. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. H. Aulphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—I. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. H. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:
District No 1.—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—R. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Aylor, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Nesli, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Ryland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Guffy.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Lester.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Du-reile, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, J. H. Haselrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. H. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wend, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

DENTIST.

Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.

☞OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.

Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.

East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m. 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a. m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m

O. D. BERGAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN,

— DRUGGIST, —

Rising Sun, - Indiana.

Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.

E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.

J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

RUPTURE

You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have had our long experience in Fitting Trusses reduced to a science. Many hundreds are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance: one of your family is very ill. You go to your physician, and say: "——— is ill, and what would you recommend?" The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.

OHIO TRUSS CO.,
20 and 22 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be registered if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

BURLINGTON, KY,

Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention to all Collections entrusted to him.

W. E. VEST,

County Surveyor,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL

LASSING & RIDDELL,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. H. L. RICE.

VEST & RICE,

Real Estate Agents.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. ☞All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL,..... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.

(INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - - KENTUCKY

CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 3,000

Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,

DENTIST,

Walton, Kentucky.

Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs. ☞Will be in office at Union every Monday.

Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,

SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,

And all Kinds of

Household Goods,

213 W. Fifth St.
4 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

HARD AND SOFT

COAL,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.

J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1898. NO. 44.

DEWEY gave both the first and the last performance in the Spanish entertainment.

THE Bank of England contains silver ingots which have lain in its vaults since 1696.

THE action of State Board of Election Commissioners does not give satisfaction in some counties.

AT the last account Boone's commissioners under the Goebel election bill have not been appointed.

GERMANY now claims that she has had the best of feeling toward the United States all the time, but her actions of recent date speaks louder than her words at this late hour.

THE last issue of the Critenden Press contains the picture of a handsome gentleman, whom it introduces as H. V. McChsney, Superintendent of schools in Livingston county, and a candidate for the Democratic nomination as a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instructions.

ACCORDING to the Hartford Times, the people of that city are in a very precarious state. It is estimated that there are over 75,000 oaths uttered in Hartford every day, and all in despite of the Connecticut statue which says that "every person who shall use any profane oath, or shall wickedly curse another, shall be fined $1."

THERE are no "professional jurors" in Mexico. Nine of a man's peers try him, and a majority is a verdict. If the nine are unanimous there is no appeal. To serve on a jury one must have a diploma in law, medicine or some other profession, or an income of $100 a month, or he must be a member of a family whose head has an income of $2,000 a year.

Capt. Harry Baker, of Boone county, is frequently being spoken of as a likely candidate for Congress in the event that the nomination comes to the country. Capt. Baker is a good citizen, a deserving man and a worthy Democrat. Unfortunately his old county is wedded to the present Congressman, A. S. Berry, and will hardly turn from him to go for anyone else.—Williamstown Courier.

When Capt. Baker wants Boone's vote he will get it as sure as the sun rises on the morning of the convention day. Boone is wedded to Capt. Baker in a very, very great degree, and don't you forget it.

JOHN SHERMAN, who at one time, was a power in Republican councils, is telling his erstwhile admirers that this country ought not to undertake to increase its possessions—that it is now large enough. He cites the experience of other countries that have been following the policy this country now seems disposed to adopt, and says he fears the result. On the other hand Senator Foraker advocates holding on to all the territory the war has placed in possession of the United States. This is another instance in which doctors disagree, and the fate of the patient will have to be awaited.

THE Philadelphia Record, a usually conservative Journal, says:

"There has been rotten administration from the outstart—readiness on the part of the people who flocked to the defense of the flag, as if they were going to a festival, and stupid, perverse, persistent mismanagement and neglect at headquarters in Washington. The story of unnecessary consequent suffering on the part of our soldiers is the saddest tale of the war. From every place where the men have been marched—except Manilla and Puerto Rico, where they have been to some extent out of the reach of Algerism—comes the same story of suffering and death from preventable causes. The time is ripe for a change. Unless the President shall dismiss Alger, he must shoulder Alger and become responsible to the country for Algerism."

THE soldiers who are returning from the front are making statements in regard to the hardships they had to endure, that are beginning to convince the public that there has been something radically wrong somewhere, and investigations may be instituted in order to locate the responsibility for the neglect or official inefficiency that subjected the privates to such unnecessary trials. But should investigations be inaugurated, they would result in a series of whitewashes in case high officials should be involved. The war is now over, and the investigating business can heal no wounds, nor bring to life any of the dead soldiers, so the best thing to do in the premises is to do nothing, as public opinion will make up its verdict without the assistance of investigating committees either packed or otherwise.

SENATOR DEBOE does not do all his sleeping in the United States Senate chambers, as proven by a recent occurrence. He was on his way to Frankfort, one day last week, to be present at a meeting of Kentucky Republican moguls, and went to sleep on the train on his way from Washington and woke up in Cincinnati, having failed to make proper transfers. The Senator ought to hire someone to keep him awake important business is just ahead of him.

IN many counties in the State there is a very fine crop of tobacco growing. In some places the work of cutting and housing has begun. On account of the scarcity of worms it has been an easy crop to handle this year, and taken as a whole the crop in the State will be at least an average one.

THE war with Cuba has satisfied John Jacob Astor that he is not paying taxes enough, and he will increase the amount for next year from $600,000 to $700,000. Voluntary action along that line is an unheard of move on the part of an individual.

The Coming Fair.

The greatest Fair ever held in Northern Kentucky will begin at the grounds of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association, next Wednesday, and continue four days. Since last year a large sum has been spent on the show ring that it may continue good in bad weather. Several improvements for the accommodation of the patrons have been made.

WEDNESDAY,

The first day, mules and Draft horses will be shown in the ring, while sheep will be found at the stock pens. In Floral Hall fruits and Pantry and Dairy articles will be exhibited. Boys riding is a special attraction for this day.

THURSDAY,

The second day, will be devoted to cattle and Saddle horses in the ring. At the stock pens hogs will hold the day. Floral Hall will be the scene of much beauty, flowers, painting and drawings decorating it to perfection.

FRIDAY,

Dairy cattle and harness horses will be shown in the ring, and art needle work, &c., in Floral Hall. The fanciest, and the shabbiest turnouts are special attractions for this day.

SATURDAY,

All purpose horses and harness horses will make the ring exhibition exciting and interesting, while those interested in fruits, vegetables and poultry will find Floral Hall an interesting place.

CHURCH NEWS.

A large number of Kentucky people are attending the Seventh Day Adventist, meeting at Harriman, Tenn.

The colored Baptist Association in session in Frankfort last week represented 80,000 communicants. Its finest church building, costing $40,000, is located at Owensboro.

While curling her hair with a hot curling iron, Miss Cora Anderson, a young school teacher of Scott county, stuck the instrument in one of her eyes destroying the sight.

"A Word of Warning."

To the Editor of the Recorder:

I had not expected to write your paper for publication again, but the letter in last week's issue calls for some sort of a reply.

In the first place I am misquoted, or, if not, then my letter has not been properly interpreted. I said that a fair construction of the court's action is, that wherever a bridge would be a great convenience to the people of a neighborhood, the court would make an appropriation to build it, and said distinctly that the court would not build bridges for a favored few, for that would be a traversty upon justice. So the Doctor, in his haste to respond, must have read my letter like he wrote his—in a rambling sort of way.

It is hard to tell what the Doctor is driving at, and when I read his letter I was reminded of the criticism that my old friend, the late William S. Holman across the river, made on the forensic efforts of an aspirant for Congress in his district. He said the young man was troubled with a diarrhea of words and a constipation of ideas.

He says build bridges—build them and be progressive—that it wont cost much. Then, again, that he is opposed to a ruinous tax, and yet we must be progressive and broad-minded. It is just as my friend Holman said.

Then he says by building public improvements we increase the total value of taxable property and decrease the rate. That is a falacy, for the tax rate is never lowered. I have seen it gradually increase for the past 40 years, and we have certainly had some public improvements in that time.

But, according to my friend's theory, as public improvements are made the tax rate should grow less. If that were true we ought to be drawing a pension from the government by this time. Everyone but the Doctor knows this is not true. The fact is that as public improvements are made by taxation, the burden of taxation necessarily grows greater, and it many instances reaches a point where the people can not stand it, and, as a result, property is greatly depreciated in value, as in some of the counties adjoining ours.

I have no fault to find with the Fiscal Court. In building the Woolper bridge they personally benefit me, for I live near it; but this does not make it right with me. The court should, by its votes, reflect the ideas and the wishes of the people, and I know that the people of this county do not want to be taxed to build bridges. I know and the people know that our taxes are already high enough.

I will not launch into national affairs as the Doctor does, for this question of building bridges by taxation is purely local, and the discussion of building great trans-Atlantic railroads and fine battle ships can not throw any light on the question. I am an old man, and, perhaps, have old fogy notions, but I find comfort in the fact that I have a great many fellowcitizens who think as I do.

I have no personal acquaintance with the Doctor, but from inquiry I understand that he is a young man who has chosen old Boone as a home—that he married into one of our most honorable and respected families, and before he writes any more letters, I advise him to go to his father-in-law, Geo. Gaines, and to his brother-in-law, James A. Huey, and consult with them. I feel sure that both are opposed to bridge building by taxation; that they will tell him that no system of road building or bridge building by taxation can be adopted in Boone county that would be either equitable or just; that the public improvements which we have in that line have been made by private subscription, and that others which are needed will have to be made in the same way, if the people are permitted to have a voice in the matter.

A doctor makes his living off of the misfortunes of people. A country doctor necessarily has to ride on the roads and cross the creeks, if he has any practice, and that he should want good roads and bridges is natural. I find no fault with him for that, but let him meet the issue squarely like that Bellevue correspondent, who says, "we want the bridge, and are going to have it, for the court is with us, and the people have got to pay for it." The Doctor might as well have said the same thing, for in time he will learn that though he may fool all the people some times, and some of the people all the time, but he can't fool all the people all the time.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, it looks as though we will have this bridge, and, perhaps, a good many others, not because the people want them, but rather because their wishes are not reflected by the Fiscal Court in this matter. The only remedy the people have is in the ballot when it comes to electing their succesors, and you may rest assured they will use it.

I remain

A PETERSBURG TAXPAYER.

P. S.—What was the county attorney doing when the bridge appropriation was being made?

CROP AND STOCK.

Thieves are raiding wheat bins in Scott county.

Harrison county never had better crops than those now growing.

Crittenden farmers raised a great many stock peas. They are splendid for stock.

Fields and woods full of quails in Bath county, but the apple crop is a total failure.

John Booth, of Carter county, stole a horse, but pleads that he was too drunk to be responsible.

Sister Linda, a famous race mare owned by Col. Kinzea Stone, of Georgetown, died of colic. She was worth $5,000.

The destructive cabbage bug which has appeared in some places in Kentucky this year, is said to have come from South America.

When the apples are ripening pick the largest and best first; this will let the limbs straighten up, and the smaller fruit will have a chance to grow and mature and acquire color.

The European wheat crop is far better than that of last year and may be set down as good, with an increased acreage, and the total product is expected to be above that of the last half dozen years.

Sherman County, Iowa, has a cooperative hail insurance company. The man whose crops are injured is to receive one bushel of the kind of grain destroyed for each 100 bushels raised by the other members of the company.

Large flocks of sheep do not pay so well, relatively as smaller ones. Farmers frequently overstock themselves with sheep, and then complain that they do not pay. They will not thrive if crowded, and this is a primary cause of disease.—Farmers Home Journal.

This is the way a farmer keeps off the caterpillars: "I bore a hole in the tree deep enough to reach the sap, fill it up with sulphur and plug it up. The sap takes it to every twig, and caterpillars disappear at once. I have never known a tree to be injured by it and have used it for years."

Some time ago a Paducah paper noted the absence of tobacco worms in McCrackin county. The same discovery has been made in Daviess county by an Owensboro paper, and now comes the Hopkinsville New Era, saying: "The almost entire absence of tobacco worms is causing comment in all parts of the county. It is said they were never known to be so scarce. A farmer who has twenty-seven acres says only two worms were discovered on his entire crop in worming it over last week. Dr. J. D. Clardy, who has been raising tobacco ever since 1856, says he has never seen anything like the scarcity of worms. He has seen only three this year and not a single fly."

The calt on a dairy farm must be brought up on skim milk. To let the calf suck is to ruin the cow for the dairy, and it is too expensive a food for the calf. Break it to drink as soon as it is three days old; some eminent dairymen never let the calf suck even once. In the course of about two weeks it will eat oats, and after that success is a sure thing, for some skim milk and a little feed of oats will bring the calf through successfully. Shelled corn is excellent, especially with male calves that are designed for breeders or for feeding for beef, as it keeps them fat and loose skinned. Be very careful not to over feed with skim milk, as it will cause scours and spoil the calf. And always have the milk at blood heat. Cold milk, too much of it, and lice, are the three things that make a calf's life a burden and a discouragement to the owner. Be sure that its quarters are warm and that it has a dry bed, and that the sun can shine into its nesting place. It is exceedingly bad policy to keep any young animal in damp and dark, chilly pens. It will cause indigestion and unthrift, and make a scrub of any animal, regardless of its pedigree.—Ex.

Pith of the Press.

The Cubans have beaten their machetes into knives and forks—Chicago Record.

Perhaps Secretary Alger wouldn't object to singing a protocol with Teddy Roosevelt.—Chicago Times-Herald.

No one seems to be defending Admiral Schley, but then his record needs no defense.—West Union Ohio Defender.

The brave did not all go to war. A man has been found who proposes to run against General Wheeler for Congress.—Chicago Record.

Taking the Philippines would increase the war loss, instead of reducing it. They would be, as a colony, a big bill of expense.—Chattanooga Times.

General Jackson who believed that to the victors belong the spoils would have found no difficulty in deciding the Philippine question.—Topeka State Journal.

In a quiet and unostentions way Mayor McKisson is piling up a large heap of political fuel for use in the approaching Ohio gubernatorial campaign.—Omaha World Herald.

If Spain will appoint Admiral Cervera her Minister to this country it will go a long way toward restoring good feeling between the two countries.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Make Dewey a full-fledged Admiral and Schley Vice Admiral and merit will have been properly rewarded. Then Sampson can remain a Rear Admiral—he was in the rear at the Santiago engagement.—Duluth Herald.

FROM UNKNOWN GRAVES.

While workmen were making an excavation for building an addition to the shoe factory on the upper side of Conwell street Monday afternoon, they unexpectedly struck a metallic coffin and dug it up. The coffin contained the body of a woman in comparatively good state of preservation. The eyes were sunken and the point of the nose gone, but otherwise the features of the face were quite natural, the skin being only slightly discolored. The wealth of rich brown hair was perfectly natural and small gold rings were still hanging in the ears.

The body was that of a woman of probably 30 years of age at the time of her death. The face was very intellectual in form and feature, the body in life was that of a person 5 feet 4 to 5 feet 6 inches tall.

In the afternoon another similar metallic coffin was taken out and it contained the body of a child supposed to be a boy about 3 years old. This body was as well preserved as the first one found.

There was nothing about or upon either casket by which these bodies could be identified and although hundreds of our citizens viewed these remains no one could give any information that might at all lead to their identification. The bodies had evidently been buried for many years, say 40 or 50, in the old cemetery that was abandoned a number of years ago and from which our city had endeavored to remove all bodies to River View cemetery. The bodies were taken in charge by Fred Mauntel, Coroner and undertaker, to be placed in River View cemetery. It seems that if a general effort should be made to that end that it could be ascertained who all the people were. Some of our older citizens might be able to recall the death of a mother and child and the fact of their burial in fine metallic coffins which were not common years ago.—Aurora Independent.

Before the war the Spanish army cost $28,000,000 and the navy over $4,500,000 a year. Not more than $40,000,000 out of a total revenue of $150,000,000 went for the actual work of really necessary departments of the Government. Without colonies Spain will need no navy, and a very moderate army will answer all her requirements. If she will repress warlike ambitions, root out corruption in her Government and make an arrangement with her creditors, there is no reason why she should not yet become happy and prosperous.—N. Y. Journal.

No average condition of the tobacco crop of this country can be obtained as yet, but there was a decline in all the principal tobacco growing States during the month of July.

POLITICAL.

Col. Colson has a boom for Republican candidate for Governor.

Brown and Goebel would make southern Kentucky politics hot in a campaign for the Gubernatorial nomination.

Editor Benjamine, the negro editor, of Lexington, is now an announced candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Seventh Congressional district.

The Goebel law has not turned the election machinery over to the Democrats. In each county in the State the Republicans have one of the three election commissioners.

An effort is being made to procure for Newport, Ky., the Democratic convention of the Sixth Congressional District. The last convention of the kind held in Newport was 16 years ago, when John G. Carlisle was nominated for Congress.

Auditor Stone gave notice to the State Election Commissioners that he will not recognize their decision in the suit which has been brought testing the validity of the Goebel law. The Commissioners thereupon announced that they will file mandamus against Stone to compel him to pay the expenses of the board.

When Senator Goebel explained the effect of the Goebel law to the Cynthiana Convention many Democrats changed their opinion of said law. Senator Goebel has only to say a few words in regard to his bill to win it friends It is to give the Democrats and all others interested, a fair count of votes fairly cast. When it fails to do this then it will be time to condemn it.—Ex.

There are indications on the political horizon clearly indicating that a good sized "shake down" is in process of incubation and will be hatched out in time to be effective for the forthcoming Congressional Convention for this district. We warn the good people in charge of the incubator that their (to them) well laid plan is known, and if the attempt is really made to work the "shake down" for all it is worth, it might prove a good sized boomerang.—Covington Extra.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Grant county must be in bad odor with the Election Commissioners at Frankfort. The committee at the request of the Election Commissioners met and recommended three good men from this county for County Election Commissioners, and lo! and behold when the appointments are announced only one of the men they selected received an appointment, Dr. J. T. Points at Sherman, and he was appointed because he was thought to be a Republican, and is so put down in the report.—Courier.

Mound Field Farm.

We had the pleasure of being shown through Mr. Robt. Bradford's vegetable and fruit garden a few days since. Mr. B. takes a great interest in cultivating his garden, and the condition it is in shows it has not lacked for work. He has all kinds of vegetables and an abundance of select peaches that are just getting ripe; a fine selection of grapes, perhaps a dozen varieties, all of which go to show that Mr. Bradford lives at home and boards at the same place.

Parties having the curiosity to see a coffee plantation in bearing in a northern latitude will be amply repaid by calling at Mound Field, where several varieties can be seen; beside a lecture on the cultivation of the plant will be given them free gratis.

Met Tom Hafer recently. He gave us a vivid description of a trip he and some friends made to the Big Bone Springs the Sunday before. Among other things he said he remembered tasting a drink sometime in his life that he relished more than he did the Big Bone water, although he could drink that pretty well.

The recent rains have been quite disastrous to Jacob Crigler's premium squashes. We are told that the vines grew so rapidly that the young squashes could not keep up, consequently they were jerked off and he lost them.

IT is more than probable that Fitzhugh Lee will be appointed Governor-General of Cuba, but Blanco will not remain in Havana to deliver an address of welcome upon Lee's arrival.

You know it is dreadfully hot.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

GEN. COPPINGER is the only United States commander who has seen service in the British army. He is the son of a Warwickshire esquire, and after serving with the 1st battalion of the Warwickshire militia—as far back as 1856—joined the regular service as a lieutenant. Subsequently he emigrated to the United States.

CAPT. CHICHESTER of the British cruiser Immortalite, now in Manila bay, has just become a baronet through the death of his father, Sir Arthur Chichester of Youlston hall, Devonshire. It was he who, when the German admiral Deitrichs asked him about English intentions, created a mild sensation by referring him to Adm. Dewey.

CANADIAN newspapers are circulating this paragraph: "Adm. Sampson, chief in command of the United States navy, has many relations in Cape Breton. Adm. Sampson's father was born at L'Ardoise, Richmond county, and when a young man left that place for the United States, where he married, the famous admiral being one of his sons."

MENELEK, the Negus of Abyssinia, has definitely decided to enjoy a European holiday. He will leave home some time in August and will travel on some chartered steamer, unless one of the powers can be induced to lend a warship. Menelek will make his principal visits at Paris and St. Petersburg, and will be accompanied by a retinue of dusky courtiers and servants.

EUROPEAN advices report that Turkey is so impressed with the work of the Yankees in the war with Spain that she wants to buy a lot of American guns. There is one thing, however, that foreign governments should keep in mind with reference to this matter, and that is that an American gun attains its highest efficiency only when an American gunner stands behind it.

A SOLDIER dead for three days was about to be dissected at the Algiers military hospital, when he woke up and, before the doctors recovered from their surprise got off the dissecting table and walked into the next room, where he wrote down some words on a piece of paper to make sure that he was alive and awake. The doctors now say that he has completely recovered from his lethargy.

THE postmaster general does not want to interfere with the exercise of private taste or with the habits of the patrons of the mails, but since the department has gone into business in tropical countries he feels called on to advise the public generally that letters without sealing wax are likely to be transmitted with greater safety than if this device for sealing letters or for displaying the family crests is used.

PROF. BARON of Berne has left all his property to the city of Berlin for the establishment of a vegetarian children's asylum, and the authorities have accepted the legacy. Prof. Baron's vegetarianism was limited to the exclusion of all food derived from dead animals, so that the products of living beasts, such as eggs, milk, cheese, butter and honey, may be used. The will provides that no physician shall ever be a trustee of the asylum.

THE mass of work which the German emperor has to do may be understood from the following figures, representing 12 months' labor: He received 1,026 immediate reports, including 158 telegrams, gave 751 decisions and signed 802 cabinet orders, appointments and other documents. Five thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven reports were laid before him; but the civil cabinet had to deal with about 80,000 documents addressed to his majesty and about 400 letters and telegrams arrived daily.

IT is observed that bankers here are of the opinion that the actual balance which Europe owes us and which must in any event be paid ultimately in gold, is not far from $50,000,000. That was the estimated figure of the credit balance upon the 1st of last July. The figures are very much smaller than those which have been in the public mind as representing our credit balance. But it is noticed that Europe has been paying off its indebtedness to us in other ways than those which are noted in the exchanges or of which official records are kept.

THE death rate of Uncle Sam's army has not been abnormally large. Out of an army of 544,000 men France lost 8,736 in 1895, which is a death rate of nearly 7 in 1,000. And these men were quartered in barracks, in a healthy climate, and not in tents in a new climate. At the same rate the American army, which is just about one-half as large as the French army, should have 1,868 deaths in a year, or 467 deaths in three months, not counting deaths caused by active service. Compared with the French record, there is surely no cause for complaint.

A BALANCE has just been struck of the "conscience fund" in the treasury of the United States on the 30th of June last, showing that the total amount received and credited to it since it was opened in 1811, was $97,453. These moneys are covered into the general treasury as a miscellaneous receipt, and may be used like other assets of the treasury for any purpose. Remittances come in almost weekly. Occasionally there are two or three cases a week, and, as a rule, the letters are not signed. Frequently they are forwarded by clergymen at the request of penitents.

THE NEW AMERICAN NAVY.

The Proposed Increase of the Number of Our War Ships Causes Considerable Anxiety in European Countries.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The morning papers comment upon the proposed immense increase in the American navy. The Standard says:

"Such a fleet operating from Manila as a base would be able to exercise considerable influence upon the progress of events in Chinese waters, and added to the English Chinese squadron and the Japanese navy would make a mighty armament indeed."

The Standard suggests that this consideration may give Russia pause.

The Daily Mail says:

"The new programme is startling in its immensity. The American navy jumps to fourth place among the world's fleet. It will not long remain fourth, nor will it be long before the United States will have a policy in China."

GOOD ADVICE TO OUR ALLIES.

The Cubans in Arms Advised to Disband, Retire to Their Homes and Engage in Peaceful Pursuits.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—There have been conferences between Estrada Palma and other representatives of the Cubans with the officials of the United States government relative to the Cubans and what would be done with them. Mr. Palma was advised that the United States would not consider the question of compensation of the Cuban troops, because there was no power in the government to do so even if there was an inclination. He was told that the best thing the Cubans could do was to advise the men in arms to disband, retire to their homes and engage in peaceful pursuits. That the members of the Cuban junta recognize that this is the only thing to do is seen in the fact that emissaries have already been dispatched to Cuba with a view of carrying out the desires of the United States government. These emissaries will try to persuade the Cuban leaders that resistance to United States authority would result only in further disasters and distress to Cuba.

Soldiers Doing Police Duty.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Aug. 19.—Thursday morning Gen. Wood, military governor of Santiago, increased the local police force with additions from various regiments. There has been some trouble from soldiers who have disobeyed orders, and there have been some thefts, several street fights, at least one murder, and a good deal of drunkenness, so that an exceptionally large force is needed to preserve order.

A Reward Offered.

DOVER, Del., Aug. 19.—Gov. Tunnell Thursday offered a reward of $200 for the apprehension of the party or parties who sent the poisoned candy to Mrs. J. Presley Dunning, of Dover, as a result of which Mrs. Dunning and her sister, Mrs. J. D. Deane, lost their lives. State detectives and government inspectors are now investigating the affair, but there were no developments Thursday.

Vesuvius in a State of Eruption.

NAPLES, Aug. 19.—Vesuvius is again in a state of active eruption. Four streams of lava are flowing down the mountain side at the rate of 400 yards an hour. The chestnut trees on Mt. Somma have been turned. Constant explosions are heard in the central crater, which is emitting smoke and flames.

No Increase in Yellow Fever Cases.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The physicians in charge of the detention hospital at Camp Wikoff reported Thursday that there had been no increase in yellow fever cases since Wednesday. There are seven cases in the hospital. Altogether there are 300 men in different hospitals.

Censorship on Cable Messages Abolished.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The Western Union Telegraph Co.'s central cable office announces that all censorship on cable messages has been abolished.

PROCLAMATION.

Gen. Merritt Will Soon Issue One to the Philippines.

It Will Provide a Scheme for the Government of Manila and Surrounding Territories Captured and Now in Possession of United States.

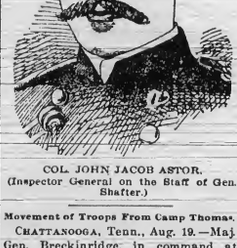
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A special dispatch to the World from Manila, August 14, via Hong Kong, Thursday says:

Gen. Merritt has prepared a proclamation to the natives which provides a scheme of government for Manila and surrounding territory, other Island places in our possession, the chief points of which are:

Rigid protection to all in personal religion.

Municipal laws, tribunals and local institutions for punishment of crime to remain until further notice (except where incompatible with military rule) subject to supervision of American officials.

Giving marshal and sub-provosts to be appointed with power to arrest civil as well as military offenders.



Open trade for neutral nations.

Public property to be rigorously protected.

No interference with the people so long as they preserve peace.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Spanish terms of surrender at Manila are stated, semi-officially, to have included that of the whole Philippine group. To complete possession of the islands is but a matter of form, already provided. They are now United States territory.

Dewey and Merritt have therefore abrogated a provision of the protocol which it was feared would give the peace commissioners the greatest amount of trouble. The Philippines are not Spanish territory, to be disposed of as such. By conquest they are United States territory, to be kept as such, should this government decide that way. The Spaniards gave up the bone they intended to dispute over. They have lost the nine points of law which go with possession.

COL. JOHN JACOB ASTOR.
(Inspector General on the Staff of Gen. Shafter.)

Movement of Troops From Camp Thomas.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Maj. Gen. Breckinridge, in command at Camp Thomas, Thursday issued orders for the 2d division, 1st corps, commanded by Gen. McKee, to prepare to proceed to Knoxville at once, and for the 3d division, 1st corps, commanded by Gen. Sanger, to prepare to proceed to Lexington, Ky., at once. The two divisions will begin moving the first of next week.

Condemned Murderer Suicides.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 19.—Charles O. Kaiser, who was under sentence to be hanged September 6, for the murder of his wife, committed suicide in his cell in the county jail about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. He first cut an artery in his wrist with a watch spring and then hanged himself. J. A. Clemmer is also under sentence of death for complicity in the murder of Mrs. Kaiser, and Lizzie DeKalb, the famous "Woman in Black," also confessed to being an accessory, and is in jail awaiting sentence.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

The Residence of John Hill, Jr., Chicago, Dynamited—He Had Been Fighting the Race Tracks.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—An attempt was made Tuesday night to take the lives of John Hill, jr., his wife and two children by exploding a heavy charge of dynamite against Mr. Hill's residence in Belmont, a suburb of the city. None of the family suffered injury, although the frame and sash of the window where the explosive was placed were blown with great force into the bedroom where Mr. Hill was sleeping. The perpetrators placed the missile with a pole of sufficient length to reach the second story windows. On the end of the pole was attached a stick of dynamite, or a bomb. A slow fuse was attached and the explosive was so arranged that it was directly against the frame of the window of the bed-room on the east side of the house, the room usually occupied by Mr. Hill and his wife. The crime is believed to have been inspired, if not executed, by race track men against whom Mr. Hill, as an officer of the Civic Federation, has conducted a crusade.

YELLOW JACK AT MONTAUK.

The Situation at the Camp is a Grave One—Thirty-Six Suspected Cases Have So Far Been Reported.

MONTAUK, Aug. 18.—A dense sea fog drifted in from the sea Wednesday morning and for several hours enveloped Camp Wikoff. The entire landscape was shut out for the time, and traveling, except by following the road, was impossible.

Late Tuesday night the number of suspected yellow-fever cases in the detention hospitals was increased from 27 to 36, by the discovery of nine new cases on board the St. Louis.

The St. Louis had one death from yellow fever occur on board on the voyage north from Santiago, and the camp physicians consider the discovery of the new cases as having a grave aspect. Camp Wikoff has not been quarantined as yet.

The New Cable.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—M. Cambon, the French ambassador, and First Secretary Thiebaut of the French legation, were in conference at the white house Wednesday morning with President McKinley and Acting Secretary of State Moore. The object of the conference was a direct exchange of messages of a felicitous nature between President McKinley and President Faure of France, over the new cable from Brest to Cape Cod.

A Suspect Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The police were so positive that in Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy, dentist, they have the murderer of Emeline C. Reynolds, who was found dead in a room of the Grand hotel Tuesday, that Capt. Price, of West Thirtieth street station, made an affidavit in the West Side police court Wednesday charging Kennedy with homicide. He was held without bail for examination on Friday.

Gen. Wheeler Will Command at Camp Wikoff.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Gen. Wheeler was at the war department Wednesday and had an interview with the secretary. Gen. Wheeler received orders to assume command at Camp Wikoff until the arrival of Gen. Shafter. Gen. Wheeler was told by the secretary of war to purchase everything that was necessary for the comfort of the men and to spare nothing that would alleviate the sick and wounded.

Died of Heart Failure.

TELL CITY, Ind., Aug. 18.—While the colored people of this city were dancing at Montgomery's grove, there was a free-for-all quarrel, during which Mrs. Betty Bruce, a colored woman, who was managing the affair, became so excited that she died of heart failure within a few hours.

Mines in Havana Harbor Blown Up.

HAVANA, Aug. 18.—The submarine mines in the harbor have been blown up. Large crowds watched the explosions.

LETTER PERFECT.

An Ambitious Young Soldier Who Thought He Was Born to Command.

Elmer Campbell was the greenest and most ambitious raw recruit in Col. Hartigan's regiment of Tigers. The young man was the best type of the "hay-foot, straw-foot" soldier in the ranks, and yet he was more anxious than anyone to become an officer.

He pleaded with the colonel so long that the latter finally told him if he would secure a book on tactics and master it he should have the first chance to show what he could do when there was a vacancy among the officers. Campbell bought a book on tactics and stayed up late at night to learn its contents.

"Forward, column right (or left, as the case may be), march."

That was the form of the orders in the book. Campbell learned these by heart, parrot-like and all. He even committed the explanatory notes to memory. He was master of that book of tactics and military life began to take on a roseate hue in his eyes.

One day the colonel called the men out for drill and told Campbell he could try his hand at giving orders if he wished. Campbell "wished," and immediately took the position opposite the head of his column, which the book had told him was the proper thing to do. Then he swelled his chest a trifle, and with a blush of pride called out:

"Forward, column, right or left, as the case may be, march."

The column prepared to turn right as that word was uttered, but when "left as the case may be" reached the ears of the men they stood stock still. Then, as the situation explained itself, a hearty laugh went all along the line. The colonel quieted the commotion, walked over to the recruit, and made a few earnest remarks in Campbell's ears.

Campbell is still a private, and is content to hide his light under a bushel.—Chicago Journal.

Tour of the Great Lakes for $5.00.

Thursday, August 25, the C. H. & D. R'y will run their annual excursion to Mackinac Island at $5.00 round trip, leaving Cincinnati at 8:45 a. m. by special train, passing through Dayton at 10:45 a. m., Lima, 12:50 p. m. (dinner), Toledo, 3:35 p. m. At Toledo passengers are transferred to the large passenger steamer "Alpena," leaving at 4:30 p. m., arriving at Mackinac Saturday August 27 at noon. Tickets are good for ten days. A side trip has been arranged to Duluth at rate of $30.00 from Mackinac, including meals and berth. Tickets must be purchased from your nearest C. H. D. ticket agent, or address J. G. Mason, General Southern Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Cause and Effect.

Nickelby—All last week Ernest was shaking for the drinks.

Squeers—All this week he has been drinking for the shakes.—N. Y. Journal.

Do You Wish to Gain Flesh?

Ninety per cent of our passengers gain from five to ten pounds on a trip to Mackinac. If you are run down take a cruise up the lakes. We guarantee your outing will benefit you. The cost is within the reach of all. Send 2c. for illustrated pamphlet. Address A. A. Schantz, . . . , A. D. & C. Steamers, The Coast Line, Detroit, Mich.

A big necktie may cover a multitude of blotches on a shirt front as well as charity covers a multitude of sins. — Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

The Enormous Gold Product of 1898.

This will be the greatest gold year in history. From South Africa, the Klondike and Australia the precious metal is being shipped in large quantities. It is believed that this year's output will be nearly double that of any previous twelve months. The sales of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are also increasing very fast, and this year that famous remedy will cure more people of dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, nervousness and weakness than ever before.

Made Them All Work.

Mr. Lusoe—Then you don't believe in foreign servants?

Mr. Tariff—With a wife and three grown daughters? Not I. I believe in encouraging home industry.—Brooklyn Life.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Popular.

"He seems to be as popular as any young man here, and yet they say he is a widower."

"Yes. You see his wife left a new bicycle when she died."—Up to Date.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

No man should have stomach ache after he reaches an age of discretion. But as a rule, the older a man is, the less sense he has in eating.—Atchison Globe.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

The Lord prevents some men from succeeding because it would be too mean.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

I have found Piso's Cure for Consumption an unfailing medicine.—F. R. Lotz, 1305 Scott St., Covington, Ky., Oct. 1, 1894.

You never know some people until you have had a money transaction with them.—Atchison Globe.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a Constitutional Cure. Price 75c.

Even a good dog is appreciated.—Atchison Globe.

Nervous People

Are great sufferers and they deserve sympathy rather than censure. Their blood is poor and thin and their nerves are consequently weak. Such people find relief and cure in Hood's Sarsaparilla because it purifies and enriches the blood and gives it power to feed, strengthen and sustain the nerves. If you are nervous and cannot sleep, take Hood's Sarsaparilla and realize its nerve strengthening power.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills. 25 cents.

10,000 MILES FROM TIP TO TIP.

Everybody surrenders to Battle Ax.

There is no greater hardship than to be deprived of your

BattleAx PLUG

and any one who has once chewed Battle Ax will give up most any thing to get it. 10c. buys a larger piece of Battle Ax than of any other kind of high grade quality.

Remember the name when you buy again.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Bears the Signature Of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

TRAINS COLLIDE

Seven Persons Dead and Twenty-Six Wounded, Some Fatally.

A Passenger Train Was Standing at the Station When An Express, Without Warning, Rounded a Curve and Crashed Into the Standing Train.

SHARON, Mass., Aug. 22.—A frightful rear-end collision occurred in the Sharon station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at 7:30 Sunday night, when an express train which was running as the second section of a long train, crashed into the first section, composed of local cars.

As a result six persons were killed and 26 seriously injured. The injured were nearly all removed to Boston on a special train, which was met by ambulances and surgeons. The rear car of the local train was completely demolished and a portion of the second car, while the engine of the express train was crippled. The dead are:

Franklin M. Waters, Somerville, Mass.

Mrs. William J. Fitzpatrick, Boston, her granddaughter, Mary Fitzpatrick, 10 years of age, and her grandson, five years old.

A woman supposed to be Mrs. Watson, of Westerly, R. I.

Mrs. C. H. Briscoe, Revere.

The injured, some 26 in number, are mostly Boston people.

The two trains which were in the collision were usually combined into one long train, but as the traffic Sunday was so heavy it was divided, the first section running as a local accommodation, while the second, which started from Mansfield 15 minutes later than the first, ran as an express.

The local train due at Sharon at 7:03 was 13 minutes late. It left Mansfield on time, making two stops, and had lost 13 minutes between Mansfield and Sharon. It was due in Canton Junction, the next station beyond Sharon, two minutes ahead of the express train, which should have passed it there. Sharon is situated on a curve and both the outward and inward tracks are protected by electric block signals.

After the accident it was thought the block signal protecting the inward track was set at danger, showing, as it was intended, that there was a train in the station.

There was no warning given by the conductor of the Mansfield local to show the approaching train that the track was not clear at the station, and it was not until he was within 400 feet of the station that the engineer of the express noticed anything wrong. He immediately set all brakes and whistled the warning, but it was too late to stop the express.

It crashed into the rear car, splitting it asunder and completely demolishing it with the exception of the roof. Its speed was not slacked until the engine had penetrated fully five feet in the rear of the second car. The escaping steam entered the car and badly scalded a number of the occupants. The roof of the last car was forced on top of the engine of the express and remained there as the only portion of the car intact.

Engineer Getchell and Fireman Holmes, of the express both jumped when they saw that a collision was unavoidable. Getchell was cut and bruised about the head. He stated after the accident that he left Mansfield promptly on time and there was no incident until he was within 400 feet of the Mansfield train. Then he saw the rear lights of that train and shut off all steam. Meanwhile he had whistled for brakes and used every effort to stop his train.

Every one of the killed and injured were on the Mansfield train, and the only explanation of the fact that the number of fatalities is not larger is that the passengers were all in the forward end of the car in the act of alighting at the station. There were about 30 people in the last car and most of them at the time of the accident were either upon the front platform or standing by the door.

Mary Fitzpatrick, ten years old, was taken from the wreck, but unconscious, and died just as the special train started for Boston. Twenty-two of the injured were taken on this train and four others, whose names they refused to disclose, remained in Sharon.

A large corps of surgeons and two undertakers arrived soon after the accident and immediately set to work to relieve the suffering and care for the bodies of the dead. There were very few lights about the portion of the track where the accident occurred and the surgeons were compelled to do their work in total darkness.

C. B. Frye, select man of Revere, Mass., one of the injured brought to this city, is dead, making the total number of dead seven.

Norwegian Bark Sunk.

ALDENBURG, Eng., Aug. 22.—The Norwegian bark Nimbus, Capt. Nielson, bound for Sunsval, Sweden, was sunk off here Sunday in a collision with an unknown steamer. No lives were lost. The Nimbus arrived at London on July 23 from Tadousac, Que.

Death of Mrs. Judge Sage.

LEBANON, O., Aug. 22.—Mrs. Eva Corwin Sage, 67, wife of United States Judge Sage, died here at 11:40 Saturday morning. She was a daughter of the late Tom Corwin.

PREMIER SAGASTA'S CLAIM.

His Demand for Indemnity for Government Property in Cuba and Porto Rico Causes Talk in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Premier Sagasta's claim, as set forth in Madrid dispatches, that Spain will expect indemnity for all government property, buildings, barracks, fortifications, etc., in Cuba, Porto Rico and elsewhere, has excited much comment as showing the difficult questions to be treated by the military and peace commissions. In officials quarters here there is no disposition to make a counter claim to Sagasta's proposition, for this will be done in due time before the commissions and there is no purpose to outline the government's policy in advance. At the same time leading officials express their individual opinion that Premier Sagasta's claim is very far-fetched, as it is said to be the established rule of international law that all public property of a sovereign government passes to the conqueror when a change of territory occurs. The rule is equally well established that private property undergoes no change. The question is somewhat complicated in the present case by the fact that Cuba and Porto Rico are not acquired strictly by conquest but rather by mutual agreement. In case of a conquest no question could arise as to the passing of all forts, barracks, reservations, etc., along with the conquered territory.

MUST NOT ENTER THE CITY.

Philippine Insurgents Ordered to Keep Ten Miles Outside of Manila—Force May Have to Be Used.

MANILA (via Paris), Aug. 22.—The city is quiet. The banks are now open and business has been resumed. Armed rebels are not allowed in the city. Maj. Merritt has ordered that armed rebel forces retire ten miles from Manila within three days. Representatives of Aguinaldo agreed to these terms Saturday, asking on their part for employment under American government for the leading rebels, which was granted.

The rebel forces declare that if Aguinaldo orders them to retire they will refuse and will attack Manilla. The result would be disastrous to them, as Manila is amply protected by 10,000 American troops.

The custom house, administration bureau, post office and port are now administered by American officers. Customs dues on goods detained in the custom house amount to $2,000,000.

The health of the American troops is excellent. Part of the fourth expedition troops have arrived.

The treasury, which has been handed over to Gen. Merritt, contains a large amount.

Aguinaldo has sent rebel troops to attack Iloilo and has dispatched agents to induce the southern islands to rebel. In Iloilo there are 4,000 Spanish troops.

Sergt. Burnsen, of the 13th Minnesota, has succumbed to wounds received in the final assault on the city. Privates Veath, Dickson and Paden have died from typhoid fever. All the wounded are doing well and will recover.

PROMOTIONS IN THE NAVY.

Commodore Howell to Be Rear Admiral—Lieuts. Winslow and Anderson to Be Advanced Five Numbers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The president has made the following promotions in the navy:

Commodore John A. Howell to be rear admiral, vice Rr. Adm. Charles S. Norton, retired; Lieut. Cameron M. Winslow advanced five numbers on the list of lieutenants for extraordinary heroism; Lieut. Edwin A. Anderson to be advanced five numbers on the list of lieutenants, for extraordinary heroism.

Chief Engineer George Cowie, to be advanced three numbers on the list of chief engineers, for eminent and conspicuous conduct in battle.

Want to Be Mustered Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The men of almost every one of the volunteer regiments in camp at the Presidio are circulating petitions to the secretary of war requesting that they be mustered out of the service. There are very few of the officers with whom this movement has any countenance and efforts are being made to suppress it.

Andree Reported Heard From.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—A special from Victoria, B. C., says:

"News from the north is to the effect that Prof. Andree and his balloon have been heard from, but there are no particulars as to whether the daring aeronaut is alive or dead. It is also stated that Dr. Nordenskjolde is returning from his search."

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 22.—News reached here Saturday morning that two hotels at Hot Springs were burned at 2 a. m. and that six lives were lost and a number of persons injured. The loss is about $75,000.

The hotels destroyed were the Windsor, two stories, and the National, three stories. Both were frame structures.

The dead, so far as known at present, are:

W. M. Hughes, of Tusla, I. T.

B. T. Wells, of Marked Tree, Ark.

NAVAL PARADE.

Battle-Scarred Cruisers and War Ships Moved Into New York Harbor.

The Hearts of Our Naval Heroes Gladdened by the Royal Welcome Extended by a Million of Patriotic Americans in the Metropolis.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—New York and the nation have fitly Saturday signalized the appreciation of the republic of her victorious fleet. An imposing naval pageant of warships has been received in the harbor of the largest city of the country with acclamations of delight and admiration and ovation from shore and from the great flotillas of all sorts of craft on the water has significantly given to the returning heroes some idea of the esteem and admiration in which they are regarded by the people.

There was very little friction in carrying out the programme and no more delay than was to be expected. The citizens' committee left the foot of Cortlandt street on the steamer Glen Island and proceeded down the bay followed by a long retinue of all sorts and description of craft. At Tompkinsville the mayor and committee of ten debarked and boarded the police boat Patrol.

The ceremonies over, amid the hoarse shrieking of steam whistles and the hosannas of the throngs on shore and water, the mayor and committee returned to the Glen Island.

Then came the event of the day. There was considerable wigwagging on the gray battle ships, and the police boats formed in line. Then came the Glen Island, and then the battle ships began to slowly move up the bay. There was a salvo of cannons and the cheers of people and the toots of thousands of whistles made an indescribable din.

Soon the monster pageant was in line. First came Adm. Sampson's flagship New York, then Adm. Schley's flagship Brooklyn, then the Massachusetts, Oregon, Iowa, Indiana and Texas, and after them a moving mass of all sizes and descriptions, with flags waving and people cheering. The great battle ships moved slowly and majestically. As Governor's Island was passed there was a tremendous report from the guns that did so much execution at Guantanamo and Santiago. The people on shore and afloat went wild. They yelled and screamed, waved flags and jumped up and down in patriotic fervor.

And so it was all the way up to Grant's tomb, where there was a final demonstration of patriotic fervor such as New York has never witnessed before. The pageant was viewed and cheered by hundreds of thousands of people. It was a magnificent scene and one never to be forgotten.

Adm. Sampson, looking far better than when war commenced, is very glad to get home. Speaking of his crews, and especially the crews of the Indiana, Iowa and New York, who have had no shore leave for seven months, he said:

"They have born their privations in a manner beyond all praise."

And summing up what has been one of the most successful and important naval campaigns in the history of the world. Sampson says:

"The navy has been fortunate. We have, I think, made no mistakes."

How much Sampson contributed to the success of the war, the efficiency of his service and the splendid manner he directed the largest fleet ever under the command of one man in the history of the United States, probably will not be known or fully appreciated until the history of this war is written.

The health of the fleet is excellent. The ships need docking badly, the Indiana, Iowa and New York especially. The first named will probably require a thorough overhauling of her machinery.

Drowned in the Elkhart River.

ELKHART, Ind., Aug. 22.—John Wilson, a paper maker, was drowned in the Elkhart river Sunday while bathing. He went beyond his depth. He was the father of two young children, living at Bluffton, Ind.

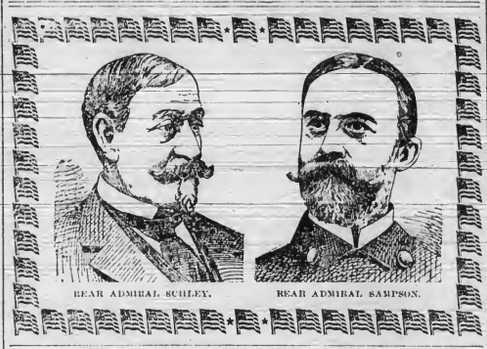
The President Congratulates Dewey and Merritt.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — President McKinley Sunday night cabled to Adm. Dewey and Gen. Merritt, his and the nation's congratulations upon their capture of Manila.

ESCAPE OF GEN. AUGUSTIN.

Spanish Resistance Was Merely Nominal—The American Loss Was 46 Killed and About 100 Wounded.

HONG KONG, Aug. 22.—Officers of the steamer China, from Manila, which has arrived here, report that it was evident that the resistance of the Spaniards when Manila was attacked by the Americans was merely nominal and was made solely to maintain the honor of Spain. The officers talked with express the belief that the escape of Gov. Gen. Augustin was pre-arranged and was well understood by Adm. Dewey. A dispatch from Manila, dated August 18, says total number of killed on the American side during the attack upon and capture of Manila was 46 and of wounded about 100. The Spanish loss were 200 killed and 400 wounded. The fire of the Americans did practically no damage to the town or to the non-combatants. The Americans had considerable difficulty in keeping the insurgents out of the city, only admitting those who were without weapons.



Five insurgents were [illegible] while looting at Tondo. An infantry officer became involved in a row with a Spaniard in the Escolta, in the Binondo suburb, during which the Spaniard fired upon the insurgent, inflicting wounds in the latter's legs. The Spaniard was arrested and imprisoned.

Gen. Merritt has issued a proclamation decreeing that the provisional government and the local authorities shall retain their offices and that everything shall remain unchanged for the present, except so far as the supreme jurisdiction is concerned. The proclamation further declares that any native who resists the present authorities shall be treated as a lawbreaker.

Gen. Jaudenes, in the course of an interview had with him by a correspondent, said he knew the fight was a hopeless one, but that he intended to resist the Americans in the name of honor, but was persuaded to surrender for the sake of the non-combatants. He eulogized the Americans for the humanity they have shown.

The last official act of Gen. Jaudenes was to fine a journalist for speaking the truth. The journalist requested the correspondent to state that he had loyally done his best for the country. He had thrice been punished, had fought bravely as a volunteer, had been captured and released, and, further, was ready to fight again, but was "utterly disgusted with a government and a nation which tolerates and welcomes the Americans."

Serious trouble is threatened by the insurgents because they were prevented from having their own way. They assert that they are able to render the islands untenable for anybody.

REAR ADMIRAL SCHLEY. REAR ADMIRAL SAMPSON.

A MILITARY GOVERNMENT.

The Inhabitants of Manila Fear They Will Be Restored to Spain—Money in the Spanish Treasury.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The Manila correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a dispatch dated Sunday says:

"Gen. Merritt has proclaimed a government of military occupation. The news of the armistice arrived on the 16th. It is feared that the Americans may restore the Philippines to Spain and thus re-inaugurate a fresh pierod of tyranny, extortion and rebellion. The Spanish guarantees for freedom of the press and religion and for just administration are useless unless under foreign supervision.

"The Americans found $800,000 in the Spanish treasury.

"Foreign opinion is loud in praise of the action of the American commanders in excluding armed rebels from the city. There is good reason to believe that their firmness saved Manila from pillage."

Fountain's Indian Graveyard.

HILLSBORO, Ind., Aug. 22.—While working in a gravel pit west of Covington section men on the Big Four discovered an Indian grave yard. A large number of skeletons were found and what is unusual, all were buried in a standing position facing the east. With each skeleton was buried a coat of armor, and archeologists believe is an indication that the skeletons were those of warriors who fell in battle. A similar graveyard was unearth not long since near Crawfordsville.

GATHERING AT FORT MONROE

One of the Largest Fleets of War Ships Ever Assembled in an American Port—Seventy Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—One of the largest fleets of war ships ever assembled in an American port will be brought together within the next few days at Fort Monroe. Already 57 war ships are under orders to assemble there, and the orders still to be issued will raise the total to the neighborhood of 70. — Naval officials say it is difficult to realize the extent of such a marine aggregation in one harbor.

The orders began issuing last Monday when five ships were ordered to Fort Monroe. On the 16th another ship was added. On the 17th eight more were sent, and on the 18th 17 ships were added. Friday's orders include 18 more ships. Before the orders began issuing there were eight war ships at Fort Monroe, so that the total up to Friday is 57.

The movement of these ships northward is due to the close of hostilities, and more particularly to the desire to get the ships away from points of possible fever infection. They will now be put in thorough repair, and their crews will be gradually changed from naval militiamen to sailors of the regular navy.

The navy department has not yet determined what ships will go to Havana, San Juan and other points of Cuba and Porto Rico. There is felt to be no hurry about this until the authority of the United States is fully established throughout the islands. In the meantime the matter of policing the shore points is being considered and in due time a number of the light draught auxiliary craft and some of the single turreted monitors will be used for this coast patrol.

As many naval vessels will be ordered about the West Indies from this time forward, the navy department will send the new floating dock, recently bought in New York, down the coast to Pensacola, Fla., where it will be kept for docking the war ships. At that point also there are good naval workshops to be used in conjunction with the floating dock. The dock is now being coppered, and will be towed to Pensacola as soon as the September gales are over.

WILL CONSIDER THE MATTER.

Zero L. Thomas Files a Claim for $5,000 for Damage to His Property, Inflicted by Infuriated Soldiers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Zero L. Thomas, whose home near the Presidio was so badly wrecked by a mob of soldiers last Monday, has filed a claim for $5,000 with Brig. Gen. Miller, which he claims is due compensation for the damage done to his property and for the injuries inflicted on his wife and children by the infuriated soldiers, who were trying to gain possession of his son to lynch him for striking a soldier in a bar room brawl. Brig. Gen. Miller will consider the complaint.

Precautions Taken Against Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The war department authorities are not alarmed about yellow fever breaking among the troops in the United States, but a close watch is being kept at all points where there is the least danger. The three cases at Key West are the only ones reported in the south and no additional cases have been reported in the last three or four days. At Montauk Point there are several suspicious cases, but if it is yellow fever, it is a very mild type.

Protest Against Low Wages.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 20.—Loeni garment workers are wrought up over the low prices paid by contractors for army uniforms. A meeting of more than one thousand members was held Thursday night to protest against the low wages paid. Contractors only pay 85 cents for the manufacture of the overcoat and cape. Workers claim that they should receive $2 per day, but only make $1.25. They refuse to make coats at the present price.

No Extra Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Senator Cannon, of Utah, who has been in Washington since congress adjourned, will leave for his home in a day or two, having received positive assurance that there will be no extra session of the senate this fall, as had been for some time anticipated. Senator Cannon believes that an extra session will follow adjournment on March 4.

The Surrender of Manila.

MADRID, Aug. 20.—The government has resolved to insist that the capitulation of Manila after the signing of the protocol shall have no effect in the peace negotiations unfavorable to Spain. In any event the government holds that the capitulation, having been signed by the commander of the town, does not entail the surrender of the whole of the Philippines.

The 52d Iowa to Be Mustered Out.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The secretary of war Friday ordered the 52d Iowa regiment, now in camp at Chickamauga, to proceed at once to Des Moines, Ia., where they eventually will be mustered out.

Resumption of Regular Trips.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 20.—All the local shipping firms sailing under the Spanish flag to Cuban and Porto Rican ports have announced the resumption of regular trips within the next few weeks.

CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES.

Retrenchment in Nearly All Branches of the Army Follows Cessation of Hostilities—Many Workmen Discharged.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Retrenchment in nearly all branches of the army is following close upon the cessation of hostilities. Notably is this the case in the ordnance, quartermaster's and engineer bureaus, where the need for the supplies required and the men employed for the exigencies of war no longer exist. In the ordnance bureau the force at the various arsenals is to be reduced in all cases where this can be accomplished without detriment to the service. The Rock Island arsenal probably will be affected more than any other. There before the war about 240 men were employed. When the peace protocol was signed there were approximately 4,000 men engaged and orders have been issued which will reduce this number by two-thirds. Before and during the war large numbers of contracts were made with ordnance firms for supplying material. In many cases these were made conditional so that they could be terminated within a few days after the cessation of hostilities, and the department has in every case availed itself of this privilege. At the end of the civil war the government had outstanding contracts for furnishing a large number of big seacoast projectiles, but as these were regarded unnecessary when hostilities came to an end, amicable arrangements were made with the companies by which their contracts were cancelled.

At the present time contracts are in existence also for furnishing sea coast projectiles, but as the government is desirous of obtaining all contracted for, there will be no necessity to resort to such action as was taken at the close of the civil war.

The quartermaster's department is dispensing as rapidly as possible with such of the transports that were chartered and for which there is now no necessity. Considerable labor is involved in this work as a board of survey has to be appointed to determine the various incidental questions that arise pending the return of the vessels to their owners.

In the engineer's department the services of electricians, mechanics and laborers engaged in the work of harbor and river mine defense, and of boatmen employed to patrol the adjacent waters to warn approaching craft of their danger also are being discharged as rapidly as is consistent with the good of the service.

ROUNSEVELLE WILDMAN.
(American Consul-General at Hong-Kong.)

NATIVES PANIC-STRICKEN.

Volcano of Lopevi, in the New Hebrides Islands, After Years of Silence, Becomes Active Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 20.—The British steamer Mildura reported on its recent arrival in Sydney, N. S. W., that the inhabitants on the Island of Ambirr, New Hebrides, were panic-stricken last month by an eruption of the volcano of Lopevi, which shook the islands to their foundations, and many thought that they would sink into the sea. The seismic disturbance was prefaced by a hurricane. Houses were blown down and nearly all the lighters on the beach wrecked by high surf. Dwellings were cracked, split and parted. Volcanic sand and ashes fell, and fearful noises came from Lopevi. At the end of about ten hours ashes covered the island to the depth of several inches. Lopevi had been inactive for hundreds of years.

McKinley Can Not Attend.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. — President McKinley has sent his regrets to the Cincinnati committee which invited him to attend the G. A. R. encampment. Only unusual considerations will induce him to change his mind. He declined to go to the naval demonstration in New York. Still, he will be less pressed with great duties in three weeks from now, and as he intends to take a brief rest, he might be induced to go to Ohio for one day.

Gens. Wade and Butler Relieved of Present Duties.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Maj. Gen. James F. Wade, formerly in command of the 3d army corps at Chickamauga, and Maj. Gen. M. C. Butler, in command of a division of the 2d army corps at Falls Church, were Friday relieved of their present duties in order to enable them to enter upon the discharge of their important duties as members of the commission charged with the execution of the provisions of the peace protocol regarding the evacuation of Cuba by the Spanish troops.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Aug. 24, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Florence

Dr. Sayre, who has been very sick is improving slowly.

We are all looking forward to the fair next week. It will be to Florence what the G. A. R. will be to Cincinnati.

F. A. Utz, Ezra Rouse and several others attended the Carthage, O., fair last week. James Tanner and Harry Fisk took 11 ties on their horses.

Erlanger.

Miss Alia Coweman and Mr. Frank Daniels were the guests of Mrs. Louis Morelli, last week.

N. T. Lindsay and wife, of St. Louis, Mo., are the guests of Mrs. Sarah Riggs. They will probably locate here.

The K. of P.'s were again defeated by the Masons on Saturday by score of 24 to 4. In the evening at 7 o'clock a grand banquet was spread by the ladies of both lodges, which was followed by a dance. The day will long be remembered by all who were present.

Utzinger.

J. M. Conner was in this neighborhood buying stock, last week.

Nathan Walton has eight acres of tobacco about ready for the knife.

A great many of our people will attend the Lawrenceburg fair, this week.

The Stephens boys brought the blue ribbon home, last Saturday, on their fine shorthorn calf.

The Rice boys sold their lambs by weight and they brought $5.85 a head. They have sold 15 one and two years old cattle at 5 cents to be delivered the middle of December.

Mrs. Kate Givens, of Columbus, O., and Miss Anna Webb, of Bowling Green, Ky., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Walton, last week, and spent a day with relatives at Burlington.

Richwood.

Aug. 22.—O. F. Glackin is building a new barn.

Robert Rouse will attend the Alexandria fair, this week.

Abe and Elbert Rice, of Coviugton, were here Saturday evening.

Dave Hicks and James Delahunty were the guests of A. P. Collins, last Sunday.

Dr. Charles Meulfee, of Crittenden, will locate here, and will board with Mr. Gaines Robinson.

Every precinct in the county was represented at Mrs. Judith Rice's funeral on the 15th inst.

"Dick" Lamptou, one of our industrious farmers, contemplates taking a few days rest during fair week.

John Delahunty has a 2 and a 3 year old mare that took two premiums each at the Carthage fair, last week.

Miss Lizzie Rogers read an excellent paper entitled "Self Reliance" that the secretary of the Institute unintentionally omitted in the minutes.

All teachers that read papers at the Institute at Walton can have them published in the "Southern School" by forwarding them to A. C. Collins at Richwood within a w[illegible]

Hathaway.

August 22—T. J. Stephens is on the sick list.

Farmers have commenced to plow for wheat.

Rev. John McAtee preached at Big Bone, last Sunday.

C. S. Smith made a business trip to the county seat, last Wednesday.

George Rector and wife spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sebree.

M. W. and P. P. Neal made a business trip to Rising Sun, one day last week.

Rev. Conley, of Newport, preached at Big Bone, last Sunday eveuing a week.

Mrs. Caroline Ryle and son—spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. White.

James Smith and Early Conley were in the watermelon trade several days last week.

Miss Fannie Sawyers, of Rising Sun, was visitiug C. B. Mason and wife, several days last week.

Miss Wesie and Miss Georgie Huey were the guests of Mrs. Nannie Stephens, of Lick Creek, last Thursday.

Charlie Woods, of Springfield, Ill., is here on a visit for several days at his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods.

Hal Presser, while at a wheat threshing one day last week, cutting hands, accidently cut his tumb, severing one of the leaders.

Bellevue.

Mrs. Dr. Raymond is the guest of Miss Julia Dinsmore.

Dr. Grant, of Petersburg, was visiting his son, Ernest, Sunday.

Miss Viola Walker will teach this fall and winter in district No. 3.

Mrs. Hattie Davis was visiting her cousin, Miss Pearl Huey, last Friday.

Mrs. Katie Huey and children, of Big Bone, are the guests of her sister, Mrs. Bessie Kirtley.

Mrs. Laura Clore, of Clore's Ridge, was visiting her brother, Eugene Kelly, last Satutday.

We are informed that Prof. Snyder will teach the Beech Grove school this fall and winter.

James Rogers and wife, and D. E. Lawell and wife were the guests of W. T. Ryle and wife, Sunday.

A. B. Corbin is in Gallatin county, assisting Dave Akins in erecting a new residence for Mr. Walton.

Several are making their arrangements to take in the excursion to the Lawrenceburg fair next Saturday.

Tom Clore and family will soon move back to Bellevue, and occupy the house lately vacated by J. J. Huey and family.

Mrs. J. H. Lawell was summoned to the bedside of her mother in Lexington on the 13th inst., and is still with her. Her mother's death is expected any momeut.

Petersburg.

Aug. 20.—The river is falling rapidly. Two empty store rooms in town.

Several cases of typhoid fever in this vicinity.

The Aurora coffin factory is built on a grave yard.

Mr. Griggins, a cousin of E. T. Krutz, is visiting him.

Chinese Inspector, F. W. Berkshire, looks fat and hearty.

Chelsey Aylor is very sick of fever and whooping cough.

Miss Julia Smith, of Welsburg, Ind., is visiting friends here.

The high water ruined a large amount of corn in the low lands.

William Casey looks quite English you know with a full beard.

The Steamer Workum took 500 people to the Lagoon, Monday.

Leonard Vesenmier is the best all-round player in our ball team.

Fleas and mosquitos make life a burden in the Gasburg neighborhood.

Hon. T. B. Mathews and M. F. Wingate are feeding quite a nice lot of hogs.

The regular correspondent has turned all his material over to an irregular one.

Hear that Victor Oberding, the brewer of Lawrenceburg, will start a saloon here.

Goebel, Ellis, Pryor and Hardin, candidates for governor all have a following here.

It is said that as soon as a new battery of boilers are put in the distillery will start up.

We hear that Joe Ferris has bought a farm in Indiana and will move there in the spring.

Joe Morrison and his brother have started a carriage and blacksmith shop in Rising Sun.

Mike Tafferty is improving the looks of his premises by buildiug a nice feuce around the yard.

W. R. Gordon was granted a divorce on Saturday and was remarried on the followiug Tuesday.

Mrs. Joe WcWethy and Miss Carrie Fisher spent several days visiting in Cincinnati, last week.

John McWethy, a prominent young business man of Greencastle, Indiana, is visiting his parents here.

Watermelons are selling for 3½ cents a piece, and peaches are as low as 25c a bushel on the market here.

Drowued persons are very seldom caught here, but Aurora being in a bend in the river, a great many float in there.

Capt. Billy Hartman has the Lawrenceburg ferry in fine conditon for the fair. It is the lightest running boat on the river.

For three days during the high water the river was blocked with drift of all kinds. Some persons caught enough wood to run them all winter.

Chas. Grosser, 23 years old, and son of Andy Grosser, died of typhoid fever, last Sunday night. His remains were interred in Greendale cemetery, Lawrenceburg, Tuesday.

Workmen in Aurora while excavating for the new shoe factory, found the bodies of two persons, one was buried in an iron coffin and the other in a walnut. One was the body of a child and the other that of a young lady. The factory is on the site of an old burrying ground.

Col. Appleton has a fine young horse that none of the gallaut young men in the neighborhood could break for him. Finally Miss Lizzie Hartman told the Colonel that she could ride and drive the fiery young steed. The Col. was a little skeptical for a while, but one evening in his absence, Miss Lizzie hitched the horse up and drove him to Petersburg and back and [illegible] now she can be seen on any day riding or driving the horse that all the young men were afraid of. Boys, don't all send in your proposals at once.

Walton.

Miss Edith Ellis, of Beaver Lick, had a pleasant time visiting Misses Lora Diers and Juliet Adams.

Miss Edna Ransler is on a trip to South Fork to enjoy the society of her friend and school mate, Miss Emma Hance at Dr. Ambrose's residence.

Wm. Farrell will take the shine out of the boys in his handsome new buggy.

Prof. and Mrs. Myers returned from a very pleasant visit to Dr. Ambrose and his brother, John. They report them as zealous as ever in the matter of education. It is to be hoped that this spirit will be in that community like the bit of leaven in three measures of meal.

Mr. Perry A. Rouse is moving to a farm near Yarnelton, Fayette county.

Miss Myrtle Northcutt, of Covington, is visiting Miss Gertrude Curley.

Mrs. Dr. O'Neal and daughter, Mrs Stella Hubbart, of Lancaster, are the welcome guests of Dr. and Mrs. Bagby.

Estill Holder, of the 2nd Ky. Regt., is home on a furlough with a bad case of malaria. He complains bitterly about the want of attendance at the hospital at Chickamauga.

Misses Sallie Herndon and Juliet Adams are having a fine time in Williamstown, visiting friends and catching new beaux.

W. B. Northcutt and family, of Covington, have been spending his week's vacatiou in the vicinity. On Wednesday they made the overland trip to Zion and had a glorious time in company with Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Northcutt and Mrs. Ollie Curley. They accused Marrie of selecting the worst road he could thiuk of to get there. The hospitality of Mrs. Carrie Rouse reconciled them in a measure to the discomfort of their bumping ride.

Mrs. Hattie Adams and two children of East Liverpool, O., and Miss Matilda Camp, of Smith's Ferry, Pa., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Edwards. The young lady brought her wheel along and, oh, my! how she can scorch it.

A pleasant party of our most charming young ladies made a visit, Friday to Mrs. Harry Jones, their teacher in the Baptist Sunday School at Bracht, in Diers' elegant band wagon. Harry Jones, the driver was the only specimen of masculinity in the turn out. The young Misses were Ethel Waltz, Nettie Schultz, Myrtle Jones, Nettie Rice, Alice Laws, Madge Holder, Lottie Holder, Mabel Bagby and Lora Diers. The refreshments were just too good and the supper capped the climax in the culinary art. Having so much loveliness in charg, had he thought of the couplet:

"A man that is married has a life full of ills,
"Like a poor fish with a hook in his gills."

Could he have been blamed to a very great extent?

Kirtley Adams (13 or 14), went with Mr. William Holder, who was taking a load of pickles to Milldale on Friday When they arrived there the lad, in going through the factory, stepped on a loose board and went down in a pickle vat. Fortunately the youngster was not injured, as there was nothing in it. Hereafter he will not wander around in strange buildings.

The many friends of George Hamilton, son of Joel H. will regret to hear that he died in Texas on the 17th inst. His aunt, Mrs. Reuben L. Conner received a telegram from his b[illegible]er William, to that effect.

Little Leslie Jones has had a[illegible]el about a week and accompanied his father, the doctor, twice during the week to Kensington and back, [illegible]ng him up to all he could do to keep pace with the youngster.

The ingenuity of the small boy passeth all understanding. Ray Adams, now S. L. Edwards' is too short for his feet to use the treadle. He gets the thing started and as the treadles come up gives them a kick first on one side [illegible] the other, and somehow gets [illegible]t as rapidly as any of them.

[illegible] Edwards left on Saturday to participate in the grand parade of the U. R. of K. P.'s at Indianapolis.

Miss Mabel Edwards and her guest, Miss Camp, left on Monday to visit Mrs. Edwd. Kirkpatrick, of 2032 Highland Place, Indianapolis.

Miss Mary Vernon Jones started for Independence on Monday morniug, on her wheel, to make preparations for school. She will be escorted part of the way by Miss Blanche Lyons.

Mrs. W. H. and her son C. C. Metcalfe, have returued from Colorada. They came in time as the husband and father has an attack of fever.

Boone Finnell arrived home Monday morning on a furlough.

Union.

Mrs. Charles Fisher, of Nashville, is the guest of Mrs. Joseph Myers.

Lute Norman, Jr., of Frankfort, is the guest of Robt. Chambers and family.

Hon. L. C. Norman, of Frankfort, attended the funeral of C. T. Rice, Friday.

Thomas Wilson, of Shelby county, was taken seriously ill Sunday morning.

Miss Parish, of Flucastle, Ohio, was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Tallaferro, last week.

Rev. Quizenberry and wife, and Miss Quizenberry are the guests of James A. Huey and family.

Mr. Parker, of Cincinnati, was calling in Union, Sunday, the guest of Miss Lou Williams.

James Bristow and Tom Burkett were in Burlington Sunday morning, attending church of course.

John Baker became paralyzed Saturday night and lies speechless and unable to move at his home near here.

Lewis Rouse was the madest man in Boone county, Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock. He went all the gaits but one.

Prof. D. M. Snyder, of Bellevue, is not only a good teacher and watermelon raiser, but besides is a genial, pleasant gentleman.

Robert Riley, of Brackeu county, who had been visiting friend and relatives here for sevenl days, returned home Monday morning.

Supt. Vosell has invented a telescope that shows the moon in more different phases inside of three hours than any scope this side of scopedom.

Several of our local hustlers engaged in a contract to clean out Jas. Huey's pond, and if we judge from the amount of mud taken out they did a first-class job.

Charles Myers' wagon was robbed of groceries, &c., one night last week. The robbers may have come all the way from Cincinnati to do the job. Who knows?

Mr. Thos. Brown, of Newport, came out Saturday evening and on Sunday returned home accompanied by his wife and daughter whose stay of several weeks in Union was pleasant to them and a host of friends, who regretted to have them leave.

A lady living near Union was a subscriber to the RECORDER for years, but concluded to get along without it. In one year without it more trials, tribulations and troubles came to her than had come in all the years before—hens failed to set; chickens died, crops were bad and other things occurred to cause her to subscribe again. Now all is lovely and crops are good.

At 12:25 o'clock Thursday morning at his home in this place, after only a few days' illness, Mr. Columbus T. Rice died. He was aged and feeble, yet his sudden death was a great surprise and shock. Mr. Rice was well known and and highly respected. The funeral was conducted Friday at 3 o'clock by Revs. Kirtley, Adams and Quizenberry. Rev. Kirtley preached the funeral discourse and we quote the words of this venerable minister who knew him for many years. "Bro. Rice was a good man, honest, fearless and faithful in the performance of all duties as a citizen; consistent, earnest, liberal, charitable and of unbounded faith as a christian, and his death was a great loss to the community." The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery near Union attended by a large concourse of people. The RECORDER extends its kindest sympathy to the bereaved widow and children.

Limaburg.

Aug. 22.—Pastures are booming.

Tobacco is looking fine.

A heavy rain fell here Thursday.

Corn will make a good average crop.

Robt. Snyder has cut some tobacco.

Miss Lillie Hamon, of Richwood, was visiting Miss Lewis A. Popham is preparing to build a barn.

Lewis A. Popham is preparing to build a barn.

visiting, W. Utz on the 13th inst.

James M. Utz has retired to his home in Limaburg to live.

Andy Smith, of Constance, is painting Clinton Weaver's new house.

Geo. Baker will move to his new shop at the top of the hill shortly.

Nearly everybody in this neighborhood will take in the fair next week.

Henry Clore and wife attended the Carthage, Ohio fair, on the 16th inst.

George West, of Ludlow, has been visiting his daughter at S. J. Rouse's.

It is rumored that there will be a wedding in Kidville in the near future.

Chas. Garnett's little boy who met with a serious misfortune some time ago has lost the sight of one eye.

Mrs. Scott Cole and Mrs. Talley, of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Wm. Bradford, of Nashville, Tenn., are visiting Mr. Geo. E. Rouse.

A pole which Ezra Aylor was using as a lever in quarrying stone, the other day, broke and struck him a heavy blow on his head and neck. Talley, of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Wm. Bradford, of Nashville, Tenn., are visiting Mr. Geo. E. Rouse.

A pole which Ezra Aylor was using as a lever in quarrying stone, the other day, broke and struck him a heavy blow on his head and neck and came very near knocking him out.

Bullittsville.

Our neighborhood is developing into a very popular pleasure resort. A number of young people from various points of the compass have been visiting, this summer, different families in our social circle and went away singing praises of the many hosts and hostess who entertained them. Take the original site of Bullittsville as a center (which was J. T. Grant's yard) and inscribe a circle with a radius of three miles and no country can equal it in wealth, beautiful homes, hospitality and social enjoyment. The latch string hangs on the outside of every door and over the portal of each home is inscribed in gilded letters, welcome to our house.

This week Miss Kinsley, her sister and brother-in law, Mr. Allen, of Cincinnati, are enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Fletcher Clore.

Miss Emily Gedge, of Covington, a very intelligent and highly accomplished artist, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kreylich. Miss Gedge has been teaching a class the art of embroidery and succeeded in rendering herself very popular, not alone with her class, but with all who were so fortunate as to meet her.

Miss Zayda Gaines is entertaining two of her schoolmates from Georgetown college—Miss Florence Robb is a very intelligent, highly accomplished and beautiful brunette from Mason co. Her father is a director and large stockholder in the Farmers and Shippers Tobacco warehouse, Cincinnati. He owns one of the finest farms in the county. Miss Elizabeth Karr is a bright, charming little body that carries sunshine in to every circle that she enters. She has a lovely suit of golden red hair with a mind as brilliant and sparkling as her hair. In conversation her parted lips, like the red rose bud moist with morning dew, breathes delight to those she entertains.

Miss Mary Corn entertained, several days last week, two of her lady friends from Rush county, Ind. The Misses Bishop are very interesting young ladies, highly educated and have traveled extensively. Their father owns several hundred acres of that rich and fertile land for which the county is noted.

Miss Anna Lisle Graves, of Woodford county, is visiting her cousin, Temp Graves. She is a pretty little brunette, winsome, witty and wise, with dark, bewitching eyes.

Miss Zayda Gaines entertained several of her young friends in her usual charming manner on Tuesday evening last. Her joyous presence and sweet company in full content, all there did long enjoy. Friday evening Mr. Thornton Suyder gave the most delightful party of the season. The beautiful lawn was illuminated by countless Japanese lanterns suspended equal distance from wire encircling the lawn. The night was perfect, the sky cloudless and the little stars seemed to vie with each other in their resplendeuce. The party was given in honor of his two schoolmates, the Misses Karr and Robb.

Rabbit Hash.

Kate Keeney, of Rising Sun, has taken the Victory school.

Mrs. Agues Stephens has been [illegible] poorly the last few days.

Rev. Fosher spent last Monday with Wm. Wingate and family.

The Houze Bros, of Ohio county, Indiana, are hauling saw logs.

Miss Susie McWethy, of Petersburg, is visiting Miss Essie Stephens.

Miss Ella Nelson, of Petersburg, is visiting her father, W. H. Nelson.

Rev. Fosher delivered a lecture at the K. P. hall last Sunday to a very large audience.

Mrs. Ella Aylor, of Lawrenceburg, was visiting her parents of this place, a few days last week.

Mr. Jessie Wilson and sister, of Big Boue, were visiting Misses Sallie and Bettie Dolph, Saturday and Sunday.

Last Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Harris, of East Bend, entertained quite a number of the young folks.

Mr. Sebberry Allphin, sister and brother, and Miss Susie Finnell, of Big Bone Lick, were visiting Maud Ryle last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Louis Stephens had quite an accident, last Sunday night at the Methodist church. Some one ran over him and broke his buggy shaft off.

Sid Stephens has cut and housed some tobacco. He has good tobacco and is trying to see if he can not get his crop housed before Dick Stephens does.

Mrs. Dave Bennett and children, of Kansas, and Miss Mary Taylor, of Indiana, are visiting Jacob Bennett and family. Dave was raised here and went to Kansas several years ago, and last spring enlisted in a Kansas regiment to fight the Spaniards.

Constance.

Miss Flora West joined the Mission, The Mission outing was a great success.

Rev. R. C. Gilson, of Cincinnati, preached at the Mission, Sunday.

Miss Losie had a bug to get into her ear, the other day. It was removed by Dr. Murat.

Rev. W. D. Frazee, of California, preached at the Christian church, last Friday night.

Two members of a fishing-camp near here became involved in a fight and one beat the other into unconsciousness.

Miss Mary Peno was married to Mr. Wm. North, and Miss Fannie Riley and Sam Yates were married by Esq. J. S. Anderson, recently. The Squire is doing a land office business.

A bay mare with short foretop and mane strayed from Glen Crisler's pasture Saturday night. Information of her will be gladly received by James Moreland at mouth of Woolper.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS
—THE OLD—
RELIABLE - GROCER,
UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molases, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.
GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.
Undertaking Given Special Attention.
A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.
Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

H. F. BLASE
535 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.,
Has just received a New and Elegant Stock of
FALL AND WINTER GOODS
—For the making of—
Gentlemen's Suits and Overcoats,
And notwithstanding the high quality of these Goods, he will furnish them
Cut and Made to Order.
Strictly First-Class, and at the Lowest Possible Prices consistent with Material and Workmanship.
Ready-Made CLOTHING
Consisting of Suits and Overcoats in Boy's, Youth's and Men's Sizes, which are being sold at 50c on the dollar of the cost of the material.
H. F. BLASE, 535 Madison Ave.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

TWO FOR ONE
By Special Arrangement we offer
HOME AND FARM
In combination with
THE RECORDER
For $1.75.
Being nearly the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send
HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE.
HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY
WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.
Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.
Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.
Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

To Whom It May Concern.
Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.
W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give—
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you. He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
—(o)—
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.
J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

Local News.

RUPTURE CURED—See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

Fall pastures have a fine start.

A heavy rain fell here about noon, last Thursday.

Chas. Clore came out Saturday in a brau new buggy.

The Cincinnati Reds have encountered a soaped track.

Lightning killed one of Geo. Gordon's cows, one day last week.

The public school at this place will begin on Monday, September 5.

Eat and drink with Clore, the old reliable, at the Fair, next week.

Every neighborhood in the county was visited by a good rain, last week.

W. F. McKim has a three months-old Alderney calf that weighs 300 lbs.

Breaking grouud for the next crop of [illegible] is well under way in many localities.

The mowing scythe and the weeds have [illegible]ded a protocol for several places in town.

Esq. J. C. Byland, of Walton, has the thanks of the RECORDER for further favors.

The ball club expects to leave tomorrow for a series of three games at Madison, Ind.

Miss Poland will begin teaching a subscription school here on the 5th day of September.

In the last week the local hay fever patients have come to the front with their sneezes and coughs.

The bobtailed dog has one consolation at least. The small boy and the tin can do not worry him.

Eddie Bentler found a sack containing 10 dead chickens, the other day. A thief had lost them surely.

Noah Clore and his mother, Mrs. Julia Clore, were visiting Mrs. Michael Clore, of Bellevue, last Thursday.

Milton Portwood, of the Waterloo neighborhood, has some wheat that yielded between 35 and 40 bus. per acre.

President Rouse, of the Burlington and Florence pike, will replace the bridge near G. G. Hughes' with an iron structure this fall.

It is seldom that there are two full moons in August, but this month will have them. One occurred on the first day, and the other will occur on the 31.

Jeff Eddins brought his mail wagon out of the shop, Saturday, thoroughly overhauled and nicely painted. He is now ready for the fair passenger traffic.

D. M. Snyder has been furnishing Burlington with some excellent nutmeg melons. There has been a big run of melons from Bellevue fields this season.

Hartman & Rapp, of the Ludlow Lagoon, will attend the fair next week, with their phonograph and camera. They will make good pictures for you. Give them a call.

J. P. Tanner, of Florence, took two premiums at the Carthage, Ohio, fair, last Wednesday. One on best mare four years and over, the other on best mare any age.

The great Lawrenceburg [illegible] is in progress this week. Boone county people attend this fair in large crowds and have a delightful time. Unusually excellent attractions are on the program this week.

R. P. Cloud, of Florence, will be well prepared with stable room immediately across the pike from the entrance to the fair ground, and will give horses proper attention during the fair. Give him a call.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

J. E. Rouse's trade in Thinrind hogs is growing rapidly, and his reputation as a breeder of pure Thinrind stock is now established, and he has recently shipped hogs to Thinrind admirers in Grant and Fayette counties, this State, and to parties in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and New York.

At the recent session of the Teachers' Institute, held at Walton, Esq. J. C. Byland, of that Magisterial District, was endorsed for his vote in the Fiscal Court, to retain the salary of the County Superintendent of Schools at $500 per year, while the action of the remaining members of the court was disapproved, except as to Judge Roberts, who did not vote.

The finest peaches ever sent to this office were those received from J. O. Griffith, of Beaver Lick, last Saturday. Among them were several of the Elberta variety, which, for size, flavor and beauty of form, could not be surpassed. The name of the others Mr. Griffith does not know, but they are delicious, and very large. He has a large, thrifty peach orchard of well selected fruit.

Mr. Nicholas Carpenter, who lives about two miles west of town, had a narrow escape from being killed by lightning, last Thursday. He was near a barn on his land about half a mile from his residence when the storm came up. He was standing in the barn door, when knocked unconscious by the electric fluid. He was alone, and it was an hour before he regained his senses, and then it was some time before he recovered the use of his limbs sufficiently to arise and walk. He has not entirely recovered from the effects of the shock yet. No place where the lightning struck could be discovered closer than 600 yards, where it struck a locust tree near G. T. Gaines' large barn across the road from his residence on the pike.

The Harvest Home.

Last Saturday was an ideal day for an outing and about 1000 people took advantage of it and attended the Harvest Home.

The following is a list of the successful competitors:

Tobacco, 3 entries, J O Roberts.
Rye, 5 entries, H C Hafer.
Oats, 2 entries, Tom Hafer.
White corn, 3 entries, Geo E Rouse.
Sweet corn, 10 entries, T A Crigler.
Yellow corn, 2 entries, Tom Hafer.
Wheat, 8 entries, Tom Hafer.
Display of grain, 1 entry, Tom Hafer.

VEGETABLES.

Irish potatoes—early—11 entries, W J Rice.
Irish potatoes—late—8 entries, L C Acra.
Sweet potatoes, 11 entries, P L Aylor.
Tomatoes, 9 entries, Tom Hafer.
Pumpkins, 4 entries, Allen Goodridge
Cashaws, 5 entries, H C Hafer.
Watermelons, 4 entries, D M Snyder.
Nutmegs, 6 entries, G C Riley.
Onions, 4 entries, G B Powers.
Green beans, 13 entries, L W Smith.
Soup beans, 1 entry, Sarah Garnett.
Cabbage, 6 entries, A C Kelly.
Celery, 1 entry, E J Baker.
Carrots, 17 entries, P L Aylor.
Beets, 7 entries, L W Smith.
Radishes, 7 entries, Mike Dye.
Cucumbers, 16 entries, P L Aylor.
Display vegetables, 1 entry, P L Aylor

FRUITS

Display apples, 1 entry, Ed Berkshire. He took the premiums also on peaches, pears, plums and display or fruit—1 entry of each.
Grapes, 4 entries, W I Rouse.
Quinces, 2 entries, Goodridge Bros.

PANTRY AND DAIRY.

Display sour pickles, 1 entry Inis Gaines.
Sweet pickles, 2 entries, Laura Beemon.
Light corn bread, 5 entries, Jennie Rouse.
Pound cake, 4 entries, Belle C Rouse.
Jelly cake, 9 entries, Mrs M L Riddell.
Layer cake, 5 entries, Artie Hafer.
Butter, 8 entries, P L Aylor.
Can peaches, 11 ent, Laura Beemon.
Can pears, 7 entries, same.
Can tomatoes, 4 ent's, Jennie Rouse.
Maple molasses, 5 ent, Laura Beemon.
Sorghum molasses, 6 entries, Eric J Rice.
Apple vinegar, 19 entries, Harriet Hafer.
Lady cake, 11 entries, Hattie Harper.
Fruit butter, 2 entries, Mamie Tanner.
Display Jelly, 1 entry, Mrs E O Rouse.
Fruit cake, 3 entries, Mamie Tanner.
Hop yeast bread, 16 entries, Mrs Wm Goodridge.
Salt rising bread, 10 entries, Lena Vest.

POULTRY.

Cochins, 3 entries, Dickeson Bros.
Leghorns, 6 entries, Aylor & Hafer.
Wyandots, 2 entries, same.
Minorcas, 2 entries; Hamburgs, 1 entry; Brahmas, 3 entries; Game, 1 entry; Langshans, 1 entry—last above 5 premiums were taken by A M Acra.
Bantams, 2 entries, Belle Baker.
Plymouth Rocks, 9 entries, B H Snyder.
Ducks, 5 entries, J J Tanner.
Geese, 3 entries, W C Rouse.
Turkeys, 2 entries, B H Snyder.
Display poultry, 2 entries, Aylor & Hafer.

FLOWERS.

Display Fuchias, 1 entry, E V Quigley.
Cactus, 2 entries, J H Baker.
Hanging basket, 2 entries, H C Hafer
Hand bouquet, 3 entries, Ida Dixon.
Button hole bouquet, 20 entries, Miss Kate Walton.
Display Geraniums, 2 entries, E V Quigley.
Display in pots, 1 entry, same.
Cut flowers, 1 entry, J H Baker.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS AND PAINTINGS.

Wax flowers, 1 entry, Miss Ada Allen.
Feather flowers, 1 entry and Paper flowers, 1 entry—same.
Hair flowers, 3 ent., Laura Beemon.
Crayon drawing, 1, Scott Smith.
Pencil drawing, 2 entries, and Oil painting, 2 entries, Scott Smith.

QUILTS.

Knit counterpane, 2 entries, Mamie Tanner.
Calico patch-work quilt, 3 entries, Mrs C C Roberts.
Worsted patch-work quilt, plain, 2 entries, Ida Dixon.
Fancy Worsted Fan quilt, 4 entries, Mrs Nattie Carpenter.
Silk patch-wosk quilt—crazy, 3 entries, A D Beemon.
Worsted patch-work quilt—cazy, 4 entries, Mrs J E Smith.

EMBROIDERY AND NEEDLE WORK.

Linen embroidery, 3 entries, Inis Gaines.
Silk embroidery, 10 entries, Miss Nellie Rouse.
Cotton embroidery, 5 entries, Miss Inis Gaines.
Kenslington work, 2 entries, Mrs E O Rouse.
Arasene work, 4 entries, Miss Mamie Tanner.
Crochet work, 5 entries, Mary Snyder
Lace work, 1, Mrs E O Rouse.
Art needle-work, 9 entries, Miss Kate Walton.
Drawn thread work, 5 entries, Mrs E K Stephens.
Rag carpet, 5 entries, A E Crigler.
Fancy knitting, silk, 2 entries, Mrs E O Rouse.
Hand-made shirt, 2 entries, Mrs J E Smith.
Hand sewing, 3 entries, Jennie Dixon.
Plain woolen knitting, 7 entries, Miss Permelia Corbin.
Plain cotton knitting, 1 entry, Alice Souther.
Fancy woolen knitting, 6 entries, Annie E Crigler.
Mrs. James A. Riddell received the largest number of votes for the most popular lady in attendance.

HOGS.

Sow and sucking pigs, 2 entries, Walter Garnett.
Pair of pigs, 4 entries, and boar and sow over 6 months old and under one year, 1 entry—Geo E Rouse.

SHEEP.

Aged buck, long wool, 1 entry and aged ewe, long wool, 1 entry, R S Richardson.
Aged buck medium wool, 1 entry, aged ewe, medium wool, 1 entry, and pair of lambs, 2 entries, J H Aylor.

CATTLE.

Dairy bull under 2 years old, 3 entries; milch cow, 14 entries; Jersey bull under 1 year old, 2 entries—Joe Scott.
Bull beef breed, under 2 years old, 3 entries, J H Stephens.
Dairy heifer, under 2 years, 5 entries, Enoch Mannin.
Heifer, beef breed, under 2 years, 1, J H Aylor.
Jersey herd, 2 entries, Joe Scott..

HORSES.

Sucking draft colt, 4 entries, H R Hearn 1st premium, J H Baker, 2d.
Harnes colt, 13 entries, B H Snyder 1st premium, C C Bedinger, 2d.
General purpose colt, 13 entries, Walter Riddell 1st premium, H T Gaines, 2d premium.

NOTES.

The company made some money.
There was considerable hustling for the most popular lady.
The melon wagons almost blockaded the road in front of the grounds.
The large number of entries in each ring prove that the show was good.
Judge Fence, of Covington, was out forming Boone county acquaintances.
Secretary Crigler has placed the RECORDER under obligations for favors that are greatly appreciated.
The music was good, and the dancers entered a protest when it was transferred to the exhibition ring.
Eddie McKim and Otto Crisler presided at the basket room, and the receipts of the day lacked $1 50 of paying their rent.
One of John Aylor's Polangus cattle became unmanageable, and came very near creating a panic among the spectators about the exhibition ring.
D. M. Snyder presented the RECORDER his premium watermelon, and it was delicious. A. C. Kelly remembered us with one head of his premium cabbage. It was as fine as grows in this part of the country.

Mr. C. T. Rice, in his 73 year, died in Union, last week. He was one of the county's best citizens. See Union communication.

The marriage of Rankin R. Revill, son of J. C. Revill, of this place, and Bessie Kirtley, daughter of the late J. M. Kirtley, is announced for early in September.

Clayton Rogers, who joined the army at the first call for volunteers, and who has been in camp in Florida for several months, has been in bad health for some time, and his father has been trying to get him home, but has met with no success. When young Rogers volunteered he was a robust young man, but is now little more than skin and bones.

I would like to ask one interested in the people being taxed for public improvements, a few questions. You talk of our State as niggardly. Are you not one who would like for our people to be on an equality with the negroes, and our children to attend school with them as they do in some States? The negroes of Kentucky have been freed (or the people robbed of their property), and now the people of Kentucky want some freedom, and, at least, a chance to vote on all such questions as bridging creeks. I would like to know how much tax you pay. I suppose it is considerable.

A FARMER,
Verona, Ky.

Our Union correspondent writes thusly of one of the prosperpus dalrymen of this county:

"Saw our friend Joseph Scott over in Cincinnati the other day pushing his butter and butter-milk business at a 2:40 galt as usual, and wearing a broad smile. We learned from one of his customers that he had good reasons to be smiling, for said he, 'Joe has a lovely farm and everything on it necessary to conduct a first-class dairy and he does everything up in tip-top order—residence newly painted, fences and barns in perfect order, and a bright shine on cans, milk-wagons and all. He has many fine cattle and takes great pleasure in talking of their pedigree and points.' We could endorse this statement from first to last and that he has the finest pigeons in the county also."

G. W. Craven sends in the following solution of the double-tree problem:

"Which horse pulls the most? To test this thoroughly is very simple. Slip the center clip of the double-tree one and three-quarter inches of the draft, while the other has only 13/4 of the draft or load to pull. You will notice also that, when the horse is hitched farther away from his load, he has to exert more power to draw the same number of pounds, hence, to solve the question, we will use a single method.

"Square the double-tree with the wagon tongue; stretch three lines parallell with the tongue and let them come exactly across the outer and inner bearings of the double-tree. To make this more plain, fasten a board in front of the double-tree, across the tongue, say two feet from the double-tree.

"Have the board exactly as long as the double-tree is, between the end clips or bearings; then stretch a cord from the ends of the board, exactly across the bearings of the double-tree, and fasten to the bolster (do not let the cord touch the double tree,) then one in the center. Shift the double-tree four inches and you will notice that the horse which pulls ahead, comes 1 3/4 inches nearer the center of the draft, while the rear horse's bearing goes 1 3/4 inches outside of the parallel line, which is equivalent to moving the centre bearing of the double tree 1 3/4 inches nearer to one end, which in every ton amounts to nearly 97 pounds."

W. M. RACHAL & CO.

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.

We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard, - - - 3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose, - - - - - 5 "
Cottonade Pants, - - - 50 "
Working Shirts, - - - - 25 "

We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. C. Revill is attending a Baptist Association in Owen county.

Edson Riddell is attending the big K. P. meeting in Indianapolis.

Mrs. E. S. Craig, of New Orleans, is visiting W. T. German and wife.

Sheriff Beall and wife attended the Carthage, Ohio, fair last Thursday.

Elza Harper and wife, of Hebron, were guests at Mrs Cowen's Sunday.

John Bachelor and wife were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Eddins Sunday.

O. J. Ryle spent several days, last week, in the Hathaway neighborhood.

J. F. Blyth and two little nephews, spent a portion of last week, at Milan, Ind.

Get your meals at Clore's stand at the fair next week. Every thing will be well cooked and served on short notice.

Mr. Walter Whallon, of Wyoming, Ohio, was the guest of Gordon McKim last week.

Lee Eddins and family, of Florence, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Bentler, Sunday.

David C. Snyder, of Cincinnati, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nattie Carpenter, Sunday.

James Cowen, of Gallatin county, was visiting his brother, R. S. Cowen, here last week.

Miss Fannie Finch returned Friday from a visit to her grandparents at Williamstown.

County Judge Roberts contemplates transferring his place of residence to Florence, this fall.

Mr and Mrs. Noah Craven, attended the Universalist Association at Milan, Indiana last week.

W. E. Townley and daughter, Miss Louella, of Cincinnati, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rice Sunday.

Master Commissioner Duncan and County Surveyor Vest, were out on a surveying expedition, last week.

Mr. James H. Hastings, of Rabbit Hash, and Chester Davis, of Hebron, were among the visitors in town Monday.

Atty. Dyss, of Walton, and a Mr. Wayland, of Carroll county, were transacting business at the court-house, Friday.

Miss Virginia Overton, an accomplished young lady, of Madison, Indiana, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Rouse.

Dr. Hays and O. S. Watts, of Bullittsville, and Capt. Kotmeyer, of Constance were in the hub ou business, Monday.

Wm. Surface and wife, and Dott Beemon and a handsome young lady, all of Gunpowder, passed through town Sunday evening.

Henry Feitman, of Covington, was here Friday, looking after some of his business that has been pending in the courts for some time.

R. C. Gaines, one of the hustling farmers of the Utzinger neighborhood, was in town Saturday. He says notwithstanding they have not had an abundance of rain, the crops out there are very fine.

P. T. Fall and Ben Norman, of Union, called at the RECORDER office last press day. They did not tarry long, as a cyclone of work was sweeping the office for and aft at that time. They were welcome visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hogan entertained the following guest, Sunday: Misses Fannie and Jennie and Lawrence Kenney, of Union; Misses Emma and Josie Bentler, Misses Mary and Cathern Furlong, Miss Anna Beemon and Josie Scott, the latter of Florence, and Orin Phipps.

During Dr. S. S. Scott's serious illness, last winter, one of his old comrades in the Lopez expedition in 1850, visited him at his home in Erlanger. The gentleman lives in the northern part of this county, but the Doctor has forgotten his name, and is exceedingly anxious that this old comrade attend the reunion of the survivors of the Lopez expedition, at his house in Erlanger, on the 6th of September. Reader, if you know who he is please show him this item. A number of survivors of the famous expedition of 1850 have written to Dr. Scott, that they will be on hand at the reunion on Sept. 6, and take part in the G. A. R. parade Sept. 7. He received letters from Captain James Lynch, of Woodbury, Ark., and John A. Adair, of Canmer, Ky., who were with him in Cuba, expressing regret that they could not attend. The Doctor will entertain the visitors at his house on Sept. 6, and will furnish carriages and take the party to Cincinnati on September 7.

B. C. Calkins, of Rising Sun, and well known in this county, is dead.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Reuben Conner, dec'd., are requested to settle at once, and those who have claims against the same are notified to present them to me proven as by law required.

J. W. CONNER,
Adm'r.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

●DEALER IN●●

DRY GOODS

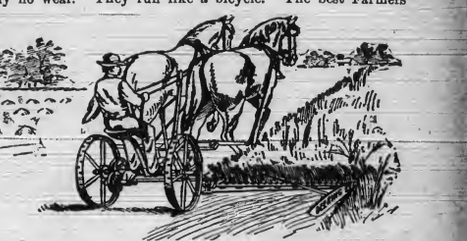
Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,

At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.



The Aeromotor Wind Mills,

The Deering Harvesters,

Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,

BEAVER [illegible]

JOHN ALLISON,

UNDER-TAKER  EMBALMER,

Corner Pike & Russell Streets,

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S·PILE·CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says:

"After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES·PILES

Take Your County Paper.

—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

TADPOLE AND POLLIWOG.

The Question of Human Origin Discussed by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

He Pays Respect to the Darwinian Theory and Finds That There Is No Contest Between Genuine Science and Revelation.

The question of human origin, so prominent now in scientific and religious circles, is discussed in characteristic style by Dr. Talmage in this discourse, in which he also advocates the theory that all the world's progress has come through Christianity. Text: I. Timothy vi., 20: "O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding opposition of science falsely so called."

There is no contest between genuine science and revelation. The same God who by the hand of prophet wrote on parchment, by the hand of the storm wrote on the rock. The best telescopes and microscopes and electric batteries and philosophical apparatus belong to Christian universities. Who gave us magnetic telegraphy? Prof. Morse, a Christian. Who swung the lightnings under the sea, cabling the continents together? Cyrus W. Field, the Christian. Who discovered the anesthetical properties of chloroform, doing more for the relief of human pain than any man that ever lived, driving back nine-tenths of the horrors of surgery? James Y. Simpson, of Edinburgh, as eminent for piety as for science; on week days in the university lecturing on profoundest scientific subjects, and on Sabbaths preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the masses of Edinburgh. I saw the universities of that city draped in mourning for his death, and heard his eulogy pronounced by the populations of the Cowgate. Science and revelation are the bass and soprano of the same tune. The whole world will yet acknowledge the complete harmony. But between what my text describes as science falsely so-called and revelation, there is an uncompromising war, and one or the other must go under.

At the present time the air is filled with social and platform and pulpit talk about evolution, and it is high time that the people who have not time to make investigation for themselves understand the question in the first place is up and down, out and out infidelity; in the second place it is contrary to the facts of science, and in the third place, that it is brutalizing in its tendencies. I do not argue that this is a genuine book; I do not say that the Bible is worthy of any kind of credence—those are subjects for other Sabbaths—but I want you to understand that Thomas Paine and Hume and Voltaire no more thoroughly disbelieved the Holy Scriptures than do all the leading scientists who believe in evolution. And when I say scientists, of course, I do not mean literary men or theologians, who in essay or in sermon, and without giving their life to scientific investigation, look at the subject on this side or that. By scientists I mean those who have a specialty in that direction and who, through zoological garden and aquarium and astronomical observatory, give their life to the study of the physical earth, its plants and its animals and the regions beyond so far as optical instruments have explored them.

I put upon the witness stand living and dead the leading evolutionists—Robert Hreckle, John Stuart Mill, Huxley, Darwin, Spencer. On the witness stand, ye men of science, living and dead, answer these questions: "Do you believe the Holy Scriptures? No. And so they say all. Do you believe the Bible story of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden? No. And so they say all. Do you believe in the miracles of the Old and New Testament? No. And so they say all. Do you believe that Jesus Christ died to save the nations? No. And so they say all. Do you believe in the regenerating power of the Holy Ghost? No. And so they say all. Do you believe that human supplication directed Heavenward ever makes any difference? No. And so they say all.

Herbert Spencer, in the only address he made in this country, in his very first sentence ascribes his physical ailments to fate, and the authorized report of that address begins the word fate with a big "F." Prof. Huxley, in the very first page of his two great volumes sneers at the Bible as a so-called revelation. Tyndall in his famous prayer test defied the whole of Christendom to show that human supplication made any difference in the result of things. John Stuart Mill wrote elaborately against Christianity, and to show that his rejection of it was complete, ordered this epitaph for his tombstone: "Most unhappy." Huxley said that at the first reading of Darwin's book he was convinced of the fact that teleology had received its death blow at the hand of Mr. Darwin. All the leading scientists who believe in evolution, without one exception the world over, are infidel. I say nothing against infidelity, mind you. I only wish to define the belief and the meaning of the rejection.

Now, I put opposite to each other, to show that evolution is infidelity, the Bible account of the human race started and the evolutionist account of how the human race started. Bible account: "God said, let us make man in our image. God created man in His own image; male and female created He them." He breathed into him the breath of life, the whole story setting forth the idea that it was not a perfect kangaroo, or a perfect ourang outang, but a perfect man. That is the Bible account. The evolution account: Away back in the ages there were four or five primal germs, or seminal spores from which all the living creatures have been evolved. Go away back, and there you will find a vegetable stuff that might be called a mushroom. This mushroom by innate force develops a tadpole, the tadpole by innate force develops a polliwog, the polliwog develops a fish, the fish by natural force develops into a reptile, the reptile develops into a quadruped, the quadruped developed into a baboon, the baboon develops into a man.

Darwin says that the human hand is only a fish's fin developed. He says that the human lungs are only a swim bladder showing that we once floated or were amphibious. He says the human ear could once have been moved by force of will just as a horse lifts its ear at a frightful object. He says the human race were originally web-footed. From primal germ to tadpole, from tadpole to fish, from fish to reptile, from reptile to wolf, from wolf to chimpanzee, and from chimpanzee to man. Now, if anybody says that the Bible account of the starting of the human race and the evolutionist account of the starting of the human race are the same accounts he makes an appalling misrepresentation.

Prefer, if you will, Darwin's "Origin of the Species" to the Book of Genesis, but know you are an infidel. As for myself, as Herbert Spencer was not present at the creation and the Lord Almighty was present, I prefer to take the divine account as to what really occurred on that occasion. To show that this evolution is only an attempt to eject God and to postpone Him, and put Him out of reach, I ask a question or two. The baboon made the man, or the wolf made the baboon, and the reptile made the quadruped, and the fish made the reptile, and the tadpole made the fish, and the primal germ made the tadpole. Who made the primal germ? Most of the evolutionists say: "We don't know." Others say it made itself. Others say it was spontaneous generation. There is not one of them who will fairly and openly and frankly and emphatically say, "God made it."

The nearest to a decent answer is that made by Herbert Spencer in which he says it was made by the great "unknowable mystery." But here comes Huxley with a cup of protoplasm to explain the thing. This protoplasm he says, is primal life giving quality with which the race away back in the ages was started. With his protoplasm, he proposes to explain everything. Dear Mr. Huxley, who made the protoplasm?

To show you that evolution is infidel, I place the Bible account of how the brute creation was started opposite to the evolutionist's account of the way the brute creation was started. Bible account: You know the Bible tells how that the birds were made at one time, and the cattle made at another time, and that each brought forth after its kind. Evolutionist's account: From four or five primal germs or seminal spores all the living creatures evolved. Hundreds of thousands of species of insects, of reptiles, of beasts, of fish, from four germs—a statement flatly contradicting not only the Bible, but the very A B C of science. A species never develops into anything but its own species. In all the ages and in all the world there has never been an exception to it. The shark never comes of a whale, nor the pigeon of a vulture, nor the butterfly of a wasp. Species never cross over. If there be an attempt at it, it is hybrid, and the hybrid is always sterile and has no descendants. These men of science tell us that a hundred thousand species came from four.when the law all through the universe is that starting in one species it keeps on in that species and there would be only four now if there had been four starting. If I should say to you that the world is flat, and that a circle and a square are the same, and that twice two make 15, I would come just as near the truth as when these evolutionists tell you that a hundred thousand species came from four. Evolution would have been left out of question with its theory flatly contradicting all science and all science, had not its authors and their disciples been so set on ejecting God from the universe and destroying the Bible that they will go to any length, though it lead them into idiotic absurdity. You see what the Bible teaches in regard to it. I have shown you also what evolution teaches in regard to it.

Agassiz says that he found in a reef of Florida the remains of insects 30,000 years old—not three, but 30,000 years old—and that they were just like the insects now. There has been no change. All the facts of ornithology and zoology and ichthyology and conchology, but an echo of Genesis i., 21: "Every winged fowl after his kind." Every creature after its kind. When common observation and science corroborate the Bible I will not stultify myself by surrendering to the elaborate guesses of evolutionists.

To show that evolution is infidel I place also the Bible account of how worlds were made opposite the evolutionist's account of how worlds were made. Bible account: God made two great lights—the one to rule the day, the other to rule the night; He made the stars also. Evolutionist account: Away back in the ages there was a fire mist or star dust, and this fire mist cooled off into granite, and then this granite by earthquake and by storm and by light was shaped into mountains and valleys and seas, and so what was originally fire mist became what we call the earth.

Who made the fire mist? Who set the fire mist to world-making? Who cooled off the fire mist into granite? You have pushed God some 60,000,000 or 70,000,000 miles from the earth, but He is too near yet for the health of evolution. For a great while the evolutionists boasted that they had found the very stuff out of which this world and all worlds were made. They lifted the telescope and they saw it, the very material out of which worlds made themselves. Nebula of simple gas. They laughed in triumph because they had found the factory where the worlds were manufactured, and there was no God anywhere around the factory. But in an unlucky hour for infidel evolutionists the spectroscopes of Fraunhofer and Kirchoff were invented, by which they saw into that nebula and found that it was not a simple gas, but was a compound, and hence had to be supplied from some other source, and that implied a God, and away went their theory shattered into everlasting demolition.

So these infidel evolutionists go wandering up and down guessing through the universe. Anything to push away back Jehovah from his empire and make the one book which is his great communication to the soul of the human race appear obsolete and delusion. But I am glad to know that while some of these scientists have gone into evolution, there are many who do not believe it. Among them, the man who by most is considered the greatest scientists we ever had this side of the water—Agassiz. A name that makes every intelligent man the earth over uncover.

Agassiz says: "The manner in which the evolution theory in zoology is treated would lead those who are not special zoologists to suppose that observations have been made by which it can be inferred that there is in nature such a thing as change among organized beings actually taking place. There is no such thing on record. It is shifting the ground of observation from one field of observation to another to make this statement, and when the assertions go so far as to exclude from the domain of science those who will not be dragged into this mire of mere assertion then it is time to protest."

The most vehemence against the doctrine of evolution Hugh Miller, Faraday, Brewster, Dana, Dawson and hundreds of scientists in this country and other countries have made protest. I know that the few men who have adopted the theory make more noise than the thousands who have rejected it. The Bothnia of the Cunard line took 500 passengers safely from New York to Liverpool. Not one of the 500 made any excitement. But after we had been four days out, one morning we found on deck a man who had on coat and vest or boots, implying that some one had jumped overboard. Forthwith we began to talk about that one man. There was more talk about that one man overboard than all the 500 passengers that rode on in safety. "Why did he jump overboard?" "I wonder when he jumped overboard?" "I wonder if when he jumped overboard he would liked to have jumped back again?" "I wonder if a fish caught him, or whether he went clear down to the bottom of the sea?" And for three or four days afterward we talked about that poor man.

Here is the glorious and magnificent theory that God by His omnipotent power made man, and by His omnipotent power made the brute creation, and by his omnipotent power made all the worlds, and 500 scientists have taken passage on board that magnificent theory, but 10 or 15 have jumped overboard. They make more talk than all the 500 that did not jump. I am politely asked to jump with them.

Thank you, gentlemen; I am very much obliged to you. I think I shall stick to the old Cunarder. If you want to jump overboard, jump, and test for yourself whether your hand was really a fish's fin, and whether you were web-footed originally, and whether your lungs are a swim bladder. And as in every experiment there must be a division of labor, some who experiment and some who observe, you make the experiment and I will observe!

There is one tenet of evolution which it is demanded we adopt, that which Darwin calls "Natural Selection," and that which Wallace calls the "Survival of the fittest." By this they mean that the human race and the brute creation are all the time improving because the weak die and the strong live. Those who do not die survive because they are the fittest. They say the breed of sheep and cattle and dogs and men is all the time improving, naturally improving. No need of God, or any Bible, or any religion, but natural progress.

You see the race started with "spontaneous generation," and then it goes right on until Darwin can take us up with his "natural selection" and Wallace with his "survival of the fittest," and so we go right on up forever. Beautiful! But do the fittest survive? Garfield dead in September—Guiteau survives until the following June. "Survival of the fittest!" Ah, no! The martyrs, religious and political, dying for their principles, their bloody persecutors living on to old age. "Survival of the fittest?" Five hundred thousand brave northern men marching out to meet 500,000 brave southern men and die on the battlefield for a principle. Hundreds of thousands of them went down into the grave trenches. We stayed at home in comfortable quarters. Did they die because they were not fit to live as we who survive? Ah! no; not the "survival of the fittest." Ellsworth and Nathaniel Lyon falling on the northern side. Albert Sidney Johnson and Stonewall Jackson falling on the southern side. Did they fall because they were not as fit to live as the soldiers and the generals who came back in safety? No. Bitten with the frosts of the second death be the tongue that dares utter it! It is not the "survival of the fittest."

How has it been in the families of the world? How was it with the child physically the strongest, intellectually the brightest, in disposition the kindest? Did that child die because it was not as fit to live as those of your family that survived? Not "the survival of the fittest." In all communities some of the noblest, grandest men dying in youth, or in mid life, while some of the meanest and most contemptible live on to old age. Not "the survival of the fittest."

At the sugar conference in Brussels the delegates of Great Britain, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Belgium and Holland were ready to propose the abolition of bounties, while those of France and Russia insisted on their retention. Sweden and Spain would agree to anything.

THE CLAIM OF PROSPERITY.

The Great Victory for "Sound Money" in 1896 Has Not Caused the Whole Land to Prosper.

The claim that we are in the midst of prosperity that is rolling over the country in great, bounding waves, is becoming weaker and weaker. The sonorous cry of "dollar wheat for the farmer," is not longer heard in the land.

On the contrary, the trade journals have an apologetic, "glad-it-is-no-worse" sort of a tone, and are figuring dexterously to make as good a showing as possible. Wherever a falling off has occurred, it is ascribed to the war, albeit rather timidly and weakly, while wherever a gain appears it is blazoned forth considerably more than it is worth, and attributed to the natural improvement coming from "restored confidence," etc. In nothing does the disposition to minimize the bad features and maximize the good appear more strongly than in the comparisons made.

Bradstreet's, for example, always lays it down as a rule that the number of business failures is an infallible test of business conditions. In its issue of July 2, that journal deals with this matter somewhat at length. It mildly deplores the fact that the failures for the quarter ending June 30 were greater than those for the previous one, but it finds some consolation in the circumstance that for the two quarters together the failures were fewer in number than for the same period in any year during the last four.

In demonstrating this point Bradstreet's presents the following table:

Yr.	No. of failures.	Estimated assets.	Total lia- bilities.	Per ct. of assets to liabilities.
1884	6,429	$36,606,918	$73,120,341	50
1885	7,024	53,611,782	93,636,495	57
1886	7,902	60,485,560	103,535,936	57
1885	6,567	44,152,664	79,707,861	61
1891	6,258	44,979,525	82,333,532	54
1892	10,344	105,371,813	197,560,287	53
1892	5,351	28,925,108	56,253,521	51
1894	6,667	48,268,859	92,570,282	53
1894	5,976	30,925,116	63,897,987	48
1895	5,918	32,863,940	67,411,711	48
1895	5,354	24,734,716	46,887,629	53
1897	5,672	25,566,317	52,778,539	48
1896	5,861	25,590,317	53,241,422	48
1896	6,106	29,933,461	58,570,203	51
1884	5,644	70,730,978	124,901,357	56
1885	5,296	39,887,202	73,894,295	54
1885	4,933	32,620,705	62,252,370	52
1887	8,256	18,783,503	29,333,765	30
1888	2,299	14,727,967	31,357,303	46
1889	5,819	29,626,177	59,508,240	50

It is true that the number of business failures during the last has been smaller than for the same months in any year since 1885, but the number is larger than for the first six months in any other year since 1879. We grant that in four of the years included the amount of liabilities was larger. But the number of business concerns failing is a much surer test of conditions than the amount. That is to say the failure of 100 small business men for $10,000 each, making $1,000,000 in the aggregate, would speak worse for general conditions than the failure of two men for $1,000,000 each, making $2,000,000 in all. The best business condition is not always that which represents the greatest aggregate, but that which enables the greatest number of individuals to do business safely and with a fair and reasonable return for their time and the capital invested. The manner in which wealth and business are distributed count for much more than mere totals, because the latter may represent the operations of the accumulations of only a very few individuals.

But the point to which we especially wish to direct attention is this: In order to make a good showing for business conditions, comparisons are instituted between 1898 and the very worst years we have ever had, at least since the panic of 1857. During the years 1893-4-5-6, and the first half of 1897, the condition of general business was simply appalling and the suffering among the poor was almost without precedent. As a matter of course 1897 shows up fairly well when compared with such years. The wonder is that the showing is not better, for there have been many elements at work which have operated strongly in our favor. First was the extraordinary shortage of food products in Europe and the countries that are generally our greatest competitors. As a consequence we have probably sold from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 more breadstuffs than we otherwise would. This itself is a tremendous item. Then, the war has certainly been to our advantage. The direct disbursements of the government on the army and navy cannot have been less than $75,000,000—another immense item. Henry Clews, in a recent circular, says that by reason of the war this summer American travelers will probably spend at least $50,000,000 less than usual—another tolerably good-sized sum for use at home. Turning to the other side of the account it is difficult to see where the war has made a material cut into a single important industry. Excepting with Spain, which is a small matter, our commerce has been wholly uninterrupted, and business has gone on just as if nothing had occurred out of the ordinary. Indeed, many eminent financiers consider that the war has been a positive advantage. Under such circumstances the existing conditions are most assuredly less favorable than they should be. The question naturally presents itself: What would they have been with normal crops in other countries, no war expenditures, and with the usual amount of American money carried abroad? It is perfectly safe to make answer that without these unusual adjuncts business would have been at its lowest ebb.

These observations have not been made in a spirit of pessimistic croaking. We have no desire to belittle any real prosperity that the people may be enjoying. Our purpose is merely to call attention to the fact that the great victory for "sound money" in 1896 has not caused the whole land to flow with milk and honey. It is not possible to point out a single improvement that can be fairly or even honestly ascribed to the triumph of the so-called "sound money" principle in the last presidential contest.

The country, as a whole, has simply reaped certain benefits from the misfortunes of others, while among our own people the abnormal conditions have enabled a few producers (and a few speculators) to profit at the expense of nearly everybody else. That we are right upon this point is conclusively shown by the circumstance that for eight months after McKinley's election business grew worse and worse, and only showed symptoms of reviving when it became clear that there was an extraordinary scarcity of food products abroad. Nor can the improvement, such as it is, be credited to the Dingley tariff, for it is a palpable fact that two of our most important manufactures (cotton and woolen goods), industries which were guarded by that law with the most sedulous care, are in a state of extreme depression to this day, with wage reductions everywhere, and large numbers of mills entirely closed and paying no wages at all.

STAND BY FREE SILVER.

Democrats Are Willing to Fight the Republicans Fairly on the Money Issue.

Democrats will have occasion to congratulate themselves if the republican party submits to the boss rule of Mark Hanna.

In the campaign of 1896 the republicans secured the election of McKinley by stealing the votes of many friends of silver under the pretense of favoring international bimetallism.

That pretense is to be abandoned if Mark Hanna succeeds in having his way. The signs of the times appear to indicate that the republican party now proposes to fight for the single gold standard openly, and not under cover as heretofore.

In this connection the Indianapolis Sentinel says: "Perhaps the most significant thing in this line is the statement of Mark Hanna that 'all hope of an international agreement on bimetallism is futile,' and that the direct line of republican ideas is voiced in the demands of the 'straight gold platforms.'"

Nothing could please the democrats better than a fair fight with the republicans on the money question. Fully convinced of the necessity of a return to the historic ratio of sixteen to one, and believing that the way to secure that return is for the United States to establish the free coinage of silver and gold at that ratio without consulting other nations, democrats will welcome a discussion with republicans who insist on the single gold standard.

International bimetallism is a dream entirely bereft of actuality. It has long been used by the republicans to delude the people. Its abandonment by both parties will present a clearly defined issue, the discussion of which will bring success to the democratic forces.—Chicago Dispatch.

POINTS AND OPINIONS.

——Over in Wisconsin a public treasury is looked on by republican politicians as a private snap.—St. Paul Globe.

——Perhaps Mark Hanna would like to know whether the Philippines would go democratic or not before expressing an opinion as to their future.—Chicago Record (Ind.).

——The war revenue won't have much to do now except to take care of the Dingley deficit. Some folks can't be convinced that war is all a curse.—Binghamton (N. Y.) Leader.

——A Spanish newspaper says "McKinley's chief adviser is an old lady by the name of Hanna." Hanna and McKinley can fight it out, but that there is an old woman in the president's official family no one doubts.—Kansas City Times.

——Every dollar that goes into bonds comes out of trade and puts up the interest rate against merchants and producers. That is why Wall street holds $200,000,000 idle gold in the treasury and insists on more bonds.—Mississippi Valley Democrat.

——The republicans may be allowed to settle their own political quarrels with the secretary of war. What the country wishes to know is why our army was not better supplied and cared for, and who is responsible for the inefficiency.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

——When scores of soldiers are dying and thousands are ailing from yellow and malarial fevers, the secretary of war would be more decently employed if, instead of attempting to advance his political schemes, he were devoting his time to a letter of resignation.—Chicago Journal.

——Mark Hanna has opined that the next republican campaign will be fought out on war issues. It would be agreeable to Mark to have it this way, but the democrats are not going to permit him to send a substitute to the front when the battle begins.—St. Louis Republic.

——Cannot President McKinley find some place, north or south of the equator, to locate Secretary Alger and renew confidence in the capacity and integrity of the war department by the selection of some one who has the qualities needed? Alger was appointed for pretty much the same reason Mr. Lincoln named Simon Cameron, to discharge obligations and pledges incurred in the nominating convention.—Pittsburgh Post.

——Secretary Alger went into the cabinet under a cloud, and evidence of mismanagement of his department for political purposes has cropped out from the beginning. Many of the grave mistakes that have been made have been susceptible of the suspicion of unworthy influences. Secretary Alger does not redeem his mistakes by attacking the men who are trying for the good of the army and the country to prevent or correct them.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PITH AND POINT.

When pugilists spar for money is it a cash-box?—L. A. W. Bulletin.

He—"A multi-millionaire! Absurd! I have scarcely a million." "Never mind, dear. I will be so economical!"—Life.

Bill—"Did you ever try any of Small's 25-cent dinners?" Jill—"Yes; I ate three of them to-day, at noon."—Yonkers Statesman.

Little Clarence—"Father, what is the difference between firmness and obstinacy?" Father—"Merely a matter of sex, my son."—Tit-Bits.

At Coney Island.—Cohenstein—"So you t'ink dot Gipsy vorchun-deller vas a fake?" Isaacs—"Yes; she told me dot I vould suffer a loss by fire."—Puck.

An Atchison county lyceum will shortly debate this question: "Which is worse for a young man; to go to war, or get married?" — Atchison Globe.

Little Johnny—"Pa, what is the capital of Spain?" Pa—"She hasn't any to speak of; or she won't have when she pays her debts."—Boston Transcript.

Joy for Johnny. "Johnny, what great nation is making history now?" "Yes, pa; and, as I'm in it, I won't have to study it when it is printed in a book, will I, pa?"—Puck.

The sun, which has refused to set on British territory during the past hundred years or so, will now have to get up early to find the Stars and Stripes flag flapping in the dark.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Lieutenant—"Is that one of our men over in that field?" The Orderly—"It is, sir." "Who is it?" "Fassett, the plumber." "What is he doing in that onion-patch?" "Looking for leeks, sir."—Yonkers Statesman.

Equal to the Emergency.—Freddy's Uncle—"Well, no, Freddy, I don't think I care to swap knives with you; you see there's a history goes with my knife." Freddy (after a moment of sad reflection)—"Well, Uncle Jack, there's a 'Robinson Crusoe' goes with mine—how'll that do?"—Truth.

APPLES OF HESPERIDES.

Eastern Cuba Is the Place Where This Golden Fruit Grows to Perfection.

Nowhere on the globe do pineapples thrive as in eastern Cuba, where the conditions of soil and climate bring "the golden apples of Hesperides" to absolute perfection; yet the pineapple industry has never had much attention in this section. Here is another chance for the enterprising Yankee. A tract of unoccupied land, extending far as the eye can see, may be bought for a few dollars and turned into a fruit farm, the virgin soil of unparalleled richness being capable of producing every tropical growth. Shipping facilities are already established at Baracoa and several small ports; and if the land touches the Yumiri or some other river, so much the better for its owner. Until one has seen the golden glory of a pineapple plantation, he can think of no more attractive sight than a sugarcane field, glistening pale yellow under the torrid sun and billowing in the gentle breeze like a wind-swept sea.

But even more fascinating is a field of pines, each great "apple" guarded by a circle of glittering, sharp-edged bayonets. In Florida the pineapple leaf is so sharply serrated that the thought of getting around among them suggests a field of torture. Evolution seems to have progressed farther in Cuba, for in the older and more carefully-cultivated plantations the sawteeth that edge the long-pointed leaves have mainly disappeared.

Before the war it was the sight of a lifetime to go out to Marianao, a suburb of Havana, and there drive through an estate which had 80,000 pineapple plants in full bearing. Over in Nassau they call the pine plantations "groves" and "orchards," as if they were trees. Whether groves or fields, the plants are about the same, producing one of the most luscious and popular fruits known to man, for which there is constant and ample demand. Like most things worth having in this troubled life, the golden "pines" are not easy to get at. A very short stroll among the stinging leaves will lead you to sympathize with the New Yorker, who, after a visit to Marianao said "You do not mind the first two or three thousand sticks and prods from the needle-points of the bayonet leaves as you cross a field; but after awhile your tortured cutis can endure no more and your remarks about the pineapple crop are likely to be prejudiced by present soreness. How much nicer it would be if the 'apples' did really grow in 'orchards' and you could send a colored boy up the trees to shake down a few, and then you could sit down in the shade and eat them."

A plant produces only one pine at a time. The fruit thrusts itself upward in the middle of a mass of long, narrow and sharp arched leaves—spreading forth from a central stalk precisely like those of the agave Americana, or "century" plant, with which everybody is familiar. The stem is perhaps 18 inches to two feet in height.

The same plant produces a second apple, a third, and so on, through several bearings; after which a new plant must be started from the "slip." Nothing is easier of cultivation or requires less capital and previous experience; and few crops bring in greater or more certain returns.—Chicago Journal.

Proof.

"It is going to be a long war," said the professional theorizer.

"Got special information, have you?" asked the sarcastic man.

"Why, no; not exactly, but, as is well known, a man is what he eats, and the Spanish have begun on mule meat."—Indianapolis Journal.

AGRICULTURAL HINTS

THE ROAD SURFACE.

Unfortunately Its Function Is Not Fully Understood by Many Amateur Road Builders.

The function of a pavement or road surface is very imperfectly understood, even in sections where stone roads have been in use for long periods. It is commonly supposed that a wet spot or bog will become dry if filled in; that a good road may be made anywhere, simply by making a shallow trench of the desired width and filling it with stone, and that the surface of a stone road needs to be "protected" from wear by covering it with screenings, sod, earth, or any old stuff that is handy in hot weather.

To these erroneous notions are due

UNCOMFORTABLE TRAVELING.
(An Alleged Road Through the Arkansas Woods.)

many failures to get durability and satisfaction from attempts at road building. The importance of drainage is not fully appreciated in most sections, but it is at the bottom of successful road construction, and neither permanence nor economy is possible if it is not amply provided for. A wet spot must be thoroughly drained before a road is carried over it, or it will always be wet, at least in the wet season, no matter what else is done to it. Water under a roadbed is as fatal to the life of the road as water in a man's lungs is fatal to his existence.

The not uncommon practice of allowing a roadbed to be lower than its sides makes it little better than a mere drain, for water settles on the surface, quickly softens it and prepares it to be cut up by every passing vehicle. A raised and crowned roadbed which will shed water readily is essential. A dry base with a slightly arched cover of stone, capable of shedding the rain, is requisite for a dry, permanent structure.

The stone roadway is not only to serve as a roof for the natural base beneath, but is to take the wear of traffic, and not to be covered with other material as a "protection" to it. In places where earth is used for "binding" purposes, and little regular attention is paid to the roads and sprinkling is not done in dry weather, the road surface breaks up rapidly under the influence of the sun. It is then that it has heaped upon it, to "protect" it, quantities of fine screenings, or earth and stones, and sometimes even clay and sod from the gutters. The result is a poor road, for months unworthy of the name "macadam."

If complete drainage is secured at the outset, the road crowned and systematically cared for, with sprinkling in dry weather, and is thoroughly rolled as laid, without the use of clay to bind it, it will perform its functions satisfactorily and prove a valuable investment of lasting worth. — Good Roads.

WHEN THE COW KICKS.

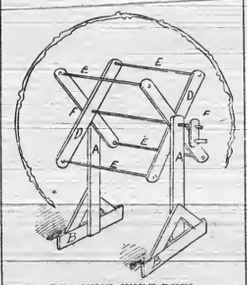
A Simple Cure Which Has Proven Quite Effectual Wherever It Has Been Tested.

It is always the best milker that gives the most trouble in milking. This is really cause and effect, for having the udder filled with milk makes it very sensitive to the touch, and it requires very careful handling not to hurt the cow. The natural result is that such cows are beaten and ill used, thus causing them to hold up the milk and usually to do some vigorous kicking as the result of the pain they are suffering. If there is a large amount of milk thus retained it is likely to cause garget and permanently spoil the cow.

Generally if the cow kicks most milkmen will either kick back, or will take a safer means by getting far enough away so that the cow cannot kick them, and belabor her over the back and sides. Such measures are cruel and wholly unnecessary. If a ring is put in the cow's nose and her head is fastened up so that she cannot get it down, she cannot kick. Each vicious kick is accompanied with a lowering of the head, as if to hook. When the cow goes to lower her head she finds that the ring in her nose hurts her, and that at once will make her desist. It is a very simple method, and has always proven effectual when tried.—American Cultivator.

Is the cow as comfortable and satisfied as you can make her? She must be to do her best.

FRUIT ON THE FARM.



Every Man Living in the Country Should Raise an Ample Supply for Home Use.

The greater value of fruit growing to the farmer is not primarily in its commercial aspect, or how much money it will bring in, although the receipts from the sale of the surplus are not to be despised, either; it is rather the "health of good living" that comes from an abundant supply of all kinds of fruit that may be readily grown in that locality, so that all the year 'round the family may have all they can consume. There are fruit specialists, the Homestead remarks, of course, just as there are specialists in other lines of farm industry, who make a handsome income out of the orchard and small fruit plantings. They like the work and therefore learn it easily and keep on learning until they are gray, and their knowledge becomes more valuable every year by accretion. Any young farmer who begins on a scale adapted to his home needs may grow into a specialist of this kind, but thousands never do. This is no reason why the thousands should not have all the fruit their families can use. Beginning with the most useful kinds and those most easily grown, the farmer can gradually surround himself with a good home orchard and small fruits of all kinds that improve his living and reduce its cost, thus adding to his comfort and independence. We do not find it necessary to do much in the way of urging horticulture. Those who are already fitted for it know enough about it to determine for themselves whether or not they shall engage in it, while those who are not sufficiently informed must work their way to it, if at all, by beginning at the bottom of the ladder; and there is no better way to do this than by beginning with a few good trees in a home orchard, and small areas of small fruit for home use. We do urge this upon every farmer. If no cash income ever comes from it, it is still worth all the expense in time and money that it costs.

PEA-VINE WIRE REEL.

A Great Labor Saver Where Much Wire Has to Be Wound at Close of the Season.

I have found a pea vine wire reel of great help in my truck gardens for winding the wire after vines are removed. The standards (aa) are of two-by-four-inch material, 2½ feet long; foot pieces (bb) are two-by-four and 1½ feet. An old fork handle is used at c, two feet long. The reel sides (d) are of one-by-four-inches and 20 inches long. Four fork handles are used at e, 13½ inches long. Iron pins are inserted at ff. The distance between aa is 14 inches. Any handle may be attached that is most convenient. The reel barely plays between aa and when 60 or 75 pounds of wire has been reeled it is slid off and tied. I use No. 14 wire.—A. E. Hartshorn, in Farm and Home.

PEA-VINE WIRE REEL.

CLEANING WET SEEDS.

After Being Thoroughly Dried They Should Be Kept in a Moderately Warm, Dry Place.

For preserving seeds in fleshy fruits they should be mashed and placed in barrels to sour. In the place of cucumbers, melons, etc., the interiors only are scraped out. In from 30 to 100 hours, fermentation will have advanced sufficiently to admit of the ready separation of pulp from seeds. The mashed fruit is placed in coarse sieves and suspended in tubs of water. The seeds will drop to the bottom, while the light pulp will float and can be thrown out; they should be then sent through a finer sieve, and after three or four washings can be taken out, spread upon cloths and dried. With many seeds it is well to wring them in cloths, and thus remove the surplus water. Many persons do not take the trouble to wash seeds, when growing a few for home use, merely scraping them out upon a piece of cloth and drying them in their pulp. Most vegetable seeds keep best, after being thoroughly dried, in a moderately warm, dry place. Paper or cloth sacks will answer to hold them if hung up or placed in boxes, where mice cannot get at them.—Farm and Home.

Trellis for Tomatoes.

While the tomato can be and often is grown with its vines on the ground, the fruit ripens more evenly and perfectly, besides producing a larger crop, if the vines are supported by a trellis of some kind. It may be nothing more than a stick forked like a "Y," and with long enough stem to set firmly in the ground. But if the soil is rich and the tomato vines are heavy, a row of strong stakes with a wire wound around each at the height of 18 inches will give better satisfaction. When the vines turn to grow downwards the part below will blossom and fruit more abundantly than before.

SAVED BY A POCKET-KNIFE.

A Survivor of the Ville de Havre Tells of His Remarkable Escape from the Wreck.

By the sinking of La Bourgogne and the awful loss of life is recalled the accident to the Ville de Havre, of the same line, in 1872, when the latter named ship was struck at night and went down at once, carrying almost all on board. Pitifully few were those who were saved from the Havre, but among them was the prominent New York lawyer Witthaus, and the way in which he escaped is so extraordinary that it sounds like a well-concocted tale, instead of the plain fact that Mr. Witthaus vouches it to be.

The afternoon preceding the accident to the Havre, Mr. Witthaus, with another man, was on deck, and Mr. Witthaus was leaning against the taffrail under the flagstaff in the stern. As the two men stood there talking the friend put his hand on the large life buoy that was hanging over the side, and called Mr. Witthaus' attention to it.

"Look," he said, "these life buoys are simply screaming farces. This one here is so stiff and hard with coats of paint that I couldn't get it free except by cutting it with a knife."

Mr. Witthaus attempted to move it, but found it glued hard and fast. The friend took out his knife and began idly sticking it into the soft pine of the flagstaff, and amused himself so the rest of the time that they talked before they were interrupted by the dinner gong. Then they both went below.

Early the next morning while the passengers were still asleep the collision occurred, and in the mad panic that at once followed Mr. Witthaus did what he could to get the women and children into the lifeboats. From the first he regarded himself as doomed, for there were not nearly boats enough for all the passengers, and it was evident that the ship would float only a few minutes. Several women whom he knew on board he found places for at once, only to see the boat overturned as soon as it was launched, and all go down, one of them with her two little children in her arms.

Horrified and sickened by the sight, he went back to the stern of the ship, which was higher out of the water than the bow, to wait until he, too, went down, and stood leaning against the taffrail. As he did so in a flash he recollected the conversation of the afternoon before, and looked over the rail. There still hung the life buoy stiff and immovable, and the instinct of self preservation sprang to life once more. A knife to free the buoy and he might be saved, but he had none with him, and to find one was impossible with the ship liable to go down at any second.

At the same moment his eye caught the flagstaff, and there, where his friend had evidently forgotten it the afternoon before, stuck the knife. With the haste of life and death Mr. Witthaus pulled it out and began to saw away at the buoy, and he freed it and threw himself off the deck into the sea just in time to get beyond the vortex that came as the great ship went down, sucking hundreds of victims with it. Mr. Witthaus floated about for some time, and was at last picked up by a small boat that was waiting about for chance survivors, and was brought back to New York to tell of one of the most awful catastrophes that ever happened at sea.—N. Y. Press.

SHORTENED HIS SENTENCE.

The Judge Took in the Situation at a Glance and Allowed for Time Service.

A man charged with bigamy was once brought before Judge Gary, of Illinois. The accused had lived two years with the second woman, and he concluded to plead guilty on the understanding with the state's attorney that his sentence would divorce him from No. 2. When he stood before Judge Gary the little man looked over his desk and asked in a voice of kindness:

"You fully understand what the plea of guilty means?"

"Yes, your honor."

"And do you understand if you so plead it will be my duty to send you to the penitentiary? Do you understand that?"

"Yes, your honor. Anything to get free."

The judge looked at the man for a moment and then said in his inimitable manner:

"I suppose there are some things beside which prison would be a relief. Any relative or friend of the defendant in court?"

A woman in black stood up on a bench, and said in a voice which sounded like a rip of cambric:

"I am his second wife, judge."

Judge Gary replied immediately, with no change in his voice or face:

"Some things beside which prison would be a relief. You ought to be willing to take three years."

The prisoner nodded an assent.

Judge Gary looked over at the woman in black. He seemed to read her in a second. He turned to the man who had pleaded guilty and said:

"I will give you one year. You seem to have had the other two before they arrested you."—Green Bag.

Ruminations.

All the philosophy in the world will never soften a brick under a hat.

Check is about the only reliable system whereby a man can get the chewing gum of his life without putting a nickel in the slot.

One-half the people in this world are always trying to get the work to do that the other half is trying to get out of doing, and both are discontented because they can't succeed.—N. Y. World.

Calico from Calicut in 1631.

Calico was first manufactured in a city of India called Calicut, from which it derives its name. It was introduced into England in the year 1631, and finally into this country, but as the United States consumes by far the largest quantity of calico of any country in the world, it is necessarily manufactured here most extensively. The highest grade made has a ticket on every piece upon which is printed the name William Simpson & Sons. These goods are noted for their general excellence, brilliancy and permanency of color.

Not Wholly Hateful.—"Did you recommend to Marie that country place where you were last summer?" "No; I was tempted to but I didn't."—Detroit Free Press.

Wheat 40 Cents a Bushel.

How to grow wheat with big profit at 40 cents and samples of Salzer's Red Cross (80 Bushels per acre) Winter Wheat, Rye, Oats, Clovers, etc., with Farm Seed Catalogue for 4 cents postage. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis. K

No pocket is well lined that has no money in it.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

THE MARKETS.

	CINCINNATI.	Aug.	22.
LIVE STOCK—Cattle, common	$ 2 85	@	$ 4 00
Select butchers	4 25	@	4 60
CALVES—Fair to good light	6 00	@	6 50
HOGS—Common	3 15	@	3 65
Mixed packers	3 75	@	3 85
Light shippers	3 80	@	4 05
SHEEP—Choice	4 40	@	4 90
LAMBS	5 25	@	6 30
FLOUR—Winter family	2 75	@	3 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@	66
No. 3 red		@	60
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	33
Oats—No. 2		@	27
Rye—No. 2		@	50
HAY—Prime to choice		@	8 50
PROVISIONS—Mes Pork		@	9 50
Lard—Prime steam		@	4 90
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@	14
Prime to choice creamery		@	20½
APPLES—Choice to Fancy	1 50	@	2 00
POTATOES—New, per bbl	1 65	@	1 75
	CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 65	@	3 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	70
No. 3 Chicago spring	62	@	66
CORN—No. 2		@	30½
OATS—No. 2		@	20¾
PORK—Mess	8 95	@	9 00
LARD—Steam	5 12½	@	5 20
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 70	@	4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	78½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	36¾
RYE		@	45
OATS—Mixed	27	@	27½
PORK—New mess	10 00	@	10 50
LARD—Western		@	5 87½
	BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	3 60	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	78
Southern—Wheat	70	@	70
Corn—Mixed	35½	@	36
Oats—No. 2 white	28	@	29
Rye—No. 2 western		@	45
CATTLE—First quality	4 35	@	4 75
HOGS—Western		@	4 00
	INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	69
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	32½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	22
	LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	68	@	69
Corn—Mixed		@	35
Oats—Mixed		@	25
PORK—Mess		@	10 00
LARD—Steam		@	5 87½

The Falling Leaves Give Warning of Winter

So the falling of the hair tells of the approach of age and declining power.

No matter how barren the tree nor how leafless it may seem, you confidently expect leaves again. And why?

Because there is life at the roots.

So you need not worry about the falling of your hair, the threatened departure of youth and beauty. And why?

Because if there is a spark of life remaining in the roots of the hair will arouse it into healthy activity. The hair ceases to come out: it begins to grow: and the glory of your youth is restored to you.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

We have a book on the Hair and its Diseases. It is free.

The Best Advice Free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed.

DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

152

Page Illustrated Catalogue, describing all of the famous

WINCHESTER GUNS AND WINCHESTER AMMUNITION

sent free to any address. Send your name on a postal card to

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO., 180 Winchester Ave., New Haven, Ct.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 50c; large, 85c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try it the finest brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four

GAME PLAQUES

exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Muville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant, English Quail, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5 cent packages of Elastic Starch (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of these beautiful Game Plaques free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

STOP, WOMEN!

You Are Asked to Consider an All-Important Fact.

You Can Talk Freely to Mrs. Pinkham, But It Is Revolting to Tell Your Troubles to Any Man.

In addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience in treating woman's diseases is greater than that of any living physician—male or female.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides, a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman, whose knowledge from actual experience is greater than any local physician. The following invitation is freely offered; accept it in the same spirit:

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

"FORBID A FOOL A THING AND THAT HE WILL DO." DON'T USE

SAPOLIO

The Best BOOK on WAR unquestionably illustrated (price $3), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 5c.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

DR. BUSH'S MALARIAL PILLS 50 cents a Box. We guarantee to CURE Fever and Ague in 48 hours, a 25c box Malarial or Hay Fever or La Grippe; mailed for price, paid by SALISBURY PHARMACY, COREY, Pa.

CATARRH Sufferers are immediately relieved by using COLLINS' PALATINE NOSE TREATMENT and by continued use effect a permanent cure. Complete outfit by mail $2.00. A trial will convince. Complete outfit by mail $2.00. OZONE LABORATORY, 30 W. Jackson St., Chicago.

ASTHMA

A. N. K.—E 1728

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Aug., 24, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER
Or
SOLICITS YOUR Job Work,
NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS,
Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.
Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

STATE NEWS.

Daviess county has an epidemic of typhoid fever.

Bromley has been annoyed considerably with burglars.

Sllis Witt, aged 95, the oldest man in Estill county is dead.

Farmers of Kenton county have organized a vigilance committee.

Forty people were injured in the wreck of a passenger train near Barbourville.

Toll Hedge, of Laurel county, fell from his horse and broke his neck. He was drunk.

The Lancaster Circuit Court gave Frank Turner one year in the pen for horse stealing.

There has been too much rain for the late cabbage. They are rotting in most counties.

Herbert Simons got caught in a corn-shelling machine at Madisonville and was killed.

At Princeton Charles Wood, colored, aged 12, killed James Johnson, aged 12, by a blow with a stone.

The grand jury at Lancaster indicted William Wrenn on the charge of helping mob a tollgate.

Richard Combs, colored, must answer 24 indictments at Winchester for alleged illegal liquor dealing.

The famous thoroughbred stallion, King Alfonso, 26 years old, died last week in Woodford county.

A horse thief confined in the Scott county jail committed suicide by taking poison, one day last week.

George W. Nall, a prominent Webster county citizen, dropped at a barbecue while talking to a friend.

Henry Bradford, a bachelor, worth $30,000 hanged himself with a trace chain in a tobacco barn in Harrison county.

Joe Phelps colored, of Richmond, dropped dead at Richmond, immediately upon receiving his pension certificate.

The remains of Mrs. T. J. Bush, buried 33 years ago at Winchester, were disinterred and found perfectly petrified.

A horse ran away with Jailer Castleman at Harrodsburg, mutilating his arms face and legs in a horrible manner.

Knox county is greatly excited over the recent heavy oil strikes on Stinking creek. The oil is of the finest quality.

The ship carpenters who went from Dayton to Alaska have returned. They say they had plenty of work up north.

Several dead beats, claiming to be victims of the Maine disaster have been fleecing credulous victims in Bourbon county.

A big steal has been unearthed in the shoe factory at Frankfort. Convicts have smuggled many shoes out and sold them.

Tucker Buckner, of Christian county, was kicked in the stomach by a cow while milking her, and died of his injuries.

Lee Wedlingeon, a well-known farmer of Christian county, was instantly killed while helping to raise a barn, a heavy log falling on his head, crushing it to a jelly.

At last the long-standing dispute over the boundary line between Warren and Simpson is in a fair way to be amicably settled. A commission from the two counties is now working on the matter with the prospect of agreeing upon terms in a day or two.

The county jail at Vanceburg now contains more prisoners than it can accommodate, and about 15 have to be taken to the hotel for their meals. This was caused by the arrest and incarceration of 14 of Lewis county's citizens for refusing to work on the new free turnpikes.

A peculiar suit has been filed in the Circuit Court at Lancaster. Last spring W. H. Furr, a merchant of the county, placed poison on bread for rats. Three children named Hutchison ate the bread and narrowly escaped death. The children's father, Thomas Hutchison, asks $5,000 damages.

A Vanceburg special says: "At Hazelton snakes are so numerous that it is dangerous for farmers to go into the fields. William King killed ten copperheads in his yard in three days last week. Many cows and horses have been bitten. Two small children of Sam Thurman's were bitten by a rattlesnake one night last week after they had gone to bed. They will probably die."

A peculiar tragedy was enacted on the Lexington pike near Williamstown last Wednesday. Two young men, one named Ashcraft, the other Whaley, had been sworn enemies for a long time. They were out wheel riding and met each other at the above-named place. Neither would give the road, and they ran into each other while going at a terrific rate of speed. As a result of the collision one is dead and the other in a very precarious condition.

DON'TS.

Don't judge a disinfectant by its smell.

Don't seek to become a life member of a suicide club.

Don't present a grass widow with a bottle of new-mown hay perfume.

Don't think you can get rid of your type-writer by marrying her.

Don't attempt to convert a person by reasoning instead of by example.

Don't blame the grocer for giving you short weight if you give him a long wait.

Don't drop your hook in the same hole with others if you would succeed as a fisherman.

Don't think free will gives you the right to do whatever you like, regardless of the rights of others.

Don't wait until the last minute and then try to get a letter of credit on heaven by donating a few dollars to some church.

FISCAL COURT.

The following business was transacted by the Fiscal Court, at its called session, last Saturday:

J. E. Smith allowed $6 for coffin for a pauper.

Bradley & Gilbert allowed $42 05 for Sheriff's books.

Judge Roberts and Clinton Gaines were appointed a committee to advertise for bids for removing court house cupola.

M. B. Green, Clinton Gaines and J. H. Walton were appointed a committee to examine the iron bridge at Plattsburg, and the wooden bridge at Ashby Fork, and report what will be necessary to make them fit for public travel.

On motion to set aside the order made at the regular term July 5, 1898, appropriating $2,500 towards building a bridge across Woolper creek. The yeas and nays being called for the vote stood as follows: For the motion—Clinton Gaines, J. C. Byland and J. S. Noell, Esqs, and against the motion—M. B. Green J. H. Walton and B. H. Ryle, Esqs, resulting in a tie, thereupon Judge C. C. Roberts voted for the motion to set aside the order, it is therefore ordered that said order be and the same is now set aside.

Verona.

J. N. Dickerson attended the Harvest Home last Saturday with thoroughbred chickens, and came home with one blue string.

Mr. G. B. Powers and family, of near Walton, were the guest of A. C. Roberts and wife, last Sunday.

R. O. Powers is preparing to remodle the L part of his house.

Chas. Waller has 12 very fine ewe lambs he will sell.

Revs. Swindler and Adams have been engaged in a revival meeting here during the past week. No additions yet. The meeting is announced for the coming week.

Rev. Hill, pastor of Walton Baptist church, attended meeting here last Saturday night.

We understand there is a reward offered for the arrest of Dud Dwyer by Lafe Kennedy.

A great deal of fruit is being shipped from this point this season in the way of plums and peaches. L. C. Roberts has picked from his orchard about 500 bushels of peaches and will have 300 or 400 more bushels that are now ripening.

Resolutions of Respect.

GOLDEN GRANGE, No. 346,
UNION, KY., August 19, 1898.

Our brother, Walter Tanner, died July 23d, 1898, and Golden Grange has lost in him one of its most efficient members. He was a man of worth in the Grange, to which he gave his most earnest efforts for its prosperity; and he was a lovely, Christian character, with a gentleness of disposition, a charm of manner and kindly disposition that won the love of all who came within the sphere of his acquaintance. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That Golden Grange deeply feels it loss in the death of our brother, and that our charter be draped in mourning for 30 days in remembrance of his virtues. That we extend to his stricken family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement, and that a page in the records of this Grange be devoted to his memory.

Committee:—Mrs. Roberta Smith, J. E. Weaver, J. L. Frazer, Mrs. Shelley Tanner.

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at the late residence of Reuben Conner at Richwood Station on the C. N. O. & T. P. Railway, 14 miles from Covington and 4 miles north of Walton, Boone county, Ky., on

Wednesday Sept. 7, 1898,

All of the personal property consisting in part as follows: 3 work horses, 2 2-yr-old colts, 1 suckling colt, 1 work mule, 1 yearling mule, 5 heifers, 2 yearling heifers, 2 yearling steers and one calf, 3 milch cows—2 Jerseys: 1 bull, 66 hogs and shoats, 96 sheep and lambs; also farming implements consisting of binder, mower, corn planter, 2 corn drills, 1 1-horse wheat drill, cutting box, hay rake and numerous other articles too numerous to mention; 340 bus. wheat, lot of hay in the stack, corn in the field; also five shares of stock in Erlanger Deposit Bank.

The above cattle, except the Jerseys, are Shorthorn stock.

TERMS—All sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given, purchaser giving note with good security, payable in the Walton Deposit Bank. No property to be removed until terms are complied with.

J. W. CONNER, Adm'r.

Sale to begin at 9:30 a. m.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at Weaver's Mill on Gunpowder creek, on

THURSDAY, SEPT. 22nd, 1898,

The Following Property, to-wit: 2 good work mules, 1 work horse, road wagon, spring wagon, buggy, 2 mowing machines, hayrake, wheat drill, 2-horse sled, wheat fan, riding plow, cutting box, harness, set of blacksmith tools, turning lathe, 10 hogs and numerous farming implements in good order, also several guns, clocks, and set of watch tools, some household and kitchen furniture, &c., &c.

TERMS OF SALE.

Sums of $5 and under, cash; over that amount 6 months credit will be given, purchasers to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank. Sale to begin at 9 am.

W. C. WEAVER.

Tony Bentler, Auctioneer.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on

H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS of ROOFING,
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,
DENTIST,
133 Garfield Place,
CINCINNATI,
Has removed his office to
The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th,
Bet. Vine and Race.
☞Home City, MONDAYS.

Executor's Notice.

All persons indebted to Arthur Blyth, deceased, will please come forward at once and settle, and those having claims against the estate will present them to me properly proven according to law. HARRY BLYTH, Executor.

Kentucky, Ohio and INDIANA
Will unite with other surrounding States to make the LAWRENCEBURG
FAIR
To be held
August 23 to 27, 1898,
The grandest success ever obtained in that line. Special attractions every day.
CHARIOT RACES
And other daring feats of Horsemanship will be performed by
COOK'S HIPPODROME PEOPLE.
LARGEST PREMIUMS ever thought of are offered for some articles of Domestic Manufacture.
The Most Exciting Races ever given on this track will be this year, from all indications.
If you miss this
FAIR
you will have something to regret for many days to come.
W. H. O'BRIEN, President.
H. L. NOWLIN, Sect'y.

EVERETT HELMS
—PROPRIETOR,—
The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,
Petersburg, Ky.
Will be pleased to
CUBA
Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.
BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.
TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE
DELHI FERRY
To The City.
Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.
A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.
NO DELAY.

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, containing about 111 acres, known as the Jackson Bass farm, situated about 1¼ miles from Verona, Boone county, Ky., on the Short Line (L. & N.) Railroad. 8 or 10 acres of this farm are in the state of nature and will grow enough tobacco in a few years to pay for the place. There are 10 or 15 acres in cultivation the balance (about 80 acres) is in grass. The improvements consist of a two story frame dwelling house of six rooms, two halls and two porches; tenant house of three rooms; corn crib and large barn. The place is well watered and fencing in splendid repair. This farm is admirably located for a market garden. My terms are very reasonable. For further particulars address Mrs. JAMES T. BROCK, No. 416 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky. aug 10-2m

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—B. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Aliphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. H. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:
District No. 1.—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—H. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Aylor, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Noell, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Byland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Guffy.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Leslie.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Durelle, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, J. H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Bergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden; Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; J. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
DENTIST.
Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.
☞OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.
Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.
East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m. 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m
O. D. BERCAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN,
—DRUGGIST,—
Rising Sun, - Indiana.
Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.
E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.
EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

RUPTURE
You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have in our long experience in fitting Trusses, reduced it to a science. Many Ruptures are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance: one of your family is very ill. You go to your physician, and say "so and so is ill, and what would you recommend? The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.
OHIO TRUSS CO.,
20 and 22 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be registered if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY,
Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention given Collections entrusted to him.

W. E. VEST,
County Surveyor,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL
LASSING & RIDDELL,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.
VEST & RICE,
Real Estate Agents.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
☞All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 3,000
Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
Walton, Kentucky.
Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.
☞Will be in office at Union every Monday.
Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,
SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,
And all Kinds of
Household Goods,
213 W. Fifth St.
4 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
HARD AND SOFT
COAL,
Erlanger, - - Ky.
Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.
J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1898. NO. 45.

THE daily papers do not run so much to headlines now.

THE President had good, warm weather for getting his peace ideas into form.

JOHN SHERMAN is being mentioned as an anti-Hanna candidate for Governor of Ohio.

THE politicians are at a loss whether to oppose territorial extension or to advocate it.

WITH favorable weather this week everybody and everybody's relatives will be at the fair.

IT would be an unusual occurrence in politics were Dewey forced into the Presidency for the next term.

THIS week the Boone fair has the right of way, and next week it will be followed by the G. A. R. at Cincinnati.

THE next call will be for volunteers to take care of the sick among those who are in the service of the country.

THE favorable change in the crop prospects has spread a broad smile over the benign countenances of the farmers.

HON. JOHN YOUNG BROWN's friends in many parts of the State are doing their utmost to have him declare himself a candidate for Governor.

WITH fall comes the Congressional campaign in this district. Just now it looks like there will be but little spirit manifested by either party in its primaries.

GEN. LEE has announced his desire to be a United States Senator from Virginia, and he will be very apt to get there. The name of Lee is a hard one to knock out in the Old Dominion.

THIS country went to war for the the sake of suffering humanity, but from the reports reaching the public it seems to have failed in its purpose and has transferred suffering humanity largely to its own shores.

THE Ohio Democrats in State convention assembled last Wednesday, reaffirmed their allegiance to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The platform on other subjects was equally as explicit.

THE Louisville Post is desirous of having a voice in shaping the platform for the next Democratic State convention in this State, but it is not saying whether it will support the State ticket on any platform the party may in its wisdom, adopt.

EVERY soldier who comes home has a horrible account to give of the division hospitals in the army. Somebody is responsible for criminal neglect, and deserve dire punishment for the unnecessary sufferings to which the soldiers have been compelled to submit.

O. S. WATTS, of Bullittsville. Jas. N. Pearson, of Florence, and James Allen, of Big Bone, have been appointed election commissioners for this county. Mr. Allen is a Republican. This is a good board, and even-handed justice will prevail in the selection of the election officers in Boone.

THE Boone county Republicans have no cause of complaint on account of the Goebel election law, as under it they have a voice in the appointment of the county election officers, whereas, under the old law they had no part, whatever, in the selection of officers to conduct elections in this county.

IT is very strange Spanish prisoners should receive such excellent treatment at the hands of this government when it is allowing its soldiers to die off like hogs stricken with cholera. Why should Spanish prisoners be treated with such remarkable consideration, while their captors are suffering for necessary food and medical attention?

THE conduct of Blanco indicates that he has not learned that Havana does not belong to him, and it may yet be necessary for President McKinley to call him down.

BOTH factions of the Democratic party in the Seventh Congressional District will support Hon. E. E. Settle at the polls in November, and his majority will be a handsome one.

AND now Russia and Great Britian are making ugly faces at each other. If they engage in a sure enough scrap, it will, doubtless, be of a longer duration than that out of which America and Spain have just emerged.

CHEAPER coffee it is claimed will be one of the results of the war, as the finest coffee in the world is grown in Puerto Rico and Cuba, and with these two islands under the control of this country, that luxury will be much cheaper in this country, which consumes $90,000,000 every year.

WHEN Congress meets in December, Gen. Joe Wheeler will be the most conspicuous figure in the House. He went to the front and fought for his country through a war, which, happily, ended in time for him to resume his congressional duties without being absent the whole of one term.

FRANCE and Germany, since Uncle Sam spanked Spain so easily, let no opportunity for an expression of their admiration for this country, to escape. Their change of attitude towards America is remarkable and certainly good policy, but their pretended love should be regarded with suspicion—they are wolves in an other attire.

THE unhealthy condition of the camp at Chickamauga has created dissatisfaction among the soldiers, and they are anxious to be mustered out of the service. They are being held there while disease is decimating their ranks, and there is no prospects of their services being needed. The circumstances are enough to create among the men a longing for home, better food and better treatment.

THE greatest foe with which the American soldiers have had to contend since the organization of the army is disease, the ravages of which have been increased many fold by the inefficiency of those whose duty it was supposed to be to look after the health of the boys in the camps at home and at the front. The reports of suffering in the Cuban and Spanish ranks shocked the people of this country, but now they are indignant—made so by the neglect to which their soldiers have been subjected, as related by the men who endured the horrors of which they tell. If these men could be depended on to defend the honor of this great nation they surely can be relied on to speak the truth when telling how they fared since they left home and friends to risk their lives in their country's cause. The public was inclined to accept almost any excuse that was given for the suffering of the American soldiers around Santiago, but when the awful condition of many of the soldiers in camp at Chickamauga and other places becomes known then it is that a righteous indignation sweeps over the country, and no longer is the suffering undergone by the Americans in Cuba accepted as wholly unavoidable. To fix the responsibility for the dreadful condition that has been permitted to overtake the camps will be a great undertaking, and any investigation that may be instituted would likely not be permitted to probe the facts to the bottom and bring to the surface the parties who are responsible for the very discreditable state of army affairs that are giving the entire country so much concern at present.

RIDDELL'S GROVE.

The first question you ask is, "where is Riddell's Grove?" In answer it is only necessary to say that it is on Gunpowder creek, this county, and is reached by three roads, one from the north, one from the northeast and one from the southwest. Either of these highways would be a macadamized road were the stones that impede travel broken to the proper size.

This Grove's history does not ante-date the memory of the oldest inhabitants, because the last 20 years reach beyond its first efforts for an existence. Its tall, graceful young sycamore's, for of such are the trees, form a dense shade that covers a large space of ground, rendering it a delightful retreat from Old Sol's scorching rays on such a day as last Wednesday.

This Grove was, several years ago, dedicated to the use of the neighborhood as an outing park, and once a year the people from far and near meet there, discuss the topics of the day, and feast on the substantials and delicacies prepared for the noonday meal.

Last Wednesday was the annual meeting at the above place, and the good people, as usual, turned out in force, and the occasion was as enjoyable as any of the many that had preceded it.

Those who were in charge of the preparations for the dinner to be served, last Wednesday, had secured 100 pounds of river fish, numerous chickens and other articles that go to make up an excellent dinner, and these supplemented by the numerous delicacies prepared at home and brought by the ladies constituted a dinner too good for a king, prince or potentate.

Samuel Smith was the chief cook, with Tobe Marshall, an able assistant, and the excellent soup, fried fish, fried chicken &c., that they prepared for the crowd established for them a reputation as accomplished culinary artists. They did the cooking and the crowd did the rest in a manner that proved the cooks had very successfully gotton the range of their appetites.

Just about the time everybody's appetite had been thoroughly satisfied, although the supply of food was nothing like exhausted, a rain drove the crowd to Joe Riddell's residence near by, where several hours were spent in a most happy manner. When the crowd dispersed that afternoon it was understood by all that they would repeat the feast next year.

NOTES

The gravy was one of the favorite dishes, and it disappeared in a rush.

About 150 people were present, all bent on pleasure and having a good time.

Uncle Ed Smith, 86, and Harvey Marshall, 82, were there and were the livliest lads in the crowd.

Rev. John McAtee was present, and would have preached in the grove that afternoon had it not rained.

Lan Norman distinguished himself as an expert cook for chickens. Lan has certainly had considerable experience.

An amendment to the society's constitution is now pending, to change the name of the grove to Sycamore Park.

Joe Riddell never spent a pleasanter day in his long residence on the creek, and he and his wife did all they could to contribute to the enjoyment of those present.

New features are to be added for the next annual meeting, one of which is the walking of a tight rope stretched from hill top to hill top on each side of the valley. Blute Adams is to secure the performer or do the act himself.

The Sunday School Convention.

A large number of the Burlington Sunday School attended the Sunday School Convention of the North Bend Association of Baptist, held with the church at Florence on Tuesday of last week. The attendance on the part of other Sunday schools and churches was not very large, and several of those who had been programmed to take part in the exercises, were absent, Revs. Hoover, McAtee and Quizzenberry being the only ministers to participate in the proceedings, but they were ably assisted by several laymen and the entire programme was disposed of in an interesting manner before adjournment.

Dr. B. A. Dulaney delivered a very neat address of welcome, and before the day had advanced very far, the hospitality of the Florence people was manifested in many ways that emphasized the doctor's address throughout.

The dinner, most excellent and sumptuous, was served in the church yard, which is nicely shaded, and the Florence people were untiring in their efforts to have everyone abundantly fed.

The Baptist and Methodist sisters joined hands in the preparation of the dinner for the occasion, and vied with eachother in making the day exceedingly pleasant for the visitors from other neighborhoods.

Pith of the Press.

With all his loquacity Blanco has never told who blew up the Maine. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Things are coming Secretary Alger's way now, but he does not seem pleased at it.—Chicago News Record.

The cry, "Remember the Maine," seems to have given place to "Keep the Philippines!"—Topeka Journal.

For a good man weighing 300 pounds General Shafter has become remarkably inconspicuous of late.—Savannah News.

Teddy Roosevelt has indicated his willingness to run for Governor. If the Republicans of New York are likewise willing the run will be duly made.—Pittsburg Times.

A feature of the thrilling display in New York Saturday was the parade of the newly organized fellowship of Secretary Alger and Governor Pingree.—Detroit Free Press.

If any one in the army merits severe punishment send him down to run for Congress against General Joe Wheeler in the Eighth Alabama District.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The quicker Alger signs a protocol with the people of this country the better it will be for his future political aspirations. But it is doubtful if they would sign.—Kansas City Times.

General Joe Wheeler has "fit into the war" and will be in hisseat in Congress again on the first Monday in December. He will be a bigger man than even the Speaker of the House.—Enquirer.

Senator Sherman is opposed to the United States keeping any of the territory it has conquered. But then the views of a statesman in private life are not important.—Ohio State Journal.

And now that Dewey has finished up the whole job at Manilla in the completest possible manner, for the first time direct cable communications with that interesting port is restored.—N. Y. Tribune.

Somebody should try to find the cave into which Foraker, Billy Mason, Thurston and the rest of the congressional jingoes retired and they can come out with safety.—Charleston News and Courier.

The men imprisoned in Santiago for complicity in the revolution must be released at once. Spain is not now their jailer. The United States is. Are we ready to punish Cubans for rebelling against our enemy?—N. Y. Journal.

In his letter to Chauncey M. Depew, Secretary Alger has succeeded in showing that the work devolving on the War Department in the conflict with Spain was much too great for the man who was selected to perform it.—Kansas City Star.

SOCIAL STUDIES.

The expensive wife usually has a pensive husband.

Men believe with their eyes and women with their ears.

Whenever foolish men get angry there is apt to be trouble.

Time and tide wait for no man —but it's different with some women.

Some men are so dignified that they never unbend till they are broke.

When a man has learned about one-third of the facts in a case he guesses at the rest.

You can't always measure a man's good deeds by the carriages in his funeral procession.

Trying to figure out a way to live without working is the hardest work some men ever engage in.

The deadly car stove is now enjoying its annual vacation and railway passengers are enjoying warm ice water.

When you see a girl swing a hammock in the darkest corner of a piazza and hang a whisk broom within reach that girl has had experience.

John Cudahy, the millionair pork packer, of Chicago, drew a check for $500,000, a few days ago, the last payment on a debt of $1,500,000 incurred in a disastrous pork deal a few years ago.

CHURCH NEWS.

Pineville is to have a new Christian church.

Russellville is building a new Baptist church.

Rev. W. F. Rogers has tendered his resignation to the Bardstown Christian church.

Rev. S. O. Mitchell has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church at Eminence.

Rev. W. W. Soates, of Flemingsburg, had the misfortune to fall and break one of his legs Friday.

Kentucky Conference will convene at Flemingsburg, Sept. 14th, Bishop Granberry presiding.

Rev. Dr. Chisholm, of Winchester, has been called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Natchez, Miss.

The North District Association of Old Baptists will meet the latter part of this month at Goshen church, Clark county.

Dr. B. N. Carroll, of Texas, or Dr. P. S. Henson, of Chicago, are suggested as suitable to succeed Dr. W. H. Whitsitt as President of the Baptist Theological Seminary.

At the Elkhorn Baptist Association held in Lexington, the report of the committee on State Missions showed 576 baptisms and 1,182 conversions during the past year.

The Hawesville Plaindealer says: "At the close of a country revival, last week, the converts were corralled and one who had been notoriously worldly was asked to pray. He hesitated for a few minutes and replied: 'I ain't got the cheek to ask the Lord for anything just yet, but if there is anybody here that's got anything agin him, I kin lick him in a second.'"

The Concord Baptist Association met with the church at this place Tuesday and Wednesday. The church prepared grounds in Ford's woods near town and the enormous crowds in attendance were entertained in royal style. The attendance was estimated to be at least three thousand, and never in the history of the association has the churches shown better and more gratifying reports. Mr. T. J. Jenkins was elected Moderator, having for over 25 years served in that capacity.—Owen News.

POLITICAL.

Tammany Hall has decided to make Dewey its Presidential candidate in 1900.

Congressman E. E. Settle will open his campaign for re-election at the court house in Paris on Monday.

J. C. W. Beckham, of Nelson county, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

The only nomination for Congress thus far made by the populistt in eastern Kentucky is that of D. N. Witt, of Estill, in the tenth district.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Grant county met at the office of W. W. Points, county Attorney on last Saturday afternoon, and adopted some pretty salty resolutions in regard to the manner in which they had been ignored by the State Election Commissioners in the matter of the appointment of Commissioners for this county. A copy of their resolutions was mailed by their secretary to Judge William S. Pryor Chairman, of the State Election Commission. Whether their action will produce any change in the board as appointed can not be told until the Commissioners meet again.—Courier.

The Democrats of Kentucky are more united to-day than they have been for several years, and it is not too early to predict the utter overthrow of the dominant party at the next State election. In an interview published in the Louisville Dispatch last week Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn expressed himself in a conservative way in regard to those of our party who went off after the god of gold at the last Presidential election. "He strenuously opposes making the financial question unnecessarily offensive to gold advocates who are willing to come back to the party, in the common phraseology, he opposes 'rubbing it in,' but insists upon an endorsement of that platform as an entirety, with no attempt at ameliorating or temporizing."—Owen Herald.

Things Are Not What They Seem.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

I thought like that "interested one" from Bellevue, the bridge over Woolper creek, at Grant's ford, would be built, "but all is not gold that glitters." "Things are not what they seem."

The Fiscal Court, by some slight of hand—some legerdemain, which would have done credit to Herman, the great magician, undid what was done, and left us involved in a labyrinth of perplexities.

That Petersburg Taxpayer, with his parsimonious cry, aroused the people to action. Hence our undoing.

We were much pleased when our friend, the Doctor, crouched upon his trail and with his voluminous and limitless verbosity dragged him over that rough free turnpike and left him a ruined mass.

While we were enjoying ourselves over this much needed corpse, we behold him come to life and pronouncing down upon us, nor did he let up until he had diagnosed our case and published our ailment to the people.

He accuses us of being young and kiddish-like, and advises us to go into some old, fogy-ridden community and absorb some ideas more matured. "Nothing more detestable does the earth produce than an ungrateful man."

We have been unselfishly burning the midnight oil, producing arguments intellectual, to advance the people of Boone as far along the line of cultivation as the people of Ohio and Indiana, for we know it has been said, "If you will tell one the kinp of roads in any vicinity he can tell you the kind of people who inhabit it."

As yet, notwithstanding our potent efforts to lead the people out of the wilderness of the dark ages, we get their curses instead of their gratitude; but we must submit, Doctor, until they become enlightened, when they will rise up and "call us blessed." We must not complain, Doctor, for you know it is written, "Complain not of your woes to the public, for they will no more pity you than the birds of prey will pity the wounded deer."

"Man wants but little here below, nor wants that little long." We wanted those bridges and accompaniments, but there are some who are so cruel as to say that we want something else. They mean politically, of course. Now, that is as false as it is unjust, for the Doctor and I know that we are as dead politically, as the memory of King Menes; yet the Doctor has one symptom which would indicate to an experienced judge, that if the official bee would spar around him, it would have no trouble to find an opening. That symptom is the great interest he takes in the "poor man;" but we who know him are aware that this great interest comes from his philanthropic nature. He, of course, is liable to err and does so when he takes the Hannacratic position that the price of commodities is controlled by supply and demand, which he says is the case with labor, which is conceded to be the greatest commodity on the market. In fact it is all that the "poor man" has to sell.

We also err when we tell the people that these desired improvements can be brought about with little cost. The cost would surely be immense, because it is certainly reasonable to believe that if an out-lay of $21,000, $7,000 a year, is invisible, an outlay must be great to make turnpikes and bridges to be seen of all men. Let us be frank, Doctor, let us be frank. DAMON.

Verona, Ky.

THE mail intended for the Burlington office is handled distressingly slow at some place on its route. The Cincinnati daily papers are some times two or three days getting here, while those from Louisville sometimes require two weeks. Letters are often delayed in the same manner, and last Monday evening no letters came to the Burlington office, which was a very inconvenience to the RECORDER, as is Monday evening's mail it generally gets from six to ten of its neighborhood reports. This trouble must receive attention.

THE newspapers of this country no longer have space to devote to accounts of the suffering of Cubans. They are now crowded to their full capacity with stories of the awful condition of the American soldiers in the home camps.

EX GOVERNOR MATHEWS, of Indiana, died of paralysis, Sunday morning. He was stricken on Saturday while delivering an address at an old settlers meeting. He was a very popular man in his State.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

THE most magnificent tomb in the world is deemed to be the palace Temple of Karnak, occupying an area of nine acres, or twice that of St. Peter's at Rome. The temple space is a poet's dream of gigantic columns, beautiful courts and wondrous avenues of sphinxes.

AT Danzig the Prussian government is about to establish a technical institute with 40 professors and as many instructors. Its specialties will be hydraulic engineering, shipbuilding, marine engines, electricity and agricultural chemistry. The object of the school is to apply science to the needs of the low-lying maritime districts of Prussia along the Baltic coast.

THE largest kitchen in the world is said to be in the Parisian store, the Bon Marche, which has 4,000 employes. The smallest kettle contains 100 quarts, and the largest 500. Each of the 50 roasting pans is big enough for 500 cutlets. When omelets are on the bill of fare, 7,800 eggs are used at once. For cooking alone six cooks and 100 assistants are always at the ranges.

A LOCOMOTIVE of the Pennsylvania railroad recently drew a train about three-quarters of a mile long, made up of 130 loaded coal cars, from Altoona to Harrisburg, 132 miles, in 12 hours. The weight of the train behind the tender was 5,212 tons, the locomotive weighing 104 tons. This is said to have been the heaviest train ever moved a long distance by a single locomotive.

A LETTER from Limeno, near Lucca, states that during a tremendous tempest which recently occurred in that town, five young men mounted the church tower and began to ring the bells, acting in accordance with the popular superstition that the sound of bells keeps off storms. Lightning suddenly struck the tower, killing two of the young men and injuring the other three.

THE entire collection of plate in the London mansion house is a wonderful sight. An idea of the wealth of it may be gathered from the fact that at the time of the opening of the mansion house in 1753, the plate which was deposited in the strong room cost $37,655. Every year since then each lord mayor has added to the collection to the amount of $1,500, and in addition there are many handsome presentation pieces.

IN the little town of Nasso, in Sweden, the firemen happen to be women, however paradoxical that sounds. The place is only a little village, and four enormous tubs constitute the "waterworks." One hundred and fifty women make up the fire department, and one of their duties consists in always keeping the tubs filled with water. The women are fine workers, it is said, and know how to handle a fire with as little confusion as possible.

WHEN Porto Rico becomes legally and formally a part of the United States' domain, it will be the most easterly possession of the United States. The most easterly point of the island is a degree and a half of longitude further east than any part of the state of Maine. The island of Guam, in the Pacific ocean, in longitude 145 degrees east, is far to the westward of the Island of Aiton, the most westerly possession of the United States at the present time.

GEORGE J. GOULD, head of the family of the late Jay Gould, and guardian of the millions left by the financier, will arrive in New York from Switzerland on September 4. Within a few days of that date Frank Jay Gould, the youngest of the children will come of age, and then according to the will of Jay Gould, the great fortune must be divided. That will mark the end of the estate left by the "wizard of Wall street." The securities will be sold, and each heir will get his share.

AN old countryman came into a small town in Arkansas a week or so ago. He lived in the woods, and his last visit to town had been made at the close of the civil war. The little country place was then full of soldiers, and now after 30 years the first thing the old man saw was a militia company marching to the depot on their way to the encampment. He looked in amazement and muttered audibly: "By gosh, them durned liars told me Lee had surrendered, and here's that dratted war still a-goin' on!"

JULES VERNE, in spite of the fact that so many of his books relate to doings in foreign parts, has traveled very little. When he is going to write a story, and has settled the scene of it, he sets to work to read up books relating to that particular part of the world. Perhaps it is just as well that he is not dependent as so many novelists are, on visiting different countries before describing them, as otherwise he would have been compelled to travel to the moon, and journey both in the depths of the sea and the bowels of the earth.

A MAJORITY of the generals in our army are well along in years. The ages of some of them are given as follows: Gen. Young, 58; Shafter, 62; Wheeler, 62; Hawkins will reach the retiring age of 64 this year; Kent is 62, Lawton 55 and Sumner, Bates and Chaffee each 56. These are the general officers in Cuba with Shafter. The age of the generals in camp at home is also advanced. Coppinger is 63, Brooke 60, Corbin 56, Sheridan 58, Henry 59, Graham 64, Wilson 51, Butler 62, and the one-legged Lee is 63. Wade is 55, the youngest of the major generals in the army.

WAS GREETED WITH CHEERS.

Adm. Schley Warmly Received on His Arrival in Washington—Thanked by President McKinley.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Rr. Adm. Winfield S. Schley reached Washington at 4:10 o'clock Friday afternoon over the Pennsylvania railroad. He was quickly noticed at most of the stations along the line and throughout the trip he was greeted with cheering crowds. When the train pulled into the depot here he found a compact mass of spectators which filled the depot and overflowed out into the train shed. The admiral and Mrs. Schley, when they appeared were greeted with cheers of "Hurrah for Schley." Everybody joined in the shouting and the depot attaches crowded about the admiral and insisted on a handshake. At the gates the crowd increased and amid deafening cheers the admiral and his wife, the former with her hat off, passed through two solid lines of people. A lieutenant and squad of police, with difficulty, cleared the passageway to the carriage which was in waiting. Through a mass of vehicles that had been drawn up by curious drivers, the hansom pulled into Pennsylvania avenue and proceeded directly to the Shoreham hotel. There were groups of cheerers all the way and a cavalcade of cyclists formed a voluntary esort. The admiral stayed only a few minutes at the hotel and then drove over to the navy department where, without any preliminaries, he reported directly to Acting Secretary Allen.

The latter accompanied him over to the white house, reaching there at 4:50. The president gave him a most cordial reception. The president thanked the admiral, as he had Adm. Sampson, for the success of that memorable engagement of July 3, and took occasion to say that it was that battle which brought about the surrender of Santiago. The president thanked him in behalf of himself and the nation for his brilliant services on that day and asked him to describe the battle, which the admiral did at length.

The president then entered into a discussion of the work of the Porto Rican commission to which the admiral has been appointed. He went over with him the general instructions which will guide the body in arranging for the evacuation of the Spanish from the island and other work. During most of the conference which occupied about an hour, Assistant Secretary of State Moore was present. On leaving the president the admiral drove to his hotel. He said his health had improved greatly. He will have another conference with Acting Secretary of the Navy Allen and probably early Saturday afternoon will leave for New York.

Many of the friends of the admiral and Mrs. Schley learned of their presence at the hotel and called during the evening. Although considerably better he is not well and said Friday that he expected to leave here Saturday to visit relatives in Maryland which probably will consume several days, after which he will go to Connecticut to remain until he is to start for Porto Rico. Some ship other than the Brooklyn, he said, would be selected for this purpose as the Brooklyn was about to undergo needed repairs.

The admiral during the evening talked briefly of some of the principal incidents of the fight which led to the destruction of Cervera's squadron and of some other pertinent matters of interest at this time, new features of which he said were recurring to him as time passed by. He said:

"It is my opinion that the Spanish admiral might have escaped with possibly one or two of his ships had he adopted different tactics in coming out of the harbor. Had he diverted the course of his ships sending some of them east and others to the west it is my belief that he might have escaped with one or possibly two of the vessels. Such a course naturally would have compelled us to separate our fleet and some of Cervera's ships might have been able to have reached Havana."

Gov. Black's Demand.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Gov. Black, of New York, arrived Friday night. He says: "I am here to demand that the government turn over to the state immediately all of New York's soldiers. We will not allow them to rot where they are. We will take them to Fire Island, feed, nurse, shelter and clothe them at our own expense."

Roosevelt and Alger Shake.

MONTAUK POINT, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Col. Roosevelt arrived here, and, after visiting his men, called on Secretary Alger at Gen. Wheeler's headquarters. The secretary shook hands with Roosevelt, and for five minutes the two stood talking together. Relations seemed of the most cordial character.

The Cruisers St. Paul and St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The navy department has ordered the cruisers St. Louis and St. Paul to the League Island navy yards, Philadelphia, where they will be restored to their condition as liners and returned to the American line, from which they were chartered.

Willing to Stay in the Service.

FERNANDINA, Fla., Aug. 27.—The report that the men of the 6th O. V. I. desire to be mustered out is false. The regiment is willing to abide with the decision of the war department.

WITH SUPPLIES.

Plenty of Provisions Arrive at Cienfuegos and Havana.

Gr at Animation Among Tobacco Buyers at Sagua—Leaf Tobacco in Santa Clara Sold at From $15 to $30 Per Hundred Pounds.

HAVANA, Aug. 26.—The British steamer Trayan, from Jamaica, arrived at Cienfuegos Thursday with 900 tons of provisions for the Spanish army. The steamer Brilliant left with 100 passengers, but without cargo. It was expected Thursday. It is reported that she is chartered to sail from Kingston on the 1st of September with provisions and passengers for Cienfuegos. Wednesday night the German steamer Lydia from New York, arrived. She carried 25 passengers and a general cargo. There have also arrived here the Norwegian steamer Franklin from Key West with provisions and 40 passengers, the Nassau the English schooner Clarence with passengers; from London the steamer Klondike, with pork, flour, meat and corn wheat. The steamer Clinton, with Miss Clara Barton, of the American Red Cross society, has also arrived with provision for the society.

It is reported that Gen. Blanco will pardon several political prisoners in Matanzas.

Reports from Pinar del Rio say that the suspension of hostilities comes agreeably to the insurgent, as they were entirely without clothing and were obliged to divide into small groups, it being impossible to find provisions for all.

Excessive rains have caused the rivers in the Pinar del Rio province to overflow, making the roads impassable.

Reports from Sagua announce that there is great animation among the tobacco buyers. There are daily arrivals from Havana of dealers who offer $14 for 100 pounds of Remedios tobacco.

Reports from Santa Clara province say that leaf tobacco is sold in packages at from $15 to $20 per 100 pounds. At Vega de Palama 200 hundred bales weighing 163 pounds net sold at $40 each. Others of better quality weighing 137 pounds net brought from $45 to $47 each. At Calajuani over 300 bales from the fertile Vega of Baldomero grau sold at $53 and $54.

The Havana municipality has agreed to request the colonial secretary of the treasury to allow the importation of cattle into the island free of duty because of the scarceness of cattle and the high prices which prevail. Eggs are sold at 25 cents each.

The arrival of many vessels has given the ports and the wharves almost their normal aspect. Nevertheless sufficient provisions have not yet arrived to supply Havana, let alone the interior towns. Although there is bread enough for all there is not the same abundance as in normal times, nor is the price normal.

Striking Miners Return to Work.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 26.—The 700 miners and laborers employed in the Audenried and Honeybrook strippings of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, who went on strike Tuesday, returned to work Thursday morning.

Bound for Santiago.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The United States transport Vigilancia passed Sandy Hook at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. She has the 23d regiment of colored infantry, from Topeka, Kan., on board, bound for Santiago.

STAR POINTER—THE WORLD'S FASTEST HORSE.

On August 18, at Joliet, Ill., Star Pointer paced a mile in 1:59½, lowering the Ingalls track record of 2:02¾, made two years ago by Joe Patchen. It probably was the greatest achievement of the noted pacer. The track was estimated to be at least a second slow, and a chilly wind swept across the course. Despite these unfavorable conditions Star Pointer came within a quarter of a second of equaling his world's record of 1:59¼, made twice under conditions absolutely perfect. As it was, he paced the fastest mile ever made in Illinois, and the third fastest in the world, the others also being made by himself.

THE PEACE BOARD SELECTED.

Names of the Men Who Will Settle Up Our Affairs With Spain—Two of Them Are From Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—These are the American members of the commission which will meet in Paris to decide the future of the Philippines:

William R. Day, of Ohio.
Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota.
William P. Frye, of Maine.
Whitelaw Reid, of New York.
Edward Douglass White, of Louisiana.

Mr. Day is the Canton "country lawyer" who in the past year has developed the qualities of a statesman.

Mr. Davis is a United States senator from Minnesota, has been governor of his state, and is now serving a second term in the senate, which will expire with the death of this congress in March next.

Mr. Frye is United States senator from Maine, has been in public life since 1861, when he was elected to the legislature of his native state, and is now recognized as one of the ablest members of the greatest law-making body in the world.

Mr. Reid, like Judge Day, is an Ohioan, although he has been a citizen of New York for many years. He is now nominal editor of the New York Tribune, has been a leader in public life for many years, and became the associate of Horace Greeley and was a candidate for vice president of the United States. Mr. White is associate justice of the supreme court, to which honorable position he was appointed by President Cleveland in 1894.

MANY HORSES STAMPEDED.

The 1st Texas Cavalry Will Likely Spare a Week Hunting a Drove of 800 of Their Horses Near Fort Houston.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 26.—The 1st Texas cavalry regiment was hard at work Thursday and will likely be kept in the saddle all this week hunting a drove of 800 of their horses which stampeded while being driven through from Ft. Sam Houston to the target range for pasture.

Several accidents and runaways were caused as the frightened animals dashed through the streets, over fences and even through open houses, and people fled for their lives in all directions. Nobody was seriously hurt, though several hacks and carriages, truck wagons, etc., were badly trampled.

Another Aspirant for the America's Cup.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The duke of Abruzzi, nephew of King Humbert, of Italy, and an officer in the Italian navy, has commissioned Mr. G. L. Watson, the English yacht designer, to design and have built on the Clyde a yacht 90 feet long at the water line in time for trial spins with the Shamrock, the yacht with which Sir Thomas J. Lipton will compete for the America's cup.

Big Reduction in the Volunteer Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Orders were issued Thursday to muster out the following: Fourth Pennsylvania infantry, 6th Illinois infantry, 2d Wisconsin infantry, three Louisiana light batteries, two Rhode Island light batteries, two Iowa light batteries, two Oregon light batteries, 1st Wisconsin light battery, two troops of Kentucky cavalry, light battery A of Missouri light artillery, 27th light battery of Indiana artillery and light batteries A, B and C of Pennsylvania light artillery.

The Biggest Bicycle in the World.

A German has just completed a bicycle that has one wheel nine feet in diameter. Two people ride it—one on each side of the monster wheel. It runs as easily as a smaller bicycle because of its scientific construction. The scientific formula of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the reason of its great virtues in making the weak strong, and in curing most of the every-day ailments of men and women. If your health is poor, try a bottle.

The Fighting Seventy-First.

Out in Salt Lake City, when a paper speaks of "the fighting Seventy-first," one is in doubt whether the Regt refers to the regiment now in Santiago or some man's latest matrimonial venture.—Yonkers Statesman.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

A bargain is something you don't want, bought with money you can't afford to spend, because you think it is worth more than it cost.—Tit-Bits.

Liberty is sometimes misconstrued to mean the right of some to take away the rights of others.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED—IN QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. NEW YORK, N. Y.

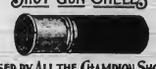
Feed Your Nerves

Upon rich, pure, nourishing blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and you will be free from those spells of despair, those sleepless nights and anxious days, those gloomy, deathlike feelings, those sudden starts at mere nothings, those dyspeptic symptoms and blinding headaches. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done this for many others—it will cure you.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1: six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure Sick Headache. 25c.



"SIMPSON'S" PRINTS

WASH PERFECTLY.

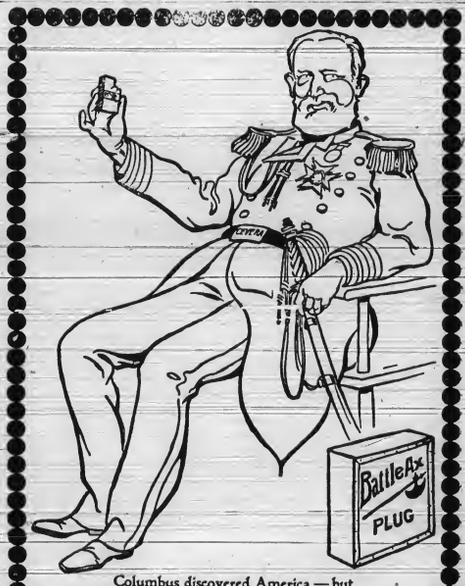
...Ask your dealer to let you see them...

SHOOT WINCHESTER LOADED SHOT GUN SHELLS

USED BY ALL THE CHAMPION SHOTS.

FREE. SEND NAME ON A POSTAL CARD. FOR 132 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
100 WINCHESTER AVE. NEW HAVEN, CONN



ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small size, 25c; large size, 50c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

CATARRH Sufferers are immediately relieved by using our INHALATION HOME TREATMENT and by continued use effect a cure. A trial will convince. Complete outfit by mail 50c. OZONE LABORATORY, 20 W. Jackson St., Chicago.

The Best BOOK on the WAR BEAUTIFULLY bound and superbly illustrated (price $2), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 EACH to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 5c.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE with Dropsy, Constipation, Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, can surely be cured in 6 to 24 weeks by C. A. Bush, M. D. Consultation by letter free. Address Salisbury Pharmacy, Corry, Pa.

Columbus discovered America—but I have discovered BATTLE AX!

There is a satisfied—glad I've got it—expression on the faces of all who discover the rich quality of

BattleAx PLUG

It is an admirable chew fit for an Admiral.

In no other way can you get as large a piece of as good tobacco—for 10 cents.

Remember the name when you buy again.

"WELL BRED, SOON WED." GIRLS WHO USE SAPOLIO ARE QUICKLY MARRIED.

LASTING PEACE.

The Czar of Russia Makes a Proposition for an International Conference.

PEACE AMONG THE POWERS WANTED.

A Termination of the Progressive Increase in the Armaments Proposed by the Czar.

With Russia in the Lead in Such a Step Germany, France and the Other Nations May Follow—Views of Some European Papers.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The czar's proposition for an international conference for the purpose of securing real and lasting peace among the powers and the termination of the progressive increase in armaments, as conveyed in a note from Count Muravioff, the Russian foreign minister, to the foreign diplomats at St. Petersburg, is likely to produce a sensation throughout Europe, and coming from such a quarter and with such evident sincerity of purpose, it is likely to have important effects.

There is no doubt that with Russia taking the lead in such a step, Germany, France and the other nations will be ready to follow.

ROME, Aug. 29.—The czar's note has made a profound impression here. Some of the newspapers applaud, while others greet the communication with reserve or distrust.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Daily Graphic Monday morning referring to the proposal of Emperor Nicholas, says:

"It would be idle to attempt to ignore the many and grave difficulties standing in the way of the attainment of the czar's wishes; but it can not be possible to doubt the sincerity of the magnanimous proposal."

The Standard says, speaking editorially of the czar's proposal:

"In England at least respect and sympathy will be felt for the proposal. It is a conception well worthy of the young sovereign. It is painfully obvious that there are enormous difficulties to be overcome which it is possible the czar in his ardor and humane enthusiasm has not maturely considered. It is a vision which has occurred to many minds, but has always had to be dismissed as a mere dream. The nations are not likely to cast away the sword unless they have a better warrant than paper protocols and conventions. Moreover, the moment does not seem altogether propitious. New armed nations are arising in Asia and America whom it might not be easy to convince of the safety and desirability of abandoning the enterprise on which they have embarked with so much energy."

Enumerating the many obstacles to the attainment of the object sought, the Standard suggests that the czar has the matter largely in his own hands, adding:

"If Russia would abandon her menacing and aggressive policy in China and elsewhere, the era of universal peace would be perceptibly nearer."

ROME, Aug. 29.—The belief here is that the czar first obtained Austrian and German assent to the conference. The papers admit the extraordinary importance of the document and pay tribute to the humanitarian motives.

The Tribuna thinks Germany and Italy will consent but "France will disapprove of her allys' action.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—The Figaro believes that the conference will assemble, because the czar would not have risked a refusal. It believes, however, that the aspiration is chimerical.

The Gaulois thinks the proposal a natural one from Russia, because the immense armament imposed upon her is the principal obstacle to her development. The Gaulois says:

"France would not gain what Russia and the other powers would by disarmament. Universal peace has been often proposed, but never realized."

Le Journal thinks the conference, instead of realizing the czar's hopes, will rather accentuate national antagonism, if it does not lead to demands totally inimical to the world's peace.

Murdered Man's Body Found.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 29.—The body of Toney Pastor was found in a lonely ravine ten miles east of here at Davisville, Sunday afternoon, with five bullet holes in it. He was murdered Friday afternoon, supposed by John Nuch, who had threatened to kill Pastor on account of his affection for Nuch's wife. Nuch has been arrested and lodged in jail.

President Has a Restful Day.

SOMERSET, Pa., Aug. 29.—President McKinley came to Somerset to pass a restful day and he has certainly accomplished that purpose. Providence provided fine weather—in fact, the most delightful day of the season here, and the president took advantage of it.

K. T. Meeting Postponed.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 29.—The meeting of the grand commandery, Ohio Knights Templars, here has been postponed from September 7 to September 14 on account of the national G. A. R. encampment at Cincinnati.

EX-GOV. MATTHEWS DEAD.

He Passed Away Peacefully Surrounded by His Wife and Other Members of His Immediate Family.

WINGATE, Ind., Aug. 29.—At 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the quiet Meharry homestead, where he was taken immediately after his sudden affliction, ex-Gov. Claude Matthews passed away peacefully, surrounded by his wife and all the other members of his immediate family.

There was prayer service, accompanied by the singing of hymns, at the bedside of the dying ex-governor. Mrs. Matthews was very much affected, and stated that she would give anything in the world if her husband would manifest by a single word his faith in Jesus. About 3 o'clock the minister in the course of the services asked the dying man if he believed in Jesus. The answer, as plainly as any one could articulate it, was "Yes." The three physicians regarded this answer as miraculous, as all agreed that the particular part of the brain affected by the paralysis was that governing speech and that the ex-governor would probably never have talked had he lived. It was the only word he spoke after he was stricken. He immediately lapsed into a profound coma from which he did not recover before he passed away at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Matthews started from Wingate Monday morning with the remains of her husband and will arrive at Clinton, Ind., at 1:30 in the afternoon.

From Clinton the party will go direct to Hazel Bluffar, the home of the dead ex-governor.

Out of respect to the expressed wish of Gov. Matthews the body will not be taken to Indianapolis to lie in state at the capitol. The funeral will occur Wednesday afternoon at an hour to be hereafter determined, and will be held in the beautiful grove adjoining the cemetery, as there is no church or other edifice in Clifton of sufficient size to accommodate the immense crowd that will desire to attend the funeral.

Monday the mayor of Clinton will issue a proclamation to the merchants and others of the city calling upon them to close their places of business Wednesday so that every body may be given an opportunity to attend the funeral of their beloved fellow townsman.

While the arrangements for the funeral have not all been completed it is understood that the services in the grove will be conducted by Rev. F. W. Sanders, of Clinton, assisted by Rev. J. A. Milburn, of Second Presbyterian church, of Indianapolis, who was Gov. Matthew's pastor during his eight years' residence in the capital city. The remains will be interred in the family lot in the cemetery near Clinton, where his son, who died while attending the Atlanta exposition, is buried.

Mrs. Matthews is bearing up surprisingly well under the strain of her terrible affliction, but friends fear she will suffer collapse after the funeral.

Mrs. Matthews received hundreds of telegrams and messages of condolence Sunday. Gov. Mount expressed the sorrow of the state at the sudden death of the ex-governor and requested that the remains be brought to Indianapolis to lie in state at the capitol. In this he was joined by Mayor Taggart and other prominent citizens. To the governor and mayor Mrs. Matthews replied that Mr. Matthews had often said to his family that when he died he wanted no pomp nor parade, and would not like to have his body lie in state. [illegible] and more unostentatious arrangements had already been made for the funeral. Gov. Mount and staff will attend the funeral at Clinton and a special train will leave Indianapolis Wednesday morning to carry state officials and others.

Gov. Matthews was born in Bath county, Kentucky, December 14, 1845. He left Kentucky in 1865 and settled in Vermillion county, Indiana, where he had a farm of 2,000 acres. The governor served a term in the legislature in 1876. In 1893 he was nominated and elected secretary of state and in 1896 was chosen governor.

Soldiers' Train Wrecked.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 29.—A wreck of a train bearing soldiers to Huntsville is reported on the Louisville & Nashville near here. One man is said to have been killed and many injured. The troops are said to be the 69th New York en route from Fernandina to Huntsville.

Two enlisted men of the 69th New York volunteers were instantly killed, one fatally and six seriously injured in a wreck which occurred on the Louisville and Nashville near here Sunday night.

Winnie Davis' Condition.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 29.—The condition of Miss Winnie Davis, who is critically ill here, was slightly improved Sunday. At a consultation Saturday by Dr. John A. Wilcox and Dr. Bache, of New York, her illness was pronounced to be gastritis. Prayers were offered Sunday for her recovery in the Episcopal and Catholic churches here.

The Report Denied.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—The report that the French armored cruiser Bruix had foundered in the Indian ocean was without foundation. The Bruix is now at Saigon, capital of French Cochin-China.

RIOT AT CAVITE.

Natives Fire On Three Americans Who Had Been Sent on an Errand.

Trooper Hudson Was Killed and Corporal Anderson Mortally Wounded—Four Troopers Wounded—Native Loss Four Killed, Several Wounded.

MANILA, Aug. 27.—On Wednesday a corporal and two troopers of Battery B, of the Utah artillery, after disembarking at Cavite, were sent on an errand.

The natives immediately began firing. Dismounted cavalry were sent to quell the disturbance, but the natives misunderstood the movement, and the firing became general.

Trooper Hudson was killed and Corporal Anderson mortally wounded.

Troopers Laydon, Nachbar, Connolly and Doyle, of the 4th cavalry, were wounded.

Four natives were killed and several wounded.

Gen. Aguinaldo has expressed his regret at the encounter and promises to punish the offenders.

No further trouble is expected.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says:

Gen. Aguinaldo, interviewed at Becoor, declared that he was anxious to support the authority of the United States in these islands and that he had persuaded the other rebel leaders to accept his views.

It is his desire now that the insurgent army be disbanded and return to the provinces.

He complained of a lack of honesty and military talent in the rebel leaders, and said he has not an army, but only an unruly rabble.

The general seemed dispirited. He added that he trusts the United States will form a free and liberal government, and says that the Americans can count on his co-operation.

The rebellion is spreading in the south. Sorsogon has fallen into the hands of the rebels, five Spaniards being killed in the assault on the place.

HE FAVORS INVESTIGATION.

Secretary of State Sherman Says That if Secretary Alger Is Guilty He Should Be Removed From Office.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Washington Times Friday morning prints the following interview with ex-Secretary Sherman in regard to the conduct of the war and the responsibility for the present sickness and death among the soldiers:

"As you doubtless know, I was opposed to the war programme. But, having begun the war, we should have conducted it in such a way as to have protected our own soldiers."

Mr. Sherman said that the president is not responsible for neglect or misconduct on the part of subordinates in the departments. The president, he said, had been diligent, active and patriotic in the conduct of the war, and he felt confident that had congress withheld its harsh declaration, the president and the state department would have secured by negotiations with Spain the substantial independence of Cuba.

When asked as to the course that should be pursued in order to get at the truth, Mr. Sherman said: "The president has power to order an investigation, which can be conducted by a board of inquiry, to be appointed by him. Such a board would not have executive powers, and its findings would have a moral, rather than a judicial influence. If the board found that American soldiers had needlessly suffered and died because of the neglect or incompetence of any official of the government, the president, acting upon the verdict rendered, could remove that official from office. That would be the extent of the punishment under such conditions. If, however, the president does not order an investigation, congress holds the power to impeach the secretary of war and can inflict a punishment that will mean everlasting disgrace in case of conviction. In that case the president would be held equally responsible with the secretary for not having ordered an inquiry promptly upon the presentation of charges of so serious a character. In my opinion the president will find that he will be compelled to order an investigation in self-defense. If the [illegible] war has been guilty of incompetence and negligence, as has been charged, Mr. McKinley can not afford to sustain him. Gen. Miles is a soldier, and, like most soldiers, is a straightforward, truthful man. He is no more afraid of an issue than he is of an Indian, and when he comes back to Washington and tells what he knows, an investigation of the war department will be inevitable, particularly as he will be corrobated by other officers who will be entitled to equal consideration, even if they are not of so exalted rank."

MERRITT'S AIDS IN THE AMERICAN RULE OF MANILA.

OUR PEACE COMMISSIONERS.

London Times Says They Are Strong in Personnel and Represents President McKinley's Colonial Policy.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Times Saturday morning, referring editorially to the American peace commission, says: "The commission is strong in personnel and in policy and must be taken to represent President McKinley's concurrence in the inclination of the republican party towards a policy of colonial expansion. The nomination of Mr. White may be due to the president's resolve not to ignore the interests and susceptibilities of the Church of Rome in the final settlement of the Philippines.

"If it be true that President McKinley is, as he seems to be, resolved to hold something more than Manila, the logic of the situation will probably lead him in the end to the occupation of the whole archipelago."

Files a Petition in Bankruptcy.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 27.—Frederick T. Day, who was president of the Plankinton bank, which failed in 1893, Friday filed a petition in bankruptcy, asking to be declared a bankrupt and for a discharge from his debts. Day owes $503,839.81, and there is, according to the petition, absolutely not one cent for the creditors.

The Mystery Unsolved.

MIDDLETOWN, O., Aug. 27.—Will Connor, who was found dead in the Big Four railroad yards Saturday morning with his skull crushed, died at 2 o'clock Friday morning without having gained consciousness. The mystery may never be cleared as to how he sustained the injuries that cost him his life. Connor was 27 and of a highly respectable family, one of the oldest in the city. The funeral will probably be held Sunday morning from Holy Trinity church.

PEACE COMMISSION AIDS.

John Moore, Massachusetts, to Be Secretary, and J. R. MacArthur, New York, Assistant Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The following attaches of the peace commission have been selected and will be appointed by the president: John Moore, of Massachusetts, now assistant secretary of state, to be secretary of the commission, and J. R. MacArthur, of New York, assistant secretary. Mr. MacArthur was formerly first secretary of the United States legation at Madrid, and is now on special duties at the state department. He has had considerable experience in work of a diplomatic nature.

Health Condition at Santiago.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Gen. Lawton reports the health condition of his troops at Santiago Friday as follows: Total sick, 577; total fever, 403; total new cases, 15; total returned to duty, 5; deaths, 7.

Deaths at Fort McPherson.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 27.—Privates Henry T. Burton, Company G, 1st Georgia; Charles Kemper, Battery K, 5th artillery, and Harry King, a recruit for the 9th infantry, died Friday of typhoid fever at Fort McPherson.

TERRIBLE TALE.

Brain of a Dead Soldier Taken Out and Replaced With a Handful of Straw.

His Intestines Also Removed and Stomach Filled With Hay—An Official Investigation Likely to Reveal the Greatest Scandal in History.

CAMP THOMAS, CHICKAMAUGA PARK, Ga., Aug. 26.—The horrors of the Chickamauga hospitals grow. Gen. Breckinridge will probably insist upon a congressional investigation, which will reveal one of the greatest scandals in the history of the army.

When an official investigation shall have been made of the causes leading up to the sickness and death of so many soldiers of the volunteer army at Chickamauga park it will reveal a degree of negligence and ignorance on the part of officers and surgeons that is hardly to be credited as having occurred in the United States of America during the close of the nineteenth century.

Men with raging fevers were sent to these places and compelled in many cases to lie on the ground on blankets, while the rain beat in through the poorly protected tents.

There were few surgeons and fewer nurses, and the poor fellow who became sick was in the main left to his own care, with an occasional visit from the surgeon. There was little ice to be had and ice baths were of rare occurrence.

In one division hospital for several weeks there were only two temperature thermometers. The sick were allowed to lie in unprotected tents for hours until physicians could have an opportunity to examine them and decide whether they ought to be admitted to hospitals or not, and in some cases men with fever were compelled to wait for 24 hours after "giving up," as they called it, and they were always kept going as long as they could before receiving attention.

The surgeons themselves state that their supplies were inadequate, the accomodations illy equipped, the nurses and attendants few and inexperienced, and, as one surgeon said:

"It is a wonder that every fever patient did not die."

It is stated that the department did not know of the situation for some time. Surgeon General Sternberg's order as to sanitation had been grossly ignored, and requisitions for medical supplies were sent to his department with snail-like rapidity.

Men suffered and died for lack of medicines and proper attention. The whole system seems to have been totally wrong and inhuman, and, as a result, the people of the country are simply appalled at the revelations made, and when the whole truth is known, in all the sickening details, the public will wonder that the soldiers at Chickamauga park have been able to escape as well as they have.

George A. Echle, member of Company L, 9th Pennsylvania, says that his command has been shamefully neglected; that the sick have not been supplied with ice, but have been allowed to almost famish in the hot sun. The men have received wines, brandies, pillow cases and such things from relatives and friends at home, but they would gladly have given them all for an adequate supply of ice.

Echle says that a sink has existed in the camp of his command close up to the mess tent, and that flies and insects from this reeking mass of filth and putrefication would alight in the food as the men were eating.

About a week or two ago a private in the 6th Ohio, an estimable and reliable man, wrenched his knee in town and split the bone. He was picked up by a wagon laden with hospital supplies in charge of a surgeon. The latter knew the private was in pain and badly crippled, yet he never vouchsafed a word of inquiry or offered to render him the least assistance. The wagon was driven to its destination in an open field. The injured man was ordered out and left several miles away from his camp in an open field, whence in great suffering he found his way to his regiment.

It appears that some of the medical officers, in the "interest of science of surgery," are cutting up bodies of soldiers, or rather holding summary autopsies without the consent of the relatives of the dead men, and over the protests of their friends.

A few days ago the body of a soldier who died of meningitis was taken in to Chattanooga. When the body was uncovered it was found that the man's skull had been lifted and that his brain had been taken out and replaced with a handful of hay. His intestines had also been removed and the stomach filled with hay. This autopsy was performed without the consent of the man's people.

Peace Commissioners in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, and Senator Frye, of Maine, who have been selected for peace commissioners, arrived at the white house a little before 10 o'clock Thursday and immediately began a conference with the president over the coming labors of the commission.

Hurt By a Bull.

DELPHOS, Ind., Aug. 26.—William Lowisen, a farmer four miles south of here, was perhaps fatally injured by a bull.

CAUGHT AMERICAN BRIDES.

Two of Adm. Cervera's Officers Are Reported to Be Engaged to Two of Maryland's Fair Daughters.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A letter received in Wasnington announced the alleged engagement of two fair daughters of Maryland to two of Adm. Cervera's officers. The two officers who will take to Spain with them American brides, the letter said, are Lieut. Enrique Lacievera and Juan Cavanillas. The first named would make Miss Clara W. Duff, of Baltimore, his bride, it was said, and that Lieut. Cavanillas had won the heart and the promise of her hand from Miss Mamie Hays, of Annapolis, whose hospitable home has entertained the Spanish officer almost constantly since their arrival.

CAMP NEAR KNOXVILLE, TENN

It Is Rapidly Filling Up With Troops From Chickamauga—Gen. Roe Tenders His Resignation to Secretary Alger.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 27.—Camp Poland, near this city, is rapidly filling up with troops from Chickamauga. The 15th Indiana, 2d Ohio and 1st West Virginia have arrived. All troops are unloaded from side tracks within a short distance of the camp and not brought into the city. The health of the 7,000 men now here is excellent and those sick in the hospital are improving, owing to the change of air and water.

Gen. Roe, commanding the 1st brigade, 2d division, 3d corps, who is now here, will tender his resignation to Secretary of War Alger at once, wishing to retire to private life.

Limitation of Whisky Production.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 27.—The promoters of the scheme to limit the production of Kentucky whisky to five years are much encouraged. J. B. Thompson, of Harrodsburg, who has drawn up the official agreement, will be here Monday with the papers, and a tour of the state to visit the interested parties will begin. It is proposed to get the agreement in shape for the distillers' meeting, to be held at the Galt house on September 29. It will then be brought to the notice of the representative producers of the state. The production in the limited scheme is calculated at 357,350 barrels annually, or 16,790,000 gallons.

Favors Expansion.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Aug. 27.—E. L. Semans, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church of this city, is an ardent advocate of territorial expansion as far as the Philippines are concerned. He says it is the duty of the United States to bring about a reform of the customs in the Philippines and to civilize the inhabitants. He says the hand of God is discernable in this war and that the United States should not shrink in its duty.

Gen. Shafter Leaves Santiago.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Aug. 27.—Gen. Shafter and his staff sailed Thursday morning on the United States transport Mexico. His departure was not marked by special incident. On arriving at Montauk Point he will go with Maj. Miley to Washington to meet President McKinley.

The 23d Kansas to Be Mustered Out.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The 23d Kansas volunteer infantry, now at Middletown, Pa., has been ordered to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where they will be mustered out and the 1st New Hampshire volunteer infantry, now at Lexington, Ky., to Concord, N. H., to be mustered out.

The New Chilian Minister.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Senor Vicuna, the new minister from Chili to this country, was accompanied to the white house Friday by Secretary Day and presented to the president. There was the usual exchange of diplomatic greetings incident to the reception of a new minister.

Detailed as Interpreter.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Capt. Juan S. Hart, 1st regiment, United States volunteer infantry, has been detailed to duty as interpreter to the American military commissioners in Cuba and has been ordered from Galveston to Washington, reporting to Maj. Gen. Wade.

Matthews Regains Consciousness.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 27.—Ex-Gov. Matthews was slightly improved Friday, having regained consciousness Friday morning, but his condition is still serious. His wife and daughter arrived Thursday night from Clinton. He is still at the home of Isaac Meharry.

White Accepts the Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Secretary Day, at 5 o'clock, announced Justice White, of supreme court, has accepted commissionership; that all now have accepted and the peace commission stands completed. Official announcement will follow.

Mrs. D. A. Botkin, who is accused of the murder of Mrs. J. P. Dunning and Mrs. J. Deane, at Dover, Del., by sending them a box of poisoned candy, now occupies comfortable quarters in the matron's ward at the city prison San Francisco. Her husband, who is working hard in her behalf, is allowed to visit her.

Secretary Alger, while at Montauk, will confer with Gen. Wheeler concerning the visit of the president to Camp Wikoff. The visit of the president probably will not take place until after the arrival of Gen. Shafter.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Aug. 31, 1898.

Advertising Rates.

One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Erlanger.

T. D. Finnell is still sick at his folks in Georgetown.

Miss Blanch Conner is the guest of Miss Clara Morelli, of Lexington pike.

The German Medicine Co., closed a successful engagement at this place Saturday night.

Mr. Wm. M. Conner, of Indiana, is here on a visit to his friends, and looking after his property.

Good Faith Lodge conferred the Master Degree on three candidates, Saturday night, in their usual impressive custom, after which a grand banquet took place in the large hall. Lodges from Burlington, Bellevue, Union, Dayton, Newport, Ludlow and Ohio were well represented.

Hathaway.

Aug. 29—J. D. McNeely has the asthma.

M. W. Neal has purchased a new buggy.

Several from here attended the Lawrenceburg fair, last Saturday.

Miss Marietta Riley was visiting in this neighborhood last week.

Elmore Ryle has returned from Missouri, where he has been for several months

Mrs. Inez Couley is with us again, after several weeks' visit to her brother in Missouri.

Harvey Marshall, of the Waterloo neigiborhood, was visiting his son, S. H. Marshall last Thursday.

Mrs. Etta Clements has sold her portion of land that she got of her father's estate to her brother for $1,500.

G. I. Smith and wife and Mrs. Cynthia Mason attended the Sunday school convention at Florence, last Tuesday.

The Hathaway band called on E. R. Smith, last Tuesday night and furnished some excellent music, with which he was very much delighted.

Bellevue.

Mrs. Hattie Davies is the guest of Jasper Sullivan.

Cyrus Kelly, who has been confined to his bed for a week or more is convalescent.

James Setters is done threshing, and will now resume his milling operations at the old stand.

Mrs. Josie Platt has ornamented her property with a new yard fence, and reroofed the house.

Dr. Rucker, professor of mathematics at Georgetown College, was here recently in the interest of the college.

Mrs. Michael Clore is seen on our streets in her buggy. Mrs. Ann Wiugate is still making her home with her.

A recent letter from Clayton Rogers reports that he is entirely well and anticipates coming home soon in order to start to school

Mrs. Mary Rice has recently returned from Indiana, accompanied by her daughter. Mrs. Agnes Spacy, who is visiting her brothers and sisters at this place.

John J. Walton shipped on the evening of the 25th, 50 head of as nice hogs as it has been our privilege to see. Hardly one year old and averaging near 300 pounds.

Dr. Joe, of your town, was an eyewitness of a game of croquet in which the writer was actively engaged, even so much so that the perspiration ran too freely. Joe seemed to enjoy it as well as the participants.

Mrs. Josie Grant had a very unwelcome guest in her kitchen, while she was waiting at the front of the house for her husband to come to supper. The canine cleaned everything from the table, even licking the dishes. Still, "My dog never leaves home."

Mrs. Lawell has returned from Lexington, where she had been for some time ministering to her mother in her last days. Her mother, Mrs. Willet, died on the 22d inst, and was buried on the day following. Deceased was a resident of East Beud, this county, for a quarter of a century, but her last years were spent where she died at the age of 84, having been a professor and follower of her Lord for forty years. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

Walton.

VISITORS.—Miss Mamie Stephens, of Covington, to Miss Madge Holder; Misses Denia and Jallia Merhoney, of Louisville, to their aunt, Mrs. Thos. J. Walsh; Mrs. Fannie Beyland, of Covington, to Mrs. J. C. Beyland; Mr. and Mrs. Natheu Clements, to Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Northcutt; Herman W. Arnold, of Covington, to his grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Arnold; Miss Margaret Laws, of Yarnelton, to her uncle, Mr. Geo. Laws, of High street.

BEEN HAVING A GOOD TIME.—Misses Julia Adams and Sallie Herndon, at Williamstown; Misses Ethel Waltz and Ettie Schultz, at Covington and Milldale; Mabel Edwards and Matilda Camp, at Indianapolis; Messrs E. W. Benson, Karl Neumeister and A. M. Edwards, at the great Knights of Pythias celebration in Indianapolis. Miss Myrtle Northcutt has been having a delightful time with her cousin Gertrude Curley. Miss Gertrude Van Leuven, at her aunt's. Mrs. Philip Rist, of Covington, has had a most enjoyable rest at the home of Mrs. Jacob Klpp.

Mr. Willie Blackburn has moved into the residence portion of the Walton Academy, and will board pupils from other localities.

Two of the soldiers boys are home on a furlough, Estill Holder and Boone Finnell. The former is too sick to be out and the latter will not be fit for duty for a month. As Joe Gleun would put it, Boone looks as though he had been systematically starved into a very feeble condition. The papers state that McKinley and Alger profess to desire an investigation. What will it amount to? A kaloomine of the most finished description. The President will stand by the war Secretary to the last—"birds of a feather flock together."

Union.

Mr. Dunbar has a new top on his sprlug wagon.

Prof. Andy Collins will begin school here Sept. 12th.

Joseph Huey rides his new wheel with ease and skill.

Ben Riley is building gravel roads in the Hopeful cemetery.

Joe Weaver has a four months old Shorthorn calf for sale.

Many farmers are looking for corn to sell at $1 per barrel this fall.

One of Mike Kualy's children was seriously ill Sunday morning.

Whitson Bros., of Florence, are building wire fence for James Huey.

Miss Nannie Bosworth, of Carrollton, is the guest of Miss Mary Hedges.

Rachal & Co. have purchased a new wagon to haul from the city with.

Our fellow-townsman, John Garrison has been under the weather for several days.

Mrs. Wallace Garrison has been ill at her home near Big Boue, for some time.

Willie Surface reports business improving every day at the city of Gunpowder.

Wm. Wilson, of Richwood, is erecting a carriage and tool house for J. W. Conner.

Miss Lillian Corbin returned, Saturday evening, from a week's visit in Newport.

Miss Sallie Willis has a handsome horse and buggy, and enjoys driving to Union ofteu.

Epluribus Gully, from Grange Hall, was shopping in Union Saturday night. Plum's all right.

Spencer Smith and Ollie Rouse have delivered a fine lot of stone for Perry Aylor's new barn.

Esq. Byland, of Walton, was our guest for a few hours Tuesday. Mr. B. is a genial gentlemau.

Mr. C. E. Sabin, of Cincinuati, was calling in Union, Sunday, the guest of Miss Nanuie Burkett.

Charley Cleek has been hauling rock on the pike for some time. Charley and Ben make a good team.

Abe Rice, of Covington, made the run from that city to Union, Sunday morning by 7 o'clock ou his wheel.

Granville Rouse has completed a long line of wire fence for B. L. Rice, and is now building a line for Mrs. Rachael Rice.

Mrs. Angeline Blankenbecker has employed Mr. Victor, of Erlanger, to reroof and repair gutters on her residence.

Rev. O. M. Huey, of Carrolltou, joined his family here and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kenuedy until after the fair.

Marshal Hedge has completed a contract for hauling stone to build bridge piers for L. W. Lassing to outlet for Hamilton place.

The volcanic eruption that occurred at Verona, last week, was entirely local in its results. The shock was uot felt as far north as Union.

Miss Sarah Conner was thrown from a small wagon while being wheeled around the house by her sister, Rachael, and had both bones in her arm broken.

Several of our Masons were enjoying the hospitality of Erlanger Masons, Saturday night. Dr. Lassing, Prof. Vosbell, Geo. H. Stephenson aud J. S. Houston were there we kuow.

"Uncle Frank" Smith, with Richard and Willie, had a curious experience while cutting a tree recently. After the saw had passed half through the tree a hissing sound, like steam escaping, occurred. Richard declared he could smell snakes and run over "Uncle Frank" in his anxiety to get to a place of safety. The tree was cut down, but the mystery remained unsolved, except there were no snakes.

Mr. Ed, you asked not long since, who the h—l Mr. Gooch, of Covington was? We. Yankee like, answer your query by asking another. "If a man is loyal to the principles of American government and gives his talent and time to getting an honest living, who the h—l has any right to question his privileges to free speech, thought and action, whether he pays taxes on a million dollars worth of property, or one dollars worth? Isn't it a fact that the constitution of our glorious country intends to guarantee equal rights to all and exclusive privileges to none—making the prince and pauper chew hay and hardtack from the saine table in the regular army of social and political life? [Nobody disputes your proposition.—ED.]

Florence

Keep cool and quiet this week.

There will be plenty of dust here this week.

Considerable stock around here will be shown at the fair this week.

Everybody is ready for the big fair that begins here this morning.

Several of our old citizens will visit this their former home during the fair, and receive a warm welcome.

The Sunday School Convention held here, last week, was not largely attended, but nevertheless it was a great success in every particular.

Exhibition stock commenced arriving on the fair grounds several days ago, and by Monday evening the fair grounds presented quite an animated appearance, several fine horses, and quite a number of excellent porkers had been assigned quarters.

Limaburg.

Harvey Baker says his health is better.

Uncle Yancy Clore does not get any better.

Mank Utz has gone to Seattle, Washington.

Miss Belle Baker is having her dwelling remodeled.

There are plenty of sheep buyers but no sellers about here.

Nearly everybody about here will attend the fair this week.

Legrand and James W. Utz have cut some tobacco this week.

Geo. West has been doing some whitewashing for S. J. Rousc.

Geo. Baker has moved to his new shop on the hill near his residence.

Miss Flora Youell will teach a five months school here, commencing September 5.

Wallace Tanner will leave for Wittsburg, Ohio, to-morrow, where he will attend college this winter.

Petersburg.

Aug. 27.—Mrs. Elijah Holton is very sick.

The Workum took an excursion to Warsaw, last Sunday.

Bro. Graddy, of Hullittsville, makes a good society reporter.

A. B. Whitlock, of North Bend, was in our town Wednesday.

Capt. A. B. Parker and Jim Berkshire are farming together.

Judge Wineself, of Delhi, Ohio, is visiting her parents here.

Geo. Rector, of Locust Grove, spent Sunday with his brother here.

Bro. Leslie Early and family are now making this place their home.

Mrs. Moran, of Cincinnati, was visiting the old homestead, last Sunday.

The Pete Kids defeated the Utzinger nine in a close game, last Saturday.

Some kind of a striped bug is destroying the cabbage in this vi[illegible].

Four civil war veterans [illegible] one Mexican veteran in our town [illegible] pensions.

The old, abandoned cemetery [illegible] town has been converted into a summer resort.

Chas. Jenkins and family, of Baltimore, Maryland, are visiting at Col Appleton's.

There is a den of copper-head snakes under the base of a large monument in the [illegible] cemetery.

Mrs. Nolan, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, is visiting relatives here during the [illegible] term.

Supt. Orlando Snyder had the cemetery, the beautiful city of the departed, cleaned up, last week.

Theodore Cook, well known in this county, and a resident of Patriot, Ind., is visiting Mrs. Jake Klopp.

Clifford Terrill, who joined the army, and is now at Tampa, Florida, writes back that he is very much dissatisfied.

Rev. Buchanan, of Trimble county, filled his appointments at the Christian church here, last Saturday and Sunday. He is a good preacher.

Marion Laws, brother of our esteemed friend, F. C. Laws, has been nominated by the Democrats of Dearborn county for Sheriff. He will be elected.

Cary Carpenter and wife, of Gallatin county, are visiting Mrs. C's mother here. Mr. Carpenter is just recovering from a severe spell of typhoid fever.

Fifteen melon wagons were lined up at daylight at the Lawrenceburg ferry, one morning last week, waiting to be taken across.

Judge Pence, of Covington, is the equal of any man in the Sixth Congressional District, socially and intellectually. He is my mau for Congress.

Geo. Beusley and Miss Venus Lonaker, hailing from the breezy heights of Woolper, hied themselves to the capital city of Dearborn county, Ind., where the proper nuptiites made them man and wife. This was on Wednesday, aud the next day Col. Al Berry Nixon and Miss Daisey Dell Moreland, of the same neighborhood, went to the same city and were married in the parlor at the Grand Hotel. John Jones and Miss Lou Nixon were the attendants.

Richwood.

John Delahunty and Howe Sleet, attended the Alexandria fair, last week.

Miss Gertrude Curley, of Walton, was the guest of Miss Angela Odenwald, last Sunday.

Mr. Lewis Rice, one of our wealthy farmers, and Miss Kate Bradley, of Georgetown, were married, last Thurs day.

Gasburg.

Joe Ferris has bought a farm near Centerville, Indiana, and will move on it in the spring.

Apples are selling in Aurora and Lawrenceburg at 80 cents per bushel, and peaches at 40 cents.

Backwater being over the crossing in Woolper creek, greatly inconvenienced many in going to the Lawrenceburg fair.

Your correspondent has a crab apple tree that bloomed at the usual time in the spring and set a few apples. It began blooming again about the first of July, and has bloomed continuously since.

Boone county people appeared to be doing nearly all the fighting at the Lawrenceburg fair. A couple from Bellevue had their heads badly banged up by the police while they were resisting arrest.

Constance.

A. L. Loder is assistant P. M. here.

Miss Souther will begin teaching here next Monday.

The Gospel Tent Meeting will begin here September 10.

Beckie Pence fell out of a wagon and hurt her head badly.

Theo. Barnell has resigned as clerk for Davis & Co. Wm. Price has taken his place.

Several houses here have been entered by thieves, recently, but no valuables were taken.

Corn will be short stalk but long eared this fall.

Local gardeners report an immense crop of vines but no sweet potatoes.

The town will be pretty nearly deserted the remainder of this week.

Not much of the wheat grown in this part of the county has been put on the market.

Go to Clore's stand for your meals at the fair, this week. He has a good table and seats under cover.

Geo. Blythe is building a gravel road from his house, (now occupied by W. C. Brown) to the public road.

The plans and specifications for the change in the court house roof have not been received from the architect.

At Clore's stand at the fair this week you can have a good seat at a table under cover while you eat. Everything served in good style.

W. J. Rice has put a tiling culvert across the road near Mrs. Kirkpatrick's blacksmith shop, improving a very ugly place in the highway.

Wm. Walton, of the Bellevue neighborhood, brought some old fashioned damsons to town yesterday. For many years that variety of fruit has been very scarce here.

"A Word of Warning."

To the Editor of the Recorder:

My friend, "Taxpayer from Petersburg," has written some sort of reply to my last letter, which I will notice briefly.

From the evident great effort he made to argue the question at issue, and only able to produce a little worthless personal matter, he has made plain one or two things—that he has no argument on his side of the question, or that he does not know the difference between argument and personalities.

My first and last I want to say that I have no idea to whom I am indebted for the courteous reply. But, this is not a personal matter, for if it was I would never condescend to answer an anonymous communication. However, I decline to be lead away from the question at issue by anything trivial.

My friend, allow me to indulge just once, and I beg your pardon for doing so. All I have to say in regard to your friend Holman's story is, that if you intended your letter for a pill to relieve my constipation of ideas, you must be a homoepath. You give in extremely small doses—"like to cure like." Your letter also reminds me of a story in the recent national campaign. It was said of a certain eminent goldbug orator, that in reply to the honest criticisms of a bosom friend of his best oratorical effort. "Billy, why don't you put some argument in your speech? Abuse is no argument and you ought to have sense enough to know it?" Argument —! That is all the argument we have." You will doubtless see the point and laugh at the right place. Of course this is only a joke.

Now let us to the question of good roads and bridges. Dogmatic statements don't prove anything, so let us examine references as we go along.

I am quoted as saying, "by building public improvements we increase the total value of taxable property, and decrease the rate." What I did say was this, speaking of building pikes and bridges: "While it is necessary to increase the tax rate, slightly, in order to make public improvements, by increasing the total value of taxable property it decreased the tax rate." That is the natural tendency as every student of political economy does know at a glance.

Yet my friend says it is false. That taxes have been increasing for forty years, and we have made some improvements in that time. Don't he know the amount to be raised has been increasing too? That we have to pay our officials larger salaries, besides many new, fat offices are constantly added, &c. But where, oh! where, are the improvements of our mud roads? How many bridges have been built in Boone county? We are talking of county taxes, county improvements of roads and bridges.

The statement that the tax rate is never lowered is incorrect, as everyone can find out if he will take the trouble to investigate. The State, as well as the county tax rate, has been lowered in the last 10 years. We have no fixed tax rate. The rate depends on the amount of money to be raised to defray expenses, and the total value of taxable property.

Our county tax rate has only been 10 to 15cts on the $100 of late years. That is, perhaps, the lowest county rate in the State, but we, as a county, have no public improvements to amount to much. We could make this rate less by cutting off some of our unnecessary expenses, or by increasing total value of property to be taxed.

While our county tax is only 15 cents our State tax is 52½ cents on the $100. I think our State tax is unnecessarily high. Here is where the tax money goes. If 10 cents on the $100 of our State tax could be taken off and placed to the credit of our county tax, road and bridge funds, we would be in better shape.

As for the statement that no system of road building or bridge building by taxation can be adopted in Boone county that would be either just or equitable. That is my dogmatic—a little wonder why old Boone county is so different from other counties around her, unless it is that she has mud roads and other counties have pikes—perhaps because my friend and I live in Boone, for I know of no other difference, save they are the best people I ever met.

He thinks because the public improvements we now have were obtained by private subscription, that it is in no wise different from Grant, Gallatin, Owen and Kenton. I never heard before of such a thing as public improvements by private subscription. I have always understood these private subscriptions to be private investments for private good. If my friend knows of one man in Boone county who gave one of these so called private subscriptions for public good, he will favor us by giving his name, race, residence, &c., in order that we may build this kind of philanthropist a fitting monument.

I have said that we wanted much needed good roads and a few much needed bridges, and we repeat it, and expect to repeat it until we obtain them. It is a shame that we have not had them long ago; and, my friend I am not alone. There are hundreds who think as I do—men who are not selfish or blind, or even ignorant of the needs and wants of our good people. Men who no one can deceive by any false notes of warning as to what is to their best interest.

I have no desire to deceive anyone or to force others to see as I do. I want to tell the plain truth, and place the facts before the people and let them be the judges of what is best.

When a vote is taken, if the people of Boone county are content to spend thousands of dollars for mud roads and dangerous creek crossings, I say amen. I want the majority to rule. I am a Democrat and one who can see a silver lining to every cloud, and don't have to see very far to see good roads and nice bridges all over Boone county, wherever needed.

But you say you have no fault to find of the Fiscal Court. Then why impeach it as well as our efficient County Attorney? Yes; the only remedy is the ballot. When we come to elect their successors, perhaps your side wont have a vote in the next Fiscal Court. Wait and see.

Yours Respectfully,

M. J. CROUCH.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS

—THE OLD—

RELIABLE - GROCER,

UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molasses, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO

C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,

HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,

A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.

GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention,

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.

Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

H. F BLASE,

535 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.,

Has just received a New and Elegant Stock of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

—For the making of—

Gentlemen's Suits and Overcoats,

And notwithstanding the high quality of these Goods, he will furnish them

Cut and Made to Order.

Strictly First-Class, and at the Lowest Possible Prices consistent with Material and Workmanship.

Ready-Made CLOTHING

This department carries a Stock, which for Quality of Goods and Workmanship is not equaled in the three cities, while the price defies competition.

H. F. BLASE, 535 Madison Ave.,

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

The person who expects to get Something for Nothing always gets Deceived. : : : : : :

We do not propose to give you something for nothing, but we do say this, We will give you good, Well Made and Perfect Fitting

```
CCCC  L      OOOOO  TTTTT  H  H  I  NN  N  GGGG
C     L      O   O    T    H  H  I  N N N  G
C     L      O   O    T    H  H  I  N  NN  G
C     L      O   O    T    H  H  I  N   N  G   G
CCCC  LLLL   OOOOO    T    H  H  I  N   N  GGGG
```

At the very Lowest Prices. Come in and inspect our line of

Men's, Boys' and Childrens Clothing

ROLFS & WACHS.

S. W. Cor. Pike St., and Madison Ave.,

Covington, - - Kentucky.

TWO FOR ONE

By Special Arrangement we offer

HOME AND FARM

In combination with

THE RECORDER

For $1.75.

Being nearly the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send

HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE.

HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

Local News.

RUPTURE CURED—See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

Noah Clore takes recreation in a new buggy.

Hubert Gaines will show two or three horses this week.

Everything indicates a very large attendance at the fair this week.

James Carpenter is hauling Mr. Souther's Stucky purchase of tobacco.

August is gone and it is hoped it has taken the excessively hot weather with it.

One of the shade trees in front of Mrs. [illegible] a Clore's residence, fell one day last [illegible].

[illegible] M. Acra took seventeen premiums [illegible] his poultry at the Alexandria fair, last week.

[illegible]here will be lots of dust at the fair [illegible] week, unless there is some rain to [illegible] down.

The Burlington caterers are in the refreshment business up to their eyes at the fair this week.

Burlington's colored population was well represented at the Lawrenceburg fair, last Saturday.

James A. Riddell and Tanner & Fisk captured several premiums at the Alexandria fair, last week.

The prayer meeting at the Baptist church has been changed from Thursday to Tuesday night.

Farmers are not particularly busy now, and they will take their families and attend the fair this week.

A very large crowd attended the Lawrenceburg fair, last Saturday, and witnessed some excellent trotting.

D. M. Snyder will be in Burlington on the first Monday in September with a lot of potato onions and sets for sale.

Last week, Mr. Souther, the Florence tobacco buyer, bought Rabbi Stucky's tobacco, of which there were three or four crops.

James Dempsey, an old citizen of the Mudlick neighborhood, died suddenly, on Wednesday of last week. He was about 80 years old.

In obedience to the judgment of the Circuit Court the County Court appointed John Peno guardian for his grand-daughter, Pearl Reeves.

One dollar and fifty cents pays for the RECORDER from now until January 1, 1900. If you are in arrears pay up and take advantage of this offer.

Masons from far and near, in large numbers, assembled at Erlanger last Saturday night, to witness the excellent work done by the lodge at that place.

The paint brush has been getting in its work on some of the residences in the north end of town. O. J. Ryle and F. A. Hall are the latest to paint their residences.

It took Mr. Hartman until 12 o'clock, last Saturday night, to get the Kentucky crowd that attended the Lawrenceburg fair, ferried back to the Kentucky shore.

There will be some very fine hogs at the fair this week. A man from Ohio is there, and has a pair of Poland China hogs, the boar weighing 800 and the sow, 700 pounds.

Stock for exhibition at the fair this week commenced arriving on the grounds last Saturday night, and by Monday considerable life was being manifested at the grounds.

Mrs. Nancy Willett, who, many years ago lived in East Bend, died in Lexington, on the 21st inst. She was the mother of Mrs. James H. Lawell, of Bellevue, who was at her bedside.

"To save time is to lengthen life." The "Farmers' Pride" Churn will positively make butter in five minutes. Retail price $5. Good agents wanted.
PIATT BROTHERS, Covington, Ky.

Wolfe & Wachs, the Covington clothiers, have an advertisement in this impression, calling the attention of the people to the large assortment of carefully selected fall and winter clothing.

R. P. Cloud, of Florence, will be well prepared with stable room immediately across the pike from the entrance to the fair ground, and will give horses proper attention during the fair. Give him a call.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of H. F. Blase, Covington's leading tailor. He has an extensive stock of handsome goods which he is making up to order at prices that defy competition.

John Kirkpatrick's little boys were amusing themselves with powder, late Saturday afternoon, when Kenneth, aged about 12, was badly burnt in the face. It is thought that his eyes are not seriously injured.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

From one patch in the Bellevue bottoms, 5,000 melons have been sold this season, and when it is remembered that nearly every farmer down there cultivates melons to a considerable extent, it is realized that the crop in that region was immense this year.

Uncle Johnny Beall, of the Hebron neighborhood, was in town Friday. He took his first ride on an electric car a few days ago, going from Anderson's Ferry to Fifth Street, Cincinnati. At Sedamsville he requested the conductor to stop the car and wait while he got off for a beer, but was refused the accommodation, when he declared, "Confound if I'll ever ride on another electric car."

The temple of justice was astir early Wednesday morning, and the criminal division of the Boone County Court, with Judge Roberts on the bench, disposed of the following cases:

Commonwealth of Ky. vs. John Holzworth, charged with a breach of the peace, committed by attacking Harry Carter with a shot gun, and using abusive and insulting language with intent to provoke an assault.

Carter testified that he was employed to do some work for Mr. A. S. Winston, and that on the morning of the 15th inst., while crossing a piece of land owned by Mr. Winston, but rented to Holzworth, he was attacked by defendant, who carried a shot gun and handled it in a menacing manner; called him a son of a b—h. (At this point in the testimony Mrs. Holzworth denounced the witness as a liar, and was rebuked by the court.) He told me to get off of the place or he would shoot me. Carter testified that Mr. Winston had given him the privilege of crossing the field. However he retreated and went to his work by a more circuitous route.

Holzworth testified he carried his gun because Carder had told him a month ago, when ordered off the place, he would knock him down the first time they met on the road. Holzworth stated that he never swore when angry and had never cursed anybody, except Crisler.

The court gave Holzworth $10 and cost.

The next case was the Commonwealth vs. James Masters, Stephen Helm and John Feely, charged with a misdemeanor, committed by racing a horse and firing a pistol on the public highway, on the 13 day of this month. Helm and Feely demanded separate trials, which were granted.

John Portwood, the prosecuting witness, testified that on the aforesaid date, while enroute from Florence to Burlington, on his wheel, coming down the Geo. Rouse hill, three men, whom he recognized as the defendants, drove rapidly up behind him, and fired a pistol, the ball striking the pike within a few feet of him. He heard the whizzing of the ball plainly. In attempting to look around he fell from his wheel, and the horse and buggy came very near running over him.

Helm and Feely heard shot fired and saw the smoke; rather thought it was fired by someone in the buggy with them, but could not say for certain as they saw no one do it.

The court decided that there was no evidence that Helm and Feely had been racing a horse and acquitted them.

In the case against Masters the law and facts were submitted to the court, and he was fined $2 and cost.

Coleman Hays, 14 years old, son of Dr. H. H. Hays, of Bullittsville, visited the Ludlow Lagoon, last Thursday, and was badly hurt, but how no one knows. He was riding one of the ponies on the track and when the animal came in without him he was looked after and found in an unconscious condition lying on the track at the farthest point from the paddock. He was taken to the club house, and Dr. R. H. Crisler, who was summoned worked with him until midnight, when he was removed to a hospital in Cincinnati, still unconscious. His injuries were about his head and back. He had several hemorrhages before he was taken to the hospital.

The following is published by request:

BIBLICAL.

I form the light and create darkness. I make peace and create evil. I, the Lord, do all these things.

Fire and hail and famine and death, all these were created for vengeance.

Death and bloodshed, strife and sword, calamities, famine, tribulation and the scourge all these things are created for the wicked including the hypocrite, who take advantage of a sacred cause.

Since Noah Clore has occupied his present residence, lightning has taken a whack at objects near by it as often as seven or eight times. Last week a post in a wire and slat fence near the house was struck, when the electric current followed the wire in opposite directions, occasionally ripping up an oak slat. At a point where a second wire fence intersected the first at right angles, the current was divided a second time and followed a wire in fence No. 2, occasionally splitting a paling. The currents were traveling in three directions at one time.

An Indiana grocer prints the following in circular, addressed to to patrons: "Notice is hereby given that if you will come to my store three times a day during the next year and purchase a drink of whisky each time paying 10 cents a drink, at the end of the year I will donate five barrels of my best flour, 100 pounds of granulated sugar, 100 lbs. of rice, 10 pounds of coffee, 10 gallons of syrup, 50 yards of calico, three pairs of shoes, one $10.50 cloak for your wife; and then I will have $20 left to pay for the liquor you drank."

Supt. Castleman had a good representation of the Burlington Sunday-school at the Lagoon, last Thursday, and the occasion would have been a most delightful one had it not been for the sad accident that happened Dr. Hays' son. The entire party remained until after dark to witness the beautiful display of fireworks, and it was some time after midnight when the last of the Burlington crowd reached home, weary and sleepy.

Many of the public schools will begin their fall and winter sessions, next Monday. The trustees should remember that it is their duty to see that every child in the district is in attendance, unless there is some valid excuse for its nonattendance. Few seem to realize the responsibility of a trustee, and neglect along that line is one cause why many children that ought to attend school are never enrolled.

The Burlington base ball club went to Madison, Ind., last Thursday, and played ball in the woods on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Johnnie Hogan and Harry Bohn left the aggregation Saturday evening and had a most interesting trip home. Hogan landed in home about 11 a. m., Sunday, dusty and foot-sore and had lots of experience.

Lots of fruit was delivered in town Monday. Everybody has peaches which they are anxious to sell cheap.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.,

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard,	3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose,	5 "
Cottonade Pants,	50 "
Working Shirts,	[illegible] "

We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. M. Lassing made a business trip to Louisville, last week.

Dr. Jacob Tanner, of Hebron, was seen on our streets, yesterday.

James M. Utz, our faithful Limaburg correspondent, was in town yesterday.

Rev. O. M. Huey and wife, of Carrollton, are visiting relatives in this county.

Bernard Hogan has been suffering for several days with a badly swollen knee.

W. C. Weaver expects to occupy his new residence about the 15th of September.

Deputy Sheriff Allphin and Marce Riddell attended the Lawrenceburg fair last Friday.

Ed Rice and wife, of Utzinger, were visiting in Burlington, last Saturday and Sunday.

W. C. Hensley, of the Ashby Fork neighborhood, was among the visitors in town, Monday.

Chas. Wilson is playing utility man for the Clutterbuck refreshment stand at the fair this week.

Mr. Logan Gaines and daughter, of Carrollton, are attending the fair. They came overland in a buggy.

Mrs. Lottie Daveraltville, of Newport, was visiting her sister, Mrs. Lillie Hall, several days last week.

Miss Helen Curtin, of St. Louis, Mo., was visiting her uncle, J. M. Henderson, near Bellevue, last week.

B. B. Allphin and wife returned the first of last week from a visit of several days to friends down ou Mudlick.

John Ryle, of Erlanger, was in town, Monday, delivering a load of crockery-ware secently sold here by an agent.

J. C. Rankins, of the Hopeful neighborhood, was in town, last Friday. He looks like farm life agrees with him.

Arthur Tanner, 19, and Miss Ada Phillips, 16, of the Gunpowder neighborhood, were married on the 24th inst.

Mrs. M. J. Hoover returned from Virginia, several days ago, leaving her father very much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Acra, two of the oldest residents of the Middle Creek neighborhood, were in town, last Friday.

Mrs. George F. Piper and children, of Louisville, have been the guests of Mrs. Piper's mother at this place for several days.

D. M. Snyder was in town early Saturday morning supplying his customers with sweet potatoes and nutmeg melons.

A. B. Rouse and Edson Riddell attended Masonic lodge at Erlanger, Saturday night. Bellevue lodge was there in force.

J. B. Berkshire and Harry Blyth, of this place, and William Stephens, of Utzinger, hold official positions at the fair, this week.

Joe Feeley's eye, which was giving him considerable trouble because of a small sliver of metal that had lodged in it, has got well.

Bluffe Adams was a victim of insomnia, several nights last week after attending the fish fry down ou Gunpowder on Thursday.

John Conner has been running a melon wagon from Bellevue to Coustance, at which place he has been enjoying a good trade.

O. P. Tanner was in town, last week. We hope that hereafter his visits will be more frequent than they have been for the last two years.

J. D. Cloud, the efficient treasurer of the Harvest Home, was around settling up the bills of the Association immediately after the last exhibition.

James L. Clore has recently developed into a great outside Sunday School worker. He took two outings with Sunday school scholars, last week.

Miss Dodie McGarvey, after a pleasant visit of three weeks with her relatives at this place, returned to her home in Cincinnati, last Thursday.

Monday, Raukin Revill returned to his post of duty in the Circuit Clerk's office in Covington, having spent a week with his parents at this place.

Speculators are of the opinion that the prospects of the growing crop of tobacco will have a tendency to weaken prices, and they are awaiting developments.

Richard Ryle, wife and children returned to their home in Cincinnati, the latter part of last week, after a visit of several days with relatives and friends in this county.

Jesse Kelly, the McVille fruit agent, was in town Saturday. He is a great suffered with hay fever, and has been confined to his room as long as six weeks at a time in the past.

Mrs. Bert Coffman and little son, of Walton, were guests of Mrs. W. E. Vest, Saturday. On Sunday they visited their sister, Mrs. L. P. Rice, of the Utzinger neighborhood.

J. M. Henderson and wife, Mrs. Cad Berkshire and Misses Anna and Lucy Botts, of the Bellevue neighborhood, were visiting S. G. Botts, of Petersburg, last Sunday.

Mr. G. W. Utz, of the Hopeful neighborhood, has been greatly annoyed with asthma and hay fever for several weeks, which with the excessive heat, have made life anything but pleasant with him.

At last accounts young Hays, who was so badly hurt at the Lagoon, last Thursday, was considerably improved, but not sufficiently to be brought home from the hospital.

Sheriff Beall and J. B. Berkshire, with several other persons, were entertained by Uncle Alfred Cason, Sunday. Besides a splendid dinner, they enjoyed Uncle Alf's splendid fruit, peaches, &c., immensely.

Dr. Scott's cup of happiness will overflow, when he is surrounded by his old comrades in the Lopez expedition, next Tuesday and Wednesday. He will leave undone nothing that will contribute to their pleasure.

Miss Nannie Bosworth leaves to-day for Boone county to attend the fair. —Logan Gaines is entertaining his two brothers, Legrand and Clinton, of Boone county.—Miss Sallie Hughes, of Boone county is the guest of Mrs. G. W. Anderson.—Carrollton Democrat.

Mrs. L. C. Cowen and Mrs. Robert Wilson, of Rabbit Hash, were visiting Miss Anna Cowen and sisters, one day last week. Mrs. Cowen, Mrs. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. James Hastings are to go to West Virginia, in a few days, to visit Mrs. McKay.

Hugh Arnold, of Bellevue, was in town Saturday. When asked about the melon crop he said he and his brothers had sold 5,000 out of their patch, this season, 2,000 to be delivered the next Monday at Bellevue, to a man who was buying for the Cincinnati market.

Rev. R. E. Kirtley, of the North Bend neighborhood, remains in a critical condition. He has been in bad health now for about eighteen months, and is so emaciated that those of his old acquaintances who have not seen him during his illness, would hardly recoguize him.

Quite a gay party of the younger girls were entertained at James L. Clore's Monday evening. Last week, Mr. Clore's little daughter was given a nice Everett piano, by her grand-mother, Mrs. Abe Clore, of Hebron, and Mae's school and playmates went over to be the first to enjoy it with her.

James D. Acra, one of the local live stock dealers, called on the Recorder, last Saturday. He says it is hard to buy sheep or cattle because of the farmers asking prices that the dealer can not afford to give. He is not making much of an effort now because of that fact.

Robert F. Adams was in town Monday, making himself square with the Sheriff before the fair. He says the corn and tobacco crop in his neighborhood is much better than was expected a few weeks ago. Some tobacco will be cut in a week or so. Bob can speak the Spanish language pretty well, having spent several years in New Mexico, and we suggested he ought to apply for a position as an interpreter to some American who wants to go to Cuba to engage in business.

Next Monday is county court.

Eat with J. L. Clore at the fair this week. He has a good table under cover and you will be comfor able and well served.

At ten o'clock to-day the bell will tap and the third annual exhibition of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association will begin. All roads will lead to the fair this week, and thousands of people will witness a grand show of stock in the ring and at the stock pens, while Floral Hall will present unusual and varied attractions.

The Burlington boys arrived home from Madison, Indiana, Tuesday morning, where they played three games of base ball, losing them by the following scores: 14 to 3; 9 to 8; 16 to 7. They had a very large quantity of fun, but we feel safe in saying it will be a long time before another Burlington ball team will visit Madison. The boys are well pleased with the treatment they received at the hands of the Madison people, except the ball team, the manager of which is the whole thing.

FOR SALE.

Good Shorthorn bull, 4 years old this fall. He was sired by a bull owned by Col. Harris, of Kansas, and is of the best strain of Shorthorns. He is kind, quiet and not roguish. I have had him on my farm long enough as a breeder.
WILBUR RICE, Utzinger, Ky.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Reuben Conner, dec'd., are requested to settle at once, and those who have claims against the same are notified to present them to me proven as by law required. J. W. CONNER,
Adm'r.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on
H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

DEALER IN

DRY GOODS

Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,

At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,

The Deering Harvesters,

Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,

BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,

UNDER-  EMBALTAKER MER,

Corner Pike & Russell Streets,

COVINGTON, - - - KENTUCKY.

INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says: "After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.

Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.

EVOLUTION IS ATHEISTIC.

Human Beings Have a Grander Ancestry Than Beasts.

Darwinian Doctrine a Guess and Brutalizing—Masterpiece of God's Wisdom Is Our Enthronement—Sermon by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

Dr. Talmage in this discourse advocates a Christian evolution in contradiction to an infidel evolution, and declares that the only radically improving force in the world is Christianity. Text, Romans i., 22, 23: "Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, and changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds and four-footed beasts and creeping things."

This is a full-length portrait of an evolutionist who substitutes the bestial origin for the Divine origin. I showed you last week that evolution was contradicted by the Bible, by science, by observation and by common sense; that the Bible account of the creation of man and of the brute and of the world, and the evolutionist's account collided with each other, as certainly as two express trains going in opposite directions at 60 miles an hour, their locomotives meeting on the same track. I showed that all the evolution scientists, without any exception, were pronounced infidels; that evolution was a heatheanism thousands of years old; that such men as Agassiz and Hugh Miller and Faraday and Dawson and Dana had for that doctrine of evolution unlimited contempt. I showed you that their favorite theory of the "survival of the fittest" was an absurdity and an untruth, and that natural evolution was always downward and never upward, and that there never had been any improvement for man or beast or would accept through the direct or indirect influence of our glorious Christianity. And in the closing part of that sermon I told you I was not a pessimist, but an optimist, that instead of it being 11 o'clock at night it is 5:30 in the morning.

Now, I go on to tell you, it seems to me that evolutionists are trying to impress the great masses of the people with the idea that there is an ancestrial line leading from the primal germ on up through the serpent, and on up through the quadruped, and on up through the gorilla, to man. They admit there is a "missing link," as they call it, but there is not a missing link—it is a whole chain gone. Between the physical construction of the highest animal, and the physical construction of the lowest man, there is a chasm as wide as the Atlantic ocean. Evolutionists tell us that somewhere in Central Africa, or in Borneo, there is a creature half way between the brute and the man, and that that creature is the highest step in the animal ascent and the lowest step in the human creation. But what are the facts? The brain of the largest gorilla that was ever found is 50 cubic inches, while the brain of the most ignorant man that was ever found is 70. Vast difference between 50 and 70. It needs a bridge of 40 arches to span that gulf.

Besides that, there is a difference between the gorilla and the man—a difference of nerve, a difference of muscle, a difference of bone, a difference of sinew. The horse is more like man in intelligence, the bird is more like him in musical capacity, the mastiff is more like him in affection. That eulogized beast of which we hear so much, represented on the walls of cities thousands of years ago, is just as complete as it is now, showing that there has not been a particle of change. Besides that, if a pair of apes had a man for descendant, why would not all the apes have the same kind of descendants? Can it be that that one favored pair only was favored with human progeny? Besides that, evolution says that one species rises to another species, the old type dies off. Then how is it that there are whole kingdoms of chimpanzee and gorilla and baboon?

The evolutionists have come together and have tried to explain a bird's wing. Their theory has always been that a faculty of an animal while being developed must always be useful and always beneficial, but the wings of a bird, in the thousands of years it was being developed, so far from being any help must have been a hindrance until it could be brought into practical use away on down in the ages. Must there have not been an intelligent will somewhere that formed that wonderful flying instrument, so that a bird five hundred times heavier than the air can mount it and put gravitation under claw and beak? That wonderful mechanical instrument, the wing, with between twenty and thirty different apparatus curiously constructed, does it not imply a divine intelligence? Does it not imply a direct act of some outside being? All the evolutions in the world can not explain a bird's wing, or an insect's wing.

So they are confounded by the rattle of the rattlesnake. Ages before the reptile had any enemies, this warning weapon was created. Why was it created? When the rentile, far back in the ages had no enemies, why this warning weapon? There must have been a Divine intelligence foreseeing and knowing that in ages to come that reptile would have enemies, and then this warning weapon would be brought into use. You see evolution at every step is a contradiction or a monstrosity. At every stage of animal life as well as at every stage of human life, there is evidence of direct action of Divine will.

Besides that, it is very evident from another fact that we are an entirely different creation, and that there is no kinship. The animal in a few hours or months comes to full strength and can take care of itself. The human [illegible] the first one, two, three, five, years is in complete helplessness. [illegible] just come out of its shell begins to pick up its own food. The dog, the wolf, the lion, soon earn their own livelihood and act for their own defense. The human race does not come to development until 20 or 30 years of age, and by that time the animals that were born the same year the man was born—the vast majority of them have died of old age. This shows there is no kinship, there is no similarity. If we had been born of the least we would have had the beast's strength at the start, or it would have had our weakness. Not only different, but opposite.

Darwin admitted that the dovecote pigeon has not changed in thousands of years. It is demonstrated over and over again that the lizard on the lowest formation of rocks was just as complete as the lizard now. It is shown that the ganoid, the first fish, was just as complete as the sturgeon, another name for the same fish now. Darwin's entire system is a guess, and Huxley, and John Stuart Mill, and Tyndall, and especially Prof. Haeckel, come to help him in the guess, and guess about the brute, and guess about worlds, but as to having one solid foot of ground to stand on they never had it and never will have it. I put in opposition to these evolutionist theories the inward consciousness that we have no consanguinity with the dog that fawns at our feet, or the spider that crawls on the wall, or the fish that flops in the frying pan, or the crow that swoops on the field carcass, or the swine that wallows in the mire. Everybody sees the outrage it would be to put aside the Bible record that Abraham begat Issac, and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob begat Judah, for the record that the microscopic animalcule begat the tadpole, and the tadpole begat the pollywog, and the pollywog begat the serpent, and the serpent begat the quadruped, and the quadruped begat the baboon, and the baboon begat man.

The evolutionists tell us that the apes were originally fond of climbing the trees, but after awhile they lost their prehensile power, and therefore could not climb with any facility, and hence they surrendered monkeydom and set up in business as men. Fables, stories, lies, successes as men. According to the evolutionists a man is a bankrupt monkey.

I pity the person who in every nerve and muscle and bone and mental faculty and spiritual experience does not realize that he is higher in origin and has had a grander ancestry than the beasts which perish. However degraded men and women may be, and though they may have foundered on the rocks of crime and sin, and though we shudder as we pass them, nevertheless there is something within us that tells us they belong to the same great brotherhood and sisterhood of our race, and our sympathies are aroused in regard to them. But gazing upon the swiftest gazelle, or upon the tropical bird of most flamboyant wing, or upon the curve of grandest courser's neck, we feel there is no consanguinity. It is not that we are stronger than they, for the lion with one stroke of his paw could put us into the dust. It is not that we have better eyesight, for the eagle can descry a mole a mile away. It is not that we are fleeter of foot, for a roebuck in a flash is out of sight, just seeming to touch the earth as he goes. Many of the animal creation surpass us in fleetness of foot and in keenness of nostril and in strength of limb, but notwithstanding all that, there is something within us that tells us we are of celestial pedigree. Not of the mollusk, not of the rizipod, not of the primal germ, but of the living and omnipotent God. Lineage of the skies. Genealogy of Heaven.

I tell you plainly that if your father was a muskrat and your mother an opossum, and your great aunt a kangaroo, and the toads and the snapping turtles were your illustrious predecessors, my father was God. I know it. I feel it. It thrills through me with an emphasis and an ecstacy which all your arguments drawn from anthropology and biology and zoology and morology and paleontology and all the other ologies can never shake.

Evolution is one great mystery. It hatches out 50 mysteries and the 50 hatch out 1,000, and the 1,000 hatch ont 1,000,000. Why, my brother, not admit the one great mystery of God and have that settle all the other mysteries? I can more easily appreciate the fact that there is one storehouse of omnipotence could make man than I could realize how out of 5,000,000 of ages he could have evolved one, putting on a little here and a little there. It would have been just as great a miracle for God to have turned an ourang-outang into a man as to have made a man out and out—the one job just as big as the other.

It seems to me we had better let God have a little place in our world somewhere. It seems to me if we can not have him make all creatures we had better have him make two or three. There ought to be some place where he could stay without interfering with the evolutionists. "No," says Darwin, and so for years he is trying to raise fan-tailed pigeons and to turn these fan-tailed pigeons into some other kind of pigeon, or to have them go into something that is not a pigeon—turning them into a quail, or barnyard fowl or brownthresher. But pigeon it is. And others have tried with the ox and the dog and the horse, but they stayed in their species. If the attempt to cross over it is a hybrid, and a hybrid is always sterile and goes into extinction. There has been only one successful attempt to pass over from speechless animal to the articulation of man, and that was the attempt which Balaam witnessed in the beast that he rode; but an angel of the Lord, with drawn sword, soon stopped that long-eared evolutionist.

But, says some one, "If we can not have God make a man let us have Him make a horse." "Oh, no!" says Huxley, in his great lectures in New York years ago. No, he does not want any God around the premises. God did not make the horse. The horse came of the plohippus, and the plohippus came from the protohippus, and the protohippus came from the miohippus, and the miohippus came from the orohippus and so away back, all the living creatures, we trace it in a line until we get to the moneron, and no evidence of the divine intermeddling with the creation until you get to the moneron, and that, Huxley says, is of so low a form of life that the probability is it just made itself or was the result of spontaneous generation. What a narrow escape from the necessity of having a God!

As near as I can tell, these evolutionists seem to think that God at the start had not made up His mind exactly what He would make, and having made up His mind partially He has been changing it all through the ages. I believe that God made the world as He wanted to have it, and that the happiness of all the species will depend upon their staying in the species where they were created.

Once upon a time there was in a natural amphitheater of the forest a convention of animals, and a gorilla from western Africa came in with his club and pounded "Order!" Then he sat down in a chair of twirled forest root. The delegation of birds came in and took their position in the galleries of the hilltops and the treetops. And a delegation of reptiles came in, and they took their position in the pit of the valley. And the tiers of rocks were occupied by the delegation of intermediate animals, and there was a great aquarium and a canal leading into it through which came the monsters of the deep to join the great convention.

And on one table of rock there were four or five primal germs under a glass case, and in a cup on another table of rock there was a quantity of protoplasm. Then this gorilla of the African forest with his club pounded again: "Order! order;" and then he cried out: "Oh, you great throng of beast and birds and reptiles and insects, I have called you together to propose that we move up into the human race and be beasts no longer. Too long already have we been hunted and caged and harnessed; we shall stand it no longer." At that speech the whole convention broke out into roars of enthusiasm like as though there were many menageries being fed by their keepers, and it did seem as if the whole convention would march right up and take possession of the earth and the human race. But an old lion arose, his mane white with many years, and he uttered his voice, and when that old lion uttered his voice all the other beasts of the forest were still, and he said: "Peace, brothers and sisters of the forest. I think we have been placed in the spheres for which we were intended; I think our Creator knew the place that was good for us." He could proceed no further, for the whole convention broke out in an uproar like the house of commons when the Irish question comes up, or the American congress the night of adjournment, and the reptiles hiss with indignation at the leonine Gimbetta, and the frogs croaked their contempt, and the bears growled their contempt, and the panthers snarled their disgust, and the insects buzzed and buzzed excitement, and though the gorilla of the African forest with his club pounded, "Order, order," there was no order, and there was a thrusting out of adderine sting, and a swinging of elephantine tusk, and a stroke of beak and a swing of claw until it seemed as if the convention would be massacred.

Just at that moment, at the door of this natural amphitheater of the forest, the curtain of the leaves lifted, and the bolts and bars of the tree branches were shoved back, and there appeared Agassiz, and Audubon, and Silliman, and Moses. And Agassiz cried out, "Oh, you beasts of the forests, I have studied your ancestral records and found you always have been beasts, you always will be beasts; be contented to be beasts." And Audubon aimed his gun at a bald-headed eagle which dropped from the gallery, and as it struck a serpent that was winding around one of the pillars to get up higher. And Silliman threw a rock of the tertiary formation at the mammals, and Moses thundered: "Every beast after its kind, every bird after its kind, every fish after its kind." And lo! the parliament of wild beasts was prorogued and went home to their constituents, and the bat flew ont into the night, and the lizard slunk under the rock, and the gorilla went back to the jungle, and a hungry wolf passing out ate up the primal germs, and a clumsy buffalo upset the protoplasm, and the lion went to his lair, and the eagle went to his eyric, and the whale went to his palace of crystal and coral, and there was peace—peace in the air, peace in the waters, peace in the fields. Man in his place; the beasts of the earth in their places.

But, my friends, evolution is not only infidel and atheistic and absurd; it is brutalizing in its tendencies. If there is anything in the world that will make a man bestial in his habits it is the idea that he was descended from the beast. Why, according to the idea of these evolutionists, we are only a superior kind of cattle, a sort of Alderney among other herds. To be sure, we browse on better pastures, and we have better stall and better accommodations, but then we are only Southdowns among the great flocks of sheep. Born of a beast, to die like a beast; for the evolutionists have no idea of a future world.

SMOLENSK, in Russia, has a peculiar raffle four times a year. A young girl is raffled for fn 5,000 one rouble shares. The winner marries the girl and receives the money from the raffle as her dowry. The girl, however, may refuse to marry the winner, in which case the money from the raffle is divided between them.

IN Mexico the family of a dead duelist can claim support from the person who shot him.

NOTHING LACKING IN THE FLY

The Little Pest Is Admirably Constructed for Serving the Purposes of Its Creation.

The humble housefly is one of the oldest and always has been one of the most distinguished of insects. He was worshiped by the ancients and placed as a constellation in the heavens. The Philistines sacrificed to Beelzebub as god of flies and the Cyreneans to Achor. The Greeks offered an ox every year to Zeus Apomyios in honor of the god of flies; and the Romans sacrificed yearly in the temple of Hercules Victor in Rome. The Syrians, too, tried to appease the troublesome god. The Coran of the Mahometans promised that "all flies shall perish except one, and that is the bee fly."

Despite their antiquity, flies are still something of a mystery, and it was not until 1884 that Dr. J. E. Rombout, a French entomologist, discovered and advocated the correct theory of how a housefly walks on a ceiling. Dr. Rombout proved that the fly clings to a smooth surface by capillary force, the molecular action between solid and liquid substances. The insect's feet are covered with many thousands of fine hairs, each of which terminates in a bulb. Through these hairs runs a thin liquid that seeps through in a tiny drop at the end. When several thousands of these drops have been fastened to a window pane or ceiling there is no difficulty at all for the fly to hang on and no difficulty for him to release himself instantaneously.

This is the theory of Rombout, obtained after some very fine calculations. A once popular idea was that the feet of the fly, being cup-shaped, enabled him through what is called suction to cling to the ceiling. But Blackwell put flies in a glass vacuum where they climbed the sides as easily as in the open air. Hooke next tried to prove that the fluid the feet of the fly sent out was viscous, and held the insect to the surface like mucilage. This theory was exploded by Rombout, who proved that the fluid was not viscous. And if it were, said he, it would be absurd to suppose that a fly, after resting in one position for an hour and giving the thick liquid time to harden, could release himself instantaneously when alarmed.

Then Rombout set about formulating his own theory. He examined the tracks of flies on a window pane, and the idea of capillary force impressed him. He dipped the end of a hair in oil of olives, and succeeded in suspending the hair from a clean glass pane. Water brought the same result as oil of olives. By a series of fine calculations Rombout found that a fly could walk upward on a vertical glass pane supporting an increase over his own weight of .02 of a grain. He then weighted down flies with papers attached to their backs and found by experiment that his reckoning was correct.

Rombout, in the course of his experiments, discovered other very interesting things about the fly. Each of the two wings of the insect is provided with hairs on the under side that serve as a fine brush to clean the feet. When a fly rubs his legs he is not always washing his body, but is often removing the dust particles from the hair in his feet that the fluid may run better. The feet must be kept clean or the fly cannot cling to a surface. He finds it impossible to walk across a pane covered with dust, and oil surfaces cause the liquid from his feet to run together, so that he is apt to slip.

Under the wings of a fly is a pair of balancers, little threads that terminate each in an oval button. When the fly is on the wing these buttons expand and guide the flight. A fly has no lungs, but breathes by spiracles or breathing pores that lie open all over his body and connect with an intricate system of air tubes. These spiracles are protected from the dust by networks of fine, filmy fibers that look something like exquisite lacework.

The chief value of the fly lies in his scavenging qualities. Indeed, some scientists say that without his assistance man would not be able to live in the temperate zone. The fly feeds on both liquids and solids. His mouth is shaped something like a pump, and he sips perspiration and saliva, his favorite foods, through fine and cunning tubes. Solids he reduces to liquids before he swallows them by a process of secretion. He is a voracious eater, and lives largely on the juices of decaying meat, fruit and vegetables. Linnaeus, the Swede, asserted that three flies with their progeny could devour a dead horse as quickly as a lion could. It has been estimated by scientists that a fly can multiply himself 200 times every 24 hours. Each newborn fly becomes full grown in four or five days.

Nature has provided well for the fly in his powers of flight and ability to escape from danger. He is supplied with 7,000 separate eyes that never sleep, and can look either in front or behind. Each eye is separate and of peculiar construction, shaped like a hexagon. When alarmed the fly leaps swiftly from his resting place into the air, detaching his legs with no apparent difficulty. After the first bound he is generally out of danger, and resumes his leisurely flight. If he chooses, however, he can fly 25 or 30 feet in a second.—Kansas City Star.

The Only Place to Learn the Fact.

"I am inclined," remarked the erudite grandee, "to believe that those Americans don't know when they are whipped."

"No," replied a still more learned grandee, "the ignorant creatures are evidently unable to read our Spanish newspapers."—Judge.

Accommodated.

Tourist (at Bloody Gulch)—Can you accommodate a stranger here?

Boniface—Yessir. Room or a fight?—Up to Date.

THE CHICAGO PLATFORM.

Democrats Will Keep Up the Fight Against Plutocracy and Corruption.

The idea has been advanced that by "pairing with the republicans in questions arising out of the war," democrats can then change the subject and talk of something else. The absurdity of expecting democrats to pair with republicans on issues involving the declaration of independence and the dreadlogue is self-evident. The plutocracy which now controls the republican party is radically opposed, even in peace, to the Ten Commandments and to the principle that all just government rests on the consent of the governed. And still more radically is it opposed to them in all issues involved in the use of the war power. Plutocratic republicanism stands for the greatest possible coercion in the exercise of governamental powers. Democracy stands for the least possible. Democrats believe in a resort to force only at the last extremity, and then only to prevent oppression. William J. Bryan defined democratic principle admirably when he said, at Omaha:

"Until the right has triumphed in every land, and love reigns in every heart, government must, as a last resort, appeal to force. As long as the oppressor is deaf to the voice of reason, so long must the citizen accustom his shoulder to the musket and his hand to the saber."

Plutocratic republicanism involves force, not as "a last resort," but immediately whenever fraud fails to accomplish its purposes of oppression. Between these ideas there can be no "pairing" and no compromise. They are in opposition to each other so radically that their conflict from the beginning of civilization until now has bathed the world in the blood of the martyrs of liberty who have died rejoicing to be able to die in behalf of the glorious truth that the best possible government depends on the least possible force. That is the fundamental truth of democracy. The man who abjures it, abjures democracy with it. He opposes himself to liberty, to good government, to the possibilities of progress. He also abjures common sense. The republican party has only one hope of holding the country, and that lies in keeping "war issues" at the front and in so sustaining the war excitement as to prevent plutocratic corruption and oppression of being exposed. The day before the war was declared, the democratic party and its populist and silver republican allies had probably not less than a three-fourths majority of the congressional districts. They have now so many as democrats can carry by the most aggressive opposition to plutocracy at all points, whether in civil or in military affairs. And since plutocracy is most dangerous when in control of the military power, it needs especially to be opposed at that point if democracy is to win.

Such leaders as Mr. Bryan, Mr. Bland, Hon. J. K. Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, and Mr. Altgeld, of Illinois, have thought on this subject with calm disinterestedness and have spoken on it with due sobriety.

The power of the principles of the Chicago platform is greater than that of money or of armies. The democracy they represent is the great inspiring force which moves men forward, giving them heart for self-sacrifice and courage for self-devotion. With that power impelling them, with that strength animating them, democrats will move to the attack on plutocracy, never stopping until they are in possession of its intrenchments.

FOR SUFFERING SOLDIERS.

A Duty That Democrats Owe to the Brave Defenders of Our Country's Honor.

When congress meets there will be an investigation as to the conduct of the war. If the republicans succeed in retaining a majority in the house the result of that investigation will be simply a whitewashing of Alger and all the rest of the incompetent and venal officials appointed by the republican administration. There have been many corrupt bargains, great inca-pacity and innumerable blunders during the short campaign against the Spaniards. These matters should not be hushed up. Soldiers who have been starved by robber commissaries, neglected by incompetent officers, murdered by lack of proper medical attention, should be remembered by congress, and the men who caused all this needless suffering should be severely punished. But if the republicans remain in power the congressional investigation will prove a farce. For this reason democrats should labor strenuously to return their candidates to the house of representatives. This is a duty the party owes to the soldiers. The war was brought about largely through democratic influences, but the injuries to soldiers have all proceeded from republican administration. Soldiers who have suffered will hesitate to bring their cases before a republican congress; therefore, in behalf of these brave defenders of the flag, democrats should work zealously for success.—Chicago Dispatch.

——It is a good thing that the supply of Ohio statesmen is inexhaustible. John Hay, of Ohio, is to succeed Judge Day, of Ohio, as secretary of state, that Judge Day, of Ohio, may take a place on the peace commission and afterward a United States judgeship. Whitelaw Reid, of Ohio, is likely to succeed John Hay, of Ohio, as minister to England. Any Ohio men unprovided for will please send on their papers.—Pittsburgh Post.

——No criticism of the conduct of the war department is coming from the army contractors. Secretary Alger has a few supporters left.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

OUTRAGEOUS AND UNJUST.

The Dingley War Tax Measure Is as Bad as His Tariff Iniquity.

From his stronghold in Maine Mr. Congressman Dingley gives out the utterance that "the war taxes, some of them, will probably be permanent."

The "probably" is well put in. Beyond any reasonable doubt Mr. Dingley speaks for the republican party. Continue it in legislative power, and the war taxes that came so conveniently to the aid of the treasury, covering up the failure of the Dingley tariff measure as a revenue producer, will be continued.

The people of the United States, who have to pay war taxes and all other demands of government, are yet to be heard from. Presumably they will take care to pay war taxes in time of peace, and they will want statesmen at Washington who will readjust the burdens of taxation so that they may fall on something of evenness with the wealth of the United States.

Mr. Dingley will find too, because also his drastic tariff measure, which falls heavily upon all the citizens of the United States, is discriminated in favor of his district. See Section 20 of his act, providing that the produce of the forests of the state of Maine upon the St. John river and its tributaries owned by the American citizens and sawed and hewed in the province of New Brunswick by American citizens, the same being otherwise manufactured in whole or in part, which is now admitted into the ports of the United States free of duty, shall continue to be so admitted.

Mr. Dingley took care to abandon in behalf of his own constituents a restrictive policy, whereas he made certain that the restrictions should operate against every other constituency in the United States.

Mr. Dingley's tariff measure was an outrageous injustice. His subsequent war taxation measure is extremely vexatious, and borne only because the needs of war prosecuted by the United States demanded the cheerful acquiescence of the people of the United States, but now that the war is at an end it is the duty of the people in their own interests to take care that there shall go to congress representatives who lifting in part the burden of taxation, custom house or other, will so rearrange the whole scheme of federal taxation as to make its enactions fall as well upon the great accumulations of wealth in the country as upon the slender savings of him who labors with his hands.

THIS IS REPUBLICANISM.

The President Is Looking After the Interests of England in This Country.

In America the opinion was definitely reached that Amasa Stone's millions had more to do with his selection by Mr. McKinley of John Hay as secretary of state than any other factor.

We have from England an altogether different view. The London Times says, in speaking of Mr. Hay's recall from England: "We must console ourselves with the reflection that the foreign affairs of the United States are in the hands of a man who has learned from actual observation what are the necessities of the foreign policy of England."

No formal alliance, offensive or defensive, has been struck up between England and the United States. That would require a treaty which the president would be obliged to submit to the senate of the United States, and the president might well hesitate to further such esteem lest his popularity suffer among the people of the United States, who are not ripe for any such alliance.

But we may gather from London that a policy which will not be declared openly or formally will be given operation by an indirection.

Mr. McKinley selects for the head of the department of state in the United States a man who has learned from actual observation what are the necessities not of the United States but of the foreign policy of England.

We may reasonably suppose that it is the English view that Mr. Hay goes into the cabinet of Mr. McKinley as England's particular representative.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

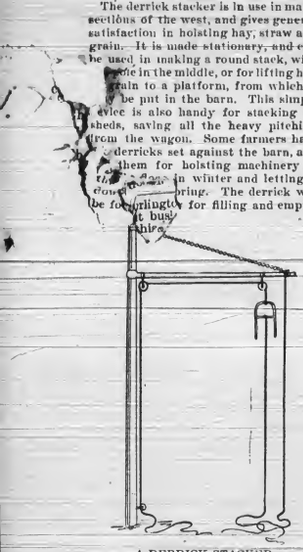
——Col. William J. Bryan will not go down to future generations as one of those who dared, but didn't.—Buffalo Times.

——In honoring the nation's heroes Hon. Steve Elkins should not be forgotten. Mr. Elkins contributed largely to the success of the war by vociferously opposing it.—Chicago Chronicle.

——When money is withdrawn from trade to put into bonds it forces up the price of gold and forces down the price of everything we produce in the west and south.—Mississippi Valley Democrat.

——There is no longer any question that there will be an inquiry into the conduct of the war department under Alger, and there is just as little that there will be a great deal of rottenness developed.—Peoria Herald.

——The war with Spain will soon be over, but the trusts and corporations will continue to push their invasion of the rights of the people, and will capture every stronghold that is left for a minute unguarded.—Kansas City Times.



——Here is a funny paradox in trade and tariffs: The exports of American manufactures of iron and steel for the last fiscal year amounted to $70,367,000, and a protection organ boasts that "in iron and steel we can beat the world." Why then do we maintain an average duty of 45 per cent. on these manufactures, ostensibly to "protect" us from foreign competition which we are beating in the markets of the world?—N. Y. World.

AGRICULTURAL HINTS.

THE DERRICK STACKER.

A Western Device Which Gives General Satisfaction in Hoisting Hay and Grain.

The derrick stacker is in use in many sections of the west, and gives general satisfaction in hoisting hay, straw and grain. It is made stationary, and can be used in making a round stack, with one in the middle, or for lifting hay or grain to a platform, from which it may be put in the barn. This simple device is also handy for stacking on sheds, saving all the heavy pitching from the wagon. Some farmers have derricks set against the barn, and use them for hoisting machinery to thresh grain in winter and letting it down in spring. The derrick will be found almost indispensable for filling and emptying tall silos.

A DERRICK STACKER.

ing silos and cellars, and will save time and money on any farm if properly handled.

The stacker consists of one long post or pole set solidly in the ground and extending 30 to 40 feet in the air, a short arm of ten or twelve feet, and the necessary ropes and pulleys. The arm is fastened at the height desired by bolting onto an iron band, sometimes made from an old wagon-tire inserted in a groove or collar cut around the post. A strong wire, rope or chain is then fastened to the outer end of the arm, or derrick, and on a band made to circle round near the top of the pole. Three pulleys are sufficient to hoist the load, and a small rope in the hands of the man on the stack or ground enables him to pull the hoisted load wherever desired.

As no one has disturbed the farmers using the derrick, it is supposed the stacker is not patented, hence no royalties will be demanded of anyone who wishes to make one.—Joel Shomaker, in Farm and Fireside.

NOTES FOR BEEKEEPERS.

Drones are the male bees.

Have a good supply of hives in readiness.

Drones have no stings and no means of defense.

Cross, stinging bees are usually the result of improper handling.

Keep plenty of room above the brood nest for the storage of honey.

A colony that seems slow in building up may have a defective queen.

Much surplus honey cannot be secured if the bees are allowed to swarm at will.

Rough treatment will not succeed, but will irritate the bees beyond redemption.

Colonies worked for extracted honey are less inclined to swarm than those for comb honey.

Use one-pound section boxes in the crates and the best crates for holding them on the hives.

As the season advances and the hive becomes crowded with bees, more ventilation should be given.

Swarming may often be discouraged by giving a young queen to the hive that is getting ready to swarm.

To hive a swarm right is to hive all the bees, and if the queen is there at all she will be in the hive with them.

To obtain a crop of honey in a profitable manner, the surplus boxes must be ready to put in the hives when needed.

A section filled with comb in which there is little honey put in the surplus cases will entice the bees into the upper ones.

Moth worms are very destructive to empty combs in the hives where the bees have died and in those put away unoccupied.

The best way to get rid of moth worms in empty combs is to put the combs in empty boxes and fumigate them with burning sulphur.—St. Louis Republic.

Training the Heifer Calf.

A heifer calf intended for a dairy cow should be trained from birth with this end in view. It should be handled from the start, taught to lead, and not to be handled, made gentle and tractable. The feeding should be done to develop her milk-giving qualities. Give her a ration that will secure a good development of bone and muscle rather than of fat. Keep thrifty, but it is not as necessary to push the growth as with calves intended for beef animals. A little care at the start will help immensely in securing a much better animal in every way. While there is much in this need if the best animal is secured early to properly develop is also very essential.—Dakota Field and Farm.

CLEANING UP THINGS.

No Time of the Year Is Better Suited for This Kind of Work Than the Present.

During the next two months is one of the best seasons for cleaning up the farm, and in the majority of farms there is plenty of opportunity or need for this kind of work. After the plowing for wheat is done the manure can all be cleaned out of the stables, sheds and feed lots and hauled out and scattered broadcast on the land intended for wheat. The work of properly preparing the land for the reception of the seed will incorporate sufficiently with the soil. Weeds may be cut down in the meadows and pastures and along the fence rows to a good advantage. Many of them, if cut down before they mature seeds, will be effectually killed out.

This is one of the best reasons for killing out sprouts and briers. With the exception of sassafras and persimmon almost all kinds may be effectually killed out by cutting down reasonably close to the ground almost any time in August. With these two in nearly all cases the only safe plan is to grub out, cutting them off at least six inches below the surface. While this plan requires considerable work, in the end it will prove much the more economical. This is so much the case that generally it will be better to thoroughly clean an acre in this way than to spend the same amount of time and labor cutting off and burning a larger acreage, but doing less effective work.

Cutting close to the ground and letting lay until dry and then burning will kill out many weeds, moss and sprouts, but with persimmon and sassafras the tops will rarely be killed down so deep but that the roots will send up shoots next year, and in a short time they will be as much in the way as ever.

By keeping the farm clear the value is materially increased to say nothing of the better satisfaction in working it.—N. J. Shepherd, in Farmers Voice.

HOT WATER FOR LICE.

An Insect Destroyer Which Does Its Work Thoroughly and Can Be Had for Nothing.

The Messenger very sensibly says that boiling hot water is a lice killer about which we read very little in the poultry papers; but it does the work very thoroughly, and is very cheap. In a poultry house where the pests have obtained a foothold hot water will greatly assist in their extermination. The waste water on wash day can be used for this purpose, being returned to the stove after it has served its end at the washtub and reheated. If the walls, roosts and nesting boxes are drenched with this the larger proportion of the lice will be destroyed instantly, and those which escape will meet their fate in the coat of whitewash which should follow within a day or two. If the nursery coops are turned upside down and hot water sprinkled over the inner surface until it flows into and through every crevice, not a single louse will survive the treatment. This should be done in the forenoon of a bright day in order that all dampness may be dissipated before the brood returns to it at night. We have nothing laid up against the lice killer makers, and have no desire to injure their business, but everybody cannot buy these things; and while they are a convenience, it is just as well to admit the fact that they are not a necessity. The lice can be conquered more cheaply, but to do this involves the expenditure of more time and labor.

HANDY DUCK HOUSE.

How to Build Quarters Which Are Inexpensive, But Answer Every Purpose.

Ducks are easily the most profitable of all poultry, if the flesh product simply is considered, while as layers of eggs the Pekin duck is exceedingly profitable. There can be no doubt that it would be wise for more farmers to keep a flock of breeding and laying ducks, and for this purpose there is no better breed than the large white Pekin.

HANDY DUCK HOUSE.

As ducks roost on the floor, only low quarters are needed. A low shed-roofed affair can be put onto the side of the barn or other farm building in the manner shown in the cut, three feet of height being sufficient. Let the pen open into the large building, the partition between being hinged at the top, so that by raising it one can clean out the pen and put in dry bedding. One can thus build duck quarters very inexpensively.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Many Varieties of Pigeons.

The following varieties of pigeons appear in the last premium list of the Boston pigeon shows: Carriers, pouters, pigmy pouters, barbs, tumblers, short-face tumblers, inside tumblers, long-face clean-leg tumblers, long-face bald or beard tumblers, satin tumblers, muffled beard tumblers, muffled barred tumblers, jacobines, owls, African owls, Chinese owls, trumpeters, fantails, oriental frills, blondinettes, saxinettes, bluettes, silverettes, turbiteens, turbits, magpies, swallows, fairy swallows, dragoons, nuns, archangels, tipplers and homers. Each of these varieties is divided into several classes, chiefly on the score of coloring.

SHOWS MARVELOUS SPEED.

Little Torpedo-Boat Destroyer Farragut Is a Wonder—Built on Pacific Coast.

The torpedo boat destroyer Farragut, which had her builders' trial the other day at San Francisco, proves to be a wonder and her constructors expect that her official test will show her to be the fastest craft of her type in the world. If she does not make a speed of 32 knots her builders will be disappointed.

The second time she was out of her dock, the Farragut, with a little more than half her horse-power, made a 26-knot gait over the measured mile.

Shortly after noon the Farragut left her dock, having on board the trial board, composed of Lieut. Drake, formerly of the Oregon, and Engineers Ruhm and Cleaves. The flyer spent about six hours cruising about the bay, traveling at a 23-knot gait. The navy tug Unadilla, with Senators Hitt, Cullom and Perkins and Congressman Barham on board, was in attendance.

The destroyer's steering gear did not work perfectly, so no attempt at speed was made for some hours. Finally, at the request of the senators, it was determined to make a fast trip over the mile. The day was pleasant and the water smooth, so conditions were very favorable. As the Farragut came down to the beginning of the course her speed gradually increased till to the spectators on the Unadilla she seemed to be going at a phenomenal rate. Faster and faster the slim craft tore through the water, her engines working with wonderful smoothness.

As she crossed the finish line her steam gauges showed a pressure of 240 pounds and her screws were making 360 revolutions a minute. She covered the distance at a speed of 26 knots. It is estimated that the Farragut developed 3,100 horse-power.

THE VICTORIOUS ARMY.

Plans at New York to Give Shafter's Men a Rousing Reception When They Return Home.

When the victorious troops come marching home from the Cuban campaign to rest at Montauk Point, L. I., they will get a reception in New York commensurate with the glory of their achievements. Plans are on foot to make the arrival of the boys from the front a triumphant entrance to the city, with the accompaniment of bands, fireworks, enthusiasm, and everything else tending to drown the remembrance of their hardships, and swell their hearts with pride.

Veterans of the civil war are engaged in the task of preparing an adequate reception to the soldiers. They will bend their energies in the direction of getting the whole Cuban army of invasion to New York city at the same time, so that the pent up joy of the people over the heroic conduct of their boys in the field may have a chance to vent itself on all without reserve. If the war department decides to send the men home in detachments their reception may be spoiled somewhat from a spectacular point of view, but the old soldiers who will have the matter in charge hope to prevail on the president to send the entire crowd of heroes through the city in one compact army.

LOCATE BULLETS BY X RAYS.

Successful Experiments on Soldiers in New York Hospital—Lead Which Killed Fish Found.

A number of the wounded soldiers at the Marine hospital at Stapleton, S. I., were subjected to X ray experiments at the Long Island College hospital the other day. Guy Lamberson, of company B, Second infantry, who has been suffering from sunstroke and a gunshot wound of the right forearm, was one of the men. A Mauser bullet, one and one-quarter inches in length, was located in his right wrist. Dr. Stoner removed the bullet.

Edward Culver, a rough rider, was also examined and a bullet was found lying near the sixth rib on the left side of the body. Culver says this bullet is the one which killed Hamilton Fish and afterward struck him.

THE MARKETS.

	CINCINNATI, Aug. 27.
LIVE STOCK—Cattle, common	$ 3 50	@	4 00
Select butchers	4 10	@	4 50
CALVES—Fair to good, light	6 25	@	6 75
HOGS—Common	3 25	@	3 70
Mixed packers	3 10	@	3 95
Light shippers	3 90	@	4 10
SHEEP—Choice	3 40	@	4 90
LAMBS	4 85	@	5 75
FLOUR—Winter family	3 75	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@	60¾
No. 3 red		@	57
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	31
Oats—No. 2		@	22
Rye—No. 2		@	47
HAY—Prime to choice		@	8 25
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@	6 62½
Lard—Prime steam		@	3 92½
BUTTER—Choice dairy	11	@	11½
Prime to choice creamery		@	20
APPLES—Choice to fancy	2 00	@	2 50
POTATOES—New, per bbl	1 65	@	1 75
	CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 65	@	3 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	69
No. 3 Chicago spring	62	@	66
CORN—No. 2		@	30¾
OATS—No. 2		@	20¾
PORK—Mess	8 85	@	8 90
LARD—Steam	5 67	@	5 07½
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 70	@	4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	71¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	35¾
RYE		@	47
OAT—Mixed		@	27
PORK—New mess	10 10	@	10 40
LARD—Western		@	5 87½
	BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	3 60	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	70	@	70½
Southern—Wheat	60	@	70½
Corn—Mixed	34	@	34½
Oats—No. 2 white	27	@	27½
Rye—No. 2 western		@	45
CATTLE—First quality	4 35	@	4 75
HOGS—Western		@	4 00
	INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	61
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	28½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	20½
	LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	67	@	68
Corn—Mixed		@	30
Oats—Mixed		@	24
PORK—Mess		@	10 00
LARD—Steam		@	5 37½

TOLD BY THE SERGEANT.

From the Democrat, Grand Rapids, Mich.

At the Michigan Soldiers' Home, in Grand Rapids, lives Sergeant Richard Dunn, hale and hearty, although he carries the scars of several wounds sustained in some of the battles of the Civil War. In recounting his experience to a reporter, Mr. Dunn said:

"About a year and a half ago I began to have trouble with my stomach. My suffering was so intense that I tried different medicines and doctored with several physicians, but without permanent relief.

A Wounded Soldier.

"I read an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People being cured a case much like mine, and I decided to give them a trial, which I did.

"After taking five boxes I was cured. I never felt better than I do now, even in my younger days. I am naturally a robust man, but that stomach trouble, together with rheumatism, which afterward set in, were making fast inroads upon my health and I am satisfied that it would have been but a short time before my comrades would have been conducting the regulation funeral ceremonies over my remains, had I not chanced to read of and taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"There are several others in the home who are taking these pills and are receiving great benefit." RICHARD DUNN.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of Nov., 1897.

HENRY GIBSON, Notary Public.

Sergeant Dunn is perfectly willing that anyone should write him in reference to his case, provided stamp is enclosed for reply.

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained in a condensed form in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In men they cure cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

THE CAPTAIN'S SPEECH.

It Was Interestingly Brief and Decidedly to the Point, But Unsatisfactory to the Orator.

One of the volunteer companies recently at Camp Alger possesses a beautiful new flag, which was made and presented by a number of patriotic women in the Pennsylvania town from which the company comes. It was presented just before the company marched away—or steamed away, to be accurate—and the presentation was the occasion of much ceremony. The company was drawn up in a long line—"company front," I believe, is the military term for it—and a very charming young lady read a very charming and somewhat lengthy address, which contained a great deal of flowery language. The captain was "it" then, and had to reply. He is not an eloquent man at any time, and he is extremely shy; but he had written out a graceful speech of acceptance, and he stepped forward confidently and received the banner.

"Ladies," he began, in a Fourth of July voice, "Ladies, we will accept this flag. Ladies, we—we will accept this flag." Here his color forsook him. He had forgotten the best of his speech. One trembling hand sought the pocket of his blouse. The manuscript was gone.

"Ladies," he began again, desperately, with a gulping kind of gasp, "Ladies, we will accept this flag, and, and, and thanks awfully for it, don't you know."

And after all, I dare say the impromptu was quite as effective as the address he had prepared, but the captain doesn't like to talk about it.—Washington Post.

A shower is distressing to wheelmen, but the man with a horse ought to welcome a driving rein.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

NO WOMAN IS EXEMPT.

Regularity is a matter of importance in every woman's life. Much pain is, however, endured in the belief that it is necessary and not alarming, when in truth it is all wrong and indicates derangement that may cause serious trouble.

Excessive monthly pain itself will unsettle the nerves and make women old before their time.

The foundation of woman's health is a perfectly normal and regular performance of nature's function. The statement we print from Miss GERTRUDE SIKES, of Eldred, Pa., is echoed in every city, town and hamlet in this country. Read what she says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel like a new person since following your advice, and think it is my duty to let the public know the good your remedies have done me. My troubles were painful menstruation and leucorrhœa. I was nervous and had spells of being confused. Before using your remedies I never had any faith in patent medicines. I now wish to say that I never had anything do me so much good for painful menstruation as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; also would say that your Sanative Wash has cured me of leucorrhœa. I hope these few words may help suffering women."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

All suffering women are invited to write freely to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice about their health.

Biliousness

"I have used your valuable CASCARETS and find them perfect. Couldn't do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to every one. Once tried, you will never be without them in the family." EDW. A. MARX, Albany, N. Y.

CANDY CATHARTIC

Cascarets

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

REGULATE THE LIVER

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken, or Gripe. 10c., 25c., 50c.

... CURE CONSTIPATION. ...

Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Montreal, New York. 381

NO-TO-BAC Sold and guaranteed by all druggists to CURE Tobacco Habit.

A Musical Critic.

"That's a mighty good band," said Tommy Tucker, who was up in a tree listening to the ——on concert at the ——.

"How many musicianers is they?" asked Benny, who was lying down in the grass.

"They's 20," answered Tommy. "An' they's a feller that stands up in front of 'em, beatin' a stick up an' down and tryin' to bother 'em, but they don't pay no attention to him."—Chicago Tribune.

Lacked Originality.

He—And am I really and truly the first man you ever kissed?

She—Why, of course, you are, stupid.

"Stupid! Why do you call me that?"

"Because you are not original. At least a dozen men have asked me the very same question."—Chicago Evening News.

Just the Place for a Bridal Trip.

Take a cruise to Picturesque Mackinac Island, 900 miles of lake ride, and it only costs $17 from Cleveland, $15 from Toledo and $12.50 from Detroit, round trip, including meals and berth. New Steel Steamers.

Send 2c. for illustrated pamphlet. Address A. A. Schantz, G. P. A., D. & C., The Coast Line, Detroit Mich.

Poor Girl.

She—Oh, please don't tease me to sing. I'm so hoarse to-night that I can hardly make a sound.

He—Yes, I know. That's why I think this would be a good time to have it over with.—Chicago Evening News.

Wheat 40 Cents a Bushel.

How to grow wheat with big profit at 40 cents and samples of Salzer's Red Cross (80 Bushels per acre), Winter Wheat, Rye, Oats, Clovers, etc., with Farm Seed Catalogue for 4 cents postage. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., La Crosse, Wis.

In a Job Lot.

Dason—What sort of a policy do you think Spain ought to adopt now?

Mason—Accident, fire, marine and as many other kinds of policy as she can lay hands on.—N. Y. Journal.

The Maidservant — "Professor, madam has just returned from her journey." Professor—"Remind me by and by to give her a kiss."—Tit-Bits.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

People who don't know what they want, are harder to please than those who do know and can't have it.—Bam's Horn.

We think Piso's Cure for Consumption is the only medicine for Coughs.—Jennie Pinekard, Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1, 1895.

A fiddle is about the only thing on earth that is better second hand than new.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

is taken Internally. Price 75c.

Fear is so sharp-sighted it can see what does not exist.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Keep Coughing

We know of nothing better to tear the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up long enough and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, bringing on a slow fever and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption.

Stop coughing and you will get well.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

cures coughs of every kind. An ordinary cough disappears in a single night. The racking coughs of bronchitis are soon completely mastered. And, if not too far along, the coughs of consumption are completely cured.

Ask your druggist for one of

Dr. Ayer's Pectoral Plasters

It will aid the action of the Cherry Pectoral.

If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly obtain, write us freely. You will receive a prompt reply that may be of great value to you. Address

DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

A Beautiful Present

FREE for a few months to all users of the celebrated ELASTIC STARCH, (Flat Iron Brand). To induce you to try this brand of starch, so that you may find out for yourself that all claims for its superiority and economy are true, the makers have had prepared, at great expense, a series of four

GAME PLAQUES

exact reproductions of the $10,000 originals by Muville, which will be given you ABSOLUTELY FREE by your grocer on conditions named below. These Plaques are 40 inches in circumference, are free of any suggestion of advertising whatever, and will ornament the most elegant apartment. No manufacturing concern ever before gave away such valuable presents to its customers. They are not for sale at any price, and can be obtained only in the manner specified. The subjects are:

American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant,
English Quail, English Snipe.

The birds are handsomely embossed and stand out natural as life. Each Plaque is bordered with a band of gold.

ELASTIC STARCH

has been the standard for 25 years.

TWENTY-TWO MILLION packages of this brand were sold last year. That's how good it is.

ASK YOUR DEALER to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute.

How To Get Them:

All purchasers of three 10 cent or six 5cent packages of Elastic Starch (Flat Iron Brand), are entitled to receive from their grocer one of three beautiful Game Plaques Free. The plaques will not be sent by mail. They can be obtained only from your grocer.

Every Grocer Keeps Elastic Starch.

Do not delay. This offer is for a short time only.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

Burlington Route

SEPT. 6
SEPT. 20
OCT. 4
OCT. 18

These are the days on which you can buy very low-rate round-trip Excursion Tickets to NEBRASKA and other points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, good for 21 days. Stop on your way and see the GREAT TRANSMISSISSIPPI EXPOSITION AT OMAHA. Ask your nearest railroad agent to make your ticket read over the Burlington Route. You can get a handsome illustrated pamphlet describing Nebraska, and another all about the Exposition (both free), by writing to P. S. EUSTIS, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

Go and look for a New Home in Nebraska, a prosperous country, where a farm can be bought for one years' rent of an eastern farm.

FREE A Daisy Air Rifle for selling 30 of Carter's famous Condition Powders at 25c. each. The best household article made. A fine Nickel-plated Watch for selling 8 books, Cameos, Knives, and other premiums. Send address and we will forward the powders. You don't pay for it until you sell it. Special easy prize offer in our Premium List. Premiums for 5 cent sales. Send for it. CARTER MEDICINE Company, Dept. K, 171 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.

BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXIONS EASILY OBTAINED BY USING PEACH BLOW COMPLEXION TABLETS. Make new, rich blood, remove all blemishes, such as Pimples, Blackheads, Freckles, etc. Perfectly harmless, and a Positive Cure. One month's treatment $1.00 by mail. Address all letters to PATHS DRUG CO., Alton, Ill.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Aug., 31, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work,

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS,

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

STATE NEWS.

A snake 11 feet long was killed in Madison county.

Rain and hail destroyed tobacco in Anderson county.

Rev Thomas Rowland, 76, is dying of hydrophobia at Eddyville.

C. P. Allen, of Nicholasville, has a twist of tobacco raised in 1860.

There is an improvement in the small-pox situation in Jackson co.

Tevis Hall, 29, fell from a tobacco barn near Lexington and was killed.

Carlisle banks are receiving contributions to purchase a silver set for the battle ship Kentucky.

Cattle are going blind to an alarming extent in Bracken county. The disease is contagious.

Black ash, red oak and hickory trees are dying in Bourbon county from the ravages of an insect.

At Versailles a marriage license was issued to David Freeman, 84, and Mrs. Annie Brandenburg, 50.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Sturgis was destroyed by lightning.

A recent report filed at Frankfort shows that the convicts in the penitentiary earned 25 cents under the contract system.

Covington and Newport are petitioning the President to have the Second Kentucky regiment mustered out of service.

Hannah Jones, colored, of Bath county, weighs 342 pound, and does as much work as any woman of ordinary size.

The Courier says a Williamstown boy drank a pint of blue vitriol, took an antidote and felt no bad effects from the dose.

Newton Vaughn, of Boyle county, who died last week, left $293,000 life insurance, all taken in the last few years at a total cost of $20,000.

Near headquarters, Oscar Peddicord was thrown from his buggy, breaking his arm and collar bone, caused by getting his lines crossed.

The jury in the Workman murder case at Mt. Olivet could not agree on a verdict. It was out two days and stood ten to two for acquittal.

Auditor Stone sued the Louisville Street Railway Company and the Louisville & Jeffersonville Ferry Co., for franchise taxes aggregating $10,000.

E. N. Forsythe, of Lexington, has purchased of Samuel Rogers, of Carlisle, 2,000 cedar posts for shipment to Rotterdam, to be used in manufacturing cedar pencils.

John Wesley Campbell and his wife went before the county clerk at Bowling Green and each took an oath to quit "cussing," "drinking" "chawing" and "dipping."

Mrs. Sallie Owens, who was probably the oldest woman in Barren county, died at her home near Cave City, with infirmities of old age, having passed her ninety-first birthday.

Mrs. Jessie Coleman, an aged resident of Caldwell county, died from the effects of a mosquito or some insect bite on the great toe. Amputation became necessary, and the shock killed her.

Grant Taylor, in jail at Pineville for murder, revealed a plot by which the Bell county jail was to be blown up with dynamite. Two dynamite cartridges were found. James Surber and Bige Jones are charged with the plot.

The two-year-old daughter of Mrs. May Danner was drowned in a tub of water at Thorp, Lewis county. Her mother had left her at play to get dinner, and on returning found her in the tub of water dead.

The Germantown fair, last week, was attended by large crowds daily, and the exhibition of live stock and farm products was larger and more varied than in any former meeting of that popular institution.

Mr. Sam L. Thompson has just torn down the oldest house in Elkton. This house was built by Mr. Alexander Millen, father of Messrs. A. H. and G. W. Millen, sixty-five years ago, and for years was used by him as a carriage factory.

At Henderson, Mrs. Blanch Vaughan has instituted six suits for $100 each, against that many saloon-keepers and their, sureties, who she charged with selling intoxicating liquors to her husband, after she had given them written notice not to do so.

In Floyd county, Sam Williams, a farm hand, eloped with the young wife of John W. Collins, a wealthy farmer. Williams had been working for Collins all summer. Mr. and Mrs. Collins had been married but a short time. Mrs. Collins had been heard to express herself as dissatisfied with her husband, who is sixty years old.

The dispute between Appellate Clerk-elect Sam J. Shackelford and prospective deputies has been settled. Shackelford will go into office Sept. 1 and his deputies will be as follows: Chief Deputy, R. L. Green, of Bracken County, salary $2500; second, Captain W. T. Havens, of Montgomery county, salary $2000; third, Gus. W. Richardson, of Meade county, salary $1500. All of the deputies were candidates against Shackelford except Captain Havens who was placed by S. Kink Ford, of Mt. Sterling, who was also a candidate.

CROP AND STOCK.

The Minneapolis Journal estimates the wheat crop of Minnesota and the Dakotas at 190,000,000 bushels.

In Clark county 50 cattle, weight 250 to 600 pounds, sold at $14 25 to $21, also 50 wethers and lambs at $2 50 each.

Tom Smith, colored, brought to the Times office two corn field beans which measured in length 2 feet, 7 inches each.—Georgetown Times.

The greatest corn crop in the history of Madison county will be raised this year. Some of the farmers are claiming sixteen barrels to the acre.

The Agricultural Department at Washington intimates that the European wheat crop is unusually large, but on account of the low stock on hand a sudden turn to low prices is not expected.

The much-dreaded grass-hopper has made its appearance in Southern Kentucky and is playing the wild with everything green. The swarms are so dense that when a person rides along the road they rise in clouds so thick that they obscure the sight.

Probably the best sale of fat cattle made in Grant county for a number of years took place, last week, when Wm. Webb bought of N. D. Elliott, of the Doudton neighborhood, twenty fat cattle at $4.70 per hundred, which are to weigh on delivery the first of October 1,700 lbs. each.—Courier.

No such corn crop has ever been seen in Madison county as will be raised this year. A prominent farmer, who has one of the largest crops in the county, says that he will have sixteen barrels to the acre. In the eastern end of the county, in what is known as Poosey, corn is being offered at 60 cents a barrel in the field, which is the lowest figure heard of in this section since the war.

A large crowd was in town Monday. The farmers were feeling good over the bright prospects for a crop. The universal opinion seemed to be that the corn crop is the largest in the history of the county, the wheat fine, fruit bountiful, and the tobacco crop, baring frost, will be above an average. Should the price be maintained there is no reason why Owen should not come out of the kinks.—Owen News.

A writer in an exchange recommends sowing two crops of wheat successively on the same ground, saying that often the second crop is better than the first. He plows or skins the earth within two weeks after the harvest and from that time until seeding the land is worked over at least once every two weeks with a disc harrow. When seeding time arrives the soil is in the very best condition, the seed goes in just right, the plants come up quickly and make a strong growth.

To Whom It May Concern.

Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.

W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at Weaver's mill on Gunpowder creek, on

THURSDAY, SEPT. 22nd, 1898,

The Following Property, to-wit: 2 good work mules, 1 work horse, road wagon, spring wagon, buggy, 2 mowing machines, hayrake, wheat drill, 2-horse sled, wheat fan, riding plow, cutting box, harness, set of blacksmith tools, turning lathe, 10 hogs and numerous farming implements in good order, also several guns, clocks, and set of watch tools, some household and kitchen furniture, &c., &c.

TERMS OF SALE.

Sums of $5 and under, cash; over that amount 6 months credit will be given, purchasers to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank. Sale to begin at 9 am.

W. C. WEAVER.

Tony Bentler, Auctioneer.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS of ROOFING,
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,
DENTIST,
133 Garfield Place,
CINCINNATI,
Has removed his office to
The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th,
Bet. Vine and Race.
☞Home City, MONDAYS.

Executor's Notice.

All persons indebted to Arthur Blyth, deceased, will please come forward at once and settle, and those having claims against the estate will present them to me properly proven according to law. HARRY BLYTH, Executor.

The 5th Term of
WALTON ACADEMY
WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.
Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.
Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.
Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give—
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you. He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.
F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
—(o)—
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.
J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at the late residence of Reuben Conner at Richwood Station on the C. N. O. & T. P. Railway, 14 miles from Covington and 4 miles north of Walton, Boone county, Ky., on

Wednesday Sept. 7, 1898,

All of the personal property consisting in part as follows: 3 work horses, 2 2-yr-old colts, 1 suckling colt, 1 work mule, 1 yearling mule, 5 heifers, 2 yearling heifers, 2 yearling steers and one calf, 3 milch cows 2 Jerseys; 1 bull, 66 hogs and shoats, 96 sheep and lambs; also farming implements consisting of binder, mower, corn planter, 2 corn drills, 1 1-horse wheat drill, cutting box, hay rake and numerous other articles too numerous to mention; 340 bus. wheat, lot of hay in the stack, corn in the field; also five shares of stock in Erlanger Deposit Bank.

The above cattle, except the Jerseys, are Shorthorn stock.

TERMS—All sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given, purchaser giving note with good security, payable in the Walton Deposit Bank. No property to be removed until terms are complied with.

J. W. CONNER, Adm'r.

Sale to begin at 9:30 a. m.

EVERETT HELMS
—PROPRIETOR,—
The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,
Petersburg, Ky.
Will be pleased to
CUBA
Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.
BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.
TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE
DELHI FERRY
To The City.
Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.
A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.
NO DELAY.

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, containing about 11½ acres, known as the Jackson Bass farm, situated about 1¼ miles from Verona, Boone county, Ky., on the Short Line (L. & N.) Railroad. 8 or 10 acres of this farm are in the state of nature and will grow enough tobacco in a few years to pay for the place. There are 10 or 15 acres in cultivation the balance (about 80 acres) is in grass. The improvements consist of a two story frame dwelling house of six rooms, two halls and two porches; tenant house of three rooms; corn crib and large barn. The place is well watered and fencing in splendid repair. This farm is admirably located for a market garden. My terms are very reasonable. For further particulars address Mrs. JAMES T. BROCK, No. 416 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky. aug 10-2m

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefitted by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says: "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui entirely cured her and also helped my mother through the Change of Life."

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—B. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Aliphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Vashell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. H. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December as follows:
District No 1.—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—B. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Ayler, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Neely, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Byland, third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. L. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Guffy.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Tetter.
Commissioner Agriculture—[illegible] Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Geo. Durelle, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, J. H. Haselrig, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Typist—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
DENTIST.
Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.
☞OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.
Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.
East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m. 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m
O. D. BERCAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN,
—DRUGGIST,—
Rising Sun, - Indiana.
Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.
E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.
EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

RUPTURE
You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have in our long experience in Fitting Trusses, reduced it to a science. Many Ruptures are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance: one of your family is very ill. You go to your physician, and say: no and so is ill, and what would you recommend? The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.
OHIO TRUSS CO.,
30 and 32 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone, Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention to Collections entrusted to him.

W. E. VEST
County Surveyor,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL
LASSING & RIDDELL,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Prompt Attention Given to Collections.

S. GAINES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.
VEST & RICE,
Real Estate Agents.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
☞All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - - KENTUCKY
CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS,..... $ 3,000
Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
Walton, Kentucky.
Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.
☞Will be in office at Union every Monday.
Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,
SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,
And all Kinds of
Household Goods,
213 W. Fifth St. 4 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1254.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
HARD AND SOFT
:COAL,:
Erlanger, - - Ky.
—o—
Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.
—o—
J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1898. NO. 46.

Fine rain Sunday.

A small crowd attended court, Monday.

Fair week is not a good time for collecting local news.

Many of the public schools in the county are now in progress.

Charlie Finch has typhoid fever very badly at Chickamauga.

The rains have put the land in good condition to break for wheat.

The rain Sunday and Monday did not cool the atmosphere much.

The sale of the personal estate of the late Reuben Connor comes off to-morrow, Thursday.

The annual election of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association will be held to-day at 2 o'clock.

It is no unusual thing, now, to hear a farmer declare that he has the finest tobacco he ever raised.

John Jones, one of the great tobacco producers in this part of the country, has his large crop in the house.

Rev. I. B. Grandy will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours.

The election commissioners for this county, met last Monday, and appointed the officers of election for the ensuing year.

Assessor T. G. Willis with Elmo Gaines as assistant, will begin taking an inventory of the county's wealth on the 15th inst.

Uncle Absalom Aylor says he has no recollection of as long a hot spell as this part of the country has experienced this season.

Leslie Goodridge got his buggy somewhat wrecked in Florence one evening last week. His horse got frightened and caused the trouble.

J. H. Aylor sold to C. H. Wood, of Rockdale, this State, a fine buck, for $100. It was shown at the fair last week and took a first premium.

Happy Jack Turner mourns the loss of his shepherd dog, which has been missing several days, and which he would like to know the whereabouts.

The Verona public school, J. E. Thompson principal, will begin its fall and winter session on the 26th inst. This is one of the best public schools in the county.

A Farmers' Institute will be held at the Harvest Home grounds on the 17th of this month. An interesting program of exercises is published in this issue.

Last week Jerry Moore, of the North Bend neighborhood, bought 21 Shropshiredown 2 year old ewes from Samuel Stephens, of Kenton county, paying $6 a head for them.

Chas. Robinson, of Bullittsville, was heldup by a couple of highwaymen in Ludlow, one night last week, and relieved of several dollars. They handled Charley pretty roughly.

Polico Judge W. H. Rice, of Florence, says he intends resigning his office and moving back to his farm in a few weeks, in which event his residence in Florence will be for rent.

Clutterbuck's refreshment brigade broke camp at the fair grounds, Saturday evening, and reached home that night. Clore's command did not arrive until Sunday afternoon.

In the death of Rev. R. E. Kirtley this county loses an upright and exemplary citizen, and the Baptist church, one of its ablest ministers. Notice of memorial exercises in another column.

We are short on neighborhood notes this week. We presume that our correspondents were taking in the fair last week, and the items they usually correl all escaped them. They are certainly excusable.

This will be one of the greatest weeks in the history of Cincinnati, made so by the assemblying of the old war veterans from every section of the country. The city will do the proper thing for the old worriers.

Jake Crigler says he showed four articles at the fair and took five premiums. He says further that when the judges do that kind of work they are extra good, but when they go against him they are incompetent.

MEMORIAL SERVICES OF REV. R. E. KIRTLEY.

Memorial services of Rev. Robert E. Kirtley were held at Bullittsburg Baptist Church, Friday, September 2d, 1898. Revs. C. G. Jones, T. L. Utz, B. F. Swindler, J. S. Kirtley, M. J. Hoover and O. M. Huey acted as pall bearers and took part in the exercises.

Rev. T. L. Utz, who is now pastor of three of the churches formerly under the charge of Rev. R. E. Kirtley, conducted the services. The hymn, "Jesus Lover of my soul," was sung. Then Rev. C. G. Jones read the following passages of scripture: John 14:6-8 and 17:24; Romans 8: 47-39 and 14: 8; Second Timothy 4: 4-8 and Second Corinthians 14: 54-57. These were the passages most frequently quoted and referred to by Bro. Kirtley. After the reading of these scriptures Rev. M. J. Hoover lead in prayer. The congregation then sang, "Asleep in Jesus."

At the conclusion of the hymn Rev. C. G. Jones spoke feelingly of his first meeting with Rev. Kirtley and their close friendship afterwards. He also spoke of his great faith in the Bible as God's Word; of his kindness and helpful consideration of young and weaker brethren in the ministry; of his ripe old age and a life of great usefulness.

Rev. B. F. Swindler next spoke of Bro. Kirtley as a man of great influence among the leading men in the Baptist denomination; of his ability to solve difficult problems and knotty theological questions; of his great interest in all church work; and especially the District Mission work.

Rev. O. M. Huey then spoke of his acquaintance and friendship with Bro. Kirtley, and his indebtedness to him as a young minister. He also spoke of his ability to make plain the deep meaning of God's Work.

Rev. M. J. Hoover spoke of the great influence of Bro. Kirtley's life and work in the community where he lived and labored so many years. He spoke of his life as a practical sermon for all who knew him, and of the testimony of everyone as to the life and influence of Bro. Kirtley for the cause of religion.

Rev. J. S. Kirtley spoke of his great love for truth and the souls of men. He further spoke of the blessing that he had been to the world, and of the rich heritage he had left—a good name.

Rev. T. L. Utz spoke of Bro. Kirtley as a master builder in the Lord's causc. As a successor of his in the pastorate, he could say that Bro. Kirtley had, by his strong preaching and doctrinal teaching, laid a firm foundation to build upon. He spoke very touchingly of his last visit to see him, and of their conversation of his departure from this world, which was about to be accomplished.

Dr. J. A. Kirtley then gave the following biographical sketch of his brother:

Rev. R. E. Kirtley was born February 7, 1820, and died August 31, 1897, aged 78 years, 6 months and 23 days. In the fall of 1839, he was under the providence of God, led to see his sin and his need of a Savior by reading Dodridge's Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul. He experienced a work of grace in his heart, and sought membership in the Bullittsburg church on the first Saturday in October, 1839. He soon manifested great concern for the salvation of his friends and would make very earnest appeals to them to seek an interest in a Savior's love. The church wasted to license him, but he would not permit it. After two years he moved to Illinois, and their joined the St. Mary's Baptist church. He was active and zealous while a member of this church, and so won the confidence and esteem of his brethren that his advice was sought and followed by all. He then moved to Missouri, and took active part in the work of Salt rond church, of which he was a member. This church ordained him in 1863. The ordination council was composed of Rev. A. P. Williams, Drs. Luther and Bell. He spent some time in the Confederate army. At close of the war he returned to his early home, and spent his remaining years in ardent service for his Master.

At the conclusion of Dr. Kirtley's remarks the remains were placed in the vault, and Rev. B. F. Swindler dismissed the large congregation with prayer.

ARMY AND NAVY.

From the moment when the gun boat Nashville began hostilities by firing a solid shot across the bows of the Buena Ventura to the close of the naval parade in New York harbor, the navy has been in the right place at the right time. Every detail of its work has been marked out wisely and effected promptly. There has been no blundering, no hardships, no neglect. There have been questions raised as to which commander deserved the most praise in this or that engagement. But there is to be no allotment of blame in the navy, because no fault can be found with its management.

In the army, from the commanding General down to the unknown private, sick and famishing in the hospitals of scattered camps, the absorbing thought is, "Who is to blame?" The glory of Las Guasimas, San Juan and El Caney belongs chiefly to the common soldier, but it is stifled and thrust out of sight in filthy troopships, squalid shelter tents and hasty graves. Monumental incompetency, mismanagement and confusion overshadow the record of the army and place it in shameful contrast with the navy.

To suppose that the officers of the army are uniformly inferior in ability and morale to their contemporaries in the navy would be unreasonable. The logical conclusion is that the reputation of the officers and the welfare of the men in the ranks have been sacrificed on the alter of politics. There is good ground for believing that Secretary Alger, whose ability and courage have been in doubt since the Civil War, represents all that is worst in a military establishment which has always been infected with the political microbe.

The duties peculiar to the navy may have protected that organization from the dangers of the contagion which is now coming to a head in the army, but the fact remains that the United States navy has always been singularly free from the blight of politics. In this wholesome condition lies the secret of its superiority. Behind the disgraceful blunders of General Alger there is a long story of military favoritism, political juggling and jealousy reaching back to the first years of the Civil War.—St. Louis Republic.

The Boone County Election Commissioners met last Monday and organized by electing J. N. Pearson, chairman and J. B. Allen, secretary. O. S. Watts was present. They appointed the following as officers of election:

Big Bone—J. F. Greene, C. A. Slater, judges; Harry Adams, sheriff; J. C. Miller, clerk.

Verona—Lafe Kennedy, Ben O'Neal, judges; W. H. Dickerson, sheriff; L. J. Hume, clerk.

Walton—T. F. Curley, J. A. Sanders, judges; W. C. Moxley, sheriff; S. L. Edwards, clerk.

Beaver—G. W. Sleet, John Lockhardt, judges; Thos. Finnell, sheriff; Merit Jack, clerk.

Florence—B. A. Floyd, Wm. Williams, judges; W. P. Carpenter, sheriff; James Murrey, clerk.

Burlington—G. G. Hughes, W. T German, judges; Harry Blyth, sheriff; J. S. Clutterbuck, clerk.

Constance—J. A. Riddell, Clint Reeves, judges; Sim Tanner, sheriff; Wood Riggs, clerk.

Bullittsville—Julius Utzinger, Owen Gaines, judges; G. C. Graddy, sheriff; J. W. Watts, clerk.

Petersburg—Steve Gaines, John Botts, judges; Solen Early, sheriff; S. C. Buchanan, clerk.

Bellevue—T. L. Utz, Cyrus Kelly, judges; W. W. Botts, sheriff; Ben Corbin, clerk.

Rabbit Hash—Elijah Scott, Z. T. Kelly, judges; J. P. Ryle, sheriff; Oscar Craig, clerk.

Union—N. C. Clements, John Dunbar, judges; John Elston, sheriff; W. M. Rachal, clerk.

Our make-up is very badly demoralized this week.

CROP AND STOCK.

O. S. Johnson, of Clark, threshed 14 acres of wheat that averaged over 35 bushels to the acre. He has over a thousand bushels in all.

M[illegible]hn McCoy, of Princeton, grew [illegible]each that weighed seven and [illegible]alf ounces. It was of the freest [illegible]variety and very luscious.

Jake Robinson, of Garrard, sold to S. T. Harbison, of Lexington, his fine saddle mare by Kentucky Squirrel, out of a Denmark mare for $400.

Joe Phillips, one of Marion county's shrewdest mule traders, sold to H. S. Crozier, of New Orleans a lot of sugar mules, consisting of ninety head, at the best prices paid this season.

Mr. W. B. Campbell, one of the leading farmers of Caldwell county, left two leaves of tobacco of this year's growth in the Princeton Banner office that measures forty-two inches each in length. The width is correspondingly great.

Monte Fox, agent, bought the following big cattle last week in Garrard county: Of Jake Robinson, sixty-eight, 1,420 pounds, at $4 82½; of Leander Davidson, thirty-four, 1,416 pounds, $4 75; of W. R. Cook, thirty-four, 1,441 pounds, at $4 75.

About 1,000 cattle at Winchester on court day. Feeders, of from 750 to 1,000 pounds weight, sold at 4½ cents; cows from 25 to 3 cents; heifers, of 650 to 800 pounds, 3¼ to 3½ cents. Sheep market dull. Kindig, of Pennsylvania, bought a number of mule colts at from $18 to $35.

The ewe lambs will pay a farmer the cost in one year of a good ram which cost $40 or $50, and then the male lambs which go to market will pay him the second time. Pure breeding has proved its worth, and no animal is more quickly impressed and improved by crossing with good blood than sheep.

The bottom farmers in Union county are visited this year by a very destructive pest, which, for a better or more proper name, probably, they call the "silkbug." It is a small insect, bright green and about the size of the familiar "ladybug," and its destructive work is done by cutting away the roots of the silks from the tips of the cob, in the early formation of the grain upon the cob.

Speaking of watermelons, the Burgin Messenger says: "Mr. Lynn, railroad agent at Harrodsburg, says he saw a watermelon in a car going north that was 4 feet long, 2½ feet in diameter, and weighed 90 pounds. Mrs. Yeister, of Boyle, reports that one of her melons was so large that her fourteen-year-old daughter, who is full grown for her age, hid herself behind same while the melon was standing on end, she at the time being on her feet."

Statistics gathered by the Albuquerque Bank of Commerce from its correspondents in different parts of the Territory show that New Mexico's sales of wool and lambs this year have aggregated a little over $5,000,000. Upon an estimated population of 170,000 this would give about $30 for each man, woman and child in the Territory, or considerably more than the total per capita circulation of the country at large. The product of the mines during the year will amount to about an equal sum, but much of the profit in the line goes to stockholders abroad, while nearly every dollar received from the sheep industry remains at home.

The Boone County Insurance Co. made an assessment, Monday, for the payment of the Hughes loss of $3,700.

If the weather does not get too intensely hot, the G. A. R. will enjoy itself in Cincinnati, this week. Too much rain will also detract from the festivities.

The poor, sick soldiers in the several camps in the country have the sympathy of everybody, but that does not relieve their suffering in the least degree.

Thos. Dixon, who was sent to the asylum about three years ago, appeared before Judge Roberts and a jury, yesterday, and was adjudged to be of sound mind.

The Walnut Hills ball team came over Monday and played one game with the local club. It was a slow, scrappy game, close in the result, the score being 9 to 8 in favor of Burlington. A small crowd was in attendance.

Pith of the Press.

John Sherman in now an avowed anti-Hanna man.—Washington Post.

Mr. Dooley is right. War is hell, particularly when it's over.—Boston Herald.

Admiral Schley is not only a gallant naval officer, but a brave and fearless kisser.—Pittsburg Post.

Aguinaldo might better his chances for political preferment by moving to Ohio.—Nashville American.

It will be noticed that no impulsive young women have yet gone so far as to kiss Alger.—Philadelphia Times.

Dewey evidently believes the Philippines should be well shaken before taken.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

Mark Hanna is not going to have everything his own way, even in his own party.—Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

General Shafter repeats that the Santiago campaign was admirably planned and carried out.—Washington Times.

All the men of New York will sympathize with Admiral Schley. He has been shopping with his wife.—N. Y. Herald.

John Sherman has recovered his memory, and is going to do things to Mark Hanna.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

John Sherman is having his innings, and for one whose mind is impaired he plays a rattling game.—Salt Lake Herald.

John Sherman is said to be after Hanna's scalp. As a scalper Sherman has had an enviable success.—Kansas City Times.

Unless Mr. Platt destroys some of the coaling stations the Roosevelt boom is in a fair way to take New York State.—Chicago Times Herald.

George Dewey is going to have a tough job when he comes home and gets up against the congratulations of his countrymen.—Washington Post.

For a man who has just returned from Alaska Hon. John Sherman's remarks are noticeable for their banana belt flavor.—Milwaukee News.

Roosevelt's picture would show his choice and size of a collar utterly precludes the idea of his ever wearing Platt's.—Philadelphia Times.

Why not put Mark Hanna on the Peace Commission? He was for peace at any price from the very beginning.—West Union (Ohio) Defendcr.

When Dingleyism is once abandoned in our outlying possessions by universal consent, how long will it continue to prevail at home.—N. Y. Times.

John Sherman could at least have the satisfaction of giving Hanna a terrible fright by threatening to reenter Ohio politics.—Nashville American.

It would appear from present reports that Secretary Alger lies awake at night trying to devise some new tortures for the soldiers.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

If Aguinaldo is as insincere and scheming as reported it is merely an indication that he has made a study of European statesmanship.—Chicago Post.

One of the meanest things ever said about President McKinley is that he intends to send Mark Hanna as Ambassador to England.—Atlanta Journal.

A horrible rumor is current that Chauncy Depew's boom for Minister to Great Britain is being fed on California chocolates.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Such men as Prof. Norton are responsible for the extremely low view which is prevalent as to the value of scholarly men in public affairs.—New York World.

These are the days when Marcus A. Hanna rubs his fat hands together and congratulates himself that he is not Secretary of War.—Kansas City Times.

John Sherman thinks he knows who is responsible for the steady march of the American soldier boys through the hospital into the open grave.—St. Paul Globe.

Secretary Alger has tried the water and food at Montauk Point, and pronounces them good. When he recovers he may take time to revise his opinion.—Chicago News.

Unquestionably Dewey is to-day the ranking citizen of the United States—the President, the Cabinet, the Admirals of a hundred years ago not barred.—Anaconda (Mont.) Standard.

Assistant Postmaster Heath says Europe respects us now. They couldn't hardly fail to respect a nation that has demonstrated its ability to shoot as straight as we do.—Minneapolis Tribune.

John Sherman would like to return to the Senate, and millions of his countrymen would rejoice to see him down Hannaism. Not that they particularly like Sherman, but that they particularly dislike Hanna.—Kansas City Times.

If Hanna had finer sensibilities and less egotism he would not talk for publication concerning the results of the war. The people have not forgotten that he declared there would be no war, and that "only loafers and tramps" wanted it.—Rochester Times.

Kentucky State Poultry Association.

In the past few years there has been great improvement in the poultry industry in the State. Some sections doing away almost entirely with scrub stock and are now breeding only pure breeds.

To more successfully carry on this work of improvement, about three years ago the breeders from different sections of the State met in Louisville and organized the Kentucky State Poultry Association, which was incorporated under the State laws, exempting the members of the Association from any liability of the debts of the Association and prohibiting the officers and members from deriving any pecuniary benefits from the Association. So that any set of officers or members could not operate the affairs of the Association for the benefit of their personal interests.

The membership is not confined to the poultry breeders and any person of good character, taking an interest in the development of the poultry industry can become a member, the membership being one dollar each year.

The executive committee is so distributed over the State as to give all sections a fair representation, the annual shows to be held in Louisville.

The third annual show will be held January 16–21, 1899, and promises to be a great success, each year showing a marked improvement and growing interest with the public.

The Association was not organized in the interest of any set of breeders, but for the general advancement of the poultry interests and for the commercial advancement of the State.

The annual premium list will be issued in November. Membership fee on application for premium list should be sent to W. J. Druien, Secretary, Louisville. The management of the Association is in good hands and should have hearty support.

STATE NEWS.

The smallpox scare at Jackson, Ky., broke up the Circuit Court and the Teachers' Institute.

The mast crop this fall promises be unusually large. The trees, it is said, are loaded down with acorns.

The big tri-county fair, composed of Henderson, Union and Webster counties, will begin October 11 and continue to the 15th.

George Hill, who was in the habit of walking in his sleep, stepped off the steamer White, on Cumberland river and was drowned.

While plowing in Union county, Dan Asbridge unearthed and exterminated by actual count fifty-three copperhead snakes.

In the Whitesville neighborhood, in Daviess county, there has been for several years a gang of organized thieves operating, and their recent depredations have become so daring and so frequent that the farmers in that vicinity say they can hardly keep a hog or a sheep.

John Ferguson, the town marshal of South Carrollton, shot and seriously wounded a negro by the name of McConnell. Ferguson attempted to arrest the negro, whereupon the negro resisted arrest. A fight then ensued, resulting in McDonnell being shot in the arm and head by Ferguson.

THE WAY TO BE HELPFUL

There Are Countless Opportunities to Do Something Useful.

To Serve Mankind, Not Antagonize It, Is the One Ambition—Practical Service Is the Best—Sermon by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

In this discourse Dr. Talmage changes our lifetime from a meaningless generality to practical helpfulness to the people now living. Text: Acts xiii., 36: "David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep."

That is a text which has for a long time been running through my mind. Sermons have a time to be born as well as a time to die; a cradle as well as a grave. David, cowboy and stone slinger, and fighter, and dramatist, and blank verse writer, and prophet, did his best for the people of his time, and then went and laid down on the southern hill of Jerusalem in that sound slumber which nothing but an archangelic blast can startle. David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep." It was his own generation that he served; that is, the people living at the time he lived. And have you ever thought that our responsibilities are chiefly with the people now walking abreast of us? There are about four generations to a century now, but in olden time life was longer and there was perhaps only one generation to a century. Taking these facts into calculation, I made a rough guess and say that there have been at least 180 generations of the human family. With reference to them we have no responsibility. We can not teach them, we can not correct their mistakes, we can not soothe their sorrows, we can not heal their wounds. Their sepulchres are deaf and dumb to anything we might say to them. The last regiment of that great army has passed out of sight. We might halloo as loud as we could; not one of them would avert his head to see what we wanted. I admit that I am in sympathy with the child whose father had suddenly died, and who in her little opening prayer wanted to continue to pray for her father, although he had gone into Heaven, and no more needed her prayers, and looking up into her mother's face, said: "Oh, mother, I can not leave him all out. Let me say 'thank God that I had a good father once, so I can keep him in my prayers."

But the 180 generations have passed off. Passed up. Passed down. Gone forever. Then there are generations to come after our earthly existence has ceased. We shall not see them; we shall not hear any of their voices; we will take no part in their convocations, their elections their revolutions, their catastrophies, their triumphs. We will in no wise affect the 180 generations gone or the 180 generations to come, except as from the galleries of Heaven the former generations look down and rejoice at our victories, or as we may, by our behavior, start influences, good or bad, that shall roll on through the advancing ages. But our business is, like David, to serve our own generation, the people now living. Those whose lungs now breathe, and whose hearts now beat. And mark you, it is not a silent procession, but moving. It is a "forced march" at 24 miles a day, each hour being a mile. Going with that celerity, it has got to be a quick service on our part, or no service at all. We not only cannot teach the 180 generations past, and will not see the 180 generations to come, but this generation now on the stage will soon be off, and we ourselves will be off with them. The fact is that you and I will have to start very soon for our work, or it will be ironical and sarcastic for anyone after our exit to say of us as it was said of David, "After he had served his own generation by the will of God, he fell on sleep."

Well, now, let us look around earnestly, prayerfully, in a common sense way, and see what we can do for our own generation. First of all, let us see to it that, as far as we can, they have enough to eat. The human body is so constituted that three times a day the body needs food as much as a lamp needs oil, as much as a locomotive needs fuel. To meet this want God has provided the earth with apple orchards, orange groves, wheat fields and oceans full of fish, and prairies full of cattle. And notwithstanding this I will undertake to say that the vast majority of the human family are now suffering either for lack of food or the right kind of food. Our civilization is all askew, and God only can set it right. Many of the greatest estates of to-day have been built out of the blood and bones of unrequited toil. In olden times, for the building of forts and towers, the inhabitants of Ispahan had to contribute 70,000 skulls, and Bagdad 90,000 human skulls, and that number of people were compelled to furnish the skulls. But these two contributions added together made only 160,000 skulls, while into the tower of the world's wealth and pomp have been wrought the skeletons of uncounted numbers of the half-fed populations of the earth—millions of skulls. Don't sit down at your table with five or six courses of abundant supply and think nothing of that family in the next street who would take any one of those five courses between soup and almond nuts and feel they were in Heaven. The lack of the right kind of food is the cause of much of the drunkenness. After drinking what many of the grocers call coffee, sweetened with what many call sugar, and eating what many of our butchers call meat, and chewing what many of our bakers call bread, many of the laboring class feel so miserable they are tempted to put into their nasty pipes what the tobacconist calls tobacco, or go into the drinking saloons for what the rum sellers call beer. Good coffee would do much in driving out bad rum.

How can we serve our generation with enough to eat? By sitting down in embroidered slippers and lounging back in an armchair, our mouth puckered up around a Havana of the best brand, and through clouds of luxuriant smoke reading about political economy and the philosophy of strikes? No, no! By finding out who in this city has been living on gristle and sending them a tenderloin steak. Seek out some family who through sickness or conjunction of misfortunes have not enough to eat, and do for them what Christ did for the hungry multitudes of Asia Minor, multiplying the loaves and fishes. Let us quit the surfeiting of ourselves until we can not choke down another crumb of cake, and begin the supply of others' necessities. So far from helping appease the world's hunger are those whom Isaiah describes as grinding the faces of the poor. You have seen a farmer or a mechanic put a scythe or an ax on a grindstone, while some one was turning round and round, and the man holding the ax bore on it harder and harder, while the water dropped from the grindstone and the edge of the ax from being round and dull, got keener and keener. So I have seen men who were put against the grindstone of hardship, and while one turned the crank another would press the unfortunate harder down to it, the wretch ground thinner and thinner, his efforts thinner his prospects thinner, his face thinner. And Isaiah asks: "What mean ye that ye grind the faces of the poor?" It is an awful thing to be hungry. It is an easy thing for us to be in good humor with all the world when we have no lack. But let hunger take full possession of us, and we would all turn into barbarians and cannibals and fiends. Suppose that some of the energy we are expending in useless and unavailing talk about the bread question should be expended in merciful alleviations. I have read that the battlefield on which more troops met than on all other of the world's history was the battlefield of Leipsic—160,000 men under Napoleon, 250,000 men under Scharzeberg. No, no! The greatest and most terrific battle is now being fought all the world over. It is the battle for bread. The ground tone of the finest passage in one of the great musical masterpieces, the artist says, was suggested to him by the cry of the hungry populace of Vienna as the king rode through and they shouted, "Bread, give us bread!" And all through the great harmonies of musical academy and cathedral I hear the pathos, the ground tone, the tragedy, of uncounted multitudes, who, with streaming eyes and wan cheeks and broken hearts, in behalf of themselves and t... families, are pleading for bread.

Let us take another look around to see how we may serve our generation. Let us see, as far as possible, that they have enough to wear. God looks upon the human race and knows just how many inhabitants the world has. The statistics of the world's population are carefully taken in civilized lands, and every few years officers of the government go through the land and count how many people there are in the United States or England and great accuracy is reached. But when people tell us how many inhabitants there are in Asia or Africa, at best it must be a wild guess. Yet God knows the exact number of people on our planet, and He has made enough apparel for each, and if there be fifteen hundred people, fifteen thousand, fifteen hundred and fifteen people, then there is enough apparel for fifteen hundred million, fifteen thousand, fifteen hundred and fifteen. Not slouchy apparel, not ragged apparel, not insufficient apparel, but appropriate apparel. At least two suits for every being on earth, a summer suit and a winter suit. A good pair of shoes for every living mortal. A good coat, a good hat, or a good bonnet, and a good shawl, and a complete masculine or feminine outfit of apparel, wardrobe for all nations, adapted to all climes, and not a string or a button or a pin or a hook or an eye wanting.

But alas! where are the good clothes for three-fourths of the human race? The other one-fourth have appropriated them. The fact is, there needs to be and will be a redistribution. Not by anarchistic violence. If outlawry had its way it would rend and tear and diminish until, instead of three-fourths of the world not properly attired, four-fourths would be in rags. I will tell you know how the redistribution will take place. By generosity on the part of those who have a surplus and increased industry on the part of those suffering from deficit. Not all, but the large majority of cases of poverty in this country are a result of idleness or drunkenness, either on the part of the present sufferers or their ancestors. In most cases the rum jug is the maelstrom that has swallowed down the livelihood of those who are in rags. But things will change, and by generosity on the part of the crowded wardrobes, and industry and sobriety on the part of the empty wardrobes, there will be enough for all to wear.

God has done his part toward the dressing of the human race. He grows a surplus of wool on the sheep's back, and flocks roam the mountains and valleys with a burden of warmth intended for transference to human comfort, when the shuttles of the factories, reaching all the way from Chattahoocha to the Merrimac, shall have spun and woven it. In white letters of snowy fleece God has been writing for 1,000 years His wish that there might be warmth for all nations. While others are discussing the effect of high or low tariff or no tariff at all on wool you and I had better see if in our wardrobes we have nothing that we can spare for the suffering, or pick out some poor lad of the street and take him down to a clothing store and fit him out for the season. Gospel of shoes! Gospel of hats! Gospel of clothes for the naked!

Again, let us look around and see how we may serve our generation. What short-sighted mortals we would be if we were anxious to clothe and feed only the most insignificant part of a man, namely, his body, while we put forth no effort to clothe and feed and save his soul. Time is a little piece broken off a great eternity. What are we doing for the souls of the present generation? Let me say it is a generation worth saving. Most magnificent men and women are in it. We make a great ado about the improvements in navigation and in locomotion, and in art and machinery. We remark what wonders of telegraph and telephone and the stethoscope. What improvement is electric light over a tallow candle! Yet all these improvements are insignificant compared with the improvement in the human race. In olden times, once in a while a great and good man or woman would come and bless the world has made a great fuss about it ever since; but now they are so numerous we scarcely speak about them. We put a halo about the people of the past, but I think if the times demanded them it would be found we have now living in this year 1895 50 Martin Luthers, 50 George Washingtons, 50 Lady Huntingdons, 50 Elizabeth Frys. Durin... our civil war more splendid ... was ... North and south were developed in the previous 20 ... four years than the whole ... challenge the 4,000 years before Christ and also the 18 centuries after Christ to show me the equal of charity on a large scale of George Peabody. This generation of men and women is more worth saving than any one of the last generations that has passed off. Where shall we begin? With ourselves. That is the pillar from which we must start. Prescott, the blind historian, tells us how Pizarro saved his army for the right when they were about deserting him. With his sword he made a long mark on the ground. He said: "My men, on the north side are desertion and death; on the south side is victory; on the north side Panama and poverty; on the south side Peru with all its riches. Choose for yourselves; for my part I go to the south." Stepping across the line one by one his troops followed, and finally his whole army.

The sword of God's truth draws the dividing line to-day. On one side of it are sin and ruin and death; on the other side of it are pardon and usefulness and happiness and Heaven. You cross from the wrong side to the right side, and your family will cross with you, and your friends and associates. The way you will go they will go. If we are not saved we will never save any one else.

How to get saved? Be willing to accept Christ and then accept Him instantaneously and forever. Get on the rock first, and then you will be able to help others upon the same rock. Men and women have been saved quicker than I have been talking about it. What! Without a prayer? Yes. What! Without time to deliberately think it over? Yes. What! Without a tear? Yes, believe. That is all. Believe what? That Jesus died to save you from sin and death and hell. Will you? Do you? You have. Something makes me think you have. New light has come into your countenances. Welcome! Welcome! Hail! Hail! Saved yourselves, how are you to save others? By testimony. Tell it to your family. Tell it to your business associates. Tell it everywhere. We will successfully preach no more religion, and will successfully talk no more religion than you have. The amount of that which you do to benefit the souls of this generation you will effect through your own behavior. Go wrong and that will induce others to go wrong. Go right and that will induce others to go right. When the great Centennial exhibition was being held in Philadelphia the question came up among the directors as to whether they should keep the exposition open on Sunday, when a director, who was a man of the world from Newark, arose and said, in a voice trembling with emotion and tears running down his cheeks: "I feel like a returned prodigal. Twenty years ago I went west and into a region where we had no Sabbath, but to-day old memories come back to me and I remember what my glorified mother taught me about keeping Sunday, and I seem to hear her voice again and feel as I did when every evening I knelt by her side in prayer. Gentlemen, I vote for the observance of the Christian Sabbath." Every man in the house arose and said, and when the question was put, "Shall we open the exhibition on the Sabbath?" it was almost unanimous, "No, No." What one man can do if he does right, boldly right, emphatically right!

I confess to you that my one wish is to serve this generation, not to antagonize it, not to damage it, not to rule it, but to serve it. I would like to do something toward helping to unstrap its load, to stop its tears, to balsam its wounds, and to induce it to put foot on the upward road that runs at its terminus acclamation rapturous, and gates pearline, and garlands amaranthine, and fountains rainbowed, and dominions enthroned and coroneted, for I can not forget that lullaby in the closing words of my text: "David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep." What a lovely sleep it was. Unfilial Absalom did not trouble it. Ambitious Adonijah did, not worry it. Persecuting Saul did not harrow it. Exile did not fill it with nightmare. Since a red headed boy, amid his father's flocks at night, he had not had such a good sleep. At 70 years of age he laid down to it. He had had many a troubled sleep, as in the caverns of Adullam, or palace at the time his enemies were attempting his capture. But this was a peaceful sleep, a calm sleep, a restful sleep, a glorious sleep. "After he had served his generation by the will of God, he fell on sleep."

THE first stone of a monument to be erected in Dublin to the memory of Wolf Tone and other united Irishmen who were executed in 1798 has been laid on the site of the old Newgate prison.

DISASTER FOLLOWS.

The Protective Plan Impedes Progress and Cripples American Industry.

Now, more than at any other time, the weakness of our commercial policy is made evident. Colonies and protective tariffs do not work well together. The French colonies are a fair sample of what this system will bring forth. The French management of Tonquin has been on protective tariff lines, and the result has been the stagnation of the life and business of the colony. The success that England has with her many colonies comes very largely from the course she pursues with her tariffs. The fullest liberty is allowed to commerce, and the result is that the commerce and manufactures of England have been able to hold their own, in comparison with other gold standard nations.

If there ever was a time when a free trade policy would be of benefit to the United States, it is now. The settlement of the Philippine question will be influenced very greatly by the course we intend to pursue there. If we are to allow all nations to trade there without restraint and without fines for so doing, most of them will be very willing to see this country the master of the situation. If we are to erect a tariff wall there we may expect some very vigorous opposition from several of the European governments most interested. Greed and grab is not a policy that commends itself to our neighbors across the water, except when it is practiced by themselves. That policy hangs like a millstone about the neck of America. It will be found impeding our progress at every step. It cannot be thrown off no matter how heavy it becomes, for the republican party is in power, and that party is committed body and soul to the policy named. Every treaty entered into must take cognizance of that fact. Every trust and every "protected" interest in the country will from this time on have its agents busy watching the progress of events in the settlement of the great questions growing out of the war. As the protective policy is really a policy that these same "protected" interests have developed and foisted on the country, we may expect that the smart lawyers whom they are able to employ will be eminently successful in having all treaties and regulations fixed to suit their interests, without regard to the interests of the rest of the country.

The sugar trust, whose influence was so potent in the framing of the last tariff on sugars, and which was able to raise the price to consumers some 20 per cent., as a result of that tariff may certainly be looked to to take a hand in settling the questions of our relation with Cuba. That devastated country should have the freest tariffs possible to enable it to rise from its ashes, but we cannot expect that a generous policy will be followed. What, open the markets of the United States to free Cuban sugar? What can we expect of the trust? The policy is a disastrous one, so far as present business and present prosperity are concerned, but the worst out of the present republican policy in relation to these new possessions is likely to bring the protective tariff scheme into bold relief and show up the iniquity of it. The people will have an object lesson that will not fail to impress them.

If we do not mistake the intelligence of the American people, the time is not far distant when they will turn down the whole policy with the party that espouses it. Nay, more; the time is not far distant when no party will dare make a protective policy an issue in an election. It is one of the errors that nations are slow to outgrow, but once outgrown will be cast aside forever.

H. F. THURSTON.

PRESS COMMENTS.

——It looks as if the war might be a hotter issue than the republicans will care to handle.—Binghamton (N. Y.) Leader.

——Secretary of War Alger is getting a "round robin" from the people which promises a big dish of crow.—Chicago Dispatch.

——When next Mr. McKinley selects a secretary of war he should fight shy of anyone for the place who has only Mark Hanna's indorsement to recommend him.—St. Louis Republic.

——The first mistake was made by President McKinley when he placed at the head of the war department a political soldier whose political record, like his army record, is more notable for self-seeking than for better characteristics.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

——Alger's slide has been penetrated. He has begun to write explanatory letters to show how his subordinates and the soldiers themselves were to blame for the failures, privations and mortality, more terrible than Spanish bullets, which have followed our armies from the moment they fell under the charge of the war department.—Philadelphia Record.

——The American people have arrived at the conclusion that personal politics governed Mr. Alger's appointments and conduct of the war; that their army was exposed to unnecessary hardships because the military preparations and leadership of the Santiago campaign were both as bad and inadequate as the motives which governed them.—St. Louis Republic.

——The people generally did not know Alger, but they had confidence in McKinley. They did not believe that the president's choice for a secretary of war would be an utter incompetent, and they had faith that the president would get rid of such a secretary as soon as this incompetence was proved. They were mistaken. The awful experience of our troops in this war under Alger will have to be forgotten before another volunteer army can be raised.—Boston Post.

CAN STATE MAKE VALUE?

Human Law Can Only Have its Limitations in Effect Upon Supply and Demand.

Human law cannot change the law of supply and demand, but is can limit the supply, as by a protective tariff, copyright of patent-right law, or increase the demand, as by a law putting the whole demand for money upon gold alone, instead of upon silver and gold as before, or the same law may both increase the demand and lessen the supply, as by a declaration of war, which diminishes the number of producers and enlarges the amount of consumption; in all of these ways does law create value, as truly as a man creates value who changes wool into a garment.

The laws of nation after nation demonetizing silver and placing the whole demand for money upon gold have enhanced the value of gold and lessened the value of silver, until now it takes 40 ounces of silver, instead of 16 under bimentallism, to equal in value one ounce of gold. The closing of the Indian mints alone caused an immediate fall in silver (as rated in gold) nearly 20 per cent. On the other hand, the passage of the Sherman law in 1890, though far from a free coinage law, caused an immediate advance in silver (in terms of gold) to $1.21 per ounce, or within eight cents of the ratio sixteen to one; and it can be easily demonstrated, both from experience and reason, that the passage of a law by the United States for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of sixteen to one would immediately so increase the value of silver and lessen the value of gold that 16 ounces of silver and one of gold would be of equal value as bullion. This would result, in accord with the law of supply and demand, by taking from gold and putting upon either silver or gold (and therefore, upon silver so long as it remained cheaper) the demand of the commerce of this people for money, which is equal to or greater than that of all the rest of the world.

These arguments are not new. They were advanced by our great leader in his unparalleled campaign and were never answered except by such fallacious assumptions as "state cannot create value," and if democrats admit such assumption they admit away our whole contention.

In the strictest sense only God creates value, but in the sense in which man creates value the state can, for what is a state but the organization and united energies and capacities of all its citizens?

PROSPECTS OF DEMOCRATS.

Things Are Looking Bright for Free Silver Throughout the Middle West.

In Illinois the republican party is split wide open. Its members are quarreling about the Allen bill, the schemes of Gov. Tanner to defeat Senator Cullom and elect himself to the United States senate in 1901, the condition of the state treasury in consequence of the candidacy of the deputy treasurer for two terms to be treasurer for what would be virtually a third term, the quarrels of local candidates in nearly every legislative district, and other troubles too numerous to mention. The republicans who voted for McKinley in 1896, on the bimetallism platform, now see their error and will vote for the democrats.

In Wisconsin the success of the "doodle book" campaign in the renomination of Gov. Scofield and the prospects of a silent bolt by at least one-third of the republican voters illustrate republican harmony in that state. The silver forces are splendidly organized in Michigan the open war made by Gov. Pingree on Senator Burrows, the aspirations of Pingree for a renomination and to be elected senator, while Alger has designs to retire from the war department and to be elected senator, are political conditions illustrating republican "harmony" in the state. Michigan, always a silver state, will swing into the democratic column without a doubt.

In Iowa and Minnesota the conditions are substantially the same. There is internal war in the republican party from center to circumference. The cause of gold monometallism has split the party everywhere in the central west.

In Indian the republican situation is so bad that it could be hardly worse. The leaders know and acknowledge the fact. There will be a gain of several democratic congressmen on the financial issue. A democratic legislature will be elected and United States Senator Turpie will be chosen for another term.

With all the facts in view the rosy description of republican prospects in the west attributed to the secretary of the republican congressional committee is subject to large abatements in the brilliancy of its coloring. The west will send a largely increased silver delegation to congress this year and will give an enormous democratic electoral vote in 1900.

——The Dingleyites show no better capacity in tariff and revenue management in the future than they have shown in the past they will be in danger of reviving the tariff as the great issue before the people of the United States. Bogus "experts," who are now building arithmetical temples on war foundations will find their structures tumbling. War taxes will be tolerated for some time after the war—long enough to close up the war account. Then there will have to be a revision, such as Dingley & Co. have shown themselves not qualified to make. Public notice cannot be diverted from this important subject for the accommodation of politicians to whom it may be troublesome.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

PITH AND POINT.

Dangers reveal heroes.—Ram's Horn.

Men go to court to get the right, and just half of them get left.—Buffalo Times.

Never tell a woman that she may not; just arrange things so that she can't.—Town Topics.

Conversation is an art for which man has all mankind for competitors.—United Presbyterian.

We hear a good deal about birch bark canoes, but we should think the dogwood furnish the best bark.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

"You seem to have no aim at all," said the Elderly Person. "I," replied the Idle Youth, "do not need any. I am not going into the navy."—Indiana Journal.

His Turn.—He proposed. She said: "This is so sudden." Somewhat later she proposed—thnt he sample her first biscuits. He said: "This is so sodden."—Town Topics.

Dangers of Delay.—Tenderfoot—"What got you in such a hurry to string the fellow up?" Arizona Dan—"He must hev turned out to hev been the wrong man."—N. Y. World.

"How often do you want me to tell you not to make that noise, Johnnie?" said the father. "I would rather you wouldn't tell me at all," replied Jack.—Philadelphia North American.

Tourist—"Can you tell me where Mr. Greenecorn's cottage is?" Small Native—"I can for a nickel." Tourist—"Here is the nickel; now where is it?" Small Native—"It's burnt down."—Bicycling World.

CURIOUS WEDDING CEREMONY.

Was Performed When a Noble Burmese Couple Were United in Matrimony.

A curious wedding took place in Mandalay a few days ago that is worthy of note. The betrothed were the chief of Theinni, one of the Slav states tributary to Burmnni, and the daughter of the chief of Nyoungwe, another Slav state. The ceremony was performed at the house of the bride by the chief commissioner of Mandalay.

The lovers were gorgeously arrayed in robes of state, which cost nearly £100 each, and which will be used hereafter on special occasions in the state. The bridegroom wore a long purple velvet robe, trimmed with an infinity of gold lace and braid, and on his head a kingly crown that might have done duty to any fairy tale. The bride was arrayed chiefly in that ornamental angular card-board arrangement in which the souls of people in these parts delight, till she looked all points and corners. Her headgear was a peculiar sort of compromise between a skull cap and a Roman helmet, but very becoming withal, and in front shone a diamond butterfly. At the back of her dress she wore a glittering tail that gave her the general appearance of some mythical animal.

The bridegroom had brought into Mandalay some of his officials, including his prime minister, a weird little old man, as bashful as a maid, and decorated with a large gold medal. When asked for what he had received this distinction from the queen he replied: "For my services." His clothes appeared to belong to the office rather than to the individual, and to have been made to fit a man of larger build. Words fail to do justice to his companion—a royal clerk—for his cloak was of "a beautiful blue," and round his waist an up-to-date band of pink chiffon was tied in a large bow.

In the center of the room where the arrange was to take place there stood a gilded couch strewn deeply with rose leaves. In front of this, with their backs to it, the bride and groom knelt, while offerings were made to various ... or spirits. Rice cakes and water were then offered to the couple, though not actually given to them. They then took their place on the couch, facing each other, their hands were joined, and a band of white muslin was wound around them both. There were many Brahmins present in long white robes and crowns like kings in a pack of cards.

These learned gentlemen had, by various calculations and observations of omens, fixed the date for the wedding, and they now presided over the ceremony itself. As the couple sat facing each other one of the Brahmins read them an exhortation and poured water from a shell over their joined hands. A small sprig of leaves was given to each, to insure long life, and then the band struck up amid the general congratulations of the friends of the happy pair.—N. Y. Herald.

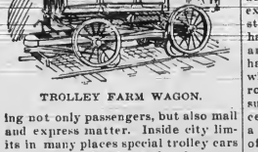
Eyeglasses and Spectacles.

"You say you never wore spectacles?" said the near-sighted man. "Well, if you ever put on a pair you'll never wear anything else. I wore eyeglasses for years. I thought they looked better on me, and then I imagined that they were more convenient; that I could take them off and put them on more readily and all that. But after wearing a pair of spectacles once for a few days—I had put them on, as I thought at first, temporarily—I discovered that spectacles were the glasses for comfort. There are, to be sure, people who do not wear glasses all the time, but only for reading or writing, and so on, to whom eyeglasses may be more convenient; and then I believe that eyeglasses are made nowadays that have more scientifically adjusted grips, and all that sort of thing; but I tell you that the thing for real comfort is spectacles."—N. Y. Sun.

A True Patriot.

"John," said a Topeka wife to her husband, "I will quit drinking tea and save the war tax if you will do the same with beer."

"Woman," responded John with cold severity, "do you think it is the part of patriotism to abandon your country in its time of peril?"—Kansas City Journal.



AGRICULTURAL HINTS

TROLLEY FARM WAGON.

An Ohio Man Advances an Idea That May Eventually Lead to Great Things.

A great many different schemes have been proposed, and some of them have been tried, for lessening the work of carting farm produce into town. The traction engine is used for that purpose to a considerable extent in England, although in America very little hauling is done therewith. Then again there has been a good deal of talk about laying broad, guttered rails on the common highway for the wheels of the ordinary wagon to run in. This is a rather more popular idea, and has a promising future in our own country.

In some parts of the United States there are trolley lines reaching out through the rural regions and carrying not only passengers, but also mail and express matter. Inside city limits in many places special trolley cars are made for local postal and express service, and in the vicinity of very large cities one will sometimes find that a certain style of low platform cars are provided by the steam roads for carrying into town the heavy trucks of the market gardeners laden with fresh vegetables.

TROLLEY FARM WAGON.

And now still another plan has been proposed. A Toledo man, named Bonner, has devised a special truck which is designed to run on a street railway and to carry a farm or express wagon. Inasmuch as the ordinary vehicle would not fit the truck, Mr. Bonner thinks it better to have his own wagon as well as his railway truck. He has taken out a patent on the idea, and has obtained a franchise from the city of Toledo for running his wagons through the streets. As soon as he has manufactured and sold a number of his special wagons to the express companies in town and has also had a few of his trucks made he will be in a position to take the wagons on the trucks through such streets as have trolley lines. The trucks are intended to be coupled to a trolley car, and are not provided with electric motors of their own.

After the city service is fairly started Mr. Bonner will endeavor to secure rural patronage. Of course, it will be necessary for such farmers as wish to take advantage of his plan to have the right sort of wagons and to haul them by horsepower near enough to town to reach the trolley tracks. But in Ohio there are numerous trolley roads extending from one town to another and attaining a length of ten, 15 and even 25 miles. If a farmer only lives along one of these routes he will not need to haul his wagons more than a few rods. Indeed, if he has a switch and sidetrack and local his wagons while they stand on the latter he will have an easy task before him. The rapid development of trolley lines through the rural districts nowadays makes Mr. Bonner's idea an interesting one. There is no telling how far it is likely to become serviceable to American farmers.—N. Y. Tribune.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Clean culture gives the best returns.

Mildew is one sign of an exhausted soil.

Moss on trees is an evidence of a lack of thrift.

Scattering salt under pear trees lessens blight.

Examine the apple trees carefully now for borers.

One can always find moisture under a heavy mulch.

Trees must be fed just the same as any other plant.

For currant worms dust the foliage with white hellebore.

Sunlight is essential to the production of well-colored fruit.

When an apple or pear is matured it readily parts from the tree.

It is an exceptional case when it is best to cultivate at this time.

When a tree is weak or old the top dies or makes a feeble growth.

Feeble-growing and unhealthy trees are largely the result of poor soil.

With fruit maturity is a distinct stage, and ripeness or mellowness another.

One advantage with raspberries is that they are almost a sure crop and sell at fair prices.

One advantage with early budding is that if they fail to grow the operation may be done over.—St. Louis Republic.

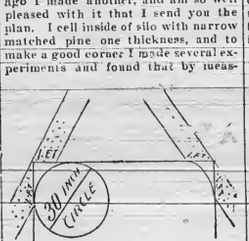
Soft Water for Test Bottles.

Frequently when the bottles are taken from the tester a bit of foam will be found on top of the fat. This can be remedied by using soft or distilled water for filling the bottles. If no soft water is to be had from ordinary sources, condensed water can be had from the boiler with but little trouble. Arrange a drip cock from some steam pipe and leave it open very little. Condensation will give you all the soft water you want, not only for filling the bottles, but also for washing them.—Elgin Dairy Report.

BROAD-TIRED WAGONS.

Exhaustive Tests Show Them to Be Infinitely Superior to the Narrow Variety.

The use of the bicycle is affording an illustration of the operation of the broad-tired vehicles in keeping roadways in good condition. This illustration is conspicuous after showers, when it will be noted that the tires of the bicycles beat down and harden the bicycle path much more rapidly than the narrow-tired wagons restore the roadway proper to a smooth condition. It is true that the action of the pneumatic tire is more beneficial to a soft roadway than that of the hard broad tire, but its tamping effect is an illustration of what the wide tire does in comparison with the cutting effect of the conventional narrow tire.



Were it possible to substitute broad tires for the narrow tires now generally used, the condition of the average country road would be improved in a comparatively short time. Not only that, but the efficiency of the the average draught horse would be materially raised. Instead of cutting into the soft spots in a roadway, the wide tire compresses the soft earth and passes over it, leaving the spot in an improved condition for the passage of the next wheel.

An exhaustive test of the broad and narrow tire, made at the agricultural experiment station of the Missouri state university, demonstrated that on hard, smooth and nearly level macadam roadways the strain required to haul a given load was 35.7 per cent. less with the broad tire than with the narrow tire. On a gravel road with a hard surface, there was a margin of 33.3 per cent. in favor of the broad tire. On a road composed of a large quantity of sand mixed with gravel, the margin was 45.5 per cent. in favor of the broad tire. Over a new, unused dry gravel road, the difference in favor of the broad tire was 26.6 per cent. The narrow tire required less strain for haulage on a load where water covered the surface and loose sand from one to two and a half inches deep was found. But while the broad tire required a greater strain for haulage, it did no injury to the road, whereas the narrow tire cut through the soft earth beneath the water, and destroyed the surfacing. The broad tire was also at a disadvantage on roads where the hardpan was covered with dust, as the narrow tire cut through to the hardpan, while the wide tire pinched and heaped up the dust, and thus increased the strain of haulage. The broad tire also required a greater strain on some kinds of mud roads. But as a whole, the tests were strongly favorable to the use of broad tires for the average roads.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

CORNERS OF THE SILO.

An Eastern Farmer Explains How He Has Solved the Problem of Constructing Them.

Since the silo first came into use I have heard the inquiry, How can we best fix or make the corners of our silo? I had one made two years ago and found trouble with it. One year ago I made another, and am so well pleased with it that I send you the plan. I cell inside of silo with narrow matched pine one thickness, and to make a good corner I made several experiments and found that by measuring in an inside of silo one foot from each corner, and then striking a 30-inch circle on the crosspiece in the corner, I could cell around the silo by using three-inch matched lumber. The corner proved to be a success, and many who look at it say the question so often asked is now answered. The crosspiece should be sawed out of lumber 2x10 inches. I use 2x8x16 feet long, and make my silo 16 feet and 8 inches square, and thus save all waste in cutting the 2x8-inch lumber. I board the inside of silo with surfaced hemlock, and then put on building paper, and sided on this with novelty siding. I much prefer this plan to my other silo, which was doubly boarded and battened with paper between. The wide boards are quite apt to shrink and split. I think with the directions given any carpenter can draw a draft, make pattern for crosspieces in the corners, and have them sawed out carefully by hand saw, and with due care can make a fine silo. Here is a rough draft of corners in my silo, as we start out on first sill.—W. N. Norton, in National Stockman.

CORNER OF SILO.

Experiments with Strawberries.

An Ohio farmer who always had plenty of strawberries did not reset his patch oftener than once in seven or eight years. He made the soil very rich before setting the plants. As soon as the first crop was off he trained the runners into the spaces between the rows and late in the fall plowed the old rows out, turning the furrows over the new plants, afterward raking the soil off them and back into the furrow rows. This plowed space was then manured and cultivated during the fall until the seed seeds in the manure had sprouted and had been killed. When freezing weather came the patch was mulched with straw and the next season there was a good crop on it. This operation may be repeated indefinitely.

DECLINE OF THE DUSTER.

The Practical Disappearance of a Garment That Was Once Much in Evidence.

A traveler by rail cannot fail to notice the decline of the duster. And one does not need to be, as the man said, a centenarian, to observe this. In fact, only 30 or 40 years ago dusters were commonly worn by railroad travelers. They were coexistent with the carpet-sack and the alligator-mouthed valise, both now more completely passed away than the duster itself, and almost as completely gone as the hair-covered trunk.

The duster in its original form was built of brown linen, which, when starched, stood boldly out like a garment of thin and flexible, but not too flexible, sheet metal. It was worn, of course, to protect the wearer and his garments from the dust. When the linen duster flourished locomotives burned wood, tracks were sand-ballasted, and rails were light, cars were not vestibuled or provided with dust screens for the windows, and the time required to cover a given distance was far greater than now. A duster was far more needed then than now, and it was likely to be a part of the equipment of the casual as well as the regular traveler. Indeed, it may be said that the casual wayfarer could scarcely have thought that he had made a trip by rail unless he had provided himself with that indispensable part of every traveler's equipment.

Prim and stiff and sheet-irony in effect as the freshly-ironed linen duster was when first put on, it presented a very different appearance when it had been worn for a time. At first, sat down in on a day such as was then simply called sticky or muggy, but which in these fashionable modern days is called humid, the duster was creased with many creases that seemed, later, despite the weather, to be frozen in. And these creases, in appearance like accordeon plaits struck by lightning, shortened the garment somewhat. They took it up, and made it bigger around and more bunchy.

The next effect came with continued wear, when the starch was all gone out of it, and the duster became stringy. And if before it had seemed to shorten up and grow stout it now seemed to become lean and attenuated; to take into itself many little rolling longitudinal wrinkles, to sort of shrink in on itself sidewise, and to draw over lengthwise; and by this time it had probably come to hang evenly, so that the front corners had a dip and were lower than the back of the coat. In its first estate the linen duster was, if not a garment of dignity, one that had an effect of preciseness, but in its last was very far from that. In fact, it is doubtful if a person of even the most imaginative temperament could conjure up anything more negligee in its general effect than a stringy linen duster.

But the linen duster was not the only one. There were dusters of alpaca and of mohair and of other materials, some of them black and some gray; big, flowing, comfortable dusters, which, if not beautiful, had at least the grace that all things made of good material possess. You could almost tell a man, without seeing his face, by the duster he wore.—N. Y. Sun.

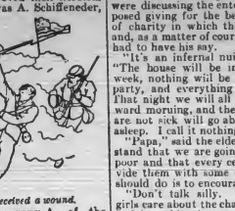
DEVOTION OF A FIANCEE.

She Patiently Taught Her Lover, Who Through an Accident Had Lost His Memory.

Faithful and devoted was the love of the fiancee of Rev. Thomas C. Hamm, pastor of the Baptist church in Plantsville, Conn. It stood for many weeks one of the hardest tests of affection of this kind can be put to, and it came out of the ordeal stronger than ever. It was this love of Miss Cook's, the young man's prospective wife, which saved the pastor from a life which would have been spent and ended in an insane asylum. Mr. Hamm, who is 25 years old, was thrown from his carriage and struck on his head on April 15, 1897. He was carried to the home of Miss Cook's father, and when he was aroused he had no memory of anything in his life. Though possessing a mature intelligence, he had absolutely no data of existence to go on. He recovered sufficiently in a week to tell how the accident happened. His father, Rev. Thomas A. S. Hamm, was sent for, and he and other members of the family, as well as Miss Cook, were indefatigable in their efforts to teach him the many things he had lost. He gradually came to understand that he had known all these things and forgotten them, and many were his earnest efforts to recall them.

All this teaching and gradual reaching out after light took several weeks, and those near to Mr. Hamm knew that unless the sleeping memory could be roused years must be spent in reacquiring the intellectual standing he had achieved. Finally Drs. S. B. Goodhart and B. Sidis brought him to New York and had him under their close observation in a sanitarium. In six weeks they had effected a permanent cure. A careful system of association of ideas brought about the result. He went back to his Plantsville home, near New Haven, on June 17, 1897, and it is supposed the memory of his love for Miss Cook came back with the rest. The devoted young couple were married a few days ago, and the whole town of Plantsville, which was acquainted with the circumstances of their romance, turned out to do honor to the young woman whose faithfulness saved her loved one from a life which would have been worse than death.—Chicago Chronicle.

And It Ought To.



It makes anybody feel foolish to be caught repeating as original anything somebody else has said.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

HEROES OF WAR.

From the Chicago Times-Herald.

The feeling of admiration for heroes of war seems to be innate in the human heart, and is brought to the surface as the opportunity and object presents itself.

Among those who proved their heroism during our Civil War was A. Schiffeneder, of 161 Sedgwick Street, Chicago. He is an Austrian by birth, came to America at the age of twenty, and became an American citizen. He was living at Milwaukee when the call for volunteers came in 1862, and he promptly enlisted in Company A, of the Forty-ninth Wisconsin Volunteers. In the army of the Potomac he saw much fighting, campaigning in the Shenandoah Valley, and the first day's fighting at the battle of Gettysburg, Schiffeneder received a wound in the right side, which afterward caused him much trouble. With a portion of his regiment he was captured and imprisoned at Bell Island and Andersonville, and afterward exchanged. He returned to his regiment, which was transferred to the army of General Sherman, and marched with him through Georgia to the sea.

He received a wound.

In this campaign Mr. Schiffeneder received a wound began to trouble him, and he went to the hospital and home. He had also contracted catarrh of the stomach, and found no relief for years.

"I happened to read an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People about a year ago," he said, "and thought that they might be good for my trouble. I concluded to try them. I bought one box and began to take them according to directions. They gave me great relief. After finishing that box I bought another, and when I had taken the pills I felt that I was cured. I recovered my appetite and ate heartily. I can testify to the good the pills did me."

Mr. Schiffeneder is a prominent Grand Army man in Chicago, whither he moved some years ago with his family.

THE MINISTER GOT MIXED.

And Rang Several Changes on a Scriptural Sentence Before He Got It Right.

The minister had reached the critical point in his "missionary" sermon. He had finished his firstlies and secondlies, and with one neat figure and a little thrust to an impassioned appeal that would strike his congregation's hearts, and make their rocks flow like water.

"If," he exclaimed, "it has truly been said that he who makes two glades of brass to grow where one—"

The puzzled look on the face of a deaf old member in a front pew led him to pause and repeat:

"That he is a benefactor who makes two grades of blass—"

Smiles throughout the house and his own sense showed him there was something wrong, but, with an attempt at lightness, he said, airily:

"As I meant, two braids of glass."

The choir was now keen-eared, and the pastor felt as if he had met Dewey. So he shouted: "Two blads of grace."

Then the senior deacon had pity on him and arose. "My brethren," he spoke, "our pastor has been upset by the intensity of his emotions, and has tripped on two blades of grass."—San Francisco Examiner.

Wouldn't Take Chances.

Smith—One can't always judge a man's patriotism by his conversation.

Jones—No, I suppose not.

"Take Brown, for instance; would you call him a coward?"

"Well, er—I might if I was sure he wouldn't fight."—Chicago Evening News.

Properly Defined.

"What is firmness, father?"

"Firmness, my boy, is obstinacy in ourselves."

"And what is obstinacy?"

"Obstinacy is firmness in somebody else."—Chicago Post.

He Was Cruel.

Mr. Nupop—I think I will have my whiskers shaved off.

Mrs. Nupop (reproachfully)—Why, John, I didn't think you could be so heartless. You know how baby loves to pull them!—Judge Date.

Preparing the Case.

First Lawyer—Each witness gives a different account of the accident.

Second Lawyer—Yes; if we put them all on the stand, the jury may think our client met with three or four accidents.—Puck.

Why He Had Hopes.

Mr. Gotrox (decisively)—My daughter is not the right age to get married.

Mr. Hardupp (persuasively)—I quite agree with you, Mr. Gotrox—and every year makes it worse, you know.—Judge.

Spread of the Classic Style.

"How did you manage to get such an extensive manufacturing plant in your town?" asked the visitor.

"Well, we rooted for it," replied the native.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MARKETS.

	CINCINNATI, Sept. 5.
LIVE STOCK—Cattle, common	$ 2 25	@ $ 3 85
Select butchers	4 10	@ 4 50
CALVES—Fair to good light	6 50	@ 7 00
HOGS—Common	2 10	@ 2 70
Mixed packers	3 75	@ 3 85
Light shippers	3 90	@ 4 00
SHEEP—Choice	3 25	@ 3 75
LAMBS	5 00	@ 5 50
FLOUR—Winter family	2 75	@ 2 90
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new		@ 65½
No. 3 red		@ 64
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 31
Oats—No. 2		@ 22
Rye—No. 2		@ 46½
HAY—Prime to choice		@ $ 9 00
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@ $ 8 75
Lard—Prime steam		@ 4 77
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@ 11
Prime to choice creamery		@ 20
APPLES—Choice to fancy	1 75	@ 2 25
POTATOES—per bbl	1 50	@ 1 75
	CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 65	@ $ 3 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 65
No. 3 Chicago spring		@ 63
CORN—No. 2		@ 30½
OATS—No. 2		@ 20½
PORK—Mess	8 45	@ 8 50
LARD—Steam	4 15	@ 5 00½
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 70	@ 4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@ 70½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@ 36¾
RYE		@ 53
OATS—Mixed		@ 26½
PORK—New mess	10 10	@ 10 40
LARD—Western		@ $ 5 07½
	BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$ 60	@ $ 6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	66½	@ 67
Southern—Wheat	66	@ 67
Corn—Mixed	34	@ 34¾
Oats—No. 2 white	26½	@ 27
Rye—No. 2	46	@ 47
CATTLE—First quality	4 25	@ 4 65
HOGS—Western		@ 4 00
	INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@ 65¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 28½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@ 21½
	LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 75	@ $ 4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 67
Corn—Mixed		@ 31½
Oats—Mixed		@ 23
PORK—Mess		@ $ 10 00
LARD—Steam		@ $ 5 00

THOSE CHARITY PARTIES.

The Head of the House Had His Say and Then Paid for His Fun.

The two fair daughters of the household were discussing the entertainment they proposed giving for the benefit of a little work of charity in which they were interested, and, as a matter of course, the old gentleman had to have his say.

"It's an infernal nuisance," he declared. "The house will be in a commotion for a week, nothing will be thought of but your party, and everything will be disarranged. That night we will all be awake till well toward morning, and the next day, those who are not sick will go about snarling and half asleep. I call it nothing but tomfoolery."

"Papa," said the eldest, "don't you understand that we are going to help some of the poor and that every cent we make will provide them with some comfort? What you should do is to encourage us."

"Don't talk silly. It's a good deal you girls care about the charitable feature of this social combination you're in. It's the boys and girls and cards and dancing you want. No use trying to pull the wool over my eyes."

"Very well. We'll try to do our duty, even if you do make it hard. We, at least, have some sympathy for the afflicted."

"Oh, you have? Sweetly disinterested, aren't you? How much did you take in at the last blowout?"

"Just $13.50," proudly.

"Well, I'll give you just $30.50 for the cause if you'll not inflict your coworkers on us. Now, how's your charity?"

Mamma, I wish to the land you'd come down here. Papa's acting perfectly awful," and she flounced out of the room while he laughed sardonically.—Detroit Free Press.

The War Is Over

And now our thoughts are all of peace and home. There are, too often, people to be found who have no home, and it is to them these few words are addressed. If you really want a home you can easily get one, but you should act at once before the relapse from the war puts prices on the advance. In Marinette County, Wisconsin, the very finest farming land is to be had now at a most modest figure. Excellent home markets are at hand to take whatever the farmer raises, and good prices are given. These lands are on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and full information concerning them will cheerfully be furnished by C. E. Rollins, Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle Street, Chicago.

An Instance.

DeCrop—May is intensely feminine.

Miss Upton—More so than other girls?

"Well, she cheated the blacksmith the other day if her horse couldn't wear shoes a size smaller."—Puck.

Dropsy treated free by Dr. H. H. Green's Sons, of Atlanta, Ga. The greatest dropsy specialists in the world. Read their advertisement in another column of this paper.

A horse with a docked tail must feel like a neigh-bob.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Keep Your Youth

If you are young you naturally appear so.

If you are old, why appear so?

Keep young inwardly; we will look after the outwardly.

You need not worry longer about those little streaks of gray; advance agents of age.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

will surely restore color to gray hair; and it will also give your hair all the wealth and gloss of early life.

Do not allow the falling of your hair to threaten you longer with baldness. Do not be annoyed with dandruff.

We will send you our book on the Hair and Scalp, free upon request.

Write to the Doctor.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

Burlington Route

SEPT. 6
SEPT. 20
OCT. 4
OCT. 18

These are the days on which you can buy very low-rate round-trip Excursion Tickets to NEBRASKA and other points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, good for 21 days. Stop on your way and see the GREAT TRANSMISSISSIPPI EXPOSITION AT OMAHA. Ask your nearest railroad agent to make your ticket read over the Burlington Route. You can get a handsome illustrated pamphlet describing Nebraska, and another all about the Exposition (both free), by writing to P. S. EUSTIS, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

Go and look for a New Home in Nebraska, a prosperous country, where a farm can be bought for one years' rent of an eastern farm.

"THRIFT IS A GOOD REVENUE." GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM CLEANLINESS AND SAPOLIO

152

Page Illustrated Catalogue, describing all of the famous

WINCHESTER GUNS AND WINCHESTER AMMUNITION

sent free to any address. Send your name on a postal card to

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO., 180 Winchester Ave., New Haven, Ct.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swellings, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 50c; large, 85c. Book free. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. E. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

Use Well Drills

Our WE MAKE all kinds and sizes, for DRILLING WELLS for house, farm, City and Village Water Works, Factories, Ice Plants, Breweries, Irrigation, Coal and Mineral Prospecting, Oil and Gas, etc. LATEST and BEST. 30 YEARS EXPERIENCE. Write us WHAT YOU want. LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

READERS OF THIS PAPER DESIRING TO BUY ANYTHING ADVERTISED IN ITS COLUMNS SHOULD INSIST UPON HAVING WHAT THEY ASK FOR, REFUSING ALL SUBSTITUTES OR IMITATIONS.

The Best BOOK on WAR BEAUTIFULLY bound and stamped in GOLD, and illustrated finely illustrated (price $2), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 5c.

DR. BUSH'S HEMISTATIC PILLS, WE WARRANT to CURE Hemorrhages of the Lungs, Bloody Flux, Chronic Diarrhœa, Flowing or Spitting Blood, Diseases of Writing Bed. For 25 cents a box, postpaid. From Salisbury Pharmacy, CONEY, PA.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Sept. 7. 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL. - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Union.

Peter Adams and brothers have nine acres of fine tobacco.

Miss Nannie Bristow is the guest of relatives in Shelby county.

Elders Thomas and Moore held services here last Saturday and Sunday.

The ice houses in this vicinity are not holding out as well as usual, and ice is scarce.

Esq. Bannister and several other regulars held the fort and let the volunteers attend the fair.

J. W. Kennedy has about worked up his purchase of '98 tobacco, and seems pleased with the results.

Mr. Lampkin, with his children, visited his mother near Patriot, last week, instead of attending the fair.

The dirt and heat made the fair days a "hot old time," but everybody went and had a grand old time just the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and daughter, of Covington, were the guests of Spencer Smith and wife several days last week.

Their.... Sunday was just in time to put the finishing touches on pumpkins, sweet potatoes and other late vegetables.

Miss Lottie Fail is attending the Covington, Newport and Ludlow institute being held in Newport, this week.

Martin Weaver and family, of Tennessee, are enjoying a visit with relatives and friends in Union and vicinity.

Mike Karnaly and wife have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. One of their twin babies died of cholera infantum, this week, and the other is dangerously ill.

Botsey Kyle, of Florence, is a regular base ball barometer. When wearing a broad smile the Reds are on top, but when a sickly, three cornered affair of a smile takes its place, they are losing.

Not long since the people at the corner of Third street and Madison Avenue, Covington, thought a famous trapese performer had struck the town unbilled, and without further notice, was going to give a 3 act performance under sealed orders from the Secretary of War, but come to find out it was only a well known Boone county citizen trying to get off of a street car going 8 miles an hour. He succeeded to a queen's taste. Address J. G. Kenny, care Covington Coal Co. for further particulars.

Friday your correspondent was invited to a seat in the Blue Grass Special, a fast line express from Union to Florence for four days only. James Bristow was master of transportation, and Dolf Riley to be chief mourner in case we all got killed. The air brakes were in perfect order, and we made a stop of 5 miuntes to contribute our mite to the finances of J. M. Utz, and then on to Florence. After making a few observations of the situation through a "Voshell telescope," so highly recommended by Andy Collins, sr., of Richwood, and Lucien Dickerson, of Union, we decided that if watermelons, bananas, popcorn, fried fish, side shows, flying Dutchmen, &c., were a sign, the fair was on and that we would go down. We paid 25 cents each and took a turn at the wheel of fortune, operated by Henry Quick and some other gentleman, of Hebron, (to us unknown), who gave us our ticket and demanded 500 in return. Making a Quick play we got through the turn in great "stile" Our entrance to the grounds created no surprise, and the band played on just as though such things were a common occurrence and likely to happen any time—Mark Twai.., Sept. 12, verse 21. The first thing we did after getting there was to visit the department of high art, known as the birth place of the man who died with his boots on and not a cent in his pocket. We discovered that people of all denominations gathered there with one accord and for the same purpose at this point, i. e. to see that justice was done the exhibitors, and no strings properly tied Finding that we could have no hand in the matter unless we had money, we accepted 50 cents a week and expenses to distribute the RECORDER for its editor, which gave us free access to every department of the fair. We saw lots of people we were glad to see, and saw lots of people we never expect to see again. We waded in dust and had the perspiration trickling down our frame in streams, and yet we had a good time. That night we attended a meeting of the Union Blade Club held in Florence The Voshell telescope so highly recommended as aforesaid, was discussed and a fine observation of the moon made. It was discovered by the scientific editor that the man in the moon was cross-eyed and liable to hit where he didn't look, &c.

Bellevue.

But few from here attended the fair last week. Too hot.

Miss Viola Walker began a 5 months school at Willoughby, Monday.

W. L. Acra, of Rabbit Hash, was the guest of your reporter, Sunday.

Frank Huey and family, of Muncle, Ind., are visiting his mother here.

J. J. Huey was visiting his mother and sister in Burlington, Sunday.

We were blessed, last Sunday morning and evening with a fine rain.

Miss Virgie Snyder is visiting her cousins in Aurora and Lawrenceburg.

Housing tobacco began here last week. It is fine, considering the season.

Bob Bradford has moved ou to Uncle Mike Clore's farm, and is working for him.

Rev. Utz and family were visiting Mrs. Utz's parents, several days last week.

We know by that big grin on A. B. Corbin's face, he enjoyed the fair Saturday.

Xen Scott and mother passed here Sunday enroute to Seborn Scott's in Indiana.

Mr. Ed Hoppins, of Hartwell, Ind., was visiting friends here, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Martha Schwartz will leave in a few days for Frankfort, Ind., where she will spend the winter.

Prof. Snyder has plenty of sweet potatoes, cabbage, roastingears and nutmegs yet for his customers.

Ira Powell and family, of Hamilton, Ohio, are visiting at his wife's parents, Mr. L. L. Snyder and wife.

Dony Cook and wife and Mrs. Tom Wingate attended their aunt's funeral at Lawrenceburg, last Saturday.

Miss Eva Botts and brother, Stanley, left last Friday for Lexington, where they will attend school this winter.

The wedding in McVille has not materialized as yet. You will be apt to hear the congratulating bells and pans when it does occur.

R. B. Huey and wife, of Locust Grove, Robt. Clore and family, of Clore's Ridge, spent the day with Frank Huey and wife at his mother's, Sunday.

Al Rogers has surely struck a hog country from the amount of corn he is hauling. They say he can make a 200 pound hog of a three months old shoat.

Mrs. W. S. Rice was called to the bedside of her father, last week, in Indiana. He is not expected to live. He was injured in June by a fall from a mower.

The family of Uncle Thomas Roberts, deceased, held a reunion on Middle Creek, last Thursday at the cliffs. Most of the children were present, and many of their friends and neighbors.

W. S. Willett and wife, of Lexington, were the guests of Jas. H. Lawell and wife, last week. They have this week accompanied by Mr. [illegible] for the sea coast at Cape [illegible] they will spend a week or ten [illegible]

Misses Mamie and Grace R[illegible] ter a three months' vacation wi[illegible] parents and friends, will leave for Louisville next Sunday, to resume their profession, nursing. They will carry the best wishes of all their friends with them. Their social and quiet manners have wou them the esteem of all their associates. They are girls of whom their pareuts may well be proud.

Limaburg.

George Aydelott had his pockets picked. They got $4.

Miss Ora Rouse is visiting Miss Clara Seamon, of Covington.

Cloud Rouse will move out of Limaburg in the near future.

Dr. Scott Cole and wife have returned to their home at Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Pearl Smith, of Richwood, was visiting Everett Dixon and wife, last week.

Henry Rouse and Misses Pearl and Corda Rouse, of Gunpowder, were visiting Jas. W. Utz and wife, Sunday.

Dr. Furnish removed a cancer from Miss Frances Riggs' breast, Monday. She stood the operation nicely is doing well. Drs. Otha Rouse, J. F. Smith, Slater, Moffett and Sayer were present.

Richwood.

Miss Artie Green, of Covington, is the guest of Mrs. J. J. Tanner.

Mrs. Lipp died Sunday afternoon and was buried at Hopeful, Monday.

Mrs. L. A. Scott and family were the guests of A. P. Collins, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Willie Glacken was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Gaines Robinson, last Friday.

Some boys from a distance visited C. B. Rice's watermelon patch one night last week. After carrying out about a dozen they proceeded to annoy the owner by running through his corn when Mr. R. sprinkled them with a load of bird shot, just to let them know that they must not take possession of his farm. Boys, when you want watermelons, just call at Mr. Rice's house and he will give you all you want, as he is one of the cleverest men in the county.

Verona.

Mr. Snyder, the operator, is sick, threatened with fever.

We had a good rain here Sunday night, it was very much needed.

G. K. Thomas and Miss Lizzie Roberts will teach the public school here.

Chas. McPherson and his mother have moved to Ghent, Carroll county, Verona was well represented at the Florence fair Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The series of meetings closed at New Bethel, last Saturday week, with six additions.

Last Thursday and Friday was the hotest days we have had, the mercury registering 10o.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold, of Elmwood, Ind., will move to their property here in the near future.

Owing to the extremely hot weather we have been having, farmers are cutting their tobacco rapidly.

J. M. Powers and wife, L. S. Wolfe and daughter, Miss Anna, and Jacob Wolfe and wife attended the Owenton Association Wednesday and Thursday.

Walton.

Miss Lora Diers had a delightful visit to her friend, Miss Edith Ellis, at Beaver.

Mrs. Dr. Jones has concluded that she does not want to attend the fair again this season.

Mrs. Norah Smith, of Oklahoma, has returnded home after a long visit to her sister, Mrs. Dora Norman.

Rev. D. Y. Bagby, of Spokane, Washington, has returned to his western home, after a pleasant visit to his brother, Dr. Bagby.

Miss Lora Diers has been prevented lately from taking her usual bicycle spin by a sprained ancle. She will be along in a few days.

Mrs. Myers has been compelled to add another recitation room The prospects of the Academy were never so bright as at the present term.

The Walton Academy opened Monday under more favorable auspices than has dawned upon it at the beginuing of any Academic term it has yet had.

Leon Pryor and Mabel Bagby go to the Georgetown college and Edna Ransler will enter Hamilton college at Lexington and will take a mathematical course.

Miss Leora Rouse has returned from a long visit to her grand parents at Morning View. Ask her why she didn't stay longer and she will probably say that as her mother and Mrs. Ella Rouse had dissolved partnership in the dress making business it was about time to have herself taken into consideration as a future partner.

The tomato crop this year is, in a great measure, a failure. The acreage planted in this vicinity was greater than has been set in any previous season, but the crop will be much lighter. The planters account for this by the pollen being destroyed by the heavy rains, but it was observed that the bloom was lighter than in any previous year. It may be that the Snyder Co., may operate a short time, but the condition of the crop will not warrant any extensive operations. Some of the best raisers have concluded that they are done with planting tomatoes for some time.

Constance.

Everbody took in the fair.

Wm. Tanner has bought a fine trotter.

Miss Stockwell, of Delhi, Ohio, is visiting Miss Zimmer.

One of the extractors or oth[illegible]ks at the Simmons factory let go, [illegible]ng a hole through the roof.

Mrs. Grace Henderson and [illegible]over Joe, and Miss Fannie Herchie, of [illegible]wport, were visiting Mrs. Murat, last [illegible]k.

The Camp Meeting opened [illegible] this place Sept. 1st, and will continue until the 10th. Misses McGown and Henderson, of Ohio, assisted by Mrs. S. F. Armstrong, lead the meeting.

Mrs. Nellie Fuge, of Bellevue, was visiting Mrs. H. Kotmeyer, last week.

Misses Linsley and Miss Barstow and [illegible]ens, of Ohio, were visiting [illegible] and wife, last week.

Mound Field Farm.

Miss Jeunie Markland, of Indianapolis, was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Batterson, last week.

John Clore and Bart Aylor both ran wagons during fair week from here, and both were well patronized.

R. L. Bradford is doing a land office business as agent for the Keystone Buggy Company. He sold four during fair week.

Mike Clore spent several days, last week, visiting the sick and wounded from this vicinity that are in hospitals in the city.

Tom Hafer captured first premium on his new variety of wheat; also on display of grain at the Chiviot, Ohio, Harvest Home.

John Davis, grandson of Mrs. Isabella Davis, returned to Indianapolis, his home, last Sunday. He had spent his vacation with his grandma.

Judging from the amount of coal that Mauilus Goodridge and Joe Graham are haulilug by here every day, they expect a cold winter.

Frank Markland, of Cincinnati, an old time mortar-mixer and stone-wheeler, is assisting the masons on the Pt. Pleasant school house job.

John Popham lost a valuable diamond set on the fair grounds at Florence, last Friday. He will pay a reward of $200 for its recovery, and no questions asked.

Rabbits are so plentiful along the Popham Hills road that it is next to impossible to drive a vehicle through them without killing more or less, especially early in the morning or late in the evening.

Unless an early frost should come and check the growth of the pumpkin vines, the roads in the Pt Pleasant neighborhood will be entirely blockaded from travel. The vines have left the fields, formed arbors of the fences, and in some cases climbed trees, and mammoth pumpkins can be seen hanging like cocoanuts from the branches.

Jacob Crigler, while skirmishing around on his place some other day, accidentally came upon a squash that had been jerked off the vine. With the assistance of a friend he rolled it over to the scales in Hebron and weighed it. It touched the beam at 64 pounds.

Chester Davis had a close call for his life last Wednesday. He had started to the city, driving a colt, When about two miles from his store the colt began kicking and plunging, finally upsetting the vehicle, throwing Chester out and under it. The colt wheeled with the buggy and ran back, falling on the store porch from where he had started. Chester escaped with a few bruises from which he was quite sore for several days. The buggy was somewhat demolished, particularly the top.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Several Burlingtonites will attend the G. [illegible] R. this week.

Mrs. B. W. Adams has been quite sick for several days

Mrs. Lillie Hall is visiting her sisters in Cincinnati, this week.

The RECORDER is under obligations to Rev. M. J. Hoover for favors granted.

Mrs. Geo. Piper and children returned to their home at Louisville, Tuesday.

W. F. McKim had a severe attack of cholera morbus Saturday night and Sunday.

H. J. Marshall, Henry Taylor and Joel corbin, of Aurora, took in the fair last week.

Two of O. W. Gaines' children, Lyman and Alberta, left for Georgetown, Monday, to attend school.

Mrs. Texie Tennis Davis, of Pensacola, Florida, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. L. Riddell, of this place.

Chas. Wilson, of Lawrenceburg, visited his father at Rabbit Hash, last week, and attended the fair Saturday.

After spending about ten days with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. German Mrs. E. S. Craig returned to her home in New Orleans, Monday.

John Thompson, of Illinois, who, many years ago, worked for several of the farmers about here, was a guest at the Boone House, Monday night.

Mr. E. M. Gaines, of Utzinger, made this office a call yesterday. He is 77 years old and a well preserved man. He is thinking of going to Missouri to spend the winter.

James Piles, of Missouri, is visiting the scenes of his childhood. He is a son of the late Andrew Piles, and has been away from here for 22 years. He is a fine looking, pleasant gentleman.

Many will take advantage of the reduced railroad rates this week to return to the scenes of their childhood in this part of the country.

A communication from Gasburg was received this week, but the writer did not sign name, hence its nonappearance.

Local News.

RUPTURE CURED — See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

This is excellent fall weather, and is hoped there will be no more oppressively hot periods.

Now boys, you who have won out in the civil service examination, can begin pulling hard for appointments.

The North Bend Association of Baptist will meet with the Madison Ave., Church, Covington, next Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Collier, of Harrison county, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Auditor of Public Accounts, was in town last Weduesday.

J. M. Lassing and J. F. Blythe will leave, sometime next week, for Illinois, where they will spend a week or two shooting prairie chickens.

To-day (Wednesday) the sale of the personal property of Renben Conner, deceased, will take place at his late residence near Richwood.

Mrs. Will Beemon, of the Gunpowder neighborhood, captured the handsome Sideboard, given by W. N. Hind & Co., for the best display of preserves. She had nearly a hundred different kinds.

The proper use of a mowing scythe would improve the looks of some of the streets in Burlington. The new weed that has come to town appears determined to take possession of all the territory from which it is not driven.

Dr. W. H. Harrison, dentist, will be in Burlington on the first Monday and Tuesday; Union, the first Wednesday and Thursday; Florence, the first Friday and Saturday; and Petersburg the second Monday and Tuesday in each month.

County Court.

Henry Dixon's claim against assigned estate of W. H. Smith was allowed.

A certificate of honesty, probity and good demeanor was issued to J. E. Botts, of Walton.

J. W. Cleek, J. A. Sanders and R. M. Jones were appointed to appraise the personal estate of Thos. A. Johnson.

The private passway asked for by R. K. McManama over the lands of G. L. and J. C. Miller, was established.

We clip the following item from the Enquirer of Sept. 1st.

"Robert Wagner, a carpenter, living at 1217 Harrison avenue, fell through a skylight at the Union Hay and Grain Company yesterday and was killed. No one knows what caused him to fall. Coroner Aaerr made an examination, and is of the opiuion that Wagner, while at work, cut his finger with a hatchet, which caused him to faint, and he fell over on the skylight, which gave way, and he went down with it, a distance of thirty feet. Patrol 4 started to the hospital with him, but he was dead before the wagon arrived at the institution."

Mr. Wagner was a native of this county, and married a sister of Mrs. R. S. Crisler, of this place, Mrs. Jerdon Beall, of Hebron, and Mrs. G. J. Allen, of the Florence neighborhood. He leaves a wife and two children. His remains were interred in the cemetery at Hebron, at 2 o'clock, last Friday afternoon.

The Rogers Universalist Association.

The Rogers Association of which the Burlington Church is a member, met with the church at Milan, Ind., August 18th, 1898, for its three days session, with delegates from the churches at Saluda, Manchester, Milan and Rising Sun, Ind., and Burlington, Ky.

The following ministers were present: Rev. L. [illegible] Grandy, of Ind.[illegible]polis; Rev. Fosher, of Lawrence, Ind.; Rev. W. S. Bacon, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Burlington church was represented by the following delegates: Mr. and Mrs. Noah Craven, H. P. Crisler, D. M. Hewitt and Miss Lizzie Hewitt, while the following visitors from Boone county were also present, Wesley Kelly, Walter Kelly, J. F. Blyth and wife, Z. T. Kelly, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stephens.

Rev. Fosher preached an able and well delivered sermon Friday night. Rev. Bacon preached Saturday morning and Rev. Grandy at night. The occasional sermon was delivered by Rev. L. B. Grandy, Sunday morning to a large congregation, after which all partook of a bountiful dinner, prepared by the good people of Milan, which was spread on the table in the shade of a large oak which stands in the church yard.

Rev. W. S. Bacon delivered a sermon on the Lord's Supper in the afternoon, after which communion services were held, and Rev. Grandy preached again at night.

The business of the Association was transacted at different meetings of the committees. Bro. Monroe, of Saluda, was re-elected moderator; Mrs. Piatt, secretary, and Mrs. Young, of Milan, treasurer. The Association adjourned to meet with the church at Rising Sun, Ind., on Friday before the third Sunday in August, 1899. Rev. Fosher will preach the Occasional Sermon.

A VISITOR.

FARMERS INSTITUTE.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 17th, 1898.

Harvest Home Grounds.

Everybody invited and bring well filled baskets.

PROGRAMME:

1. Overture.
2. Opening Address.....E. L. Riley.
3. Music.
4. Address .....Hou. N. S. Walton.
5. Music—Vocal Quartette—by Golden Grange of Union.
6. Essay.....Hon. J. L. Frazier.
7. Recitation....Miss Bernice Duncan.
8. Music—vocal.....Miss Anna Rice.
9. Address.....Hon. Aaron Jones, Master National Grange.
10. Music—vocal....Miss Zayda Gaines.
11. Essay.....Miss Nannie Bristow.
12. Music—Instrumental.
13. Address.....Dr. J. D. Clardy. Master State Grange.
14. Music.

Exercises will begin at 10 a. m.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS
—THE OLD—
RELIABLE - GROCER,
UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molasses, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.
GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention.

A good supp[illegible] of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.
Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

H. F. BLASE
535 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.,
Has just received a New and Elegant Stock of
FALL AND WINTER GOODS
For the making of
Gentlemen's Suits and Overcoats,
And notwithstanding the high quality of these Goods, he will furnish them
Cut and Made to Order.
Strictly First-Class, and at the Lowest Possible Prices consistent with Material and Workmanship.
Ready-Made CLOTHING
This department carries a Stock, which for Quality of Goods and Workmanship is not equaled in the three cities, while the price defies competition.
H. F. BLASE, 535 Madison Ave.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

The person who expects to get Something for Nothing always gets Deceived.

We do not propose to give you something for nothing, but we do say this, We will give you good, Well Made and Perfect Fitting

CCCC L OOOOO TTTTT H H I NN N GGGG
C L O O T T H H I N N N G
C L O O T H H I N N N G
C L O O T H H I N N N G
C L O O T H H I N N N G G
CCCC LLLL OOOOO T H H I N NN GGGG

At the very Lowest Prices. Come in and inspect our line of Men's, Boys and Childrens Clothing
ROLFS & WACHS.
S. W. Cor. Pike St., and Madison Ave.,
Covington, - - Kentucky.

TWO FOR ONE
By Special Arrangement we offer
HOME AND FARM
In combination with
THE RECORDER
For $1.75.
Being nearly the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send
HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE.
HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

THE FLORENCE FAIR.

The attendance the first day was far short of that of the first day last year, only about 1,200 persons being on the grounds.

The exhibition in the ring was grand, the competition in every instance being close. The stock pens were full of fine sheep, being the best show of that kind ever seen in this part of the State.

Floral Hall was not crowded with articles on exhibition, but the display there was very fine, especially that supplied by the good cooks.

Following is the list of awards:

FLORAL HALL.

Display apples, J. B. Dixon, first; Ed Berkshire, second.
Display peaches, Ed Berkshire, first; J. M. Powers, second.
Display pears, G. W. Dunlap, first; W. Dixon, second.
Display plums, Ed Berkshire.
Display quinces, R. K. Dulaney.
Display fruits, Ed Berkshire.
Display grapes, Wm. Clayton, first; Ed Berkshire, second.
Display fruit butter, Miss Mamie Tanner.
Display catsup pickles, Mrs. G. W. Walton.
Display mixed pickles, Mrs. W. P. Beemon.
Can fruits, Miss Belle Baker.
Can pears, Polly Kelly.
Can tomatoes, Mrs. R. W. Rouse.
Lady cake, same
Pound cake, Louise Rousselot.
Jelly cake, Mrs. M. L. Riddell.
Layer cake, Miss Kate Walton.
Fruit cake, Mamie Tanner.
Corn bread, Lizzie Rouse.
Hop yeast bread, Mrs. G. W. Walton.
Salt rising bread, Mrs. Sarah Garnett.
Maple molasses, Mrs. A. Beutler.
Sorghum molasses, Moses Aylor.
Vinegar, Henry Rice.
Comb honey, Thomas Fisher.
Extracted honey, W. H. Griffith.
Display jellies, Mrs. F. Bannister, 1st; Mrs. E. O. Rouse, 2nd.
Display preserves, Mrs W. P. Beemon, 1st; Jennie Aylor, 2nd.
Butter. Henry Aylor.

DRAFT HORSES.

Colt under one year, 6, Kirby Richardson, first; Sam Randall, second.
One and under two, 3, John Lockhardt, first; F M Smith, second.
Colt two and under three, 5, A S Yelton, first; Wm Winel, second.
Mare three and under four, 2, A S Yeltou, first; J A Riddell, second.
Gelding three and under four, 2, G N Dethridge, first; Wm Stephens, 2nd.
Stallion three and under four, J H Smith.
Mare four and over, 9, M Hoffman, first; Allison & Yates, second.
Gelding four and over, 8, A S Yelton, first; J Michals, second.
Stallion four and over, 2, L C Wright, first; A L Caldwell, second.
Stallion, mare or geldiug, 9, A S Yelton, first; A L Caldwell, second.
Farm team, 7, J Michaels, first; J W Watson, second.
Model horse, 18, F M Parker, first; J T Hughes, second.
Coach horse, 18, C Keith.

MULES.

Colt under one, 10 ent; Alfred Mann, first; K M Aylor, second.
Mule 1 and under 2, 4 ent, S C Hicks both premiums.
Mule 2 and nuder 3, 5 ent, H L Beemon, first; S C Hicks, second.
Pair mules, 4 ent., W R Garnett, 1st; J F Waller, 2d.
Mule any age, 18 ent. G E Rouse, 1st; J L Carpenter, 2d.
Best jack, 3 ent. J C Bedinger, first; Rouse & Wilholt, second.
Bonnet, 2 ent. Herbert Wilson, first; J. Carpenter, second.
Horse, run and walking, 11 ent. Jer-Taylor, first; Lew Clarkson, second.

SHEEP.—SOUTHDOWNS.

Ram, one and under 2, J H Aylor.
Ram, 2 and over, same.
Ewe, one and under two, same.
Ewe, two and over, same.
Pair lambs, E H Blankenbecker, 1st; J H Aylor, second.

COTSWOOL.

Ram, one and nuder two, Horace Richardson, first; J H Aylor, second.
Ram, two and over, Horace Richardson, first; J H Aylor, second.
Ewe, one and unnder two, Horace Richardson both premiums.
Ewe, two and over, Horace Richardson both premiums.
Pair lambs, Horace Richardson, first; J H Aylor, second.

HAMPSHIREDOWNS.

Ram, one and under two, E H Blankenbecker.
Ram, two and over, same.
Ewe, one and under two, same.
Ewe, two and over, same.
Pair lambs, same.

SHROPSHIRES.

Ram, one and under two, E H Blankenbecker.
Ram, two and over, same.
Ewe, one and under two, same.
Ewe, two and over, same.
Pair lambs, same.

OXFORDS.

Ram, one and under two, J H Aylor.
Ram, two and over, same.
Ewe, one and under two, same.
Ewe, two and over, same.
Pair lambs, same.

THURSDAY.

BEEF CATTLE.

Bull two yrs and over, Wm Warfield, first; J H Aylor, second.
Bull one and under two, Wm Warfield.
Bull calf, Wm Warfield, first; Walter Clore, second.
Cow two and over, Warfield both.
Heifer one and under two, Warfield.
Heifer under one, Warfield both.
Herd, Warfield.
Fatted bullock, Warfield both.

SADDLE HORSES.

Colt one and under, 6, Wm Carpenter, first; J W Poindexter, second.
Colt one and under two, 5, Stephen Rich, first; J A Riddell, second.
Colt 2 and under 3, J L Carpenter.
Mare three and under four, 4, L W Clarkson, first; E B Stansifer, second.
Gelding three and under four, J W Poindexter, first; Robt Walker, second.
Stallion three and under four, S P Campbell.
Mare four and over, 10, T J Naegle, first; J T Hughes, second.
Gelding four and over, J C Clore, 1st; J W Poindexter, second.
Stallion four and over, 6, Joe Evans, first; J T Hughes, second.
Boy rider, 8, Clifford Norman, first; Carl White, second.

HOGS.—THINRIND.

Boar one and over, J H Aylor, first; W E Garnett, second.
Sow one and over, W E Rouse, first; J H Aylor, second.
Pair pigs six months and under one year, Geo E Rouse.
Pair pigs under six mos. old, Geo E Rouse, first; J H Aylor, second.

CHESTER WHITES.

Boar one and over, C E Tanner, first; A M Acra, second.
Sow one and over, T J Hughes, first; C E Tauner, second.
Pair pigs under six mos, A M Acra, first; T J Hughes, second.

POLAND CHINA.

Boar one and over, R W Stephens, first; Van Doven & Hyatt, second.
Sow one and over, Van Doven & Hyatt, second.
Pair pigs 6 mos. old and under 1 yr., Van Doven & Hyatt, first; R W Stephends, second.
Pair pigs under six mos, J B Northcutt, first; Van Doven & Hyatt, 2nd.
Sow and six or more pigs, Van Doven & Hyatt.

FLORAL HALL.

Display flowers, H Richtofer, first; Ida Dixou, second.
Cut flowers—Mamie Tanner.
Hand bouquet—Jennie Dixou.
Hanging basked—Henry Hafer.
Zephyr flowers—Mrs W P Beemon.
Wax flowers—Ada Allen.
Paper flowers—Ada Allen,
Feather flowers—Ada Allen.
Hair flowers—Hattie Rouse.
Hammered brass—Mrs W E Walton.
Crayon drawing—Scott Smith, first; L Elston, second.
Pen or pencil drawing—Bessie Williams, first; A N Jones, second
Water color painting—Maud Mayberry, first; Bessie Williams, second.
Oil painting—Pauline Kirtley, first; Mrs C A Souther, second.

FRIDAY.—DAIRY CATTLE.

Best bull, 2 yrs; best bull, 1 yr; best cow, 2 yrs; best heifer, 1 yr—all taken by Jos Scott.
Best heifer under one year—Leonard Rouse.
Best herd, one bull and three cows—Joseph Scott.
Best milk cow—J E Bristow.

HARNESS HORSES.

Colt under one year, J C Bedinger, first; B H Snyder, second.
Colt under two years, J W Poindexter, first; James Carey, second.
Colt under three years, J W Poindexter, first; S A Golden, second.
Mare under four years, Louis Parker, first; Charles Horner, second.
Gelding under four years, Sam Moreland, first; H C Fisk, second.
Stallion under four years, J W Poindexter, first; J R Rinsker, second.
Mare four years and over, J P Tanner, first; Chas Keith, second.

FLORAL HALL.

Display linens with silk embroidery, Mrs R H Talbott.
Best specimen silk embroidery, Miss Nannie Hall.
Best specimen linen embroidery, Mrs L N Williams.
Worsted embroidery, Mattie Hall.
Cotton embroidery, Mrs R H Talbott.
Crochet work, Mattie Hall.
Lace work, Lillian Williams.
Knit Lace, Evaline Fisher.
Plain hand sewing, Mrs H D Buckner.
Drawn thread work, Miss E Coppin.
Rag carpet, Miss N E Crigler.
Fancy wool knitting, Mrs E C Rouse.
Plain wool knitting, Mrs V Cowen.
Plain cotton knitting, Mrs RO Smith.
Fancy silk knitting, Mrs E E Rouse.
Silk quilt, Mrs R H Talbott.
Worsted quilt, Mrs Nat Hull.
Calico quilt, Miss M E Brewster.
Knit counterpane, Miss Ivis Tanner.

SATURDAY.

HARNESS HORSES.

Stallion four years and over, 8, W P Carpenter, first; C F Stroude, second.
Pair harness horses, any sex, 11, Chas Keith, first; Frank Thatcher, second.
Single roadster, any age or sex, 6, J P Tanner, first; Chas Keith, second.
Fancy turnout, 3, Marce Riddell, 1st; Charles Keith, second.

ALLPURPOSE HORSES.

Colt under one year, J W Poindexter; R C Fossett, second.
Colt one and under two, J W Poindexter, first; J A Riddell, second.
Colt two and under three, 4, M S Rouse.
Colt three and under four, 6, O E Ware, first; Robt Walker, second.
Horse or mare 4 years old and over, 5, J T Hughes, first; Chas Keith, 2nd.
Pair match horses, 5, C T Stronde, first; R T Garman, second.
Lady rider, 4, Mary Riddell, first; Mrs C B Myers, second; Miss L Myers, third.
Consolation prize, 15, Robert Walker, first; T J Naegle, second.

FLORAL HALL.

Single harness, Myers & VonLehman.
Double harness, same.
Rye, Thomas Hafer.
Oats, Peter Hager.
Red wheat, Thomas Hafer, both.
White corn, Geo E Rouse, both.
Yellow corn, Jerry Tanner, first; W P Beemon, second.
Sweet corn, Moses Aylor.
Display grain, Tom Hafer.
Twelve stalks 1893 burley tobacco, Irish potatoes, Jake Lodge.
Sweet potatoes, Ed Northcutt.
Onions, G B Powers.
Turnips, Jake Crigler.
Beets, Perry Aylor.
Tomatoes, Jake Lodge.
Cabbage, R W Rouse.
Display vegetables, Perry Aylor, 1st; Elijah Tanner, 2nd; Jake Crigler, 3d.
Display Irish potatoes, Joe Geiger, first; Henry Hafer, second.
Green beans, Ed Hensley.
Soup beans, Jake Crigler.
Watermelons, J H Aylor.
Squashes, Jake Crigler.
Muskmelons, W L Aylor.
Carrots, Jake Crigler.
Parsnips, J H Rogers.
Cucumbers, Perry Aylor.
Peppers, G B Powers.
Pumpkins, W E Rouse.

POULTRY.

Cochins, George Ewalt.
Leghorns, A M Acra.
Wyadotts, J H Aylor.
Plymouth Rocks, B H Snyder.
Langshans, George Ewalt.
Minorcars, Aylor & Hafer.
Hamburgs, George Ewalt.
Brahmas, George Ewalt.
Black Spanish, A M Acra.
Game, George Ewalt.
Bronze turkeys, J Z Bristow.
Holland turkeys, W L Beemon.
Geese, Aylor & Hafer.
Ducks, S G Johnson.
Display poultry, George Ewalt, first; W C Rouse, second.

FAIRLETTS.

The large crowd was handled well.

Lewis Rice and bride attended the fair.

Premiums were paid as soon as called for.

It was awfully hot, but the people seemed to enjoy themselves.

The popular demand seems to be for one judge, hereafter, in each ring.

The young men and their best girls were out in full force every day.

Nobody was sorry because the entries for the shabby turnout failed to fill.

Mr. W. T. Smith did not have his July cake on exhibition as was expected.

Good premiums bring good stock, and good stock insures a large attendance.

Plenty of water was kept on hand at all times. The cisterns and well did good service,

The grounds cannot accommodate, comfortably, many more people than attended on Saturday.

The hog and sheep shows were extra—the premium list gives the names of the successful exhibitors.

The splendid show of hogs and sheep indicates that these are the most popular stock in this county.

The fakirs were given a cold shoulder—when any game was suspicioned of being crooked it was suppressed.

W. M. Conner, of Lebanon, Indiana, was meeting many of his old Boone county friends at the fair, last week.

Those who attended the four days got the benefit of the intense heat, and were not sorry when the fair was over.

Congressman Berry and Senator Goebel were on hand Friday looking to the condition of their political trochas.

The man who rented the basket room struck a frost. The board took it off of his hands at the close of the second day.

The rain that fell Friday afternoon interfered with that day's program, but it put the ring in excellent condition for Saturday's show.

Joe Scott is hard to down when it comes to dairy cattle. Time and money are no object to him when it comes to improving his herd.

Mrs. R. Lee Huey was taken suddenly very sick Friday afternoon, and it was some time before she revived sufficiently to be taken home.

The excessive heat during the week was to the liking of those operating the refreshment stands, but reduced attendance very considerably.

Stant Kirtley, colored, of Burlington, collided with a policeman on the grounds, one night, and came very near getting his head shot off.

Mrs. W. P. Beemon won the $30 sideboard given by W. N. Hind & Co as a premium on best display of preserves. It is a nice piece of dining room furniture.

Floral Hall presented an exceedingly handsome appearance on Wednesday and Friday, these being the days that the ladies had entire possession of that department.

The dust would have been terrific by Saturday afternoon had it not been for the rain Friday afternoon, which extended hardly beyond the limits of the fair grounds.

There was not a better pleased man on the ground during the four days, than James H. Aylor when Wm. Carpenter's Tucker colt took the premium over Poindexter's colt.

The board of directors were untiring in their efforts in behalf of the fair from the time they began arranging for it last spring until the last ribbon was tied Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Geo. Delph saw two negro women engage in a fisti-cuff and hair extracting, on Friday. He pronounced it the most interesting coon fight that he had witnessed in many a year.

The attendance the first and second days was considerably short of that for the corresponding days last year. Friday the crowds were about a slarge as those of the same days in '97.

Charlie Schramm was on hand two days, but not one of the hundreds of handsome young ladies present, with their winsome smiles, had the pleasure of enjoying a promenade with him.

Richwood, foaled in 1830, always a great ring horse, made a magnificent show Saturday morning, as the best stallion four years old and over, and landed the premium over seven worthy competitors.

The fancy turnouts were occupied by the following persons:—First, by Marce Riddell, and Misses Sallie Willis, Edna Cowen——Garrison. Second, by Charles Keith, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gaines, Mrs. J. W. Poindexter. Third, by Guy Collins and Miss Maud Mayberry.

A pretty hot fight was on in Cahill's barroom in Florence, Friday evening, in which Mrs. Cahill became involved, and was struck by town Marshal Stephens with his mace, and was very badly hurt, being unconscious for some time. The marshal also received some pretty rough treatment in the melee before order was restored.

The decisions of the judges on nearly every ring of horses was criticised. The committee did its best to obtain the best judges on the grounds, but from the talk of some it would appear that they were particularly unfortunate in securing the services of men, in many instances, that do not know a horse when they see it. Is it not possible for a spectator's judgment to be at fault sometimes?

The horse show, throughout, was pronounced the grandest ever witnessed in this part of the State. The grandest saddle horse in America, Rex McDonald, by W. A. Crigler's Rex Denmark, connected with the first premium every time he was shown, except in the model ring, where he was beaten by a bay stallion belonging to a gentleman named Parker, who resides in Indiana, back of Vevay.

Among those from a distance meeting old friends, were Att. A. W. Gaines, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Hon. L. C. Norman and wife, of Frankfort; W. P. Corbin, of Illinos; Dink Maxwell, of Mississippi; Fire Marshall Milton Campbell and B. W. Campbell, B. K. Sleet and J. M. Conner, of Cincinnati; Lewis Pace, of Indianapolis; John Clore, of Crawfordsville, Indiana, and Mat Conner, of Lebanon, Indiana.

We met Judge H. Clay White, of Williamstown, one day, and the first question he asked was, "Is Boone going to celebrate her centennial this fall?" The Judge has never lost interest in the affairs of his native county, and is very anxious that she have some such celebration some time next month. What do the people say about it? Our county is now in its 100th year, the celebration of which would be very appropriate.

Uncle Ben S. Johnson, in his 83d year, and Uncle Milton Hamilton, 81, of Georgetown, were on hand early in the morning of the first day. Uncle Ben was born and raised, and has spent his long and useful life in the Walton neighborhood. When he could first remember that part of Boone county was but sparsely settled, and deer and turkeys roamed in the hills in large numbers. He has witnessed a long stride in progress in his native county and State. His mind is now strong and clear and he can interest any man with accounts of past local events. He devoted most of his life to farm pursuits in which he was successful. Uncle Milton Hamilton is also a native of this county, but has not been a citizen continuously. Years ago he was a leading politician in Boone and he tells many funny things that occurred at that period of his life. Uncle Milt is blessed with a large supply of this world's goods, and lives happy in the bluegrass country.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Reuben Conner, dec'd., are requested to settle at once, and those who have claims against the same are notified to present them to me proven as by law required.

J. W. CONNER,
Adm'r.

For Sale.

A farm of 43 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

To Whom It May Concern.

Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.

W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.,

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard,	3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose,	5 "
Cottonade Pants,	90 "
Working Shirts,	45 "

We have the Star Cans, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

W. C. SLIMER. JOHN HOSHAL.

SLIMER & HOSHAL,
LIVE STOCK SALESMEN,
—UNION STOCK YARDS,—
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Our Commission Charges are $3 per car load for Hogs, 50 cents per Head for Cattle.

Reference:—WESTERN GERMAN BANK, Cincinnati, O. sept1-98

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK

DEALER IN

DRY GOODS
Notions, Boots and Shoes,

CORN AND MILL FEED,
At Prices to Suit the times.

Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

The Aeromotor Wind Mills,
The Deering Harvesters,
Rollers and Balls,

That's why they run so easy and last so long. No friction, consequently no wear. They run like a bicycle. The best Farmers

WILL HAVE THE BEST MACHINES,

Guaranteed the best made, you to be satisfied or no sale.

Write for new catalogue and prices, which are as cheap as first-class Machines can be sold.

T. J. HUGHES,
BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,
UNDER- EMBAL-

TAKER MER,

Corner Pike & Russell Streets,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S PILE CURE

WHY SUFFER AGONY?

When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.

No Knife! No Interruption of Business!

The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.

MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says: "After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."

Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.

DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

CURES PILES

Take Your County Paper.
—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

SEPTEMBER—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	....	....	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	....

Too little blood in the brain is a frequent cause of headache and may be recognized by the ache being on the top of the head, by constant dizziness and by noises in the ears. The best cure is a slight stimulant, such as strong tea or coffee or hot soup—anything which will increase the circulation. People who suffer with these headaches should always sleep with their heads low.

JOHN HAY, the ambassador to Great Britain who will shortly become secretary of state, has always been better known as a poet than as a diplomat. Yet he secretly wishes that he had never penned "Jim Bludsoe" or "Little Breeches"—poems that have given him a place among American literary men. He blushes yet when he is introduced as the author of "Little Breeches."

NINETY-SIX thousand dollars a pound would seem to be a stupendous price for any drug, but a prescription was recently filled in New York city which would, in the ratio of the price charged for the quantity ordered, bring the retail cost of a pound up to that fignre. The prescription was for 12 tablets of the hydrobromate of hyoscine, each 1.100 of a grain. The price paid was $1.50, or at the rate of $12.50 a grain.

A FAMOUS brigand was lately shot in public execntion at Belgrade, Servia, but the firing party and the spectators were terrified when the smoke lifted to see a second body beside the brigand's. "Mon Dieu! There are two of them!" exclaimed the Black Mousquetaire. The second man proved to be a newspaper correspondent who had approached too near in order to obtain a realistic account for his paper.

MOST of the navy titles that differ from army titles explain themselves. Ensign is an old title obsolete in the land forces, but still preserved in the army. Admiral comes to us from the Spanish, who borrowed it from the Arabic amiralbarrh, commander at sea. Commodore is a corruption of the Spanish and Portuguese commendador, a knight, a commander, so our two highest naval titles come from the despised Iberian peninsula.

A POSTAGE stamp map of England and Wales has been made by Mr. D. M. Murrow, Wood Green, London. Although it took Mr. Murrow only two months to draw the outline of the map and to affix the stamps, yet the entire collection, which is valued at 200 guineas, was begun at the age of seven years. The exact nnmber of stamps in the map is 2,139, and no two stamps are alike. All the coast and prominent inland countries are formed of contrasting colors.

A STATEMENT just prepared by direction of the commissioner of internal revenue shows that for July the average daily shipment of internal revenue stamps aggregated, in number, 22,775,-927. Counting 27 days to the month, the total is shown to have been 614,-939,130. This gives an idea of the work entailed upon the bureau by the conflict with Spain, a large addition to the stamps and increased demand resulting from the operation of the war revenue bill.

BERLIN has now women guides for the city. They are partly elderly and partly middle-aged ladies, with a certain amount of knowledge of the world, some acquaintance with languages and an assured and amiable demeanor, to whose care lone female travelers or the lady-traveling parties recently imported from Scandinavia and America intrust themselves. Most of these resolute persons are Russians or Austrians. They also do shopping and other business for people living out of town.

A CALCULATOR made a computation, which demonstrated that the issue of internal revenue stamps for a single day, would, if in one sheet, cover an area of 28,560 square yards, or nearly six acres. If placed end to end in a straight line they would form a strip 617 miles in length. It is estimated that if one person should be employed in attaching the stamps it would require 52 years to dispose of the issues of a single day, the employe working ten hours each day and attaching an average of one stamp every half minute.

DO NOT try to keep the children from becoming tanned. The sun and wind act as a tonic on the skin, so that when the temporary inconvenience of the tanning disappears the skin is healthier and whiter than before. Recipe for removing tan is as follows: Take half a pound of fine almond meal, place it into a jar which possesses a screw top, then squeeze into it as much lemon juice as will mix to a stiff paste. Stir it thoroughly, add a few drops of eau de cologne, cork up tightly, and use night and morning instead of soap when washing the neck and arms.

INSPECT CAMP.

Secretary Alger and President McKinley Visit Camp Wikoff.

After a Careful Examination the President Left Camp Satisfied That the Sick Are as Well Cared for as They Could Be in a Field Hospital.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Secretary Alger, who returned late Saturday night from New York after his inspection tour through Camp Wikoff at Montauk Point with President McKinley and several of the bureau officials of the war department, commented Sunday night upon the conditions of the camp and stated the results of his visit. The secretary said:

"I feel certain, after a careful examination of Camp Wikoff and a thorough investigation of its conditions, that everything possible is being done for the men, both sick and well, who are detained there. The camp is an admirable one—the best, I think, I ever saw. The site is ideal. It is beautiful without being pictnresque and is certainly as healthful a camp location as could be found in the eastern country.

"While the conditions are as good as could reasonably be expected in the circumstances—even better than I ever knew them to be in a camp—a shade of gloom is cast over the encampment by the physical condition of the men. Sickness, snffering and death mar what would otherwise be a magnificent military picture. These conditions, however, are not the result of the situation of the camp itself, but of the terrible campaign through which the troops have just passed. That campaign of Santiago will be memorable in the military history of the world. It was wonderfnl both in its conduct and in the results accomplished. Few military experts expected when the campaign was inaugurated that such a success could be achieved in so short a time. It was a tremendous undertaking to begin a campaign in a tropical country during the rain season against a position naturally so strong and so well defended as was Santiago. That success was achieved so soon and with a loss comparatively so small is due to the energy and ability of Gen. Shafter and his commanding officers and the dash, bravery and splendid fighting qualities of the men of Gen. Shafter's corps.

"The president was particularly solicitous about the condition of the men who are ill. He went to Camp Wikoff to ascertain for himself whether the men in the ranks needed anything they were not getting. His orders were that they should want for nothing, but he desired personally to know whether these orders were being carried out. After several hours of patient investigation and careful examination he left the camp satisfied that the men were as well cared for as they could be in a field hospital. He took no official's word for anything. He had come to the camp to see for himself and his conviction as to the conditions was reached only after he had come in personal contact with those conditions. In the hospitals he went from ward to ward, almost from cot to cot, stopping every few seconds to talk to the sick men and cheer them with a kind expression or a grasp of the hand. It was an experience not soon to be forgotten. Success of the visit as President McKinley made to Camp Wikoff Saturday is almost unique in the military annals. He went to the camp equipped with knowledge, judgment and experience to make an investigation. He had served in the camp and in the field himself and he knew just what ought to be expected in the circumstances. That he was reasonably well satisfied with the conditions as he found them is in itself a guarantee that they are not far wrong.

Found Dead in a Hotel.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 5.—S. Munsch, a well known architect of Pittsburgh, was found dead early Saturday in the toilet room of the American hotel. Deceased had been suffering from heart trouble and this in connection with the intense heat is supposed to have caused his death. Mr. Munsch was 60 years of age. He and two friends, Rev. J. G. Amschler, pastor of the Latrona Lutheran church, and Rev. R. Barner, rector of the Kittanning Lutheran church of Allegheny, Pa., were en route to Mt. Clements, Mich.

Bayard's Condition Critical.

DEDHAM, Mass., Sept. 5.—The condition of Thomas F. Bayard, former ambassador to England, who is at Karlstein, the home of his daughter, Mrs. Warren, was critical Sunday. So pronounced has been the change in the past two or three days that it was thought the patient would not survive many days.

Gen. Lawton's Health Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Gen. Lawton's report, received Sunday night, of the health conditions of the American troops at Santiago, is as follows.

SANTIAGO, via Hayti, Sept. 4, 1898. Total sick, 235; total fever, 184; total new cases fever, 20; total returned to duty, 91.

Deaths—George R. Brace, private, Company F, 1st Illinois, typhoid fever; Eugene Munger, private, Company C, 1st cavalry, pernicious malarial fever.

LAWTON, Commanding.

TO ABANDON CAMP WIKOFF.

All Troops, Volunteers and Regulars, Will Soon Leave Montauk Point—Distribution of the Different Troops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Orders were prepared in the war department Saturday for the practical abandonment of Camp Wikoff at Montauk Point. All the volunteer infantry regiments now there will soon start for their homes and the men will receive a furlough until they are mustered out, while most of the regulars, as soon as they have recuperated sufficiently, will resume duty at the posts which they garrisoned before the war began. The orders for the regulars may be issued Sunday, and will provide for the following distribution of the regiments:

Third cavalry, Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., and Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

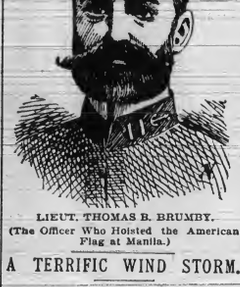
Sixth cavalry, to Fort Myer, Virginia and Fort Wadsworth, New York.

Third infantry to Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

Fourth infantry to Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Sixth infantry to Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

Ninth infantry to Madison barracks, New York.



Thirteenth infantry to Forts Columbus, Porter and Niagara, New York.

Seventeenth infantry to Columbus barracks, Ohio.

Twentieth infantry to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Twenty-first infantry to Plattsburg barracks, New York.

The remaining regiments of regulars at Montauk Point will be disposed of next week. Some of them will probably be held at posts yet to be selected for service in Cuba.

LIEUT. THOMAS B. BRUMBY.
(The Officer Who Hoisted the American Flag at Manila.)

A TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Houses Blown Down and Trees Uprooted—Several Houses Struck by Lightning—The Aggregate Loss Heavy.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 5.—A terrific windstorm swept over this city Sunday at 12 o'clock, uprooting trees and blowing down houses. The storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning and several houses were struck. Dr. Willis, a physician, was rendered unconscious for an hour by a bolt which struck his residence. Stock and buildings in the surrounding country are reported to have been badly damaged, but as yet no fatalities have been reported. The Knights of Pythias hall was nnroofed and the lodge furniture and the uniform rank properties ruined by water. The aggregate loss will be heavy.

DON MANUEL MACIAS.
(Spanish Governor and Captain General of Puerto Rico.)

OHIO TROOPS TO DISBAND.

Orders Issued Mustering Out the 1st, 3d, 5th, 7th and 8th Regiments and the 1st Ohio Cavalry at Once.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Orders were issued Sunday night by the war department directing that the 1st Ohio infantry be mustered out at its armory in Cincinnati; that the 1st Ohio cavalry and 5th Ohio infantry be mustered out at the central armory in Cleveland; and that the 3d, 7th and 8th Ohio regiments, not having regimental armories, be mustered out at Columbus. The regiments will proceed directly from the camps where they are at present to the points where they will be mustered out.

Fire in Newark, N. J.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Fire in Newark celluloid works, Newark, Sunday night destroyed the building and adjoining structures. Loss $200,000. Fourteen persons were injured and taken to hospitals, some of the persons being seriously burned.

Rev. Wm. Gregston Dead.

PRINCETON, Ky., Sept. 5.—Rev. Wm. Gregston died at his home near White Sulphur, this county. He was one of the most widely known elders in the Little River association.

VETS. IN CAMP.

Old Soldiers From All Quarters Gathering in the Queen City.

Cincinnati is Ready for the 32d Encampment—Fourth Street, From Race to Central Avenue, at Night Presents a Blaze of Glory.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5.—The vanguard of the thirty-second encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic arrived Saturday night and Sunday.

From all parts of the country come survivors of battle fields of the sixties. Men who served at Manassas and at Appomattox are again beginning to rub elbows, to sit cheek by jowl, to size each other up, to compare notes on their treatment by Father Time, to take a friendly drink, to swap tobacco and stories, to tell again battle anecdotes.

The hotels are beginning to show forth the friendly faces of the strangers, men of prosperity, brave hearts and true unharmed by wealth in the world's goods. In addition to the old soldiers there are coming their friends, probably five to one. The veteran's wife, son, daughter, niece, cousin, to the farthest remove of relationship are coming.

Cincinnati has taken on a holiday aspect as never before in her history. The queen city has robed herself in gala attire. Combinations of the national colors are every where visible. Many persons evidently anxious to wait in order to avoid a possible Sunday rain, will leave their buildings bare till early Monday.

The illumination schemes have been tried and found not wanting. Fourth street from Race to Central avenue is a glorious blaze in darkness. The gas eagle at Plum street is a work of art.

The government square arch was lighted to the delight of gathered hundreds.

Saturday the veterans were coming in in great numbers at all the depots. Headquarters of all the committees, civic and military, of men and women, were overrun with seekers for information.

Cincinnati is ready for the encampment. It seems as if it is already here.

The gas company building, corner Fourth and Plum streets, is covered with bunting and flags, portraits in oil, a cannon firing scene, and an eagle in gas with the words; "Welcome, Grand Army."

The arch at Fourth and Race is a beauty. The electric arches, two to the square from Central avenue to Race, will brighten up things at night.

The citizens' committee has practically completed its work and has only to see that the city's guests are well taken care of and that all visitors will be impressed with the hospitality of the Queen City of the West. The three camp fires to be held at Music hall on the nights of September 5, 6 and 7 will be among the most notable events of the week. Elaborate programmes have been arranged and the music to be rendered will be a treat in itself.

When Commander-in-Chief Gobin shall call the 32d G. A. R. encampment to order he will do so with a gavel made of wood from the door sill of the Grant homestead at Georgetown, O.

Maj. John W. O'Hara, of Georgetown, had the gavel made for the occasion.

AT PAGO-PAGO, DALMATIA.

Bids for the Construction of a Coaling Station Have Been Asked for by Commander Z. L. Tanner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Contracts for the erection of a coaling station at Pago-Pago have been invited by Commander Z. L. Tanner, who has the work in charge. The commander will not state the amount to be expended, but he says the work will be of a substantial character and at least a year will be required for its completion. Lieut. Chambers, of the civil engineering department of the navy, will supervise the construction of the wharf and coal sheds. He will also provide for a water supply and make a complete topographical survey of the United States land surrounding the harbor. Commander Tanner says that no fortifications are to be erected.

New Yellow Fever Cases.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 5.—Nine new cases of yellow fever were reported by the board of health Saturday from Orwood. One case has developed at Waterford, a small village five miles east of Water Valley. The board regards the situation as rather serious. Surgeon Carter, of the United States marine hospital service, left for Taylor's station and Orwood Saturday on a special train. There are now 32 cases at Orwood. One death has occurred.

Omdurman Captured by British-Egyptian Troops.

OMDURMAN, OPPOSITE KHARTOUM, ON THE NILE, Nubia, Sept. 2 (by Camel Post to Nazeyl).—The Sidar, Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchner, with the Khalifa's black standard captured during the battle, entered Omdurman, the capital of Mahdiam, at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the head of the Anglo-Egyptian column, after completely routing the Dervishes and dealing a death blow to Mahdiam. Roughly our losses were 200, while thousands of the Dervishes were killed or wounded.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Some Short Sentences Which Contain Truths Uttered in Humorous Ways.

The man who is wedded to art should have a model wife.

Money often wins the first battle, but seldom the second.

Some girls change color because the first box is unsatisfactory.

Usually the more a man is wrapped up in himself the colder he is.

It's a wise philosopher that knows when there is a brick under the hat.

Poor is the minister whose voice fills the church and empties the pews.

A woman's idea of strategy is to spend a dime in an effort to save a nickel.

All geniuses are more or less eccentric. A few have even been known to pay their debts.

Eve had her faults, but she never went through Adam's pockets while he was asleep.

Love blinds some men, and it makes lots of others too near-sighted for military service.

A chainless wheel renders trouser guards unnecessary, but it's different with a chainless dog.

When a man is continually talking about his troubles, his neighbors never trouble very much about his talk.

The intense love of an old toper for liquor goes to prove that familiarity doesn't always breed absolute contempt.

Many a man who doesn't know enough to go in when it rains knows enough to raise the best umbrella he can get his hands on.—Chicago Evening News.

Has Not Slept for Five Years.

It is reported that a man in Indiana has not had an hour's sleep for five years. He constantly walks about, unable to rest, and is now little more than a skeleton. There are thousands of men and women who are unable to sleep more than an hour or two a night because of nervousness, weakness, dyspepsia, headache and constipation. A certain remedy for these disorders is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. All druggists sell it.

No Wonder the Query.

When the news came to the Chickamauga hospital of the destruction of Cervera's fleet one of the nurses commenced to read it aloud. He had got as far as the statement that the Brooklyn had been hit 45 times, when a fever patient, a little out of his head, shouted: "Great Scott! Who pitched for Brooklyn?"—San Francisco Wave.

What Is the Use of making up clothes that go to pieces before the end of the season or fade and get limp and sleazy after the first washing? One of Simpson a Prints will outwear three of the inferior calicoes. The colors are absolutely fast, and any fabric bearing the name of William Simpson & Sons is guaranteed of the highest standard of quality and finish and will give perfect satisfaction.

Not Wanted.

Captain—I can get a great attraction for our ball nine. A pitcher with a wooden leg.

Manager—Nope. It won't do. We don't want no useless timber on the team.—Up to Date.

Generally the Case.

"What a great bore that Simperling is!"

"Still he would leave a very small hole in the world if he were taken away."—Chicago Evening News.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Some men are like race-horses; their only ambition seems to be a desire to lower their records.—Philadelphia Record.

A Dose in Time Saves Nine of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar for Coughs. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

If you loaf around a store or office a great deal, remember that you are not welcome. —Atchison Globe.

I believe Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my boy's life last summer.—Mrs. Allie Douglass, LeRoy, Mich., Oct. 20, 94.

To please a man find out what he wants—what he needs is of minor importance.—Ram's Horn.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a Constitutional Cure.—Price 75c.

People hunt up their own kind just as naturally as water seeks its own level.—Washington (La.) Democrat.

Pimples

Are the danger signals of impure blood. They show that the stream of life is in bad condition, that health is in danger of wreck. Clear the course by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and the blood will be made pure, complexion fair and healthy, and life's journey pleasant and successful.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure indigestion, biliousness.

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE

Celebrated for more than a century as a delicious, nutritious, and flesh-forming beverage. Has our well-known on the front of every package, and our trade-mark

YELLOW LABEL

"La Belle Chocolatiere"

on the back.

NONE OTHER GENUINE.

Made only by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

ESTABLISHED 1780.

GOOD ROLLERS

The Buckie Printers' Roller Company

MANUFACTURERS OF

Printers' Rollers and Composition

421 and 423 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO.

With enlarged quarters, modern machinery and new management we are prepared to fill orders promptly. All rollers guaranteed round, smooth and true, and absolutely free from pin holes.

UNEXCELLED for HALF-TONE or other fine work.....

With 27 years' experience, fair prices and liberal terms, we ask your patronage and guarantee to satisfy you. Remember to ship us or write for terms mentioning this advertisement.

CATARRH ASTHMA Sufferers are immediately relieved by using our new HALATION HOME TREATMENT and by continued use effects a cure. A trial will convince. Complete outfit by mail 50c. OZONE LABORATORY, 80 W. Jackson St., Chicago.

"Hurrah! Battle Ax has come."

Everybody who reads the newspapers knows what privation and suffering were caused in Cuba—by the failure of the supply of tobacco provided by the Government to reach the camps of the U. S. Soldiers.

BattleAx PLUG

When marching—fighting—tramping—wheeling instantly relieves that dry taste in the mouth.

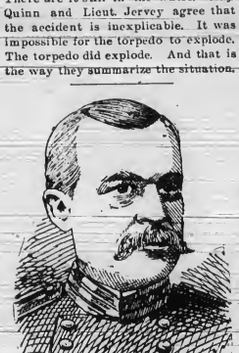
Remember the name when you buy again.

MINE EXPLOSION

A Vessel, While Removing Explosives, Badly Damaged.

A Column of Water Hurled 50 Feet Into the Air and Debris Blown Several Hundred Feet High—Work to Be Abandoned.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—A Fort St. Philip special to the Picayune says:



When the John R. Meigs had her forecastle blown off there were six men hurled by the shock into the Mississippi river who never came to the surface. Three others were thrown into the river but were not so badly injured as to prevent their climbing back upon the boat. Contrary to the advices received Saturday night the Meigs did not sink immediately. Disabled as she was she was carried by the tide and current about a mile and a half to the east bank where she swung around and her bow grounded and her bow pointed down stream. Nearly everything of value had been recovered before she lurched off the bank on which her stern rested and plunged bow foremost into the deep water of the channel. The men hurled to death by the dynamite never saw the mine that exploded. The shock came when it was several feet beneath the surface.

The six men killed were: Capt. P. R. Starr, of Vicksburg; Sergt. John Newman, Willett's Point, N. Y.; Private Pat Carloe, from the same place; Fireman J. D. Malone; Ralph Rogers, colored; Harry Jackson, colored.

The wounded were D. B. Reddicks and Fritz Koch. They are here in the hospital. Pilot J. C. Davis was at the wheel at the time of the explosion and the flying fragments of the torpedo and the shattered steel deck tore the pilot house to pieces. Mr. Davis, however, escaped unhurt. Lieut. Henry Jervey was within a few feet of the pilot house and he too, was fortunate enough to escape unhurt. Night Watchman Frank Coape, asleep in his cabin on the boiler deck, was awakened by the crash to find himself in a hole gaping in the roof and his bed jammed against the wall by a piece of the steel deck. He climbed out through the hole. Lieut. Jervey and Pilot Harris were also on the boiler deck. D. B. Reddicks was blown into the river. A piece of steel went through his right forearm and another tore off a piece of his scalp. Engineer Layne was blown into the river and escaped injury. There were 19 people in the boat when the explosion occurred. The explosion occurred about eleven o'clock. It was noon when the Meigs sank. Her entire forecastle was blown off and nothing but her water tight compartments prevented her immediate sinking.

A column of water was hurled 50 feet high into the air and debris blown several hundred feet high. Portions of the torpedo and steel deck fell on the bank in front of Fort St. Philip 1,500 feet from the scene of the wreck.

Maj. Quinn arrived at Fort St. Philip at 3 o'clock. He stated that no more torpedoes would be taken up. The work will be abandoned. There are 19 still in the water. Maj. Quinn and Lieut. Jervey agree that the accident is inexplicable. It was impossible for the torpedo to explode. The torpedo did explode. And that is the way they summarize the situation.

CAPT. ALBERT S. BARKER.
(The New Commander of the Great Battleship Oregon.)

Result of a Court Martial.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Corporal Wm. L. Ellington, Company K, 4th United States volunteer infantry, having been found guilty of a violation of the 21st, 32nd and 38th articles of war by a court martial convened at Fredericksburg, Va., was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and confinement in prison for three years. The man will be sent to St. Francis barracks, St. Augustine, Fla., for confinement.

Annexation Now Reported Favored By Filipinos.

MANILA, Sept. 5.—Intelligent native leaders are preparing to petition the United States to annex the Philippines, according to one of Chief Aguinaldo's confidential advisers. Aguinaldo is not a party to the scheme. He still dreams of a republic.

Deaths From Heat in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—It was intensely hot in this city Sunday. Forty-three deaths from sunstroke were reported, with 44 prostrations.

PECUNIARY LOSS IS HEAVY.

Rice and Cotton Crop in the Vicinity of Savannah, Ga., Was Badly Damaged by Wednesday's Storm.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 2.—While Savannah suffered heavily from the cyclone which swept over this section of the coast Wednesday morning, the damage on the coast islands and the interior as far as the storm reached is probably greater.

The flooded condition of the country renders communication difficult and in many sections it is entirely cut off and no news has been received to indicate what the conditions are.

The first news from the Carolina Sea islands, which were the scene of the great tidal storm of 1893 in which thousands of persons perished, was received Friday. While the storm was nothing like that of five years ago the loss is heavy. The beaches north of Tybee are lined with wrecks of small craft and at Bluffton and the other small settlements all the houses were unroofed and many were destroyed.

The Norwegian bark Bagna, which went ashore on Gaskin bank, was a total wreck Friday. The captain and crew were saved. The bark Noe in attempting to rescue the crew of which Lieut. Morgan and one of his companions lost their lives, has about disappeared.

Small steamers have patrolled Calabogue sound all day searching for the bodies of the heroic rescuers, but they have not been recovered.

The loss to the rice crop on the Savannah river alone is estimated at $300,000 to $250,000. Three-fourths of the crop has been destroyed.

The loss to planters between Savannah and Augusta will run into the hundreds of thousands.

A heavy flood is reported in the upper Savannah river and messengers were sent out from here Friday night to warn planters of its approach.

The cotton crop in the counties adjoining Savannah is practically ruined.

BEAUFORT, S. C., Sept. 2.—The schooner May O'Neil is ashore on Richards Island. The schooner C. C. Foss with main and mizzen masts gone, is ashore on Hunting Island. The schooner S. D. J. Rawson arrived at quarantine station Thursday night, dismasted, in tow of the tug Juno. The schooner Nelson Bartlett, dismantled, is ashore at Hilton Head. A schooner, name unknown, is ashore at South Edisto. The brig Ventura is inside Port Royal bar. The crews of all the vessels named are safe.

WENT TO WATERY GRAVES.

Four Young Ladies of a Party of Pleasure Seekers Drowned in Presque Isle Bay, Erie, Pa.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 3.—By the accidental jibing of the sail of a pleasure yacht on Presque Isle bay Friday evening four young women were swept off into the water and drowned before assistance could be rendered them. Their names are: Mary, Della and Ella Paradine, daughters of Wm. Paradine, an Erie machinist; and Jessie Moore, daughter of John H. Moore, an engineer of the Erie & Pittsburgh railroad.

The unfortunate victims and a portion of a party of pleasure-seekers who were enjoying a sail upon the yacht Carmencita. The boat had but a few moments before departed from the head of the bay, sailing free before a light but puffy wind. The four girls named were seated upon the roof of the yachts' cabin when a sudden puff of wind coming down from the wooded shore, an unexpected direction, the sail jibed, sweeping the four off into the water. As quickly as possible the yacht was put about, but what with the headway obtained and the light wind it was impossible to reach the spot in time to save any of the girls. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

A FLEET OF BIG WAR SHIPS.

Nine of Them Sailed Up Boston Harbor Friday Afternoon—The Officers Given a Reception in Faneuil Hall.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Amid the greatest enthusiasm from thousands, both afloat and ashore, a fleet of nine warships fresh from hard fighting in Cuba, headed by the stately Massachusetts, sailed up the harbor Friday afternoon and quietly dropped anchor off the wharves, saintes only being fired in honor of Commodore Howison, of the navy yard, and as Gov. Wolcott left for the shore.

Friday night the officers in their best uniforms came ashore and with Gov. Wolcott and Mayor Quincy held a well attended reception in historic Faneuil hall while the fleet with the assistance of a lively thunderstorm, lighted up the harbor with their search lights.

Offer to Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—In order to keep the regular army up to its maximum strength of 61,000, volunteers will be offered inducements to re-enlist. The time in the volunteer service will be allowed them as a part of the continuous service in the regular branch.

Wednesday at the Presido Brig Gen. Miller reviewed the 7,000 troops representing part of the Philippine army of invasion now encamped in San Francisco.

DISOBEDIENCE.

On Cervera's Return to Spain He May Be Court-Martialed.

He Was Ordered From Martinique to Havana, But Instead He Went to Santiago de Cuba and Locked His Fleet in the Harbor.

PARIS, Sept. .—From a responsible diplomatic source it is learned that Adm. Cervera will be court-martialed upon his return to Spain and in all probability severely reprimanded or degraded in the service. This action will undoubtedly arouse the chivalrous sympathy of Americans against the Spanish ministry. The trial of Cervera, however, is not merely a cloak to hide the administrative weakness of Spain in the late war.

The Spanish commission, which corresponded to the war board at Washington, had prepared a definite plan of campaign. Adm. Cervera was ordered to proceed to Martinique, where he was informed of the position of Sampson's ships. From Martinique he was ordered to Havana by a certain course on which he could be reached at several points by dispatch and supply ships. All went well according to the plan up to Cervera's departure from Martinique. No sooner had the Cape Verde fleet left Martinique than the Spanish board realized the futility of any naval operations in Cuban waters. This may seem a remarkable statement, but it is a positive fact that dispatch boats were to be hurried to meet Cervera and order him to the Philippines. Plans for coal and supplies had been carefully laid to meet this emergency. But Cervera, taking matters into his own hands, instead of following the course prescribed leading to Havana, deliberately locked himself up in Santiago.

The dispatch boats hunted in vain for the fleet and the naval board found itself helpless. Thus it was that Camara's nondescript fleet was hurriedly prepared to do what had been planned for Cervera's more effective squadron. The Spanish had planned to keep Camara's fleet at home for defense. The Watson bluff ruined this last effort to reach Manila. Adm. Cervera will be called before a Spanish court of naval inquiry and asked to explain why he disobeyed orders. French naval authorities say that Cervera will undoubtedly be found guilty and will be degraded. The whole story gives a curious insight into the seeming lack of executive force at Madrid, and shows that the authorities at the last moment recognized the hopelessness of accomplishing anything in American waters. It throws the first light on the Spanish naval situation at a most critical moment of the campaign.

Revenue Man at the Fair.

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Sept. 3.—W. J. Zacharias, of Brookville, deputy collector of internal revenue, swooped down on the Rush county fair grounds Friday. He found one man selling whisky, four men dealing out hop ale, four shows and several other things which had not paid the new revenue tax. He made a general cleaning. When he had finished collecting he had a roll of bills as thick as a man's arm. The amounts ranged from $100 down to $10.

OFFENSIVE AND DEFENSIVE.

Reported That England and Germany Have Formed an Alliance—Germany Given a Free Hand in Asia.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Daily Mail says Saturday morning: "We learn that Mr. Balfour and the German ambassador, Count Von Hetzfeldt, signed on Wednesday a document preliminary to a treaty which will give Germany a free hand in Asia Minor and allow England to lease Delagoa Bay from Portugal at a cost between £2,000,000 and £5,000,000. Germany will, as a further condition, support Great Britain's claim for the abolition of mixed tribunals in Egypt. Mr. Schomberg Kerr McDonnell, the premier's private secretary, has left London for the continent to submit to Lord Salisbury a copy of the treaty."

MANY HEARTS MADE GLAD.

A List of the Volunteer Regiments That Were Ordered Mustered Out of the United States Service Friday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The following troops were ordered to be mustered out of service Friday:

First Pennsylvania, Knoxville to Philadelphia; 2d Pennsylvania, Montchanin to Philadelphia; 3d Pennsylvania, Huntsville to Philadelphia; 18th Pennsylvania, Camp Meade to Pittsburgh; 4th Wisconsin, Camp Douglass, to Wisconsin; 71st New York, Montauk to Camp Black; 1st New Jersey, Camp Alger to Sea Girt; 32d Michigan, Chickamanga to Camp Eaton, Michigan; 1st Ohio, Jacksonville to armory, Cincinnati; 8th Ohio, Montauk to Columbus, O., 158th Indiana, Knoxville to Indianapolis; 3d Ohio, Huntsville to Columbus, O.; 2d North Carolina, Simons Island, Ga., to Raleigh; 1st and 2d Alabama, Jacksonville to Mobile; 2d United States volunteer cavalry, Chickamauga to Old Fort, Omaha; 2d Massachusetts, Montauk to South Framingham; 1st South Carolina, Jacksonville to Columbia, S. C.; and two squadrons 1st Ohio cavalry, Huntsville to Columbus, O.

Slept on the Track.

NEWPORT, Ky., Sept. 3.—Saturday morning about 1 o'clock W. Stamper, a farmer living at Homeleaf City, Wolf county, Ky., laid down on the Kentucky Central tracks near Milldale Junction to sleep. A few minutes later a train struck Stamper, fatally injuring him. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital, Covington, in Meninger's ambulance. His injuries are internal.

Gen. Shafter is Ill.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Maj. Gen. Shafter is ill, and did not leave his tent in the detention hospital at Camp Wikoff Friday. He had a severe chill early in the morning and several others during the day. The surgeons say his illness is the result of hard work and nervous strain in an unfavorable climate, and that it is not at all serious.

To Investigate the Hospital.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 3.—Gen. Breckinridge has ordered an investigation of the Second division hospital, which will take place at once. Soldiers who have been confined there will be brought before a board of inquiry to testify.

Cervera's Departure.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 3.—Adm. Cervera, accompanied by between 75 and 90 Spanish officers, will leave Annapolis Monday night or Tuesday morning for New York.

LEADING CHARACTERS IN THE IMPENDING ARMY INVESTIGATION.

NO OBJECTIONS.

Macias Will Permit Gen. Brooke and Escort to Go to San Juan.

The Spanish Fortifications Around San Juan Marvelously Strong—The Strongest Army in Europe Could Be Held Back By 500 Americans.

PONCE, Porto Rico, Sept. 2.—Gen. Brooke Thursday notified Capt. Gen. Macias, the Spanish commander at San Juan de Porto Rico, under a flag of truce carried to the Spanish lines by Col. Goethal, that Er. Adm. Schley and Gen. Gordon, the American Porto Rican peace commissioners, had sailed for San Juan from New York on the steamer Seneca. At the same time Gen. Brooke, who is also a member of the commission asked if there was any objection to his proceeding overland with an escort. Maj. Jose Reyes, of the Spanish army, brought the reply of Gen. Macias Thursday. It was sent by wire and said there were no objections. Consequently Gen. Brooke has arranged to leave on Friday or Saturday with his staff escorted by Troop H, of the 6th cavalry, and Capt. Pitcher's company of the 8th cavalry.

Several stone culverts between here and the Spanish works on the crest of the mountains which have been blown up, will be repaired Friday by Col. Goethal's engineers. The colonel has examined the Spanish fortifications. He says they are marvelously strong and that he could have held back the strongest army in Europe with 500 men against an assault in front. The Spaniards had trenches and two guns. All but a hundred of the 600 men stationed there have returned to San Juan.

SOUTHERN STORM LINGERS.

Six Counties in Georgia Are Under Water and Traffic is Paralyzed—Atlanta Receives a Touch of the Storm.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 2.—The storm which has swept over southeast Georgia for the past two days has put six counties under water and paralyzed railroad and telegraph communication in that part of the state. Armies of railroad men are at work on all lines affected, but are making poor progress, as the rain continues. Many trains from Atlanta and north and west are at Tennille, Ga., unable to move. Eight inches of rain fell at Tennille in 19 hours and the wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. Bridges were wrecked and houses and trees were blown down, but so far as known no lives were lost. The damage to bridges and roads in Washington county alone is $15,000.

Atlanta received a touch of the storm Thursday. The wind reached a velocity of 35 miles and the rainfall was very heavy.

RED CROSS SOCIETY IN CUBA.

The President Instructs Miss Clara Barton to Act in Perfect Accord With the Spanish Authorities.

HAVANA, Sept. 2.—Thursday morning Miss Clara Barton received a telegram from President McKinley telling her to act in perfect concert with the Spanish authorities, and to turn over the Red Cross society's supplies to them, if convenient for distribution, helping them as far as possible in this work, owing to her thorough familiarity with it. With respect to the fine of $500 imposed by the custom house authorities upon Miss Barton for not having a manifest of the Red Cross cargo, President McKinley directed her to pay the fine, reserving the right to make a subsequent claim for its refunding. It is apparent that the two governments were acting in accord in this matter.

SHAFTER BACK FROM CUBA.

The Commander at the Battle of Santiago and His Staff Arrive in New York—A Salute Fired in Honor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The transport Mexico, with Gen. Shafter on board, was sighted off Montauk point at 6:40 a. m. Thursday and an hour later dropped anchor in Fort Pond bay.

The City of Mexico has on board, besides Gen. Shafter, the members of his staff, including Lieut. Cols. E. J. McClernand, B. F. Pope and G. McC. Derby; Maj. Robert H. Noble, John Miley and S. W. Grosbeck; Capts. J. E. Gilmore and E. H. Plummer. As soon as Gen. Wheeler was notified of Gen. Shafter's arrival he ordered a salute of 15 guns to be fired, and troops M, C, E, H and K of the 3d regular cavalry were detailed to escort Gen. Shafter into camp when he should land.

A Hot Wave Record Breaker.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The hot wave had a record breaker Thursday for temperature and heat prostrations on any September 1 in the past 27 years. At 8 o'clock the mercury reached 96 degrees. There were over 50 prostrations.

A $100,000 Fire in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—At midnight the five-story brick building of the A. Geisel Manufacturing Co. took fire and within 90 minutes was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

A CONSUMING EXCITEMENT.

Not Since the Fall of Sedan Has France Been So Overwhelmed—Col. Henry's Forged Letter.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—Among the many wild rumors floating about Friday was one that some one stole into Col. Henry's cell and assassinated him.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—A special to the Evening Standard from Paris publishes a Friday afternoon, says the French cabinet has decided on revision of the Dreyfus case.

It was announced Friday afternoon by the Patrie that several officers of the general staff have decided to resign shortly and divulge all they know of the entire Dreyfus affair.

GEN. BOISDEFFRE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Tribune says: Col. Henry's confession of having forged the famous document upon the authenticity of which Gen. de Boisdeffre, chief of staff of the French army, in his impassioned appeal to the jury in the Zola trial staked his own reputation and the honor of the army and Col. Henry's suicide in the fort of Montevalence, have caused an emotion throughout France which has not been witnessed since the fall of Sedan.

Col. Henry, a peasant's son, promoted from the ranks and imbued with all the instincts, low cunning and narrow personal animosity often characteristic of French peasants, had no conception of the enormity of his crime until overwhelmed by its detection. This brave but infatuated chief of the intelligence department of the French army embodied the whole head and front of Dreyfus' conviction, of Zola's condemnation, of Esterhazy's acquittal and of Picquart's degradation and imprisonment.

The government is doing its best to stem the rising tide of agitation by a studied quiescence which scandalizes the Journal Des Debates and other papers; but it may succeed in getting over the crisis. M. Faure ignores the reproaches of the press and remains at Havre.

In the meantime M. Cavaignac, minister of war, and M. Sarrien, minister of justice, are busy enough. M. Sarrien had two prolonged conferences with M. Brisson Friday afternoon, and after M. Cavaignac's long interview with M. Sarrien, both ministers looked ruffled. These and other impromptu ministerial conferences were devoted to an endeavor to convince the minister of war of the necessity on political grounds of a revision of the Dreyfus case, which the whole country, including the army, now demands.

High officers confess that the discussions that will follow revision will probably entail war, but they say that would be preferable to having the army remain under a cloud, with the possibilities of agitation leading to civil strife.

ARRIVED IN NEW YORK CITY.

President McKinley Arrived in the Metropolis Friday and Went to Montauk Point Saturday Morning.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—President McKinley's party arrived from Canton Friday. The special train, with the presidential party on board, was due at 11:50. It pulled into Jersey City station 10 minutes late.

In the party are Mrs. McKinley, Maj. Webb C. Hayes and Col. Myron T. Herrick. Vice President Hobart and Mrs. Hobart came in from Patterson, N. J., and waited in the station for the president's party, which they joined.

J. Addison Porter, the president's private secretary, also joined the party. He said the party would go to New York and dine and then start for Montauk, which place would be reached at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Express Company Will Pay the War Tax.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—At a special conference Friday of the representatives of the Adams, American and United States express companies, it was decided that the companies would from this date bear the expense of the war tax instead of requiring the public to stamp consignments.

Czar's Peace Note Will Be Referred to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The peace proposals of the czar will be sent to congress when that body shall reassemble. The president will advise the Russian government that he has no power in the matter.

Triple Alliance.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 3.—Late Japanese papers persistently insist an alliance is about to be entered into between Japan, the United States and Great Britain.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Sept., 7, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

☞Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work,

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS,

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

Lost—A bunch of keys—finder will return them to this office.

The watermelon run from the Bellevue bottoms has subsided.

The foliage on the trees speaks plainly of the approach of fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lodwick, of Sedamsville, were guests at Judge Riydell's a few days last week, and attended the fair.

The Directors of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association held a meeting on the grounds, yesterday, and got everything in a good shape for the annual report to the stockholders at the meeting this afternoon.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Slimer & Hoshal, Live Stock Salesmen, at the Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati. Mr. Hoshal is a Boone county man, and will do the very best possible in the sale of your stock.

T. W. Finch received a letter last Monday evening from a comrade of his son Charles, who has typhoid fever at Chickamauga. He is in the hospital, and the letter received last Monday stated that his condition is dangerous. Charlie Riddell, of Williamstown, left for Chickamauga, Saturday evening to look after Charlie.

The boys who were examined under the Civil Service law, on the 19 day of last March, have heard the result. Their per cent. is as follows: J. J. Dunlap, of Independence, 94.05; David Riggs, of Erlanger, 94.9; Walter Kelly, 90; C. C. Hughes, 72.6; E. S. McKim, 71. Some of the above named are very apt to be put on duty as soon as the distilleries resume business.

We are very sorry to hear of the great misfortune that has overtaken Thomas D. Finnell, for many years the Q. & C. agent at Erlanger. He was a faithful employe of the railroad, and did work enough for two men—more than his frail body could stand, and the collapse came, carrying the mind down with it, and now the once genial, companionable man is an inmate of the Lexington asylum for the insane, to which place he was taken last Monday. We hope he will hastily and permanently recover.

POLITICAL.

Oscar Turner is the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Louisville district.

The Republican convention at Henderson nominated two candidates for Congress.

The Republicans in this district have nominated for Congress a gentleman not heretotore conspicuous in politics.

B. P. Rice has a good allpurpose horse for sale.

Jerry Tanner has some choice Pekin ducks and a buck lamb for sale.

H. C. Duncan has two yearling bucks, one a Shropshire and the other a Southdown for sale.

A. C. Kelly has 125 bushels good seed rye for sale.

J. F. Blyth has a good cow and calf, and 12, 100 pound hogs for sale.

W. C. Goodridge has 12,000 or 15,000 good brick for sale.

T. P. Crisler, of Bullittsville, has a lot of old corn for sale.

E. L. Riley, of Bullittsville, has 50 stock ewes and 1 buck for sale.

SYMPATHIZED WITH HIM.

The Boy Didn't Know That His Father Was After Him.

The person who related this anecdote vouched for its truth, regardless of its near approach to a narrative well known to history.

Down on the south side lives a family of three. The boy is small, the father is of slender construction, but the mother is ample and globular, and if the earth does not tremble when she treads it certainly shudders slightly. One day the boy, being caught redhanded in some misdeed, was directed by his mother to go upstairs and prepare himself for a trouncing. The boy fled to the upper floor, but instead of waiting in patience for his bodybeating he took refuge under a bed. When the avenger came with sounds of heavy breathing to chastise him he refused to come out of his retreat. She bent and tried to pursue him to his corner, but it was like the effort of the camel to progress easily through the eye of the needle. The space between the bed and the floor was too narrow for the admission of the mother's unsylphlike form. She pulled the bed out from the wall, but the boy was still too wily, and he followed under it. Then she pushed it over to another side of the room, hoping that it would pass over him and leave him behind, but it did not. So in despair she returned to the lower floor to wait for the homecoming of the father of the flock.

When the man of the house arrived the situation was explained to him, and he went up those stairs at a gallop. He did not wait for argument or persuasion, but, bending low, shot under the bed. The anxious mother followed him into the room, reaching the door when the husband was half under. The culprit from beneath could see nothing, but he understood that his father was coming, and that his mother was a close second.

"Here, dad! This way!" he cried. "It's comfortabler here, and there ain't no show of her getting in after you." And then in a free-masonry of crime: "What did you do, dad? What's she tryin' to get you for?"

And he spoke with such honest consideration and such a desire to be helpful to a fellow-sufferer that the father hadn't the heart to give him the hiding he had intended to administer.—Chicago Record.

THE SAFFRON CITY.

Havana as It Has Been Recently Described by a Tourist.

Havana is bounded by beauty on one side, by ignorance on the other, remarks Edgar Saltus in Collier's Weekly. The approach to it, particularly in the early morning, is exceeded in loveliness by perhaps but two or three other ports. There are many exquisite things in the world, and among them, near the head of the list, stands dawn in the tropics. It is sudden as love and just as fair. Dawn in the Havanese harbor is a foretaste of what Paradise may be. The tourist who has sailed that way passes a night beneath stars that are larger and more neighborly than our own. The water, too, is different. At Key West it looks like a lawn in May. It has the same asparagus green. Then it changes. It becomes seamed with phosphorus. As the stars disappear it changes again, and very suddenly, into a sirup of opals. At the horizon is a tender pink. Overhead is a fusion of salmon and blue. Just beyond, within rifle range, is an amphitheater of houses partly colored as rainbows, tiraced with the pearl points of a cathedral, girded with the yellow walls of a crumbling fort.

Every city has an aspect and an odor of its own. Paris, for instance, has a white sky, and smells like a pretty woman. The aspect of Havana is saffron. It smells of rancid oil. In addition it suggests Seville. Though the Moors have never been there, it looks as though they had. There is a saying which runs "Que no ha vista Sevilla on ha vista maravilla"—not to have seen Seville is not to have seen a marvel. In view of recent events it is proper and pertinent to give the saying a twist—"Que no ha vista Habana, ha vista nada." It does not rhyme as well, but as nada means nothing it ought to pass in a crowd.

Sensation of Hanging.

A captain who was rescued from the gibbet at the intercession of Viscount Turenne, after being partially hanged, related that, having lost all pain in an instant, by being rescued he had been snatched from a glorious light, the charm of which defied all description. All victims of partial hanging agree that the uneasiness is quite momentary; that a pleasant feeling succeeds, and that various colors start before the sight, casting everything else in oblivion. The mind, averted from reality, is engaged in scenes most remote from that which fills the eye of the spectator—hideous gallows and the struggling form.—Scientific American.

A Queer Race.

There has long dwelt in the heart of the Pyrenees, on the old Catalonian border of Spain, a race of dwarfs, supposed by some to be of Tartar origin.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at Weaver's Mill on Gunpowder creek, on

THURSDAY, SEPT. 22nd, 1898,

The Following Property, to-wit: 2 good work mules, 1 work horse, road wagon, spring wagon, buggy, 2 mowing machines, hayrake, wheat drill, 2-horse sled, wheat fan, riding plow, cutting box, harness, set of blacksmith tools, turning lathe, 10 hogs and numerous farming implements in good order, also several guns, clocks, and set of watch tools, some household and kitchen furniture, &c., &c.

TERMS OF SALE.

Sums of $5 and under, cash; over that amount 6 months credit will be given, purchasers to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank. Sale to begin at 9 am.

W. C. WEAVER.

Tony Bentler, Auctioneer.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
—Also handles all—
KINDS of ROOFING,
Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.
Your Work is Solicited.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,
DENTIST,
133 Garfield Place,
CINCINNATI,
Has removed his office to☞
The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th,
Bet. Vine and Race.
☞Home City, MONDAYS.

Executor's Notice.

All persons indebted to Arthur Blyth, deceased, will please come forward at once and settle, and those having claims against the estate will present them to me properly proven according to law. HARRY BLYTH, Executor.

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY

WILL OPEN
SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.

Choice of three Courses of Study:
ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.

Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.
Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, Ky

FARMERS
Take Notice. If you want Good
Fertilizer
Please Give—
B. F. ZIMMER
A call. He will try to please you. He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars
To CONSTANCE, KY.

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.
—(o)—
F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
Manufacturers and Dealers in
GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,
70 and 72 Main St.,
AURORA, INDIANA.
J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent,
GRANT, KY.

Public Sale.

I will offer for sale at the late residence of Reuben Conner at Richwood Station on the C. N. O. & T. P. Railway, 14 miles from Covington and 4 miles north of Walton, Boone county, Ky., on

Wednesday Sept. 7, 1898,

All of the personal property consisting in part as follows: 3 work horses, 2 2-yr-old colts, 1 suckling colt, 1 work mule, 1 yearling mule, 5 heifers, 2 yearling heifers, 2 yearling steers and one calf, 3 milch cows—2 Jerseys; 1 bull, 66 hogs and shoats, 96 sheep and lambs; also farming implements consisting of binder, mower, corn planter, 2 corn drills, 1 1-horse wheat drill, cutting box, hay rake and numerous other articles too numerous to mention; 340 bus. wheat, lot of hay in the stack, corn in the field; also five shares of stock in Erlanger Deposit Bank.

The above cattle, except the Jerseys, are Shorthorn stock.

TERMS—All sums of $5 and under, cash; on sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given, purchaser giving note with good security, payable in the Walton Deposit Bank. No property to be removed until terms are complied with.

J. W. CONNER, Adm'r.

Sale to begin at 9:30 a. m.

EVERETT HELMS
—PROPRIETOR,—
The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,
Petersburg, Ky.
Will be pleased to
CUBA
Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.
BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.
TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE
DELHI FERRY
To The City.
Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.
A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.
NO DELAY.

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, containing about 111 acres, known as the Jackson Bass farm, situated about 14 miles from Verona, Boone county, Ky., on the Short Line (L. & N.) Railroad. 8 or 10 acres of this farm are in the state of nature and will grow enough tobacco in a few years to pay for the place. There are 10 or 15 acres in cultivation the balance (about 80 acres) is in grass. The improvements consist of a two story frame dwelling house of six rooms, two halls and two porches; tenant house of three rooms; corn crib and large barn. The place is well watered and fencing in splendid repair. This farm is admirably located for a market garden. My terms are very reasonable. For further particulars address Mrs. JAMES T. BROCK, No. 416 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky. aug 10-2m

Attention,
Subscribers!
The RECORDER renews its proposition to do
Free Advertising
for you. If you want to buy or sell any thing you can make your wants known in the FREE COLUMN to the extent of Ten Lines
One Week
Without Charge.
Get the advertisement to this office not later than Monday at noon. There are very few who will not have occasion to take advantage of this offer occasionally, and the RECORDER
will be glad to accomodate all who accept its offer.

FOR SALE.

Good Shorthorn bull, 4 years old this fall. He was sired by a bull owned by Col. Harris, of Kansas, and is of the best strain of Shorthorns. He is kind, quiet and not roguish. I have had him on my farm long enough as a breeder.
WILBUR RICE, Utzinger, Ky.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—S. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Kilmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Allphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. H. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:
District No 1.—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturday; J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2.—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3.—B. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Aylor, Constable.
District No. 4.—John S. Noell, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5.—J. C. Byland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6.—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. L. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Guffy.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—B. J. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Asst. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Lester.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Gen. Durelle, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. West, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
DENTIST.
Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.
☞OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway.

Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.

East Bound.
Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m, 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m
West Bound.
Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m
G. D. BERCAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt.
Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN.
—DRUGGIST,—
Rising Sun, - Indiana.
Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.
E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary, Burlington.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.
EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

RUPTURE
You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have in our long experience in fitting Trusses, reduced it to a science. Many ruptures are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance: one of your family is very ill. You go to your physician. I can't say as to what he will say, but what would you recommend? The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.
OHIO TRUSS CO.,
20 and 22 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.
ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY,
Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Ky., Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention. Collections entrusted to him.

W. E. VEST,
County Surveyor.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL.
LASSING & RIDDELL,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,
ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.
VEST & RICE,
Real Estate Agents.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
☞All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
CAPITAL PAID IN..... $20,000
SURPLUS..... $ 3,000
Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
Walton, Kentucky.
Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs.
☞Will be in office at Union every Monday.
Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,
SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,
And all Kinds of
Household Goods,
213 W. Fifth St.
4 Doors W. of Elm, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
HARD AND SOFT
:COAL,:
Erlanger, - - Ky.
—o—
Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.
—o—
J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1898. NO. 47

AND Cincinnati is a little lonesome this week.

LI HUNG CHANG, the Chinese statesman, has been given a back seat.

HONOLULU is thoroughly civilized—a stock exchange has been organized there.

MAYOR RHINOCK, of Covington, is still being urged to become a candidate for Congress.

SECRETARY ALGER and General Miles bid fair to get into a condition not to speak when they pass by.

THE New York World asks, "have we no statesmen?" It is conceded that they are very scarce outside of the World's editorial rooms.

JOHN SHERMAN has been out of office for two months, and his friends imagine that political affairs are getting out of plumb very rapidly.

THE President is having trouble to find men who are willing to mix up in the investigation of the treatment of sick soldiers in the several camps.

THE man who combs his hair over the bald spot on top of his head has no right to kick because his grocer puts the large potatoes on top of the measure.

THERE was quite a number of Jno. Morgan's old soldiers who accepted the Seventh Ohio's invitation to visit it at its headquarters in Cincinnati, last week.

IF half that is written about some military hospitals is true, the condition of the reconcentradocs, whose suffering startled this country, was a state of happiness.

Secretary Alger has requested the President to order a thorough and searching investigation of the War Department. In this request the Secretary has been joined by Adjutant General Corbin.

THE Louisville Post is certain that the Democratic party in this State will "shoot the chute" unless it follows the advice of the Post in the matter of both candidates and the platform.

SENATOR MASON, of Illinois, has been talking some more. This time he has been discussing the condition of the American soldiers, and he uses some very vigorous language in condemnation of the way the sick have been neglected.

JOSEPH LOVE, of Rising Sun, and a native of this county, is a candidate for Sheriff of Ohio county, Indiana. He has a host of friends in this county who hope he will win the office. Joe is one of the cleverest fellows in the Hoosier State.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON says he will have only two weeks time to devote to the Indiana campaign this fall. It now looks as though the Republicans will have to make a strong fight in that State this fall to hold their present representation in Congress.

THE G. A. R. could not have had better weather for its annual encampment than that of last week. One or two nights those who bunked in tents shivered a little, but that discomfort was not equal to that of the excessive heat of the week before.

A GREAT many of the privates say they will tell things after they are mustered out of the service. They are afraid to talk until they are beyond the danger of a court martial for exposing the incompetency and inhuman treatment of their officers.

THE Republican County Judge of Hancock county has ignored the new election law and appointed the officers of election for his county. He has taken unto himself the authority vested in the Court of Appeals—passing upon the constitutionality of law.

THE New York Republicans want to make Teddy Roosevelt Governor of their State, and it will take some very close work on the part of the politicians to prevent his nomination unless a very great change comes over the Republican sentiment now prevailing there.

GOV. BRADLEY is entitled to great credit for the interest he has manifested in the welfare of the Kentucky troops. He has done all in his power to have them made comfortable and healthful, and although working under disadvantages, he has been discouraged at no time. The Kentucky volunteers appreciate his interest in them, and feel grateful to him for it.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY has decided not to feed any longer the Cubans who continue to bear arms, and before they can draw any of the provisions furnished by the United States they must give up their guns which many of them have done. The President has adopted the proper course towards the Insurgents. The Spanish have surrendered the island, and the people who have been so desirous of getting rid of their rule should hasten to restore the happiness of the island by pursuits other than that of bearing arms.

IN some parts of this Congressional District the Democrats are becoming restless because the convention for naming a candidate for Congress has not been called. The Chairman of the District Committee, Mr. J. Lassing, is in Illinois, and the RECORDER has no information as to his desires in the matter, but it believes the committee will be convened in time to call the nominating convention for an early date in October. However, the canvass of those who expect their names to go before the convention, is not interfered with by the delay. They can continue to push it along.

GOV. BRADLEY has expressed himself as follows on the question of annexing territory as a result of the war with Spain:

"The acquisition of foreign territory means the formation of a standing army in every country so acquired, and the building of a navy to hold the territory in subjugation. It means taxation, a strongly centralized government and the opportunity, yes, the probability of measuring arms with the combined nations of the world. It means troublesome entanglements and complications. That the hand should be taken from the throat of starving Cubans and a staple government given the people of Cuba, is justified alike by every principle of religion and morals. But when this is done, as it may be by a treaty adjustment, all has been accomplished that is necessary and proper."

THE year 1897-8 proved the banner pension year since 1869, more pensions being granted during that period than since 1869. There are now more people drawing pensions than there were soldiers in the civil war. It requires half a million dollars a day to pay the pensioners of the civil war. It has been claimed that a time would soon come when this pension roll would begin to decrease, but it now looks like that idea may as well be abandoned. The Pension Department suffers more from imposition than anyother department of the government, and each of the great political parties of the country shares in the responsibility for making the enormous pension roll with which the country is burdened. There is little doubt but thousands of pensioners who have no just claim on the government have been placed on the roll as a scheme to assist the politicians. There is nothing wrong in pensioning the deserving old soldier, the man who was wounded or whose health was impaired while in the service of his country, but the continued growth of the army of pensioners at this late day—nearly thirty-five years after the close of the war—indicates a disregard for the true and proper purposes for which pensions are designed.

Mr. David Abbott Piatt, a prominent young writer of the blue-grass region will be one of the hundred selected contributors to "American Verse," a volume of poems designed for the holiday trade to be issued by the Chas. H. Simmons Publishing Co., of Chicago. Although having devoted the major part of his time to prose writing, Mr. Piatt has deviated from the more commonplace work into the realms of versification frequently enough to win for himself deserved recognition as a poet of strong emotional power and beauty of thought and expression. He will make his first appearance between novel covers in the spring, when Messrs. Laird & Lee will issue his story. "The Man Between," which is a romance of theatrical life, wherein the writer throws the strong side-lights upon this the profession nine tenths of the world's readers are so profoundly ignorant. To make the work as near perfection as possible and to gain the fullest insight into his subject Mr. Piatt attached himself for some months to a theatrical troupe, thereby losing much time from the actual preparation of the story, yet gaining much in the way of knowledge invaluable to such work. Regarding himself, Mr. Piatt furnishes the readers of "The Authors' Review," the following: "According to the ideas of several self-constituted know-alls who are familiar with a portion of my earlier struggles for preferment in the field of letters my education has not been of sufficient breadth to insure me any very high round on the overcrowed ladder of fame. It is true that my schooling, in the common acceptation of the term, has been of a desultory and limited character. Owing to ill health which still hampers me in the performance of my work I never had the honor of attending the public schools where "spit-balls" and love notes seem to be the chief medium of mental progression. My mother was my instructor, and from her I imbibed much of the love of literature that has made my success a possibility. She is a fair, impartial critic, and although she never sees any of my work until it has appeared in print, I owe a good deal of my success to her gentle encouragement which in itself and inspiration, I never fail to avail myself of an opportunity to gain knowledge, for in it I recognize the magic lever that is lifting our civilization to a higher plane of usefulness. This does not necessarily imply that I know it all, as some of my less fortunate contemporaries accuse me of imagining. My aim is to separate the pearls from the shells; the finer sands from the coarse pebbles; the nuggets from the dross. The former I retain and the latter I bury [illegible] the grave of forgetfulness, that they may never obstruct the road to success with a mass of useless intellectual conglomerate." Mr. Piatt is at a loss to understand why so many intelligent readers prefer his poetry to his prose, but that they do prefer it is the fact to which he owes the honor paid him by the Simmons Company in soliciting his work for their volume of representative American verse.—S. S. L., in "The Authors' Review."

The Boone County Election Commissioners met last Monday and organized by electing J. N. Pearson, chairman and J. B. Allen, secretary. O. S. Watts was present. They appointed the following as officers of election:

Big Bone—J. F. Greene, C. A. Slater, judges; Harry Adams, sheriff; J. C. Miller, clerk.

Verona—Late Kennedy, Ben O'Neal, judges; W. H. Dickerson, sheriff; L. J. Hume, clerk.

Walton—T. F. Curley, J. A. Sanders, judges; W. C. Moxley, sheriff; S. L. Edwards, clerk.

Beaver—G. W. Sleet, John Lockhardt, judges; Thos. Finnell, sheriff; Merit Jack, clerk.

Florence—B. A. Floyd, Wm. Williams, judges; W. P. Carpenter, sheriff; James Murrey, clerk.

Burlington—G. G. Hughes, W. T. German, judges; Harry Blyth, sheriff; J. S. Clutterbuck, clerk.

Constance—J. A. Riddell, Clint Reeves, judges; Sim Tanner, sheriff; Wood Riggs, clerk.

Bullittsville—Julius Utzinger, Owen Gaines, judges; G. C. Graddy, sheriff; J. W. Watts, clerk.

Petersburg—Steve Gaines, John Botts, judges; Solen Early, sheriff; S. C. Buchanan, clerk.

Bellevue—T. L. Utz, Cyrus Kelly, judges; W. W. Botts, sheriff; Ben Corbin, clerk.

Rabbit Hash—Elijah Scott, Z. T. Kelly, judges; J. P. Ryle, sheriff; Oscar Craig, clerk.

Union—N. C. Clements, John Dunbar, judges; John Elstun, sheriff; W. M. Rachal, clerk.

CROP AND STOCK.

Corn in the field in Garrard county is selling for $1.25 per barrel.

A sheep freak on exhibition in Philadelphia has the head upside down.

[illegible] B. Burton, of Garrard county has a nice lot of work mules at $80 per head.

[illegible] & [illegible], Fox & McDowell, of Boyle county, have sold about 1,700 ewes at $3.50 per head.

C. H. Meng, of Bourbon county, has sold 500 barrels of new corn to be delivered at $1 50.

Farris & Whitley, of Boyle county, bought 400 barrels of corn in the field at $1 per barrel.

One thousand feeding cattle have been sold in Hardin county, for October delivery, at 4 cents.

S. H. McGinnis, of Christian county, raised forty-six watermelons that weighed 1,070 pounds.

Mr. Joe Phillips, of Lebanon, sold to Henry Crozier, for the Southern market, 94 mules at $140 per head.

Agents are now engaging lambs in Boyle county for next June and July delivery at five and five and a quarter cents.

It is almost universally claimed that the corn crop will be the heaviest and largest ears ever grown in this section of the country.

Jonas Weil bought in Bourbon county 55 cattle from W. S. Jones, 36 from Will Young and 20 from James Thompson, at $4.65 per cwt.

South American buyers took 95 per cent, of all the shorthorns exported from England last year, but the present season has witnessed a renewal of shipments to the United States.

A few persons in England raise large numbers of guinea pigs for exportation to France, where they are highly esteemed for the table, the flavor of the meat being identical with that of the rabbit.

The three States Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota will produce 200,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. Never were such harvests seen before, and 1898 will probably stand as record breaker for a long time.

The American Horse Breeder, says: "The breeding of trotting stock is surely as comfortable a past time as digging for gold in the Klondike, and it is about as likely to yield profitable returns in the near future."

Salt food will tend to the production of eggs at the expense of the health of the fowls, while hard food will promote health, but tend to keep the hens from laying. To give either kind exclusively will result in failure.

Three tobacco barns, with contents, including 30,000 pounds of tobacco, were destroyed by fire near Hopkinsville. The barns of James A. Coleman and Reuben Nichols were burned by incendiaries and that of J. M. Pool caught from firing tobacco. Total loss nearly $12,000. No insurance.

It's said that the city council of Paris, France, is considering the advisability to open a special slaughter house for horses on account of the continual increase in the consumption of horse flesh. The first horse butcher's shop was opened in 1866, and the following year 2,152 horses were eaten by Parisians.

Bradstreet's report says that the visible supply of old wheat on hand in the world on August 1, 1898, was, in round numbers, about 62 million bushels—the lowest of which we have any record at this season. And the same report says that this small stock was decreasing at the rate of over a million bushels a week during August.

Smokers are inclined to look with favor upon the annexation of the Philippines since they have heard that cheaper cigars would be the result. Labor is so cheap that cigars can be made at Manilla for a trifle. One factory alone is said to turn out 38,000,000 cigars per annum. Of course, with an increased trade in the United States, the output would be very much increased. It is claimed that the cheap cigar of Manila would force down the price of Havana cigars so that it would be possible to buy a ten-cent cigar then for two cents.—The Weed.

Former Ambassador Bayard, is lying at the point of death at Dedham, Mass.

A CARD.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

Will you please grant me space in your estimable paper that I may be able to defend myself against the attack made upon me in regard to giving R. K. Dulaney and family a free pass during the Florence Fair. In the first place I say it is a story and out of whole cloth.

On August 22d I received a note from the Secretary, asking the privilege to grant W. M. Semple and wife, of the Kentucky Post, a free pass, (they being R. K. Dulaney's son-in-law and daughter,) and saying we would lose nothing by so doing. I answered plainly, he could do so, provided the Post would report our fair. I know not what agreement they made, but Semple and wife got tickets from Mr. Perry. We gave a special premium pass to those who gave special premiums. One who gave $5 was entitled to four days' entry to the fair; one who gave $10 was entitled to four days' entry for gentleman and lady, and so on. At a meeting in August the Board counted that it it would take ninety-six of these cards to pay for the specials, but J. M. Lassing counted 100 and gave me. I brought them home, signed them and the following Wednesday sent them by J. J. Rucker to the Secretary. On August 22d I received a note from the Secretary with fourteen cards enclosed, saying there was not enough signed. I signed the fourteen, kept one and gave it to Wm. R. Scheifers, of Ludlow, who was entitled to a four days pass, and sent back thirteen. On August 29th we met at the fair grounds, the Secretary wanted some more passes signed, but not having any with him asked privilege of me to sign my name. I granted it, but do not know how many were signed.

On the first day of the fair W. H. Baker reported to the Board that Erlanger had a correspondent for a Cincinnati paper, who also wanted a free pass. The Board ordered one pass issued for her, making one hundred and sixteen signed by me. I was given eleven to deliver in the city and delivered all but three, giving J. J. Rucker one for W. E. Townley, and gave the other two to the Secretary and received credit for same. That is the number of passes I handled out of the five hundred that were printed. I do not know how many are left, they are in the hands of the Secretary.

On the second day of the fair, about 2 o'clock, a Ky. Post reporter came to me and asked for more passes. I told him he had all he was to get. He went from the ring to the Secretary's office begging for passes until 4 o'clock. I finally told him he was a fraud. He then showed me the Post badge. About this time J. J. Rucker and J. O. Griffith come into the ring and he (the reporter) made a proposition if the company would give him six passes, one each for himself and another reporter and four for as many newsboys, he would distribute 1,500 Posts gratuituously daily, on the grounds, and report us in his paper. The proposition was accepted. The tickets were brought to the ring and I being busy asked Mr. Rucker to fill them out for the proper persons. I suppose he did. I have never seen them since.

Now, if R. K. Dulaney's family came in on a free pass issued to them, they either got it from the Secretary or one of the six cards filled out by Mr. Rucker; and if Dulaney's name was on the card, R. K. Dulaney or Mr. Rucker wrote it there. If he and his family came in on a Ky. Post pass, the gatekeeper is responsible, for he knows Dulany is not a Post representative, and the tickets say, plainly, "not transferable."

As for the man who was making the most noise, he is a sore-head member of the company, whom I had to refuse the third time bringing in the worst gambling device that was ever on any fair ground.

B. F. MCGLASSON.

The sagacity of the fox is most wonderful. It is related that they are tormented by fleas and when the infliction becomes unbearable they gather a mouthful of moss and slowly walk backward into the nearest stream until only the moss is left above the surface of the water. The fleas meantime take refuge on the moss and when the fox is satisfied that they have all embarked he opens his mouth and the moss drifts away, while the wiley fox regains the bank, happy in freedom from his tormentors.

W. P. Cropper, of the North Bend neighborhood, has 600 bushels of old corn for sale—price, 33 1-3 cents a bushel.

Kentucky Crop Report.

Condition Of Crops And Live Stock September 1st, 1891.

WHEAT.

It is estimated that 74 per cent. of the crop of the western section remained in the hands of farmers September 1st. In the central section 67 per cent. was in farmers' hands on same date, and in the eastern section 87 per cent. was unsold. On Sept 1st, 1897, the estimated per cent. of wheat still in hands of farmers was 56. Estimating the damage resulting from rain shows that 16 per cent. of the crop was damaged while in the shock and stack in the western section, 11 per cent. was damaged in the eastern section and 13 per cent. in central section.

CORN.

The corn crop will be one of the heaviest in yield per acre ever produced in the State. Early corn has reached a stage of maturity which admits of it being put in shock. While much of the acreage was planted late, the forcing season especially the past month, has brought late corn to a stage of maturity where little apprehension of damage from frost need be felt. The condition, compared with average years, averages 107 in western section, 102 in central section, and in the eastern section 105. The average for the State is 105.

TOBACCO.

The tobacco crop shows a marked improvement since August 1st, and a somewhat gloomy outlook on that date is transformed into one where crops of fine yield and quality figure extensively; but even the very favorable conditions have not been sufficient to make fine tobacco of that considerable portion of the crop which was set late and which promised such poor results August 1st; and as one correspondent puts it, there will be considerable "tail end" to the crop.

Cutting began as early as the 20th and became quite general during the last days of the month, the high temperature causing the plants to ripen very rapidly. It is estimated that 25 per cent. of the crop was housed prior to September 1st in western section, 24 per cent. in the central section and 17 per cent. in the eastern.

LIVE STOCK.

The number of sheep appear to have decreased in the eastern and western sections and increased in the central section. In the western section the number, as compared with 1897, is 88 per cent. In the eastern section the number, by a similar comparison, is 86 per cent., while in the central section the number, compared with 1897, is 102 per cent. The eastern section in particular supplies the breeders of the central district with stock ewes, and this year the demand for such has been quite strong.

The number of cattle of that class usually denominated "feeders," compared with 1897, is 85 per cent. The demand for all classes of young cattle continues strong at good prices.

The Annual Reunion of the Fourth Kentucky Confederate Cavalry will be held at Owenton on Thursday, October 20, 1898. Members of other commands are cordially invited to attend. It is earnestly requested that every survivor of this regiment will be present and help make this the grandest meeting we have had. A lot of good speakers will be on hand. Kentucky papers will please copy.

W. L. CRABB, President.

T. W. Barker pastor of the Milton Methodist church will close up his year's work next Sunday night in Milton. Milton charge has had over one hundred conversions since his pastorate begun two years ago; a new parsonage bought, the old debt on Pleasant View church paid off, the Mt. Pleasant church painted and repaired. Milton church covered, papered and painted inside, a coal house built, etc. The cost of repairs on the Methodist church here in Milton is between $130 and $140. The Sunday schools are all doing better. There was one League when Bro. Barker came, now there are four flourishing Leagues on the work.—Milton News.

A GREAT many of the American soldiers in Porto Rico are sick. It is said that within a radius of a few miles of Ponce there are 1,000 soldiers in hospitals.

SENATOR DEBOE has failed to make peace between the Evans and anti-Evans factions in Louisville, and given up the job and gone home.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. : : KENTUCKY.

SEPTEMBER—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	....	....	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	....

THE Spaniards are not the most mongrel of races. The Svantians, who live in the inaccessible mountain range between the Black and Caspian seas are probably the laziest people in the world. They have made no advance toward civilization in 2,500 years. It is their invariable rule to observe holidays four times a week, with saints' days as extras.

THE historic little structure at 239 Arch street, Philadelphia, where, about a century and a quarter ago, resided Betsy Ross, the maker of the first American flag, Thursday passed into the hands of an association which, when legally formed, will be known under the name of the national American flag house and Betsy Ross memorial association.

A CURIOUS mode of catching turtle is practiced in the West Indies. It consists in attaching a ring and a line to the tail of a species of sucker fish, which is then thrown overboard, and immediately makes for the first turtle he can spy, to which he attaches himself very firmly by means of a sucking apparatus arranged on the top of his head. The fisherman then hauls both turtle and sucker fish in.

"THE interiors of many of the Philippine islands are filled with aboriginal savages who not only have never recognized Spanish rule, but have never heard of it, and who know nothing of this turmoil of white races on the edges of their archipelago. The great island of Mindanao has never as a whole been under Spanish rule, although the port town has for a number of years been held by the Spanish.

IN Tokio, Japan, there is a watch factory that has not been able to manufacture a watch after four years effort. The factory is equipped with a five-horse power engine, stamping machine, lathes for the production of pivots, wheels, screws, etc. The factory is superintended by Japanese, who learned (?) their trade in Switzerland, but they have not been able to turn out a complete watch after four years' trial.

DURING the recent French naval maneuvers in the Mediterranean, Adm. Humann let fly from the flagship Brennus ten pigeons at 175 miles from Porquerolles. Three of the number were lost, but seven arrived safely, having accomplished the distance at an average speed of 25 miles an hour. The pigeons had been absent from their houses 21 days and the result of this experiment is considered highly satisfactory.

CAMELS are the latest innovation in the development of agriculture in North Germany. Count Sigismund Skorzewski has four camels at work tilling the fields of his estate at Czernlejewoer, in the province of Posen. The experiment is said to have given the most satisfactory results. The animals quickly become accustomed to the climate and work well to the plow. The strength of the camel is found equal to that of two horses, and the beast of the Orient is not particular as to the nature of its food.

CHICAGO will soon see erected within her boundaries the highest tower in the world, and the Star Spangled Banner will be unfurled to the breeze at a higher altitude than any country's flag on earth—a glory now reserved to France alone, through her possession of the Eiffel tower at Paris, where the French tri-color floats at a distance of 1,000 feet above the earth. But the peace tower of 1898, when erected in Chicago, will be 1,152 feet in height and the Stars and Stripes will proudly float 152 feet higher than the French symbol.

AN aerial torpedo war machine, self-elevating and self-propelling, capable of carrying 200 men and over 25 tons of ammunition and explosives, and with a steering apparatus capable of directing the boat in any direction against the wind, no matter how high, is the latest thing to which the attention of the government has been invited. The inventor is P. W. Anderson, of Chicago, who has been working upon the machine for 14 years. Mr. Anderson limits its destructive powers to 500,000 men and 200 modern war ships per hour.

SOME interesting information about the telephone has just been spread before the British public in the report of a special committee of parliament, which has been investigating the subject of telephone service for three months past. It is a well-known fact that the British public has not taken kindly to the telephone. The number of subscribers in London, for instance, is much smaller than in any other great city in the world. Most persons assume that the reason must be some defect or mismanagement in the system by which telephone service is supplied.

AN EXPLOSION.

Four and Possibly a Dozen Lives Lost by the Catastrophe.

Seven Persons Were Terribly Injured—Four Dead Bodies Were Taken From the Ruins—Rescuing Postponed Till Daylight.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—By the explosion of 40 gallons of gasoline in the cellar of a grocery store at 1444 South street, Sunday night, surely four and possibly a dozen more lives were lost. As an immediate consequence of the explosion, the building, where it occurred and those adjoining it on either side, collapsed, and up to 10 o'clock, four hours after the occurrence, four bodies had been recovered from the ruins and three of these identified, as follows:

Samuel Schattenstein, keeper of the grocery store; his 19-year-old son, Abraham; a ten-months' old child named Goldberg; the fourth body was that of a girl about ten years old.

How the explosion occurred is yet unknown. The front of No. 1444 was immediately blown out and this was followed by the collapse of that structure and Nos. 1442, occupied by Morris Goldbrig, furniture store and 1446, Louis Sallonoses shoe store. The west wall of 1440, occupied by L. Wangers clothing store, was blown out. All the buildings were of brick, three stories in height. In the confusion and excitement following the disaster, it is as yet impossible to secure anything like an accurate census of the occupants, but it is generally stated that the upper floors were crowded with families, huddled together in tenement fashion.

Coming as it did at the supper hour, it is feared the loss of life will be heavy. The list of injured will be long. They were taken to all hospitals within a radius of a mile.

After the recovery of the four bodies the authorities decided to postpone the search for additional victims until Monday morning, thus obviating the dangers and delays of working upon the mass of debris and wreckage in the darkness.

The corpses of Schattenstein and his son were picked up on the steps of No. 1444. The unidentified ten-year-old girl was found pinioned by a mass of timbers in the rear of the same building, and the Goldberg child died while being taken to a hospital.

The injured at the Howard hospital are: L. Schattenstein, aged 12, broken nose and laceration of scalp; Alexander Schattenstein, aged 6, lacerated scalp, condition serious; Mary Healey, aged 65, fractured leg; Annie McPhilomy, 40 years, contusion of ankle; Harry Rothermet, 12 years, lacerated scalp; Maggie Goldberg, 32 years, lacerated scalp; Sarah Goldberg, 14 years, lacerated scalp and contused ankle.

At the Jefferson hospital are A. F. Fish, 39 years, fireman of truck D, lacerated wound of scalp, and Yetta Goldberg, nine years, contusion of leg and back and lacerated wound of scalp.

At the Polyclinic is Rose Schattenstein, eight years, lacerated finger.

MORE TROUBLE EXPECTED.

George Burton, Colored, Who Assaulted Mrs. Coggins, Lynched—The Whites and Blacks Are Arming.

MACON, Ga., Sept. 14.—The body of George Burton, a Negro who assaulted Mrs. Coggins, was found Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the Flint river about three miles below Digby, riddled with bullets. A rock weighing several hundred pounds was tied to it.

Burton was arrested Saturday at Senoya. Sunday morning, about 3 o'clock, John Withon, who lives near where the Negro was found, heard several gunshots, and later went to investigate. He found on the banks of the river old pieces of clothes, burned and saturated with blood. With the assistance of several friends, Mr. Withon dragged the river and found the body.

News has just reached here that 200 or 300 Negroes were marching to Digby armed with guns and rifles, swearing vengeance.

Mr. Digby, a brother of Mrs. Coggins, the lady assaulted, has just arrived and verifies this statement. Every white man in town is going down well armed. The town is in much excitement.

Naval Officers Promoted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Among the naval orders Saturday were the following promotions: Capt. Higginson, of the Massachusetts, to be commodore from August 10; Assistant Naval Constructor R. P. Hobson, to be full naval constructor, to date from June 23, the delay in making the last promotion being caused by the impossibility of having an earlier examination.

Many Lives Lost.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Sept. 12.—The town of Jerome, near here, was completely wiped out Sunday morning by fire, entailing a loss of over $1,000,000 in property. Eleven bodies have so far been recovered, while a score or more are said to be in the ruins or missing.

Prominent Columbus Man Dead.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—Howard C. Bancroft, of the wholesale dry goods firm of Bancroft, Sheldon & Co., died here Saturday morning of heart disease. He was widely known.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

Several Prominent Gentlemen Have Been Asked to Serve, But Most of Them, It Is Thought, Will Decline.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—At the white house no statement was made Sunday night as to the status of the commission to inquire into the administration of army bureaus, although it was understood that most of the gentlemen invited by the president to serve on the commission were heard from. Some of them had written that they had the matter under consideration, and it was thought to be desirable to await final conclusions by all of those asked to serve before making any announcement. It appears [illegible] be accepted among high officials that Gen. Gordon, Mr. Lamont and [illegible]ote Lincoln are not likely to accept. [illegible] and two ex-secretaries of war are [illegible] busy men of affairs and it is thought to be hardly probable that they can spare the time for the work of the commission. It was reported Sunday night that Mr. Lamont's declination had been received, but this on inquiry, failed of confirmation. The opinion was expressed [illegible] officials that Gen. Jefferson, Col. Sexton and Dr. Keen [illegible] serve. As stated, however, some of the gentlemen have written that they had the matter under advisement and there is considerable doubt what the result will be.

IN THE CITY OF HAVANA.

The American Evacuation Commission Arrived Saturday and Were Welcomed by Spanish Officers.

HAVANA, Sept. 12.—The United States transport Resolute, having on board the American evacuation commission, was sighted at 7 o'clock Saturday morning from Morro Castle and entered the port of Havana at 7:45 a. m. She anchored near a place called Triscornio, a most healthy part of the bay.

At 8 o'clock Gen. Solano, the chief of staff, and Maj. Garcia Bonitor, of the general staff, left the palace in a carriage, and a little while afterward Gen. Parado, a member of the Spanish commission, and Dr. Congosto, secretary general of the government, drove in a carriage to La Machina wharf. Both parties there embarked in a steam launch and went on board the Resolute to welcome the American commissioners.

The palace of the captain general has been prepared to do honor to the American commissioners. The stairs have been carpeted as upon the occasion of great reception days and the commissioners will be received in the salon of the crown. Capt. Gen. Blanco will be in full uniform.

SHIPS LOST IN THE STORM.

Evidence That Two Vessels, With Twenty Persons on Board, Went to the Bottom Near Brunswick, Ga., August 30.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 12.—A Brunswick, Ga., special to the Morning News says that Postmaster Symons, who chartered a tug and went in search of the schooner John H. Platt, which was in the terrible storm of August 30, has returned to Brunswick with unmistakable evidences of the ships loss with all on board. Postmaster Symons son was a passenger on the Platt.

A brother of Capt. Townsend, of the schooner Jessie C. Woodhull, accompanied Mr. Symons, and he is confident that his brother's ship met the same fate.

A total of 20 persons were aboard the two lost ships.

Reply to the President's Telegram of Condolence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 12.—The president has received the following reply to his telegram of condolence sent to the Emperor Francis Joseph.

"SCHOENBRUNN, Sept. 11.—Emperor of Austria to the President of the United States:

"Sincerely touched by the expression of condolence and sympathy which you have been pleased to forward me in the name of the government and people of the United States, I beg you to accept for that expression my warmest thanks. (Signed),

FRANCIS JOSEPH."

Col. Sexton Accepts.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Col. James A. Sexton, the new commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., who has been asked by President McKinley to assist in the proposed investigation of the war department, has returned to his home in this city and has announced his acceptance of the president's appointment.

The Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Saturday's statement of the condition of the treasury shows: Available cash balance, $209,785,101; gold reserve, $235,715,227.

Big Fire at Livermore Falls, Me.

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., Sept. 12.—Fire here Saturday burned over 30 buildings. One life was lost. At 2 o'clock the fire was not under control. The loss will reach nearly $200,000.

Gen. Gordon Will Not Serve.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 12.—Gen. John B. Gordon has declined to serve on the commission requested by Secretary Alger to investigate the conduct of the Spanish-American war, giving as a reason his unstable health.

EMPRESS DEAD.

Elizabeth, of Austria, Stabbed to the Heart by an Anarchist in Geneva.

She Staggered to Her Feet and Started for the Boat, Believing Herself Unhurt—On Reaching the Vessel She Fainted and Expired.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—Empress Elizabeth of Austria had been here a few days and was leaving Geneva for Montreux, where she intended to stay for some time.

She left her hotel for the steamboat at 12:45 p. m. On her way from the hotel to the pier she was assaulted by a man, who rushed up to her and struck her. The empress fell, but staggered to her feet and started on again for the boat, believing herself unhurt. She reached the steamer, which the captain, after some hesitation, ordered to proceed, only doing so, however, at the command of her majesty.

Shortly after the boat put off the empress fainted and the steamer returned to the pier. Her majesty was taken ashore at once and carried to her hotel, where she expired a little later without regaining consciousness. It was then found she had been stabbed and that the assassin's stiletto had reached her heart. The assassin was arrested, and proved to be an Italian anarchist named Luccheni, who said that he was born in Paris.

The news of the murder of the empress spread rapidly through the city, almost stupefying the people with horror.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The story of the assassination of the empress of Austria reached here through the Paris office of the Havas news agency. The French foreign office confirms the report of the assassination of the empress of Austria.

VIENNA, Sept. 12.—The plans for the funeral of the late Empress Elizabeth, who was assassinated by an anarchist Saturday at Geneva, contemplate bringing the remains to Vienna next Thursday, a lying-in-state on Friday and the obsequies of interment on Saturday.

Every flag in the city was at half mast Sunday, and the theaters, races and other amusements are suspended indefinitely.

All the archdukes and the Archduches Marie Valerie have arrived at Schoenbrunn.

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—The federal council met Monday morning and sent the following telegram to Emperor Francis Joseph:

"The Swiss federal council has the honor to express to your majesty its profoundest grief and deepest indignation at the horrible crime to which Her Majesty Empress Elizabeth has fallen victim. Our pain and indignation are still the greater owing to the foul crime having been committed on Swiss territory, where the departed, as she had often done before, was seeking recovery from bodily sufferings, which recovery, as on previous occasions, she had every hope of finding.

"The council hastens to assure your majesty, at the same time of its own warmest sympathy and that of the whole Swiss people in the irreparable loss your majesty, the imperial house and the peoples of Austria and Hungary have suffered through your exalted lady's death."

The flag on the federal building is at half-mast. The council reassembled Sunday afternoon to receive reports regarding the crime and to consider the steps to be taken. It is expected that the judicial authorities of the Canton of Vaud will conduct the inquiry and the trial.

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—The autopsy showed that the lung as well as the heart was pierced.

No strangers are allowed to approach the coffin of the murdered Empress Elizabeth. The body is embalmed and is dressed in white.

The doctors photographed the wound, but the plate will be destroyed.

It is understood that Emperor Francis Joseph will not leave Austria, but will send high court officials to take the body to Vienna. Flowers are arriving in profusion.

The assassin maintains his cynical demeanor and frankly congratulates himself on the success of his crime. He says:

"I am an anarchist, but I belong to no committee. I acted on my own initiative. Let them do as they like with me. That is my strength."

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—A file found late Sunday evening in the passage of a house on the Rue des Alpes has been identified by the assassin as the weapon he used.

His name, though heretofore variously given and published here as Lacheni, Lucchesi and Luccessi, is now said to be Luigini.

"Teddy" Will Accept.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has authorized the announcement that he will accept the nomination for the governor of New York should it be tendered to him by the convention of the party to be held at Saratoga.

Rev. Dr. Albert S. Hunt Dead.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Rev. Dr. Albert S. Hunt, for 30 years secretary of the American Bible society, died Sunday at his home in Brooklyn of bronchitis, aged 72 years.

UNTRANSLATABLE.

The American Phrase, "Get There," Is Difficult for Foreigners to Translate.

"What gives me most trouble," said a foreign military attache, "is trying to translate your American language into English first, and then into my own language, so as to give my government a correct understanding of the spirit and character of your soldiers. I find the phrase 'get there,' for example, difficult. When I saw your infantry going forward against the opposing troops in the forts and intrenchments, I said to the officer with me that the infantry should not attempt such a movement without the artillery. 'You're right,' he told me, 'but the boys will get there.' At night, when we were all so hungry, I ventured to inquire if a further movement were contemplated till your army was provisioned. Then the officers, who were gentlemanly, all laughed, and said the army would think about rations when they 'got there.' The second day we met many of your wounded men coming back as we were going forward. When the colonel asked them about the fighting, so many times I heard them say 'We got there.' And afterwards I also heard those words used very often. But it is so difficult for me to explain so my own people will understand it, what nature of tactics is 'get there.'"—Boston Transcript.

Swallowed a Needle and Died.

A tailor in Chicago accidentally swallowed a needle and died as a result of the inflammation set up by the small needle. Little things have frequently great power, as is seen in a few small doses of the famous Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which, however, has an entirely different effect from the needle in this notice. The Bitters make nervous, weak and sickly persons strong and well again. They are also good for dyspepsia and constipation.

Only for Music.

"Have you a soul for music?" she asked as she turned from the piano.

"For music, yes," he replied, and then he hastily changed the subject and neglected to ask her to sing again.

But she knew. You can't always fool a girl, even if she does think she has a voice.—Chicago Post.

The War Is Over

And now our thoughts are all of peace and home. There are, too often, people to be found who have no home, and it is to them these few words are addressed. If you really want a home you can easily get one, but you should act at once before the relapse from the war puts prices on the advance. In Marinette County, Wisconsin, the very finest farming land is to be had now at a most modest figure. Excellent home markets are at hand to take whatever the farmer raises, and good prices are given. These lands are on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and full information concerning them will cheerfully be furnished by C. E. Rollins, Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle Street, Chicago.

The Best Reason.

Little Clarence (who reads and ponders)—Pa, I have just been reading a paragraph, which says there are various reasons why a man who talks in his sleep should not marry; what are some of those reasons, pa?

Mr. Calipers—The best reason, my son, is because he talks in his sleep.—Puck.

Surprising Achievement.

"What is luck, Uncle Jim?"

"Luck? Well, it is when a boy turns out to be as smart as his grandmother said he was."—Detroit Free Press.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Instructor—"There is no point to this theme." 1901 (confidingly)—"Oh, I always was bad at punctuation."—Harvard Lampoon.

I could not get along without Piso's Cure for Consumption. It always cures.—Mrs. E. C. Moulton, Needham, Mass., Oct. 22, '94.

An actress is often indebted to the florist for the flowers she gets over the footlights.—Chicago Daily News.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is taken Internally. Price 75c.

Why isn't memory the thing we forget with?—Chicago Daily News.

Scrofula

Taints the blood of millions, and sooner or later may break out in hip disease, running sores or some more complicated form. To cure scrofula or prevent it, thoroughly purify your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has a continually growing record of wonderful cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

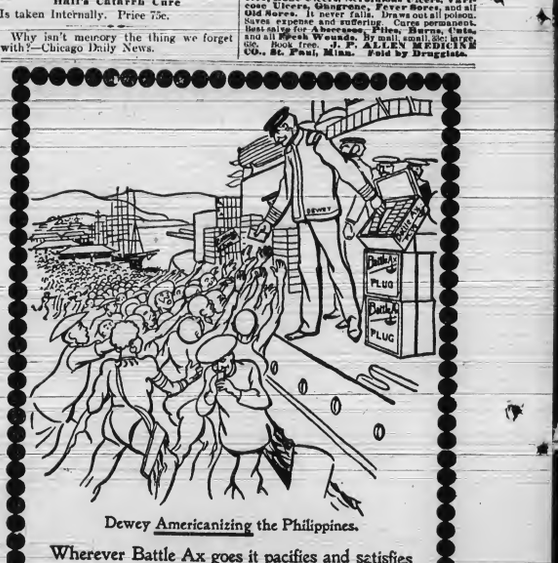
Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure indigestion, biliousness.

New Mother-in-Law Story.

A Cleveland man who went east to spend his vacation brought home with him what he thinks is a new mother-in-law story. Mother-in-law stories are a drug on the market, but this one seems to be a little less druggy than usual. A man and his wife went to Europe and the man's mother-in-law went along. Up to this point there is no novelty in the story. On the voyage the mother-in-law fell ill and died. Of course she had to be buried at sea, and so the usual canvas sack was made, but instead of an iron weight to sink the body they used a big bag of coal. In commenting on the arrangements afterward the bereaved son-in-law, who stuttered badly, said: "I—always knew where m-m-m-mother-in-law was g-going, but b-b-blame me if I s-s-supposed she'd have to carry her own f-f-fuel."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

When a worthless man isn't staring at the clock he is gazing at the thermometer.—Atchison Globe.



THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. NEW YORK, N. Y.

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Barber's Itch, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 50c; large, $1. Book free. Address J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

Dewey Americanizing the Philippines.

Wherever Battle Ax goes it pacifies and satisfies everybody—and there are more men chewing to-day than any other chewing tobacco ever made. The popularity of Battle Ax is both national and international. You find it in Europe:—you find it in Maine:—you find it in India, and you'll find it in Spain (very soon).

BattleAx PLUG

Our soldiers and sailors have already taken it to Cuba and the Philippines! Are you chewing it?

Remember the name when you buy again.

OLD SOLDIERS.

Sessions of the 32d Encampment, G. A. R., at Cincinnati.

WELCOMED BY GOV. BUSHNELL.

Jas. A. Sexton Elected Commander-in-Chief and Philadelphia Next Encampment Site.

THE OFFICERS MAKE THEIR REPORTS.

Retiring Commander-in-Chief Gobin Delivers His Annual Address and Makes Valuable Suggestions.

Report of the Adjutant General Shows the Membership To Be 305,603—Number of Members Remaining Suspended June 30, 1898, is 36,668.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—The parade of parades, the great annual pageant of the Grand Army of the Republic, started from the point of rendezvous at Richmond and Freeman avenue at exactly 10 a. m. Wednesday on its triumphal march through the Queen City of the West.

The length of march was 2.65 miles.

Grand Marshal Hickenlooper had so well arranged plans that the mustering was unmarred by any confusion. It worked like a clock mechanism.

The first division moved at 10 o'clock. The tenth swung into line at 11:30, when the head of the parade was at Seventh and Race. Each soldier walked at the rate of 85 steps per minute.

At each of the reviewing stands the color bearers saluted by dipping their colors.

The police moved in faultless line, Col. Deitsch at their head. Then came the grand marshal and staff.

Commandel-in-Chief Gobin and staff followed him.

The first division of the parade followed. It consisted of the department of Illinois and was commanded by Gen. B. R. Cowen.

Maj. R. B. Chappell, of Illinois, wore probably the most historic coat in the parade. He has worn it at every encampment. It was part of his uniform in '64. Pieces of crape on it were put on, respectively, on the assassination of Lincoln, and deaths of Grant and Sherman.

The second division was commanded by Col. M. A. Cochran. Gen. W. H. Ball was his chief of staff, and his aides de camp were Col. Curtis, Col. Buffett and Capt. H. H. Adams, U. S. A.

This division consisted of the departments of Wisconsin and Pennsylvania. The Columbia Post, of Chicago, led.

Lamb post, of Philadelphia, attracted great attention. Its band was neatly uniformed, each musician wearing an army hat decorated with a lamb's tail. Two little children led two lambs.

There were 20 war-shredded battle-flags in the 3rd division, which was one of the smallest.

Department Commander Anson S. Wood, of New York, and Col. W. E. Simonds, department commander of Connecticut, were there. One of the flags was used by Farragut at Mobile bay.

The Vermont department was placed at the head of the Fourth division in place of the Massachusetts department because of its big band.

The Fifth division, of which Col. Fred Cross was marshal, was composed of the departments of Michigan and Iowa. The Michigan posts constituted the First brigade.

E. F. Pease was their brigade commander, and Frank Walden, an old sailor who served on the Kearsarge, and Luther Frye, their color bearers.

With the Morgan post, of Kalamazoo, Mich., was B. K. Dewey, a cousin of Adm. Dewey. Veteran Dewey wore a bucktail in his hat to show that he was a member of the first Michigan rifles.

A. W. Patrick is commander of the Michigan department. There were about 1,200 men of the department in line.

The Second brigade was composed of the department of Iowa, which was represented by 20 posts. The delegations were not large, but they had about 5,000 old soldiers in the march.

The posts of the department of Indiana made up all of the sixth division. There were more than 50 of these posts in the parade, and nearly 3,000 men. Maj. Jones had command of the division. On his staff were: Chief of Staff J. B. Collins, W. C. Herron, Lucien Wulsin, G. C. James and Gen. Ryan, commander of the department. It was one of the largest state representations in the parade.

The seventh division was marshaled by Gen. Thomas T. Heath, with Gen. T. L. Greno as chief of staff. Colorado and Wyoming, under command of Department Commander Gen. T. S. May, headed the division. Then came Kansas, under Gen. E. W. Eastman; Delaware, with nine posts; Minnesota, four posts, and Missouri, seven posts, under Gen. A. G. Peterson. The St. Louis delegation was headed by the Light Guards band, of Jerseyville, Ill., each of its 42 members being dressed as Uncle Sam. In the Missouri delegation was Company A, Missouri national guard, of Kansas city. It is composed of veterans of the civil war, and was organized immediately after the close of the war.

There were no missing departments in the division. Colorado and Wyoming had 125 men. Kansas had 150, and Delaware nearly 100. Minnesota had 250 and Missouri carried off the honors with 1,000 men. Oregon made a good showing. Arizona had but two representatives. Gen. James Finner, department commander, and Col. Geo. Hoxworth, past department commander, marched and carried the banner of the state department.

Maj. E. T. Stewart commanded the Eighth division. Col. Sence was his chief-of-staff. Kentucky, with 12 posts, three colored, headed the division, commanded by Gen. J. W. Hrmmond. Then followed West Virginia, Gen. Richard [illegible]bertson commanding; South Dakota, Gen. E. P. Selir; Washington, Alaska, Arkansas, New Mexico and Utah. Department Commander Sehr, of South Dakota, wore a belt from which was suspended an ear of corn three feet long. Each member of the South Dakota delegation carried a stick in which an ear of corn was wound with wheat. The color guard of South Dakota carried a Hawaiian flag with the inspription, "The Next State to Join the Sisterhood."

Capt. George W. Tibbetts, of Tacoma, had the distinction of being the only representative of the state of Washington in this division. Gen. Harry Bigelow was alone from Manook, Alaska.

These two veterans traveled this long distance alone, bringing with them the colors and flags of the department which comprises Washington and Alaska.

Kentucky had more than 1,000 men and West Virginia about 500. South Dakota was represented by 55 marchers.

The Ninth division moved on schedule time, and its members attracted a great deal of attention.

The staff of the tenth division was closely followed by the Buckley post, with 150 veterans in line. Buckley post is the largest Ohio post, having a membership of 508, and has the honor of having four past commanders on its rolls. The post was led by Commander Maj. E. Taggart.

George D. Harter post, Canton, O., which counts President William McKinley among its members, was given an ovation along the line. The 180 men in line carried silver pointed guidons, and were led by Commander M. M. Herbst.

The Colonel J. F. Tolland post, comprised of veterans of the Sandusky soldiers' home, met with a royal reception.

A varied assortment of buckeyes, shaped into a G. A. R. design heralded the approach of the boys from Tiffin, Ohio.

The Forsyth post, of Toledo, carried a large canteen, some five feet in circumference, presented to them by the Cleveland boys, bearing the motto: "We've Drank From the Same Canteen."

Defiance, O., and Forsyth had their own military bands, which stirred up the enthusiasm of the crowd with their patriotic airs.

There were nearly 3,000 men in line in the first brigade of the Ohio division.

The second brigade of the tenth division, under the command of Maj. B. Fox, of Cincinnati, formed on Central avenue, north of Richmond, falling in after the first brigade.

The staff of Maj. Fox was as follows: Chief of staff, Col. H. L. Morey; adjutant general, Maj. J. W. Gang; aids, Cols. Nat Haughton, Andrew Jackson, W. A. Clark and Lewis R. Dunn; Capts. John D. Rhinehart, Albert Selbert and Mark A. Knowden.

The Old Guard post, of Dayton, occupied the right-hand position at the head of the brigade.

Ex-Gov. Campbell marched with his post, from Hamilton, and was cheered as he was recognized along the line of march.

The counties of the southern part of the state composed the brigade. Nearly all the posts were headed by bands or drum corps, several of their drum corps being composed of veterans who blew the fife or rolled a call on the drum. The end of the division and parade was brought up by the posts from Hamilton county.

Among those on the reviewing stand at Washington park were: Gen. J. P. S. Gobin, commander-in-chief; Hon. Asa S. Bushnell, governor of Ohio; Hon. Guarave Tafel, mayor of Cincinnati; Alfred Lyth, senior vice commander; F. B. Allen, junior vice commander; Thos. J. Stewart, Adjt. Gen.; Hon. Jas. A. Mount, governor of Indiana; Hon. H. S. Pingree, governor of Michigan; F. C. Bruner, chaplain; Charles Burrows, quartermaster general; A. Williams, inspector general; Eli Torrence, judge advocate general; David Mackay, surgeon general and others

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—The opening of the Thirty-second National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Music hall, at 10 a. m. Thursday, was the event of supreme interest to the veterans, involving, as it did, the question of admitting soldiers of the American-Spanish war, of the election of new officers and the selection of next year's meeting place.

The civic and industrial and peace parade was the event scheduled for the afternoon. Elaborate and painstaking arrangements assured its success and the protection of the vast crowds that lined the streets.

The women visitors got down to the more serious business of the convention, the Women's Relief corps, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic and Daughters of Veterans gathering in solemn conclave. The fireworks will attract hundreds of thousands in the evening.

Gen. Gobin started the ball rolling at the public meeting and E. R. Monfort started the waves of enthusiasm by presenting to the retiring commander-in-chief a handsome gavel. The gavel was made of a piece of

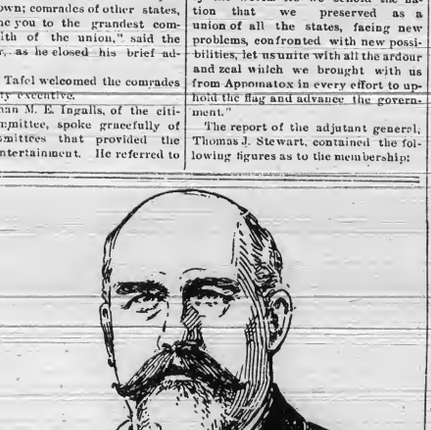
JAMES A. SEXTON,
New Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R.

wood from the doorsill of Gen. Grant's boyhood home.

Speeches were made and then the hall was cleared of outsiders. The outrosts were called in, their work being faithfully done.

At 10:15 Col. J. Milt Blair opened the public preliminary meeting by introducing Gov. Bushnell. The governor welcomed the veterans, saying he had never offered a welcome more heartily felt.

"Comrades of Ohio, I welcome you to your own; comrades of other states, I welcome you to the grandest commonwealth of the union," said the governor, as he closed his brief address.



Mayor Tafel welcomed the comrades as the city executive.

Chairman M. E. Ingalls, of the citizens' committee, spoke gracefully of the committees that provided the week's entertainment. He referred to "Patriotic teachings in the public schools have progressed favorably. Military drill having been added, it has become a remarkably popular feature in many of the public schools of the land.

"The question of the suspension of comrades for the non-payment of dues still prevails, and it is most difficult to legislate in a manner that will do justice to those who can not afford to pay their dues without doing great injustice to the posts in the cases of those who can afford to pay them but simply neglect to do so. My observation is that a large percentage of the men who are suspended for non-payment of dues are as fully able to pay as a large number of those who remain and continue to pay.

"I confide to you again the importance yet to be accomplished in this organization. It is rapidly marching to the sunset, and ere many years it will be but a memory—but such a memory of brave men united for love of country and devoted to their fellow man as will fill history's page for succeeding generations with a record that is imperishable. With our life's work almost completed we can lay aside the mantle which we have worn with the assurance that as soldiers and citizens we have been true to our faith, devoted to our country and flag, and confident in the ability of the American people to govern themselves and defy the world. As we behold the nation that we preserved as a union of all the states, facing new problems, confronted with new possibilities, let us unite with all the ardour and zeal which we brought with us from Appomatox in every effort to uphold the flag and advance the government."

The report of the adjutant general, Thomas J. Stewart, contained the following figures as to the membership:

W. C. JOHNSON,
New Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R.

The members in good standing June 30, 1897, numbered 319,456. The gain during the year was, by muster, 10,940; transfer 4,275; reinstatement 12,687; from delinquent reports, 4,551; total, 32,453. The losses were by death, 7,388; honorable discharge, 1,190; transfer, 4,471; suspension, 25,035; dishonorable discharge, 165; by delinquent reports, 7,041; by surrender of charter, 1,025; total, 46,306. So the members in good standing June 30, 1898, numbered, 305,603. The number of members remaining suspended at that date was 36,668. Reports received from departments showed that 8,610 members previously reported as suspended had been dropped from the rolls.

In his report Alfred Lyth, the senior vice-commander-in-chief, referred to the visit of Post 2, department of New York, to Hamilton, Ont., saying that the cheers which greeted the comrades on arrival and the reception on the part of the citizens of Hamilton were illustrations of the recent drawing together in sympathy and feeling of the two great English speaking nations.

The junior vice commander-in-chief, Francis R. Allen, said in his report that no mistake would be made if the national encampment should in the future select at least one national officer, whose service was in the navy, and thus give practical effect to the sentiment of the organization, the equality of the soldier and sailor.

The report of the quartermaster general, A. J. Barrows, showed that the receipts during the year were $17,195 and the expenditures $14,694, the balance on hand being $9,902, credited as follows: General fund, $2,457; Grant monument fund, $5,777; Sherman monument fund, $226; Southern memorial fund, $14.40.

The assets, including the cash on hand are $11,395, and in addition $16,000 are invested in United States bonds.

The only candidates nominated for commander-in-chief were Albert D. Shaw, of Watertown, N. Y., and James A. Sexton, of Chicago, Ill.

Commander Pugh, of Ohio, announced that Isaac F. Mack, of Ohio, had directed him to say that he declined to have his name presented as a candidate, because the senior vice commander was to be chosen from the city where the encampment is held, according to custom.

A delegate from Kansas explained that the name of Thomas J. Anderson, of Topeka, Kas., which had been mentioned as a candidate would not be presented to the encampment. The roll of states was then called and the vote was announced, showing the election of James A. Sexton, who received 424 votes, while Albert D. Shaw received 241. Comrade Shaw, in a well-worded speech, moved the unanimous election of Sexton and the motion was carried. Sexton, being called, returned his thanks in very brief form and the encampment immediately adjourned until 9 o'clock Friday.

The contest among the cities for the next encampment was one of the most exciting of the day's features, and although one ballot settled it very effectually, the various champions of various cities were claiming everything in sight up to the very end. Philadelphia and Denver were the two most prominent aspirants for the honor of entertaining the old soldiers, but Chicago had a nice little boom of her own that was used as a lever to secure votes for Sexton as commander. The vote was: Philadelphia, 395; Denver, 295.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—The encampment convened Friday morning. There was a poor attendance at the morning session. However, considerable business was transacted.

Col. W. C. Johnson, of Cincinnati, O., was elected senior vice commander-in-chief, while Daniel Ross, of Delaware, received the honor of junior vice commander-in-chief. A. R. Pierce, of Nebraska, was elected surgeon general and Rev. D. R. Lucas, of Indiana, was elected national chaplain. All the officers were elected by acclamation.

The various committees made their reports and the reading and adoption of these occupied considerable time.

Two ladies of the National Army Nurses' association presented a letter which was read by the adjutant General.

The report of the committee on the Gen. Grant memorial reported that inasmuch as the committee of the library of congress had rejected the statue, Mr. Harrison Simmons, the sculptor of Rome, Italy, had been instructed to replace it as per contract with one that should be satisfactory. It was also reported that Mr. Simmons had been requested to present to the committee on library a clay model of the head, with photograph of the full statue. The statue, according to the report, will not be finished before December, 1899.

There was a lengthy discussion with reference to the admittance of confederate soldiers who joined the union ranks and who were honorably discharged at the end of the civil war. The general feeling was that the matter ought to be postponed until next year, in order that it might be well considered before any decided action be taken. The department of Tennessee was instrumental in bringing up the discussion.

A resolution was passed indorsing the course of Secretary Alger in the conduct of the Spanish-American war.

The president of the United States was honored by the following resolution:

Resolved, That the G. A. R. has watched with pride and satisfaction the wise, conservative, unselfish, patriotic and statesman-like manner in which our honored comrade William McKinley, as president of the United States of America, has met every demand which the recent trouble with Spain imposed upon our country; that his wisdom and prudence in his endeavors to preserve peace with honor, as well as the vigor and patriotic ardor with which our army and navy were equipped for the conflict when war became imminent, has won our hearty and unreserved approval and commendation; and, rejoicing in the glorious termination of the conflict in which our country has been engaged, we hereby express our gratitude not only to our distinguished comrade, the president of the United States, but to the officers and men in our land and naval forces for the heroic conduct and sublime achievements for humanity and the glory of our flag and country.

The convention voted down a resolution to admit to membership in the G. A. R. the men who served in the Spanish-American war.

The convention scored United States Pension Commissioner Evans in a resolution. President McKinley is called on by the Grand Army to "exercise his authority in having the laws executed in the spirit of fairness, justice and liberality." Evans' conduct is declared to be inimical to the interest of honest applicants for pensions.

The resolution recites that though there are 635,000 applications for pensions pending the commissioner has discharged 100 clerks. The statements of Evans should be taken with reserve, so the committee on pensions declares.

There were two opposing votes on the resolution—Silas Leland, of Toledo, and J. M. Longnecker, of Chicago.

There was one opposing vote in the convention.

The chairman of the committee on this resolution is ex-Pension Commissioner Corporal Tanner.

The resolution providing for the reinstatement of Brocton (Mass.) post was smothered in committee.

The resolution censuring public officials who ignore laws providing for engaging veterans in public work was also smothered.

At 2:30 a committee was sent out to bring in the newly elected officers, who were installed.

At the session of the Womans' Relief corps, in Odd Fellows' temple, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Flo Jamison Miller, of Illinois; vice president, Mrs. Mary C. Wentzel, of Cincinnati; junior vice president, Ellen T. Daniels, of West Virginia; national treasurer, Mrs. Isabelle T. Bagley, re-elected.

The ceremony of installing newly elected officers was performed by Comrade Wagner, of Pennsylvania.

The last action of the encampment was the adoption by rising vote of a vote of thanks to the retiring Commander-in-Chief Gen. Gobin, who briefly returned his thanks. At 2:30 p. m. the final adjournment took place.

ATKINS BADLY DEFEATED.

F. R. S. Foss Elected Rear Admiral of the Naval Veterans—Other Officers Selected.

CINCINNATI Sept. 8.—The National Naval Veterans' association elected officers at Sinton hall, Y. M. C. A. building, Wednesday.

F. R. S. FOSS,

Rr. Adm. F. R. Foss, of Minneapolis, Minn., 54; W. E. Atkins, of Cincinnati, 27.

Commodore Ed J. Bliss, of Brooklyn, 50; Wm. VanHouton, of Newark, 27.

Captain of Fleet—William H. Larzelere, of Zanesville, O., no opposition.

Commander—C. D. Blanchard, of New York, 6; Theodore E. Lawton, New Bedford, Mass., 9.

Lieutenant Commander—James A. Miller, of Athens, O., no opposition.

Master—Walter E. Jacobs, of New Haven, Conn., no opposition.

Ensign—Jas Kennedy, Portsmonth, W. Va., no opposition.

Fleet Surgeon—Dr. J. L. Cilley, of Cincinnati, no opposition.

Fleet Paymaster—E. H. Dustin, of Providence, R. I.; no opponent.

Fleet Engineer—F. V. Crispin, of Chicago, 35; Samuel Biggerstaff, of Cincinnati, 17.

Fleet Captain—Alex. S. McWilliams, of Detroit; re-elected.

Judge Advocate—Judge F. C. Harvey, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Secretary Fred C. Haskins, of Brooklyn was reappointed

Ed Wiggins, of New York, was made boatswain.

A beautiful gold and diamond medal was presented to retiring Rr. Adm. Kelley.

Votes of thanks were tendered the city of Cincinnati, the owner of the veterans' quarters and the press.

THE LADIES OF THE G. A. R.

Mrs. Agnes Winslow, of Chicago, Was Elected President—A Revision of Their Ritual.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—The ladies of the G. A. R. were in session all day and night without stopping for refreshments Friday evening in order to complete their session. The morning session was devoted to the revision of their ritual, the afternoon session to the election of officers and the evening session to the installation and unfinished business.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Agnes Winslow, Chicago; senior vice president, Mrs. M. P. Cahoon, Elyria, O.; junior vice president, Mrs. Pauline Willis, San Francisco, Cal.; treasurer, Mrs. Etta Toby, Logansport, Ind.; chaplain, Mrs. Margaret Stevens, Newark, N. J.; councilor, Mrs. Flora M. Davey, Duluth; council of administration, Mrs. Annie Lincol, Duluth; Mrs. Emma Wall, Lawrence, Kas.; Mrs. Aurilla Sherman, Keokuk, Ia.

These officers were installed by Mrs. Frances N. Wood, of Topeka, Kas. President Winslow will appoint a secretary and other officers at some time in the near future.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

Gasburg.

The watermelon season is about over.

Several in our neighborhood are sick with malarial fever.

There was a large crop of peaches, and quite a quantity was canned for the winter.

The threshing machine is through its summer work, thrashing the last crop for Robt. Akins.

Will Rector and Al Cox had quite a success with their melons, hauling some very fine ones to market.

The excursions on the mail boat are still in season. Quite a crowd got on at Petersburg Sunday. Mr. Whit Jarrell, Miss May Akins, Rube Akins and Miss Belle House, Mr. Kitchen House and Miss Lulie Akins, got on at Aurora.

Big Bone.

All quit here.

Fiue crop of corn.

Joe Cleek had a valuable horse to die last week.

This part of the county was well represented at the G. A. R., last week.

Z. T. Baker and Bude Hamilton, are in the Green river country buying cattle.

Joe Noell's horse dropped dead in the harness, as he was comiug home from the fair, one day.

Several outing parties have visited the Springs this summer, adding life to the scenes about here.

Farmers who were so fortunate as to get tobacco plauted this sprlug are now harvesting an excellent crop.

Two of John L. Jones' brothers and a sister, of Kirksville, Mo., are visiting him. John is a splendid entertainer.

Our efficient deputy sheriff, B. B. Allphin, makes frequent visits to this part of the county. Possibly that is the reason times here are less excitiug than they have been.

Florence

Miss Alice Cloud was visiting friends in Erlanger, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Rice, were visiting friends in Union, Sunday.

Miss Bessie and Jessie Nead have returned home after a pleasant visit with their grandmother in Florence.

The Public school begins here next Monday. Boys and girls, get your books and slates—your troubles have begun.

Stanley Cloud is getting along very well now after being sick two weeks with typhoid fever, contracted in camp at Chickamauga Park.

A mass meeting was held here to nominate officers for the town of Florence, and the following were nominated: R. A. Dulaney, Police Judge; Lum Clutterbuck, Marshal; Ozark Ryle, John Buckner, James Aheran, John Olsner, sr., Lee Eddius, for councilmen.

Hathaway.

Sept. 12—Some cooler weather last week.

Farmers are housing their tobacco.

Some corn has been put in the shock.

Joe Reed was visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Elston, last week.

Mrs. Bertha Rice, of Bellevue, was the guest of Mrs. Sarah White, one day last week.

Mrs. Caroline Ryle and son went to Gallatin county on a visit, several days last week.

L. M. Stephens has moved into Mrs. Inez Conley's residence and is a citizen of our burg again.

Things funuy to see:—Everett Franks trying to dig a cistern a new way. Two men hunting tobacco worms with a shot gun.

Rev. John Presser is at home on a visit from Sistersville, Virginia, where he is pastor of a church. We had the pleasure to hear a sermon preached by him at Big Bone, last Sunday. The eastern climate agrees with him to some extent.

Walton.

Mrs. A. S. Arnold and son, Herman, of Covington, are the guests of Mrs. Eliza Arnold.

Mr. Leslie Vallandingham is building a handsome residence at the north end on Locust street.

Mrs. Dr. Jones was delighted with the visit of her three uncles, Messrs. Charles, Zachary and Wm. Whitson, last week.

Mrs. Geo. W. Collinsworth, of Dry Ridge, was the pleasant guest of Mrs. N. M. Northcutt and Mrs. E. P. Holder, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Adams and Miss Matilda Camp, of East Liverpool, O., have returned home after a delightful visit to Mrs. S. L. Edwards.

Mesdames Northcutt and Collingsworth were down on Saturday to see the city in holiday attire. They were somewhat amazed at the gorgeous display.

Mrs. John Schuelder, of Crittenden, was down on a visit to her mother, while herself and Mrs. Fred Shafer were entertaiuing their relatives from a distance.

Miss Mamie Stephens, of Covington, who was visiting Miss Madge Holder, induced her to go down and see the G. A. R. celebration. Miss Holder returned home on Saturday, and says she saw all the sights.

The Walton Academy opened with full classes, and strangers coming in about the nooutide hour are apt to conclude that pretty girls and stalwart boys are as plentiful in Kentucky as are bees about a cider press.

The Snyder Company's canning factory commenced operations last week. The prospect, as previously stated, is anything but bright for a heavy crop of tomatoes. Growers who have not contracted their crops are doing fairly well hauling to the city and selling in the market, realizing from 30 to 50 cts a bushel.

It seems that this correspondent was slightly too previous in sending Miss Edna Ransler to Lexington, last week. She will go this week, and with her will also start Miss Nellie Cleek and Miss Alpha Hance, of Beaver. They are all pretty girls and are sure to be claimed as blue grass or Lexington belles.

Mrs. Brittenhelm had the pleasure, last week, of entertaining some relatives from different localities. They were Christian Oesterle, of Middlesbrook, Mo.; Mrs. Schlenker and daughter, Louise, of Wakokonema, O.; Mrs. George and Miss Frederica Hehr, of Broadwell, Ky. Albert Brittenhelm took the whole party on a wagon to the big Snyder Co. Cannery, which they enjoyed hughely.

A young man was the subject of much favorable comment as he passed along the street, last Sunday, with a party of young ladies. He was different from the usual stop-over young gentlemen that linger in the burg. Interest in him was greatly heightened when it was seen that he was particular in his attentions to the young, black-eyed belle of the North End. It was learned that he is prominent in Louisville, and came up here with the sole object of seeing the little dark-eyed beauty.

Constance.

Wm. Reeves is out on crutches.

L. A. Loder will move his family to this place.

The camp meeting closed Sunday with eight additions.

Miss Richmond, of Moores Hill, Ind is visiting Miss Zimmer.

Everybody from here took in the G. A. R. parade, last week.

R. H. Hood, of Knightstown, Ind., is visiting his parents, this week.

Mrs. Spalding, of Trautman's Station, Ohio, was visiting at B. F. Zimmer's, last week.

Hon. H. L. Coffy, a promiuent lawyer, of Dixou, Ill., was visiting Dr. Murat, last week.

Rev. G. W. Watkins preached one of his eloquent sermons at the Christiau Church, Saturday night.

The contractors have commenced putting metal on the new pike from this place to Covington.

Union.

Sept. 12.—Miss Lillian Corbin is threatened with fever.

The cool weather has hasteued the cutting of tobacco.

Elbert Rice has shed his city tog aud gone to regular farming.

Martin Weaver and family left for Georgetown, Saturday morniug.

John Garrison has sold a lot of farm gates and delivered them Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Vaughn united with the Baptist church, Sunday morning.

Rouse & Son have finished sawing a lot of walnut lumber for Ohio parties.

R. T. Clements is preparing to build a fancy front yard fence of woven wire.

Mrs. Noble Winston, of Louisville, is the guest of relatives in Union and vicinity.

Esq. Norman brought a new buggy out from the city, Saturday, for Mr. Gibson.

Mr. John Baker is out again. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were both seriously ill for sometime.

The inimitable and only Wm. Respass, Esq., of Kenton county, was calling on relatives and friends here, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Feddler, of Williams, Iowa, were the guests of M. C. Norman and family, Saturday and Sunday.

Col. David Castleman passed through our town, one day this week, and asked for nothing better than a cool drink of Adam's ale and got it.

Mrs. H. A. Hicks, Mrs. Sallie Hicks, David Hicks, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hicks were the guests of J. W. Kennedy and wife, Sunday.

Tom Judge has been keeping batch for some time, but is smiling again since Mrs. Huey returned from a visit to the north end of the county.

J. L. Fraizer had a fine buck killed by a horse while he was attending the G. A. R. blowout, last week. He has ordered another from Mr. Alexander at $30.

The Agricultural Editor of Union Blade will begin, this week, to gather his crops of coffee, cotton, kershaws and gourds. He is expecting 700 bushels of coffee to the acre; the cotton is short.

About 1845, Wm. Johnson moved from Boone county to Illinois with his family. Four of his sons, Henry, Richard, Wm. and James came to Cincinnati during the reunion and visited the scenes of their childhood in Boone. They were the guests of Mott Houston and family, Sunday. Prof. Voshell, an old playmate of their childhood days was invited to spend the day with them and the good time they had calling up pleasant recollections that for 47 years have slumbered in the cradle of separation can be better imagined than told by the writer. So we draw the veil.

Mr. Andrew Ellis, of Beaver, called in Union, Friday. He was one of the Morgan men entertained by the 7th Ohio regiment in Cincinnati during the G. A. R. reunion. Mr. Ellis recounted some war history and we could see the lightning of war flash from his eyes and could imagine just why and how 1700 such brave spirits could make 4,000 Yanks carrythe mail at Hartsville and other points along the line of march through Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio. He says they were treated royally by the 7th Ohio, and while they excited lots of curiosity on the streets, no one offered the slightest insult. They took no part in the parade, but quietly enjoyed themselves in social intercourse around the banquet table, where anecdotes were told, speeches made and songs sung.

Union can furnish a quartette of "fruit swipers" the earth cannot beat. They range in ages from 10 to 18 years, and in size, from a wagon spoke to a full grown, blue-faced monkey with all the colors of the rainbow on the seat of his pants. They can clean up the product of a melon patch quicker than a Wm. Goat can wag his tail, or eat the weeds out of school house yard, and never know the difference. They go forth with the sun and come forth with everything in sight, except what they carry under their belts. Such boys are walkiug dictionaries of knowledge on short cuts and irregular habits, and when taken as mathematical problems terms are inverted, adding numerators for new numerators and denominators for new denominators, and dividing by four you have nothing left. These boys are beginners in the spring and go into winterquarters as old hands, and do business on a 20 per cent. basis all the winter at the corner grocery. They will sit in the shadow of a church steeple all day and then go home to throw rocks at their grand mother. They take a lean on your front fence and also take your home if it isn't chained down at both ends with a first mortgage.

Bellevue.

Ryas Kidwell, of Kansas, is visiting his mother at this place.

Mitt Beemon, of Gunpowder, was on our streets, last Saturday.

Miss Lula Oswald, of Aurora, is the guest of Miss Clara Maurer.

Quite a number from here attended the encampment at Cincinnati.

Jacob Cook, of Wooiper Height[illegible] was visiting friends here, last Sunda[illegible]

Mrs. J. Frauk Grant, of Balti[illegible] is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hu[illegible]

Geo. Walton and wife, of M[illegible] are the guests of relatives in thi[illegible] ty.

Miss Willard, of Anderson, Indiana, is the guest of Misses Anna and Martha Swartz.

James Clutterbuck and wife, of Burlington, were the guests of the Arnolds, Sunday.

[illegible] so plentiful with Bob Bra[illegible] the is baiting his fish-nets [illegible]

[illegible] is being harvested and [illegible] make a good article if properly cured.

Legrand Gaines and wife were guests of Mrs. Gaines' brothers, last Friday and Saturday.

Audrew, and brother, W. L. Acra and wife were the guests of Charlie Acra on the 7th inst.

Wm. Ryle and Cordie Acra, daughter of Joseph Acra, were married in Lawrenceburg, last Wednesday.

Wm. Deck and Chas. Maurer have loaded a shanty boat with willow ware and raw material and will float as far south as Green river.

Miss Alice Moody was married on the 7th inst., to a Mr. Boyle, of Hamilton, Ohio. Miss Alice has a host of friends who extend congratulations.

James, Robert and Wm. Garnett, sons of Joel Garnett, with two daughters of the second named, from Hancock county, Ill., have been the guests of Lamora Huey for several days.

Conrad Osher and wife, of Missouri, are visiting Richard and James Loudon, brothers of Mrs. Osher. Mr. Osher has been absent from here near thirty years, and was glad to meet his relatives and friends.

Wm. Grant, one of Morgan's command, responded to an invitation of the Seventh Ohio Cavalry, to meet with them at Cincinnati on the 7th. He says this is the regiment with which Morgan's men frequently crossed swords. While there he met two of his old comrades, viz: Asa Platt and Benj. Emerson, the latter being captured and in prison with him and came home and stayed with him during a fortnight in July, 1865. They had not met within the 33 years until last week. Happy must have been the meeting. Mr. Grant says he received much kind treatment from the boys in blue while at Cincinnati — they not only opened their hearts but their purses as well.

Limaburg.

William Utz is done cutting tobacco.

Legrand and James W. Utz are done cutting tobacco.

Farmers have begun sowing wheat and cutting tobacco.

John Aylor and wife were visiting friends in Bromley, Sunday.

Jack Frost was threatening a visit to this section, a few days since.

A. F. Crigler killed a spreading adder three feet long the other day.

Isaac Crome and wife, of Indiana, are visiting Mr. Mike Wilhoit and wife.

Miss Flora Youell's school is progressing nicely. She has about 35 scholars.

Cland House is now a citizen of Kidville, having moved there Saturday.

Miss Frances Riggs, who was operated on for cancer, is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Lewis Helm, of Birmingham, Alabama, was visiting T. B. Aylor and family, Monday.

Henry Clore and wife, and James M. Utz and L. S. Beemon, attended the G. A. R. parade on the 7th.

Mrs. Luther Strafer, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Jennie Seaman, of Covington, are visiting at Jacob W. Rouse's.

R. E. Tanner, of Harriman, Tennessee, who was visiting his father and friends in this vicinity, returned last Thursday.

A party of government surveyors reached here Monday. They are taking a level of the roads of the county, preparatory to publishing a map.

Pt. Pleasant.

Sept. 12.—We are sorry to report that Mrs. Lydia Scott is no better.

Miss Nora Rucker has returned to school at Madison Institute, Richmond, Virginia.

Miss Lillie Hegner, of Cincinnati, has returned home after several days' visit at Webb Riggs'.

Mr. Sherman Hedges, of Los Angeles, Cala., spend Sunday with his mother in this neighborhood.

Messrs. James Helm and wife, and Claud Riggs and wife, have returned to their homes at Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Frank Russell and mother, Mrs. Lucretia Hood, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Covington.

Messrs. Will Stansifer and Wood Kendall, of Centralia, Illinois, are the guests of relatives in this neighborhood.

Mrs. Mella Anderson and grand-daughter, Miss Ruth Weakley, of Laffayette, Ind., are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Bird Clore and wife, and Miss Eva Riggs and Albert Riggs, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Bert Scott and wife, of Fairview.

Mrs. Julia Stansifer, Miss Rachel Stansifer and Harry Stansifer, of Covington, and Mr. Clarence Stansifer, of Shelbyville, Ind., spent Sunday with J. M. Riggs and family.

Rabbit Hash.

Sept. 10.—All enjoy the cool weather.

Mode Scott and wife are visiting in Erlanger, this week.

Hale Keeny has a large school at Victory school house.

John Calvert took in the sights in Cincinnati, last week.

Walter Ryle is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Benj. Stephens, of Florence, is visiting his many relatives in this neighborhood.

Ed Huey and little daughter, and Mrs. Bettie Scott, of Illinois, are visiting their relatives here.

A great many are taking advantage of the good roads and cool weather to haul their coal from the yard here.

A great many from here attended the Florence Fair, on Friday and Saturday, while a few attended the Enterprise Fair.

Mrs. Marry Cunningham and Miss Mary Hawkins have returned home after a two weeks' visit with their sister, Mrs. F. M. Stephens.

A good rain is very much needed.

Water is getting scarce in the creeks again.

Oscar Ryle has been doing the painting act this week.

Capt. Kottmeyer, of Coustance, will make application next County Court day for a renewal of his ferry license.

The daily papers are fearfully off in some of their statements in regard to the tragedy near Erlanger, last Sunday.

Arthur Rouse is recreatiug out on his father's farm. He is withiu earshot of Col. Jack Saudford, who is relied on to keep his friend from laboring too hard.

A pistol fell out of a fellows pocket in a barroom at Williamstown, one day last week, and was discharged by the fall, the ball taking effect in a colored man's head, killing him instantly.

At the last accounts Watson and Michaels, who were wounded in the fight at Erlanger, Sunday, were getting along as well as could be expected. McCoy was buried yesterday. Young Michaels' funeral will take place today.

Moses Scott and his sou, Frank, of the Rabbit Hash precinct, were breaking a young horse last week. It got the advantage of them when driving it in a cart, and threw them out, hurting both of them considerably but not seriously.

Capt. Ben Wilson, of Rabbit Hash, will, in a few days launch a new ferry boat. It will be propelled by horse power, and it is claimed that besides being the most commodious ferry craft between Ciucinnati and Louisville it will be the swiftest.

The men who took the elevatious of different points along the Burlington and Florence pike, say that the top of the little hill just this side of Mrs. Bailey's toll gate is the highest point. It is over 500 feet higher than Cincinnati, which is 400 feet above the sea level.

FARMERS INSTITUTE.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 17th, 1898.

Harvest Home Grounds.

Everybody invited and bring well filled baskets.

PROGRAMME:

1. Overture.
2. Opening Address.....E. L. Riley.
3. Music.
4. Address.....Hon. N. S. Walton.
5. Music—Vocal Quartette—by Golden Grange of Union.
6. Essay.....Hon. J. L. Frazier.
7. Recitation....Miss Bernice Duncan.
8. Music—vocal.....Miss Anna Rice.
9. Address.....Hon. Aaron Jones, Master National Grange.
10. Music—vocal....Miss Zayda Gaines.
11. Essay.....Miss Nannie Bristow.
12. Music—Instrumental.
13. Address.....Dr. J. D. Clardy, Master State Grange.
14. Music.

Exercises will begin at 10 a. m.

Mass Meeting.

Hebron, Ky., Sept. 8th, 1898.

We, the undersigned patrons and taxpayers of School District No. 34, Boone county, Ky., in mass meeting assembled, take this method of protesting against the spending of our money in employing a teacher against the expressed wishes of a majority of the patrons; also against the teacher for accepting the school under the same circumstances:

E. A Tanner,	Wesley Warner,
J. L. Conner,	John Warner,
Chas. Regenbogen,	Geo. B. Ritchie,
W. L. Clore,	H. J. Aylor,
John T. Aylor,	J. C. Garnett,
D. Anderson,	John Ernst,
S. W. Aylor,	W. W. Tanner,
M. L. Crutcher,	C. G. Smith,
Harvey Aylor,	Fred Wahl,
Frank Whitcomb,	S. Wahl,
Harry Carder,	George Heist,
G. O. Hafer,	Mike Stahl,
J. H. Tanner,	J. M. Bruce,
Wilson Warner,	Kittie Smith,
John Beall,	Sam Helm,
Elwood Warner,	Charles Moore,
Jas. E. Conner,	Len Crigler,
Mike Dye,	Henry Hafer,
Henry Crigler,	B. S. Clore,
Maria Clore,	W. T. Aylor,
Joel Rouse,	R. L. Aylor,
M. A. Rouse,	A. L. Garnett,
James Beall,	W. R. Garnett,
M. J. Anderson,	Alice Carder,
Alice Rouse,	Corey Utz,
A. G. Winston,	George Clark.

NOTICE.

All parties wanting to buy fruit trees this fall will find it to their advantage if they see the splendid varieties offered for sale by MRS. CALLIE SLEEVYS, on the Afterkirk farm near Beaver.

For Sale.

A farm of 48 acres, well improved, well watered, good brick house of six rooms, barn, stone milk house suitable for dairying, and other out buildings, situated on the Limaburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike one mile from Anderson Ferry. For terms write or call on H. F. RUSELLS, Constance, Ky.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

R. T. CLEMENTS
—THE OLD—
RELIABLE - GROCER,
UNION, KENTUCKY.

The very best Granulated Sugar, 17 pounds	$1,00	New Orleans Sugar 20 lbs	1.00
Arbuckle Coffee per package	.12	Pure Cider Vinegar, per gal	.30
Gunpowder Tea, the best article, per pound	.60	Headlight Oil, per gal	.10
Lard, per lb	.08	Side Meat, per lb	.09
New Orleans Molasses, gal	.40	Hams, per lb	.11
Sorghum Molases, per gal	.30	Fine Family Flour, per bbl	6.75
		Fine Patent Flour, per bbl	6.25
		Fresh Corn Meal, per bus	.65

Almost everything else one needs in the way of Groceries, and as Cheap; and will say that I will give as FAIR PRICE for PRODUCE as anyone else. I ask my friends to give me a call and see for themselves.

GO TO
C. T. DAVIS & CO., General Merchants,
HEBRON AND CONSTANCE,
A Good Supply of Feed always in Stock.
GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS.

Undertaking Given Special Attention.

A good supply of Coal on hand at Constance at all times.
Hebron. C. T. DAVIS & CO. Constance

H. F. BLASE
535 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.,
Has just received a New and Elegant Stock of
FALL AND WINTER GOODS
For the making of
Gentlemen's Suits and Overcoats,
And notwithstanding the high quality of these Goods, he will furnish them
Cut and Made to Order.
Strictly First-Class, and at the Lowest Possible Prices consistent with Material and Workmanship.
Ready-Made CLOTHING
This department carries a Stock, which for Quality of Goods and Workmanship is not equaled in the three cities, while the price defies competition.
H. F. BLASE, 535 Madison Ave.,
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

The person who expects to get Something for Nothing always gets Deceived.

We do not propose to give you something for nothing, but we do say this, We will give you good, Well Made and Perfect Fitting

CCCC L OOOOO TTTTT H H I NN N GGGG
C L O O T T H H I N N N G
C L O O T H HH I N N N G
C L O O T H H I N N N G
C L O O T H H I N N N G G
CCCC LLLL OOOOO T H H I N NN GGGG

At the very Lowest Prices. Come in and inspect our line of Men's, Boys AND Childrens Clothing
ROLFS & WACHS.
S. W. Cor. Pike St., and Madison Ave.,
Covington, - - Kentucky.

TWO FOR ONE
By Special Arrangement we offer
HOME AND FARM
In combination with
THE RECORDER
For $1.75.
Being nearly the price of the RECORDER alone. That is, for all new or old subscribers renewing and paying in advance, we send
HOME AND FARM ONE YEAR FREE.
HOME AND FARM has for many years been the leading Agricultural Journal of the South and Southwest, made by Farmers and for Farmers. Its Home Department conducted by Aunt Jane, its Children's Department, and its Dairy Department are brighter and better than ever. Renew now and get this Great Journal for the home and the farm FREE!

Local News.

RUPTURE CURED — See Ohio Truss Co. adv. in this paper.

Corn is maturing nicely.

Fine weather for harvesting the tobacco crop.

Read T. J. Hughes' new advertisement in this issue.

We have had some genuine fall weather "allready."

James D. Cloud is entertaining some of his Illinois relatives.

Whooping cough is prevailing among the children down on Woolper.

Mrs. J. H. Ryle has been adding to the looks of her property here by having a new yard fence built.

Perry Rice and wife entertained quite a number of friends at their pleasant country home, last Thursday.

Constable Sheriff is going after the school [illegible] the Florence school district in [illegible] has [illegible]

Hugh Topham, of the Mt. Pleasant neighborhood, was supplying the Burlington people with sweet potatoes Saturday morning.

The farmers should have an interesting meeting at the Institute next Saturday. Hon. J. D. Clardy will deliver an interesting address.

Some body raided Miss Alice Souther's peach trees, one night not long since. Anybody that would rob a sick lady is too mean to live.

Typhoid fever is prevailing in several neighborhoods in the county. No cases have developed in this immediate neighborhood recently.

It is said if there were no birds man could not live in this country. It has been discovered that birds are decreasing, so look out, poor man.

The bound volumes of the Acts of the last session of the Legislature have been received by the county clerk for delivery to those entitled to them.

Several parties have each agreed to give one day's hauling of stone free, for the hill this side of W. J. Rice's, and he is now ready to receive the work.

The temperature was very near the frost line a few nights the last week, but as the cuckle burrs are not ripening frost need not be expected for at least 24 hours.

Now is the time to subscribe for the RECORDER. You can get it from now until Jany. 1900 for $1 50. If you are in arrears pay up and get the benefit of this offer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Utz, of Erlanger, and Mr. Thornton, of near Independence, Kenton county, were married, last week. It is the bride's third and the groom's second marriage.

The ex-confederate soldiers who visited the Seventh Ohio at Cincinnati, last week were pleased with the cordial reception they were given by the old soldiers whose guests they were.

License were issued Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Clarence E. Rector, of Kenton county, and Miss Ella G. Tanner, of Richwood, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tanner.

H. W. Smith, proprietor of the Burlington, Southeast corner Third and Broadway, Cincinnati, will be pleased to entertain, free of charge, the Boone county delegates attending the Baptist Association in session in Covington, this week.

The Following are the delegates from the Burlington Baptist church to the association in Covington this week: D. E. Castleman, B. W. Adams, P. A. Rice, J. W. Kelly, R. S. Cowen, Robt. Wilson. From Erlanger: P. C. Johnson, J. O. Huey, Dr. Blanton, A. J. Abbott, M. J. Hoover.

Lennie Eddins was driving the mail wagon one morning last week, and at Owen Tanner's the horse shied at a pile of unbroken rocks and ran down a bank and upset the wagon. In the scramble the horse was thrown and the shafts were broken off of the wagon. Lennie got out of the mixup without being hurt. The horse got a few slight scratches.

Last Saturday the County Clerk issued a marriage license to Binford H. Howlett, of Missouri, and Mrs. Mary Ann Gibre, of this county. They were married, Sunday, at the residence of James Taylor, near Hamilton, Rev. J. A. Kirtley officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Howlett, after spending a few weeks with friends in this county, will leave for their home in Missouri. This is the second matrimonial venture for each. The groom is a son of the late Ingram Howlett, of this county, and has lived in Missouri for sixteen years.

The North Kentucky Agricultural Association held its annual election last Wednesday. The old board was retained without a single change. The stockholders' meeting instructed the directors to declare and pay a 25 per cent. dividend. It looks like a tremendous dividend, but it must be remembered that the Association has been three years earning this amount, so the stockholders have realized only eight and one-third per cent. on their money. The stockholders also voted in favor of a three days' fair next year, and for but one judge in the exhibition ring.

A stranger, claiming that he was buying honey for Louisville tobacco manufacturers, struck the town last Sunday morning, and without an invitation stopped at the home of James and John Strouse and Mrs. Rose Bradberry. He said his buggy broke down between Burlington and Florence, and that he had sent it back to the latter place for repairs. He was pretty well dressed, except as to his shoes, which were badly dilapidated. He was about six feet tall; had whiskers sprinkled with gray, and appeared to be about 55 years old. Very little stock was taken in his statements. He moved on in the afternoon.

A SUNDAY BATTLE.

Neighbors Fall Out About A Trivial Affair And Use Their Pistols.

Two Men Are Killed Outright And Two Others Are Badly Wounded.

The Outskirts Of Erlanger The Scene Of The Awful Tragedy.

Erlanger is very much stirred up over a pitch battle with terrible results that occurred in the outskirts of the town, last Sunday about 3 p. m. Two men, Joseph Michaels, son of Martin Michaels, and Jones McCoy, a West Virginian, who had been at work for John Watson about six months, were killed outright, Michaels being shot through the heart, and McCoy through the neck. John Watson received three wounds, one in the shoulder, one in the stomach and one in the chin and throat, the latter being considered very serious as it is thought the ball ranged towards the lungs. Ben Michaels received two flesh wounds, one in the arm, the other in the hip.

John Watson and Martin Michaels are neighbors, living but a few hundred yards apart, each being engaged in the dairy business. At the fair, week before last, each exhibited a farm team, Michaels taking first and Watson, second premium. It seems that the best of feeling did not exist between Michaels and Watson previous to the contest at the fair, and it widened the breach Last Sunday Joe Michaels, on his way home from a game of base ball, passed Watson's barn, where he met Watson, and the result of the show at the fair was again discussed and hot words ensued. Each of the men were armed with a pistol, but agreed to and did lay their guns aside, and began a fist fight, during the progress of which they separated and gathered their pistols and began using them. It is said Mrs. Watson took part in the shooting, and it is claimed that she fired the shot that killed Joe Michaels. Some say she did all the shooting on the Watson side.

It seems from the best information obtainable that McCoy was accidentally shot. Ben Michaels says he never shot at McCoy at all. He was, doubtless, the victim of a ball intended for another.

This terrible affair cast a gloom over the country for miles around, and little else has been discussed in Erlanger since it happened, as the parties are prominent citizens of that neighborhood.

The parties to the shooting disagree as to who brought on the trouble, but it is pretty certain that McCoy was shot accidentally, as he was some distance away. The doctors cannot determine whether Watson was shot two or three times.

DEATHS.

FINCH.—Charles A. Finch was born in Burlington, January 8th, 1879, and died at Chickamauga Park, Georgia, September 6th, 1898, aged 19 years, 7 months and 28 days.

The deceased was the only son of Thomas W. and Permelia A. Finch, of this place. When war with Spain was declared, last spring, he at once became interested, and made several efforts to enlist to fight for the cause of his country. Not being a stout looking young man he was not accepted until the 16th of last June, when he was mustered in at Lexington as a member Capt. Hardeman's Company, Second Kentucky Infantry. He was much pleased with the life of a soldier, and had told his comrades, repeatedly, that if the Second Kentucky was mustered out he would reinlist.

About ten days before his death he was stricken with typhoid fever, and grew worse rapidly. His uncle, Charlie Riddell, of Williamstown, hastened to his side, and remained with him until his death. He was in a hospital where he received the very best of attention on the part of both nurses and doctors, but the disease could not be checked.

The remains arrived here about 11 o'clock Wednesday night, and the funeral took place from the family residence at 1 p. m. Thursday, Rev. M. J. Hoover conducting a short service at the house. The floral offerings were numerous, and beautiful, and the grave after being closed looked like a bank of flowers.

It was one of the most affecting funerals ever conducted here, and when "America" was sung at the grave there were but few if any dry eyes.

A young man who gave his name as Heunefield, claiming to be from Campbell county, applied to County Clerk Adams for a marriage license, last Thursday. The would-be bride accompanied the young man but her name was not learned. The groom expectant had no credentials with him that would warrant the clerk in issuing the license. The age of the young lady was given as 20, but Heunefield appeared willing tolswear that she was 21 if that would secure the much desired documents. The officer was obdurate and would not recede from his determination not to issue a marriage license in any case unless he is thoroughly satisfied that all parties interested are consenting. Heunefield left Burlington a disappointed but wiser man.

Dickerson & Dyas, attorneys for A. M. Edwards, of Walton, filed an attachment suit in the Circuit Court, last Friday, against Weeden Dean with Lindsay & Botts, of Owenton; J. G. Tomlin, of Walton; Geo. W. Sleet, of Beaver, and Long & Riddell, of Burlington, as co-defendants. The object of the suit is to enforce the collection of Edward's $5,000 judgment obtained against Dean in the Circuit Court of this county a few terms since. The co-defendants hold mortgages on Dean's property, and Edwards seeks to have these set aside, alleging that they are fraudulent, having been executed to conceal and protect Dean's property and to prevent it being subjected to his judgment.

W. M. RACHAL & CO.,

We say but Little, but what we Say Means Much.

Enterprise Coffee per pound, 10 cents.
Roasted Coffee per pound, 12½ cents.
Fairbank Soap per bar, 3 cents.
Canned Salmon per can, 10 cents.
We will sell you a Good Heavy Fence Binder for 5 cents.

Good Calico per yard, - - 3½ Cts.
Ladies Hose, - - - - 5 "
Cottonade Pants, - - - 85 "
Working Shirts, - - - 25 "
We have the Star Cane, best made, at 35 cents a dozen.

UNION, : : KENTUCKY.

W. C. SLIMER. JOHN HOSHAL.

SLIMER & HOSHAL,
LIVE STOCK SALESMEN,
—UNION STOCK YARDS,—
Cincinnati, - Ohio.
Our Commission Charges are $3 per car load for Hogs, 50 cents per Head for Cattle.
☞Reference:—WESTERN GERMAN BANK, Cincinnati, O. sept1-98

PERSONAL MENTION.

Uncle Yancy Clore does not improve.

Atty. Dyas, of Walton, was in town Friday.

John L. Conner, of Hebron, was in town, Monday.

John H. Ryle, of Erlanger, was in town, Monday.

Dr. Furnish was in Petersburg, on business, Monday.

R. S. Crisler was quite sick for several days last week.

Judge Riddell has been quite sick since Sunday night.

D. Beall, of Hebron, was among the visitors to town Monday.

Miss Fannie Hogan is visiting relatives at Riverside, Ohio.

William Clore, of Clore's Ridge, was in town Saturday afternoon.

Thomas Castleman, of Glencoe, Gallatin county, was in town yesterday.

James Bristow, of Union, came over Thursday evening to attend the K. P. Lodge.

Raleigh Sebree was, recently, visiting relatives near New Columbus, Owen county.

A. M. Edwards, of Walton, was transacting business at the temple of Justice, last Friday.

The messengers to the North Bend Baptist Association left for Covington this morning.

J. A. Wood and wife, of Owenton, Owen county, were visiting friends in this county, last week.

Jailer Adams, wife and daughter and little son, were visiting in Indiana last Saturday and Sunday.

F. P. Walton and wife, of Utzinger, spent Sunday in Burlington, guests of H. W. Blythe and wife.

Walter Cloud and wife, of Plymouth, Hancock county, Illinois, are visiting their relatives in this county.

Leonard Kite, of Waterloo, was calling on one of Burlington's attractive young ladies, Sunday evening.

T. W. Finch and pension agent Halstead, are out interviewing the old soldiers of this part of the county.

Wilbur Rice and mother, of Utzinger were visiting the Gunpowder neighborhood the latter part of last week.

G. T. Gaines bought a new piano for his daughters. It was brought out from the city, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Legrand Gaines were visiting at A. W. Gaines' in the Locust Grove neighborhood, last Friday.

Mrs. J. B. Finnell and daughter, of Georgetown, were guests of Judge Roberts and wife, one day last week.

Willis Arnold and wife, of Slater, Missouri, are visiting their friends and relatives in the Bullittsville neighborhood.

Chas. Wilson is down on Mudlick superintending the saving of the very large tobacco crop in that part of the county.

The many friends of Uncle Elijah Ryle, of the Waterloo neighborhood, are sorry to hear of his declining health.

Frank Maxwell will represent the Burlington lodge K. of P. at the Grand Lodge which meets at Middlesborough this year.

Lewis Calvert, of Kansas City, Kansas, is visiting his brothers in East Bend. He came in to attend the G. A. R., last week.

W. F. McKim was sufficiently recovered from his recent severe attack of cholera morbus, to return to his place of business Monday.

Bernard Hogan is having considerable trouble with his knee, which Dr. Furnish hopes to bring around all right again in a short time.

Thomas Stewart, of the Barkworks, Indiana, was here on a business trip, last Thursday. He is a brother of Mrs. Thos. Sutton, of Bellevue.

O. J. Ryle brought to this office, the other day, a prolific stalk of his growing coffee. He is anxiously awaiting the maturing of his crop.

Mrs. Mose Scott, of the Rabbit Hash neighborhood, was visiting her brother, O. J. Ryle and family, at this place, two or three days, last week.

Mrs. Everett Walton returned to her home in St. Louis, last week, after a pleasant visit of a couple of months or more with her parents near here.

Judge Roberts and family were visiting in the Walton neighborhood, the latter part of last week. Miss Susie is a pupil at the Walton Academy.

W. W. Gaines, of Atlanta, Georgia, was visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Gaines, of the Bullittsville neighborhood, last week.

Rev. Davis, of Richwood, was in town Saturday afternoon An effort is being made to employ him to preach for the Presbyterian church at this place.

Mr. E. H. Snyder, of Gunpowder, was in town, Monday afternoon. He is one of the prosperous men of that neighborhood, and operates a large dairy.

Capt. C. M. Lillard and wife, and Mrs. Ben Selby and son, James, all of Lawrenceburg, Anderson county, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Castleman, last week.

Rev. David Blyth and wife arrived Friday evening to bid their relatives and friends a final adieu before leaving for the far northwest. They start Monday morning.

The Florence school house is receiving a thorough overhauling, and as soon as the repairs are completed, Miss Fannie Finch will begin teaching school there.

Only five citizens of the State of Kansas, and one from Missouri, were meeting old acquaintances and forming new ones, on the streets here last Saturday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Allphin left Sunday afternoon for Verona via of Big Bone. Monday was his date to meet the Verona taxpayers, many of whom were anxiously awaiting his coming.

Joseph Birkle, of Bellevue, says a fellow has no occasion to lie to people with whom he does business. He says tell the truth every time and your conscience is clear and you are not believed, either.

Mr. W. T. Snyder, of Bullittsville, was in town Friday afternoon. He presented Cashier Revill with a beautiful and fragrant bouquet. We did not hear the presentation speech nor that of acceptance.

Dutton Crigler, of Gunpowder, and his son, L. N., of Florida, were in town Monday. L. N. is the owner of the Boone House, and until Monday he had not seen it since the repairs on it were completed.

Milton Goodridge, of Oldham county, was visiting his brothers at Florence, last week. Mr. G. is one of the leading farmers of his county, and stands very high as a good citizen. He changes very little as time passes, and is the genial gentleman of yore.

Mrs. Laura Foster and little daughter, of Jacksonville, Florida, is visiting Mrs. Foster's mother, Mrs. W. C. Goodridge, of this neighborhood. Mrs. Foster looks like the southern climate agrees with her. She reports Everett Foster's health very much improved, and he is again at work in the railroad office.

J. F. Blyth, Hubert Brady and J. M. Lassing are out in the Fairberry, Illinois, neighborhood, this week, trying to kill all the prairie chickens in that part of the country. We expect a train load of deceased chickens to arrive by to-morrow night, as there is no question but they have slaughtered thousands of the feathered tribe by this time.

Chas. Hume, of Mudlick, was the guest of Deputy Sheriff Allphin, last Thursday night. The RECORDER asked Charlie about his crop, and he said: "When I tell you about my corn you wont believe it. A dog chased a rabbit through the fence into the field, the other day, and when the dog jumped over the fence he lit on the ears of corn and ran clear across the field before he could get to the ground." He was not asked about his tobacco.

Atty. C. C. Coleman, of Clay City, Kansas, arrived here last Friday evening for a few days' visit at the home of his childhood. He left here in 1875, going direct to his present home, where he engaged in the practice of law, in which profession he has been quite successful. Mr. Coleman had been to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to which place he was called to defend a soldier from his county, who was courtmartialed for desecrating graves at Bull Run. His client was acquitted of the charge.

Henry S. Johnson, William Johnson, James Johnson and Richard Johnson, of Stafford county, Kansas, brothers of Mrs. Joseph Hensley and Mrs. Charles Clore, are enjoying themselves this week looking over that part of this county in which they spent their childhood days. They were sons of William Johnson, who lived where William Stephens now lives near Utzinger. They left here in 1851, and this is their first visit, and it is needless to say that they meet few familiar faces, while the country has changed until few localities are recognized as those where they spent many happy days in their youth. Charles Clore and Edgar Hensley were showing them around Saturday, and they made a pleasant call at this office.

When in Burlington Call on

J. S. CLUTTERBUCK
DEALER IN
DRY GOODS
Notions, Boots and Shoes,
CORN AND MILL FEED,
☞At Prices to Suit the Times.☜
Agent for B. F. Avery & Co.'s Farming Implements.
J. S. CLUTTERBUCK, Burlington, Ky.

CLEARANCE SALE!
Come and see the Bargains we are giving in SHOES, COST PRICE NOT CONSIDERED.
A REGULAR SACRIFICE!

The Best and Most Complete Line of
GENERAL MERCHANDISE
in the country and our Prices are right. Come and See!

Don't Forget that the New Ball-Bearing Aermotor
Is the Easiest Running and Most Practical Windmill Made.
☞WIND POWER IS CHEAP.☜
T. J. HUGHES,
BEAVER LICK, KY.

JOHN ALLISON,
UNDER-TAKER EMBALMER,
Corner Pike & Russell Streets,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
INDEPENDENT OF UNDERTAKERS' UNION.

DON'S·PILE·CURE
WHY SUFFER AGONY?
When DON'S COMPLETE PILE CURE is guaranteed to cure you. It is the discovery of an eminent physician.
No Knife! No Interruption of Business!
The first treatment brings immediate relief. It has cured thousands, and will cure you.
MR. T. S. WILCOX, prominent merchant, politician and chief of the Chattanooga Fire Department, says:
"After years of suffering, DON'S PILE OINTMENT was recommended to me. The use of one box effected a permanent cure. I voluntarily give you this statement, hoping it will be the means of bringing your wonderful remedy to the attention of others suffering with piles."
Price $1.00, Prepaid to any Address.
DON CHEMICAL COMPANY,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.
CURES·PILES

Take Your County Paper.

—Now Is The Time to SUBSCRIBE.—

To Whom It May Concern.

Having had several of my fowls and rabbits killed by dogs, notice is hereby given that from this date on I will kill any and all dogs found on my farm, either by themselves or with their owners. Please keep your dogs off of my premises if you want them.
W. A. CRIGLER, Limaburg.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Reuben Conner, dec'd., are requested to settle at once, and those who have claims against the same are notified to present them to me proven as by law required J. W. CONNER,
Admr.

Take the Recorder, $1.50 a year.

BOUND TO HAVE ENEMIES

Goodness a Rebuke to Those Inclined Toward Ungodliness.

The Making and Retention of Friends Not an Accident—Friendly Men Will Have Many Friends—Sermon by Rev. Dr. Talmage.

Dr. Talmage in this sermon shows to be a matter of intelligent selection. Text, Proverbs xviii., 24, "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly."

About the sacred and Divine art of making and keeping friends I speak—a subject on which I never heard of anyone preaching—and yet God thought it of enough importance to put in the middle of the Bible, these writings of Solomon, bounded on one side by the popular Psalms of David, and on the other by the writings of Isaiah, the greatest of the prophets. It seems all a matter of haphazard how many friends we have, or whether we have any friends at all, but there is nothing accidental about it. There is a law which governs the accretion and dispersion of friendships. They did not "just happen so" any more than the tides just happen to rise or fall, or the sun just happens to rise or set. It is a science, an art, a God-given regulation.

Tell me how friendly you are to others, and I will tell you how friendly others are to you. I do not say you will not have enemies; indeed, the best way to get ardent friends is to have ardent enemies, if you get their enmity in doing the right thing. Good men and women will always have enemies, because their goodness is a perpetual rebuke to evil; but this antagonism of foes will make more intense the love of your adherents. Your friends will gather closer around you because of the attacks of your assailants. The more your enemies abuse you the better your coadjutors will think of you.

The best friends we have ever had appeared at some juncture when we were especially bombarded. There have been times in my life when unjust assault multiplied my friends, as near as I could calculate, about fifty a minute. You are bound to some people by many cords that neither time nor eternity can break, and I will warrant that many of those cords were twisted by hands malevolent. Human nature was shippedwrecked about fifty-nine centuries ago, the captain of that craft, one Adam, and his first mate running the famous cargo aground on a snag in the river Hiddekel; but there was at least one good trait of human nature that waded safely ashore from that shipwreck, and that is the disposition to take the part of those unmanly dealt with. When it is thoroughly demonstrated that some one is being prosecuted, although at the start slanderous tongues were busy enough, defenders finally gather around as thick as honey bees on a trellis of bruised honeysuckle.

If, when set upon by the furies, you can have grace enough to keep your mouth shut, and preserve your equipoise, and let others fight your battles, you will find yourself after awhile with a whole cordon of allies. Had not the world given to Christ on his arrival at Palestine a very cold shoulder, there would not have been one-half as many angels chanting glory out of the hymn books of the sky, bound in black lids of midnight. Had it not been for the heavy and jagged and tortuous cross, Christ would not have been the admired and loved of more people than any being who ever touched foot on either the Eastern or Western hemisphere. Instead, therefore, of giving up in despair because you have enemies, rejoice in the fact that they rally for you the most helpful and enthusiastic admirers. In other words, there is no virulence that can hinder my text from coming true: "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly."

It is my ambition to project especially upon the young a thought which may benignly shape their destiny for the here and the hereafter. Before you show yourself friendly you must be friendly. I do not recommend a dramatized geniality. There is such a thing as pretending to be en rapport with others, when we are their dire destructants, and talk against them, and wish them calamity. Judas covered up his treachery by a resounding kiss, and caresses may be demoniacal. Better the mythological Cerberus, the three-headed dog of hell, barking at us, than the wolf in sheep's clothing, its brindled hide covered up by deceptive wool, and its deathful howl cadenced into an innocent bleating. Disraeli writes of Lord Manfred, who, after committing many outrages upon the people, seemed suddenly to become friendly, and invited them to a banquet. After most of the courses of food had been served he blew a horn, which was in those times a signal for the servants to bring on the dessert, but in this case it was the signal for assassins to enter and slay the guests. His pretended friendliness was a cruel fraud; and there are now people whose smile is a falsehood.

Before you begin to show yourself friendly you must be friendly. Get your heart right with God and man, and this grace will become easy. You may by your own resolution get your nature into a semblance of this virtue, but the grace of God can sublimely lift it into it. Sailing on the Thames two vessels ran aground. The owners of one got 100 horses and pulled on the grounded ship, and pulled it to pieces. The owners of the other grounded vessel waited until the tides came in, and easily floated the ship out of trouble. So we may pull and haul at our grounded human nature and try to get it into better condition; but there is nothing like the oceanic tides of God's uplifting grace. If, when under the flash of the Holy Ghost, we see our own foibles and defects and depravities, we will be very lenient, and very easy with others. We will look over their characters for things commendatory, and not damnatory. If you would rub your own eye a little more vigorously you would find a mote in it, the extraction of which would keep you so busy you would not have much time to shoulder your broadax and go forth and split up the beam in your neighbor's eye. In a Christian spirit keep on exploring the character of those you meet, and I am sure you will find something in them fit for a foundation of friendliness.

You invite me to come to your country-seat and spend a few days. Thank you! I arrive about noon of a beautiful summer day. What do you do? As soon as I arrive you take me out under the shadow of the great elms. You take me down to the artificial lake, the spotted trout floating in and out among the white pillars of the pond-lilies. You take me to the stalls and kennels where you keep your fine stock, and here are the Durham cattle and the Gordon setters, and the high-stepping steeds, by pawing and neighing, the only language they can speak, asking for harness, saddle and a short turn down the road. Then we go back to the house, and you get me in the right light, and show me the Kensetts and the Bierstadts on the wall, and take me into the music room and show me the bird cages, the canaries in the bay window answering the robins in the tree tops. Thank you! I never enjoyed myself more in the same length of time. Now, why, why do we not do so with the characters of others, and show the bloom and the music and the bright fountains? No. We say: "Come along and let me show you that man's character. Here is a green-scummed frog pond, and there's a filthy cellar, and I guess under that hedge there must be a blacksnake. Come, and let us for an hour or two regale ourselves with the nuisances."

Oh, my friends, better cover up the faults and extol the virtues; and this habit once established of universal friendliness will become as easy as it is for a syringa to flood the air with sweetness, as easy as it will be further on in the season for a quail to whistle up from the grass. When we hear something bad about somebody whom we always supposed to be good, take out your lead pencil and say: "Let me see! Before I accept that baleful story against that man's character I will take off from it 25 per cent. for the habit of exaggeration which belongs to the man who first told the story; then I will take off 25 per cent. for the additions which the spirit of gossip in every community has put upon the story; then I will take off 25 per cent. from the fact that the man may have been put into circumstances of overpowering temptation. So I have taken off 75 per cent. But I have not heard his side of the story at all, and for that reason I take off the remaining 25 per cent. Excuse me, sir, I don't believe a word of it!"

But there comes in a defective maxim, so often quoted: "Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire." Look at all the smoke for years around Jenner, the introducer of vaccination; and the smoke around Columbus, the discoverer; and the smoke around Martin Luther, and Savonarola, and Galilee, and Paul, and John, and tell me where was the fire! That is one of the satanic arts to make smoke without fire. Slander like the world, may be made out of nothing. If the Christian, fair-minded, common sensical spirit in regard to others pre-dominated in the world we should have the millenium in about six weeks, for would not that be lamb and lion, cow and leopard lying down together? Nothing but the grace of God can ever put us into such a habit of mind and heart as that. The tendency is in the opposite direction. This is the way the world talks: I put my name on the back of a man's note, and I had to pay it, and I will never again put my name on the back of any man's note. I gave a beggar 10 cents, and five minutes after I saw him entering a liquor store to spend it. I will never again give a cent to a beggar. I helped that young man start in business, and lo, after a while, he came and opened a store almost next door to me, and stole my customers. I will never again help a young man to start in business. I trusted in what my neighbor promised to do, and he broke his word, and the Psalmist was right before he corrected himself, for "all men are liars." So men become suspicious and saturnine and seifish, and at every additional wrong done them they put another layer on the wall of their exclusiveness, and another bolt to the door that shuts them out from sympathy with the world. They get cheated out of a thousand dollars, or misinterpreted, or disappointed, or betrayed, and higher goes the wall, and faster goes another bolt, not realizing that while they lock others out they lock themselves in; and some day they wake up to find themselves imprisoned in a dastardly habit. No friends to others, others are no friends to them. There's an island halfway between England, Scotland and Ireland called the Isle of Man, and the seas dash against all sides of it, and I am told there is no more lovely place than that Isle of Man; but when a man becomes insular in his disposition, and cuts himself off from the main land of the world's sympathies, he is despicable, and all around him is an Atlantic ocean of selfishness. Behold that Isle of Man.

Now, supposing that you have, by a Divine regeneration, got right toward God and humanity, and you start out to practice my text. "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly." Fulfill this by all forms of appropriate salutation. Have you noticed that the head is so poised that the easiest thing on earth is to give a nod of recognition? To swing the head from side to side, as when it is wagged in derision, is unnatural and unpleasant; to throw it back invites vertigo; but to drop the chin in greeting is accompanied with so little exertion that all day long, and every day, you might practice it without the least semblance of fatigue. So, also, the structure of the hand indicates hand shaking; the knuckles not made so that the fingers can turn out, but so made that the fingers can turn in, as in clasping hands; and the thumb divided from and set aloft from the fingers, so that while the fingers take your neighbor's hand on one side, the thumb takes it on the other, and, pressed together, all the facilities of the hand give emphasis to the salutation. Five sermons in every healthy hand urge us to hand shaking.

Besides this, every day when you start out, load yourself up with kind thoughts, kind words, kind expressions, and kind greetings. When a man or woman does well, tell him so, tell her so. If you meet some one who is improved in health, and it is demonstrated in girth and color, say: "How well you look!" But if, on the other hand, under the wear and tear of life he appears pale and exhausted, do not introduce sanitary subjects, or say anything at all about physical condition. Is the case of improved health, you have by your words given another impulse toward the robust and the sound; while in the case of the failing health you have arrested the decline by your silence, by which he concludes: "If I were really so badly off he would have said something about it." We are all, especially those of a nervous temperment, susceptible to kind words and discouraging words. Form a conspiracy against us and let ten men met us at certain points on our way over to business, and let each one say, "How sick you look!" though we should start out well, after meeting the first and hearing his depressing salute, we would begin to examine our symptoms. After meeting the second gloomy accosting we would conclude we did not feel quite as well as usual. After meeting the third our sensations would be dreadful, and after meeting the fourth, unless we suspected a conspiracy, we would go home and go to bed and the other six pessimists would be a useless surplus of discouragement.

My dear sir, my dear madam, what do you mean by going about this world with discouragements? Is not the supply of gloom and trouble and misfortune enough to meet the demand without your running a factory of pins and spikes? Why should you plant black and blue in the world when God so seldom plants them? Plenty of scarlet colors, plenty of yellow, plenty of green, plenty of pink, but seldom a plant black or blue. I never saw a black flower, and there's only here and there a bluebell or a violet, but the blue is for the most part reserved for the sky, and we have to look up to see that, and when we look up no color can do us harm. Why not plant along the paths of others the brightnesses instead of the gloom?

Do not prophesy misfortune. If you must be a prophet at all, be an Ezekiel, and not a Jeremiah. In ancient times prophets who foretold evils were doing right, for they were divinely directed, but the prophets of evil in our time are generally false prophets. Some of our weather-wise people prophesied we would have a summer of unparalleled heat. It has been a very comfortable summer. Last fall all the weather prophets agreed in saying we should have a winter of extraordinary severity, blizzard on the heels of blizzard. It was the mildest winter I ever remember to have passed. Indeed the autumn and the spring almost shoved winter out of the procession. Real troubles have no heralds running ahead of their somber chariots, and no one has any authority in our time to announce their coming. Load yourselves up with hopeful words and deeds. The hymn once sung in our churches is unfit to be sung, for it says:

"We should suspect some danger near,
Where we possess delight."

In other words, manage to keep miserable all the time. The old song sung at the pianos a quarter of a century ago was right: "Kind words can never die." Such kind words have their nests in kind hearts, and when they are hatched out and take wing they circle around in flights that never cease, and sportsman's gun can not shoot them, and storms can not ruffle their wings, and when they cease flight in these lower skies of earth they sweep around amid the higher altitudes of heaven. At Baltimore I talked into a phonograph. The cylinder containing the words was sent on to Washington, and the next day that cylinder from another phonographic instrument, when turned, gave back to me the very words I had uttered the day before, and with the same intonations. Scold to a phonograph and it will scold back. Pour mild words into a phonograph and it will return the gentleness. Society and the world and the church are phonographs. Give them acerbity and rough treatment and acerbity and rough treatment you will get back. Give them practical friendliness and they will give back practical friendliness. A father asked his little daughter: "Mary, why is it that every body loves you?" She answered: "I don't know, unless it is because I love everybody." "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly."

We want something like that spirit of sacrifice for others which was seen in the English channel, where in the storm a boat containing three men was upset, and all three were in the water struggling for their lives. A boat came to their relief, and a rope was thrown to one of them, and he refused to take it, saying: "First fling it to Tom; he is just ready to go down. I can last some time longer." A man like that, be he sailor or landsman, be he in upper ranks of society or lower ranks, will always have plenty of friends. What is true man ward is true God ward. We must be the friends of God if we want Him to be our friend. We can not treat Christ badly all our lives and expect Him to treat us lovingly. I was reading of a sea fight in which Lord Nelson captured a French frigate, and when the French officer offered Lord Nelson his hand, Nelson replied: "First give me your sword, and then give me your hand."

TROUBLED SCHOOLMA'AMS

They Ran Up Against a Horrid Bank Official and Had to Get Identified.

Banking laws are not taught in the public schools of this city. Evidence of this was given the other day when the teachers assembled in the office of the receiver of taxes to get their checks for July salaries.

During the school year, when the checks for the monthly payments are made out, the principal of each school is notified, and he or she sends for all of the checks belonging to the teachers in that school. Thus, the teachers know nothing about the necessity of identification in banking operations, and the consequences when they had to get their own checks were confusing to themselves and distracting to the clerks charged with the duty of distributing the checks.

The average teacher thought all that was necessary was to walk up to a window, ask for her check, get it and go home. The jaunty manner of those who arrived early proclaimed this, but after an interview at the little barred window they turned away with perplexity on their faces and dejection in their manner of walking. They did not seem to grasp the reason why they must be identified, and tried persuasion and argument on the stolid clerks.

"Why," exclaimed one, "I've been a teacher for 12 years, and this is the first time I've had any trouble about getting my money."

It was explained to her that the identification consisted upon for the teacher's protection as well as for the safety of the paymaster.

"Why," she exclaimed, reproachfully, "I wouldn't ask for the check if I wasn't entitled to it."

Those who arrived at the office later in the day were met by anxious friends and the observation: "You've got to be identified before they will give you your check. Isn't it horrid?"

One girl met this remark with: "Well, come on in; I'll identify you and you can identify me. That's all you have to do. I know, because one day when my brother had given me a check and they wouldn't give me the money at the bank he just walked up to the teller's window with me and said: 'It's all right,' and I got the money."

The two entered the office arm in arm, but the clerk was not impressed by the confident way in which one of the girls said: "It's all right; this is Miss ——, of school No. ——."

"Yes," responded the clerk, "but we do not know you."

"Oh, she is going to identify me after she gets her check," was the ingenious reply.

Along toward noon time the office became crowded with teachers. Expressions such as "Think of it! Isn't it mean," "Why didn't they pay us before school closed?" were heard on all sides.

Some few fortunate ones had in their pockets letters or papers which served to identify them. Their less happy sisters did not entirely understand the mystery by which an addressed envelope shown to the clerk would make him produce your check.

One girl had a bright idea.

"Why, there's Miss ——, of our school; she has her check. Let's make her identify us."

"Do you think they'll let her?"

"You go ask him."

"No; you go."

One of them timidly approached the window. "If one of our teachers has a piece of paper will you give us our checks?" was the trembling inquiry.

"How's that?" was the perplexed rejoinder.

"Why, you gave Miss —— her check just because she had an old letter with her. If she says that we are all right can't we get our money?"

This was said with mingled anxiety and anger, as if the bare thought that they were not all right were infinitely to fis discredit.

"Yes, if she will identify you I'll give you your checks," said the tired clerk.

"It's all right, girls. He will," and then began a hunt through the crowd to find the lucky owner of the letter. She was not to be found, for, during the excitement of the inquiry the others had allowed her to leave the building. The girl who had made the inquiries was almost tearful.

"I think you girls are as mean as you can be, to let her get away after I had gone and talked to that horrid man."

As the number of teachers grew larger the work of the clerks became more burdensome, and they were less disposed to insist upon absolute identification. As it was, few teachers had to leave without their checks, as one teacher from a school, properly identified, finally was allowed to vouch for her fellow teachers.

At the end of the day one tired clerk said, with a yawn: "I've heard funny stories about woman with bank accounts, but I always thought they were stretched a few points. But they weren't, and I'll gamble on it."—N. Y. Press.

Veal Cake.

Cut into dice some cold slices of veal and ham, butter a mold and line the sides and bottom with slices of hard-boiled egg, then fill the mold almost level with the top with veal, ham and small forcemeat balls, season each layer with pepper and salt. Stiffen some stock with a little gelatine and pour this into the mold to quite fill; bake for an hour in a moderate oven, and at the picnic turn out and serve on a bed of salad and sliced beetroot.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Iced Cantaloupe.

Cut the melon pulp in uniform pieces, sprinkle lightly with a tablespoonful of sugar and a saltspoonful each of salt and cinnamon sifted together, pack in freezer can, surround with ice and salt and let stand an hour.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FINANCIAL POISONING.

Damaging Effect of the Gold Standard Upon the Money Circulation.

We have just had a sample of how the party in power in Washington can run a war department. With unlimited money at its command, it has allowed our sick soldiers to die for the want of food and medicines. Geniuses of incompetency have control of the things that affect the very life of the nation. The affair in the war department is but a straw that shows the way the tide is running. The same incompetency controls the financial affairs of the country. Financial blood-poisoning is the result of their doctoring, and the whole commercial life is limited and weakened by it.

Sticking to the gold standard and trying to fasten it so securely on us that we cannot shake it off, they are giving us a credit money instead of a basic money. The circulating medium of a country is the blood of it, and to make the principal part of that circulating medium bank notes is to inject into it the worst kind of poison. It is one of the most potent means of circumventing the people in their right to rule themselves.

We have the material in ourselves of a healthy and abundant circulation. Never was a body better fed or better developed, but we are now refused the right of using the resources we have. The very fact that it is proposed to greatly increase the issue of national bank notes is a proof positive that the men in control know that it is an impossibility to get enough gold to form a safe currency or enough abundant to meet our needs. In working for a great circulation of notes issued by private institutions they tacitly acknowledge our need of the unused silver lying in our mines. That silver would do away with the necessity of having national bank notes. In fact, it is enough abundant to take the place of most of our credit money and give us a large amount of basic money, the only credit money then being necessary would be the United States notes, than which no better credit money exists on the earth.

The great fight between the bimetallists and the monometallists is fast narrowing itself down to a question of whether government shall be for the advancement of private or of public interests. Were there gold enough in the world to take the place of the great quantities of credit money in the world we might believe that the gold standard advocates were sincere in their efforts to displace silver. But since both gold and silver are insufficient in quantity to fill up the gulf we can but conclude that the fight is being carried on with the hidden purpose of making the private interests of the moneyed classes paramount, and with the added purpose of abolishing the rule of the masses of the people in financial matters.

The blood poisoning has been slowly working for nearly a quarter of a century, and we see its effects more and more every day. Business is still far from its normal condition, even after years of depression. The recovery is slow on account of the slowness of the circulation in the body politic. The poison shows itself more and more every day in our politics, where money is coming to have a predominating influence. All of the legislation to better matters is after the nature of outward applications to a blood disease. The blood itself needs purifying. It needs the abolition of the right of national banks to issue and curtail our circulation. It needs further the injection into that circulation of the streams of the white dollars to displace the credit money. In the human body the "white discs" of the blood are the disease destroyers. In the body politic the "white discs" will perform the like act of purification.

H. F. THURSTON.

SOLDIERS STARVED.

Shameful Neglect and Signs of Jobbery in the Military Headquarters.

While death at the hands of the Spanish soldiers has been a rare event during the late war, death from the neglect of the war department has been frequent.

Especial attention to this shameful and criminal condition of affairs has been called in more than one instance, and the death of Lieut. William Tiffany, of the rough riders, in Boston, will intensify the feeling of resentment which has arisen against the war department.

Lieut. Tiffany served at Santiago and was brought north in the Olivette and landed at Boston. He was taken to a hotel, given care, but could not rally. The death certificate signed by Dr. F. M. Johnson gives this as the cause of young Tiffany's death:

"Typhoid due to protracted fevers, due to war life in Cuba, and starvation."

While the government cannot control fevers, it can provide food and medicines and decent shelter for its soldiers, and this it has not done.

There have been criminal blunders in the selections of camps, criminal blunders in sending troops home in pest ships, criminal blunders in exposing men to contagion, criminal blunders in failing to supply medicine and surgeons.

In addition there have been robbery, inefficiency, carelessness and cruel neglect in the commissary department.

Alger has much to answer for, and by the storm of popular indignation which is rising he will be swept out of public life into an oblivion which is his just deserts.

John Sherman is not a copperhead, a democrat or a mugwump, but his voice is for an immediate investigation of the war department.—St. Louis Republic.

DILEMMA OF REPUBLICANS.

Blunders of the Administration Put the Party in a Bad Predicament.

Republican campaign managers find themselves "between the devil and the deep sea."

The ink had not dried on the protocol arranged between this country and Spain before the republican congressional committee announced that its handbook was ready for the mails. Over 60 per cent. of the contents of the compilation was, it was given out, taken up with the recital of how the republican party had brought on and conducted the most successful war of ancient or modern times to a conclusion without the aid, advice or consent of any other political organization.

Before the hot-pressed pages of the handbook were off the press, the "round robin" signed by the generals of the army in Cuba came like a burning simoon to draw public attention upon the horrors of mismanagement by the republican war secretary. Then came the gaunt and hollow-eyed heroes to their native shores and a weaker still in a treeless, [illegible] camp and to tell with trembling voices the story of their privation and neglect. Then came revelations of the unmedicined and unvictualed hospital ships, the mortality and pestilence of the military camps and the political favoritism, jobbery and incompetence responsible for these unnecessary and horrifying conditions. The mass of these exposures have been made since the republican campaign handbook has been placed in the hands of the printer.

Other facts, too, have emerged. Alger and Corbin have been charged with the unparalleled conduct of sending a secret dispatch, calculated to cause a clash of authority between the general in command of the armies of the United States and his subordinate, which might have dangerously intensified the military crisis brought to a focus by Shafter's bungling management of the Santiago campaign had it not been for the good sense, promptness and firmness of the former.

Gen. Miles' coming will be the determining point in the course of the republican administration as to whether or not the charges against the war department will be subjected to the searching inquiry which is demanded by an overwhelming majority of the American people, the democratic and independent press, and all the republican organs that have not been damnalized. The president is said to be wavering between duty and the counsels of the men who have been the controlling element in republican politics and have supplied it with its biggest scandals.

If an investigation is staved off till after the fall election, it will be looked upon by the people as an exhibition of cowardice that is equivalent to a full confession of the sins laid at the door of that large segment of republican official life known as Algerism.

If an investigation is ordered, the damaging facts that have already been ventilated will receive the sanction of judicial corroboration.

In either event, the criminal blunders committed by republican officialdom will come in for a scathing rebuke at the hands of the outraged and deceived people on the eighth day of November next.

Chairman Babcock has done wisely to take his prematurely advertised handbook out of the hands of the printers and to hold it for correction and revision.—St. Louis Republic.

OPINIONS AND POINTERS.

——The salutation among Ohio republican politicians now is: "Good morning; is John Sherman hot enough for you?"—Dallas (Tex.) News.

——It is a poor day for politics in this country when the republican press cannot find some awful (?) fight in the democratic ranks to sputter about.—Buffalo Times.

——Up to date, so far as has been announced, no American girl has attempted to kiss Secretary Alger or any of the officials in the various bureaus of his department.—N. Y. Press (Rep.).

——It is announced that "Mark Hanna has been done in marble." This will not, however, have the effect of putting a stop to the efforts of several Ohio republicans, who propose to "do" him in politics.—Binghamton (N. Y.) Leader.

——The republican goldite organs are boasting over the large surplus in the United States treasury. They seem to be unaware that a large surplus in the public treasury means a large deficit in the circulation of money for business purposes. It does, however.—Illinois State Register.

——For a gentleman who was supposed to have been quietly and decently interred the venerable John Sherman is dancing around in a most lively and menacing fashion. It looks as though Mark and the major would have to set to work and bury him all over again—a most disagreeable job when the deceased persists in kicking off his winding sheet and chasing the mourners with an ax.—Chicago Chronicle.

——Concerning the silver issue ex-Gov. Altgeld says: "I have been asked if the silver question would be prominent in this campaign. Well, gentlemen, you might ask will you have winds in September or will you have frosts in winter. We are getting back to 50 cent wheat, with all the hardships, all the embarrassments, all the trouble that that implies, and the moment you step outside of Chicago you will be confronted by nearly 3,000,000 of people who are directly affected by it. Now, then, that money question is there. You can discuss it or not, just as you please, but it is there in the minds of the people."

AGRICULTURAL HINTS

A HANDY BUILDING.

Upper Story is a Workshop and Tool House, the Basement a Comfortable Winter Shelter.

One of the great drawbacks with some farmers is that their outbuildings are not arranged conveniently or with any thought of economy. This is something during these days of rapid progress and desperate competition that will not do. Saving in little things may often seem too trivial, we admit, but if not carried to the point of folly, wise and pound foolish" it is safe to plant the most gigantic family has dig pyramid of any industry. In fact many farmers have sunk fortunes in machinery of every description simply for the want of properly housing and taking care of it! Then, numerous are the dollars paid out yearly for small repairs, which, if the farmer only had a few tools and a suitable place in which to work, could often be saved. Indeed, a workshop on the farm is a necessity—an essential part of the farm machinery—and in case a convenient spot is at hand the general farmer can do nothing better than erect a building similar to the one shown in the accompanying illustration.

COMBINATION FARM BUILDING.

As can be seen, it is located against a bank. This affords a basement which for housing poultry and swine in winter is not easily, as far as warmth goes, to be surpassed. The second floor is for storing various agricultural tools and implements, from the hand to the wheel rake, and from the ordinary sickle to the mowing machine and reaper, while one corner—preferably on the sunny side—is partitioned off into a workshop. Being equipped with a work bench and heating apparatus, the farmer herein can pass many a stormy day, no matter what the season of the year is, constructing berry and vegetable crates, mending harness or doing whatever tinkering work is required on the farm or in the house.

An extensive set of tools is not required. Simply a few of the most practicable ones will suffice, such as various sized augers and bits, handsaws, square and scratch awls and a good vise, so that saw filing and the like can be done. Paint and varnish should also be in stock, for then, not to mention any article which has been made, the harrows, plows, cultivators, and, in fact, all agricultural implements from which the paint has worn off may on coming in in autumn or at any other time be brushed over, and so prevent the iron from rusting. Furthermore, there should be kept a shoemaker's outfit (it can be bought cheap to-day), for this comes handy in mending harness and so on, as well as boots and shoes. Best of all, however, the work and tools being confined by themselves, there is no dirt about the house or other buildings while the tools, if not carried away, are always in their place. The truth is, combining two buildings thus into one serves two highly desirable purposes—there is only one roof called for to cover both and for the animals housed upon the lower floor exceptionally warm quarters are provided.—Frederick O. Sibley, in N. Y. Tribune.

The Horse and His Teeth.

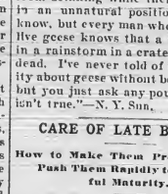
When a horse does not appear to thrive as he should on his food, and the most careful observation fails to account for his condition, it is wise to have his teeth carefully examined, especially the back jaw teeth or molars. An irregularity of these is often the unsuspected source of the evil. The molars occasionally wear irregularly; sometimes the upper border overlapping the external surface of the lower, while the internal surface of the lower rises to a corresponding height within the mouth. In such cases sharp points are found where the wear has been slightest, and these roughnesses lacerate the inside of the cheek and cut the sides of the tongue, so that mastication is performed not only with difficulty, but with pain. The consequence is that the food is not properly prepared for the stomach, and passes through it without assimilating to a full extent its nutritive principles.—Prairie Farmer.

Demand for Fat Lambs.

Prof. Henry says, in Feeds and Feeding, the demand for well-fattened lambs steadily increases, the tender, juicy meat finding favor among Americans. Not only do prices for fat lambs rule high as compared with mature sheep and farm animals generally, but there are other advantages in favor of feeding of lambs before they reach maturity. A given weight of feed goes further with the lambs than mature sheep; the money invested is sooner returned, and there is less risk from death and accident. Thus, everything tends toward hurrying lambs to market as rapidly as they can be fattened and as early as they can be disposed of to secure the highest price.

GEESE ARE STUPID.

According to an Old Poultryman They Can't Stand a Rainstorm When Thirsty.



"Geese are peculiar," said an old poultry salesman in Manhattan market. "Put them out in a rainstorm when they have a good thirst on and they are liable to die. About ten years ago I was engaged by a firm to go out through the west and buy live geese and chickens. I bought ten car loads, put them in crates and started east. The geese were in the crates nearest the floor of the open car—that's the regular way to ship them—and on top of them were piled the chicken crates.

"We got about ten miles from St. Joseph, Mo., when the load on one of the cars sagged, and the whole pile of crates was spilled on the side of the track. In piling the crates on again the geese were placed on top. I knew I was taking chances, because a rainstorm meant death to the geese, but there didn't seem to be any storm in sight, and I thought we could make St. Joseph and shift the load there. The train had only gone a short distance when a storm came up so suddenly that the rain was falling almost as soon as the clouds were noticed. The geese had been without water for some hours, and the moment they felt the rain they were stretching their necks through the openings between the slats and holding their bills open to catch the drops. Well, I got an old coat and laid it over as many of the crates as it would cover, so as to save as many as possible. Then I got a switch and tried to force the others to keep their heads inside the crates. They didn't mind the switch very much, and I had to give each one four or five good hits before it would pull in its head, and when I started on a new head the old one would pop up again. When we got into St. Joseph it was still raining, and every goose in the top crates with the exception of those under the coat was dead. Whether they died from drinking too much or from drinking while their necks were in an unnatural position I do not know, but every man who has handled live geese knows that a thirsty goose in a rainstorm in a crate is as good as dead. I've never told of this peculiarity about geese without being doubted, but you just ask any poultryman if it isn't true."—N. Y. Sun.

CARE OF LATE BROODS.

How to Make Them Profitable and Push Them Rapidly to Healthful Maturity.

Last year I raised 300 chicks, but none of them matured and grew so rapidly as the late hatched September brood, and I think it partly due to their generous feeds of cracked corn. Finding that these September chicks were crowded from the feed boards whenever the older flocks were fed, I placed in their yard one of the coop runs, a triangular frame of laths, used earlier in the season to confine mother hens near their coop. I have a dozen of these runs. They are the length of a lath and allow little chicks free ingress and egress, while the mother can not put her head through the slots. The open end of the run, I placed against the yard fence and a dish of cracked corn was constantly kept inside which the larger chickens could not reach. The little fellows quickly learned, when hungry, to dart between the slats of this run and eat their fill, safe from the greed of the grown flock.

COOP FOR FEEDING CHICKENS.

After the snow came, the run was placed in the henhouse, the space between laths increased to allow free passage of this half grown brood, and the dish of cracked corn constantly kept replenished. It has proved just the right food for this late hatched brood, but I doubt if it would be a healthy diet for chicks coming from the shell in hot weather.—American Agriculturist.

NOTES FOR BEEKEEPERS.

Old comb usually thickens with use.

Empty frames of comb should be well taken care of when not in use.

Colonies that are short of stores for winter should be fed during September.

Most colonies, if rightly managed, will build down to the bottom of sections.

If necessary to melt honey, melt it slowly. If melted rapidly it will be spoiled.

The best way of keeping empty combs is to store them in boxes that are mice proof.

By keeping bees in a good, thrifty condition at this time robbing may be prevented.

Beeswax is a valuable product. Every particle of comb should be rendered into wax.

Buckwheat may be sown as late as the first week in August, and will furnish considerable honey.

The objection to using rosin to fasten foundations in the frames is that it will spoil the wax later on.

There is often a considerable difference in the amount of brood in different colonies, and consequently in the amount of honey left in their brood nest.—St. Louis Republic.

GOOD GUNNERS ON THE OREGON

Those of the Old School and New Are Both Proficient as Marksmen.

There is an old gunner's mate on the battleship Oregon who has been in the service over 30 years. He polished and cared for the nine-inch smooth-bore guns of the old navy, transferred his affections to the wicked 60-pounders when they were in vogue, and has finally adopted as his pet and pride one of the monster 13-inch beauties of the Oregon. He cannot read a word, and signs the paymaster's rolls with a cross, yet he knows the intricate mechanism of a breech-loader as a scholar does the alphabet, and he can hit a canvas bull's-eye 2,000 yards away with a 1,100-pound projectile as easily as an expert pool player can make a pocket.

When the ill-fated ships of Admiral Cervera's fleet poked their noses past Morro castle in their desperate and theatrical attempt to escape from Santiago harbor, this grizzled old gunner's mate was engaged in his usual task, that of lovingly shining up the glossy coat of his 13-inch pride. When the cry went up that the enemy was escaping and the drums and bugles and gongs hastily sounded general quarters, he gave a few finishing touches to the muzzle, then quietly took his station in the turret. Presently turning to a young seaman gunner next to him, he said: "Charlie, I'll bet you a month's pay that I make a better shot at the dago beggars than you. What d'ye say?"

"Done," was the prompt reply. Ten minutes later the old gunner's mate squinted his eye along the sight, signaled the man at the training lever to ease off a little, took the range from the officer in charge of the division, then gave the firing lanyard a quick jerk. When the smoke lifted the eager watchers saw a great yawning hole in the port bow of the Almirante Oquendo.

A cheer came from the men in the turret, and the veteran gloated triumphantly toward the seaman gunner. The latter's turn soon came. The Oquendo, battered and helpless, drifted ashore in flames. The Oregon, accompanied by the Brooklyn, sped on after the fleet-footed Colon. The rapid-fire batteries of both American ships rattled and shrieked after the fugitive. The eight-inch guns rumbled an unceasing chorus as they belched forth their steel shells, and occasionally a deeper roar from the 13-inch monsters would give a mightier volume to the din.

It was after one of the latter shots that the forward turret of the Oregon echoed with a rousing cheer. Charlie, the young seaman gunner, had just dropped the firing lanyard from his hand, and it was seen that the Colon's conning tower was in ruins. "He told me before he pulled the lanyard that he would fetch it," exclaimed one of the gun's crew, admiringly, "and he did it."

These shots, absolutely marvelous under the circumstances, were fired by men representing the two extremes of the service. The old gunner's mate gained his skill through years of experience; the seaman gunner, scarcely of age, was the product of a modern system of training. Both were American gunners, and that means something these days.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

BUY ALL THE MEDICINES.

There Are People Who Like to Try Everything in the Drug Line That Comes Along.

"You have heard of opium fiends and all the other so-called fiends who buy narcotics or poisons and dose themselves with them," said the druggist, "but did you ever know there was a class of all-around drug fiends?

"I mean," continued the druggist, "the persons who make a habit of sampling all the new patent medicines as they come on the market, and also think up combinations of their own. Every long-established druggist has a score of such customers. It is like this. A man will come in, take a stroll around the store, looking at the sponges and tooth brushes in a vacant way, and then say, as if the thought had just occurred to him: 'Say, I hear there's a new remedy for the liver. I've forgot the name—begins with a B.' I get down the bottle, he asks me if it is any good, and I reply that it has a great many testimonials, and he walks off with it. The next week he comes in and buys a bottle of something for the kidneys, and the next week a sovereign remedy for consumption.

"Now this man is only one in twenty or more, and some of them bring in the most remarkable homemade prescriptions—the Lord knows where they get them—and I fill them, although I can't imagine what ailment they can be good for. Do I ever remonstrate with these fiends? Not now; I used to talk to them mildly in my early days, but I only sent them to another store, so I quit. No; I don't think it does them any particular harm. Like that ancient king who fed on poisons until he got immune, these fiends are impervious to drugs, and the only danger in the practice is that they may some day become really ill, and then ordinary remedies will have no effect on them. If the physician they call in has no knowledge of their habit his prescriptions will have no more effect than so much water."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Rather Mean.

"Did the old skinflint give you a reward for returning his pocketbook?" asked the policeman of the little newsboy who helps support his mother.

"Naw; he tried to make me pay fur de advertishin' 'cause I didn't return de stuff 'fore I knowed who it belonged to."—Detroit Free Press.

WOMAN'S HEROISM.

From the Register-Gazette, Rockford, Ill.

During the civil war nearly as much heroism was shown by the women of our nation as by the brave soldiers. Many a woman, weeping for her dead son, bound up the wounds of his suffering comrades, rejoicing in their renewed strength, even while sorrowing for the one who was gone. At that time was laid the foundation for the world-famed organization known as the Woman's Relief Corps, whose aid to the soldier of to-day, fighting against the Spanish foe, is no less notable than the heroism of the '60's.

On the Battlefield.

One of the most earnest members of the corps at Byron, Ill., is Mrs. James Housewert, but illness once put a stop to her active work. A year or so ago, when she was nearing fifty years of age, the time when women must be most careful of their strength, Mrs. Housewert was taken seriously ill. The family physician told her that she had reached a critical period of her life, and must be very careful. His prescriptions and treatment did not benefit her, and other treatment proved unavailing.

At last Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were brought to her notice, with indisputable evidence that they were helpful in cases such as hers, and with renewed hope she tried the remedy. Last March she took the first box of the pills, which gave much relief. She was determined to be cured, and kept on with the medicine, until now eight boxes have been consumed, and she feels like a new woman.

Mrs. Housewert said: "I have taken eight boxes, and have been improving since I took the first dose. I do not believe I could have lived without the pills. They have done me more good than any physician or any medicine I have ever tried."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

WHY HE REPROVED.

There Was Just a Faint Suspicion of Self-Interest in His Complaint.

It isn't every man in Uncle Sam's pay who feels his responsibility as does an old Irishman who is a treasury messenger. Just the other day he was berating an absent clerk for leaving some pins at the edge of his desk where they might be brushed off by anybody passing.

"They'll be swept on the flure," said he, "and wasted, to the extravagance of the government, which is already so hard up it's borrowin' money, it is, to pay expinses, and it's a shame, it is, for the min in the government imploy to be wastin' pins which cost money."

There was a general laugh at the earnestness of the old man's complaint, and somebody said he deserved an increase of salary for his devotion to the interests of the country. And then, as the clerks trooped out, the old man said to one of them:

"Yis, it's all right for yees gazoo boys to be laughin' at me. I'll see nothin' wasted here. They kin laugh, but it's not thim that has to go down on their hands and knees to pick up thim pins."—Detroit Free Press.

Touching Kindness.

The bronzed soldier looked at the package addressed to him with moistened eyes. "Blessed angels," he said; they do not forget us." Then he carefully took off the wrappings and found: A nail brush; an ornamental hair receiver, a pair of tidies, a small bottle of mixed pickles, a tract, a handpainted blotting pad and a pants stretcher. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

As It Is in Puerto Rico.

This is what happens in Puerto Rico every morning: "I am not feeling very well this morning, general," says Mr. Miles to Gen. Garretson. "I think I'll take something." "Take something with me," says Garretson to Gen. Miles. "Guess I will," responds Gen. Miles. "I'll just go out and take a town."—St. Louis Chronicle.

Where a Strong Bond Is Needed.

Jeweler—Narrower and lighter wedding rings are fashionable. Why do you want one so broad and heavy?

Customer—We expect to move to North Dakota after the wedding.—Jewelers' Weekly.

Mamma—"It is naughty to tell lies, Eva. People who do so don't go to Heaven, Eva. —Did you ever tell a lie, mamma?" Mamma—"No, dear, never." Eva—"Won't you be fearful lonely in Heaven, mamma, with only George Washington?"—Oswego Daily Palladium.

We are annoyed until we are 30 by the "example" we should follow, and annoyed after that time till death gets us of the "example" we are setting others.—Atchison Globe.

Would-Be Writer—"What do you consider the most important qualification for a beginner in literature?" Old Hand—"A small appetite."—Tit-Bits.

THE MARKETS.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle common to fair	$ 3	@ $ 3 75
Select butchers	4 00	@ 4 45
CALVES—Fair to good light	6 25	@ 6 70
HOGS—Common	3 70	@ 3 85
Mixed packers	3 75	@ 3 85
Light shippers	3 75	@ 3 85
SHEEP—Choice	5 00	@ 5 25
LAMBS	5 00	@ 5 50
FLOUR—Winter family	3 75	@ 4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 65
No. 3 red		@ 62
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 21
Oats—No. 2		@ 22½
Rye—No. 2		@ 40½
HAY—Prime to choice		@ 8 00
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@ 6 62½
Lard—Prime steam		@ 4 75
BUTTER—Choice dairy		@ 11
Prime to choice creamery		@ 20
APPLES—Choice to fancy	1 75	@ 2 25
POTATOES—per bbl	1 25	@ 1 35
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 65	@ 3 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 69½
No. 3 Chicago spring	59	@ 62
CORN—No. 2	30¼	@ 30¾
OATS—No. 2		@ 20¾
PORK—Mess	8 50	@ 8 55
LARD—Steam	4 32½	@ 4 40
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 70	@ 4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@ 69½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@ 33½
RYE		@ 50
OAT—Mixed		@ 25
PORK—New mess	10 10	@10 40
LARD—Western		@ 5 07½
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	3 60	@ 4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	67	@ 67½
Southern—Wheat	66	@ 66
Corn—Mixed	34	@ 34½
Oats—No. 2 white	26	@ 26¾
Rye—No. 2 western	50	@ 50
CATTLE—First quality	4 25	@ 4 60
HOGS—Western		@ 4 00
INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@ 65½
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 29½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@ 21½
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@ 4 05
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 67
Corn—Mixed		@ 31½
Oats—Mixed		@ 27
PORK—Mess		@10 00
LARD—Steam		@ 5 00

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

FUNNY THING IN SPELLING.

Learning to Manipulate a Typewriter Gets a Man Into a Queer Habit.

A Cleveland man has set about learning the use of the typewriter. Up to the present time he has had somebody to do his typewriting for him, but now he wants to know how to run it all by himself. He admits that he isn't an apt scholar. It comes slowly. The letters are hard to find and the spacing is so easily forgotten. But there is one thing that amuses him. He is learning to spell and learning in the same way he did when a towheaded boy in the early 60s. Of course he could spell when he tackled the typewriter, but not in the same way. Now he distinctly enumerates each letter, and does it, too, with the greatest care. It is a funny thing, but he finds himself spelling out the words in the newspaper and his wife says he spells them in his sleep.

The other day the minister met him and asked him how he was.

"I-s-s-y w-e-l-l," he gravely spelled out, and when the pastor looked amazed he realized what he had done and hastily explained the cause of the peculiarity. And the minister professed to be greatly interested and wanted to know all about it and the speller is now greatly worried for fear the parson will write a special paper on it for some magazine.

When the minister finally left him he shook hands and said "Good-by."

"G-o-o-d," began the speller and then recollected himself and hastily added "by."

He hopes in time to w-r-i-t-e this peculiarity, and when he increases his speed on the typewriter he no doubt will.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE OFFICIAL TIME.

It Was Carried by the General and Had to Be Recognized as Such.

The necessity that there shall be only one man who "has the say" in a military command is thoroughly recognized in the United States army. A story is told of Gen. Shafter, commander of the American expeditionary force for the invasion of Cuba, which illustrates the punctilio of the regulars in this regard.

At a certain frontier post at which Shafter, who then held an inferior rank, was commander many years ago, a discussion arose among several officers as to the exact time of day. A captain, with his watch in his hand, said:

"It is now exactly three o'clock."

"Oh, no," said a lieutenant, "by my time it's eight minutes past three."

A third officer drew his watch out of his pocket. "I know my time is exactly right," he said, "and my watch says two minutes past three."

At this juncture Maj. Shafter looked at his silver watch.

"I don't know what your watches say," he remarked, "but I wish you to understand that in this command it is five minutes past three."

Then the young officers remembered that the authority of the commanding officer extended even to the time of day.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Thirty-Five Thousand Miles of Calico.

There is enough calico made in the United States every year to make a belt which would go completely around the earth with 10,000 miles of material left for a bow. The great popularity of this fabric is justified by the fact that the goods known as Simpson's Prints are of the highest standard of quality and finish. The colors are absolutely fast and will not fade nor will the goods become limp with washing and wringing, and as the material is cheap and exceedingly pretty, there is little wonder that many millions of yards are used annually in the dresses of women and children.

No Cause for Jealousy.

Mrs. Benham—Don't you really care anything about mother?

Benham—Well, not enough to make you jealous.—N. Y. Journal.

"I told my wife," said Gobang, "that I had stayed down town to get war news." "And what did she say?" "Well, she furnished me with an illustrated account of hostilities nearer home than Cuba."—Town Topics.

MRS. PINKHAM'S ADVICE.

What Mrs. Nell Hurst has to Say About It.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you I had not been well for five years; had doctored all the time but got no better. I had womb trouble very bad. My womb pressed backward, causing piles. I was in such misery I could scarcely walk across the floor. Menstruation was irregular and too profuse, was also troubled with leucorrhœa. I had given up all hopes of getting well; everybody thought I had consumption. After taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,

I felt very much better and was able to do nearly all my own work. I continued the use of your medicine, and feel that I owe my recovery to you. I cannot thank you enough for your advice and your wonderful medicine. Any one doubting my statement may write to me and I will gladly answer all inquiries.—Mrs. NELL HURST, Deepwater, Mo.

Letters like the foregoing, constantly being received, contribute not a little to the satisfaction felt by Mrs. Pinkham that her medicine and counsel are assisting women to bear their heavy burdens.

Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. All suffering women are invited to write to her for advice, which will be given without charge. It is an experienced woman's advice to women.

"A HANDFUL OF DIRT MAY BE A HOUSEFUL OF SHAME." CLEAN HOUSE WITH SAPOLIO

How Old She Looks

Poor clothes cannot make you look old. Even pale cheeks won't do it.

Your household cares may be heavy and disappointments may be deep, but they cannot make you look old.

One thing does it and never fe'l.

It is impossible to look young with the color of seventy years in your hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

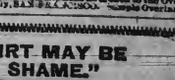
permanently postpones the tell-tale signs of age. Used according to directions it gradually brings back the color of youth. At fifty your hair may look as it did at fifteen. It thickens the hair also; stops it from falling out; and cleanses the scalp from dandruff. Shall we send you our book on the Hair and its Diseases?

The Best Advice Free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three movements a day, and if I was rich I would give $10,000 for each movement; it is such a relief." AYLMER I. LUCY, 1039 Russell St., Detroit, Mich.



CANDY CATHARTIC Cascarets TRADE MARK REGISTERED REGULATE THE LIVER

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken, or Gripe. 10c. 25c. 50c.

CURE CONSTIPATION.

Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Montreal, New York. 308

SHOOT WINCHESTER LOADED SHOT GUN SHELLS

USED BY ALL THE CHAMPION SHOTS.

FREE. SENT HOME ON A POSTAL CARD. FOR 152 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO. 100 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

READERS OF THIS PAPER DESIRING TO BUY ANYTHING ADVERTISED IN ITS COLUMNS SHOULD INSIST UPON HAVING WHAT THEY ASK FOR, REFUSING ALL SUBSTITUTES OR IMITATIONS.

Use Our Well Drills

And make no failures. Write what you need.

LOOMIS & CO. TIFFIN, OHIO.

A UNITED STATES WALL MAP FREE

A copy of our handsome map, 22x28 inches, printed in colors, and mounted on a roller, will be sent to any address on receipt of 15 cents in postage to pay for packing and transportation. P. S. EUSTIS, General Passenger Agent, C. R. I. & P. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

The Best BOOK on WAR BEAUTIFULLY illustrated (price $1), free to anybody sending two 2-cent stamps (one to C. H. Cook & Co., Chicago, Monthly, $2.50 a year. Sample Overland free.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box B, Atlanta, Ga.

A. N. K.—B 1720

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE : COUNTY : RECORDER

Wednesday, Sept., 14, 1898.

Rates of Subscription:

One year..... $1 50.
Six months..... 75.
Three months..... 40.

Payable invariably in advance.

THE RECORDER

SOLICITS YOUR

Job Work.

NOTE HEADS,
LETTER HEADS,
ENVELOPES,
CARDS,
BILL HEADS,
STATEMENTS,
SALE BILLS,
AND HOSE BILLS,

Printed at the Lowest Prices consistent with neat work.

Send your order by mail and it will be attended promptly.

STATE NEWS.

Carroll county has a gas well.

John Rice, of Clark county, was bitten by a mad dog.

More quails are reported this year than ever before known.

A gang of organized horse thieves are operating in Daviess county.

The town of Wickliffe voted in favor of saloons by a majority of 83.

Esau Hobbs was shot from ambush and badly wounded in Bell county.

The Presbyterian Synod of Kentucky will meet in Carlisle on October 26th.

County Judge Levi, of Jackson county, killed his wife and then killed himself.

James Cox, of Casey county, was shot and instantly killed by his son, Terry Cox.

Harve Norris, a young farmer of Garrard county, was killed by a threshing machine.

In Louisville Della Fox cut her throat because her lover refused to buy her a new dress.

Gov. Bradley is taking steps to have the sick Kentucky soldiers at Chickamauga sent home.

Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Kentucky meets at Middlesborough the first week in October.

The free turnpike election is getting warm in Grant county. It is claimed free pikes will carry.

Adjutant General D. R. Collier resigned, and Gov. Bradley appointed Wilber R. Smith to the vacancy.

The James L. Patterson estate of 1,640 acres of Harrison county land was sold by the executor. Amount realized—$70,145.

Rev. Thomas Rowland, aged 75, a minister of the Baptist church, died of hydrophobia, at Paducah, the result of a dog bite.

Born, to the wife of Jack Haines, of Marshall county, a baby that weighed only one pound. It is fully developed and healthy.

Frank Wiley, of Warren county, dreamed his house was afire and jumped out of a two-story window, breaking both legs and an arm.

An entire family near Greenville, were poisoned with rough on rats which had been put in their drinking water with a murderous intent.

Thomas Johnson, of Madison county, aged 104 years, died last week. There is no doubt as to that being his correct age. He had been blind for 20 years.

The Mason County Fiscal Court has ordered an election for November 8th on the question of issuing $60,000 worth of bonds to purchase turnpikes of that county.

Marshal Lippert, of Dover, has purchased two young blood hounds of Georgetown parties which will be trained to run down criminals. The Marshal paid $40 for the pair.

C. L. Tucker, a merchant at Waddy, Shelby county, found posted on his doors a notice that unless he paid a higher price for wheat and sold his goods cheaper his store would be blown up with dynamite.

A colored preacher once remarked: "In dese days of horseless carriages, skirtless girls and sinless sinners, it would be better for de morality of us yer congregation if dere were a few more chickenless chicken-coops."

In tearing down the old brick house on the corner of Clinton and Hamilton streets, some antiquated school books were found, bearing dates of 1799, 1800, 1802, 1805, 1809, &c., which seems to have been kept by merchants of Georgetown at that time, nearly 100 years ago.—News.

Mesbeck Story, a wealthy bachelor aged 70, died at Nepton, Fleming county, and a few hours later their arrived a woman and five children from Indiana who claimed to be the lawful wife and children of Story. They were accompanied by a Louisville attorney. Story had lived most of his life in Fleming, but owned property in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. His estate is supposed to be worth $100,000.

FROM OWEN COUNTY.

[News]

Weanling calves selling at $20.

J. K. Ford sold a 1,400 pound bull for $35.

Odd-Fellows are erecting a new building in Owenton.

Hon. E. E. Settle made a strong speech before the teachers' institute against annexation of foreign territory.

Tobacco was ripening rapidly and was being cut last week.

Edgar Waldrop, who fought at Santiago is at home. He received no wounds.

The teachers' institute, conducted by home talent, was a big success.

Peter Jackson, 21, of Poplar Grove, adjudged a lunatic.

Willis & Broadman, of Cynthiana, purchased 28 sucking mules from Owen county parties at prices ranging from $15 to $38.

H. C. Dunavant died of typhoid fever.

Geo. Smith, who went through the Santiago campaign, is down with fever at Montauk Point, New York.

[Herald.]

Geo. Fortner fined $20 for disturbing religious worship.

Owenton fair will be held Sept. 28, 29, 30, 31.

A storm did much damage near New Liberty.

We understand that Prof. F. B. Hawkins, Principal of the colored school at this place for several years has been elected to a similar position at Eminence.

FROM CARROLL COUNTY.

[News]

Hog cholera is raging in the Eagle neighborhood.

Much complaint of the softness of the cob of the new corn crop, endangering safe keeping. The crop is extremely large. Some think corn will sell as law as a $1 per barrel.

A new bank has been organized at Worthville, capital stock—$15,000.

S. P. Baird has resigned as secretary of the Citizens' Insurance Co., and will move to his father's in Harrison county.

LOSSES OF THE WAR.

The American loss was 503 killed and 1,465 wounded.

The Spanish loss was 2,199 killed and 2,943 wounded. This does not include Spanish soldiers dying in the hospitals, on American soil.

Thirty-five Spanish vessels were destroyed, no Americans.

The territory lost by Spain in this short war of four months includes:

Cuba 41,655 square miles; 1,631,000 population.

Poto Rico, 3,670 square miles; 806,708 population.

Guam (Ladrone Island) 150 square miles, 8,000 population.

In addition the Philippine Islands, 52,650 square miles and 7,000,000 population, will be disposed of by the peace commission.

SAM JONES BITS OF WISDOM.

Most men when they feel mean feel natural.

Many a man thinks he has religion when it is only liver complaint.

I photograph your ugliness and you sit there and laugh at it. You ought to be ashamed.

Society is a heartless wretch; and if you don't get out of it you will go to hell with it.

Red liquor and Christianity won't stay in the same hide. As one goes in the other goes out.

I have known women too poor to own a pair of shoes, but I never knew one too poor to own a looking glass.

HEROES OF THE WAR.

According to the New York Times the following is a list of the heroes of the war;

Rear Admiral George Dewey.
Gen. Joseph Wheeler.
Lieut. Richmond Pearson Hobson.
Col. Theodore Roosevelt.
Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley.
Capt. Robley D. Evans.
Capt. Charles Egbert Clark.
Lieutenant Commander Richard Wainwright.
Commodore John W. Philip.
Ensign Worth Bagley.
Lieut. Victor Blue.
Cadet Joseph W. Powell.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal believes that the name of the commander of the Hudson, who rescued the battered Winslow, should be added to the list.

Public Sale.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at Weaver's Mill on Gunpowder creek, on

THURSDAY, SEPT. 22nd, 1898,

The Following Property, to-wit: 2 good work mules, 1 work horse, road wagon, spring wagon, buggy, 2 mowing machines, hayrake, wheat drill, 2-horse sled, wheat fan, riding plow, cutting box, harness, set of blacksmith tools, turning lathe, 10 hogs and numerous farming implements in good order, also several guns, clocks, and set of watch tools, some household and kitchen furniture, &c., &c.

TERMS OF SALE.

Sums of $5 and under, cash; over that amount 6 months credit will be given, purchasers to give note with good security, negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank. Sale to begin at 9 am.

W. C. WEAVER.

Tony Bentler, Auctioneer.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS!

This is my first year for collecting taxes and I give you notice in advance that I expect to collect the taxes for 1898 before the taxes of 1899 become due. All taxes not paid by December 1st, 1898 will have the 6 per cent. penalty added. All taxes not paid on or before January 1st, 1899 will be advertised. Meet me at the appointed places and save extra costs.

Verona, Sept. 12th and Oct. 12th.
Walton, Sept. 13th and Oct. 13th.
Bellevue, Sept. 14th and Oct. 14th.
Union, Sept. 15th and Oct. 15th.
Bullittsville, Sept. 16th and Oct. 17th.
Petersburg, Sept. 17th and Oct. 18th.
Big Bone, Sept. 19th and Oct. 19th.
Florence, Sept. 20th and Oct. 20th.
Beaver, Sept. 21st and Oct. 21st.
Constance, Sept. 22d and Oct. 22d.
Rabbit Hash, Sept. 23d and Oct. 24th.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
Hebron, October 29th.

ELMER BEALL, S. B. C.

FOR SALE.

Good Shorthorn bull, 4 years old this fall. He was sired by a bull owned by Col. Harris, of Kansas, and is of the best strain of Shorthorns. He is kind, quiet and not roguish. I have had him on my farm long enough as a breeder.

WILBUR RICE, Utzinger, Ky.

Removal!

DR. A. P. WALTON,

DENTIST,

133 Garfield Place,

CINCINNATI,

Has removed his office to

The Lancaster Building 22 W. 7th, Bet Vine and Race.

Home City, MONDAYS.

Executor's Notice.

All persons indebted to Arthur Blyth, deceased, will please come forward at once and settle, and those having claims against the estate will present them to me properly proven according to law. HARRY BLYTH, Executor.

The 5th Term of WALTON ACADEMY

WILL OPEN

SEPTEMBER 5th, 1898.

Choice of three Courses of Study:

ENGLISH,
LATIN
SCIENTIFIC,
and CLASSICAL.

Terms—$2.50 per month for English Course. $3.00 for Latin, Scientific and Classical. Board reasonable.

Mrs. S. H. MYERS, Principal,
oct. 13 WALTON, KY

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, containing about 111 acres, known as the Jackson Bass farm, situated about 1½ miles from Verona, Boone county, Ky., on the Short Line (L. & N.) Railroad. 8 or 10 acres of this farm are in the state of nature and will grow enough tobacco in a few years to pay for the place. There are 10 or 15 acres in cultivation the balance (about 80 acres) is in grass. The improvements consist of a two story framed dwelling house of six rooms, two halls and two porches; tenant house of three rooms; corn crib and large barn The place is well watered and fencing in splendid repair. This farm is admirably located for a market garden. My terms are very reasonable. For further particulars address Mrs. JAMES T. BROCK, No. 416 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky. aug 10-2m

F. W. Kassebaum. J. L. Kassebaum.

—(0)—

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,

Manufacturers and Dealers in

GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS,

70 and 72 Main St.,

AURORA, INDIANA.

J. T. MARSHALL, - - Agent, GRANT, KY.

EVERETT HELMS

—PROPRIETOR,—

The Popular Mecca Barber Shop,

Petersburg, Ky.

Will be pleased to

CUBA

Customer of his. Work guaranteed and done at lowest prices.

BATH DEP'T.—Four baths, 50 cents; single bath, 15 cts. Rooms open Wednesday and Saturday.

TONSORIAL.—Shave, 10 cts; Hair cut, 15 cts., Saturday 20 cts.

TAKE DELHI FERRY To The City

Big Four Railroad Fare now Reduced to ten trips, $1.

A Fast Passenger Boat Always Ready.

NO DELAY.

FARMERS

Take Notice. If you want Good

Fertilizer

Please Give—

B. F. ZIMMER

A call. He will try to please you. He has the finest line of Fertilizer for 1898 he has ever handled. Write for particulars

TO CONSTANCE, KY.

Attention, Subscribers!

The RECORDER renews its proposition to do

Free Advertising

for you. If you want to buy or sell any thing you can make your wants known in the FREE COLUMN to the extent of

Ten Lines
One Week
Without Charge.

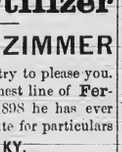
Get the advertisement to this office not later than Monday at noon. There are very few who will not have occasion to take advantage of this offer occasionally, and the RECORDER will be glad to accomodate all who accept its offer.

FRANK HOSSMAN,
Hebron, Ky.,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,



—Also handles all—

KINDS of ROOFING.

Which is furnished and put on at the Lowest Prices consistent with good work.

Your Work is Solicited.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS, of Conneville, Texas, says: "I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

County Judge—C. C. Roberts.
County Clerk—B. W. Adams.
County Attorney—J. M. Lassing.
Sheriff—Elmer Beall.
Deputy Sheriff—B. B. Allphin, jr.
Jailer—T. A. Adams.
Assessor—T. G. Willis.
Coroner—A. A. Murat.
Superintendent Schools—L. H. Voshell.
Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

Fiscal Court meets Tuesday after first Monday in January, April, July and October.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge—John W. Green.
Clerk—J. W. Duncan.
Commonwealth's Attorney—M. D. Gray.
Master Commissioner—J. B. Berkshire.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Courts are held in the months of March, June, September and December, as follows:

District No 1,—Clinton Gaines, fourth Saturdays J. T. Grant, Constable.
District No. 2,—M. B. Green, first Saturday; Constable.
District No. 3,—R. H. Ryle, Wednesday after third Monday; J. W. Ayler, Constable.
District No. 4,—John S. Noell, Thursday after second Monday; Constable.
District No. 5,—J. C. Byland, Third Monday; J. H. Watson, Constable.
District No. 6,—J. H. Walton, third Saturday; T. I. Brown, jr., Constable.

STATE DIRECTORY.

Governor—W. O. Bradley.
Lieutenant Governor—W. J. Worthington.
Secretary of State—Charles Finley.
Assistant Secretary of State—E. D. Gully.
Attorney General—W. S. Taylor.
Auditor—Samuel H. Stone.
Assistant Auditor—Frank Johnson.
Treasurer—George M. Long.
Sup't of Public Instruction—Geo. M. Davidson.
Register Land Office—Charles O. Reynolds.
Deputies—Stanley D. Brown, Sam S. Shepherd.
Insurance Commissioner—Sam Stone.
Adjutant General—D. R. Collier.
Assistant—Walter Forrester.
Supt. Arsenal—Capt. David O'Connell.
State Inspector—C. M. Lester.
Commissioner Agriculture—Lucas Moore.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Chief Justice—Joseph Lewis. Judges—Gen. Duerfie, J. R. Grace, T. H. Paynter, B. L. D. Guffy, J. H. Hazelrigg, J. H. Lewis.
Reporter—E. W. Hines. Clerk—A. Addams.
Sergeant—W. S. B. Hill. Tipstaff—C. C. Turner.
Librarian—Miss Pauline Hardin.
Inspector of Mines—C. J. Norwood.

STATE PRISON OFFICIALS:

Frankfort Prison—Warden, Henry George; Deputy Warden, M. A. Rooney.
Eddyville Prison—Warden, L. C. Curry; Deputy Warden, Ward Linn.

RAILROAD COMMISSION:

John C. Wood, Chairman; I. F. Dempsey, H. S. Irwin. Secretary—Samuel Brown.

H. S. STEVENSON.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

DENTIST.

Prices Consistent with Good Services Only.

OFFICE:— Rising Sun, Indiana.

Frankfort & Cincinnati Railway,

Ask for tickets via this line. Schedule of trains in effect March 1, 1897.

East Bound.

Lve. Frankfort..... 6:30 a. m, 3:00 p. m
Arr. Georgetown...7:20 a. m. 4:15 p. m

West Bound.

Lve. Georgetown...10:40 a m 6:30 p. m
Arr. Frankfort.....11:55 a. m 7:20 p. m

O. D. BERGAW, G. P. A.
Geo. B. Harper, Gen. Supt, Frankfort, Ky.

B. F. BUCHANAN,

—DRUGGIST,—

Rising Sun, - Indiana.

Thanks his Kentucky friends for their renewed patronage and invites them to continue to call at the Corner Drug Store.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF BOONE COUNTY,

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone County

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.

E. H. BLANKENBECKER, - President, Florence, Ky.
D. E. LAWELL, - Vice-President.
OSCAR GAINES, Secretary. Burlington, Ky.
J. E. DUNCAN, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE BOARD—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, John Stephens.
J. E. SMITH, Assessor, - Burlington, Ky.
W. M. ROGERS, Agt. - Walton, Ky.

RUPTURE

You may not know it but we are the largest manufacturers of Trusses, Supporters, etc., in the United States and in your home city, where you can call and see us at your own convenience. We have in our long experience in Fitting Trusses, reduced it to a science. Many ruptures are cured by a proper fitting Truss. Most people who are ruptured do not recognize the necessity of having a properly fitted Truss. For instance—one of your family is very ill. You go to your physician, and say: so and so is ill, and what would you recommend? The physician says: I must see the case before I can tell what would be best for him. And it is the same way with a person who is ruptured. We do not know what Truss to apply until we examine the hernia. If you will consult us in person or by mail, we will put you in a way to get a permanent cure. Consultation and advice free. Write us and we will be of benefit to you.

OHIO TRUSS CO.,
80 and 82 East Ninth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For Sale.

Five Shorthorn bull calves, ranging in age from 2 weeks to 7 months. They can be pedigreed if necessary. Also several heifers and this spring heifer calves. There is no better Shorthorn stock to be had in this part of the country.

ALFRED CASON, Burlington, Ky.

D. E. CASTLEMAN,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

G. G. HUGHES,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

P. E. CASON,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY,

Practice in all Courts. Promptness guaranteed.

J. G. TOMLIN,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW.

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

—0—

Will practice in the Courts of [illegible] Grant and Gallatin. Prompt attention [illegible] Collections entrusted to him.

W. E. VEST,

County Surveyor,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of Surveying. All orders by mail promptly attended to.

J. M. LASSING. N. E. RIDDELL

LASSING & RIDDELL,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Prompt Attention Given to Collections

S. GAINES,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

BURLINGTON, KY.

Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—In residence near post-office.

S. W. ADAMS,

ATTORNEY - AT - LAW,

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

Will practice in the courts of Boone and Kenton counties. Collections and general law practice.

W. E. VEST. B. L. RICE.

VEST & RICE,

Real Estate Agents.

Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Burlington, Ky.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK.

(Incorporated 1886.)

CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits, 20,000

—)0(—

Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at lowest rates

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.

(INCORPORATED 1893.)

ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY

CAPITAL PAID IN..... $50,000
SURPLUS, ... 3 3,000

Careful attention given collections and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,

DENTIST,

Walton, Kentucky.

Artificial Dentures, Crown and Bridge Work to represent natural organs. Will be in office at Union every Monday.

Satisfaction - Guaranteed.

JOHN L. VEST,

SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of work south of Burlington, Ky. Prompt attention given to all mail orders.

W. N. HIND & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves,

And all Kinds of

Household Goods,

213 W. Fifth St.
4 Doors W. of Rim, Cincinnati, O.
Telephone No. 1284.

J. P. LINDSAY & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

HARD AND SOFT

:COAL,:

Erlanger, - - Ky.

—0—

Coal Sold on Cars at the Lowest Possible Prices.

—0—

J. O. HUEY, MANAGER.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOL. XXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1898. NO. 48.

Attention, Democrats!

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Boone county, at Burlington, on September 24th, at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of determining the manner of selecting delegates to the Congressional convention. Each member of the committee is urged to be present.

D. E. CASTLEMAN, Chairman.

IT was a "lay down" on the part of the country county chairman at Walton, Saturday.

ITALY has discontinued her diplomatic relations with Colombia. That is the first step towards a war.

IT may be that Uncle Sam will have to do some business with his army against the Philippine Insurgents yet.

MISS WINNIE, daughter of the late Jeff Davis, is dead. She was known as the "Daughter of the Confederacy."

PROPOSITIONS apparently clothed in perfect fairness should always be regarded with suspicion when coming from certain quarters.

THE action of the district committee at Walton, last Saturday, is unsatisfactory to many of the Democrats in this part of the district.

EDITOR WESTOVER is very busy interviewing his constituents on the free turnpike question upon which a vote is soon to be taken in Grant county.

AND Mr. Donnaldson, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, expresses great satisfaction at the outlook, and says he believes he will be elected.

CROKER, Murphy and Hill are each sanguine that the Democrats will elect both the Governor and Legislature in New York this fall. They are, generally, pretty well posted in the matter of New York politics.

LEXINGTON had a hot old time, one day last week. A regiment or two of soldiers drew a month's pay and they straightway proceeded to paint the town red, and that they succeeded is not denied by anyone who is familiar with the facts.

EVEN Gen. Shafter thinks Secretary Alger was unnecessarily alarmed by the phantom ships, and says the delay of the Cuban expedition at Tampa was tedious and uncalled for. It will be a long time before the public knows what the commanders of the army think of one another.

BLANCO is said to be very much disappointed because he did not get to lead in a battle against the Americans. There are some American Generals who were disappointed that they did not have an opportunity to furnish Blanco the entertainment for which he now pretends he was so anxious.

THERE is no telling yet in what kind of a mix-up this country will be involved before the Philippine question is settled. In view of the possibility of serious complications arrising, the President will pursue the wise and safe course of keeping a good sized army ready for emergencies.

IT is the purpose of the War Department to concentrate 9,000 troops at each of the three points, Lexington, Huntsville and Anniston, a total of 27,000 These, with the 13,000 at Jacksonville, will give 40,000 for service in Cuba. It is expected that the first movement of troops to Cuba will be about the middle of October.

THE New York Democrats are pleased with the Roosevelt Gubernatorial boom in that State. They believe that he is trying to utilize the war for political purposes, and that the conservative sentiment throughout the State will not tolerate any such proceedings, but in that they may be and probably are, very badly mistaken.

IF reports are true Col. W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, would like for his regiment to be mustered out of the service, as there is only prospects for garrison duty before it. If his regiment is mustered out in the next few weeks he can take part in the Nebraska canpaign this fall, which, to do he will resign if necessary, it is said by those who claim that his enlistment was for political purposes only. Mr. Bryan will not be mustered out until after the election, a fact of which he is aware, nor will he resign.

THE Democratic Congressional Committee of this district met at Walton, last Saturday, and fixed October 8th as the time and Newport as the place for holding a convention to nominate a candidate for Congress. A resolution was adopted authorizing each county committee to determine upon the plan for selecting the delegates to represent it in said convention. This gives the action of the commitee the appearance of favoring home rule in the matter of selecting the delegates, but the action of the politicians in some sections of the district in the past prompts the belief on the part of many that the home rule in this instance will be confined strictly to the homes of a few men in Campbell and Kenton counties who will take the matter of naming delegates for those counties entirely out of the hands of the masses of the Democratic voters, and choose the delegates themselves. It is not altogether certain that the lists of delegates for these two counties were not selected before the committee met at Walton last Saturday.

The original resolution as proposed by the committeemen from Campbell and Kenton counties show that they are for home rule in politics with a vengeance. It proposed to say how the other 6 counties in the district should select their delegates while the plan adopted by Campbell and Kenton counties should be left for their county committees to determine. In other words Campbell and Kenton could tell the other counties in the district how to select delegates, but they must not make any suggestions to Campbell and Kenton, as to their well matured plans, none of of which are be revealed until the trick is turned. The committeemen representing Campbell and Kenton realized that if delegates to the convention were chosen by voting precincts throughout the district, that the power to dictate the nomination might be taken from them as the margin on which they have to rely is too small to take any chances on, and some of the outlying precincts in their counties might instruct for a man other than the one the bosses desire nominated. To control the nomination it was necessary to clinch the matter at the first opportunity, and it was done. Although this resolution did not prevail the one finally adopted by the committee gives Campbell and Kenton exactly what their committeemen, but not their counties, sought to obtain.

If Campbell and Kenton counties are entitled to a voice in saying how the other counties in the district shall select their delegates, why should they deny the same right to Boone and the other counties as regards their mode of choosing delegates? The fact is they could have been forced to submit to a rule that would have been uniform throughout the district, had the country members not fluked. Swetman of Pendleton and Castleman, of Boone, fought the "flim-flam" proposition until it was adopted by a vote of 9 to 2.

Permission has been granted by the Secretary of War to the volunteer troops who served in the army during the war with Spain to retain their arms and equipment. These articles will not be presented by the Government, but each man will be given the privilege of purchasing his rifle, knapsack, canteen, cartridge belt, and, in fact, everything used by him during the war. One month's pay will cover the total expense, the Krag-Jorgensen rifle costing $10 and the rest of the equipment about $3, and the last month's pay will be accepted in payment. As each man will be granted a furlough, this will practically be a gift from the Government, which will enable every soldier to hand down to posterity the weapon he used in defense of the honor of his country. Reports of carelessness with the Government's property have reached the War Department, and every soldier will be compelled to present a certificate of non-indebtedness from a paymaster before he receives his discharge. If any of the Government's property is not accounted for the person who is responsible for it will be docked before he is discharged.—Washington telegram to the Chicago Tribune.

John Breckinridge, after an absence of 40 years, returned to Shelbyville, last week, to claim his share of his father's estate, which was divided in 1881. He had been given up for dead. He had been a fugitive from justice all these years. He was charged with the murder of Jack McCormack in 1858, and forfeited the bond he executed for his appearance to answer the charge.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 16th, 1898.

Mr. McKinley may be compelled to abandon that investigation of the war by a commission, owing to his inability to get men of prominence to serve thereon. John Sherman, who was kicked out of the Cabinet because it was alleged that his wife had gone wool-gathering, punctured this commission scheme when called attention to the fact that could not compel witnesses to testify. That is a fatal defect. The Commission can only take voluntary testimony, and every school-boy knows that military officers are not likely to volunteer to give testimony that will reflect upon their superiors. Mr. McKinley may succeed in forming his commission and it may go through the form of making an investigation, but there will be no real investigation until it is made by a Congressional Committee cloaked with all the authority of a court of law. Then the facts and the rascals will become known.

—ss—

According to stories which have reached Washington, there is more trouble among the Maine Republicans than that caused by the falling off in their vote. There has been opposition to Senator Hale in the party ranks for a long time, and his marked friendliness for Spain, just previous to the war, incrcased to its formidable proportions. Czar Reed has encouraged this opposition as much as he could without openly participating therein, although he has repeatedly said that he would not accept a seat in the Senate himself; but the statement that "Joe" Manley would be a candidate for Hale's seat "may result in making Reed help Hale to get reelected, as he would rather see the devil in the Senate than "Joe" Manley.

—ss—

There isn't the slightest doubt that the Republicans are becoming alarmed over the prospects of the capture of the House by the Democrats. Chairman Babcock and Secretary Overstreet, of the Republican Congressional Committee, have both made visits east within a week, one to Boston and the other to New York, and there are reasons to believe that both of them went after the same thing—money to be used in the campaign. That the sentiment of the country is now with the Democrats is what all the correspondents of the Democratic Congressional Committee say, and all the callers at committee headquarters tell the same story. Unless there is a great change before election there is every reason to expect that sufficient Democratic gains will be made in the following States to give the party control of the House by a good working majority: Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Massachusetts and Connecticutt. One Democrat, after sizing up the situation said: "The only thing I fear is that the situation may change again before election. But I don't see how it can."

The Boone County Election Commissioners met last Monday and organized by electing J. N. Pearson, chairman and J. B. Allen, secretary. O. S. Watts was present. They appointed the following as officers of election:

Big Bone—J. F. Greene, C. A. Slater, judges; Harry Adams, sheriff; J. C. Miller, clerk.

Verona—Lafe Kennedy, Ben O'Neal, judges; W. H. Dickerson, sheriff; L. J. Hume, clerk.

Walton—T. F. Curley, J. A. Sanders, judges; W. C. Moxley, sheriff; S. L. Edwards, clerk.

Beaver—G. W. Sleet, John Lockhardt, judges; Thos. Finnell, sheriff; Merit Jack, clerk.

Florence—B. A. Floyd, Wm. Williams, judges; W. P. Carpenter, sheriff; James Murrey, clerk.

Burlington—G. G. Hughes, W. T Gerrman, judges; Harry Blyth, sheriff; J. S. Clutterbuck, clerk.

Constance—J. A. Riddell, Clint Reeves, judges; Sim Tanner, sheriff; Wood Riggs, clerk.

Bullittsville—Julius Utzinger, Owen Gaines, judges; G. C. Graddy, sheriff; J. W. Watts, clerk.

Petersburg—Steve Gaines, John Botts, judges; Solen Early, sheriff; S. C. Buchanan, clerk.

Bellevue—T. L. Utz, Cyrus Kelly, judges; W. W. Botts, sheriff; Ben Corbin, clerk.

Rabbit Hash—Elijah Scott, Z. T. Kelly, judges; J. P. Ryle, sheriff; Oscar Craig, clerk.

Union—N. C. Clements, John Dunbar, judges; John Elstun, sheriff; W. M. Rachal, clerk.

STATE NEWS.

There are but seven negroes in Wolf county.

A gang of horsethieves have been captured and lodged in jail at Paducah.

Forty per cent. of the Common School fund will be ready for distribution Oct. 1.

Of thirty-two civil suits on the Allen circuit court docket nine are divorce petitions.

Marshall county will vote upon the proposition to prohibit cattle from running at large.

A quarrel over a hog resulted in the killing of [illegible] by Henry Gross [illegible].

In Knox county, [illegible] year old daughter of Sam [illegible] choked to death by swallowing [illegible] wife, of the [illegible].

The discovery was made at Richmond that 40 or 50 indictments had been stolen from the clerk's office.

An order was entered in the Ohio county court, calling for an election on the whisky question at Rockport.

Lightning for the twentieth time in twenty years struck the country home of Squire Frank Camp, in Jefferson county.

Anderson, Woodford, Bullitt, McCracken and Boyd are the banner Sunday School counties of the state for the past year.

Dora Clay, who was recently divorced from C. M. Clay, was married again, last Friday, this time to a younger and handsomer man.

The liquor men of Hatrford are preparing another contest to set aside the recent prohibition election held at that place, in which the "drys" won.

Dover held an election as to whether or not the village was to remain dry. When the votes were counted it was found the advocates of the saloon were defeated by a majority of eighty-nine.

The city council of Paris voted to accept the proposition of the banks to pay 70 per cent. of the taxes due the city for the years 1897 and 1898 in full of all back taxes, and the order was vetoed by the Mayor.

W. S. Pagan filed suit in the Kenton circuit court against South Covington and Cincinnati Street Railway Company for $5,000 damages, alleging that the conductor refused to accept a transfer and ejected him from the car.

The crime of forgery seems the most favorite in the catalogue in this part of the world. In the last 60 days no less than four persons have been held over to answer to the circuit court by the county Judge charged with the crime of forgery.—Williamstown Courier.

Mrs. Sam A. Deatherage, wife of a well known Madison county farmer, was seriously injured while returning from church. Several boys on horses were running a race and ran into her vehicle, causing her to be thrown to the ground and trampled beneath the horses' feet.

While the remains of Miss Dora Bratton, of Sardis, were being conveyed to the cemetery at Shannon, the horse being driven by Mr. and Mrs. Kate Wheatley became frightened and ran away. The occupants were thrown out on the pike and Mrs. Wheatley was instantly killed.

State Senator William Goebel filed suit in the Kenton county circuit court for Frank Rogers, against the McElwee & Spiegle Co., of Cincinnati, for $25,000 damages. Rogers alleges that while at work at the Walsh distillery he was cut by a sheet of steel, and broke his leg, injuring himself for life.

It may be that the efforts of the old Board of Prison Commissioners to have an investigation of the Frankfort penitentiary made and a comparison of the receipts and disbursements of their administration with those of the former Democratic administration will be balked by the Chief Executive.

The new State schools of reform for the correction of juvenile criminals are to be located on a beautiful two-hundred-acre farm on the Glendale pike in the county of Fayette, within four miles of the Bluegrass capital. This spot was decided on at a meeting of the commissioners and approved by Gov. Bradley, who was present when the site was selected.

Kentucky is surely the dark and bloody ground. Within her domain funny things occur. The latest revelation of humorous incidente comes from Indian Run. This morning Charley Brooker, manager of the Navies, telephoned young Searl, manager of the Indian Run team, for a game of ball there Sunday. The answer came back on the waves of electricity, laden with fun for the many. Every syllable, every word inspired a hundred laughs. The answer was: "They're going to hold church here Sunday. We use the church for a backstop. All games declared off."—Catlettsburg Democrat.

This is the good record of a Stanford man, as recited by the Interior Journal: "Boss Anderson, who has been running the Anderson House for twenty-five years, is 74 years old, has never tasted whisky, never smoked or chewed, nor swore. He has held almost every office in the county, and has been trustee of the jury fund for thirty years. During the fourteen years he was postmaster he gave universal satisfaction, while Mayor of the town for six years he was a decided success. Mr. Anderson was superintendent of his Sunday-school eighteen years, and has been an elder in his church a score or more years. He is still in good health."

The Farmers' Institute.

THE Farmers' Institute held at the Harvest Home grounds, last Saturday, was not largely attended, and the exercises did not begin until afternoon. It seems that Mr. Jones, Master of the National Grange, did not make the connections so as to reach the grounds until afternoon, while Hon. J. D. Clardy failed to put in his appearance at all.

The opening address, brief but appropriate, was delivered by E. L. Riley. He was followed by Hon. N. S. Walton, whose remarks, as is always the case, were to the point and well received by the audience. B. L. Rice was not programmed for an address, but was drafted for the occasion, and without a moment's notice and not being a member of the P. of H., he made a good grange speech, that was heartily applauded by the members of the Grange.

Hon. Aaron Jones, of South Bend, Indiana, Master of the National Grange, was the next speaker introduced. Mr. Jones was in bad voice, owing to the large number of speeches he has delivered in the last few months. His speech was a plain talk by a farmer to farmers. There was no attempt at embellishment, and the speech abounded with information of great interest to the agriculturalist. After having referred to some of the great benefits resulting to the farmers from the Grange, the speaker showed wherein more brain work is required on the part of the farmers than was fifty years ago—he urged the farmers to depend more on brain and less on muscle than they have in the past. The speech throughout was just such as an assembly of farmers were sure to appreciate.

Misses Bernice Duncan, by a humorous recitation, and Anna Rice and Zayda Gaines, two sweet singers, contributed largely to the pleasures of the day.

The overture by the Mandolin Club was an entertaining feature of the programme.

CHURCH NEWS.

There are 1,840,000 colored Baptists in the country, 80,000 being in Kentucky.

Rev. Calvin Meacham, 85, a widely known Baptist minister died near Hopkinsville.

The American Bible Society during the past year distributed 1,365,873 copies of the Bible.

The Christian Church Foreign Mission books will close September 30th. The Secretary expects over $100,000.

The Chinese Emperor has issued an edict demanding that Christian missionaries and their converts in China be protected.

Of the 24 navy chaplains one is a Presbyterian, one a Christian, three Catholics, five Baptists, five Episcopalians, and nine Methodists.

Fifty Indians and fifteen whites have been organized into a Christian Endeavor Society in the government school at Crow Agency, Montana.

The Pope is 88 and reads without glasses. If the prohibitionists would investigate they would find his Holiness does not dine without them.—Louisville Times.

POLITICAL.

The county and city Republican committees have decided that Evans' nomination for Congress in the Louisville district, is illegal.

Dr. M. P. Creel, of Muhlenberg county, was nominated for Congress by the Republican Third district convention at Russellville.

Hon. R. F. Peak, of Oldham county, has been invited to made several speeches in the Fourth Congressional district, and has made his arrangements to accept the invitations.

The First district Republican Committee met at Paducah and decided to make no nomination for Congress. The committee will endeavor to deliver the party vote to the Populist candidate.

The Populist party of the Third Appellate district met in convention at Cambellsville and nominated W. P. March for Judge of the Court of Appeals. Enthusiastic speeches were made by the nominee and Jo Parker, Chairman of the State Central Committee.

Teddy Roosevelt is about to try a "rough ride" through the State of New York, with the editor of the New York Evening Post on behind and Boss Platt in front, and if he keeps in the saddle until the first Tuesday in November he will indeed be the great rough rider of this rough riding epoch.—Louisville Post.

Pith of the Press.

A rumor comes that Chief Coxey and his band of political insurgents are headed for Colorado. The outposts should be at once strengthened.—Denver Post.

It is announced in Chicago that young Mr. Leiter's big wheat deal is finally closed. On the other hand the hole which the affair made in the father's bank account is still wide open.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

General Miles proposes to boss the army until some one of sufficient authority tells him he cannot do so. That is where he is right. Miles appears to be of much the same stamp of man as Dewey.—Boston Traveler.

Mr. Wharton Barker, the Middle-of-the-road Populist nominee for President is a good man and weighs upward of 140 pounds. His chief claim to destinction lies in the fact that he once had the honor of meeting Li Hung Chang.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

The platform of the Utah Republicans is fearfully and wonderfully made. Nothing so unique in a political way has ever before been evolved in this country. It affirms two points. It indorses McKinley and his gold standard policy of administering the Government. It avows undying devotion to free silver coinage.—Denver News.

COVINGTON, KY., Sept. 19, 1898.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

I have read, with amusement, the card from Mr. McGlasson, in the Recorder last week. I notice that my name and that of my father-in-law, Mr. R. K. Dulaney, are prominently mentioned. I can not see why such a trifling matter should be brought forward so publicly, but from Mr. McGlasson's card it is evident that some "sore head" has accused him of either issuing a pass to Mr. Dulaney or allowing Mr. Dulaney to use my pass. I presume, as President, Mr. McGlasson could issue passes to whom he pleased and it would be no one's business. The pass I held was issued to "W. M. Semple and wife," and was not used by anyone else, nor did anyone else attempt to use it. My wife used it on Thursday and both of us on Friday and Saturday. Now, because my wife happens to be Mr. Dulaney's daughter can she not enjoy the courtesies of the Fair without arousing the jealousy of a "sore head?" As to Mr. Dulaney using my pass, I will say positively that he did not. To my certain knowledge he paid admission for himself and wife the four days and for other members of his family and friends on several occasions.

I also want to correct the statement in Mr. McGlasson's card to the effect that Representatives of the Kentucky Post begged him for passes. All other fairs and places of amusements send admission tickets without solicitation as it is simply an exchange of courtesies by which the fairs and etc., get much the better of the exchange, and our representatives simply asked for what they thought they were entitled to.

Very respectfully, W. M. SEMPLE.

THE conduct of the Philippine insurgents is anything but assuring, and troops are being sent there more rapidly than when it was believed Dewey was in imminent danger. Uncle Sam will have to keep a strong force of troops over there if it is decided he is to hold the islands.

ENEMIES OVERTHROWN.

Dr. Talmage Assails Some of the Great Evils Now Abroad.

"Let God Arise, Let His Enemies Be Scattered," is Suggested as a Proper Motto for Workers—Church People Arraigned.

This arousing discourse by Dr. Talmage will excite interest by the manner in which it assails some great evils now abroad. The subject is "Enemies Overthrown," and the text, Psalms lxviii., 1: "Let God arise, let His enemies be scattered."

A procession was formed to carry the ark, or sacred box, which, though only three feet nine inches in length and four feet three inches in height and depth, was the symbol of God's presence. As the leaders of the procession lifted this ornamented and brilliant box by two golden poles run through four golden rings, and started for Mount Zion, all the people chanted the battle hymn of my text: "Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered."

The Cameronians of Scotland, outraged by James I., who forced upon them religious forms that were offensive, and by the terrible persecution of Drummond, Dalziel and Turner, and by the oppressive laws of Charles I. and Charles II., were driven to proclaim war against tyrants, and went forth to fight for religious liberty; and the mountain heather became red with carnage, and at Bothwell Bridge and Aird's Moss and Drumclog the battle hymn and the battle shout of those glorious old Scotchmen was the text I have chosen: "Let God arise, let His enemies be scattered."

What a whirlwind of power was Oliver Cromwell, and how with his soldiers, named the "Ironsides," he went from victory to victory! Opposing enemies melted as he looked at them. He dismissed parliament as easily as a schoolmaster a school. He pointed his finger at Berkeley Castle, and it was taken. He ordered Sir Ralph Hopton, the general, to dismount, and he dismounted. See Cromwell marching on with his army, and hear the battle cry of the "Ironsides," loud as a storm and solemn as a deathknell, standards reeling before it, and cavalry horses going back on their haunches, and armies flying at Marston Moor, at Naseby Field, at Nasby, at Bridgewater and Dairmouth—"Let God arise, let His enemies be scattered!"

So you see my text is not like a complimentary and tasseled sword that you sometimes see hung up in a parlor, a sword that was never in battle, and only to be used on general training day, but more like some weapon carefully hung up in your home, telling its story of battles, for my text hangs in the Scripture armory, telling of the holy wars of 3,000 years in which it has been carried, but still as keen and mighty as when David first unsheathed it. It seems to me that in the Church of God and in all styles of reformatory work, what we most need now is a battle cry. We raise our little standard, and put on it the name of some man who only a few years ago began to live and in a few years will cease to live. We go into conquest against the armies of iniquity, depending too much on human agencies. We use for a battle cry the name of some brave Christian reformer, but after awhile that reformer dies, or gets old, or loses his courage, and then we take another battle cry, and this time, perhaps, we put the name of some one who betrays the cause and sells out to the enemy. What we want for a battle cry is the name of some leader who will never betray us, and will never surrender, and will never die.

All respect have I for brave men and women, but if we are to get the victory all along the line we must take the hint of the Gideonites, who wiped out the Bedouin Arabs, commonly called Midianites. These Gideonites had a glorious leader in Gideon, but what was the battle cry with which they flung their enemies into the worst defeat into which any army was ever tumbled? It was "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon." Put God first, whoever you put second. If the army of the American revolution is to free America, it must be "The sword of the Lord and of Washington." If the Germans want to win the day at Sedan, it must be "The sword of the Lord and of Von Moltke." Waterloo was won for the English, because not only the armed men at the front, but the worshipers in the cathedrals at the rear were crying "The sword of the Lord and of Wellington."

The Methodists have gone in triumph across nation after nation with the cry, "The sword of the Lord and of Wesley." The Presbyterians have gone from victory to victory with the cry, "The sword of the Lord and of John Knox." The Baptists have conquered millions after millions for Christ with the cry, "The sword of the Lord and of Judson." The American Episcopalians have won their mighty way with the cry, "The sword of the Lord and of Bishop McIlvaine." The victory is to those who put God first. But as we want a battle cry suited to all sects of religionists and to all lands, I nominate as the battle cry of Christendom in the approaching Armageddon the words of my text, sounded before the ark as it was carried to Mount Zion: "Let God arise, let His enemies be scattered."

As far as our finite mind can judge, it seems about time for God to rise. Does it not seem to you that the abominations of this earth have gone far enough? Was there ever a time when sin was so defiant? Were there ever so many fists lifted toward God telling him to come on if he dare? Look at the blasphemy abroad! What towering profanity! Would it be possible for any one to calculate the number of times that the name of Almighty God and of Jesus Christ are every day taken irreverently on the lips? Profane swearing is as much forbidden by the law as theft, or arson, or murder, yet who executes it?

Profanity is worse than theft, or arson, or murder, for these crimes are attacks on humanity—that is an attack on God.

This country is pre-eminent for blasphemy. A man traveling in Russia was supposed to be a clergyman. "Why do you take me to be a clergyman?" said the man. "Oh," said the Russian, "all other Americans swear." The crime is multiplying in intensity. God very often shows what he thinks of it, but for the most part the fatality is hushed up. Among the Adirondacks I met a funeral procession of a man who two days before had fallen under a flash of lightning while boating, after a Sunday of work in the fields, that he had cheated God out of one day anyhow, and the man who worked with him on the same Sabbath is still living, but a helpless invalid under the same flash.

Years ago, in a Pittsburgh prison, two men were talking about the Bible and Christianity, and one of them, Thompson by name, applied to Jesus Christ a very low and villainous epithet, and, as he was uttering it, he fell. A physician was called, but no help could be given. After a day lying with distended pupils and palsied tongue, he passed out of this world. In cemetery in Sullivan county, in New York state, are eight headstones in a line and all are alike, and these are the facts: In 1861 diphtheria raged in the village, and a physician was remarkably successful in curing his patients. So confident did he become that he boasted that no case of diphtheria could stand before him, and finally defied Almighty God to produce a case of diptheria that he could not cure.

His youngest child soon after took the disease and died, and one child after another, until all the eight had died of diphtheria. The blasphemer challenged Almighty God, and God accepted the challenge. Do not think that because God has been silent in your case, O profane swearer, that he is dead. Is there nothing now in the peculiar feeling of your tongue, or nothing in the numbness of your brain, that indicates that God may come to avenge your blasphemies, or is already avenging them? But these cases I have noticed, I believe, are only a few cases where there are hundreds. Families keep them quiet to avoid the horrible conspicuity. Physicians suppress them through professional confidence. It is a very, very, very long roll that contains the names of those who died with blasphemies on their lips.

Still the crime rolls on, up through parlors, up through chandeliers with lights all ablaze, and through the pictured corridors of clubrooms, out through busy exchanges where oath meets oath, and down through all the haunts of sin, mingling with the rattling dice and crackling billiard balls, and the laughter of her who hath forgotten the covenant of her God; and round the city, and round the continent, and round the earth a seething, boiling surge flings its hot spray into the face of a long suffering God. And the ship captain curses his crew, and the master builder his men, and the hack driver his horse, and the traveler the stone that bruises his foot, or the mud that soils his shoes, or the defective time piece that gets him too late to the rail train. I arraign profane swearing and blasphemy, two names for the same thing, as being one of the gigantic crimes of this land, and for its extirpation it does seem as if it were about time for God to arise.

Then look for a moment at the evil of drunkenness. Whether you live in Washington, or New York, or Chicago, or Cincinnati, or Savannah, or Boston, or in any of the cities of this land, count up the saloons five year ago and see they are growing far out of proportion to the increase of the population. You people who are so precise and particular lest there should be some imprudence and rashness in attacking the rum traffic will have your son some night pitched into your front door dead drunk, or your daughter will come home with her children because her husband has by strong drink been turned into a demoniac. The drink fiend has despoiled whole streets of good homes in all our cities. Fathers, brothers, sons on the funeral pyre of strong drink. Fasten tighter the victims! Stir up the flames! Pile on the corpses! More men, women and children for the sacrifice! Let us have whole generations on fire of evil habit; and at the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery and dulcimer, let all the people fall down and worship King Alcohol, or you shall be cast into the fiery furnace under some political platform!

I indict this evil as the regicide, the fratricide, the patricide, the matricide, the uxoreide of the century, and under what innocent and delusive and mirthful names alcoholism deceives the people! It is a "cordial." It is "bitters." It is an "eye-opener." It is an "appetizer." It is a "digester." It is an "invigorator." It is a "settler." It is a "night cap." Why don't they put on the right labels?—Essence of Perdition," "Conscience Stunefier," "Five Drams of Heartache," "Tears of Orphanage," "Blood of Souls," "Scabs of an Eternal Leprosy," "Venom of the Worm That Never Dies?" Only once in a while is there anything in the title of liquors to even hint their atrocity, as in the case of "sour mash." That I see advertised all over. It is an honest name, and any one can understand it. "Sour mash!" That is, it makes a man's disposition sour, and his associations sour and his prospects sour; and then it is good to mash his body, and mash his soul, and mash his business, and mash his family. "Sour mash!" One honest name at last for an intoxicant! But through lying lables of many of the apothecaries' shops, good people, who are only a little under tone in health, and wanting some invigoration, have unwittingly got on their tongue the fangs of this cobra, that stings to death so large a ratio of the human race.

Others are ruined by the common and all-destructive habit of treating customers. And it is a treat on their coming to town, and a treat while the bargaining progresses, and a treat when the purchase is made, and a treat as he leaves town. Others to drown their troubles, submerge themselves with this worse trouble. Oh, the world is battered and bruised and blasted with this growing evil! It is more and more entrenched and fortified. They have millions of dollars subscribed to marshal and advance the alcoholic forces. They nominate and elect and govern the vast majority of the officeholders of the country. On their side the have enlisted the mightiest political power of the centuries. And behind them stand all the myrmidons of the nether world, Satanic, Appollyonic and Diabolic. It is beyond all human effort to overthrow this Bastille of decanters or capture this Gibraltar of rum jugs. And while I approve all human agencies of reform, I would utterly despair if we had nothing else. But what cheers me is that our best troops are yet to come. Our best artillery is in reserve. Our best commander has not yet fully taken the field. If all hell is on their side, all Heaven is on our side. "Now "Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered!"

Then look at the impurities of these great cities. Ever and [illegible] there are in the newspapers exposures of social life that make the [illegible] of Sodom quite respectable. [illegible] Christ says, "[illegible] than for the [illegible] and [illegible] than for the cities [illegible] as any [illegible] of the greater light [illegible] first [illegible] usual thing in our cities [illegible] give you in high positions with wives [illegible] families, or refined ladies willing solemnly to marry the very swine of society, if they be wealthy. The Bible all aflame with denunciation against an impure life, but many of the American ministry uttering not one point blank word against this iniquity, lest some old libertine throw up his church pew. Machinery organized in all the cities of the United States and Canada by which to put yearly in the grinding mill of this iniquity thousands of the unsuspecting of the country farm houses, one procuress confessing in the courts that she had supplied the infernal market with 150 victims in six months. Oh, for 500 newspapers in America to swing open the door of this lazar house of social corruption! Exposure must come before extirpation.

While the city van carries the scum of this sin from the prison to the police court morning by morning, in full time, if we do not want high American life to become like that of the court of Louis XV., to put millionaire Lotharios and the Pompadours of your brown stone palaces into a van of popular indignation and drive them out of respectable association. What prospect of purification can there be as long as at summer watering places it is usual to see a young woman of excellent rearing stand and simper and giggle and roll up her eyes sideways before one of those first-class satyrs of fashionable life, and on the ballroom floor join him in the dance, the maternal chaperon meanwhile beaming from the window on the scene? Matches are made in heaven, they say. Not such matches, for the brimstone indicates the opposite region.

The evil is overshadowing all our cities. By some these immoralities are called peccadilloes, gallantries, eccentricities, and are relegated to the realms of joculority, and few efforts are being made against them. God bless the "White Cross" movement, as it is called—an organization making a mighty assault on this evil! God forward the tracts on this subject distributed by the religious tract societies of the land! God help parents in the great work they are doing, in trying to start their children with pure principles! God help all legislators in their attempt to prohibit this crime!

But is this all? Then it is only a question of time when the last vestige of purity and home will vanish out of sight. Human arms, human pens, human voices, human talents are not sufficient. I begin to look up. I listen for artillery rumbling down the sapphire boulevards of Heaven. I watch to see if in the morning light there be not the flash of descending scimitars. Oh, for God! Does it not seem time for his appearance? Is it not time for all lands to cry out: "Let God arise and let His enemies be scattered?"

I got a letter asking me if I did not think the earthquake in one of our cities was not the Divine chastisement on that city for its sins. The letter I answered by saying that if all our American cities got all the punishment they deserve for their horrible impurities the earth would long ago have cracked, opening crevices transcontinental, and taken down all our cities so far under that the tips of our church spires would be 500 feet below the surface. It is of the Lord's mercies that we have not been consumed.

Not only are the affairs of this world so a-twist, a jangle and racked that there seems a need of the Divine appearance, but there is another reason. Have you not noticed that in the history of this planet God turns a leaf about every 2,000 years? God turned a leaf and this world was fitted for human residence. About 2,000 more years passed along and God turned another leaf, and it was the deluge. About 2,000 more years passed on and it was the Nativity. Almost 2,000 more years passed by, and he will probably soon turn another leaf. What it will be I can not say. It may be the demolition of all these monstrosities of terpitude, and the establishment of righteousness in all the earth. He can do it, and He will do it. I am as confident as if it were already accomplished. How easily He can do it my text suggests. It does not ask God to hurl a great thunderbolt of His power, but just to rise from the throne on which He sits. Only that will be necessary, "Let God arise!"

The sound of a bell which can be heard 45,000 feet through the water can be heard through the air only 400 feet.

PECKED A POLE IN TWO.

The Extraordinary Feat Performed by an Industrious Redheaded Woodpecker.

If you have read and doubted the story of the prisoner centuries ago who, according to a comic opera libretto, cut his way through a stone wall with a penknife, read this story, one of fact, and believe. This is an achievement of the industrious redheaded woodpecker.

On Hartford avenue, just south of the Belt line tunnel, there was a tall, well-rounded and apparently sound telegraph pole. To passers-by it was just a telegraph pole, doing its duty like any other of the army of timber stretched along the thoroughfare. Probably this pole would never have guessed or had it not been for an unusual occurrence Sunday morning. This is what happened:

[illegible]n o'clock, without any warning [illegible] great, strong man struck down [illegible]me slow but sure disease, the pole [illegible]silently groaned, and then, with a snapping, tearing, grinding sound, the upper portion fell to the street, leaving about 25 feet standing.

The people looked on and wondered. There was no hurricane, not even a lusty breeze, and surely not enough to sever such a pole as that which had weathered so many storms.

And still they wondered.

Explanations followed thick and fast, and the argument over the cause became all the more heated. The oldest inhabitant was sought, and after much going over the past he remembered that some time ago he had been disturbed while quietly reading his paper and smoking his pipe by a sound as if boys were tapping on the door. After awhile he noticed a bird, a real live woodpecker, working energetically with its sharp-pointed bill against the telegraph pole. This he said was fully five years ago.

Then somebody else remembered having seen a bird pecking away at the pole. But even this they thought could not have caused such a great timber to fall. Then a small boy volunteered the testimony that he had seen a bird light on the pole, and was about to shoot at it with a slingshot the policeman on the beat being at dinner, when the bird disappeared into a hole in the pole.

Then the oldest inhabitant took the stand again, in rebuttal, as it were, and he corroborated the boy's statement. In fact, he had seen two birds go into the hole. Then a resident who had at one time worked in a sawmill until a certain buzzsaw, while on the buzz, had changed his occupation to something suitable for a one-armed man, openly declared that no woodpecker in the world could ever have cut through wood like that if it had started before horse cars ran out Gay street.

The oldest inhabitant scratched his head, and another resident who had lived in the country flatly contradicted the man who had worked in the sawmill, and while they "fought it out," so to speak, the small boy investigated.

Sure enough, there, right where the pole had broken, was the hollow where the woodpeckers had cut out their nest, and, what was more, and nearly unanswerable and convincing testimony beyond perndventure, was a poor little woodpecker, half frightened to death. The small boy took possession of it and the oldest inhabitant walked back and remarked triumphantly: "I told you so," while the one-armed man went to his home and the man who had spent his boyhood days down on the farm gave him the gleeful gurgle.—Baltimore Herald.

MORSE SUSTAINED.

His Theory Regarding Copper Wire Has Been Fully Emphasized by Time.

The telegraph has got back to where it started as a science and revolutionized the world in the matter of copper wires, explains a prominent telegraph constructor. In all of the experiments made by Prof. Morse, the inventor, as well as those of Prof. Henry, who so ably seconded him in developing the science, copper wire was used. The day following the sending of the original message between this city and Baltimore, "What God hath wrought," the wires broke down and for some weeks there was no communication, in an electrical way at least. Contraction and expansion had not been provided for, and, as a result, down fell the wires.

All kinds of excuses were made and all kinds of methods were used to keep the wires in working order, but they were not gratifyingly successful. The result of the investigations then made was that iron wire was the most reliable, taking all the circumstances into consideration, and iron wire supplanted the copper wire, notwithstanding the protest of Morse.

One of the greatest difficulties in the use of iron was the rapidity with which it was cut by rusting. In 15 years or so this was remedied by the process of galvanizing the wire, which gave it twice or three times its life by preserving the wire from oxidation. When the telephone came into extensive use even more difficulty was experienced with iron wire. Of course, every one knew iron wire was not as good a conductor as copper, but those who had studied the matter also knew that copper wire would more easily break in consequence of the contractions produced by the changes in temperature.

The only thing remaining to be done was to make a copper wire which would not be so sensitive to the weather. This was done in time, and to-day all the trunk lines for telephones are copper, without which long-distance telephoning would be impracticable, as iron wires could not be used for any extended distances.—Washington Star.

FILCHING FROM THE PEOPLE.

How the Republican Administration Tries to Keep Up the Treasury Surplus.

A republican contemporary is handy with figures, but not handy enough. In defending the financial policy of Mr. McKinley's administration it shows a wonderful faculty to bungle up things. Its purpose is to mislead the public, but it succeeeds only in making more glaring the administration's methods of filching the public. It says that by July 1, 1899, the cost of the army and navy, including the cost of the war and peace footing expenditures, will have reached $250,000,000. Meanwhile the special war tax will have yielded up $156,000,000. This will reduce the war debt and current expenditures to $4,000,000. But that is not all. The Dingley tariff will have yielded a surplus of $50,000,000 by July, 1899, leaving a deficit of only $44,000,000. That is to say, by next July the country will have by taxation and custom duties reimbursed the treasury for all ordinary and extraordinary expenditures of the war establishment except the little balance of $44,000,000. That is very good, indeed, or would be, if it were not true that the Dingley law will not only leave a surplus of $50,000,000, but a positive deficit of more than that sum.

But assuming that our contemporary's figures are correct. What then? What do they prove? They prove that the people are being most unmercifully robbed. There was a net balance in the treasury of considerably over $100,000,000 when war was declared, and subsequently $200,000,000 of bonds were sold, the special war tax will yield $156,000,000, and after paying the current expenses of the government, other than the war department, the Dingley bill will yield a surplus of $50,000,000, making a grand total of $506,000,000 to provide for $250,000,000 for war and navy expenditures up to July, 1899. Who gets the balance of $256,000,000? It seems by our contemporary's figures that there would be ample funds for all ordinary and extraordinary expenses without the war excise tax. Then why keep on robbing the people? Why was the excise tax law enacted in the first place? The treasury surplus and the bond issue aggregates $50,000,000 more than the cost of the war and the maintenance of the entire war establishment until July, 1899. What has become, or what is to become of that surplus of $50,000,000? To what purpose will the $156,000,000 of war excise taxes be diverted? Who will get the $50,000,000 that the Dingley law will pile up? The facts are, the war tax revenue will have to be used to make good the deficit the Dingley bill creates, and the $50,000,000 left over from the treasurp surplus and the bond sale will be found under the head of "miscellaneous items" in the disbursement side of the nation's ledger, but adroitly covered up.—Kansas City Star.

THE WAR TAX SHOULD GO.

A Needless Burden Imposed Upon the People by the Administration.

It is now manifest that the special taxes levied by the war revenue bill were needlessly burdensome. The people were called upon to furnish at least $100,000,000 more money per year than was really required to prosecute the war to a finish, just as they were called upon to furnish at least 100,000 more men than were needed, or ever likely to be needed, for the same purpose.

Not satisfied with raising $200,000,000 by a special bond issue, the administration forced through congress a bill putting taxes on about everything in sight, from patent medicines to bank checks and from express packages to telegrams. The American people, with the same marvelous patience they have shown in bearing every burden and sacrifice, however mistakenly and unnecessarily imposed upon them, uncomplainingly submitted to this complicated and annoying system of internal taxation.

It is now known that the collections under the war revenue bill will surely yield $140,000,000 by the end of the current fiscal year. That sum, added to the $200,000,000 derived from the bond issue, will bring the extraordinary revenue of the treasury for war purposes up to $340,000,000. It is also known now that the total cost of the war up to the end of the current fiscal year will not exceed $235,000,000. Still further, it is known that the increasing volume of imports is likely to increase the ordinary revenue of the government, derived under the old laws, by about $50,000,000 within the same period.

In short, the financial prospect before the country is that, unless the superfluous war taxes are repealed, there will be an enormous treasury surplus on June 30, 1899, which the country has no use for.

These special war taxes should be repealed. They were imposed under conditions that have ceased to exist. They are yielding at least $140,000,000 a year of unnecessary revenue. They are taking just about $400,000 a day out of the pockets of the people needlessly and for no purpose whatever except to pile up a huge surplus in the treasury which will be a menace to the financial and commercial welfare of the country.

These war taxes will continue to be collected month after month, year after year, until they are modified or repealed altogether.

Muster out the unnecessary war taxes as well as the unnecessary warriors!—N. Y. World.

——Mark Hanna says he knows the war department is all right because he "was there nearly all the time." Here's a chance for Alger to stand from under.—St. Louis Republic.

AS TO ALGERISM.

Not Political Prejudice, But Public Demand That Arraigns the War Department.

The hue and cry that has been raised against the mismanagement of the war department was taken up at the outset by representative newspapers of both parties. All along, however, the press has had nothing but praise for Mr. McKinley's personal attitude during the war.

The scandalous blunders which marred the Santiago campaign and developed later in every camp of mobilization began in the war department and should have ended with the removal of Secretary Alger. Republican newspapers, partisan organs of the megaphone variety excepted, were not slow to find the cause of the trouble. They printed the facts as told in news dispntches and exploited them editorially without reflection upon the ability or motives of the president.

These newspapers are still clamorous for the truth. They would sustain the president and punish the guilty. The most rabid politician would not manufacture evidence from a theme so unpopular as the inability of our officials to care for our soldiers. The poverty, ignorance and cruelty of the methods followed by the war department are not good material upon which to base a political issue, nor would the most reckless partisan organ advance charges so repulsive to American pride without being sure of its ground.

Disagreeable as it is, the mismanagement of the war department is a fact. The Hannacrat apologists admit that Secretary Alger was unfit for the position he held, without occupying, before and during the war. To the demands of the public and press generally, they shriek charges of political prejudice, overlooking or concealing the fact that the more intelligent publications of their own party also demand truth and justice in the case at issue. As much of the truth as could be gleaned from personal observation and private sources has been printed fearlessly. What all fair-minded people want is all the truth and nothing more nor less. It so happens that this can come only from a republican administration.

Thus far public indignation against Algerism is anything but a partisan howl. The insolent mouthings of men like Senator Hanna and Steve Elkins are calculated to direct public sentiment against the administration of which they are a part, and to force the president and his party to make common cause against the popular will. The persistence with whiel Mr. McKinley clings to his so-called friends without regard to their merits or the rights of the people is another influence which will not fail to bring odium upon the republican party. If this should be the result of his alleged determination to shield his friend Alger the controversy may grow into a national issue, but Mr McKinley can blame nobody but himself and his bad advisers.—St. Louis Republic.

PARAGRAPHIC POINTERS.

——The navy's cry was: "Remember the Maine." The army's cry will be: "Remember Alger."—Utica Observer.

——The republican chanticleer must be sadly in need of an excuse for trying his voice when he indulges in a husky crow over the republican victory in Vermont. — Binghamton (N. Y.) Leader.

——An exchange pictures Mr. Hanna as congratulating himself because he is not secretary of war. How would he feel if he had accepted the position of secretary of state instead of unloading it on poor Mr. Sherman?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

——Removing Alger will not cure the disease. That would be only doctoring a symptom. The remedy lies in sweeping from authority the party responsible for the power he has exerted to inflict so much suffering and harm upon the country.—St. Louis Republic.

——Alger and his benefiniries, the incompetents and their reintives and friends, are talking glibly of "the necessary horrors of war and military camps in time of war." The wrecking and ravaging of our volunteer army are not horrors of war, but horrors of Algerism. And for their continuance after they became known William McKinley made himself responsible.—N. Y. World.

——President McKinley was none too quick in abandoning his first intention to refuse an investigation of Algerism and to make his administration responsible for it. Already the first intimations were becoming audible in his party that, if McKinley were to shoulder Algerism, the republicans would need to look elsewhere than to the white house for their candidate in 1900.—N. Y. Post.

——The officinl family of the administration started in with the idea that "a public office is a private snap" and they have managed the affairs of the government along that line. This is how the republicnn leaders have been manufacturing democratic campaign thunder, and they may be assured thnt the democratic party will make it sound to the uttermost parts of the country and weave in a good many streaks of lightning, too.—Kansas City Times.

——The election in Vermont has set all the republican organs at work to find an explanation of the phenomenal results reached by the popular vote. It is a surprise party, and no mistake. The democrats inerense their poll for governor by a very respectable figure: the republicans lose to a degree which in a less sure state would mean defeat; while in the legislature the democracy makes what is a stupendous gain in representation, comnaratively considered.—Boston Post.

AGRICULTURAL HINTS.

WHAT IS THE FARM FIT FOR?

A word to the restless people—to the fast and feverish age:
A perfect manhood is better than any wealth or wage.
Some are for gold—some, glitter; but tell me, tell me, when
Will we stand for the farm and the college that go for the making of men?

Yes, what is the old farm fit for? The word is wisely said;
There may be stumps in the pasture and the house may be a shed;
But what if a Lincoln or Garfield be here in this boy of ten?
And what should the farm be fit for, if not the raising of men?

'Tis a scanty soil for a seeding, but here wo win our bread,
And a stout heart may grow stronger where plow and harrow are sped;
Then break up the bleak, high hillside and trench the swamp and fen—
For what should the farm be fit for, if not the raising of men?

The crop by the frost is blighted, a niggard the season seems;
Yet the ready hand finds duties and the heart of the youth has dreams—
The bar and the senate to-morrow; to-morrow the sword or the pen:
For what should the farm be fit for, if not the raising of men?

And what if our lot be humbler—if we on the farm abide?
There is room for noble living and the realm of thought is wide;
A mind enriched is a fortune—and you will know it—when You see that the farm is fit for the rearing of noble men.
—President Harris, Maine State College.

ROADS AND VEHICLES.

The Relation They Bear to Each Other Explained in a Way That Should Carry Conviction.

Machinery is always constructed with reference to the conditions under which it is to be used, and its separate parts are of such material and strength that no one part will unduly wear or injure any other part. The plan of the deacon, in constructing his celebrated chaise, is followed as far as may be, and each part is made just as strong as the rest.

The American Machinist calls attention to this principle and shows that it is not observed in building wagons, these vehicles not being constructed with reference to their relations to the road. "A wagon," it says "is a machine for the transportation of goods from one place to another. A road is a necessary adjunct to this machine, and common sense would seem to dictate that the wagon and the road should be so adapted to each other as that neither will immediately destroy the other. Yet anyone who observes wagons and roads at all knows that the pressure per unit of area between the ordinary tires of a wagon and the surface of the road on which it runs is far beyond the resistance of any practicable road-making material, especially when roads are wet, as they must often be. It is a common experience to see a two-inch-tired cart or wagon with narrow tires follow a steam roller and cut deeply into the surface left by the roller, illustrating what is in fact true—i. e., that no steam road roller ever gives nearly so great a pressure per unit of area as is imposed by narrow-tired and heavily loaded vehicles.

PRIZE BAD ROAD.
(Located Between Vickery and Clyde, O.)

"By requiring wagon-owners to use tires wide enough to limit the pressure per unit of area between tires and road surface to an amount which ordinary road-making materials can resist, wagons will pack, harden and improve roads, instead of destroying them, and by making the forward axle shorter than the rear one, by an amount equal to twice the width of the tires, the surface rolled will be again doubled. Good wagon roads are as important, perhaps, as good railroads, if not, in fact, more so, and when the public has constructed them individuals should not be allowed to destroy them, especially when it is a demonstrable fact that there is no need whatever for doing so. Tests have shown that the wide tires lessen draft as well as protect roads, and they should everywhere be required by law."

Level Roads are the Best.

When a road has its grades reduced so that a minimum amount of power is required for hauling loads over it, the expense of keeping it in repair is materially lessened. Sir John Macneil says "that if a road has no greater inclination than one in forty there is 20 per cent. less cost for maintenance than for a road having an inclination of one in twenty. The additional cost is due not only to the greater injury by the action of horses' feet on the steeper incline, but also to the greater wear of the road by the more frequent necessity for sledging or braking the wheels of vehicles in descending the steeper portions."

VALUE OF SEPARATORS.

They Can Be Used to Advantage Wherever Five or More Cows Are Kept.

As the economy in using the separator in the dairy becomes better understood the number used will increase. It is a recognized fact that to secure the largest per cent. of fat in the milk there must be a speedy separation. Here is one of the principal advantages of the separator. The cream is taken out of the milk before it has had time to cool and before the milk has had time to be subjected to any considerable extent to deteriorating influences.

Milk so readily absorbs any odor that may be in the air after it cools that it is quite an item to get the cream from it before there has been an opportunity for the milk to come in contact with foul odors of any kind. Then, a good separator will take the cream more thoroughly out of the milk than is possible by any system of milk setting for cream raising. Any cream left in the milk is a direct loss that cuts into the profits.

Of course, getting practically all the cream is one of the greatest advantages of the separator, but it is not the only one. Taking the cream out before the milk has cooled gives it always sweet and there is a much better opportunity of ripening it uniformly, and in making of good butter uniformity in ripening of the cream is an important item.

It is essential to use the waste products to the best advantage. Having the skim milk perfectly sweet and fresh, as it is when the separator is used, affords a much better opportunity of using to the best advantage. The sweet skim milk is better to use in cooking and to feed to all kinds of young stock, so that more can be made out of it.

To this may be added the saving of time and labor, which helps to reduce the cost. Fewer utensils in handling the milk are needed and it is less work to properly care for a separator than for a creamery with its cans and other vessels when the cream-raising plan of management is followed.

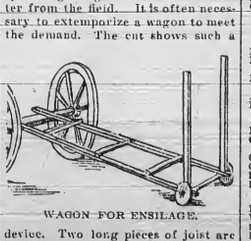
Whenever five or more cows are kept and it is an item to make the most and the best butter from them, a good separator can be made to pay.—St. Louis Republic.

ABOUT FODDER CORN.

An Ensilage Pit, This Writer Thinks, Is Its Proper and Most Profitable Destination.

With present knowledge of the profits of winter dairying it hardly pays to put surplus cornfodder into shocks to be cured. An ensilage pit is its proper destination, as thus the fodder next winter can be made to yield you twice the amount of milk that it would if fed in dry state.

I am well acquainted with an energetic progressive dairyman who raised one of the finest fields of fodder corn I ever saw grow. He had heavily manured his land to start with, and then cultivated the growing corn so assiduously that it had all developed into strong, vigorous canes. He fed out perhaps a third of this noble field before frost threatened, and then to my surprise cut and shocked the remainder for dry feeding in winter. By so doing, instead of converting it into ensilage, he lost at least 50 per cent. in its feeding value, as viewed from a possible milk-yielding standpoint. It was an illustration of a dairyman being partly wise and partly foolish.



I earnestly enjoin all dairymen not to waste their cornfodder this fall. There is too much good milk encased in every stalk and leaf, which needs only intelligent, economical feeding to conduct it into the milking pail. Many people have an unwarranted prejudice against ensilage-produced milk on account of its flavor. If they would aerate their milk thoroughly, as all milk should be treated anyway, this objectionable flavor would be largely if not entirely eliminated.

Do not let a question of possible milk flavor deter you from putting your surplus corn fodder down in ensilage.—George E. Newell, in Ohio Farmer.

WAGON FOR ENSILAGE.

How to Get the Fodder to the Cutter from the Field Without Much Delay.

Where there is a large amount of corn to be cut up for ensilage, a number of teams are required, and much speed in getting the fodder to the cutter from the field. It is often necessary to extemporize a wagon to meet the demand. The cut shows such a device. Two long pieces of joist are held the right distance apart by strips of board nailed across them. The forward ends are fastened upon the axle of a pair of farm wagon wheels, while trucks support the rear ends. A very good load could be hauled without the trucks by rounding off the rear ends of the joist, so they will drag easily over the ground. Such a frame is exceedingly handy, as it is low, and can be approached so readily from all sides, there being no large wheels in the way.— Orange Judd Farmer.

WAGON FOR ENSILAGE.

Market gardening is hard work, but it pays near a city.

THE RUSH FOR GOLD.

From the Times, Bluffs, Ill.

The rush of gold seekers to the Klondike brings thrilling memories to the "forty-niners" still alive, of the time when they girdled the continent or faced the terrors of the great American desert on the journey to the land of gold. These pioneers tell some experiences which should be heeded by gold seekers of to-day. Constant exposure and faulty diet killed large numbers, while nearly all the survivors were afflicted with disease, many of them with rheumatism. Such a sufferer was Adam Vangundy, who now resides at Bluffs, Ill., where he has justice of the peace and was first elected a member of the board of trustees. In a recent interview he said:

"A Forty-niner."

"I had been a sufferer of rheumatism for a number of years and at one time it was very intense. I tried all the proprietary medicines I knew of but received no relief. I finally placed my case with several physicians and doctored with them for some time, but they failed to do me any good. Finally, with my hopes of relief nearly exhausted I read an article regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which induced me to try them. I was anxious to get rid of the terrible disease and bought two boxes of the pills. I began using them about March, 1897. After I had taken two boxes I was completely cured, and the pain has never returned. I think it is the best medicine I have ever taken, and am willing at any time to sign my name to any testimony setting forth its good merits."

(Signed) ADAM VANGUNDY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 29th day of September, A. D. 1897.

FRANKLIN C. FUNK, Notary Public.

Mr. Vangundy's statement ought to be regarded as a record of the good merits of these pills, and what better proof could a person want than the above facts.

HOSTILITIES AVERTED.

But It Took the United Efforts of the Whole Crowd to Prevent a Hot Engagement.

"One of the liveliest brushes I have witnessed since the opening of hostilities," said one of the representatives at the recent meeting of the credit men, "took place in a quiet New England village of my state. Both participants had passed their three score years and ten, but were still vigorous in mind and body, and especially vigorous in language, for both had been followers of the sea.

"One of these old fellows espoused the cause of Spain, declaring that she had been jumped on because she was little, and that this country was playing the part of a great big bully. After they had exchanged hot shots for a few minutes, the champion of the government got things to going his way by shouting that the other fellow came honestly by his principles and was bred a traitor.

"'What do you mean, you old shrimp?' from the advocate of Spain.

"'During the war with Great Britain the British entered the harbor and burned the town of New London, didn't they?'

"'Course they did. What of it?'

"'Why, somebody piloted them there and when he come home his pockets was full of British gold, paid for his dirty work, and his neighbors, hearin' of what he had done, got roped and made him an evenin' call. He scudded by the back door and never stopped till he got to Bermuda, and he never had the cheek to come back.'

"'What you tryin' to git at?'

"'That there pilot was your grandpap.' And it took a dozen bystanders to keep the two old sea dogs from clinching.—Detroit Free Press.

Why He Was Troubled.

Jack—Come, old man, cheer up. What if she did break the engagement; she's not the only fish in the swim.

Tom—Oh, I don't care about her breaking the engagement so much as I've got to go right on paying installments on the ring for the next six months. That's where the icy breeze comes in.—Chicago Evening News.

Her Platform.

Mr. Willikins—Do you believe in annexation?

Miss Bidsley—Oh, Arthur, this is so sudden. But if you can gain papa's consent I will try to learn to love you.—Chicago Evening News.

She Wanted Healthy Ham.

Mrs. Murry—Give me tin cints wort' av ham.

Grocer—Sugar-cured, madam?

"No! I want some thot has niver bin desazed."—Judge.

Enough.

Author—What excuse have you for abusing my book?

Critic—I read it.—Up to Date.

Mrs. Short—"Here's an invitation to Mr. Long's wedding. What on earth can we send them?" Mr. Short—"He lost a $10 umbrella of mine a year ago. I'll make him a present of it."—Brooklyn Life.

THE MARKETS.

	CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.
LIVESTOCK—Cattle, common	$ 3 00	@	$ 3 75
" select butchers	3 85	@	4 00
CALVES—Fair to good light	7 25	@	7 75
HOGS—Common	3 10	@	3 80
" packers	3 85	@	3 90
" Light shippers	3 90	@	4 10
SHEEP—Choice	3 25	@	3 85
LAMBS	5 30	@	5 80
FLOUR—Winter family	2 60	@	2 80
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	67
" No. 3 red		@	63
" Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	31
" Oats—No. 2		@	25½
" Rye—No. 2		@	46
HAY—Prime to choice		@	8 25
PROVISIONS—Mess Pork		@	9 50
" Lard—Prime steam		@	4 75
BUTTER—Choice dairy	11	@	11½
" Prime to choice creamery		@	17
APPLES—Choice to fancy	2 25	@	2 50
POTATOES—per bbl	1 90	@	2 10
	CHICAGO.
FLOUR—Winter patents	3 40	@	3 70
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	65½
" No. 3 Chicago spring	62	@	62¾
CORN—No. 2	30	@	30½
OATS—No. 2	21½	@	21½
PORK—Mess	8 40	@	8 45
LARD—Steam	4 17½	@	4 20
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 70	@	4 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	72¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed	35¼	@	35¾
RYE		@	48
OATS—Mixed		@	25
PORK—New mess	10 10	@	10 40
LARD—Western		@	5 87½
	BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	3 60	@	3 70
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2	69¾	@	69¾
" Southern—Wheat	68	@	71
" Corn—Mixed	33	@	33¼
" Oats—No. 2 white	26½	@	27
" Rye—No. 2 western		@	45
CATTLE—Extra family	4 25	@	4 50
HOGS—Western		@	4 00
	INDIANAPOLIS.
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2		@	61
" Corn—Mixed		@	30
" Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	21
	LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—Winter patent	3 75	@	4 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	67
" Corn—Mixed		@	31½
" Oats—Mixed		@	27
PORK—Mess		@	10 00
LARD—Steam		@	5 00

Improvements in Flying Machines.

Inventors are plenty who can make a machine that will rise and float in air, but the one improvement which none has yet made in making is an apparatus that will guide the machine through the many treacherous currents of air. In this respect humanity is fortunate in having Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which acts as a safe guide by curing treacherous stomach, liver and blood diseases, giving a good appetite, a strong constitution and nerves like steel.

True Greatness.

"Now," said the interviewer, "as to your method of working?"

"Well," replied the great author, "I take a writing pad—"

"Yes."

"And a pencil—"

"Yes."

"Seek out a quiet spot—grasp the pad firmly in one hand and the pencil in the other hand—and—"

"Yes. And—"

"And write."—Philadelphia North American.

The War Is Over

And now our thoughts are all of peace and home. There are, too often, people to be found who have no home, and it is to them these few words are addressed. If you really want a home you can easily get one, but you should act at once before the relapse from the present prices on the advance. In March, ARD unty, Wisconsin, the very finest farming d is to be had now at a most modest Excellent home markets are at hand, whatever the farmer raises, and good re given. These lands are on the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and information concerning them be furnished by C. E. Rolins Agent, 161 La Salle Street, Chicago.

Illustwife, of Course.

"My illusions," said she, "are all gone."

"Why," he asked, with that brutality only manifested by a man who has promised to love and cherish, "don't you go to the drug store and get some more?"—Indianapolis Journal.

Blue Blood.

First Mosquito—And you actually landed on that foreign nobleman?

Second Mosquito—Cert! You didn't imagine I'd been eating huckleberry pie, did you? —Boston Journal.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Some people wear such good clothes all the time that they can't have a good time.—Atchison Globe.

Fortify Feeble Lungs Against Winter with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

The expense of repairing tire punctures should be added to our in-come tacks.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Piso's Cure is a wonderful Cough medicine.—Mrs. W. Pickert, Van Sicien and Blake Aves., Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 26, '95.

There is more money squandered in fool bargains than is spent for whisky.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a Constitutional Cure. Price 75c.

Some people are so hopeful that it amounts to laziness.—Atchison Globe.

It's a wise man that follows the races—at a safe distance.—Chicago Daily News.

HERO HAD HIS TROUBLES.

Woman's Care and Kindness Makes Him Think of Cuba with Longing.

"War is pretty bad, of course," remarked a blue-coated man with a bandage under his coat, "but I declare, in some ways, women are as bad as Spaniards—only they kill you with kindness instead of bullets. I came home from Santiago with this little wound in my hip, and, really, I can't tell you how I've suffered since, from the women of my family. It is all right, of course; this world would be a den of wild beasts without the love and sympathy of woman—but the dear creatures—especially those nearest to us—generally overdo it. They didn't believe my message that I was only slightly wounded, so on my arrival I was met by my wife, her mother, two maiden aunts and a girl cousin, all rallied from the four quarters of Michigan and adjoining states to nurse me. I don't need any nursing worth mentioning, but, believe me, if I've drawn a long breath in two weeks without those five women jumping up and rushing at me, I will eat my army blanket. If I wink my wife says: "What is it, dear?—if I move one leg, my girl cousin springs at me with another pillow in her hand; during the night my two aunts wake me up to see if I want anything; and my mother-in-law, poor soul, the dear soul hasn't sat down or been to bed since I came—to my knowledge. My wound is nearly healed, and that's surprising, for if I don't get back to Cuba pretty soon I'll be a ruined man. I can't stand such coddling—it will make a bloated tyrant out of me, so it will. A man needs war once in a while to get him away from woman—dear, loving woman—she would make a spineless infant out of him in no time."—Detroit Free Press.

He Didn't Know About Hairpins.

"By Jove!" exclaimed the bridegroom, as he sat down and tugged away at his mustache, "this is too bad!"

They had just arrived at Niagara Falls, and the porter had bowed himself out after carrying up a trunk that weighed 487 pounds, for which he received a 50-cent "tip."

The frightened girl dropped her traveling hat upon the center table and stood as if transfixed, with one of her gloves half off.

"What is it, Harry?" she asked.

"This is a fine go," he muttered. "I wonder how in the world I ever came to do such a foolish thing."

Then he felt in his pockets again, and cast a helpless look at the big trunk.

"You—you haven't lost your pocketbook, have you?" she asked.

"No, darling," he answered, "but I left my keys at home, and the one that opens your trunk is among them."

"Oh, is that all?" she exclaimed, with a happy little sigh. "Here"—and she removed a hairpin from her rich brown locks—"open it with this, and you know that I'm the only girl in whom you ever took a real interest. Otherwise you would have known. Ah, Harry, dear, I am so happy!"—Cleveland Leader.

Should Have a Commission.

Patient—What, doctor, do you mean to say you charge me two dollars a visit?

Doctor—Certainly; just the same as I charge anyone else.

"Oh, but you ought to make a reduction for me. Why, I introduced typhoid into the neighborhood!"—Illustrated American.

At the Fancy Dress Ball.—Wife—"Henry, I'm ashamed of you. You have had six distinct drinks to-night that I knew of." Husband—"No, m' dear, hasht two ver' indushtinc'."—Judy.

Shall we call the "stoop" of the scorcher a front stoop or a back stoop?—L. A. W. Bulletin.

MRS. PINKHAM'S WARNING TO WOMEN.

Neglect is the Forerunner of Misery and Suffering—A Grateful Husband Writes of His Wife's Recovery.

Nearly all the ill health of women is traceable to some derangement of the feminine organs. These derangements do not cure themselves, and neglect of the sensations resulting from them is only putting off trouble.

Pathetic stories are constantly coming to Mrs. Pinkham of women whose neglect has resulted in serious heart trouble and a whole train of woes. Here is the story of a woman who was helped by Mrs. Pinkham after other treatment failed:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It affords me very great pleasure to be able to state that I believe my wife owes her health to your medicine and good advice. For three years her health failed rapidly; she had heart trouble, often falling down in dizzy and fainting spells, shortness of breath, choking and smothering spells, bloating of the stomach, a dry cough, dyspeptic symptoms, menses irregular, scanty, and of an unnatural color. She had been treated by physicians with but little benefit. She has taken your treatment according to your directions, and is better in every way. I am well pleased with the result of your treatment, and give you permission to use my letter for the benefit of others.—CHAS. H. and Mrs. MAY BUTCHER, Fort Meyer, Va.

The healing and strengthening power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all female ills is so well established that it needs no argument. For over twenty years it has been used by women with results that are truly wonderful.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are puzzled about their health to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice. All such correspondence is seen by women only, and no charge is made.

A Million Women Have Been Benefitted by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine

PAINT Your Own WALLS and CEILINGS

MURALO WATER COLOR PAINTS

For DECORATING WALLS and CEILINGS PURCHASE A MURALO PACKAGE OF from your grocer or paint dealer and do your own decorating. This material is a HARD FINISH to be applied with a brush and becomes as hard as Cement. Mixed in twenty-four tints and works equally as well with cold or hot water. To Send for SAMPLE COLOR CARDS and if you cannot purchase this material from your local dealers let us know and we will put you in the way of obtaining it. THE MURALO COMPANY, NEW BRIGHTON, S. I., NEW YORK.

"WHERE DIRT CATHERS, WASTE RULES." USE

SAPOLIO

Top Snap Complete Double Lens $9.00 FISH TACKLE GUNS POWELL & CLEMENT CO. CINCINNATI, O.

The Best BOOK on the WAR beautifully bound and sumptuously illustrated (price $1), free to anybody sending two annual subscriptions at $1 each to the Overland Monthly, SAN FRANCISCO. Sample Overland 5c.

READERS OF THIS PAPER DESIRING TO BUY ANYTHING ADVERTISED IN ITS COLUMNS SHOULD INSIST UPON HAVING WHAT THEY ASK FOR. REFUSING ALL SUBSTITUTES OR IMITATIONS.

Sure Cure for Colds

When the children get their feet wet and take cold give them a hot foot bath, a bowl of hot drink, a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and put them to bed. The chances are they will be all right in the morning. Continue the Cherry Pectoral a few days, until all cough has disappeared.

Old coughs are also cured; we mean the coughs of bronchitis, weak throats and irritable lungs. Even the hard coughs of consumption are always made easy and frequently cured by the continued use of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Every doctor knows that wild cherry bark is the best remedy known to medical science for soothing and healing inflamed throats and lungs.

Put one of

Dr. Ayer's Pectoral Plasters over your lungs

The Best Medical Advice Free!

We now have some of the most eminent physicians in the United States. Unusual opportunities and long experience eminently fit them for giving you medical advice. Write freely all the particulars in your case.

Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Mothers and Children who require plain dresses for home wear will find Simpson's goods that will look well and have the cheap, flimsy appearance of ordinary prints after they are washed. Ask your dealer for "Simpson's" Prints. The name Wm. Simpson & Sons on any fabric is a guaranty of the highest standard of quality and finish. The colors are absolutely fast and will not crock.

What's the Matter with KANSAS?

KANSAS OWNS (in round numbers) 900,000 horses and mules, $90,000,000 worth; 1,500,000 other cattle, worth $45,000,000 and 225 sheep.

ITS FARM PRODUCTS this year include 150,000,000 bushels of corn, 60,000,000 bushels of wheat and millions upon millions of dollars in value of other grains, fruits, vegetables, etc. In dollars alone it has a shortage.

Send for free copy of "What's the Matter with Kansas?"—a new book of 96 pages of facts.

General Passenger Office,
The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway,
Chicago.

152

Page Illustrated Catalogue, describing all of the famous

WINCHESTER GUNS AND WINCHESTER AMMUNITION

sent free to any address. Send your name on a postal card to

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO., 180 Winchester Ave., New Haven, Ct.

A UNITED STATES WALL MAP FREE A copy of our handsome map, 60x84 inches, printed in colors and mounted on a roller, will be sent to any address on receipt of 15 cents in postage to pay for packing and transportation. P. S. EUSTIS, General Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

CATARRH ASTHMA Sufferers are immediately relieved by using my HEALATION HOME TREATMENT and by continued use effect a cure. Trial Package Free. Completed outfit by mail $1.00. OZONE LABORATORY, 86 W. Jackson St., Chicago.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Send for book of testimonials and 10 days' treatment Free. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Atlanta, Ga.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

BOONE CO., RECORDER.

Wednesday, Sept. 21, 1898.

Advertising Rates:
One inch, one time.....$1.00
Each additional time.....25
Obituaries, Tributes of Respects or notices of a like nature, per inch .50

W. L. RIDDELL, - - Publisher.

Neighborhood News.

North Bend.

Sept. 18.—Mrs. Matt Larkin, of Crawfordsville, Indiana, is visiting relatives here.

The ferry at this place is getting to be quite popular.

The school here opened Monday with a good attendance.

Mrs. Julia Balsly has been visiting relatives at Big Bone, the past week.

Miss Mary Riley has just returned from a visit to friends in Loveland, O.

A number of persons from this neighborhood attended the Baptist Association at Covington, last week.

Mr. Esten Snyder was seen riding in the direction of W. P. Cropper's the other evening. That's right, Esten, cut the other boys out if you can.

Capt. R. R. Jones, of the U. S. Engineers Corps, and Mr. Ned Buell, of the Custom House, Cincinnati, spent a pleasant day with G. C. Riley, Sunday.

We are all very glad to have Miss Bernice Duncan with us for another season. Her quick wit and easy manner are welcomed in every house that is fortunate enough to secure her presence for an evening.

Florence.

Sept. 18.—Owen Bradford and wife were visiting friends here Sunday.

Mr. Droge, of Covington, was visiting here Sunday.

School begau here Monday with two good teachers, and a large number of pupils enrolled.

John Oisner has put in a new stock of boots and shoes and dry goods. The more the merrier.

Misses Ada and Virginia Latham have returned home after a pleasant visit with their mother here.

Alfred Williams, Robert Smith and Mack Dulaney are home on a 30 days furlough from camp at Lexington.

Charles Bradford, who has been very much on the sick list for a week past, we are glad to report getting along all right.

Stanley Cloud a private in Company C, Third Ky. volunteer infantry, will return to camp at Lexington, this week.

Misses Edna and Ora Sheller and Mrs. Brack Campbell and son of Delhi, Ohio, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. David Brown a few days since.

Hathaway.

Sept. 19—John Elliot is teaching the fall school here.

James Sebree is erecting a new meat house.

Nathan Clements is the first to get done sowing wheat.

C. B. Mason entered into the sorghum making campaign, last week.

Wilber Rice and mother were the guests of Joseph Riddell, last Sunday.

P. A. Ryle passed through our burg one day last week to visit his father.

J. M. Setters and family were visiting out on Gunpowder, last Suuday week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Clements and G. L. Smith, of this place, attended the association at Covington, last Wednesday and Thursday.

While Nathan Clements was watering a colt at a pond, a few days since, the colt performed one of its tricky feats, capsizing Mr. Clements, in the water. It was sometime before he could regain control of the animal.

T. C. S. Ryle, Jas. L. Riley, Ed Huey and daughter and Mrs. Bettie Scott, of Illinois, Mrs. Jas. Wilson, and Mrs. Nannie Stephens, were visitors at B. H. Stephens', last Wednesday.

Constance.

L. A. Loder received a painful wound on the head a few days since.

Julius Beall's new residence will be ready to occupy in a few weeks.

Messrs. Stepperd and Cox, of the U. S. surveying party were here last Saturday.

Theodore Barnell has moved to Covington. He has a position with the C. H. and D. railroad.

Mr. Louis and family moved to Independence. W. Reeves now occupies J. J. Rucker's new house.

Mrs. Susan Fox, 81, who has been a patient sufferer for 5 or 6 years, died Sunday. She was beloved by all who knew her.

Mrs. Eddins and Miss Maud Rouse were thrown from a buggy at the elbow in the pike. Miss Rouse received a slight wound in the face. One of Mrs. Eddins' ribs was broken.

Miss Alice Myers, and Mr. Frank Seible, of Home City, Ohio, were married a few days since. A grand supper was given at the groom's residence, and friends and relatives were present in large numbers.

Rabbit Hash.

Sept 18.—Sam Wilson has built an addition to his house.

Last Friday night Mrs. Walter S. Ryle was taken very sick, but is better.

James Wilson, who has been sick for sometime, has resumed his place in the store.

Rev. Fosher preached to a good audience, last Sunday afternoon at the K. of P. Hall.

Mrs. Quint Wilson, son and daughter, of Bloomington, Ill., are visiting James A. Wilson.

Last Saturday, Mrs. Wealthy Scott was baptized by Rev. T. L. Utz. She joined the East Bend Baptist church eleven months ago.

Ernest Stephens, while having a tooth pulled the other day, had his jaw fractured and is laid up from the effects of it.

Mrs. Robt. Craig and daughter, Ella, and Elbert Ryle were baptized in the river near Chas. Craig's, last Sunday afternoon.

Jas. H. Hastings, Mrs. Jennie Cowen and Mrs. Adah Wilson are spending a few weeks in West Virginia, visiting Mrs. Clara McKay.

A good joke is told on Ben Sherrill Henderson, a grandson of Benj. Sherrill, who formerly sold drygoods and groceries in Burlington. Ben was a member of Company A, 23d Ky. Vols., and was well known at the capital of old Boone. He is now a leading lawyer of Kansas City, Kansas, and a strong Prohibitionist. During the Encampment in Cincinnati, he went to find an uncle. He tramped up and down Broadway St., with a card in his hand, looking for No. 346. Finally he happened to notice the card called for 346 Broadway, N. Y., and from reports his remarks would not bear repeating and by the time he finished his little speech, a large crowd of both ladies and gentlemen had gathered around him and he had to explain to all the cause of his breaking the first commandment.

Verona.

Public school begins here Sept. 26.

The College opened its fall term here Monday.

Two Mr. Whitsons, of Arkansas, are the guest of Mrs. Sopha Whitson.

Old aunt Peggy Sleet is lying very ill, not expected to live long.

James Hudson will attend school in Tennessee, the coming fall and winter.

There will be a Mission and entertainment at the Sunday school Sept. 25.

Miss Madeline Pfiffer, of St. Louis, Mo., was the guest of Miss N. E. Hamilton last Saturday.

A. C. Roberts has been poorly with malarial fever for three weeks past, but is able to be out again.

Hodge Hudson left, a few days since, to attend Willmore College, luteuding to fit himself for the ministry.

A revival meeting begius at Concord next Saturday night, conducted by Revs. Perryman and McMillian.

Miss Lulu Forward, of Peewee Valley, arrived here last Saturday. Miss Forward will be one of the teachers in the college here.

William Auderson and wife and Thos. Anderson, of Knox county, are spending a month with relatives and old acquaintances here.

James Alexauder, in his 86th year, passed away last Friday. Bro. Lafe Johnson preached the funeral last Saturday. The remains were laid in their resting place to await the resurrection.

Limaburg.

Scott Walton has malarial fever.

Wm. Garnett is busy in the pickle and tomato business.

Eddie Farrell has bought what is known as the L. Clore farm.

The Lutheran Synod will begin at Hopeful church, Oct. 4th, at night.

John Aylor, of Hebron, was selling fruit trees in this locality, Friday.

John Mitchell was here the other day to get a blind tooth pulled from a horse.

Moses Tanner and wife, of Gunpowder, were visiting John P. Utz, one day last week.

Cutting corn and sowing wheat is the order of the day. Tobacco about all cut and housed.

A protracted meeting began at Hopeful church, Sunday night. There have been two additions.

The survey made by the goverument recently, makes Limaburg 775 ft above the level of the sea.

A good number of people from this neighborhood attended the meeting of the grangers, last Saturday.

Geo. Kunap, of Kansas, who has been visiting Chas. Grigler and W. R. Rouse left for home, last Thursday.

Some of the farmers claim they have the,neaviest corn they have ever grown —estimating it at 60 bus. per acre.

Walton.

Dr. Brice Metcalfe, with health much improved, has returned from his visit to Colorado.

Mrs. Sarah Allen, of Warsaw, and Misses Kate and Lucille Sleet, of Cincinnati, are guests of J. J Richards.

The canning factory of the Snyder Co., at this place, is running short of its capacity, owing to the shortuess of the tomato crop.

Perry, the two year old son of Prof. Myers, of the Walton Academy, is suffering with a lung or throat trouble that causes his parents much anxiety.

Mrs. T. F. Curley and her sister, Mrs. Fanny Lee Johnson, are improving rapidly. Dr. Bagby attended Mrs. G. and Dr. Jones, Mrs. Johnson, and each did his best to get his patient up first.

The principal of the Academy feels greatly elated that her pupils passed perfect examinations when they entered Hamilton College at Lexington, and the Georgetown College. If they pursue their studies there with the ardor they did here, there is no telling how learned they may become.

When he first appeared in town, Sunday before last, nothing was thought of it. When he came again last Sunday, and again took his course for his home on High Street, tongues were loosened and inquiry developed that he was a promising young business man of Cincinnati. She is a pupil at the Academy of Music, looks like a blush rose in June and it is not strange that he should come again.

Dr. John W. Shaw, whose youthful days were passed in Kenton county and who spent many happy hours with Leon Northcutt's boys, after a lapse of 10 years, is revisiting the scenes of his youth. The Doctor resides in Jersey, Ark. Speaking of malaria in the South he says the disease there is more virulent than here, and that it prostrates the system more completely than it does here and leaves the patient more of a wreck, physically.

Miss Mary Vernon Jones and Walter Herndon made the trip to Williamstown on Saturday afternoon with bicycles in 2:15. Dr. Joues and his little 8 year old boy, Leslie, started to meet them. On the overhead bridge this side of Crittenden, they found Jacob Cleek, John Kipp and Thomas Stevens watching the passing of soldier trains. The Doctor, Leslie and Stevens went on to Crittenden, where two negroes commenced stooting at each other, the bullets passing over the child's head. N. B.—This lawlessuess was in Grant, not Boone county.

Erlanger.

Don't forget to pay school taxes.

A good many cases of scarlet fever have been reported in Elsmere.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sexton will entertain on Thursday evening with an euchre party.

The reception given by Mr. Thomas Buchanan and wife was well attended. Music, dancing and euchre playing were enjoyed by all.

The Erlanger public school opened with 140 scholars in attendance, Prof. Tupman, principal, and Chas. Griffin and Lucy Riggs, assistants. The children will improve their education.

Mrs. Ed Lord, Mrs. G. Pontine and daughter, Marietta, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conrad, all of New York City, were the guests of Mrs. M. Morrell. After an enjoyable visit of two weeks, they left for home Wednesday evening.

Petersburg.

Sept. 18.—Good fishing in the river.

Mr. Sirenus Shutts is very low with bright's disease.

Capt. H. B. Fenton and family have moved to Newport.

Andy Krosser will move to Lawrenceburg, this fall.

Ella Hogan, of Williamstown, was town one day last week.

The late cold spell caused the farmers to hurry in their tobacco.

Mrs. F. M. Cox, of [illegible], was visiting her sister, Mrs. Nevin Kirtolin, last week.

Hon. T. B. Monnes attended the Sovereign Grand Lodge K. of P. at Indianapolis.

Mr. Ira Dye, of Rising Sun, was visiting [illegible] Shutts, several days last week.

Mrs. [illegible] went home with her daughter who live in Illinois, to stay [illegible] months.

Petersburg ball team went to Warsaw, Wednesday, and defeated the team at that place in a nice game—18 to 16.

J. M. Lassing and Maj. Jas. Duncan, of Burlington, came in Sunday in time to hear the Island Queen's calliope play Way Down in Georgia.

Sweet potatoes are bigger and sweeter this fall than usual, and sell for forty cents on the market. [They have been selling for 80c and $1 here.—Ed.]

A big land deal is on in this vicinity in which a wealthy North Bend citizen will become the owner of the largest and finest farm in the bottoms.

The Lawrenceburg ferry boat met with quite an accident Saturday morning. The high wind blew her against some coal barges, breaking her guards and wheel.

The remains of Mrs. Martha Foster, who died at Dillsboro, Indiana, were brought to this side of the river and buried in the old Foster burying ground, 3 miles out on the Woolper pike, last Wednesday.

An alarm of fire from box 32, last Monday, called the department to Capt. Christie's residence, where an ugly blaze had started on the roof. Capt. Jas. W. Gaines, of the Utzinger hook and ladder company, was the first to respond to the call.

The city of Covington is controlled by a few politicians that are as distant as the man in the moon, and not a bit more capable than a thousand others who are just as intelligent as they. But you must be in the ring if you get any Covington persimmous.

Bellevue.

The bridge on the Waterloo road is completed.

D. M. Snyder began his school at Beech Grove, Monday morning.

Mrs. Bena Morrison, of Petersburg, is the guest of her brother at this place.

Mrs. Ida Slaughter, of Louisville, and Mrs. Rob Rouse, of Limaburg, were guests of Mrs. Corbin, Saturday.

Mr. Horace Moody and a number of others from the Hoosier State, were guests of J. M. Moody, Saturday.

Thos. Clore and Wm. Maurer entered the melon trade and succeeded in landing a couple of skiff-loads at the wharf of Rising Sun. While up in town trying to effect a sale the Str. Bostona came along and sank one of their skiffs, thereby losing 50 or 60 melons, diminishing the profits somewhat.

Union.

Mrs. Lyons, of Missouri, is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Lassing.

Get Matson Rachal to tell you that kettle story. It's a dandy.

Clark Rouse and Ed Utz were hauling logs to the mill, last week.

The protracted meeting began at the Baptist church, Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Norman are entertaining a 10 pound boy at their home.

Mrs. T. A. Huey and son, Thomas, of Covington, were calliug in our village, one day last week.

Tobe Marshall was getting some lumber from the mill, last week. The people are catching the building fever it seems, and it is a good sign we think.

Prof. Collins began school on the 12th with nearly 50 pupils. We asked one of the children how she liked the Prof. "Oh he is nice, but makes us keep still."

Granville House had a machine on exhibition, last week, for weaving wire fence. He was weaving a front fence for Mr. Clements and had lots of visitors to see it work.

Messrs. Pink and Mack Neal were teaming together Saturday morning. Now this seems so strange, as they are seldom seen together except when they are with each other.

Rev. Davis did not fill his appointment at the Presbyterian church Sunday, because of the death of his sister, Mrs. Munford, Saturday night, who resided with him at Richwood.

Geo. Clarkson and Lynn Wilson are two hustlers and no mistake. They had in a large crop of tobacco themselves and had to help "Squire" Frazier out with his crop, so they have to hustle.

The Masons had a very interesting meeting, Saturday night, if reports of dame rumor are true. Brethren from Kansas, Missouri and Illinois were present as visitors. A nice lunch was served, speeches were made and a general good time was the word.

Your correspondent called at the home of Henry Rouse, for a few minutes, recently, to find him gathering his crops and getting ready for winter. Mr. Rouse treated to watermelon and told us of Spencer Smith losing between 20 and 25 turkeys by foxes, and some other neighbor losing 13.

The Union Blade Club held a campfire meeting at the mouth of Gunpowder on the Ohio, Saturday night. Ed Williams, a well known and popular citizen of that section was elected a member of the club and given all the privileges of membership. Ed was very much pleased with the manner in which members are taken into the club and made it known by saying so in a neat speech of two hours and 40 minutes by a Waterberry watch. He spoke of having rode mail routes in Texas, cattle trails in Kansas; bronco's in Missouri; stage coaches in Arizona and yet these rides were simple every day affairs compared to riding the Wm. Goat attached to the U. B. Club. He said a man might eat roasting ears, watermelons and fish on the golden shores of the Ohio and wear diamonds, or else read 5c novels and get a free pass to the beautiful beyond" by the S. B. short line at 1c a mile for the round trip and never expect to get back, but to be entertained as a select member of the U. B. Club was just too too and hard to beat.

Richwood.

Ollie Dixou contemplates building a barn this fall.

R. O. Hughes has been buying cattle in Tennessee.

Mr. Lewis Rice and wife spent Sunday in Walton.

Coru is ready to cut. Much of it is getting too dry.

J. W. Kennedy, of Union, was here, Sunday morning.

Geo. Wolfe, who has been quite sick, is able to be about again.

J. J. Tanner entertained a number of friends and relatives, Sunday.

Mr. Gaines Robinson entertained a number of friends, last Sunday.

Miss Edith Lancaster will attend school in Covington this fall and winter.

Mr. Clarence Rector and his handsome bride were here Saturday evening.

Miss Margarette Marble, of Carthage, Ohio, began teaching at Frogtown last Monday.

Mr. B. Long entertained Mr. C. C. Bloss and a number of friends from Erlanger, last Sunday.

Mrs. Munford, sister of the Rev. W. H. Davis, died at her brother's residence, Saturday night.

Miss Maria Corn is teaching school at Richwood church, and Miss Jeanette Chambers at Kensington.

Contractors, Notice!

Bids for the removal of the cupola and remodeling of the roof of the court house in Burlington, Boone co., Ky., will be received until 12 o'clock m. (standard time) September 29, 1898. The plans and specifications for the work can be seen by calling at the County Judge's office in Burlington.

The work will be let to the lowest and best bidder. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

C. C. ROBERTS,
J. M. LASSING,
Committee.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Elizabeth W. Rogers' Adm'r, Plff. against Equity.
Elizabeth W. Rogers' heirs, &c. Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the August term thereof, 1898, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court-douse door in Burlington, Boone County, Ky., to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday, October 3d, 1898,

at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, being county court day, upon a credit of 6, 12, and 18 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being in Boone county, Ky., near the town of Walton, and bounded thus: Beginning at a point in the center of the Covington & Lexington turnpike, a corner with Arthur Murphy; thence with his line and with a line of J. G. Tomlin s 74 w 7.31 chains to a stone, a corner with said J. G. Tomlin; thence with his line s 25 e 2.7 chains to a stone, a corner with Mrs. Eliza Bruce; thence with her lines s 49½ w 1.56 chains to a stone; thence n 85½ w 14.34 chains to a stone on the north side of a branch; thence n 9 e 14.36 chains to a stoue, a corner with said Eliza Bruce in a line of James Cleek; thence with his line s 80½ e 21.65 chains to said James Cleek's corner in the center of the aforesaid turnpike; thence with the turnpike s 21 w 5.62 chains, s 3½ w 1.62 chains to the beginning, containing 25a, 2r and 0p.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made for said Building and Loan Association. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms. Amount to be raised by sale, $2,241.51.

J. W. DUNCAN, M. C. B. C. C.

MONEY TO LOAN—The Hebron Perpetual Building and Loan Association of Hebron, Ky., has money to loan in amounts from $200 to $4,000.

HUBERT CONNER, Secretary.
E. MANNIN, President.

For Sale.

